Thinks $10,000 Building Is the Best Solution to the Present Crowded Condition in That District.

MAY URGE THIS ACTION WHEN BOARD MEETS

Mayor and Alderman Van Dyke Take Exception to Recent Statements Attributed to Them.

A new building costing approximate ly $10,000, to be erected on the same site of the English avenue school, in the fifth ward, will relieve the crowded conditions in that district, according to Mayor James G Woodward.

Following his inspection of that building, Mayor Woodward declared that an annex to accommodate at least four grades will be a solution. He did not state whether or not he would urge the new building when the school board meets next, but his discussion of the condition of the school indicated plainly that he was in favor of such an Improvement.

"I found that the lower grades of the school are and have been crowded for some time," he said. "This is due to a peculiar condition of the district. Out there the children who attend the school come largely from the mill districts. They attend school until they reach the fourth grade, and then quit to go to work for their parents. I don't figure it will be difficult to take care of the children for the next four or Deny Published Statements.

Mayor Woodward took exception to some of the published statements at-tributed to him bearing on the subject of conditions at the English avenue school. He said that the old annex was turned over to the city by the county when the district was taken in by the city. He criticised only the location of the open closets near the front of the building.

Alderman Arhur Van Dyke, chairman of he school committee of coun-cil, denied Thursday that it is his intention to offer a resolution in council asking for the appointment of a committee to make a probe of school con-

"My term of office expires on the first of January, and I will not be able to give much attention after that to the school subject," he said. "I think the only solution of the problem now is for the city to authorize a bond istue. There is no need for a lengthy investigation. The condition of the schools is deplorable, and the sconer the city takes up the question the bet-ter it will be."

Other members of council who are reported to have resolutions asking for a probe, say that they will not take the initiative.

Regardless of what council does, the Federation of Women's Clubs is taking an active interest in The Constitution's expose of school conditions.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the federation, stated Thursday that she is organizing the lookout commit-tee which will represent the federation in the campaign for better school facilities. Mrs. Haden said that the ladies of the committee will work in harmony with the lady board of visit-This board is the only body recognized by the city as official.

Fined.

Lieutenant W. H. Cheshire and R. B. Haynie, members of Fulton county's motorcycle squad, who have brought many a man to the bar of justice, had the tables turned on them yesterday in the bustling little city of Roswell, which is in Cobb county.

The officers were in the far end of Fulton county when something went wrong with one of the machines. Ros-well was nearer than Atlanta or even Buckhead, and unsuspectingly they motored into that city. They will never do so again.

There's lots of cotton in Cobb county, and the officers, finding their way blocked by cotton wagons, rolled into a path and approached a blacksmith shop to make inquiries. The blacksmith halted them in the name of Cobb county and carried them aghast into his shop.
A minute later Mayor C. C. Autwell brought his mighty siedge hammer down upon his anvil and announced: "Court will come to order!"

Blacksmith Was Lord Mayor. The officers had hardly realized that the smithic who seized them was deputy marshal of the upper ward, as that section of the progressive city is known in local parlance, and that the other man in the shop was the lord Explanations were of no avail. The two men had been seen riding on Roswell sidewalks and so, perforce, they must be fined. According to the officers, the particular spot looked more like a garden of weeds than a side-walk, but that did not ald them any.

"One dollar and costs each," announced the mayor, and again the mighty anvil resounded to the hammer as "Court is adjourned!" was announced. "Costs" More Than Fine.

In Roswell "costs" amount to $1.30, to the costs were more than the fine. Lieutenant Cheshire took a receipt for the fines. Then Lieutenant Cheshire and Mounted Policeman Haynle took something else. It was the shortest road to the county line. It is said they broke a few speed records on their way to Fulton, but there were no Cobb OVER POKER GAME county marshal or blacksmiths near, and that ought not to be told on them, for both have done a lot to break up speeding in Fulton.

President Indicates That He Is Irrevocably Determined to Deal No Longer With the Mexican Dictator.

STEPS TOWARD PEACE ARE BEING CONSIDERED

Believed Belligerency of Huerta's Enemies Will Be Recognized—Show of Force Likely if the Situation Gets Worse.

Washington, October 16.-President

Wilson indicated today to those who discussed the Mexican situation with him that he was irrevocably determined to deal no longer with the Huerta regime, but that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico were being considered No move is expected, however, until after October 26, Just what the Washington government will do is yet a matter of specula-tion among high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is unmistakably toward conducting negotiations in some form or another with the constitutionalists. The policy of the United States has been to make complete the record of having attempted to handle the prob-lem by peaceful means. Up to the present parleys have been carried on with the Huerta authorities, who have re-lected the good offices of the United States Strong pressure now is being brought to bear upon the president and Secretary Bryan to give the constitu-tionalists an opportunity to compose the situation through the support o this country.

That President Wilson believes the Mexico City administration is incapable of restoring constitutional authority is evident, and there is a well-founded understanding that the Washington government would adopt a very drastic poilcy immediately but for the fear that it would interfere with the democratio program of currency and other important legislative reform.

Those who know President Wilson's attitude best say he realizes the value of a show of force in the situation, but is unwilling to consent to any demon-stration except with the intention of backing it up with actual use of force with the tangle through peaceful measures, however, have by no means been that he threatened to use his office and exhausted, and the likelihood is that before any miltary or naval demonstrations are seriously considered, support may be thrown toward the constitutionalists with the view of sweeping the Huerta regime from power.

French Warship to Mexico. Paris, October 16.—The French foreign office here today received a telegram from the French legation at Mexico City suggesting that a warship be sent to Mexico.

Government officials are considering the matter and, following the usual practice of sending a warship when a French colony requests one, it is probable that one of the French vessels already in American waters will be detailed to Mexico.

District Attorney Fred C. Katzmann outlined the case for the prosecution,

An indication of the probable line of defense was given in the cross-exami-nation of Medical Examiner Gilman T. His questions were aimed to bring out the possibility that Admiral Laton might have partaken of the poison in connection with a drug habit. The government claims that the poison was administered by Mrs Eaton in tea, coffee and other beverages at meals The district attorney was unable to obtain from the daughter any declaration that Mrs. Eaton had exclusive opportunity to place poison in while her daughter was testifying While her daughter was testifying Mis Eaton sat quietly in her chair, but occasionally leaned forward and caught Dorothy's glance Dorothy always smiled back at her mother, but these incidents appeared to upset her.

The Evidence of Daughter.

In beginning his examination of Dolothy Amsworth, the district attorney placed emphasis on the relations between her older sister, Mrs June Keyes, and the rest of the household. Dolothy said that both June and her mother often had expressed the belief that the baby adopted by the Eatons in 1909 was poisoned by the admiral, although medical experts had reported their inability to find any trace of poison. Dorothy said Mis. Eaton insisted frequently that the admiral was insane, and that this belief was shared by June.

Mrs. Caton declared that she herself and June had been given poison by the admiral, Dorothy testified. To bear out these statements, Mis. Eaton had shown the girl marks on her body which she said had been made by the admiral's hypodermic needle.

Mis. Eaton also told Dorothy, according to the testimony, that the admiral had tried to poison her when she was sick, and that she was afraid of him. Witness said her mother often wiped off the plates before eating, explaining that she was afraid the admiral had spinkled them with poison. Dorothy said Mrs. Eaton had discharged more than half a dozen maids with whom she accused the admiral of firting. Names of other women of whom Mis. Eaton apparently had been lealous were mentioned by the witness.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN THE HAUG CASE

Detective's Statement Convinces Coroner's Jury That

Thomasville, Ga, October 16 - (Special)—What appeared at first to be a mystifying, diabolical murder without any apparent motive has dwindled into a suicide, according to the verdict this afternoon from a coroners jury The jury investigating the death of Miss Dorothy Haug came to that conclusion at 1:30 o'clock, after hearing a short statement from Detective Peace, who has had charge of the case resterday morning Peace established the fact this morning in Bainbuldge that Miss Haug had purchased the gun from a dealer in that city and had threatened then to commit suicide, causing her room-mate to leave the house where she was boarding because of her repeated references to this sort of death, and her determination to end it all that was. He found that the built found in the head was a thirty two special the same as that which was missing office from the girls gun. She brought the ance sun to Thomasville with her the day 1914

efore the tragic morning

This report and the statement that the opinion of the detective, after investigating various phases of the case, was suicide brought an immediate ver-dict from the jury to that effect. The result was not unexpected in view of the developments of vesterday The case was handled by the police from the start on a theory of murder, and nothing else, induced by the positive testimony of Dr McIntosh that nothing but a blunt instrument could have inflicted that sort of a wound Dr. McIntosh, at the instance of the jury on the first day, made an exami-nation, and when he found the front part of the head badly shattered, did not take out the brain but naturally concluded without a complete examination, that it was done with something other than a pistol and by some one with an unusually strong aim

The murder theory has proven em-barrassing in the light of later events when a total examination of the skull revealed the bullet. The theory advanced under the evidence by the local authorities was perfectly natural, according to the opinion of the detective, but he states that the jury should have established beyond all possible question that it was not done with a pistol before taking up the clues they did

TIGERS IN TENNESSEE LOSE IN LEGISLATURE

Drastic Measures to Enforce the Special Train Will Carry Com-Prohibition Law Are Passed. Hooper to Sign.

