POSTMASTER SOUGHT FOR THEFT OF $11,000

Washington. September 20.—Immediate legislation to place under federal control the construction of all piriges and their approaches and to prevent encroachments on channels in tributaries of navigable rivers, was recommended in a report submitted to Secretary Garrison today by the board of army engineers appointed to investigate the floods which devastated the Ohlo Valley last spring. Artificial contraction of river channels and their adjacent flood plains, which caused the disaster, the board declared can be prevented only by systematic, comprehensive control by the central government without interference from the state authorities.

The report, written by Lieutenant Colonel Francis R. Shunk and transmitted through Brigadier General Rossell, chief of the army engincers, was given seneral approval by both Secretary Garrison and General Rossell.

HABEAS CORPUS WINS

¿ Gaddy in August.

J. J. Willis, aged 49, a crippled gro-ceryman of College Park, who, on Au-gust 18, was bound over to the grand jury for shooting J. P. Gaddy, aged 55, a justice of the peace bailiff, was re-lensed on a $250 bond yesterday by Judge George L.Bell, of superior court, after a hearing on habeas corpus pro-ceedings.

after a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings.
Gaddy was shot four times by Willis, the evidence showed, when the bailiff entered Willis's tore near the Gate City Cotton mills to levy on some property in the store. It is, claimed that Willis jerked a pistol from the cash drawer and fired four snots. Gaddy fell with bullet wounds in his stomach arm, shoulder and breast. For a time it was feared that he would not live, but within the past few days ne has showed such improvement that it is beheved by his physicians that he would recover.

Willis was tried before Mayor Byron S. Huie, of College Park, and w.s. bound over to the grand jury without sail for assault with intent to murder, pending the condition in which Gaddy Con earning that Gaddy was getting better and would probably recover. Mayor Huie was preparing to grant Willis a bond, before the latter, through his attorneys, Alzert Kemper and J. S. Jumes, entered habeas corpus groceedings and secured the right to be free on bond. Willis gave himself up to the officers directly after the shooting.

SUNDAY MAIL FACILITIES.

In requesting the postoffice department to authorize him to restore Atlanta's general delivery and box service on Sunday, Postmaster Bolling Jones has taken a position which will meet with the emphatic indorsement of the overwhelming majority of the people of this city.

The ban upon Sunday deliveries was inaugurated during the administration of Hitchcock. Pursuing the line of parsimony and inefficiency which had characterized his entire administration, he abrogated a rule of years' standing and inconvenienced the entire country. Under subsequent interpretations of the Hitchcock regulation, postmasters are allowed to suspend the rule contingent upon local sentiment and the consent of the postoffice department. There is no doubt about the local sentiment in the case of Atlanta and the consent from Washington should be forthcoming without delay.

The Atlanta public and the Atlanta business element are composed of law-abiding and God-fearing people. But there is no incompatibility between their religious devotion and the receipt of one mail on Sundays, if they are energetic enough to go in person or send for it. Before Hitchcock tampered with the established custom. Atlantans enjoyed a delivery on Sunday, the service was suspended before church hours and everyone went soberly about his worship as he saw fit. There has been no great accession of church attendance follow ing he abrogation of the rule and the little labor that was saved the clerks is more than offset by the overwork placed on those who have to eatch up with the glut in accumulated mails. The movement now initiated by Postmaster Jones contemplates that the general delivery window shall bee pened during the old hours Sunday morning, and that mail received up to 10 o'clock shall be served to boxes. The provision is a reasonable one. Business processes have become so complicated that it places a penalty upon enterprises and individuals to be denied access to emergen cy letters often coming in Sunday morning.

It is common knowledge that many towns, in Georgia, too, of less than Atlanta's importance, have disregarded rule of Sunday closing. The longer it is retained here, the longer will Atlanta be plagued by just one more reminder of the inefficiency of Hitchcockism. The more quickly the postoffice department accedes to Postmaster Jones' request, the better for Atlanta and for the department's reputation for inberal policy.

AN ARABIAN NIGHTS INN.

