Sorely Hampered by Lack of Funds, Say Commissioners Davison and Rainey-Suggest Remedy.

A long step forward was made yes terday in the construction of good roads in Georgia, when the prison commission decided to make a beginning in the direction of state supervision by the appointment of one road supervisor on January 1

It shall be the duty of this supervisor, who shall be a civil engineer with special knowledge of road work to assist and advise only such county authorities as expriess a desire for his

Intended Unly for Beginning.

All the commissioners are heartily acted as to the importance of state supervision of road work and as to the great good that may be achieved by experts to advise with the county commissioners in the construction of roads. The only thing that has stood in their way and made the prob-lem a difficult one has been the lack of funds with which to carry out the

and the demands for their services require three additional supervisors and road experts be employed?

Bound to Succeed.

That they have great faith in the success of the plan and of their ability to demonstrate its value to the people by the appointment of a single supervisor is shown in the following statement which was given out by the prison commission along with the

The prison commission, after carefully considering the question of employing road experts and engineers to advise and assist the various counties of the state in laying out, conatruction and maintenance of their roads and bridges, today adopted : resolution approving the policy and provided for one supersisor and engineer beginning January 1, next On account of the small number of counties heard from that have expressed a desire for the services of an expert, we decided that at first one supervisor would be all that would be required. But we believe as the counties receive the benefits to be derived from the expert advice and assistance of these officers, that others can and will be employed and their services utilized. We firmly believe that this makes a long step forward in the construction of good roads in Georgia"

Commission Unanimous.

Concurrently with the announcement that the state prison commission would, on January 1, place a road ex pert at the disposal of the various countles, Chairman R. E. Davison, and Commissioner E. L. Rainey make statement to The Constitution in which they officially outline their views re garding this extension of the commis sion's powers. Recently Judge T. E Patterson, in an interview with The Constitution, also a commissioner, committed himself to the broadening of the commission's scope to include su pervision of highway construction. Messrs Davison and Rainey inderse this principle unequivocally, take the position that the funds at 'heir disposal are now absolutely insufficient to place more than one man on road work, and show that since threefourths of the counties canvassed do not want such assistance, it is best to start the work now on a small scale and develop it as demand and resources permit. The commissioners submit statistics revealing sources of revenue and show that to retain four supervisors and withdraw inspectors would not only be wasted effort, but ould jeopardize the integrity of the Washington, October 10 .-- (Special.) Active efforts to establish state branches of the National Conservation branches of the National Conservation congress and make the next meeting, to be held in November in Washington, the bliggest in the history of the congress, are being undertaken.

There is already a state conservation society in Georgia, but the national officers want state branches of the national conservation organization to give fresh impetus to its work. Will H. Shippen, of Ellijay, has been named vice president for Georgia. E. Lee Worsham, state entomologist of Georgia, is one of the national officers and a leader in the conservation movement.

President Daley Says Board larger of Education Was Not Free of the Schools.

Mayor Woodward resumed his discussion of the statement of James L. Key, who criticised his (the mayor's) attitude on moral obligations.

"I notice that Jim Key says that he has no respect for me," he resumed. "I wonder if he thought I cared for his oninion.

wonder if he thought I cared for his opinion.

"The last time I had anything to say to him was in October, 1906, when I demonreed him in the council chamber as a common liar and blackguard. His statement in reference to my attitude on moral obligations again puts on him the brand I gave him in council. I could say a whole lot more about him, but I don't care to put myself on the same level with him."

City Attorney James L. Mayson entered into the discussion of the school question with a rather significant suggestion. He points out that the initiative referendum and recall amendment in the charter gives the voters the right to settle the school question for themselves. He shows that a petition signed by one-tenth of the registered voters can force council to submit to the people the questions of whether they want a $2,000,000 bond issue or an increase of che-fourth of I per cent in the tax rate.

"If a special tax for school purposes"

"If a special tax for school purposes was put in the city charter," City Attorney Mayson said, "it could be spent still might share in the general fund as they do now." as they do now. A special tax, as suggested by City Attorney Mayson, would mean about $428,000 on this year's revenue. The tax could be discontinued at the The tax could be discontinued at the end of five years.

In his most recent suggestion, President Daley takes the position that conditions can be temporarily relieved by transferring children from the crowded schools and putting them in schools where the conditions are not so bad.

A Constitution representative made a personal investigation of complaints the Archive and Emplish avenue dis-Ashby and English avenue dis

For some weeks The Constitution has published interviews and articles drawing attention to the lack of uniformity and co-ordination in road-building in Georgia, and citing road-building powers conferred by law on the commission specifies that it may, if it deems it advisable, retain not more than four supervisors, preferably civil engineers, who shall aid the various counties in the matter of choice of road material and construction methods. It had been suggested that the commission could employ these civil engineers in place of its inspection force, the work of the latter to be done by grand juries or by the commissioners themselves. It had also been suggested that from other sources the commission might be able to secure funds with which to finance the extension of its powers without interfering with its other work.

For the first time since the beginning of the agitation, Commissioners Davison and Rainey make a comprehensive statement covering their attitude in the matter. The statement follows: nensive statement covering their attitude in the matter. The statement follows:

"The suggestion that the commission place road supervisors, or road engineers, at the disposal of the counties meets with our hearty indorsement. We are in position to know that large sums of money are being wasted each year by the counties for lack of intelligent direction, whiefly in the matter of selection of soils and the proper methods of construction. If the commission were able to put on a full force of expert engineers and the counties would avail themselves of their services, there is no question that this waste would speedily be minimized. For the information of the people of Georgia the following statement is made of the department's annual expenses and its income:

"Up to 1911 the commission was allowed to spend for purposes of legitimate expense the revenues from the state farm and an appropriation. Since that time, the commission has been required, by law, to turn the revenue from the farm to the state treasury and maintain itself solely by direct legislative appropriation. Our appropriation now is $80,000 a year, though we made a strong effort at the latest session of the legislature to have it increased, since that amount is wholly insufficient to support the department in a proper manner, the number of inmates having more than doubled.

The Why of the Morning Newspaper

Advertising results from any newspaper, whether for a jewelry store or a second-hand shop; are dependable, aside from the merit of the advertising itself, on quantity of actual circulation as represented by copies which go into the home; the extent to which its subscribers are the substantial portion of all good classes of people; its attractiveness as a newspaper which controls the amount of time its readers devote to it regularly which in turn regulates the likelihood of the advertising being read; its standing and influence with its readers who instinctively give the advertising the same credence as to the news and editorial columns.