Knoxville Girl Came to Her Nashville, Tenn., October 16.—The second extraordinary session of the Tennessee general assembly will adjourn sine die tomorow, according to the prediction of a number of the leaders tonight This afternoon the house passed three of the so-called law enforcement bills which had previously passed the senate By agreement the fourth bill, empowering the governor to remove derelict officials, will be dropped, it already having failed to pass the senate

Liquor Shipment Barred. The bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into the state passed the house by a vote of $2 to 4 the bill prohibby a vote of 92 to 4 the bill prohibiting intrastate shipments of liquor passed by 86 to 8, while the bill to declare saloons a nuisance, passed by 79 to 15. In the senate the vote cast against the three measures ranged from 2 to 5. All of the bills had been indorsed at democratic conferences, while practically the republicans and independent democrats had worked for their passage at the first extra session

In the passage of the bills a compro-mise was leached, by which the oppo-sition secured the defeat of the measure providing for the removal of dereict officials and a provision in the nuis-ance bill making it effective March 1,

Two Anti-Jug Bills.

The two anti-Jug bills become effective at once unless vetoed by the governor, which is improbable. Governor Hooper stated tonight that the bills had not yet reached him, and that so far he had not affixed his signature to either of the three measures. The anti-Jug bills passed today are intended to strengthen the federal law prohibiting the shipment of liquors into dry territory. Although Tennessee had a state-wide prohibition law, it merely prohibits the sale of liquor within 4 miles of a school house, and it is claimed that this law would not affect the shipment of liquor into the state under the federal statute.

The senate tabled the bill providing for the removal of city and county officers not enforcing prohibition. The bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into the state under the shipment of liquor into the state under the federal statute.

ENEMIES OF TAMMANY REACH AN AGREEMENT

1 esterday was the last day in which declinations could be filed with the board of elections by candidates who had been named for offices to be filled at next mouth's elections, and several eleventh hour declinations were filed. The most notable was that of Oscar S Straus, former minister to Turkey, who had been nominated for congress on the progressive ticket in the twenth that district. We straus was nominated while he was in Europe and he returned to this country early yesterday.

A FREE HAND WITH MEXICO

Queerer international complications than those involved in the Mexican situation have rarely developed in this hemisphere. The spectacle is presented of nearly all the countries of Europe, after first having virtually slapped the United States in the face by their recognition of Huerta, squarely backing down and in substance telling Washington that it might go as far as it liked. Such is the significance of the recent conference of ambassadors in Mexico City and of the hurried assembling of foreign warships in Mexican waters. Heretofore the United States had been distinctly embarrassed by the course of Europe in recognizing Huerta and permitting its moneylenders to finance his undertakings. Under such conditions Huerta was encouraged to defy the representations of Washington, and there was the ever-present threat that some European nation might feel emboldened to invade the Monroe doctrine in fact as it had already in spirit.

The current about-face, which puts the Mexican regime under the ban of the old world, arrays practically every power of consequence against the established Mexican order and tacitly turns over to the United States authority and responsibility to proceed as it may deem best in the interests of stable government.

It is fortunate that all elements of doubt have been eliminated and that whatever may develop the United States need fear no meddling on the part of Europe. In the meantime, there is reason to suspect that the alleged anti-American solidarity on part of Mexico is not as great as had been claimed. Many warnings have been sounded to the effect that once the United States initiated an aggressive policy all factions now warring would get together against the "hated gringo." Of late months it has appeared that dissensions in the northern part of Mexico and quasi-overtures to Washington dispelled this theory. Information to this effect must be, to an extent at least, controlling the stiff attitude of Washington in cutting the ground from Huerta's feet.

Many times a crisis has been heralded, only to blow over at the last moment. The situation has, however, reached so tense a nature that it is difficult to see how a decisive turn can much longer be delayed.

GEORGIA'S APPLE ASSETS

The potential fortune that awaits Georgia in the form of apple culture is convincingly indicated in an article by L. A. Niven, editor of Southern Farming, and published elsewhere on this page. Southern Farming is one of the chain of farm publications established by the Orange Judd company, and covering the entire country.

Recently Mr. Niven made a personal tour of the Georgia Blue Ridge, to investigate the apple orchards and the apple possibilities of that section. He comes back full of enthusiasm and with facts to back it.

Mr. Niven shows that apples grown in Rabun and other mountainous counties in north Georgia far exceed the famed apples of Oregon. He described the superior advantages offered by the Blue Ridge, and declares that it should become one of the great apple-producing districts of the United States: Mr. Niven conservatively sounds warning against the expectation that the man who embarks in apple culture is entering upon a bonanza which will make "getrich-quick" returns. As much patience and as much care and capital must, he says, be expended in this as in any other industry. But the dividends thoroughly justify all

Editor Niven simply corroborates the reiterated contentions of The Constitution with regard to the possibilities of north Georgia in apple culture. In a relatively short time there is no reason why that industry should not become one of the best eash assets of the state.

THE RAILROADS' PLAN.

The eastern railroads have virtually completed the preliminaries in their prayer to the interstate commerce commission to be allowed to increase their freight tariffs an average of 5 per cent. The new tariffs are on file, and will stand automatically suspended for a period of ten months, or as nuch of that time as may be necessary for thorough investigation. The response of the commission is conjectural.' At a comparatively recent date it refused emphatically to permit the carriers to make operative changes of a nature very similar to those now proposed. At that time, however, the case was left open and the carriers were told that they might renew their petition when underlying circumstances gave it greater plausibility. Whatever steps the commission may ake there is no gainsaying the sore need of funds by the railroads. Admittedly, the transportation equipment of the country is antiquated and in need of replacements. Even now traffic is embarrassed. The burden will become heavier as business increases and the demands upon all the rail reads grow more clamorous.

Hardly a trunk-line of importance in the country but has in the past offended in the matter of high finance, skyrocket juggling and operation in the interests of Wall street rather than in the interests of the consumers and the stockholders. It is the repetition of these sins, over a long period, that has brought the roads to their present plight and handicapped them in their borrowing operations.

That is, however, in the past. It is incumbent upon the commission to work scrupulously to the end that the old era of legalized looting and piracy he not duplicated. For failure to do so will render void any new and more constructive policies. After this is assured it is equally the duty of the commission to authorize such changes on part of the roads as will readjust conditions in this country.

It the last analysis railroads and prosperity are inseparably connected. That fact cannot be overlooked when the public is forming its opinions and when the commission shall come to act upon the prayer of the railroads.

ILL-PAID PREACHERS.

According to a report made to the Methodist Woman's Home Missionary society, 3.000 Methodist preachers preach and work in the United States for less than $500 a year. In other words, for about the wages. of a day laborer this army of consecrated and educated men are supporting large families and ministering to the spiritual needs of an important body of citizenry.

This statement sent out from Washington, and it is confirmed in many quarters, goes far to explain the difficulty in securing recruits for the ministry. Not only in the Methodist church, but in practically all the denominations, the complaint is the same. The theological seminaries and the colleges with theological adjuncts experience increasing difficulty in enlisting students.

The sentiment of present-day society seems greatly in danger of placing two of its most vital servants--the teacher and the preacher—in the same category. We have lately seen illustrations of the manner in which the Atlanta school teacher is held down to the lowest financial pinch. It is not, therefore, strange to see that the preacher also is viewed in several quarters as an individual who can subsist largely upon divine unction, being dispensed a minimum of those comforts and advantages which have come to be identified with twentieth century standards.

It is probable also that the preacher most suffering from this condition is the one doing signal good-and that is the preacher in the country districts. His city brother is apt to fare better. Some localities can be excused, on account of poverty. for underpaying their spiritual advisers. But in the main this nation is too rich, and its farming districts too prosperous, to excuse a policy of parsimony.

The fault, we believe, lies, after all, in the viewpoint. Once that is adjusted the man who is preaching the gospel in the rural districts will be given income sufficient to afford his family those advantages to which he is entitled.

FILIPINOS IN CONTROL.

