COUNTY TO FURNISH UNLIMITED FUNDS TO SOLVE PHAGAN CASE

Solicitor Dorsey Says He Has Secured Powerful Aid in Search for Slayer of Girl—Woman Says She Heard Screams in Pencil Factory.

Shelby Smith, chairman of the Fulton commission, declared Friday afternoon that the board would seek Solicitor Dorsey in any and all expense he might incur in the state's exhaustive investigation into the Phagan murder mystery. Smith said: "We have instructed Dorsey to obtain the best possible detective aid for his probe and he would be backed by the county commission to the last ditch in the money he spent."

"The fact he hired a good detective Friday is new to me, but he has the sanction and backing of the board in the matter."

HIRES BEST DETECTIVE, HE SAYS
Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said Friday afternoon that he had the best detective in America working on the mystery of the Mary Phagan strangle.

Important developments had ensued already, he declared, and he was confident that an early solution of the case would be reached by the new expert of national reputation who had been placed at work on the case.

The solicitor is understood to have the affidavit of a woman who swears that she heard a girl's screams as she was passing the factory at 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of the tragedy. The cries were shrill and piercing, she says, and died away as she stopped an instant to listen.

SENATE BEGINS CONSIDERATION OF TARIFF BILL

Received From House and Referred—Hearings Are Set. Expect Vote in Nine Weeks.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senator Huleb, Republican, began the senate fight on the Underwood tariff bill as such as it was introduced today in the senate. Senator Huleb, chairman of the senate finance committee, moved that the bill be referred to his committee for consideration.

Parsons immediately offered a motion to amend Senator Huleb's motion to provide for public hearings on the bill before the finance committee.

Senator Smith, of Michigan, predicted that the bill would bring about the same conditions that existed in 1906 and asserted that the efforts of a "political doctrinaire" were necessary to Secretary of Commerce Root, could not prevent factories from cutting wages or closing their doors.

In the Finance Committee the schedule was assigned to sub-committee No. 1, composed of Senators Brown, Thomas, James and Simmons, and the wool schedule to No. 2, Senators Williams, Shriver, Gore and Simmons. The remaining schedules were divided equally between sub-committees 3 and 4.

The Democrats have been closed doors, the Democrats have decided that public hearings would consume too much time. It is expected that three weeks will be used by the committee in considering the measure and that the bill will be reported to the floor in six to eight weeks.

It is also considered certain that a hearing on the bill will be made in the measure, necessitating in reference to the congress of the House and the Senate. The bill will be reported to the floor in six to eight weeks.

PHAGAN CASE TO BE PUSHED TO GRAND JURY BY DORSEY

...for the 'meat' to work with... deliberation and care... to... with a greater thoroughness... bit of evidence that comes into... possession. Even if nothing... should develop, we have enough... to keep half a dozen witnesses... for a week.

Detectives Bolivar, Campbell, Hiss, Starnes and Bulfinch are still working with the chief on the case and probably will continue until the matter is cleared.

Foreman Quinn, foreman in the shipping department at the National Printing company, was the first of the witnesses to be examined by the grand jury. He was in Mr. Dorsey's office a considerable part of the forenoon and underwent a rigorous examination.

New Witnesses Called. Detectives Bolivar and Campbell also were with the grand jury, and two of the grand jury's assistants, Newton Garner and Dan Gooden, were dispatched the first thing in the morning to hunt up new witnesses of whom Mr. Dorsey had information.

Foreman Quinn was called. It is understood, to clear up the discrepancy in his testimony and the statements he is said to have made to the grand jury and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the grand jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:10 and 12:15 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan.

He was talked with Frank for two minutes in the superintendent's office. Detective declared that Quinn had told them and other persons that he did not visit the factory at all that day and that he was not there from the time he left Friday until the following Monday.

Frank Expected To Be Held. "This is about what I expected at the time," was the comment with which Leo M. Frank, with little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the grand jury Thursday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Pinnacle Minor was the officer who informed both Frank and Leo that the grand jury had recommended that they be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County grand jury.

The night watchman received the news slightly and had nothing to say. Frank and Leo are held under charges of murder in the following verdict of the grand jury which will also be returned.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913. We, the grand jury, do hereby find and award by Paul Dufrene, coroner, that the death of Mary Phagan, who died by the hands of the grand jury, was caused by the hands of the grand jury, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hurt, County Physician, that the deceased was killed by death from strangulation.

