

BEGIN MOVEMENT FOR GREAT PLAZA AND NEW STATION

Estimated That Big Improvements Which Has Been Urged for Many Years, Will Cost $1,500,000.

MAYOR WOODWARD WILL NAME COMMITTEE TODAY

Members Will Appear Before the Western and Atlantic Commission Recently Appointed by Legislature.

Atlanta's gigantic $1,500,000 plaza and terminal station project has been launched.

Mayor James G. Woodward will today appoint a committee of six to appear before the Western and Atlantic commission of the Georgia legislature.

The committee will be composed of three members from Atlanta's general council and three members of the chamber of commerce. The various schemes discussed at the meeting of prominent Atlantans called by President Wilmer Moore of the chamber of commerce at its meeting yesterday afternoon, will be submitted to the legislative commission, and the commission will be asked to determine which proposal is most likely to meet with the approval of the Georgia legislature.

Conservé Rights of State. Whatever suggestion is offered the city of Atlanta by the commission for the improvement of the state's railroad property in the center of the city will be taken up with the citizens of Atlanta. It will be the chief aim of the city council, the chamber of commerce, and other organizations interested in the project to conform to the general scheme of improvement in accordance with the state's lease of the property, the deeds by which the state acquired the property, and at the same time conserve the interests of the people of the entire state in the project.

"The project means much to the city of Atlanta and the people of the entire state," President Wilmer L. Moore, of the chamber of commerce, said. "We must agree on some scheme and concentrate every movement on it, and we must have in mind the rights of the state's lease of the property as it affects the rights of the people."

The scheme which the city has in mind comprehends the erection of a plaza over the railroad tracks in the center of the city. It is intended that the entire space between Washington street and the terminus of Alabama street be covered. Included in the general scheme is the erection of a terminal station at the site of the present union passenger depot. As an inducement to the railroads, it has been suggested that an office building and terminal station be erected.

Captain R. M. Clayton, Atlanta's engineering expert, recently estimates that the improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

Must Overcome Obstacles. Obstacles which have stood in the way of every permanent improvement scheme for years must be overcome. The consent of the legislature must be secured, and the city must be induced to acquiesce in the project. The state owns the property under a grant which stipulates that it must be used for railroad purposes and not for commercial or corporate gain. If the state violates any of the agreements of the deed, the property can be forfeited by the heirs.

Of the several propositions offered at the conference Wednesday afternoon, one by Mayor Woodward, was agreed upon by all present as the most feasible. The mayor pointed out that the Western and Atlantic lease expires in six years, and the state receives a rental of $35,000 a month from one lessee. The money is used for educational purposes.

According to Mayor Woodward he has been advised that the present lessees will agree to pay the state a rental of $65,000 a month during the remainder of the six years of its present lease if the state will renew the lease for a period of six years. The excess rental of $30,000 for six years will mean an accumulation of $1,800,000.

The $35,000 which the state receives every month would still go to the educational fund. Through such an arrangement the improvement could be made without touching the fund.

President Moore offered the suggestion that the citizens of Atlanta, in the event the acquiescence of the state and the railroads is secured, he said the city would issue about $2,000,000 in bonds to carry out the project, and the property owners could be taxed so much per foot on property opening on the plaza as to pay the interest on the bonds.

Would Vote for Bonds. President Moore stated that he was of the opinion that the citizens would vote for the bonds to make an improvement which means so much to the city.

Mayor Woodward said that the issuance of bonds would be a good way to get the money needed for the project. John W. Grant said that the plaza could be erected to conform with the street layout of the city, and that the tracks he pointed out, the Grand Central station in New York to illustrate the feasibility of the scheme. He said that the plaza or concrete platform over the tracks could be supported by iron or steel girders from posts set in foundations in the yards below.

Mayor Woodward explained that some of the objections to the scheme were suggested to the railroads they objected on the ground that the posts would be in the way of the tracks and increase their liability.

Captain Clayton said that the support fund could be obtained from the ground up, but would necessitate the removal of at least one track. He said that the railroads would object to the removal of the track unless they are thoroughly in favor of the project.

The estimates for lowering the Central avenue and Pryor street approaches to the union station were submitted to the union station.

CROWD CONDUCTED FRANK TRIAL SAYS PRISONER'S LAWYER

Tried and Convicted by the Courtroom Spectators and Not by the Judge and Jury, Declares Rosser.