Cables from Manila reflect the most important step yet taken toward independence for the Philippine islands in placing a majority of natives on the Philippine commission. This policy was some weeks ago forecast by Governor General Harrison in his opening address. Already the natives dominate the lower assembly. Now that they control also the commission it is seen that the archipelago is already in possession of practical autonomy.

The policy now inaugurated must of necessity be of a tentative nature. The ability of the Filipinos to govern themselves is on trial. If they are shown capable of sound and stable government under their own legislature it is logical to expect that in time American influences will be wholly withdrawn and the pledges of the democratic party fulfilled.

The United States cannot, on the other hand, relinquish sovereignty should old cliques and factions put in an appearance and the progress of the past ten years be jeopardized. The experiment of the next few months will be freighted with importance not only to the archipelago itself, but to America as well.

Perhaps the reason United States senators "do not look important" now is due to the worry of work-real work-for once in a decade.

Time is money, and the currency question demands all they can spare and a little more.

GAINING KNOWLEDGE.

'It's pleasant,' said the retired merchant, "to see the kids trooping along the street on their way to school. At least, it would be pleasant if they showed some signs of being happy, of appreciating their opportunities. But I'm afraid that not more than one in a dozen appreciates the giorious privilege of acquiring useful information for nothing."

"It would be interesting to know how much of the information they acquire is useful," replied the hotelkeeper. "All these kids we see going past the door are putting in several hours a day learning things that will never do them any good, and when they quit going to school they'll sit up late at night trying to forget three-quarters of the infor mation with which they are saturated.

"I had a little grandson named Alexander staying here with me last year, and I sent him to school hoping he'd learn to read and write and catch flies with his hands. Alexander's father is a butcher, and when he grows up it is a dead certainty that he will e conducting a meat market. All his forbears for a thousand years back have been in the business of seiling fresh and salt meats and oysters in their season, and if any doggone scion of that house embarked in any other business he would be considered a traitor.

"But when you send a kid to school it doesn't make any difference what business he is destined for. He has to store his mind with a lot of junk, whether he wants to Little Alexander hadn't been to school a week before the teacher sent him to me with a note saying I'd have to furnish him with drawing materials. I called on the superintendent of the school and explained to him that there was no sense in trying to make a Raphael out of l'ttle Alexander, for he was doomed to be a butcher; but there's no arguing with a school superintendent. He's always hidebound, and education has to be conducted along his lines or it isn't educacation. This particular superintendent got warm under the collar when I tried to show him where he was wrong, and intimated that if I didn't gambol down the stairway voluntarily, he'd summon the janitor to assist me.

"So little Alexander spent his valuable time making pictures of trees and elephants, and I never could distinguish the trees from the elephants, which humiliated him greatly, for he's a sensitive boy, and at that time he was wedded to his art.

That boy went to school here for several months, and learned to make pictures, and to recite "Twinkle, twinkle, little star," and a lot of other things, but not one thing that would be useful to a butcher.

"When I was young the studies were much simpler than they now are, but for all that I learned a lot of stuff that proved a liability when I went forth into the world to carve out a fortune. My teacher was a great geography fan. He'd rather sit up at night studying some blamed map or globe than read a dime novel. As a consequence he fairly swamped us with geography, and when I left school I could tell where any doggone river in the world was, and I knew the height of all the mountains, and the depth of all the oceans, and I could reel off the boundaries of any country without turning a hair.

"I thought that a youth so steeped in geography ought to make his mark in the world, and I was full of confidence when I sallied forth to get a lucrative situation In some trade palace. I went to one merchant prince after another, and not one of them seemed to care a confinental whether Scotland was bounded on the north by Asia Minor or by Rhode Island, and if I tried to explain that the river Amazon flowed through Brazil Bolivia and the Argentine Republic, somebody was sure to drop me down an elevator shaft and throw a lot of packing cases down after me.

"Less than one per cent of what I learned at school was of use to me in this world's broad field of battle, and I'm not surprised that the kids on their way to school look disgusted and disheartened.'

It is a great mistake to leave unexpressed ideas and acts and purposes that exist within you. You pass for what other people under stand you to be, and the more expression you give to what you are the better will be the general verdict as to your value. Suppose you are misunderstood. Suppose you do express yourself inaccurately at times. The final average will be satisfactory, providing your expression is sincere.

Express yourself the best way you know how. Then review the expression for improvement the next time.

In expression, however, take care that you express yourself and not a poor copy of somebody else. That somebody else may be falsely and inaccurately expressing himself and your imitation then becomes so much the worse Also, it is impossible for anyone to succeed to his fullest expressing the ways and ideas of somebody else. "Why, sir," said the irascible colonel, "the men who march in the front rank and play those instruments they push in and out" meaning the trombones--"cannot keep time sir! They never by any chance push in out together. I'll have it changed, let me tell you."

It was no good the bandmaster explaining that each man played a different note an that each note was formed with the slide in a different position. The colonel still persisted that the effect was not uniform, and vowed that he would order the men to be drilled until such time as they could push in and out together!

NORTH GEORGIA OFFERS SPLENDID APPLE PROSPECTS

(Editor "Southern Farming.")

Editor Constitution: It is doubtful if there are any greater possibilities along any line of southern agriculture than in apple growing in the mountainous section of Virginia, the Caronnas, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama. This ridge is especially adapted to the growth of the apple. The soil is just what the apple likes and the rainfall is sufficient for the producing of maximum crops. While Georgia hasn't as much of this territory as some of the other states, I am sure that she has just as good soil for the growth of the apple as any state in the south or any the union, as for that matter. Northeast Georgia and the other mountainous sections of the southern states can and will in the next few years produce apples to supply the market in the southeast. The apples can certainly be grown just as cheaply as they can anywhere. In fact. I believe they can be grown more cheaply in this section than they can in New York or in Oregon, because of the high priced land Then another advantage that the apples produced in this section wil have in the markets of the southeast is the matter of being near the markets and the saving of freight. The opportunity is ours, and if our people don't grasp it they are let-ting one of the greatest propositions slip through their fingers that ever came their

However, I do not believe it best to present only the rosy side of this proposition. There is money in growing apples in this section when properly handled, but no man can go into it with the idea that he has a get-rich-quick scheme. If he has this idea he is doomed to disappointment. An apple orchard will have to be eight to ten ye old before it becomes very profitable. Then if an apple orchard nets $50 an acre annually year in and year out, it is as much as should be expected of it. Of course, a great deal more than this may be netted some years. but other years not nearly so much. So, or the average. I am confident that this should be about all to expect of a well kept apple orchard. Now I know many will not agree with me in regard to this point, and I admit that there are a good many people who know more about apples than I do. However, this statement is based on some experience. I have had the pleasure of visiting and working in many of the best apple orchards in western New York, which section is considered to be the last word in apple culture. I wish it to be clearly understood that I do not mean for this to sound pessimistic in regard to apple culture, but I do think it is wrong to present only the rosy side of a proposition of this kind. But, how many cotton farmers net $50 an acre year in and year out? It must be remembered that this is a high old profit, and if this is secured year in and year out it is a mighty good proposition from a dollar and cents standpoint.

Better Than Oregon Apples. As stated above, I have had quite a bit experience in the apple orchards of western New York. I have also attended many apple shows where the highly colored fruit from Oregon was on exhibit. To say this Oregon fruit is pretty is putting it but mildly, but a baby can tell the difference be tween an Oregon apple and a Georgia apple after tasting it. The flavor of Oregon apples will not begin to compare with those of Those who have compared them will back me up in this statement. It is true that the Hood river valley of Oregon probably produces the most highly colored and prettiest apples grown anywhere, but looks is not always the most important thing to consider

I would not for a minute try to belittle the quality of apples grown in either Oregon or New York, but the point'I wish to make is that they have absolutely nothing on Geor-This statement is based on experience and is made without fear of successful contradiction.

is true, of course, that the soil of northeast Georgia is not in as high a state of cultivation as is the apple orchard soll of western New York, but it is absolutely capa being brought into as high cultivation as is this soil.

Just recently I made an extensive trip through western North Carolina and north-Georgia, making a special study of an ple culture in those sections. I visited many line orchards, studied their methods, saw the fruit on the trees, and came back home dead certain in my own mind that there is no place on earth superior to north Georgia for apple culture.

To see the best orchards in this section it is necessary to get away from the railroad. I do not mean by this that good apples are not found near the railroads, but mean that it is back in the country, usually away from the railroads, that we find the larger and better cared for orchards. went up there for the purpose of studying the proposition at first hand and presenting to the readers of my farm paper a detailed account of the methods practiced by the best apple growers of that section. thing looked so good to me that I wish to present it to just as many Georgians as possible. Hence this communication to The Constitution.