We recommend that the grand jury do not return a verdict of murder, but that the grand jury do return a verdict of manslaughter, and that the grand jury do award by Paul Dufrene, coroner, that the death of Mary Phagan, who died by the hands of the grand jury, was caused by the hands of the grand jury, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hurt, County Physician, that the deceased was killed by death from strangulation.

GOVERNOR C. ASHFORD, Foreman, DR. J. W. HURT, County Physician. Solicitor Dorsey said Friday he would give the Phagan case all of his attention and present his evidence to the grand jury as quickly as possible.

The solicitor has shown an anxiety to avoid delays of any nature in bringing down the grand jury on the Phagan case, and now that the coroner's jury has returned the case over to the grand jury and the grand jury it may be taken for granted that the investigation will be hurried along with all possible speed.

Case in State's Hands. "The case now is fully in the hands of the state," said the solicitor Friday morning. "It will only be presented to the grand jury Friday, but I shall endeavor to present it in the most perfect possible manner. The instant that I have a complete case I shall bring it to the attention of the grand jury. It is my desire to bring the case of Mary Phagan to justice with the greatest dispatch. A great crime has been done and I am no less eager to see the guilt determined than the general public."

It required the coroner's jury about twenty minutes to frame its formal verdict Thursday night. The jurymen received a brief charge from Governor Ashford and then from the coroner's room in the police station at 10 o'clock.

Atlanta Ready for Presbyterians 5,000 Visitors for Assemblies Noted Speakers on the Programs

REV. THOMAS STONE GUYE, moderator of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, 1913, who will be one of the prominent visitors in Atlanta next week. Dr. Guye is president of Anakin College at Sherman, Texas.

meeting here is regarded by representative Presbyterians as a most auspicious occasion for the matter to be thrashed out and a union effected. So much opportunity has ever afforded by the assembly that it is always met in widely separated cities, at appropriate times.

Consolidation of Four Branches To Be Considered in Gathering Here Next Week.

Preparations are virtually completed today for the great Presbyterian convention to be held in Atlanta beginning May 16. For the first time in the history of Presbyterianism in America representatives from its four branches will gather in joint assembly.

Atlanta has thrown open her homes to the visitors, all denominations uniting in entertaining the church representatives who come from every State in the Union, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Panama. A number of prominent churchmen from Canada also are expected. The commission are chosen, one-half from the clergy and the other half from the laity.

They constitute the governing body of the church and are selected largely because of their prominence and their active in church work. Southern Presbyterians will be especially interested in the discussion looking to a union between the United and the Northern divisions. Two committees were appointed last year, one from each of the branches, to confer on a possible basis of union. Their reports will be submitted. It is said the committees have reached an agreement and it is generally believed that the assemblies will not hold a regular conference here, but that a special conference will be in attendance at the annual meeting. The annual meeting will be held in December, but it is probable that the annual meeting will be held in Atlanta.

U. S. EXPERTS DOUBT 'CURES' BY FRIEDMANN

Results of Savant's Treatment Do Not Justify Confidence, Health Board Reports.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Effects of the Friedman cure thus far observed do not justify the confidence in the remedy which has been inspired by well-meant publicity. This is the view of an official statement from the board of managers of the public health service, delivered by Dr. John F. Anderson before the American Congress of Physicians and Surgeons in Washington today.

Dr. Anderson said that he has been done by undue publicity in leading the confidence of tuberculous victims in well-recognized methods of treatment. With respect to the patients under examination in New York, he said they have developed considerable tubercle at all and have not suffered from tubercle pneumonia. This would indicate that they must be under a long and slow process of improvement, as Dr. Friedman stated that tubercle is a long and slow process of improvement, as Dr. Friedman stated that tubercle is a long and slow process of improvement.

Not Ready to Give Opinion. The report which was also submitted by Dr. Anderson and Dr. M. R. Stinson, another public health official, said in part: "At the present time we are not in position to express an opinion upon the present case under observation. The disease for which the remedy is used is prolonged and is marked by periods of improvement and relapse. It is necessary to observe the patients for a longer period in respect to its results. However, we are in a position to state that the remedy has not been shown to justify the confidence in the remedy that has been inspired by widespread publicity."

The Flypaper of Debt

If You Are in Debt, You Are a Fly Glued to the Flypaper.

The More You Struggle, the Tighter You Stick. Soon Your Courage Is Gone and You Are a Dead Fly.

Copyright, 1914.