TODAY'S HEARING MAY LAST UNTIL MIDNIGHT

Fight Is Bitter Over Conley's Testimony, Defense Declaring That It Should Never Have Been Considered.

Declaring that the crowd and not the judge and jury tried and convicted Leo M. Frank of the murder of Mary Phagan, Luther Rosser, senior counsel for the prisoner, yesterday urged the many demonstrations for the solicitor general as sufficient reason why the convicted superintendent should have another trial.

This was, however, but one of the forty grounds argued Wednesday when the hearing began before Judge Roun in a little anteroom in the state library at the capitol. As the objections have been noted to the rulings in the case, it will be several days at least before a decision will be reached. The proceedings are as tedious as the original trial was dramatic and thrilling. Both the solicitor and counsel for the defense fight bitterly and persistently over every detail. Wrangling and debate occupied more than two-thirds of the first day's session.

The hearing had hardly begun when Rosser blazed at Solicitor General Dorey, who prosecuted the prisoner, the charge that he was striving to hang Frank on any pretext, matter not how small.

"You would kill him on the dotting of a pen," he declared. "And you," he retorted the solicitor, "are trying to make a mountain of a mole hill."

Forty Charges Examined. The entire day was spent in examining forty of the 115 grounds contained in a single volume which the defense offers for a new trial. Neither side seemed to gain much headway. Heated disputes arose over many of the points, and much time was lost in going back over records and history of the case.

The hearing would undoubtedly have run into a night session had it not been for the closing hour at 6 o'clock of the library. Tonight the session will likely be held until midnight or later. It is Judge Roun's expressed wish that the hearing be ended just as early as possible.

A tense battle was staged over the testimony of Jim Conley when the defense presented many parts of his story as grounds for new trial. The fight was entirely on the point of the witness against Conley's story during the trial. The result, however, was the tabling of those particular grounds pertaining to Conley for future examination.

Other grounds that were bones of contention between the prosecution and defense were those that related to testimony at the trial of Frank's innocence, and the fact that he was not by the Jackson girl of Frank looking into a girl's dressing room while she was disrobing was being discussed that the session came to an end at 6 o'clock.

Severely Behind Closed Doors. Solicitor Dorey was assisted by his assistant, E. A. Stephens, while Colonel Rosser and Colonel Arnold were aided by Stiles Hopkins and others. The hearing was behind closed doors, less than a dozen persons, including reporters, being admitted. It will probably last at least a week, though some say it will come to an end next Saturday.

So far, nothing has been mentioned of the affidavits charging bias against Jurors Johnnig and Hines. No witnesses have been examined. Only forty of the grounds given in the petition for a new trial have been considered.

Each clause is read by the defense. Objectors of the state and the defense of the solicitor. Argument follows. An end of which is the checking of the reason by Judge Roun for future use. It will require probably all of today to finish examining these 115 sections.

An agreement has been made between the two sides to admit any new evidence which might arrive for either defense or prosecution at the time it appears. This was done because both sides expect to obtain new affidavits relative to the jurors.

Both Mr. Arnold and Rosser objected vigorously at the opening of the hearing to reference to the records for argument presented by either the defense or the prosecution. They declared, had recorded the argument inadequately, and that the only successful manner in which they could go back to argument of any kind during the trial was by memory.

Agree to Use Records. It was agreed, however, to use the records. This was done after much discussion.

DYNAMITING CURACHEA SLIDE IN CULEBRA CUT

GAMBOA DIKE AFTER EXPLOSION

GAMBOA DIKE BLOWING UP

President Wilson touched an electric button at the white house and 4,000 miles away hundreds of tons of earth and masonry blew high in the air to water rush through the Gamboa dike and make the Panama a true navigable stream. At the same time the huge obstruction caused in the Culebra cut by the recent Curachea slide was blown up, and Uncle Sam's costly waterway was ready for vessels to pass through. In the accompanying photos the Gamboa dike is shown as the dynamite charges tore it asunder. The water pouring through the dike after the blowup also appears, and at the top is the scene attending the demolishing of the Curachea obstruction. These are the first photos of the subjects received in the United States.

TRIAL OF WILBURN WILL BEGIN TODAY

Self-Confessed Slayer of Jas. King, and Mrs. King Accuse East Other of Instigating the Murder.

Macon, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Nick Wilburn, self-confessed slayer of James King the Jones county planter, goes to trial at Gray tomorrow morning before Judge Parks.