Of the many good orchards that I saw as this trip, one of the very best kept and most profitable looking I saw was welve miles northeast of Clayton in Rabun county. It is right at the feot of Rabur nountain, and what I saw on the trees of this orchard was an eye-opener to me, and I feel sure that it would be an eye-opener to the majority of all other Georgians. We don't realize what is right at our doors. This orchard is about eight years old, and I saw gathered from one of these eight-year-old trees eight bushels of A No. 1 apples. On another tree in a part of the orchard that was a little older, I saw a tree about fourteen years old that produced fifteen bushels No. 1 apples. I asked the owner what they were getting for those apples this year. His reply was from $3 to $3.50 a bushel I., o. b. Clayton. Thus it is seen that this eight-year-old tree was producing $25 or $30 worth of fruit this year, and the fourteenyear-old tree was producing about $50 worth Of course, apples are bringing a much bigger price this year than last on account of the very short crop throughout the country this year. But does it take any mathemati cian to figure out how profitable it is in a case like this?

Care Is Needed. Adjoining this same orchard was another

The trees were full of fruit, but were spotted, small, rotten specked, etc. The fruit would not bring more than $1 a bushel any-Of course, I realized the minute I saw it that the difference was in the care of the orchard and not in the soil. The first orchard had been carefully sprayed and culthe latter had not. That was the only difference. Yet the profit of one was or five times the profit of the other. It is absolutely a waste of money to put out an apple orchard and not give it the most careful attention as regards spraying, cultivation and fertilization. Thousands of acres of apples have been put out all over the country that never yielded a dollar in return. In no other work in the world does thoroughness nd careful attention to details pay any morthan in apple culture. The man who will not give these had better stay out of the apple business unless he has some money he wishes to throw away.

The trees of this orchard at the foot of Rabun mountain were both in the valleys. and on the hillsides. They were planted in rows thirty feet apart with the trees twentyfeet apart in the rows. However, in much of this orchard the trees were planted thirty feet apart in the rows with a filler between each, the idea being to cut out the filler as soon as the trees became large enough almost as understandingly as a baseball score to touch each other. In planting the filler, of course, varietles that come into fruiting at a very early stage were used. On the hillsides there was a well kept terrace between each row of trees. The row of trees were not placed just half way between these terraces, but only seven or eight feet on the upper side of the terrace, this giving plenty of com on the upper side of the row for driving freight cars, wagons for hauling the

It was only last week that I was in this orchard and I would like to tell briefly just what I found the men doing. Over in one part of the orchard there were two or three men painting the trunks of the trees. This was done with a paint brush and the solution used was made of lime, sulphur, and whale oil soap. This was being done to keep the borers out of the trees. This is applied three to four times a year, and the owner of this orchard stated to me that this painting in connection with a little digging around the trees and getting out the few borers that did get in keeps this post fairly well under He stated that unless this was done they would soon kill the trees, as they go in under the bark just at the base of the tree and soon girdle it entirely, which, of course, results in the death of the tree. In another part of the orchard I found a crew of men picking the fruit. They were using buckets, handle baskets and things of that kind to hold the apples. I noticed that when they picked them they were placed in the buckets or baskets as though they were eggs, and the owner stated to me that each picker had positive instructions to handle the apples as though they were eggs. I looked over several boxes of these apples and did not find a single one that had even a slight bruise on it.

Following up the pickers was a wagon drawn by a yoke of oxen gathering up the bushel boxes in which the apples were placed after being picked from the trees. After seeing these oxen draw a wagon load of fruit straight down a steep hill I did not have to ask the question why oxen were used instead of mules and horses. It is almost unbelievable how steadily this yoke of oxen drew a heavily loaded wagon with apples down those steep hills.

The apples were not allowed to remain in the fields in the sun a great while after being picked. They were hauled to a packing shed and there carefully graded. apple that had the slightest defect in the form of a bruise or other blemish was placed in the cull pile. stated to me that he did not sell those at all unless it was to wagons that peddled them out in nearby towns. He uses the majority of these for making vinegar. were absolutely free from any blemish and up to size were carefully packed in bushet boxes.

Up to Date.

These apples had more or less of copper sulphate on them which was in the Bordeaux. mixture used for the last spraying. Of course, this would not injure anyone should they eat it, but it detracts from the looks of the Therefore, each one of these apples was carefully wiped and then wrapped in tissue paper and packed in the bushels boxes. In the bottom and top of the box was placed piece of corrugated pasteboard. Then a thin layer of pasteboard was placed in be-tween each layer of apples, the standard apple boxes being used. These hold a bushel in reality and not in name only.

This man was strictly up-to-date in his methods, and on the end of each apple box was placed a large label, in one corner of which was an attractive reproduction in colors of the beautiful Rabun apple which originated in Rabun county, Georgia. On this label appeared, of course, the name of the apple farm and a place in the center was left write the name of the person to whom the apples were being shipped. When looking at a box of this fruit one would immediately size it up as being something good because the box was well made, strong and this beautiful label gave it an appearance that it would not have had without. These labels, the owner stated to me, cost him quite a bit of money, but he said that he would not think of trying to sell his apples without them, as he was firmly convinced that very often one of the labels would add twenty-five to fifty cents in the price obtained Or the box of

Not only was this man spraying, pruning, and fertilizing his orchard with commercial fertilizer, but he was growing cover crops. Practically the whole orchard at the time I was there was covered with a cover crop of either crimson clover or rye. It was up to magnificent stand. The owner stated he sowed rye only in the poor spots of the orchard, as crimson clover would not do well on such spots.

By Auto Truck. The trees looked like the picture of apple rees that we often see as representing an ideal apple tree. One limb didn't run up five or six feet above another, giving the whole ree a ragged appearance. The head of the tree was rounded and presented a beautiful appearance. The limbs were not so thick that a boy couldn't throw a stone through. The owner stated that he made it a practice in his pruning to see to it that no two limbs of any size touched and that the head did not become too thick to keep out all the sun-

On another part of this farm I found worknen erecting a big water wheel on one of the streams, and I was informed that between sixteen and twenty horse power would be developed from this stream, the power would be used for sawing timber for making apple boxes, erecting buildings, etc. With abundance of timber on this farm the owner stated that he could make the boxes for about half what it would cost him to buy them.

One of the greatest drawbacks with this rehard proposition so far from the railroad is the matter of getting the fruit to the rail-road station, and the owner informed me that he was now planning to buy a two-ton automobile truck to take care of this proposition. By doing this, he stated that he believed his handicap of being far away from the market would be largely done away with. It is worth the time and money necessary to make such a trip, for any man who has never seen such a proposition as this, to go over some of these apple orchards in northeast Georgia. We do not realize what we already have right here at home; and the majority of us do not even dream of the possibilities there are in apple culture right here in northeast Georgia.

Appropriations to Hospital and Orphans' Home Mark Close of the Convention Commend Fight on Saloons.

At the fifth annual convention of the Atlanta Association of Baptist Churches, which was brought to a close yesterday at College Park, $25,000 was appropriated to the Baptist hospital and $10,000 was set aside for the Hapeville Orphans' home.

The convention was held in the auditorium of Cox college and results from it were pronounced highly gratifying by the speakers who held the floor on the last day.

The annual report, showing the progress made during the past year, was read Thursday by Rev. A. F. O'Kelley, pastor of the College Park Baptist church and chairman of the board of missions.

A number of addresses were delivered before the delegates of the fiftyfour Baptist churches which comprise the association. J. J. Hall, in discussing the American Peace association, declared that the maintenance of fleets of battleships and a standing army was more characteristic of a primitive nation than of a country like the United States.

more characteristic of a primitive nation than of a country like the United States.

"Ministerial Education" was discussed by Rev. W. T. Swift, of Decatur, and Rev. Russell Owen, pastor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church. Dr. G. A. Numailly, of Rome, secretary of the Baptist educational board of Georgia, and A. W. Van House, president of Shorter college, at Rome, delivered convincing addresses on the subject of "Christian Education." Both speakers asserted that this kind of education was by far more important than missions. They declared that an investigation into the Atlanta riot had developed the fact that no church members were participants in the affair.

"Sunday School Above Church."

Declaring that he considered the Sunday school more important than the church itself; Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, made a strong plea for the devoting of more time and effort to that department.

Dr. R. R. Nash, pastor of the Gorpastor of the Second Baptist cauren, made a strong plea for the devoting of more time and effort to that department.

Dr. R. R. Nash, pastor of the Gordon Street Baptist church, took as his subject "Layman's Work." He stressed the fact that each layman should assist as much in the church work as would be expected of the minister.

B. T. Robertson, superintendent of work in the association, read a lengthy report which contained for the most part facts and figures concerning the progress of the association during the past year. In the year there were, 1,100 baptisms recorded and the Sunday school showed a gain of 25 per cent in attendance. There are now 13,000 children attending the Sunday schools of the association.