The picture at the top of this page is a picture for more than half of all the people in this country.

More than half the people are in debt—that is to say, they are living beyond their means, or they are spending every cent. And the man who is spending every cent he gets is actually in debt and running in debt, for he is running in debt TO HIS OLD AGE, when he won't be able to make, and won't be able to spend, and when the spending of to-day means debt later.

Those that are in debt know what debt is. There is no need to tell them about it.

First you owe $50 if you are a little man, or $50,000 if you are a big man.

And then you owe $100—or $100,000 if you are big.

For a while you struggle and plan. You are going to pay it off soon. It is a good thing to use "O P M," that is to say, other people's money, in the effort to get ahead.

You tell yourself that all the big men have used their credit and borrowed and gone ahead rapidly.

It all sounds very nice and plausible.

But remember that YOU KEEP GETTING IN DEEPER.

The fly lights on the fly paper, perhaps with only one leg at first. He says this is nothing, and puts down the other leg to push himself off.

AND THEN HE IS STUCK FAST.

And then he says to himself: "I will fly away from this fly paper," so he begins flapping his wings. And both of his wings stick to the paper.

There he is with his feet stuck and his wings stuck and only his head free.

That fly feels about as independent and hearty as you do if you are in debt. And he says: "I can get off of this paper easily enough when I get ready. I'll just put my head down and push myself off."

He buzzes for a while. THEN HE PUTS HIS HEAD DOWN ON THE FLY PAPER, TO PUSH HIMSELF OFF.

Then his head sticks tight; he begins to choke.

By and by he rolls over on his side, he sinks into the sticky surface—AND THERE IS ANOTHER DEAD FLY.

So it is with men in debt. So it will be with you if you stay in debt.

The only hope for the fly, the moment he feels one foot on the fly paper, is to use those wings and fly away, not putting in the other foot; flying off as quickly as he can.

And a million times wiser and better is the occasional rare fly, who sees the other flies sticking to the fly paper and says: "I don't like the look of those flies; I'll stay away from them."

Look at the people in debt. See their worry. See the anxiety of the mother, reflected in the children.

See the lack of standing, the extravagance and the poverty mixed together.

You can't mistake the human fly stuck on the fly paper of debt.

Since you cannot mistake him, why not keep away from that fly paper?

Debt makes everything worthless.

If you owe a thousand dollars, it seems rather foolish to save ten or twenty.

You feel that you might as well spend it; it won't make any difference.

And so it goes, if you owe two thousand. And then it isn't worth while to save twenty or forty.

And you become a failure. You put down your feet, and then your wings, AND THEN YOUR HEAD, WHICH IS AMBITION, and by and by you roll over and you are a dead fly.

Keep out of debt.