Wilburn, who is now confined in the state county jail, where he has been since his arrest for safe keeping, will be taken to Gray on the train leaving Macon at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. He will be in charge of Detective C. P. Moore.

Some time ago Attorney John R. Cooper, representing Wilburn, in his plea for a change of venue, claimed that Wilburn would be in danger of bodily harm should he be taken to Jones county for trial. A change of venue was refused and, apparently, Sheriff Roberts, of Gray, has no fears of Wilburn's safety for he has made no request for military protection. People of Jones county say there is not the least danger of violence. Wilburn will be satisfied with whatever course the case takes in court.

Large Panel for Jury. A large panel of jurors has been drawn for the trial today and it is expected that the jury will be impaneled in getting a jury, so much having been published at the time of Wilburn's arrest and confession.

Mrs. King has shown no signs of a breakdown as the time for her trial draws near. She is in the Jones county jail and will be tried as an accessory before the fact as soon as the case against Wilburn is disposed of.

The prosecution in the cases against Wilburn and Mrs. King will be conducted by Solicitor Fottle. Wilburn will be defended by Attorney John R. Cooper and Newman & Newman. Mrs. King will be represented by Attorney W. S. McNeil.

It is expected that one of the largest crowds ever in attendance at a murder trial will be in the Jones county jail tomorrow. The case is by far the most sensational that county has ever known.

Accuse Each Other. When Wilburn is placed on trial for his life at Gray in the Jones county superior court tomorrow, he will plead that in killing his former employer, James King, he acted under the hypnotic influence of Mrs. King, his victim's wife.

"I am going to show the jury," declares Attorney Cooper, "that just as Cleopatra fascinated so great a man as Anthony and caused him to throw the world away, so did this woman, the wife of another man, attract and dominate a guileless and susceptible farm boy."

It will be further pleaded that Mrs. King had threatened Wilburn with the loss of his own life if he did not kill James King. Attorney Cooper's only hope, and which Mrs. King confesses, is to save Wilburn's neck.

WILSON BEING URGED TO RENAME CLEMENTS

Members of the Interstate-Commerce Commission Want the Georgian Reappointed.

Washington, October 22.—(Special.)—Judge Clark, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, called at the white house today and in the name of the whole commission urged the president to reappoint Judson C. Clements, whose term expires in December.

Judge Clements is the senior member of the commission. He was first appointed by President Cleveland, having previously represented the seventh Georgia district in congress. He has made a record which his friends think entitles him to another seven-year term. He is 67 years of age and mentally and physically alert and vigorous.

Ex-Governor R. E. Glenn, of North Carolina, declared that he had heard Mrs. Eaton tell his wife that the admiral had put away more than 100 men on his ship at one time by means of poison.

Keyes said that the particular conversation referred to took place on the night of Wednesday, March 6, three days before the admiral's death. According to the witness, Mrs. Eaton came to his home in Medford to see June on that Wednesday and, as the latter had left for Assinippi, to visit her mother, Mrs. Eaton remained in Medford until June returned home that night. In the conversation which ensued between the mother and daughter, Keyes testified that he heard June say she had just had a harrowing experience with the admiral and the told her he was going to Europe soon. June also said, according to her husband's testimony, that the admiral asked her to care for him, and that her mother and her husband were put out of the way.

"I'll have to go down and look after him," was Mrs. Eaton's comment in reply to June's story, as Keyes heard it.

Keyes testified that Mrs. Eaton went to Assinippi the next morning. The admiral died on the following Saturday morning. The prosecution contends that that the first dose of poison was given to the admiral on Thursday.

Punctured Her While Asleep. Keyes further said Mrs. Eaton declared that the admiral punctured her arm with hypodermic needles while she slept and that one of her front teeth was loose because the admiral had injected something into her jaw.

In cross-examination Keyes said he had heard Mrs. Eaton make such remarks as these frequently and not merely on the one occasion mentioned, just before the admiral's death.

The district attorney's attempt to ask question about the parentage of a child was refused.

PUT "DOPE" IN HER WHILE SHE SLEPT

Mrs. Eaton's Son-in-Law Says She Accused Admiral of Using Needle on Her—All Government Evidence In.

Plymouth, Mass., October 22.—The evidence with which the prosecution expects to convict Mrs. June May Eaton of the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, was practically concluded today when the government rested its case. Some witnesses desired by the defense will be ready in the morning, so court adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the defense will begin.