Mr. Robertson stated that the aver-school showed a gain of 25 per cent in attendance. There are now 13.000 children attending the Sunday schools of the association.

Mr. Robertson stated that the average donations per capita for the year amounted to $12. There are 17.000 members in the Atlanta Association of Baptist Churches.

Rev. W. L. Hambrick, pastor of the Cooper Street Baptist church, in his address on "Woman's Work," warmly commended the women for their efforts during the year and paid the different organizations many compilments. He stated that if it were not for the women at times the churches would become terribly involved in debt.

Macon and Rome Commended.

W. D. Upshaw, editor of The Golden Age, and Rev. J. W. Blnns, pastor of the West End Baptist church, took "Temperance" as their subject. Both made impassioned pleas that all beer saloons be closed in Atlanta. At the conclusion of their speeches a vote of congratulations was extended to the citizens of Macon and Rome, which have recently fought saloons.

J. E. Railey, superintendent of the Jackson Hill Sunday school, and John S. Spauiding, superintendent of the Jackson Hill Sunday school, and John S. Spauiding, superintendent of the Second Baptist church, discussed improved systems and methods for instruction in the Sunday school.

Among the many delegates of prominence in attendance were Robert H. Coleman, business manager of The Texas Baptist Standard, and W. H. McGill, editor of The Western Recorder, of Louisville; Ky.

W. Gaines, a well-known lawyer of Atlanta, was elected moderator on the opening day of the convention Mr. Gaines was tendered a vote of thanks by the assembly.

Crpstal Palace Dance. There will be a subscription dance in the Crystal Palace, after the Mercer-Tech game. A large contingent of the college set will be there. Girls' High School Alumnae To Hold Annual Reunion

The Alumnae association, Girls' High school, will enjoy their annual reunion this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Browning hall, and they invite all graduates of the school to be their guests, regardless of membership in the association. No invitations have been extended except through the press.

While the informality of old acquaintance will be the spirit of the occasion, some delightful entertainment has been prepared; hotably a first performanc in Atlanta of Nevin's cycle of four love songs, "A Day in Venice."

The orchestra arrangement is fa miliar, but there will be novelty in the three-part arrangement by Charles dilbert Spross for women's voices and the romantic beauty of the music will be well exploited by a group of prominent singers—Mrs. Peyton Todd, Mrs. U. C. Jarnigan, Miss Midred Parks, Mrs. John M. Cooper, Mrs. W. T. Perkerson and Miss Harriet Milledge.

Wurm's orchestra will contribute some bright selections and Miss Jessie will speak briefly of the relation of the alumnae to the schools.

The election of officers will be a feature and the program will be followed by a social hour.

Andrews-Johnson.

An interesting event of last evening was the wedding of Miss Sadye Andrews and Mr. Harry H. Johnson, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt Andrews, on Peachtree street, at 8:30 o'clock.

The house

The house was elaborately decorated with smilax. tropical plants and white chrysanthemums, a decorative scheme of green and white being carried out in all of the apartments excepting the dining room, where the deta 's were in pink.

The wedding party was graped for the ceremony in the drawing hom before an altar of palms and ferns. Massed with the greenery were white chrysanthemums, and on either side of the altar were cathedral candlesticks burning white tapers. Above the altar was a large canopy of smilax and tulle, and suspended from the canopy was a wedding bell of valley lilies.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of white crepe meteror, draped with princess lace, and the wore a string of pearls, the gift of her parents. Her tulle vell was caught with lilles of the valley, and her flowers were bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. V. J. Andrews, of Knoxyllle, was

Mrs. V. J. Andrews, of Knoxylle, was matron of honor, and Miss Mary Andrews was her sister's maid of honor. Mr. H. E. Williams was best man. Misses Mary Bowden and Theodosia Beckham were ribbon bearers, and Miss Marjory Nelson was ring bearer. The matron of honor wore white chaineuse satin combined with lace and trimmed with crystal. The maid of honor wore white crepe de chine and lace. Both the matron of honor and lace, with butterfiles of brilliants, and they carried pick roses. The ribbon bearers wore white accordion-pleated chiffon dresses, with pink ribbons, and the little ring bearer wore a white ribbons. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of white charmeuse with lace draperles. A reception followed the ceremony.

The centerplece of the bride's table in the dining room was a wreath of pink dahlias surrounding a mirror, on which was arranged a wedding party of miniature figures. The candle shades, mints, cakes and ices were pink.

The porch was enclosed and decorated with a profusion of plants and flowers. Punch was served here by Misses Mary Lucy Turner and Eugenia Ivey.

MEETINGS

SCHOOL CHILDREN WERE TOO SHARP FOR ALDERMAN HARWELL

Although the new $276,000 crematory was running on "one leg" only, and although he finished up all council papers without having to write a single veto message, and although everything around the hall was breaking lovely for him, Mayor James G. Woodward carried a grouch when he entered the executive offices at city hall yestrday.

The mayor growled "Howdy!" to the usual morning felicitations of Secretary Frank Hammond and the newspaper reporters. Finally he admitted that he was suffering from neuralgia when Alderman John H. Harwell and Councilman Claude Ashley called to accompany him on his school inspection.

"Look here!" the mayor exclaimed to Alderman Harwell. "You'll have to do all the talking today."

Alderman Harwell agreed.

Plays Purt of Mayor.

When the three reached the school Alderman Harwell assumed the role of mayor.

Alderman Harwell assumed the role of mayor.

The school marms were delighted. They were completely carried away by the courtly demeanor of "Uncl. John." They insisted that he make a speech to the children. Which he proceeded to do. "Little children, I am Mayor Woodward." Alderman Harwell usurped, "and that short gentleman over there (pointing to Mayor Woodward) is Olde Man Harwell, and that fine looking, tall gentleman is Councilman Ashley." Still playing the role of mayor, Alderman Harwell told the little curley-haired tots and freckled-face urching that he was pleased to see them all so studious. "Now, I want to test your memory," he continued. "I want to see if you remember what I told you about those two gentlemen.

They Knew Better.

"Now, point out for me Mayor Wood ward."
Alderman Harwell evidently believed that he had deceived the kids, for he held out his arms, expecting a football rush and the embrace of many little arms. Instead the children rushed to where Mayor Woodward stood smiling. "That's Uncle Jim over there with the gold teeth." the kids yelled in a chorus and made a bee line for the mayor.

"Taint no use," commented Alderman Harwell, "you can't fool the kids. Thy

'Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Upset Stomachs Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal libit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and ests things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Flease, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

AT THE THEATERS.

James K. Hackett.

Tonight James K. Hackett, the noted romantic star, will come to the Atlanta-theater with his newest success, "The Grain of Dust," in which he and a company of excellence has been playing for two seasons. This play is a dramatization of the David Graham Phillips' novel and one of the strongest over given on the stage. The play made a tremendous impression when produced and remained in Chicago four months though originally booked for only two weeks. Mr Hackett is surrounded by a carefully-selected list of players, several of whom have starred David Higgins is especially well known in the south. The engagement includes a matiness Saturday and a night performance that night as the lest of the stay.

"Mutt and Jeff in Panama."

Seats are now selling at the Atlants for the engagement of "Mutt and Jeff in Panama" which comes to the theater Monday and Tuesday, with a Tuesday matinee This play is a musical melange which is funny and original, and which is ful of laughs, gingery daucing and pleasing singing A company of fifty players will be seen hero, those being up to the pleasing standard set last season by the company. The play is all new this year and shows the funny fellows in the most laughable situations possible A matinee will be played Tuesday afternoon

"Madam X."

Many people claim "there is nothing new under the sun" but this statement has been proven untrue in the last year. The French people as a race are, and have been the leaders in many of the world's lines of industry and literature, only in the past year has one of their noted writers developed a drama upon new and startling lines, causing the managers in whose theaters it has played to place the 'Standing Room Only" sign on the front of their places of amusement nightly. This wonderful drama of motherlove, written by Alexandre Bisson and entitled "Madame X," with Eugenie Blair in the title role, will be seen in this city next week at the Lyric theater, when it will demonstrate to the auditors the fallacy of that old adage

There are several games in the south tomorrow that will interest football fans, not only in the games themselves, but for the purpose of comparative scores for future games in which some of the contestants

THERE are several games in the south tomorrow that will give the football fans of this section plenty of opportunity to dope out for themselves just how strong the various colleges are in comparison with the others. The teams are far enough advanced now to be considered about at their top stride, and the showing they make tomorrow should give one a good line.

Of Much Interest.