The hour of the day or night at which a newspaper is published is of less importance than these things, but whatever advantages there may be in that are in favor of one delivered in the morning.

¶It has from 2:30 o'clock at night, the approximate hour at which morning papers are printed, until 6 o'clock to reach the door-step of subscribers in advance of their rising.

With mail editions printed as early, in some cases, as with The Constitution for instance, as 10 o'clock at night, it has from five to ten hours in which to travel with night trains to outside points for breakfast-table reading. Afternoon papers can cover only a small area on the day of publication.

¶A morning newspaper reaches the family circle at the beginning of the day's activities; when the minds of all who read it are clear and fresh and responsive to impressions from the printed page whether news or advertising. Good salesmen make their most important calls in the morning before their prospects' minds are tired and their sensibilities dulled.

It is generally accepted, because nearly all men read a newspaper before going to work, that the morning newspaper is superior for advertising addressed to them.

(Deep more generally women, to whom the majority of advertising is addressed, whether their household work is done by servants or not, have more leisure for reading between the time the morning meat is over, the children off to school, the day's routine determined, and noon than at any other period of the day.

[Any fair investigation will substantiate this. Recently The Constitution tested the extent to which women read it and learned, as a part of the result, not only that 96 per cent of the women in the homes where the paper is delivered read it regularly, but of these, 73 per cent do so in the morning hours, 8 per cent in the afternoon and 21 per cent irregularly as to time. Of those who read it before noun, 27 per cent do so so boat? O'clock, 80 per cent after 9 o'clock.

[In the same investigation if was learned also that of those who receive an evening paper in addition to The Constitution; 81 per cent read the evening paper no more regularly or thoroughly.

[A morning newspaper, constructed after and not during the hurly-burly of the active business day, is complete, accurate, well edited and dependable. In that sense it is more conservative than its afternoon contemporaries. The advertising columns inevitably borrow some portion of the credence which those superiorities give it as a newspaper, and advertising results are correspondingly increased.

¶Contrary to a lingering belief, based upon conditions which have passed away, morning newspapers are at no disadvantage in relation to circulation among working people. The general acceptance of the eighthour day enables the wage-earner to work less hours, as a rule, than his employers. They now report for duty at 7:30 or 8 o'clock. They arise at 6 o'clock or earlier, with ample leisure to read the morning newspaper.

The afternoon paper sometimes bases its claims of superiority as an advertising medium upon the theory of the family circle around the library table with the evening paper passing in whole or in part from father to mother, from mother to daughter and son until it had been digested column by column by every member of the family.

The family circle in that sense is not the institution it used to be. More than ever before, especially in the cities, people are seeking entertainment and recreation after working hours. Recently an Atlanta newspaper made the plausible statement that ten per cent of the people were now engaged professionally in entertaining the other nine-tenths.

There are something like 5,000 automobiles on the city streets or country roads practically every night, each providing pleasure for from three to five persons.

It used to take from $1 to $2 to see a play with a choice of two or three theaters. Nowadays a nickel or a dime secures admission into one of a dozen moving-picture play-houses, where a thoroughly pleasing and for the most part wholesome entertainment may be had. They are all packed afternoon and night.

The streets of Atlanta are busy with people in the morning but in the afternoon and evening they can scarcely accommodate the crowds that throng them.

THREE DEADLY AXIOMS.

An axiom is a statement or a condition the truth of which is so self-evident as to permanently eliminate dispute from any source whatever.

The Constitution's exposure of the flagrantly inexcusable conditions existing in the Atlanta public schools, and subsequent developments has cleared the atmosphere so that these three axioms stand out proof against contradiction:

1. That the youngest children, mere babes, in one of the most prominent schools of the city, are crowded, 94 into one grade, 84 into another and 72 into another.

2. That while the city has abolished the individual drinking cup and substituted sanitary drinking fountains in the schools, it is forcing children to study in damp, dark basements, under the flare of gas, while the sunlight beats outside, and in close proximity to sewers that emit noxious

3. That while some schools are tragically overcrowded others teem with empty seats. This is due largely to faulty districting of school territory.

There may be quibbling or honest difference on other contentions. There is none whatever on these three deadly axioms. Council, or the board of education, has been sleeping while the two first conditions have grown out of the third; sleeping while little children were exposed to death and disease, the scholarship of the whole system to deterioration. The mayor, the council, the board are now awake. The women of the city are also awake. Through Mrs. C. J. Haden, president of the City Federation of Women's clubs, they have called a meeting of to investigate the situation. Candidly, we expect more results from these women than

A SPLENDID START.

With January 1, 1914, the state prison commission will inaugurate a new era of road-building by placing a road expert at the disposal of the several counties. That announcement is the most portentous since the placing of the convicts on the public roads. It means that the one other step needed to give Georgia the best highway system in the country has been taken, in the establishing of a centralizing force for co-ordinate road construction. This policy materializes a retorm tor which The Constitution has for years been contending. It bears out the contentions of State Senator G. M. Huie, of the thirty-fifth district, who was among the first to show that the commission might thus profitably extend its powers under the law.

The three commissioners, Captain R. E. Davison, chairman; E. L. Rainey and Judge T. E. Patterson, have taken advantage of a magnificent opportunity and laid the Georgia of today and tomorrow under obligation to them. In another column we carry the official statement of the commission, announcing its purpose and explaining its reasons. The commission agrees that since there is not at present an overwhelming vision, it would be extravagance to employ | down.

more than one supervisor. Chairman Davison and Commissioner Rainey, in an official interview, explain their attitude in full toward the question, and reveal how the board will be cramped by lack of funds in the future, when, as they expect, the counties will become educated into demanding the full quota of four experts allowed by law. Commissioner Patterson, in an interview with The Constitution, had already given his emphatic indorsement to the extension of the commission's power, expressing himself as in strong approval of the views of Senator Huie, also published by The Constitution. Whatever hesitation was manifest by any of the commissioners can be traced, largely, to the fear that the employment of road engineers might interfere with the inspecting feature of the department, rightly regarded as one of the most important of the commission's functions. Now that a satisfactory compromise has been effected, it is seen that the inspection department will not suffer, while the com-

The chief advantage is that state supervision is now to be actually inaugurated. In time The Constitution is confident that many counties will call for an expert capable of instructing them in the use of the proper material, the right methods and a general all-around policy. The logical sequence is that Georgia enters upon an epoch of co-ordinate and uniform building, as against the helter-skelter procedure that has been so expensive to the counties, and that has gotten them nowhere. With the force of road-builders at the disposal of each one of the counties, and the centralizing intluence and facilities now foreshadowed, the next five years should see this state the banner good roads commonwealth of the nation. The commission has put in one of the most constructive strokes for Georgia in the history of state boards.