Congratulations We Do Not Want

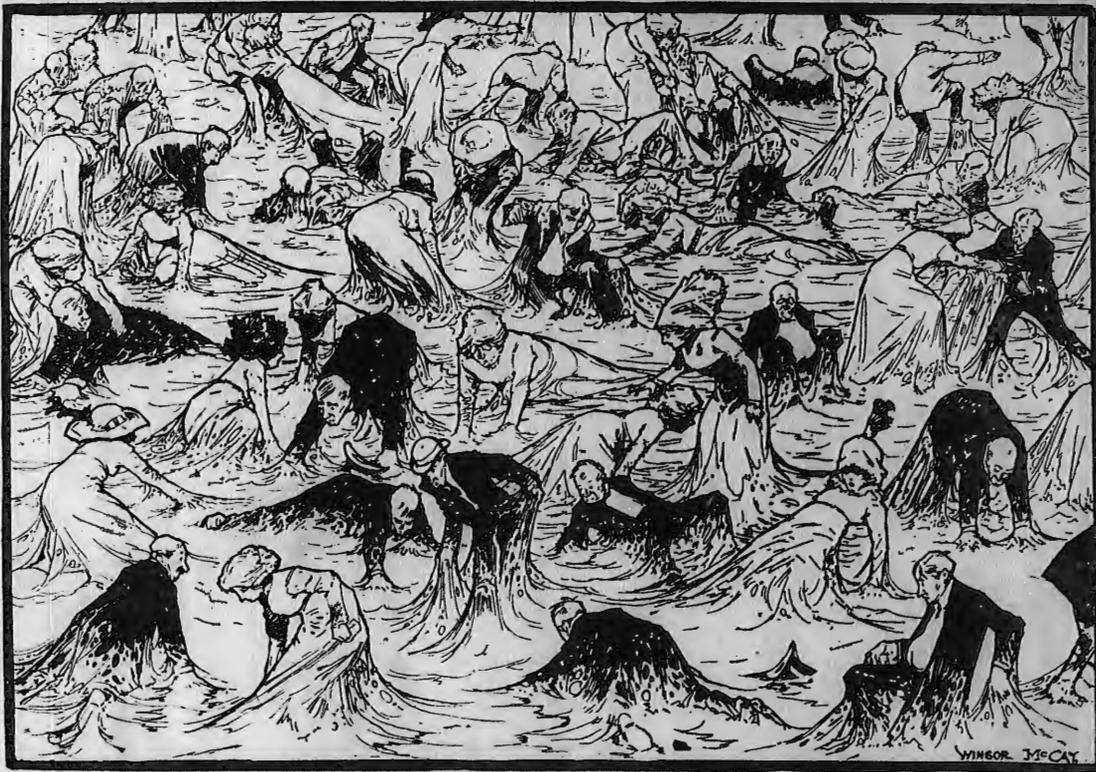

Lord Welby, speaking in London at the annual dinner of the Cobden Club on the prospects of free trade, said that the members might congratulate themselves on President Wilson's new tariff bill. There is the bare truth about what is thought of the bill by the out-and-out free traders of England.

Richard Cobden died in 1865. The population of Great Britain has almost doubled since. Railroads were in their infancy, and it took weeks to cross the Atlantic. Telegraphy had just begun and ocean-spanning cables did not exist. Cobden could never have even dreamed of the cheap and vast transportation systems, by land and sea, of to-day. He could never even have dreamed of the year when the United States would practically consume all the wheat it would grow. He could never even have dreamed of the development of machinery, changing, as it has, the whole face of world-trade.

Yet they did dream in those days. Cobden's associates dreamed and prophesied, too. They prophesied, and loudly, that within fifty years every civilized nation would have adopted free trade, and they were exactly wrong.

It would take many volumes to tell the whole difference between the conditions of the world's business in 1860 and 1913.

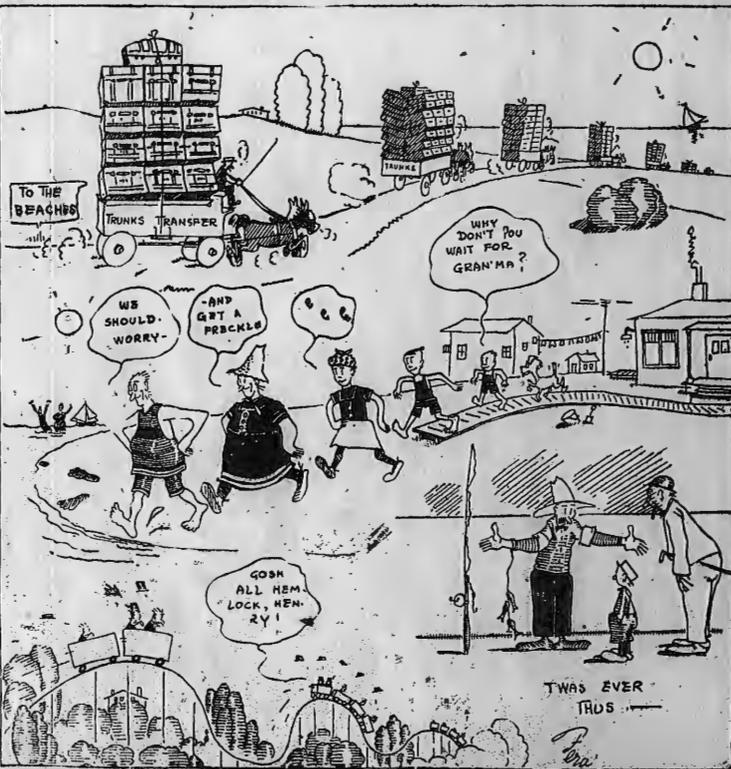

There are some congratulations that may be paid for too dearly.

Are you stuck on this flypaper? Are your hands and feet glued with debts? Fight. You will find no happiness while debt holds you prisoner (SEE EDITORIAL.)

