A. S. COLYAR ARRESTED AT CARTERSVILLE HOME The Atlanta Constitution (1881-2001); Jun 25, 1914; ProQuest Historical Newspapers Atlanta Constitution (1868 - 1945)

A. S. COLYAR ARRESTED AT CARTERSVILLE HOME

A. S. Colyar, well-known in Atlanta as the result of his dictagraph opera-tions shortly after the Mary Phagan murder, was arrested in his home in Cartersville, Ga., by Chief of Police Cartersville, C., R. A. Hicks.

R. A. Hicks.

Hicks telephoned Chief of Police James L. Beavers here, and asked if Colyar was wanted by the Atlanta police. Chief Beavers informed the Cartersville officer that he, held two warrants for Colyar's arrest, which had been sworn out in Birmingham, Ala., January 27, 1914. "Since that date Colyar," said Chief Beavers, "has disappeared from Atlanta, and we have not been able to locate him."

The Birmingham warrants charge not been able to locate him."

The Birmingham warrants charge Colyar with securing sums of money from the Morris hotel under false representations. They charge that Colyar secured $37.50 and $56.45, claiming that he had a large bank account at the Lowry National bank, of Atlanta. Colyar is being detained until Birmingham can be communicated with.

WHEELER'S VETERANS HOLD REUNION JUNE 27

Wheeler's confederate cavalry vererans will hold their annual reunion at the Atlanta waterworks grounds Saturday, June 27.
According to the invitations which have just been sent out by the entertainment committee a "barbecue—an tainment". Tagit generously tainment committee a "barbecue—an old-time Georgia feast, generously garnished with the 'wholesome and the exhilarating'—will be a comforting and delightful feature."

CHARGE HOTEL EMPLOYEE WITH THEFT OF SPOONS

old, an em-hotel, was ar-erday char Ben Burns, 21 years ployee of the Imperial ranged in court yest years ranged in court yesterday charged with stealing several silver spoons and a small silver dish. He had been arrested by Officers Williamson and McEwen. When his trunk was searched it was found to contain the articles which were exhibited against him. He was bound over under a bond of $200. articles which him. He was bond of $200.

MAD DOG CAUSES SCARE IN A BOARDING HOUSE

A mad dog ran into the boarding house of J. W. Evans, 103 Trinity avenue, from the streets, where he had chased several frightened pedestrians, Tuesday, and sent the boarders scurrying to protect themselves into closets, behind doors, out of windows and all other available places.

Policeman Arnold came to the rescue of the terrorized boarders and ran the dog out of the house, where he

the dog out of the house, where shot and killed it in the front yard,