KEEPING BOYS ON THE FARM. Governor Cox, of Ohio, recently told the Farmers' National congress, at Plano, Ill., that the emigration of boys from the farm to the city and the lack of community life in the rural district were two of the main causes back of the high cost of living and of poverty in the cities. It is evident that the high cost of living is worldwide, while the abandoning of the farm for the city is not, so that leaves this feature as only a contributing factor to the problem. But that it is a heavy contributing factor, there is no doubt, and it is also certain that the congestion of unskilled workers in cities has much to do with hard urban living conditions. Other speakers of the congress joined with Governor Cox in declaring that one of the great duties of the nation lay in building up sources of entertainment and diversion and education in the country approximating those which conspire to make attractive life in the cities. Lyceums, moving pictures, combination community and high school houses were offered as aids in that direction. Equally effectual would be the formation of rural community centers as in France, Germany, and other countries of the old world, where the homes are grouped near together in convenient reach of the larms. This arrangement tends to banish the isolation that is one of the inducements to leave the country, and substitutes a mutuality of social interest.

Governor Cox was right when he strongly condemned the tendency toward landlordism and made a plea for the breaking up of great farms and the lessening of tenancy. The evil of tenancy afflicts the entire nation. It is especially prevalent in the south, whether in the familiar form of the "cropper" or the straight-out tenant who rents year after year for a stipulated cash consideration. The man who does not own his farm is insecurely attached to the country. He is apt to be far less stable a citizen than if his property were his own, and he knew that every effort would redound directly to his own benefit.

The danger of the drift from country to city is no doubt exaggerated, since there their executive committee Monday morning is testimony from reliable sources that it is gradually being neutralized. But too much publicity cannot be given reasons why productive young Americans should stay on the farm. The superior independence of life, the assured support and the precarious means of livelihood in the cities, all urge toward co-operation to the end of persuading the boy to stay on the acres.

"Constitution Cares More For Tots Menaced Now Than Million Years Hence"

....Atlanta Journal of Labor.

"Atlanta's School System." (From The Atlanta Journal of Labor.) The Journal of Labor extends to the Atlanta Constitution the assurances of its distinguished consideration. The Constitution, with singular infelicity, has only a mild interest in what will happen to the human race a million years, or even a thousand Years, hence. It has the prosaic habit of dealing with the now, and finds enough work in contemporaneous conditions to engage

Right now, in startling disregard of what may happen to our great-great-grandchildren, it is concerned with the unhappy fate of our own children in the public schools of Atlanta, and is directing its heavy artillery upon conditions which constitute at once a disgrace and a menace to the Regent of the South.

It is all very strange. Here is a city teem school system is positively rotten.

Vainly has William M. Slaton, the superintendent of Atlanta's public schools, warned the authorities of the pressing needs of the school system. Vainly has he called attention to the dangers of existing conditions to the insufficiency of school accommodations; to the pressing need for better and more commodious buildings. And now, today, by reason of gross neglect and amazing disregard of the city council, a serious condition confronts those who have the welfare of Atlanta's schools and Atlanta's school

It is with pleasure that The Journal of Labor lines up with the "Oracle of the South," the Atlanta Constitution, in Its efforts to bring about an immediate change. Atlanta needs more and better school buildings; it needs more and better paid school teachers. And it will have these

MODERN BLESSINGS.

"It's a great age and a great country," remarked the obese boarder. "Today I bought a whole outfit, suit, shoes, shirt, hat and everything a man wears, in less than half an hour. When I was young it would have taken about three months to get such an equipment. The village tailor and the village shoemaker and the rest of the village artificers would have been kept busy that long on such a trousseau."

said the star boarder, "but let us not forget that the man who went through the ordeal of the village tailors and shoemakers in the brave old days was fit to appear on the streets when they were done with him. There is much to be sald in support of the present system of ready made goods, but he who holds that such a system is without disadvantages and drawbacks is a traitor to his flag, and should be shot at sunrise.

He is a newcomer in the town, and anxious to make a favorable upon the bulwarks of our local society, so when I intimated a desire to buy clothing on credit he seemed pleased rather than shocked. When I had gone a few rods a gentleman came up from behind, and clapped me on shoulder, and asked me how much I had given for my new sult. Although I resented the question, I replied, politely enough, that I had paid $40. Thereupon the gentleman assured me that I had got the worst of the deal, for the tag on the back of my coat published to the world the fact that the suit had been marked down from $10 to $8. Imagine my humiliation, my dear Mrs. Jiggers. Had those clothes been paid for, I'd have re turned straightway to the man who sold them, and wreaked a bloody vengeance upon him, but situated as I was, I could only stand and look like seven cents, while the gurgling gentleman used his penknife and cut the tag from my cost.

The World's Mysteries WHAT BECAME OF WILLIAM MORGAN?

In the early part of the last century occurred the mysterious disappearance of William Morgan, and no crime ever perpetrated in this country created a greater amount of excitement. Morgan was southern born and served during the war of 1812 and distinguished himself in the battle of New Or-leans under General Jackson. In August of 1821, when he was forty-six years old, he removed to York, Upper Canada, where he engaged in the brewery business, and later he removed to Batavia, N. Y. Five years later, in 1826, it was reported that he had decided upon issuing a book that would expose the secrets of the order of Freemasons, of which he had been a member, and shortly after this announcement he disappeared. This caused great excitement and committees of safety and vigilance were formed that traced him westward to he had been imprisoned.

was said that Morgan had been conveyed in a carriage from Batavia to Fort Niagara by Freemasons, and it was ward testified that he was drowned in Lake was later affirmed that he had been seen alive in Smyrna, in Asia, as well as in other places. A short time afterward it was thought that the mystery was cleared, when a body was produced, which was said to have beer found near the mouth of the Niagara river, but it was denied that it was Morgan's.

Thurlow Weed was present at the inquest when evidence, which he considered of Masonic manufacture, was given that the body was not that of Morgan. "What are you going to do for a Morgan now?" was asked of him by the lawyer employed by the Masons. "This man is a good enough Morgan," retorted Weed, "until you produce the man that was killed."