Un in Nananoch, which is in fural New York, you will find a hotel, or to be more precise an inn, which will bring you up gasning for the simple reason that it com bines the strange magic of Hans Christian Anderson and Peter Grimm with the witchery of the Arabian Nights. And the man behind the inn. Frank Seaman, a wealthy New Yorker, will remind you of the trail blazers of the old days, for he has had the nerve to undertake something that is abso lutely new in the management of hostelines. Here is the unn where champagne costs the same as butternilk, where you are asked to depart if you tip anyone of the staff, where you have but to clap your hands to have a saddle horse brought without charge to the inn door, where you may have your meals served in bed without extra cost, where you can get the chef on your bedroom phone and order the sort of meal that would make a gourmet stagger and a millionaire describe frenzied circles. Tennis courts, golf links, masseurs, manicure seamstresses, barbers, bootblack, kindergartener, trained nurse, postage stamps, magazines, newspapers-all and singular

If you want to drink expensive vintages every hour, it's all right with the managementand the bookkeeper. If you want to fatten on buttermilk, ditto—nothing extra, noth ing less.

Hotel men the country over are aghast at the experiment. They say it will not pay and that it cannot last. 'It has lasted several weeks already, and it is running to capacity all the time. Guests are accepted only on invitation, and the waiting list is said to be a lengthy one. If the plan being tried at Napanoch is successful it may revolutionize the hotel business.

THE DEMOCRACY OF CLOTHES.

We all admit the democracy of music, but how many of us are conscious of the democracy of clothes? Witness the description printed recently by The Constitution of a style exhibition staged by one of the well-known establishments carrying gowns for women.

The spectacle had, of course, been duly advertised in advance. Realizing the uniqueness of the event and the wealth of human interest material to be found in it, The Constitution assigned its police reporter, well versed in the vivid and emotional side of life, and its society editor, with an aligndance of experience on the social side and a keen comprehension of the psychology of men and women.

Both of these specialists in human nature agree that this little play in real life was one of the most absorbing they ever witnessed. The actors were interesting. The audience was fascinating. It was the old story of sensitive women responding electrically to environment, this time the environment of pleasing line and color and delicacy in shade that has lured temininity ever since Eve discovered eternally new methods of adjusting the solitary fig leaf.

In the hypnotism of the moment, the women forgot the boundaries of caste and class as men boisterously sweep them aside at political rallies, when the blood is heated and the lust for battle boils forth like lava from Pelee. The wife of the capitalist sat elbowwise with the wife of the day laborer, each gripped by a common charm, both oblivious to the barriers built by the busy influences of the twentieth century civilization. The little woman over on the left might be taking notes for a faint replica of the gown she couldn't afford, while the "grande dame" with a bottomless bank account smiled indulgently.

And if there is a democracy of clothes. there is also a therapeutic side to clothes. lf you watched the wan cheek flush and the dult eye kindle, you had proof beyond cavil. The woman who would have shricked helplessly and Asked death in a burning house was enchained and able bodied, for the moment at least, before the moving spectacle.

A good thing, this, the democracy of clothes, and a barmless thing, in the long You may hear an occasional story run. about the wife whose extravagance has driven "milord" into bankruptcy or embezzlement. MR. CANDLER'S LIBERALITY.

It is doubtful if the history of practical philanthropy in the south has heretofore witnessed generosity so broad in scope and remarkable in terms as that which Asa G. Candler is exhibiting toward the Wesley Memorial hospital. Expanding phenome nally, the institution has far outgrown its facilities and is reaching the point where it will be compelled to turn away patients. It is proposed to rebuild upon a radically broader scale, a scale commensurate with the absolutely non-sectarian and non-denominational appeal and patronage of the hospital. Mr. Candler has, in effect, almost underwritten the new institution. He has put no limitation to the exact amount he vill contribute. His offer is for every dollar contributed from general outside sources he will contribute three dollars. Since the committee on campaign charged itself at the start with raising $50,000, that means Mr. ('andler will contribute $150,000. But the enthusiasm of those back of the movement, and the general civic spirit of Georgia and the south. coupled with Mr. Candfer's liberality, make it probable that in the long run the money spent upon the new plant will radically warf these tentative figures.