Most of the evidence today dealt with the statements said to have been made by the defendant in letters and conversation regarding the admiral's alleged habit of dabbling with poisons and his alleged susceptibility where women were concerned.

Alleged Admiral Poisoned 100 Men. The last witness, Ralph E. Keyes, husband of Mrs. Eaton's oldest daughter, June, testified that he once heard Mrs. Eaton tell his wife that the admiral had put away more than 100 men on his ship at one time by means of poison.

Keyes said that the particular conversation referred to took place on the night of Wednesday, March 6, three days before the admiral's death. According to the witness, Mrs. Eaton came to his home in Medford to see June on that Wednesday and, as the latter had left for Assinippi, to visit her mother, Mrs. Eaton remained in Medford until June returned home that night. UNITED STATES WAITS ON MEXICAN ELECTIONS

After Result Is Announced New Expression of Policy Is Expected—Extreme Reticence in Washington.

MEXICAN ARMY BACKING HUERTA FOR PRESIDENCY

El Paso, Texas, October 22.—President Huerta will receive the vote of the entire military organization of Juarez for re-election for the presidency of Mexico at next Sunday's election, military commanders of the town stated today. In addition the majority of the civilian voters of the city openly have announced their intention of casting their votes in favor of President Huerta to keep him in the presidential chair.

Washington, October 22.—State department officials today declined to discuss in any way the inquiries made by Ambassador Page in London in respect to Great Britain's attitude in Mexico.

It was evident that in whatever is passing between Great Britain and the United States on the latest phase of the Mexican situation, the utmost secrecy is to be observed. At the same time there was positively no information available and Secretary Bryan, who spent the entire day at home working on foreign matters, displayed extreme reticence about the subject. Diplomats generally were of the opinion that there would be further conversations but they were not likely to occur until after October 26, the date set for the Mexican elections. A new expression of policy is expected from the United States immediately after that date.

No developments of importance in the internal situation in Mexico were reported except the arrival at Vera Cruz of General Felix Diaz, which John Lind promptly called to the state department without comment.

The dispatch of warships to Mexican waters by France, Germany and Great Britain brought forth no comment from the state department. It is here regarded by the United States as conflicting in any way with the desire of this government for a free hand in dealing with the Mexican problem.

Situated Dangerous. London. London, October 22.—London newspapers are only just awakening to the possibility of an embroilment between the United States and Great Britain over the Mexican situation.

Their warnings heretofore have all emanated from Washington and New York correspondents, the views of the British government as made known in the United States through the Associated Press not having been published here.

The Fall Mall Gazette today says: "There is evidently a grave misunderstanding between this country and the United States in regard to the Mexican situation. It is now being moved. There are elements of danger in the situation which may easily become serious feeling on both sides of the Atlantic."

It cannot be denied that President Wilson has some grounds for complaint against British policy in Mexico," says The Globe today. The newspaper considers that it grave mistake was made by the British foreign office in over-hasty recognition of Huerta, according to dispatches printed in the newspapers here.

Explosion Occurred in a Mine at Dawson, N. M., Owned by Phelps, Dodge & Co., of New York—The Mine Was Considered a Model.

Rescue Work Being Pushed But There Is No Hope of Reaching the Buried Men Before Tonight—Some Believe That the Entombed Men Will Be Found Alive. Owners of the Mine Say That It Was Supplied With All the Latest Appliances to Make It Safe.

FIVE RESCUED MINERS UNABLE TO TELL FATE OF OTHERS ENTOMBED

Denver, Colo., October 22.—Between 230 and 280 miners were entombed by an explosion in mine No. 2 of the Stag Canon Fuel company at Dawson, N. M., at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The entombed men included General Superintendent Frank McDermott, of the mine, and several other American miners. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Meager advices were that only five miners had been taken alive from the upper level. These reports stated that most of the day shift were employed below the second level, where the shaft was blocked with debris resulting from the explosion.

Accounts from Dawson and Raton were uncertain as to the possibility of rescuing any of the men alive, while a statement from El Paso, Texas, expressed hope that most of the entombed men would be found alive.

Immediate Relief Work. Immediate relief work was undertaken by men from the night shift and neighboring mines. Appeals for aid started scores of experienced miners from Trinidad and the surrounding coal camps shortly after 6 o'clock and they were expected to reach Dawson before midnight.

J. C. Roberts, superintendent of federal mine rescue stations in the Rocky mountain division, began immediate preparations to leave for Dawson tonight with the rescue car. He also telegraphed Pittsburg, Kan., and Rock Springs, Wyo., for the rescue cars stationed at those points.