This remark was repeated to Henry O'Relliy and by him was distorted into the phrase. "He is a good enough Morgan until after the election," and in that form it was published by him in the Rochester

Prosecutions were instituted against every one whom investigation showed to have been in any way concerned in the abduction of Morgan, and after repeated trials some of them were convicted on minor charges, but no murder was ever judicially established, and the mystery as to what became of William Morgan was as dark as ever. It was supposed to be shown in the course of these trials that the Masonic oath disqualified Masons in certain of the higher degrees from serving as jurous in any case where a Mason of like degree was a party and his antagonist was not. The excitement deepened and resulted in the organization of an anti-Masonic party in western New York, which nominated a candidate for governor, Solomon Southwick, in 1828. In 1831 a National Anti-Masonic convention was held, wherein most of the free states were represented which nominated William Wirt,

The connection of Thurlow Weed with the Morgan mystery caused that politician and journalist years of pain as well as incalculable injury. He could not disprove it for those who invented the lie would sustain it. Speaking of it to a friend not long before his death, he said: "I suffered untold distress and was more or less under ban for twenty-five years. I was abhorred, by tens of thousands; old acquaintances avoided me; I was pointed out on the streets; strangers would look askance at me; I received threatening anonymous letters: I was made to realize everywhere and every hour that I was a branded man. Even my family was made to feel the disgrace as if I was a felon. It was cruel!"

SCARS.

By GEORCE MATTHEW ADAMS

There is one thing certain about the man who has Scars, and that is that he has gone through some sort of a conflict. He was Doing something. Scars never come to people who sit still. Most Scars result from Effort. Scars cost! Their price is paid in Courage, Sacrifice, Unselfishness, Suffering. But Scars silently testify to the value of Character as no number of material medals written words possibly could. Some bear Scars that no human being can see. Some carry around Scars that anyone could discern if they would. Who is it that can see the Scar left inside one's very Soul after a winning fight against some devastating Habit? Who is it that can measure the depth of the Scars interwoven about the lines and planes of a man's Face?

Boast not at all, but take Pride in every honorable Scar that your Body and Character carry. A great Lawyer, whose name is known by the masses of America, went to a Photographer for some pictures. He sat in his office with a friend as the finished pictures vere delivered to him. "Oh," he remarked on glancing at them, "see what they have done. They have taken all the Lines and Scars from my Face that it has taken me thirty years to put there!"

Face the Fight today. Scars may come before the Nightfall, but each will mark a milestone in your career of Worth.

A Question of Telepathy.

Do the natives of Africa know telepathy, provided there is such a thing? Sidney G. P. Coryn writes in The San Francisco Argonaut The mystifying rapidity with which native races obtain news of distant events has for long been a matter of discussion. For example, the British defeat by the Zulus at Isandula was well known to the Kaffirs of Cape Town hours before the receipt of the official telegraphic dispatch, and there are many instances of a like kind. Now we have another reminder of the same fact in the refusal of the British secretary for the colonies to inform parliament as to the whereabouts of the camel corps, which is engaged in operations against the mad mullah in the wilds of Somaliland. Any information that wilds of somalitation and the secretary, would be known by the mullah almost instantly. But by what means does the black man transmit his information more quickly than the white man can send it by telegraph is no longer superstitious to suggest telepathy, but is it possible that savages know more of this than we do? Is it possible that any one knows more about anything than we

Lament of Yasmini.

God made me in an idle hour, A chalice fit for wine alone.
O would that he had made a flower, A wandering planet, or a stone.

O would he had not pleasured him, Dallying, that day among the days, To mold the cup's curved perfect rim, That soon the red wine should upraise.

Alas, wan in the waning light, The wine that to his haze was given.

The cup was full of tears . . That night
God wept upon the throne of heaven.

ST. PETERSBURG. By GEORGE FITCH. Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

St. Petersburg, the capital of Russia, was built to order for Peter the Great, and forms the largest single job ever done for one

Peter the Great desired a new capital where the facilities for skating and bathing as well as warship building were greater, and for that reason he laid out St. Petersburg in 1702. It is situated a short distance under the eaves of the Arctic circle on the swampy shores of the River Neva, which wanders through the streets with impunity during the spring. St. Petersburg has a million and a half people, a vast number of whom are entirely satisfied with the government, being on the imperial payroll. It is built on both sides of the Neva, which is walled in with granite, but climbs the walls in flood time like a towns which are divided into two hostile parts, St. Petersburg has most of its public institutions on the islands in the river, thus

St. Petersburg has scores of great palaces, forts and arsenals, and is decorated shaped spires. It has wide streets filled kers. St. Petersburg is the world's greatest

St. Petersburg is one of the few cities in the world which has not been shot at Situated so far north that the firemen put out conflagrations by bombarding them with ice cakes, and an unfrozen water pipe is a novelty, hostile armies have always become discouraged before reaching it. However, the city does not lack for excitement. Lodge No. 1 of the United Order of Anarchists makes its headquarters in the city and conducts a general bomb-making business in a manner which has doubled ac

St. Petersburg has no skyscrapers except churches, and gets along with very few street cars and automobiles. It is proudest of its great street, the Nevski Prospect, which is four miles long and so wide that the pedestrian can travel for blocks without getting cornered by the regular army.

The Poet Laureate and the Lady.

. In its biography of the late poet laureate the Yorkshire Post recalls that it was at Rome that Mr. Austin met the wife of W. W. Story, the American sculptor. This lady was bent resolutely on his en tertainment; but she had quite forgotten what her husband had told her as to his what her husband had told his pursuits. In the course of conversation she tried him with theology, then with the drama. Finally she found inspiration in his name. "Pray," she said, "are you a son of Miss Austin, the novelist?"

The approaching completion of the Panama canal will mark one of the most important epochs in the history of the world. For centuries mariners have dreamed vaguely of the time when the Atlantic and the Pacific would be united by a great waterway. The horculean task seemed impossible of accomplishment after the failure of the French guided by the master hand of de Lesseps, until American ingenuity, energy and money took in hand the great problem.

American ingenuity, energy and money took in hand the great problem.

Now the Panama canal property may be termed the eighth wonder of the world. As an engineering feat it is without a peer. The pyramids of Egypt, which held the world in awe for 5.000 years, pale into insignificance beside this gigantic waterway. While the work on the canal was at its height, with 40,000 men and sores of mammoth steam shovels cutting through a mountain, more rock and dirt were handled every month than were required to build the great Cheops and two other of the largest pyramids. Fifty million tons of dynamite were exploded in the blasting of the great water trail from ocean to ocean.

Athens, Ga., October 10.—(Special.)—
Tonight, at her Milledge venue home, Mrs. M. Lipscomb gave a delightful little affair in the form of a musical in onor of her eldest granddaughter, Miss Adgate Ellis, of Atlanta.

Only the immediate family and connections, and a very few of the old friends of Miss Ellis mother, who was Miss Blanche Lipscomb, were invited to hear Miss Ellis sing. She has recently returned from New York, where she received extraordinary training for an unusually beautiful volce.