One of the most liberal provisions of the gift is that Mr. Candler will not wait until the $50,000 from general sources is raised before beginning his response. As contributions come in he will meet them. To illustrate, if $100 should be deposited from general sources, Mr. Candler will at once deposit $300 to match it. There is, therefore, no string tied to the donation and no onerous terms such as fay so heavy burden upon the recipients of many donations of this character.

Mr. Candler could have found no more worths or useful institution to serve as the vehicle for his practical philanthropy. From numble beginnings, Wesley Memorial hoswital has developed into one of the bestknown institutions in the state and the Its doors, from the beginning, have been onen to natients of all denominations. Situated in Atlanta, it has drawn patients from all over Georgia and the surrounding states. These facts alone are guarantee that in the accumulation of the $50,000 now asked for the demands of growth, all Geor-

Atlanta has become the medical Mecca for that vast territory between Baltimore and New Orleans, speaking in the expansion of her medical training schools no less than in patronage of her sanitarium facilities. Outsiders flock to Atlanta for treatment as they do to Baltimore, drawn by the superior professional equipment here and the city's superb climate. The amplification of Wesley, now assured, means the further enhancement of the city's reputation.

HIS HELPFUL WIFE.

"Mrs. Dusenberry was here a while ago." said Mrs. Jamesworthy, "and we had cuite a pleasant chat. She says her husband built a summer house in the garden last spring, and it has been a delight to the whole family ever since. She says that if we once had a summer house, we'd wonder how we eve got along without it."

"I have no doubt we'd sit up wondering when we ought to be in bed," replied James worthy. "I think myself that a summe house is a noble institution, and 1 intend to build one at once. I'm also planning to put up a leaning tower like the one they have at Pisa. People who have leaning towers in their gardens say they are a great comfort and convenience, especially to the husbands of extravagant wives, who wish to hang themselves and he out of their misery. I'm sure you'll realize, Mrs. James-worthy, that a distracted husband intent upon suicide couldn't ask for anything better than a leaning tower.

The north wind doth blow and we shall have snow, and what will the Jamesworthys do then, poor things, if there is no fuel in the basement? I have been worrying over this matter until I can feel my whiskers turning grav, and I have an ingrowing pain in my heart, and, lo and behold, you solve the problem with one twist of the wist, and never turn a half. Editor Constitution. I am pleased with your editorial on "Cattle for Georgia." I note what you say with reference to slaughtering young calves. I understand that in Venezuela there is a law against killing helfers until they are 7 years old.

The farmers and business men of this country have just subscribed for the capital stock of a packing plant to be located at this place. The charter will be obtained next week. An expert packer from Minnesota has been employed to take charge of the plant. We sent to Minnesota and surrounding states three of our most expert, carcful, husiness men to look into the packing plant industry. Their unanimous report is to the effect that cattle and hogs can be laused cheaper in southwest Georgia than in Minnesota. The farm lands in Minnesota are readily selling at from $125 to $200 per acre. If our packing plan here is the success that all parties who have investigated the matter think it will be, then our lands here ought in five years from new to seeling at $200 per acre.

We are troubled somewhat in this section with hog cholera. If our legislature or the national government, would take the hog cholera situation into hand it could be stamped out in this country just as it has been in the old country, from which it originally came to this country.

DID INDIAN GIRL LEAD LEWIS AND CLARK?

The most hazardous and the most significant journey ever made on the western con-tinent—a journey that rivals in daring and exceeds in importance the expeditions of Stanley and Lavingstone in the wilds of Africa-a journey that resulted in the greatest real estate transaction ever recorded in history and gave to the world riches be-yond comprchension, was the Lewis and Clark expedition in 1804.

history and grand comprehension, was the expedition in 1804.

This journey was naturally full of hardships, and Lewis and Clark were engaged ships, and a year and a half encompassing that the finally saw the for more than a year and a half encompassing the wilderness before they finally saw the blue line in the western horizon which told them that the end of their journey was at hand and that they had crossed the continent from Missouri to the Pacific.