Rivalry in Religion

Written for The Georgian by REV. JOHN E. WHITE, Pastor Second Baptist Church

THE disappearance of sectarian bitterness is one of the most observable facts of to-day. Whatever may be thought of it, no man can regard it possible to check the movement which is breaking down the old denominational antipathies. It is interpreted by many as the best modern evidence that a heavenly power is at work in the world. They believe that the Spirit of its Divine Founder is prevailing in Christianity over the human passions of men, and that the gospel of love is at last conquering completely the hearts of those who preach it.

The large front of this movement appears in religious convention and in the current religious literature. Its reiterated proposals of church federation and missionary co-operation not a few religious leaders openly believe that the amalgamation of denominations in one great inclusive church is not only desirable but inevitable.

But this rosy view has its checkmate and counter-blast. There are very many—probably at this time the majority of church communicants, who do not view the loss of the sectarian spirit with sympathy. Large numbers of leaders are stung in violent reaction against it. With each denomination there are organs, and therefore an organization, of protest. A keen eye observes that the internal antagonisms in the different denominations on the subject is really helping on the movement of fraternity as between the denominations themselves by transferring the emphasis of the old conflict between them as sects to mere family disputes.

The question of denominationalism will not be settled wisely in this fashion. There are profound reasons for its existence and continuance of divergent groups in Christianity. There are many of the best men in each denomination who observe the tendency of the times, feel its power, and are drawn into it, who still stoutly question, if it is not liable to cost the cause of Truth and the energies of religion more than all its compensating amenities can amply make up. The man in the street does not see very far into the problem of denominationalism. It appears to him a plague of widespread enmity and a useless waste of power. The Real Values. Why is it, then, that those inside the churches, as leaders and laymen, who are manifestly conscientious men of the finest good sense, are strong in their support of separate denominations, especially their own? It is because they know the real value of denominationalism. It is not a narrow sectarian mechanism on their part. They find no encouragement to theological strife and religious bad feeling. They lament the wounds which persecution and bigotry have made and would make again. But they know that after all there are convictions of religious truth worth fighting for, and that the great loyalty of conscience have been the levers of salvation for the human race. As students of church history, they know that the stubborn quality of soul, the heroic mold of character and the magnificent coachwork which have fallen out of that history, are not to be lightly set aside or interjected apart from the great competitions of religion in which they were generated.

New Denominationalism. So the rapidly evaporating actualization of our times, if full of promise, is full of peril also. It is our task to provide a relation of religious groups to each other and toward their common cause which will conserve concentration and aggressiveness, while at the same time it encourages their best fellowship. Believing it can be done and that it will be done, as Christianity stands to-day, the demand for an arrangement of its groups forms a growing attitude toward each other, but with the sincere objective clear enough to cure the evils of denominationalism. A "New Denominationalism" is offered therefore as a challenge to the theological quarrel shall be settled in the spiritual domain. Theological groups engaged constructively for the kingdom of God on earth. It should appeal to anyone that the rivalry of groups giving way to the rivalry of individuals be infinitely better than the mere subsistence of all rivalry which is threatened.

Democrats Rejoice as Representatives Pass Underwood Measure by Vote of 281 to 139.

WASHINGTON, May 8.--Shortly after the Senate convened to-day the Underwood tariff bill was brought over from the House, read and referred to the Finance Committee.

In the Finance Committee the schedule was assigned to sub-committees No. 1, composed of Senators Stone, Thomas, James and Simmons, and the wool schedule to No. 2--Senators Williams, Spively, Gore and Simmons.

On the first test in the House last night the vote was 281 to 139, Democrats voting against the bill and two Republicans voting for it.

When Speaker Clark announced the vote in loud tones that revealed his satisfaction, exuberant Democrats hoisted a stuffed Democratic donkey over the heads of their colleagues in the rear of the chamber, a ripple of applause followed and the gavel fell on the first chapter in the history of President Wilson's extra session of Congress.

With the bill on its way to the Senate, there was a rush of Representatives to their homes. In the House adjournment will be taken three days at a time beginning next week until June 1.

STATE URGED TO STERILIZE INSANE AND AID YOUNG

Striking new methods of handling patients in the Georgia State Sanitarium at Milledgeville are urged in the annual report of the board of directors submitted to Governor Brown Friday. The most important recommendations are:

The enactment of a sterilization law, applying to certain epileptics (not insane), feeble-minded children, harmless feeble-minded and persons suffering from mental deficiency. This is a hospital and not a prison.