The desire on the part of her mother's friends to hear her prompted the charming little affair of this evening.

A little too much work soon weakens a woman, physically and nervously. What she needs, then, is a tonic. A tonic takes the place of a rest, as it helps the system to "catch up"—to pick up the dropped stitches and start again into the daily work, in good health and good spirits. The best tonic for you to take is CARDUI, the woman's tonic. Many years of success have proven its real merit, in all cases of female weakness. Cardui contains no dangerous, poisonous, minerals; no habit-forming drugs; no harmful ingredients of any kind. It is simply a mild, vegetable extract, of medicinal, tonic herbs, with great efficacy in the treatment of the ailments and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex. Please try Cardui. It cannot hurt you. It is sure to do you good. If may be the very thing your system most needs.

"A PERFECT WRECK"

I was a perfect wreck from female trouble. I had pains in my right side, and suffered from fainting spells and dizziness; then I would have numb, cold feelings. Sometimes my feet were swollen, so ! could not walk a step. I had so much backache and was so nervous and weak. My appetite was irregular, and my kidneys troubled me at times.

After 20 years of suffering, a friend advised me to give CARDUI a trial. I did so, and found great relief, after taking the first bottle. I continued to take it until I was completely cured. Now I am a well woman and do almost all my housework.

HOKE SMITH'S REMARKS EUGENIC MARRIAGES BEFORE EPISCOPALIANS VARIOUSLY INTERPRETED

Plan to Let Currency Bill Go Resolution Submitted Suggesting That Marriage After Over to Regular Session | Divorce Be Forbidden Hinted At.

> New York, Oct. 10 - Marriage and di-New York, Oct. 10—Marriage and divorce again came to the fore today at the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church At a session of the house of deputies the diocese of Los Angeles submitted a resolution suggesting that marriage after divorce be forbidden.

divorce be forbidden

The diocese of Michigan offered a resolution which would forbid Lipiscopal clergymen uniting in marriage any couple which had not first obtained a physicians certificate that they were morned mortally and not afflicted "normal mentally and not afflicted with a disease rendering marriage inadvisable '

The joint meeting of the two governing bodies of the church received the triennial report of the board of missions, which showed that during the last three last three takes the second nipseed was formerly Miss Mary ending August 31, amounted to $1 333,Patrick, of Atlanta

The board reported it was not ready mext triennial convention and that meanwhile a deputation be sent to study the situation in Central America.

At the afternoon joint session of the two houses the four bishops who talked were limited to fifteen minutes each One of them, Bishop Nelson told of the church's work among the mountain and mill people of the south.

The house of bishops held an executive session during the day and it was afterwards announced that the house had under consideration a radical departure from the full which folbids others than bishops 10 housement at these meetings. This iclistive assembly his met 129 years but never otherwise than in executive session. On Monday the bishops will decide whether to adopt a poncy of publicity. Dr. Alexander Mann pastor of Trinity church of Boston the low church bishop who was elected president of the house of deputes to ednesdity gave out a statement today relating to his policy of giving practically equal representation of high and low church to the standing committees he appointed wished to be a fur and just policy, he declared he had recognized nother high not low church for preference adding. It is to the glory of the church and makes to its catholic that there is soom fo high low and broad stipe of church maship. It we are to recognize one to the exclusion of the others we become no longer a Catholic church but decentic into a mere sett. ### GOV. SULZER'S FATE TRIED TO ASSASSINATE YUAN AT INAUGURATION IN HANDS OF JURY

High Court of Impeachment Adjourns Until Monday, When It Will Take Up Defendant's Objections.

Albany, N Y, October 10 - Governor William Sulzers fate tonight rests vith his judges

The final arguments of counsel for and against him were delivered today before the high court of impeachment Immediately thereafter the court adjourned until next Monday afternoon at 230 oclock Upon reconvening the court will decide upon its plan of balloting, whether it shall be done in open or executive session, and then take up the constitutional objections to the imthree years more than $6,000,000 peachment charges that have been last three years more than $6,000 000 raised by counsel for the governor. I had been raised for missions Gifts had been raised for missions or than for mission work increased more than the judges hold adversely in whole or in part to the contentions of Sulzers counsel a vote on his guilt or innovention. Appropriations for the year ending August 31, amounted to $1,333, end will be whether he decided will be whether he should be removed from office Should this be decided affirmatively, the judges then will vote on whether additional punishment, disqualification from ever holding public office in this state again shall be mixed out to him A decision of his fitness to continue in office will be reached Monday night, it is generally believed But there doubtless will be much discussion among the judges and many votes preceded by lengthy explanations. So it would not be surprising if the court should continue in session until some time Tuesday Demand for Open Session. Popular demand is for an open session of the court

No record has been kept of the proceedings of the few executive sessions which have been held and this has aroused much cuticism

The decision to adjourn until Mon-day was not reached without objec-tion Judge Werner, however, called attention to the dinger of the court remaining in session and subjecting itself to the criticism of railroading a case and pleaded for an adjournment until then.

As a compromise it was agreed to extend the usual Friday session an hour and a half and permit Attorney Edwird T Brackett, who was waiting to sum up for the board of managers,

Edwind T Brackett, who was waiting to sum up for the board of managers, to deliver his addiess

No more bitter criticism has been made of the governor and no kinder words have been said in his behalf than were heard in the courtroom today Judge Atton B Parker, a deliberate constitutional lawver who for hours had rigued the legal aspects on the day previous, suddenly switched his tactics today and showered the governor with a fire of invective and accusation of criminal wrongdoing. The governor, he said, had sought to hide himself behind his wife's skirts.

To Jidge D Cady Herrick, chief of the governors counsel, fell the task of saying the final word for the accused executive. His remarks stood out in stringe contrast to the vitiolic attack of Judge Parker. The governor was pictured by Herrick as an Fonest but eccentric man to whom even the thought of committing a clime was a thing apart. The attorney did not seek to excuse the governor's method of obtaining campaign funds, and admitted that Sulzer had low ethical standards but argued that no criminal intent 1 ad been shown, and, therefore, the charges had not been sustained.

But it remained for Attorney Brackett, who preaches occasionally, in clossing the case for the board of managers to bring down on the kead of the governor the most severe castigation of the entire trial. The climax of his address was reached when he declared that former Senator Stilwell, now an limate of Sing Sing prison, who, while he was on trial was advised by Governor Sulzer to resign and confess might have learned crime from Sulzer.