The stories of the adventures of Lewis and Clark have filled volumes, but the romance of the march has been heightened by the tale that an Indian grel piloted the party and that without her assistance they could hardly have succeeded. The name of tals Indian girl, it has been discovered of recent years, was Sacajawea, but in the journals kept by the explorers little attention is paid to the part she played in the success of the expedi-tion. Only lately different states in the west have started movements to honor this woman by the erection of monuments.

In her lifetime this indux girl did not re-ceive any personal recognition of the services she rendered these explorers, but the century that has passed since then has brought a keener appreciation of her assistance from those who have taken the interest to examine and unrayed records of her deeds, Recent investigators have determined that Sacalawa was a Shoshone woman, the wife of a French interpreter. Toursant Charboneau, and the story as now told is as fascinating as a piece of knighthood faction. The statement of identification of this woman has met with ridicule, doubt, suspicion and denial, but it would appear to be corroborated by those of unquestioned integrity.

Saculaweas life has two periods—that about which partly we know, and that about which nothing can be leained. It has been in this later period that has been the stumbling block. We see her in the vigor of her splendid young womanhood; she disapreared as mysteriously as she appeared, and when she again is visible it is as the aged Sacajawea, white-haired and well preserved.

The story, as now told, in which Sacajawea is brought forward as the heroine, is as fol-lows: When Lewis and Clark, in the fall of 1804, reached the Mandan Indian villages not far from the present site of Bismarck, 1894, reached the Mandan Indian villages not far from the present site of Bismarck, N. D., they engaged an Indian interpreter, Charboneau, who had two wives, Sacajawea, the you'mer, having been sold to him as a slave when she was a child of five years. When Sacajawea was only fifteen years of age, she gave birth to a son, and the Indian woman strapped her little papeose not yet two months old on her hack and practically carried him in this cuddled position all the way from Bismarck to the coast and return, a distance of over 500 miles.

Sacajawea brought her exploring party back safe, in March, 1806, her husband, who was the interpreter, receiving the sum of $500, but there is no record to show that the indian maiden, who had guided them, received any compensation by gift or word.

No other attention was paid to this woman, not even in the accounts that have been published by those who made the journey, until the time of the St. Louis fair, when Mrs. Eva Emery Dye called attention to this pilot in her book, "The Conquest," in which she extols the devotion of the little woman to the cause of Lewis and Clark on their marvelous trip.

As recent as 1906 was discovered what is supposed to be the grave of Sacajawea in the burisl ground of the Shoshond agency, the

In Portland, Ore, there is a finely carved statue to Sacajawea, and Baptiste, the baby she carried on her shoulder, which was greated by the women of that city. How much of the story of the Indian girl is true, and how much romance, it is difficult to say, but in the past ten years the name of Sacajawea has taken a place aside of that of focahontas for the assistance she gave to the paleface race.

Representative Ault Writes Of Price's Department

Editor Constitution: In an interview in nday's Constitution upon the subject of offecting and distributing information by the agricultural department, the enforce-ment of the pure food law, and the necessity of additional funds for these purposes, Commissioner James D. Price uses this

Jean ago. The legislature believed then the department had been unwisely administered. It sought to check any possibility for abuse and extravagance. And, as is always the case when the pendulum swings in the other direction, the reaction went to the extreme."

I regret to differ with my good friend, the commissioner, but the above statement is not justified by the facts, and, if allowed to stand unchallenged, would tond to create the impression that the present cramped condition referred to resulted from changes in the law made as a result of the recept investigation.

The committee making this investigation did not recommend the reduction of a single appropriation for the maintenance of the department, but, on the contrary, recommended and secured the passage of a bill increasing the appropriation for the maintenance of the chemical department $7,500, in addition to the amount already.

nance of the chemical department $7,500, in addition to the amount already appropriated.

No Change.

The committee did not recommend nor did the general assembly make any change whatever in the law by which the agricultural department was deprived of any fund that this department was legally entitled to use for the purposes mentioned under the law as it existed before the probe was made. The committee recommended the adop-tion of certain business methods in the adtion of certain business methods in the ad-ministration of the department for the pur-pose of securing greater efficiency, and in this connection recommended that no posi-tion should be regarded as a political sinc-cure, but that employees of the state should be required to render valuable services to the same extent as employees in other lines of business.