The report declares that poor results have been obtained at the institution in the cure of insanity on account of the crowded conditions and the lack of facilities for segregating those treating the curable cases apart from the incurable and hopeless insane. A psychiatric hospital is urged.

No provision for children. "No provision is made in our State educational system for the care and treatment of feeble-minded children," states the report. "Most of them are capable of living that will aid in their happiness and in that of the community. Only the greater types are committed to the State Sanitarium while the great majority are allowed to grow up without care."

Further commitment while the insane should be stopped and some adequate provision made by the State for these children.

Defendants and to several of his acquaintances. In his testimony before the coroner's jury he declared that he visited the factory between 12:15 and 12:30 o'clock, the afternoon of the killing of Mary Phagan. He said he talked with Frank for two minutes in the superintendent's office.

Defendants declared that Quinn had told them and other persons that he did not visit the factory at all Saturday night but that he was not there from the time he left Friday at the following Monday.

Frank expected to be held. "That's about what I expected at this time," was the comment which Leo M. Frank, with little trace of emotion, received the news of the action of the coroner's jury Thursday night.

Dapuy Sheriff Fienne Minor was the officer who informed both Frank and New Lee that the jury had recommended that they be held until charges of murder be further investigated by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

The night watchman received the news indifferently and had nothing to say. Frank and Leo are held under charges of murder, as the following verdict of the coroner's jury was about:

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913. We, the coroner's jury, impeached and sworn by Paul Donahoe, coroner of Fulton County, in inquisition into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body was found before us, after having heard the evidence of sworn witnesses, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hunt, county physician, find that the deceased came to her death from strangulation. We recommended that Leo Frank and New Lee be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

Girls Testify Against Frank. The most dramatic testimony against Frank in regard to his treatment of Mary Phagan was given by the girl who testified that she had been employed at the factory and that Frank had attempted familiarity with her.

Here the witness stopped her statement. Coroner Donahoe asked her sharply: "Did you say anything else?" "Yes, I did. I told him to go to the office," she testified.

'YOUNG HOT BLOOD' BAND OF MILITANTS BURN MANSION, ATTACK PREMIER ASQUITH

Churchill in Party Saved From 'Wild Women' by Guards--'Aronettes' Blamed for $50,000 Blaze, and Dynamiters Swear to Brave Death.

Special Cable to the Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, May 8.—A fresh outrage occurred during England today. Members of the 'Young Hot Blood' service of the Women's Social and Political Union burned the Duke's mansion, at Harrow, causing a $50,000 loss.

Other members of the union attempted to attack Premier and Mrs. Asquith and First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill, who accompanied them on their way to the Victoria Railway station today.

Mr. and Mrs. Asquith and Mr. and Mrs. Churchill were leaving on a journey to Venice, where they will embark upon Admiral Asquith's yacht on a cruise through the Mediterranean for inspection of British fortresses and navy depots.

Saved by Their Guards.

Only the fact that they had a heavy bodyguard of soldiers, soldiers and private detectives saved them from injury at the hands of militant suffragettes.

Mrs. Flora Drummond, or "General" Drummond, as she is known because of her Amazonian qualities, who collapsed in Bow Street court yesterday during the trial of the woman arrested in the raid on headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union in a serious condition today.

She had refused to eat for a week to spite the government and her health has become so badly damaged as a result that an operation may be necessary. She was removed to a nursing home this morning.

Love Wives Now Ally.

Interesting details on the organization of militants are being brought out at the trial of the militant leaders. Letters seized by the police include a number of passionate, burning love letters from a former Socialist member of Parliament. The letters show that he is infatuated with one of the leaders of the "wild women" and that he allied himself with the "cause" at her command.

Other documents show that the most dangerous branch of the union is called the "Service of Young Hot Bloods." No one but young unmarried women of high courage are admitted. There are some of the questions put to them before they are admitted into this branch of the union:

For what the American?

Are you willing to die a violent death to-day?

Are you afraid of dynamite or any other high explosives?

Will you swear to hunger strike if sent to jail?

Will you renounce the softer characteristics of womanhood in favor of a great principle?

Are you brave and strong and able to hold your own against a single policeman?

Are you among the members of the dynamite squad are recruited from the "T. H. B." service.

FRANK AND LEE HELD; GRAND JURY LIKELY TO TAKE UP CASE MONDAY

"Phagan Mystery Now Is in State's Hands and Every Effort Will Be Made for a Speedy Solution," Declares Solicitor General Dorsey.

Atlanta, Ga., May 8, 1913.