Eracketts address was filled with biblical reference and taking for his cue a comparison, made a few days ago by senator Hinman between Governor Sulzer and Saul of Tarsus, he said to Gamaliel that he was the same old Saul and can t you make it more than $7,000'

Can you imagine Paul telephoning to Gamallel that he 'was the same old

By this he referred to a conversation Governor Sulzer had with Allan
R. Ryan a son of Thomas F. Ryan, a New York inancier, in which it was testified Sulzer said "Tell your father i am the same old Bill"
The remark evoked smiles, and it was noted that Presiding Judge Cullen placed his hand over his mouth as if to conceal his amusement Brackett thundered on

Games 3-1 in Mack's Favor; Giants Rally Desperately In Seventh and Eighth

was battering down the last defense of Merkic's Mighty Clout. Fred Merkie's Mighty Clout.

Fred Merkie, whose injured ankle still caused him to limp perceptibly, was the player who was directly responsible for the breaking through the coat of whitewash that Bender on the outside conter of the plate and lifted it far out into left center, whose neither Oldring nor Strunk could quite reach it. The sphere hit the green turf of the Shibe Park, and with a mighty bound hopped the fence into the bleachers, and Merkle trotted home after his two team mates with the third home run of the series, thus foining Baker and Schang in the realm of baseball immortals.

Spurred on by Merkle's example. Herzog, who had not made a hit in the series to date, onened the eighth with a single, only to be forced by Doyle, who was similarly eliminated by Fletcher. Eurns came through with a double down the third base line, scoring Fletcher, and Shafer shot a triple past McInnis' post, tallying Burns.

riple past Meinnis' post, tallying furns.

Murray smashed a scorching drive at Collins, but the Columbia alumnus anaged to hold the ball until he ould steady and throw the runner ut at first for the third out. Although McGraw sent in two pinchitters to bat in the ninth, the Giants ould not get over the run that would le the score. Bender was now fully ware of the danger that beset him nd his team mates and pitched a ali that fairly whistled as it flashed nd broke across the plate. It was the narrowest kind of an scape, and but for the equally heavy litting of the Athlettes in the foreart of the game and some brilliant isplays of defensive tactics the jants would now be on even terms ith the Philadelphia standard-bears in instead of tralling two games in the rear of the American league leads.

Giants Encouraged.

The vally, lowever, had encouraged the men of McGraw to believe they may yet overtake the flying Athletkes. The probabilities are much against such a feat, but the Giants are preparing for a last stand at the Polo Grounds tomorrow, and daclare that if they can once get going they will yet win the series. All the circumstances point in the opposite direction, however, for the Mackmen, with a record of three victories out of four games are now well versed in the ability and resources of the Giants. the Giants.

Oldring, who has made a safet before. Oldring, who has made a safet before the honor of the longest hit made by the Athletics to-day when he tripled in the opening inning on the first ball that Demarce served up.

It was not alone by batting that the Athletics won, for both threir fielding and Bender's elever pitching were factors that helped to bring victory. The Indan twirler was at the top of his form except in the seventh and eighth innings, being steady and having absolute control of his breaks and ourves. He gave but one base on balls, and hit one batter. The Giants garnered but two hits off his delivery until the seventh, and their total was a sort of retallation.

The Game in Detail.

Snodgrass limped lightly as he walked to the plate to open the game. The died to the plate to open the game liender, who had warmed up well, low no time in getting into action and served up a strike which Snodgrass let go by. The New York center fielder tried to connect with the next pitch, and Bender had two strikes on him. Then Snodgrass raised a high feel which Baker gathered in without effort. Captain Larry Doyle was given a hand by his New York friends as he came to bat, and sent up a long, high fly to Strunk. Fletcher ended the ining by grounding to Barry, who threw him out at first.

Devaree, in spite of the fact that he was starting in to pitch an important game in a world's series, did not also near nervous. His first offering to lead the Murphy, a hard man to pitch in was a strike that out the plate in the middle. He was cheered by the big New York contingent. Murphy lifted the next pitch to deep right center, and was out when Snodgrass made a fine catch, despite his limp. Reaben oldring, who has hit safely the first time up in all the present world's series games, cut loose again and sont a terrific drive down the right field foul into for three bases.

It looked hise a sure ron for the Athletics with their heavy artillery coming up and the New York infield gathered about the Youthful pitcher and encouraged him. Eddie Collins' the second pitch, the second-sacker chopped a grounder down to Merkle, who scooped up the barl and made a lighting throw to McLeane to catch the flying Oldring. The piny at the plate was close, and Umpire Egan called Oldring out, at which he latter fired up and protested vigorously. The Game in Detail.

Collins' Daring Play.

Then came a daring play which upset the New York infield for a majore the New York infield for a majore the New York infield for a majore ment. While Demaree was wavehing McLean signaling for the next ball. Collins made a dash for second base. The young pitcher, instead of throwing to second, shot the ball to Merkle who made a quick throw to the middle bag, but Collins easily slid into the base for a steal. Collins was left stranded at second, however, as failt raised a high full fly to Shafer. Demaree was given a vigorous hand clapping by the Giants' supporter.

Burns opened the second inning for the National lenguers by flying out to Murphy. Stutter fell a victim to Murphy. Stutter fell a victim to Murphy. Shutter reached first base when sender his him on the arm. Larry McLean bit a slashing single to right, or which Murray sprinted to third. Merkle saddened the New York rooters by sending up a sligh foul, which McInnis caught at the New York players bench, retiring the side.

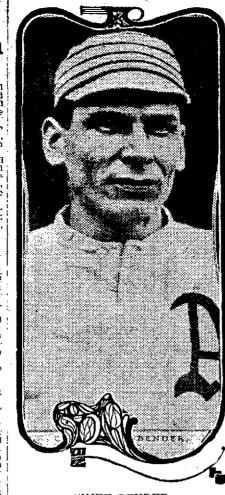

In Philadelphia's half of the second, Snodgrass, on account of his "charley horse," could not reach McInnis Texas leaguer, and the runner was safe at first. Strunk sacrificed, Lemaree to Merkle, advancing McInnis to second. ### TECH SCRUBS PLAY G. M. A. TEAM TODAY

Atlanta football fans will find splendid sport in store for them at Grant field this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the Tech scrubs line up against the Georgia Military academy eleven, the Tech varsity being in Chattanooga.

An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

DAHLONEGA WILL FORCE "GEORGIA" TO THEIR LIMIT

Athens, Ga., October 10.—(Special.)—
Tomorrow's game on Sanford Field between the Georgia eleven and the mountaineer eleven from the North Georgia "Ag" at Dahlonega promises to be more than a mere scrimmage. The bunch which Woodruff has coached into trim shape will weigh more than 160 all around stripped—registering from 165 to 198 in regulation togs.