RESCUERS ARE WORKING IN THE WRECKED MINE

Dawson, N. M., October 22.—Two hundred and thirty miners, according to unofficial estimate, were entombed in shaft No. 2 of the Stag Canon mines here when an explosion occurred in the property at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rescuers were called from all parts of the southern Colorado coal fields. The day shift working in shaft No. 2 numbered 220 men.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. Fire has not broken out, though smoke was seen issuing from the second level of the shaft. It was hoped that rescuers would find the cause of the explosion and not from fire.

Immediately after the explosion all shifts were called to the work of rescue and those miners who were employed in other shafts were put to work drilling through the debris. Rescue work is said to have blocked the mine below the second level.

The United States rescue car stationed at Trinidad was summoned and seven available men in Dawson to night was aiding in the attempt to reach the entombed miners.

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—The cause of the explosion is unknown. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

WORK OF GOVERNOR PRAISED BY HARRIS

Director of Census, Who Is Now in Atlanta, Discusses Political Situation, Nationally and Locally.

Director of the Census W. J. Harris, who is in Georgia for a few days, talked to a representative of the Constitution last night about the work of the present administration and about the political situation both state and national.

Mr. Harris declared that he was very highly gratified to see the national feeling which has divided the democrats of Georgia into two hostile camps in recent years seems to be on the wane and that an era of good feeling has dawned which he believes promises much for the prosperity of the state. He gives the administration of Governor Slaton great credit for this mitigation of factional feeling. In this connection he said:

High Praise for Slaton.

"I wish to speak in terms of the highest approbation of the administration of Governor Slaton. He has undoubtedly done more than any governor in recent years to bring Georgians of all schools of thought closer together and to eliminate the bitter feelings which had divided our people into two hostile camps for a half dozen years previous to his installation in office."

Mr. Harris declared that he was very highly gratified to see the national feeling which has divided the democrats of Georgia into two hostile camps in recent years seems to be on the wane and that an era of good feeling has dawned which he believes promises much for the prosperity of the state. He gives the administration of Governor Slaton great credit for this mitigation of factional feeling. In this connection he said:

For Democratic Peace.

"I am for peace in the democratic party next year. I believe that Georgia is more ably represented in the senate than any other state. Now that our party is in power for the first time in sixteen years, our senators are a most creditable group. Their constituents more good than they have been in this generation."

Senator Hoke Smith is very high in the confidence of the present administration at Washington. I believe that the bona fide practice of civil service reform is known to the whole country, and there is no danger that the spoils principle will creep in with my approval or connivance.

The present trend of the position that bonded officers directly responsible for their subordinates could choose more efficient men by personal selection than by examination because of the personal equation that enters into the confidential relations between employer and employee.

The commerce court which has faced extermination almost from the day it was created by President Taft, is abolished by the bill but its just duties will remain in office as circuit judges and be assigned to new posts by Chief Justice White.

CROWD RAN TRIAL SAY FRANK'S LAWYERS

protest, during which Solicitor Dorsey said it is a remarkable thing about this business that the court stenographers failed to accurately record any of those contained in the motion for a new trial first time I've ever heard of such a thing happening. There isn't a man on earth who could recall those objections and arguments. It is a strange—exceedingly strange—if they were not recorded as completely as they were.

One objection to the admission as evidence of the talk of Detective Starnes over the telephone with Frank on the morning of the murder's discovery in which Starnes testified that the trial had been guarded because of importance of the message he was conveying.

Among the other sections considered were the following:

The admission of the state's diagram of the pencil factory building to be used as evidence, and which was marked with the initials of the state and the state's theory.

The admission of Black's testimony of Frank's confession to the effect that counsel had been obtained by the time Frank was first carried to police headquarters.

Argue Over Bloody Shirt.

The failure of the court to admit New Lee's admission of owning the bloody shirt as testified to by Witness John Black.

The failure of the court to exclude a number of questions and answers of Jim Conley's testimony, which the defense attorneys claimed was irrelevant and which involved transactions far removed from the real issue.

To this testimony of Conley's is admissible why, well take our medicine. If not we have been done a horrible injustice. We are going to say to you let that particular testimony hang this man. It won't it?

Of the other reasons named in the motion the first following this dispute was the admission of the state's objection to Conley's statement that he had been in the room with Frank and women in which he had never seen any other man or woman. Objection was made on the grounds that it was highly prejudicial.