We, the coroner's jury, impaled and sworn by Paul Donohoe, coroner of Fulton County, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mary Phagan, whose dead body now lies before us, after having heard the evidence of sworn witnesses, and the statement of Dr. J. W. Hart, County Physician, find that the deceased came to her death from strangulation. We recommend that Leo M. Frank and Newt Lee be held under charges of murder for further investigation by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

(Signed, HOMER O. ASHFORD, Foreman, DR. J. W. HART, County Physician.)

Frank and Lee are awaiting the consideration of their cases by the Grand Jury, which met Friday morning.

The investigation closely follows the time he had detectives of his own working on the case, it is regarded as probable that he would have it ready for presentation to the grand jury some time on Monday.

In this event a decision as to whether indictments shall be returned may be reached by Monday night.

Solicitor Dorsey said Friday he would give the Phagan case all of his attention and present his evidence to the grand jury as quickly as possible.

The solicitor has shown an anxiety to avoid delays of any nature in hunting down the slayer of the Phagan girl, and now that the coroner's jury has turned the case over to the solicitor and the grand jury it may be taken for granted that the investigation will be hurried along with all possible speed.

"The case in State's hands."

"The case now is fully in the hands of the state," said the solicitor Friday morning. "It will not be presented to the grand jury until the earliest possible moment. The instant that I have a complete case I shall bring it to the attention of the grand jury. It is my desire to bring the slayer of Mary Phagan to justice with the greatest dispatch. A great crime has been done and I am no less eager to see the guilty determined than the general public."

It required the coroner's jury about fifteen minutes to frame his formal verdict Thursday night. The coroner received a brief charge from Coroner Donohoe and fled from the Commission room in the police station at 8:05 o'clock. At 8:15 they were back with their verdict.

Coroner Donohoe admonished the jurors to be ready to hold a person who they thought might be withholding information of the crime as well as to hold a person they regarded as the possible culprit, a person possessing knowledge of the crime and withholding it, he said, was an accessory after the fact.

An immediate hush fell on the packed room when the juror returned. There was a dead silence except for the voice of Homer C. Ashford, foreman of the jury, when the verdict was read.

"I testify Against Frank."

The most damaging testimony against Frank in regard to his treatment of employees at the factory was saved until the last words of the hearing. Girls and women were called to the stand to testify that they had been employed at the factory of Leo Frank and had occasion to go there, and that they had never observed any communication with them.

Nettie Poffo, of Silver River, declared that Frank had made improper advances to her. She was asked "who she had been employed at the factory."

"No," she answered.

"Do you know Leo Frank?"

"When and where did you see him?"

"In his office at the factory whenever I went into the office of Mr. Frank's pay."

"What did he say to you that might have been improper on the part of these visits?"

"He didn't exactly say anything. I want to get his pay about four weeks ago and when I went into the office of Mr. Frank I asked for her. He told me I couldn't see her unless I saw him first."

"Say he winked at her."

"I told him I didn't want to see him. He pulled a box from his desk, it had a lot of money in it. He looked at it significantly and then looked at me. When he looked at me, he winked. At he winked he said 'How about it?'"

"Instantly told him 'I was a nice girl.'"

"Here the witness stopped her statement. Coroner Donohoe asked her:

"Did you say anything else?"

"Yes, I did. I told him to go to hell and walked out of his office."

"Thomas Blackstock, who said that he was employed at the factory about a year ago testified as follows:

"Tell of Frank's Conduct."

"Do you know Leo M. Frank?"

"A. Yes."

"Q. How long have you known him?"

"A. About six weeks."

"Q. Do you ever observe his conduct toward female employees of the pencil factory?"

"A. Yes. I've often seen him speaking to innocent girls."

"Q. Name some."

"A. I can't exactly recollect names."

"Q. What was the conduct you recall particularly?"

"The witness answered to the effect that he had seen him place his hand with undue familiarity upon the person of girls."

"Q. See it often?"

"A. Half dozen times, maybe. He generally was seen to become that familiar while he was touring the building."

"Q. Can't you name just one girl?"

"A. Yes. Margoline Kennedy."

"Q. Did you see him act with undue familiarity toward her?"

"A. Afterward."

"Q. Before or afterward the murder?"

"A. "Glad To Avoid Him."

"Q. When did you observe this misconduct?"

"A. A year ago."

"Q. Did you hear complaints about the plant?"

"A. No. The girls tried to avoid him."