In carrying out the suggestion for a busin carrying out the suggestion for a bus-iness-like administration of the depart-ment's affairs, the legislature did amend the law by requiring that all funds received from the sale of fertilizer tags should be deposited in the state treasury and drawn out on warrants for salaries and expenses when needed, and the passage of this bill may have affected the financial operations of the department to some extent, inasmuch as it resulted in the construction of the laws governing the use of these funds governing the use of these funds by the statorney general rather than by the officials of the department.

No misappropriation was charged, and no reflection intended, the commissioner of agriculture agreeing heartily with the suggestion at the time.

Favors Bread Policy.

No change whatever was made in the law relative to the purposes for which these funds could be expended, the only change being to require the money to be deposited and paid out through the treasury. However, after this change was made found that the department had been honest by mistaken in construing the law to allow certain expenditures to be made out of these funds, and that the use of the money for such purposes was not authorized by the law. This trouble was remedied to some extent by a bill prepared by Commissioner Price and myself, and passed at the last session of the general assembly. At the same time a bill was passed appropriating the necessary funds for the food and drug department out of resources realized from the sale of food stamps. In this connection I want to say that no change was made as a result of this probe withdrawing any fund from the pure food department, and if this department is cramped it is certainly not a result of the probe. ly mistaken in construing the law to allow result of the probe.

I agree with Commissioner Price in his effort to secure a more efficient and progressive administration of his department, and merely call attention to these facts in order that the nublic may understand that the probe of the department has not resulted in the reduction of the appropriations for the general work in this department or fr changing the law in regard thereto. I tunds referred to by the commissioner were available under a misconstruction of the law by the department, it is well that the error has been discovered, so that the needed authority for all needed expenditures mentioned tures may be given by the general assemuly. I do not believe that there is any sentiment in favor of a narrow pollcy in regard to appropriations for this department, but the people generally do want it administered in a business-like manner. It should never be necessary to make expenditures never be necessary to make expenditure illegally, even for a good purpose. I fee sure that the legislature will give legal authority for all necded expenditures mentioned Mr. Price's interview when the matter is been duly considered.

TEARS. By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

A tear is a drop of liquid wee spilling

Babies are composed of tears to the extent of about 96 per cent and shed them with the utmost industry. A baby can cry as easily as it can rain in Portland, Oregon. Babies cry because they are hot or cold or hungry or bored or sicepy or wakeful, or sad or angry or meditative. They also cry because their fathers are republicans because their fathers are republicans or because they are going to grow up and work sometime and because what is going down and for reasons which they have forgotter after babies grow up they change materially. If a baby is going to become a man it stops crying about the age of nine, unless it is going to become a minister or a criminal lawyer. If the baby becomes a woman it saves up its tears and applies them where they will do the most good.

This is a great lesson on the value of conservation. When a baby is shedding a gallon of tears every twenty-four hours nobody minds them much. But when a beautiful young woman saves up her tears and allows one of them to trickle down her nose at 11 p. m. after a heated discussion, the young man who caused said tears boists the white flag and begs her to use him for a boulevard.

Women's tears are more effective than babies' because they do not waste them. When a woman cries too much her mose becomes red and her complexion peels off in such a manner as to cause great indifference among the opposite sex. But when she smiles most of the time and only heaves in a tear at a critical noint in the arguin a tear at a critical point in the argu-ment it is more effective than a dynamite

"Cadet" Heater

We state positively and can prove it—the cheapest and most efficient water heater for any home is the "Cadet" Heater—set up ready for use, $1500. This heater is cast iron. and the firebox is literally lined with twenty-one (21) feet of three-quarter inch galvanized pipe in 7 coils, which comes in direct contact with the fire.

A hand full of-chips or a shovel of coal will give you a boiler full of Hot Water in less than ten minutes

We insist that the "Cadet" is the cheapest heater in the world at $1500 set up ready for use-true, you can get a makeshift for $1250, maybe, but compare them-the cheaper ones have about only two and one-half coils of pipe, or about seven feet, and weigh about half as much as the "Cadet."