Made Too Late, Says Dorsey.

Dorsey's answer to this was that all objections to Conley were made after the defense had examined him thoroughly.

It was during the presentation of this section that Colonel Arnold accused Dorsey of having been guilty of contempt of court in having violated a rule of Judge Roan's during Conley's examination.

"We objected strenuously to any testimony of Conley being in his office with women. We received your ruling, your honor. Dorsey ignored it. It could have been construed that Frank was committing most any crime."

"Yes, laughed the judge, maybe also brought up dancing the Tango."

"Which would be considerable crime," rejoined the lawyer.

Because the court permitted Conley to tell of the trip on which he was taken by the police to having seen a negro loitering on the first floor of the pencil factory during the afternoon of the murder, Judge Roan's ruling was allowed to take the stand to tell of his conversation with detectives on May 1, 1913, at the time when he was in the jail, and which he failed to do.

Solicitor Dorsey Objects.

Because Mr. Haas was allowed to tell of the trip on which he was taken by the police to having seen a negro loitering on the first floor of the pencil factory during the afternoon of the murder, Judge Roan's ruling was allowed to take the stand to tell of his conversation with detectives on May 1, 1913, at the time when he was in the jail, and which he failed to do.

GLYNN NAMES LYNCH LABOR COMMISSIONER

Albany, N. Y., October 22.—The senate tonight unanimously confirmed Governor Glynn's nomination of James M. Lynch, of Syracuse, president of the International Typographical union, as state labor commissioner.

The senate twice rejected Governor Sulzer's nomination of John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, for the position. After the second rejection Governor Sulzer nominated Lynch. The nomination was never reported from the senate finance committee in order to withhold minor appointments in the department from Sulzer.

GEN. HUERTA DEFIED BY GEN. FELIX DIAZ

Vera Cruz, October 22.—General Felix Diaz, in defiance of the intimation from the government that he proceeded to Tampico aboard the steamer Corcovado and there disembark, has decided to remain at Vera Cruz at least temporarily. He is unwilling to admit he is not free to come and go and talks of a trip to the capital tomorrow or Friday.

According to reports current here tonight, he is likely to return to Havana aboard a Mexican warship and unless the orders from the capital are altered he will be left no choice.

General Diaz was to have been notified on the high seas of the government's wishes, but the captain of the gunboat Zaragoza, who put to sea in the night, with Colonel Vidaurrazaga, secretary to the minister of war, to whom the mission had been entrusted, lost his course. A new captain for the Zaragoza was named today.

When the Corcovado arrived a government representative attempted to induce General Diaz to continue his

INTERESTING HAPPENINGS AT THE POPULAR SOUTHERN BUSINESS COLLEGE THIS WEEK

The Daily Demand for Stenographers and Bookkeepers Who Were Educated at the Southern, Induces Many to Enroll for Its Practical Business Training.

Twelve students accepted positions this week!

Pretty good showing, isn't it? But this happened at the Southern Business College, the popular business training school around at 10 West Mitchell street, where it is always busy and such things are continually happening.

The great demand by the business world for graduates of the Southern is inducing young people all over the country to attend this school. Quite a number of new pupils entered this week, while others have arranged to come in next.

Mr. Ray Smith, of Letford, Ga., has just been awarded the College Diploma after a three months' course in Bookkeeping.

The Mock Court of the school was in session last Friday, with Colonel Crenshaw, one of Atlanta's prominent young attorneys, acting as judge. This feature of the school is both interesting and instructive.

Another successful student, Mr. C. C. Colbert, writes the following interesting letter to the Southern.

"After attending your school 12 weeks I became bookkeeper for a prominent cotton firm in Richmond, Ga., but afterwards resigned to accept a bookkeeper's position with the R. B. Small Company, of Columbus.

"I recommend, with pleasure, the Southern Shorthand and Business University to any person who desires to obtain a thorough business education."

Another former pupil says in a letter just received:

"I have resigned a $100 position to accept a better one."

"I merely write this to give you an additional insight as to just what kind of a school the Southern is and has been for years past."

Looking for a position, are you? Then prepare for one at the Southern and do so now.

Write, phone or call for catalogue, and then ask the prominent business men of Atlanta about the Southern.