THE SEWANEE-Tennessee game at Chattanooga, is probably the game that will attract the most attention all over the south. First, because Sewanee is always in the running when the southern football title is being considered. Second, because reports from Tennessee thus far have been so glowing that the Volunteers are rapidly being considered the dark horses of the southern college circles.

Show Strength.

SEWANEE'S showing against Tennessee will be of much interest to Atlanta, and the Tennessee team is said to be about the same size as the Jackets in every department, just as speedy but more experienced. If Sewanee comes out with the large end of the score in this game, they can be considered strong, and the Jackets had better look to their laurels.

At Birmingham.

Georgia, however, will probably be more generally focused on Birmingham, where the University of Georgia team goes up against its first real proposition of the season. They do battle with the University of Alabama, and the "thin red line" has been showing up all comers thus far. Georgias real strength will be judged by this battle. But so will Alabama's.

A BACKFIELD duel will be staged at Birmingham. A comparison of the relative merits of McWhorter, of Georgia, and Vandegraaf, of Alabama, will be worth watching. They do the most of their teams. They do the most of the ground-gaining, and the teams build their piay around their stars. An interesting comparison will be the result. Both have been doing most of the effectual ground-gaining to date. But they will be in a real test Saturday.

Furnish Comparison.

THE AUBURN-Clemson game, at Clemson, will be another that tlanta and Georgia fans will be interested in. It will give a line on the strength of the Auburn eleven. Alabama has alteredy defeated Clemson. Clemson is to play Tech, Georgia and Mercer. Alabama is playing Georgia and Tech is playing Mercer. Auburn has deefated Mercer and is yet to play Tech and Georgia, so the score in the uburn-Clemson game will be of interest to many schools and their supporting fans.

conditions he could do so. Therefore he is abiding his time. He'll prove a star when he does play. He's got the right idea.

Want Games.

The Stone Mountain Athletic club would like to arrange games with any good football team for Saturdays during the season, being willing to play either at home or abroad.

LOCALLY the Tech-Mercer game will attract considerable attention, and it should. Some seem to have gained the finding specific romp for the Jackets. Someone is sure to get a surprise. That Mercer bunch may be light, but it is fast and it can scrap. You remember how the Tech team, light as it was, outfought practically every team that it played against last season. Well, Mercer has that kind of a team, so watch out for surprises.

Washington, October 16.—(Special.) Julian Hawthorne, who has just been released from the Atlanta penitentiary after serving six months for using the malls to defraud, announced on his arrival here today he would devote the next sim months to reforming the penitentiary. He arrived here today accomuanied by Dr. W. I. Morton, who was convicted at the same time. Both appeared to be in good health and had on brilliant red neckties.

"I am going to do what I can for the poor devils in that penitentiary," he said. "For them that prison is hell. I do not claim that I was ill-treated, for I was not. I cannot say as much for some of the others, however.

"The authorities there have the power to do almost anything they please, and they do not hesitate to use the power. While I was well treated myself, I saw many others not well treated."

"The warden at the Atlanta prison,

"When you put about 900 men in the hands of a few it's a certainty that all can't be pleased." he added "You can't take ten men on a camping trip and please them all with the food, and it's the same way out there.

"When a man don't think he has enough to eat he holds up his hand and is then asked what he wants. It it's meat or vegetables he asks for, he gets another helping, if there is any more left. You see, congress appropriates a certain amount to pay for the provisions and that amount has to last. But there's one thing, every man there gets all the bread he wants. That's a rule. There's always enough bread for every prisoner, no matter how much' he may want.

"Now, it's natural that when men who go out there are used to eating certain dainty food, served in the attractive way that is carried out in wealthy homes and in high priced hotels, the everyday eating at the prison and the everyday eating at the prison and in which is served, is going to get on their nerves.

"The authorities there have the power of the others, however.

While I was well treated my power, makes a pretense of supporting all kinds of reforms. Whenever some person in authority over him proposes a reform he immediately claims credit for it. The entire system is bad and should be abolished, At present my plan is to go to New York and return here later, because this is the place where the authority rests for changing the system."

Attorney General McReynolds conferred with R. V. Ladow, superintendent of prisons, today regarding the changes of cruelty and insufficient fare at the Atlanta peniterative to make the prison and investigation will be made. Some one not connected with the department will be made. Some of the facts on his return from Indianapolis.

"Well," laughed the president, "there was nothing left for me to do, then, except umpire the game."

Brownie Burke had been sizing up the president during the conversation. "I'm the mascot of the Cincinnati Reds," he piped.

The president observed with a smile that Cincinnati "wasn't in it with the Washington team this season."

"He'd make some baseball manager." observed Brownie as the party walked out.

out of operation, Rome today is dryer than it has been in years. This condition is the result of a strenuous crusade of the Law Enforcement league, headed by Seaborn Wright, the phohibition orator.

There is considerable discussion as to the city ordiannee which requires railroads and express companies to report liquor shipments to the police six hours before delivery to the consignee. Railroad and express men take the ground that if a consignee appears, pays charges and demands his shipment they have no right to withhold it six hours.

It is understood that a motion to repeal the ordinance will be introduced at the next session of city council, some of the aldermen claiming that they voted under a misapprehension.

The locker club operated by the Rome locker clubs, the Central and Cosmopolitan, had been shut by injunctions politan, had been shut by injunctions flad near beer saloons in several years, and the city is therefore entirely dry, except for the ever-present blind tiger.

But Will Try for the Basketball and Track Teams-He May Play Football Next

Hugh Mauck, the hig Fifth regi-ment athlete, will not play football for the Jackets this year, at least that is ment athlete, will not play football for the Jackets this year, at least that is the present indication.

The big athlete very sensibly passed the game by, and will center his efforts to basketball and the track team, though it is possible, if he feels that he can get in snape, that he may be given a chance on the squad a little later in the season.

Mauck should make the center on the basketball team without any opposition at all, while on the track team he should be a point-winner for the Jackets in throwing the hammer and putting the shot.

Mauck needs very little training to get himself in fine shape, and if Coach Heisman feels that he needs him toward the close of the season the big fellow is likely to be in the game.

The main drawback is that the rest of the team has a six weeks start on him, and Mauck must learn the Heisman system from the beginning. If he can learn it fast he may be able to get in on the team, but he has his personal doubts of the matter. Mauck likes to do everything he does well, and he does not feel like tacking something that he may fall down on.

DeKalb County Citizens Demand 15-Cent Rate—Arkwright Denies He Made False Promises.

Unless the railroad commission gives the people living along the line of the Stone Mountain branch of the Georgia Rallway and Power company a lower rate than that which the company is seeking to charge, a concerted effort be made to boycott the new line. While the speeches made on behalf of the community affected were generally conservative, a number of those who attended the hearing before the railroad commission yesterday declared that they would not patronize the road unless a lower rate was allowed, and they said that was the general sentiment of citizens living all along the Much indignation was expressed at the alleged bad faith of the railroad company, which, it was asserted, had promised, through its agents who secured the right-of-way, a 15-cent one-way rate to Stone Mountain. This is the rate which they are now seeking to have the railroad commission prescribe, and a petition with two-thirds of the names of the property owners along the line signed to it, it is said, was presented to the rallroad commis-sion praying for a 15-cent rate.

Made No Such Promise. On the other hand, President Preston Arkwright, on behalf of the company. denied that he had ever promised any such rate. On the contrary, he said that he told the citizens of Stone Mountain three years ago it would be im-possible to operate the road on any h basis. If he had thought that would be compelled to give a 15cent fare to Stone Mountain, he would

The hearing Thursday lasted from 10 o'clock in the morning until after 4:30 in the afternoon. During the morning session Mr. Arkwright presented the argument in favor of the 35-cent rate, without transfer, from the end of his new line in Stone Mountain to Atlanta. "I suppose." said he, "that if I petitioned any clothing house in Affanta to sell me a hat for no cents that cost $4, I could get all that store's customers to sign it and then bring the matter up before the Atlanta Merchants' association for adjudication.

A Business Proposition.

Sparsely settled territory. We are confident that in years to come it will pay. However, at this time we are not in a position to make the rates we have established any lower. If we do, we face failure.

"Already the rates we have asked are lower per mile than any other road in the state of Georgia, be it electric or steam. We are asking for 35 cents each trip for 17.19 miles of travel. The residents along the car line are not fully aware that we have made our rate lower than the Georgia railroad, which charges 40 cents from Stone Mountain to Atlanta."

The presentation of the traction company's argument was continued by Bennett J. Conyers, of the law firm of Colquitt & Conyers, whose statement to the state commission was largely technical and dealt with the cost of construction of the road.

Citizens Are Heard.