This same N. G. A. C. team went over to Clarkesville and walloped the Ninth District Agricultural school to the tune of 59 to 0. They ought to be a good bunch if weight and speed combined count for anything. The game is to be a fine exhibition of what the Red and Black team—with a good many subsused during the progress of the conflict, probably—can do with a heavy-weight team.

LOCAL PREP LEAGUE FOOTBALL SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

Local Prep league will open football season today when the High team meets the Donald The game will start promptly at 3:30, on Boys' High field at Pledmont Park, which the city has built for them. An admission price of 25 cents, and Frofessor Dykes, of Boys' High has promised the use of the entire faculty, for selling tickets.

It is not known who High School The game will or Donald Fraser will use in their line-up as yet, as the material at the schools is so good, that the coarb can not decide who to use.

Injuries have hurt the chances or Boys' High a good deal this year. To begin with "Punch" Arnold, before practice had been going on for a week, had his shoulder displaced, and was retired for the year. Now comes the injury to Manager LeConte. While practicing the other day, Coach Wood endeavoring to show him the correct way to break interference, in some way hurt LeConte's knee. When the injured member was examined later, the inning off Marquard, who replaced Demarce. Wilson went in to catch. Eaker, the first man up, struck out, and McInnis grounded out, Marquard to Merkle. Strunk got a base on balls and reached third on Barry's second two-bagger to left field. The two runners were then brought home by Schang, who hit to center for a single. Bender struck out.

OUT OF SERIES

Edward Ray and Harry. Vardon, the wenderful British cracks, will appear in Atlanta today on the East Lake course of the Atlanta Athletic club, playing 18 holes in the morning and 18 in the afternoon.

The morning round will start at 16:20 o'clock and the afternoon round at 2:30. The famous English golfers arrived in Atlanta last night, according to reports.

Stewart Maiden, the professional of the local club, and Willie Mann, the professional of the Druid Hills course, which is nearing completion, will be the opponents of the British cracks.

Interest is divided among the golfers in whether Mann and Maiden can hold them and what scores the four stars will make. Several bets as to scores, distances of drives on different holes, comparison of medal and match play cards and, in fact, all kinds of combinations have been worked.

Principal interest centers in the comparison of the famous visitors' scores with the course record, which is 69, held by Maiden and Barker jointly. Sunday the visitors will play at the Capital City Country club at Brook, haven. Mr. McKenzie, the club's professional, and H. H. Barker, who is assisting in the laying out of the second nine at Brookhaven, will be their opponents.

At Brookhaven two rounds of the morning and in the afternoon.

McGraw Charged With Friday Loss By Sport Scribe

By IRWIN M. HOWE.

(Official Statistician American League.)
New York, October 10.—(Special.)— Charge today's defeat of the Giants to Manager McGraw, and credit victory in about equal parts to Bender, Barry and Wally Schang. New York's chances of ultimate triumph are very faint tonight, though we always remember that nothing is more uncertain than baseball.

outcome, or small ones, either, we would have to have nearly par for our Athletic stock.

Rube Oldring pulled a great play in the fifth when he made a diving catch of a line drive off McCormick. There was a man on at the time. Jack Barry was high gun with the war club, making two slashing doubles and a single, all of which figured in the scoring. Schang showed that he was there in a pinch by whaling out a drive in the joint by whaling out a drive in the offth off Marquard after Rube had passed Strunk, and Barry had doubled which counted the winning run.

Shawkey is the probable choice for tomorrow, and his chance to duplicate Bush's feat is excellent.

Demaree showed well today in spitt of the seven hits and four runs. His support was so atterly disheartening that his defeat was foredoomed.

Attendance and Receipts Show Sharp, Falling Off Over Fourth Game in 1912

By Dick Jemison.

The world's series players will not split as much this year as the Red Sox and the Giants divided at the end of the world's series of 1912.

There are twenty-four Giants and twenty-five Athletics to share in a division of 60 per cent of the gate receipts for the first four games of the series, which were wound up yesterday.

The attendance at yesterday's game was 20,568, agrinst 36,502 paid admissions at the rourth game of the series between the Giants and the Red Sox between the Giants and the Red SOX last season.

The receipts of yesterday's game totaled $49,465, against $76,644 last year. For the four games played, 114,310 persons have paid $250,303.50 to attend the games. Last year 137,004 persons paid $270,282 to see the first four There have been 22,694 less fans and $19,978.50 less money at the gate in the games this year than last.

TICKET SELLER HELD UNDER $500 BAIL

New York, October 10.—Richard J. Donovan, a ticket seller at the Polo grounds, was held in $500 bail for trial today after his arraignment on a charge of disposing of a hundred unreserved world's series tickets to a speculator. Technically he is charged with violating the state anti-tipping law in that it is alleged that he received a $100 bonus.

Harry Hempstead, president of the New York National League Baseball club, appeared as complainant.

"I think that in the person of Donovan," he said, "we have found the leak by which tickets of admission to the world's series games got into the hands of speculators."

"You shall have power."

---Acis 1:8.

Your committee reports— Atlanta had a district. Men called it "segregated." In it girls were bought. Women were sold. And liquor.

While scattered over the city in hotels and houses vice laughed at

For segregation only advertised.

In the favored spot landlords were getting rich a year ago.

Then you protested. In Christ's name you pleaded—

The district closed.

ATLANTA CEASED PROTECTING CRIMINALS. Homes for their victims were opened; a refuge for the fallen was founded; scores were helped. Fulton County provided a home for the incorrigible.

Georgia has established a school for wayward and delinquent girls. And city after city, town after town has followed Atlanta in driving out protected vice.

You came to our prisons.

Young men and boys were there in stripes and chains for lack of money to pay paltry fines for petty misdemeanors. Hardened criminals were their companions. Our State was—our State is, manufacturing criminals. You asked it—and our Legislature wrote Probation into the laws of Georgia. Today a judge who will can save a first offender. Convicts, you found, clothed in stripes without regard to conduct. At your request the Prison Commission ordered this stopped in Georgia, leaving only eight states which thus degrade their prisoners. Today the convict can rid himself of the degrading stripes by proving worthy. You give him hope. This summer you opened day schools in your buildings for children.

Daily Vacation Bible Schools, they were called. Fifty-seven teachers

And day after day twenty-five hundred and eighty-two children came without money to be taught.

You gathered these before they became wayward, incorrigible or fit for probation or the jail.