A "Cadet" heater will last a lifetime. It is guaranteed by us and we are right here to make our guarantee absolutely good If you insist, any stove dealer will get and install you a "Cadet" Heater for $1500

It is an interesting coincidence that Miss Sallinger and Phil Branson, who take the "character" parts in the present de Koven production, sang in the same company with Mr. Pearson in San Francisco, before the days of "Robin Hood." Miss Sallinger, then known as the "celebrated Australian prima donno." was the leading woman, appearing in repertoire at the Tivoil theater, while Mr. Branson was the tenor and Mr. Pearson the bass in the same organization.

Deihl-Brady.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Delhi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Diehl, and Mr. Peter A. Brady was a beautiful event of yesterday morning, solemnized at nuptial mass.

The ceremony took place at 10 o'clock at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Music appropriate to the happy solemnity of the occasion was played, and ferns and flowers within the sanctuary were details of an impressive scene.

Yather Kennedy celebrated mass, and the attendants were Miss Mary Brady, maid of honor; Mr. Leonard Deihl, best man, and Messrs, James Campbell, James Sneed, Edward Vignaux, Gregory Murphy, usbers, and the attendants were Miss may bride gown of vive cloth, her hat in singles of blue, and her flowers were bride's roses. Miss Brady wore a wisturing crope gown and her hat was trimmed with velvet flowers. Her bouquet was of American Beautles.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady left immediately for a trip north.

Your Attic Furniture May Be Treasures

Have you ever read the story of Grandma's Attic Treasures?

The old furniture of grandmother's girlhood stood long years in disuse, covered with dust and cobwebs.

Buyers of antiques drove through the country and heard of the old homestead. They visited grandmother and asked to see the furniture stored in the garret. Grandmother said the pieces were of no value. But they looked over the lot and paid grandmother enough to lift the mortgage from the old home and give her and grandfather peace and quiet the remainder of their lives.

You may not have priceless antiques in your attic; but probably you have some extra pieces of furniture that are useless to you. They may be sturdy and of a style suitable to the needs of some other family.

The only trouble is to find the family that needs them and that trouble disappears with the use of a Constitution Want Ad.

Constitution Want Ads, sold at a fair price, will dispose of your old furniture for von. Telephone Main 5000 today. Ask for a Want Ad Taker, tell what you have for sale and an expert will write your ad.

EXCLUSIVE PICTURES ON WAY TO ATLANTA

After vast planning which began In the early summer the General Film company, who market the output of the Kalem, Biograph, Lubin, Essansy and other members of the regular Association of Licensed Manufacturers, have completed arrangements to show the the public within a fortnight their exclusive program which in its every offering will typify the last word in the manufacture of motion pictures; these playlets will always be a first presentation of their subjects in each city, supreme in their superiority as to the selection of the story, its manufacture and production; once having made their local appearance they will never be shown as a program in the city again.

never be shown as a program in the city again. The General Film company and the theater where they will be shown, are under severe contract that the observance of this arrangement be carried out without the slightest breach; reighted with that responsibility, and under strict instructions from the head office that these subjects shall not be permitted even a personal review before October 13th when country wide they will be exhibited simultaneously.

CONSERVATION MEET TO BE BIG SUCCESS

A great deal of Interest is being taken in the conservation congress which is to be held in Washington, D. C., November 18 to 20 of this year. State Entomologist E. Lee Worsham, who is chairman of the executive committee, has recently been in receipt of letters from all parts of the country from people who have indicated their willingness to be present.

President Wilson has signified his intention to be present and take part in the work of the convention unless other engagements prevent.

It is expected that the attendance this year will be larger than ever before in the history of the conference.

Program for Final Exhibit of Fashion Show at Allen's

The crowds of appreciative women who have filled this store for two days express the wishes of the women, and tell of the work of Fashion Advancement influenced by this house.

Today the program continues and takes up the further showing of Street Dresses, Suits, Motor Coats and Afternoon Wear.