Citizens Are Heard. The afternoon session was devoted almost exclusively to the presentation of arguments by the citizens of the affected community, appearing to protest against the granting of the 35-cent rate. test against the granting of the 35-cent rate.

Mayor E. L. Waggoner, of Clarkston, one of the speakers, declared that he had been selling real estate in the vicinity of the car line, just completed, for the past three years on the basis of promises made to him, which, he claimed, had contained the information that Clarkston residents would get a. 15-cent rate to Atlanta on the new traction road.

Say Investors Misled.

say Investors Misled.

"My town or myself have no fight with the corporation that controls this road," said Mayor Waggoner, "but in simple justice to the investors in our community this rate of 15 cents should be established."

E. Askue, of Jolly's Station, also declared that before the road was bullt he had been given to understand that a 15-cent rate would apply.

"If we had known that this 35-cent rate was to be requested. I do not believe I overstate it when I say that I am sure the right-of-way donations, of which there were over nineteen, would never have been made."

Robert J. Freeman, county commissioner of Dekalb county, also made protest against the 35-cent rate, declaring that on the basis of former information in which it was intimated that a 15-cent rate would apply, the citizens of the affected territory had the right to claim advantage of the doubt and that the commissioners should see if the street car line could not be operated without loss at that tariff.

The last address of the afternoon was made by Robert W. C. Ramspeck, secretary of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce, who set forth at great length the reasons of the Decatur residents for protesting against the 35-cent rate.

The rallroad commission declared that the county of the protesting against the better that the county of the county of the county of the control of the county of

The railroad commission declared that they would at once take the whole matter under advisement and announce their decision later. It is likely that the commission will in the mear future make an auto trip along the completed car line and personally investigate the zone charge features advanced by the car c mpany officials.

GEORGIA PROSPERITY DRAWS FRENCH SETTLER

culture Hughes Receiving Many Inquiries.

That wide publicity has been given to Dan Hughes, assistant commissioner of agriculture, yesterday. The visitor was a Frenchman named Paul Giraudet, who has for the past five years det, who has for the past five years been a resident of Canada, and who now, attracted by the great things which he has heard of this state, is seeking a settlement in Georgia.

Mr. Giraudet was unable to speak English, and his conversation with the assistant commissioner had to be carried on through the medium of an interpreter. He expressed himself as greatly impressed with what he has seen of Georgia, declaring that the appearance of the country and the climate reminded him somewhat of the south of France, where he was reared. The visitor is a civil engineer by profession, but he is now seeking togo into the poultry business and he wants to secure a location somewhere near a city. He appeared to be a man of more than ordinary intelligence, and confersed entertainingly of poultry raising and of farming conditions in France.

The farms in France," he said, "have been divided and subdivided until there are now many very small tracts of land. Most of the farmers, instead of owning a single tract with a house somewhere near the center of it, as they do here, will have a number of small parcels of land separated from each other by several miles. "Farming in France is much more intensive in character than in Georgia, there being hardly an available piece of ground a hundred feet square in all southern France which is not in a high state of cultivation."

Mr. Giraudet found the winters in Canada too severe for him, and he believes that the climate of north Georgia will suit him much better. His conversation indicated that he is no novice at poultry raising, but is well business.

Mr. Hughes declares that he is in business.

Mr. Hughes declares that he is in receipt of almost daily communications from parties in Canada and in the western states who are seeking information as to conditions in Georgia with a view to locating here.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE | SOLDIER'S DEAD BODY FIGHTING HIS FATHER

Brunswick Splitting the Imperial Family.

Berlin, October 16.—The German crown prince recently sent a letter to Imperial Chancellor Von Bothmann-Hollweg protesting against permission being given to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, husband of the crown prince's only sister, to occupy the throne of duchy of Brunswick without his express renunciation of his pre-tentions to the throne of the transfer of the protest of the post authorities. The contents of this communication have not been made nubout his express renunciation of his pretentions to the throne of Hanover.

This protest was unsuccessful. The imperial chancellor today sent a long reply to the crown prince in which he justified the position taken by the Prussian government. At the same time the Prussian government today formulated a rescultion for submission to the federal council of the German empire revoking its decision of 1907 against any member of the house of Cumberland occupying the dukedom of Brunswick.

By his action the crown prince has adopted an attitude of flat opposition to his father, the emperor, who has accepted Prince Ernest August of Cumberland's oath of allegiance and letters pledging himself not to support any measures to detach Hanover from Prussia as ample guarantees for the future.

The spectacle of an heir to the throne sia as ample guarantees for the future.

The spectacle of an heir to the throne protesting in writing to the head of the government against a policy adopted by the sovereign has rarely occurred, and the incident probably accounts for the absence on October 3 of the crown prince from the review of Emperer William of the Hussar regiments, of which the crown prince commands one, and from the luncheon at which every other officer of the brigade was present.

The situation possesses all the ele-ments of a sensational dynastic family quarrel, particularly as, since her mar-riage to Prince Ernest August, Prin-cess Victoria Louise has adopted a more extreme position than her father.

COTTON ADVANCED 30 TO 40 POINTS

Settlement of Lancashire La-July. bor Troubles and Rains in Southwest Caused Advance. Market Excited and Active.

New York, October 18.—After a comparatively quiet but generally firm morning, the cotton market became active and excited late today and closed firm at a net advance of 30 to 40 points. December tentracts sold at 13.40, or 42 points above the closing figures of last night.

There was enough covering to suggest that recent sellers were more or less nervous from the start. The cables were better than due and private advices stated that the Lancashire strike had been settled, thus averting the lockout which had been threatened for October 25. The local market opened firm at an advance of 14 to 17 points, in response to higher Liverpool market, and while the demand was not particularly active or aggressive, prices gradually worked higher. The western belt forecase for unsettled weather and lower temperatures seemed to make an unfavorable impression on sentiment, and during the early afternoon there were private reports of heavy rains in Texas and Oklahoma. This seemed to inspire rather a more general demand, and as prices worked above 13.26 for December, the buying became excited.

Reports of higher southern spot markets and the big exports probably added to the uneasiness of recent sell-free from the larger grade interests and stop orders were caught on the late. Missouri do. g. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. Numerous private re-

New York, October 16.—There was an old-fashion bull market in cotton today, an advantage of from 30 to 40 points. The big longs, who did not let go on the decline, rallied and bought heavily and there was a great deal of short covering. The market was flooded with "crop killers" from the western belt, and sentiment suddenly became rampantyly bullish. The longs are predicting new high records before there is any material decline. At no time this season has there been a great manifestation of bullish sentiment than right at the close today.

Liverpool is due to come 11 to 12½ points up.

Chicago, October 16.—Stop loss selling on a large scale broke the wheat market today, notwithstanding that the season's low price record already had been smashed twice in the previous 48 hours. Bearishness in Wall street had much influence. There was a heavy feeling at the close, which ranged 1½c to 1½ @1%c under last night. Corn finished ½c off to a shade up; oats ½c decline and provisions varying from 5c loss to a rise of 10c. Foreign news gave the first downward impulse to wheat. Crop conditions abroad were reported as generally favorable and storage room becoming scare in Europeon countries, especially in Great Britain. The effect of the cables was supplemented by rains in the winter crop region southwest of Chicago, where moisture would be most helpful to growth. Quick profit-taking by shorts led to several fair rallies, but selling drives continued, the hardest of all coming in the last half hour and emphasizing fears in regard to the Mexican situation and the general financial outlook, including the fate of the currency bill. Unloading near the end of the day was of a semi-demoralized character. Corn mad a strong rebound from an early setack, and ruled higher most of the time, but weakened with wheat at the close. The buying side received settled weather throughout the entire shipping belt. There were advices that supplies at Buenog Ayres had become almost exhausted.

In the oats crowd covering on the part of big shorts checked weakness. The first cargo of Canadian oats ever brought to Chicago arrived today, 300,000 bushels, coming from Fort William, Ontario.

Frovisions averaged firmer. The buying was mainly traceable to houses identified with the trade in coarse grains. almost exhausted.

ANOTHER SHARP ATLANTA QUOTATIONS STOCKS CONTINUE ON DOWN GRADE

Sentiment in Wall Street Is Bearish and Trading Dull. Some Stocks Fell to Prices Prevailing in June Slump.

New York, October 16.—It required little effort to force stocks lower today. Sentiment was decidedly bearish, and particularly so among the more important professional traders. Presure was not severe, but apparently no one wished to buy. Numerous shares fell one to two points, and then trading became dull. The market developed a better tone for a time, but later eased off again to the lowest figures of the day, with increased pressure toward the end. the end.