But over all was a shadow. Again and again in fighting vice, helping prisoners, teaching children, you came upon the trail of that monstrous evil, the liquor traffic. "IT SENDS THE INDIVIDUAL TO THE GUTTER, RUINS THE HOME, CORRUPTS POLITICS, AND IN SOME RESPECTS IS THE MOST POWERFUL FOE OF THE CHURCH OF CHRIST." 'Above the cradle of every baby in America hovers the vulture, the saloon."

And yet, complacent ones urge that you be recreant to your duty. "Preach only the gospel," they say, forgetting that the good news which brought our Lord and Saviour to the cross, is the very light which makes it impossible for you to be silent in sight of the sin and shame and suffering caused by the liquor trade. You must cry out.

If silent you would share the guilt. For in the pocket of every citizen of a community that licenses these curses, is a part of the price of the tears and blood of women and children.

God's light will lift this shadow.

Across the ages, He calls: "Go forward."

COTTON RALLIES LACKED SUPPORT

Market Closed Barely Steady July 112 at Net Loss After Slight Rallies During the Session. Spot Cotton Closed Quiet. v. s.

New York, October 16.—The cotton market was less active today and fluctuations were irregular enough to suggest that trading was chiefly in the way of evening up commitments for over the approaching holidays. After a break of nearly a cent a pound a good part of today's buying was supposed to be profit taking by recent sellers Some bull support was also encouraged by reports of a better demand from southern spinners, apprehensions of unfavorable weather in the southwest and rather a bullish view of the week-end figures, but rallies were not maintained and the close was harely steady, net unchanged to 3 points lower, under renewed liquidation or local pressure and unfavorable labor reports from Manchester.

Indifferent inverpool cables and favorable weather reports from the castern belt caused a renewal of yesterday's selling movement during the cally trading and after opening at a decline of 2 to 5 points active months sold about 6 to 10 points net lower. October and December contracts madenew low ground for the movement but a fair demand developed around 1.99 for January and the market steaded up during the middle of the morning.

neces and the second part of the liquidating loans and shorts were not as willing as they have been of late to increase their lines.

Around the middle of the morning, the reports from Texas and also the report that mills were heavy buyers of hedges in the contract market against their requirements in the way of actual cotton, brought in many outside buying ordérs. Later, the very large mill takings for the week still further increased further buying and the market gradually worked upward until it stood at an advance of 14 to 16 points, over yesterday's close.

In the afternoon, buyers of the morning turned sellers to realize and the advance was lost, the market closing I to 3 points under yesterday's close.

Mill takings for the week excited much discussion. They were put by Hester at 503.-600 bales, against 198,000 this week last year, and 239,000 this week two years ago. New York, October 10.—Europe was again disappointing and we soid down some ten points to encounter a demand from spinners, which turned the market upward some twenty points. Then a report that Manchester would institute a lockout on some question of some mill discipline on October 24 caused the market to sell off, closing slightly lower on January than last night. Unsettled weather is again reported from Texas and Oklahoma, with rains, while the Atiantic enjoys favorable weather after the storm. The feeling in the market is bearish, on the idea that spinners will only buy from hand-to-mouth and that speculation will not enter the market at this level.

New York, October 10.—There was selling pressure here today and as spinning interests bought freely below 13 cents for January shorts covered when it became apparent that liquidation had run its course for the present. While a further advance is expected, in view of the improved technical condition of the market, sentiment generally inclines to the feeling that the south will market freely at these prices and thus increase the supply of contracts here through hedge sales. Movement of Cotton. New York, October 10.—The following statistics on the movement of cotton for the week ending today were compiled by the New York exchange:

Good to choice heifers, 750 to 850 pounds, $3.75 to $4.50.

Liberal run of plain cattle in yards, botter grades continue scarce and in good demand. The market generally had ranged about steady with continued wide range in prices for the reason of the general mixture of the bulk of receipts and the disposition of buyers to want a better class of beet cattle than are coming.

Hogs are not coming freely; none from Georgia points and Tennessee shippers report hogs scarce and for the reason of a short corn crop the supply will be short throughout the session.

London Stock Market.

London, October 19.—Money was in good demand today. Discount rates were firmer on the uncertain money market.

The stock market developed a better tendency during the forenoen on bear covering and some fresh buying, consols leading the recovery with a rise of an eighth, but fears of restricted carry-over facilities at the settlement tomorrow started further selling and with Paris liquidating, the improvement disappeared and the market finished weak. Consols were down a sixteenth on the day.

American securities were quiet and steady during the early trading. Light covering advanced most of the list. In the afternoon New York unloaded United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific freely and values declined, and closed flat.

Break in London Copper Markets Main Factor in Decline—Steel Made a Good Showing-Bonds Dull.

New York, October 10.—Bear traders singled out a new target for their attack today. In place of Steel or Union Pacific, on which selling has been concentrated during the recent decline. Amalgamated was the conspicuously weak stock among the leaders. Fluctuations again were uncertain, but the movement as a whole was downward. After a slump in the morning which depressed leading stocks I to 2 points, the list picked up on short covering, but the advance marked no genuine accession of strength and another decline came before the close.

In connection with the weakness of Amalgamated, the break in the London copper metal market and reports of further price shading here were referred to. American Telephone securities resumed their decline and the stock fell 2 points to 122 1-8, a new low record since 1908.

Steel made the best showing of any of the leaders, remaining above yested unfavorably by the monthly report of unfilled tonnage, although a further falling off, was revealed. It was the ninth successive decline in unfilled ornages. Although the unfilled tonnage on the Corporation's books has declined nearly 3,000,000 tons since the beginning of the year, the company still has on hand orders sufficient to keep it working at a high capacity rate until well into the first quarter of 1914.

Owing largely to heavy payments by the banks to the subtreasury for customs duties, in connection with the release of goods held in bond, until the new tariff law became operative, it is probable that another loss in cash will be shown on the week. Forecasts of the bank statement pointed to a shrinkage of $6,000,000 to $4,000,000.

Liquidation of speculative bonks imparted an easier tone to the shood market. Total sales, par value, $1,270,000. United States threes coupon advanced 1-4, and the registered fours 1-8 on call.

DOCTORS OF LONDON RAIDED BY MILITANTS

London. October 10.—The doctors of London have been made the first victim of the vengeance of the militant suffragettes, whose anger has been aroused by the decision of the home secretary to resume forcible feeding of hunger strikers.

A band of women today raided Harley street, in the west end of London, a district almost entirely occupied by offices of medical specialists, and smashed windows right and left all along the street.

The secretary of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant organization, says today's attack on this medical center is merely a commencement of the women's protest against the revival of the torture of forcible feeding.