Corset Demonstrations Wednesday Afternoon

We have changed our program somewhat, believing that the women of fashion value above many things the use of a fine Corset—the proper corset for every figure.

Aside from the perfect models who will wear the Corsets for demonstration, we will have for you a professional corset lecturer, who will tell many things you'll be glad to know and value to remember.

This demonstration will take place on second floor

SECOND EXTRA SESSION CALLED FOR TENNESSEE

Gov Hooper Is Resolved to Get Prohibition Law Enforcement Measure Through.

Ment Measure 1 arough.

Nashville Tenn, September 30—In, a proclamation issued today by Gotierior B W Hooper, the announcement is made that the legislature will be convened on October 13 in second extra session to consider the prohibition law enforcement bills killed by the filibuster in the house last week. The proclamation says

In the fight for the enforcement of the laws in this state I desire to appeal directly to the great massies of our citizenship for support land co-operation The developments of the last few weeks have demonstrated to m) mind that an overwheiming majority of the people, legardiess of political affiliations are determined to put an end to the open flagrant and disgrapeful nullification of the law in the cities of the state. Knowing the evisionic of this wholesome sentiment is express on throughout the length and breadth of Tennesses the length and breadth of tennesses of the state be enforced in the laws of the state be enforced in the laws of the state be enforced in the laws of the state be enforced in the law of the court of the court of the law in the court of the law in the court of the court of the state of the result in the legislature and the entire state. If therefore, appeal to the people of every county in the state to rise above the narrow contines of partisan limitation, to greenble at the county seats and elsewher, and to instruct, encourage and support both the governer and the general assembly in the restoration of the majesty of the law

$95,000 DIVIDENDS PAID WEDNESDAY BY SIX LAGRANGE MILLS

Lagrange Ga September 30—(Special)—Five of the Lagrange cotton mills paid this morning their semi-annual dividend which will amount in territor 388,987, and an additional $6,090 having just been paid by an affiliated cotton ware-house, makes the total $31,987. The concerns making payment of the dividends are as follows.

Durson mills $1000 Manchester mills, $2000 July 1000 Marchester mills, $2000 Marchester mil of tness will declare dividends a lit-tible later. This dividend coming just at the time when cotton is coming in and bringing a high price has put a jub-ilant spirit in the hearts of every citizen and business man. This is the second annual dividend of the mills this year the first hav-ing heen paid in April and of about the same amount.

RACE SEGREGATION WANTED IN MARYLAND

Baltimore with a resolution adoption accordance with a resolution adoption at a mass meeting last night of residents of Baltimore county to protest against the location in the suburb of Mount Washington of Morgan college, a negro institution the next system of the Mariland legislature will be asked to pass a race segregation law for the mettopolitan belt of Baltimore county identical in principal with the segregation ordinance of Baltimore cit.

According to the plan decided on, the county is to be divided into plats, corresponding to the plan decided on, the county is to be divided into plats, corresponding to the plan decided on segregation purposes and the same fulles of occupancy applied to them as an entire plat will be occupied by members of only one race.

The report of a committee appointed to confer with the trustees of Morgan college stated the trustees Margan college stated the trustees had been given to understand that the includents of Mount Washington and Vicinity were incorpsed at the threatened negro invasion and that no matter how praiseworthy the work of the college might be the agitation of the election of a site at worth Washington would anouse indignation and resentment.

RIGHT OF PRESIDENT

RIGHT OF PRESIDENT QUESTIONED BY COURT

Denver Colo September 39—The United States curvit court of appeals for the eighth district will ask the Linted States supreme dourt for a raing on the question of the right of a president of the United States to withdraw public lands from entry. SUMMERS BOUND OVER | Conductors Have Four More Days in Which to Win $100; Soon They Will Count Hours

The Conductors Contest Manager spent part of last night figuring out some of the chances which the Individual contestants had of winning out the first prize. He took a peep at the black file, of the paper and worked out same right; interesting dope about it same times at the contest. But when he tried to work out the probabilities according to past performances he found himself up paradisst a proposition which would stune a mathematical sharp. For instance