"Mrs. C. D. Donohoe said she was connected with the pencil plant for three weeks. Her capacity was that of a factory girl. She resided at 183 West Peachtree Street with her husband. Her testimony follows:

"I state my observations of Frank's conduct as follows:

TARIFF BILL IS UP TO SENATE; HOT FIGHT DUE. Democratic Rejoice in the House Passes the Measure by the Vote of 281 to 139.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Underwood tariff bill, with the lowest import duties ever imposed by an American measure, is now up to the Senate Finance Committee. The bill's passage through the Senate will be a hot fight, as the Republican opposition apparently entirely in accord in this subject and entirely willing to spend unlimited time and energy in an effort to defeat it.

Leaders of the Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee, which will handle the bill, express the belief that it will go through to enactment in the same form as it passed the House, and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

Subcommittees of the Finance Committee which have been investigating the schedules of the bill for the last few weeks plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but wool and sugar and other schedules which brought out the hard fighting in the House are not to be touched, according to the present plan. The income tax and administrative features also are to stand.

Democratic leaders acknowledge that the two Senators from Louisiana who have been investigating the schedules of the bill for the last few weeks plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but wool and sugar and other schedules which brought out the hard fighting in the House are not to be touched, according to the present plan. The income tax and administrative features also are to stand.

MILLTOWN WILL FISH REGARDLESS

Mayor Pafford Declares Georgia Laws Give Residents Right to Angle in Banks Pond.

Citizens of Milltown, Ga., deny that the town is in a state of excitement and that it will be necessary to call out troops to preserve order. Mayor William F. Pafford has issued a statement declaring Game Warden Blackstock became unduly alarmed.

Governor Brown has not considered sending troops to Herriot County. It is hardly likely he will.

Until the Legislature changes the law, Milltown sportsmen will continue to angle for the shad in Bankers pond so long as they have permission from owners of the land on which the body of water is located, according to Mayor Pafford.

"Section 7 of the game law privileges a person to fish with permission from the owner of the land, which the 20 persons arrested had," he declared.

"The statement of State Game and Fish Commissioner Meritt that his warden have been intimidated and that the local authorities are too much in sympathy with the lawless element to give any assistance is untrue," said Pafford.

Blackstock made 20 arrests of persons. He charges he was prevented from prosecuting the cases because the justices of the peace declared he would not convict any of the justice.

The warden made claims to own all of the shad in which the pond is located. Other property owners say a title to all of the property has never been vested with Blackstock.

U. S. CHECKS TOLL OF TUBERCULOSIS

Death Rate Decreased From 174.5 to 139.7 Per 100,000 Population in Last Decade.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—"That the death rate in the United States from tuberculosis during the decade ending in 1910 has diminished from 174.5 per 100,000 of population to 139.7 was the plankton made here by Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, in an address before the sociological section of the National association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis."

"In other words," said Dr. Hoffman, "nearly 200,000 lives were saved from 1909 to 1910, in the campaign against this disease."

Dr. Hoffman stated that the death rate in New York City, 289.1 in 1901, had declined to 186.1 in 1912. He made no mention of any specific "cure."

Survivor H. S. Warren, of the U. S. Public Health Service, declared that deaths of government employees from tuberculosis were much lower than that of other laborers in similar occupations, because of the superior sanitary conditions.

"About 18,000 new cases of tuberculosis are constantly drifting about the country for long periods without even consulting physicians," was the statement by Dr. Harry Lee Barnes, superintendent of the Rhode Island State Sanitarium.

Barnes Vaughan began life as a waiters' maid, but by beauty at the age of 18 she had become the mistress of King Leopold, who had her under his protection and sheltered wealth upon her.

Her first husband, it is said, will be a German army officer.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Underwood tariff bill, with the lowest import duties ever imposed by an American measure, is now up to the Senate Finance Committee.

The bill's passage through the Senate will be a hot fight, as the Republican opposition apparently entirely in accord in this subject and entirely willing to spend unlimited time and energy in an effort to defeat it.

Leaders of the Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee, which will handle the bill, express the belief that it will go through to enactment in the same form as it passed the House, and that their small majority will stand firm to the last.

Subcommittees of the Finance Committee which have been investigating the schedules of the bill for the last few weeks plan to make a few changes in several schedules, but wool and sugar and other schedules which brought out the hard fighting in the House are not to be touched, according to the present plan.

The income tax and administrative features also are to stand.