In a few cases quotations dropped back to the prices which prevailed during the June slump, taking them to the year's low points. Most of the leaders reached new low levels for the present lonf declines. The stagnation of the market when the tendency was upward indicated as clearly as the bearlish attitude of traders the paralysis of the buying power.

upward indicated as clearly as the bearish attitude of traders the paralysis of the buying power.

Selling was believed to be largely for the short account, though there were reports that dissatisfaction with general conditions was leading to the unloading of real stock in considerable volume. Initmations that banks and trust companies wre thus selling met with denials. Representatives of some of the larger local institutions said that the banks were bare of stock.

There was no definite development today to account for the increasing pessimism of the street. This state of feeling was described as the product of general conditions growing out of uncertainty in business, fears of the influence of currency legislation, the London, October 16.—Money and discount rates were firm today.

Thes tock market opened steadler, but closed easy. The publication of the bank return, with its small increase in reserve, makes it apparent that stronger measures will have to be taken in the near future to attract gold. Consols dropped a sixteenth as the market failed to benefit by the news that further underwriting loans will be discouraged for the time. Kaffirs and Rio tintos sagged under realizing and Mexican rails dropped 3 points on the 2½ per cent dividend which was disappointing.

American securities opened steady and a fraction higher. During the earlier trading, the list advanced under the lead of Canadian Pacific dropped 3 points under New York and Berlin selling and other stocks eased off in sympathy. The closing was weak.

President Cochran, of the Park Board, Loses Out in Contest With Mayor.

The city park board "steamrolled" its president. J. O. Cochran, yesterday afternoon, when he attempted to put through the $10,000 Grant Park refreshment stand project over the protest of Mayor Woodward.

Mayor Woodward-sent a rather emphatic and businesslike message to the board. In it he called attention to section 570 of the code. This section makes it unlawful for any board or city officer to vote for or to expend any sum in excess of the annual appropriation by council.

President Cochran heard the whistle of the steamroller long before the board met, but that did not deter him from taking issue with the mayor at the last regular meeting.

"Mayor Woodward is not running this board." President Cochran said. "Furthermore, I don't agree with the mayor's views in this matter. I don't see any reason why the board can't go a head and spend what money it has available this year on the refreshment stand. The work can be carried on to a certain point, and then stopped and next year we can get another start.

RECEIVERS ARE NAMED FOR ALPHARETTA MAN

The Bank of Cumming, located in Cumming, Forsyth county, Jackson G. Smith & Sons, of Barnesville, and James Webb, of Norcross, have filed with the clerk of the federal court apetition asking that W. A. Lummis, of Alpharetta, Milton county, be declared a bankrupt and that a receiver he named to take charge of the estate of the alleged bankrupt.

The Bank of Cumming claims promissory notes amounting to $3,500, while Jackson G. Smith & Sons present an open account for $991, and James Webb the same kind of obligation in the sum of $600. Judge Newman, after directing the moving creditors to make an indemnifying bond in the sum of $6,000, named S. H. Allen and George D. Rucker receivers under $5,000 each. The papers of file assert that Lummis, the alleged bankrupt, has assets, made up of live stock and debts due him, worth $20,000.

MORE IDEAL WEATHER ON PROGRAM TODAY For Rent-Houses. . . .

The ideal days of Indian summer which have prevailed for over a week, with a single dash of cooler weather on Sunday, are due to continue today, according to the local office of the United States weather bureau.

"Fair today" is the official forecast. No particular change in temperature is noted, and the temperature, which rose to 78 degrees on Thursday, is due to be about the same on Friday.

While the weather folk make no long-distance forecasts, and never predict what Sunday will be until they take up the Saturday morning reports from over the country, the chances are favorable for an ideal day. A gusty storm blowing over Texas, or a storm area rushing down the middle west from the northwest, however, might change things at a few hours' notice.

DR. OGDEN TO OCCUPY PULPIT AGAIN SUNDAY

Dr. Dunbar Ogden, who was suddenly Dr. Dunbar Ogden, who was suddenly called to New Orleans last Saturday upon the death of his brother-in-law, returned to Atlanta Wednesda, and will again occupy his pulpit in the Central Presbyterian church next Sunday. He will speak Sunday morning on "The Headwaters of Wickedness, setting forth one pre-eminent trait of human character which he believes is responsible for practically all the wickedness in the world In the evening he will deliver a sermon on "Dynamite." Mr George E. Seats, Dr. Ogden's brother-in-law, was known to quite a number of Atlantans, and his death has caused wide sorrow among his friends.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN

Thus far no action has been taken by Chief Beavers in the case of Pa-trolman John D Wood, who is charged with police persecution before the board of commissioners

board of commissioners

Beavers, in talking with reporters yesterday afternoon, stated that he had not suspended Wood and that he had not sayet decided upon definite action until the time Wood would be arraigned before the commission.
"I am making a thorough investigation of the case," he stated, "and until it is completed I will take no action."
Judging from the chief's remarks, he inclines toward the accused man The case will be called before the next regular meeting of the commission.

GOULD AND PASCO ANNEX TO ALTOLOMA

Gould and Pasco subdivision joins the beautiful suburb of Altoloma, just beyond Decatur, lies on the east side of the Georgia Railroad and the Stone Mountain Car Line, and on the "New York to Atlanta" Highway. Altoloma has three churches, a new $8,000 Public School Building. Altoloma is close to Agnes Scott College and the new Lamar College.

200x300

This building property has been subdivided into large and convenient lots-many times the size of the ordinary lot-where you will have plenty of room for the cow, the chickens and the garden, away from the dirt and noise of congested city life.

ONE DOLLAR A WEEK NO INTEREST—NO TAXES

These are absolutely the most liberal terms ever incorporated in a contract of sale. The saving in your living expenses alone, to say nothing of the freedom from the many impure and poisonous foods, will more than provide the small weekly payments on your lots.

Declaring himself in favor of Mayor, pered by the fact that they are directly Tooward's plan of tax equalization as under the city council, Daniel W. Green, ne solution of the school problem, and chairman of the finance committee of chairman of the finance committee of the board, yesterday outlined the situation, and offered suggestions for remedying the congested condition.

"This year we asked for more than $800.009 for the schools, as we anticipated a large increase in attendance. We got something over $500,000, and the amount alloted us was entirely. Inadequate to our needs.

"The school board should be entirely apart from the city council. It should have its own money, and sufficient money, to spend as the board deems best.

"Under the present system we have to apportion in our budget amounts needed for each item, and if we do not use all of the amount allotted for one item we must first go to council and beg before they will permit us to spend a dollar of the money on another item, even for such a small thing as a desk.

Tax Equalization Necessary.

"I would further recommend that a certain percentage of the city's income be turned over direct to the board in order that we might not be hampered by having to beg council for every cents invested in school improvements.

"I note that Superintendent Slaton stated in his communication to The Constitution some days ago that the board of education is responsible for the districting of the schools.

"In reply to that statement, I wish to state that while this is, in a measure, true, the members of the board have always accepted at the time without changing the recommendations made by Mr. Salton and his assistant, Mr. Landrum, who constitute the committee on districting and redistricting.

"It is true, of course, that we have the power to change or to reject entirely the recommendations thus made, but we have seldom done so, as it has been our opinion that the superintendent is in a position to know better than the board just where the district lines should be drawn. Shortly after the schools open each year we have, at the request of certain citizens, made some slight changes in order to helm out some of the more crowded schools.

Four Schools Needed.

"As to the negro schools, I wish to state that they are in fearful condition. In the Yonge street district we have $5,000 left over from the school bond issue, and, with the addition of $30,000 for a school building, we should be enabled to handle the situation for the present in south Atlanta, near Clarks' university.
"The only solution is more schools, and more schools we must have. Tax equalization is the answer, but if this cannot be brought about then, as a last resort, let us have a large bond issue, and at once."

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

BARCLAY & BRANDON CO. FUNERAL Directors, are now located in their new home, 246 Ivy street

East Fourteenth Street

Between Peachtree street and Piedmont avenue, on lot 75x185 feet to an alley, we offer one of the most up-to-date homes in the city. The home will have to be seen to be really appreciated.

From the dignified outside appearance, to the inside detail work and conveniences, that are only found in the higher class homes, there is an air of refinement and individuality that is only found in homes built to suit people whose taste is just a little different from the average home builders.

This lot is just a little larger than the average city lot, is elevated, lies well and has an alley in the rear. Taken all in all, the lot, the location, the home and the price, which is very reasonable, should make this home appeal to you if you are in the market for a high-class home.

Forrest & George Adair

FOR RENT, Desirable Piedmont Ave. Residence

We have, at 755 Piedmont Avenue, between Eighth and Tenth Streets, a very desirable 10-room residence. The owner has intimated that he will take a little less than $75 per month. If you want a real first-class home you cannot beat this.