AMERICAN TO BE FREED BY HUERTA OFFICIALS

Eagle Pass, Texas, October 22.—Federal officials at Piedras Negras, Mexico, late today agreed to release C. O. Fisher, an American cattleman, detained in connection with the sale of cattle confiscated by the constitutionalists from the ranch of General Gerardo Trevino, a member of the cabinet of President Huerta. Protest against the detention of Fisher was made by United States Consul Blocker. Mr. Blocker was also assured that action would not be taken against three other Americans and a British subject, for whom warrants are said to have been issued, until disputed cattle purchases are investigated.

An agent of the Huerta government is now in Piedras Negras endeavoring to ascertain as to the number and purchasers of cattle sent across the border during the constitutionalist regime. Many prominent cattlemen are interested.

child adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Keyes was frustrated by Chief Justice Alken, who declined to allow the witness to answer.

The conclusion of the testimony the prosecution put in several exhibits, among them the will of Admiral Eaton. This gives the bulk of his property to Mrs. Eaton. In the event of her death everything is to go to the young daughter, Mrs. Eaton, with the exception of a bequest of $5,000 to June Keyes.

A number of letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Eaton at various times, in which the admiral was pictured as an insane man with a mania for poisoning, were read by the prosecution.

A letter written four years ago, by Mrs. Eaton to Dr. Charles E. Colgate, Jr., a Rockland physician, was read into the record during the testimony of Dr. Colgate. In the letter Mrs. Eaton complained that the physician had been rude to her.

Attacked Admiral and Doctor.

The letter in part follows:

"I came to you for advice for it is the brain of a world-renowned man who is going. I gave you an elegant home in Brooklyn, and you have used and society to bring this poor deluded man out into the country to regain his health, which I thought was caused by drinking to excess and too much money and social obligations, etc. After hard, long, earnest, conscientious work I have myself the trouble is of deeper origin than whisky and wear and tear of city life."

"I hold you morally responsible for the death of my boy. Had you examined the admiral for his sanity it would have saved the life of my dear little boy."

How I Darkened My Gray Hair

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the various dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. It is the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it.

Take 1/2 oz. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and scalp humors, and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp. You can prepare it at home at very little expense.

ATLANTA NOW USING TALLULAH CURRENT

Plant in Rabun Complete and Directors of Power Company Watch First Revolution of Wheels.

Electricity from Tallulah Falls turned the wheel of commerce in Atlanta yesterday. The entire system of the Georgia Railway and Power company, which supplies electric energy for the street cars, office buildings, manufacturing plants, street lighting and store and residence lighting, was man by the new current that is manufactured by harnessing the historic falls in the great gorge of Rabun county; and it was announced H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of directors of the company, that the Tallulah plant now practically complete and will furnish current for the system permanently.

The advent of the Tallulah power into Atlanta was accomplished without ceremony. No advance announcement was made of the event, as it was impossible for the engineers in charge of the construction work to definitely fix a day upon which the permanent transmission of the current might begin. Preliminary tests of the giant turbines in the power house in the gorge, and the transmission of the current over 90 miles over the mountains into Atlanta, had been in progress for a week or more without a single break or interruption of any kind, and it was only after the engineers had completed the service of the system during this period that the announcement made by Mr. Atkinson that actual delivery of the 90,000 horsepower energy for industrial purposes in this section had commenced.

Plenty of Water for Falls.

It is an interesting fact in connection with the opening of the plant that although the Tallulah river is as low now as it has ever been known to be, and with that portion of the necessary to run the plant being diverted through the tunnel, the water still flows over the dam above the falls and chasm still resounds to the roar of the torrent as it dashes over Hurricane, Tempesta and Escalade falls. On one or two occasions during the past month, when the sluice gates were closed for the purpose of filling up the lake above the dam, the bed of the river was exposed, showing that the engineers state that only at rare intervals will this condition be seen again. The plenty of water, ordinarily, to run the plant and also keep the falls going as scenic features, they declare.

At Tallulah a sky-blue lake two miles long and nearly half a mile wide, with a depth of 100 to 300 feet, has been created. The water, which was formerly a part of the chasm above the Cliff House, and is the result of the dam, is now a lake 125 feet high and 380 feet long. By the first of March it is expected the lake will be 150 feet high and the Tallulah falls will be completed. When this is done, another lake, eight miles long and two miles wide, will be formed and it will be one of the most attractive bodies of water in the south. It is being built as a storage basin for the water of the river.

The first revolution of the wheels at Tallulah was witnessed by several directors of the company, including the chairman, and one or two business men from Atlanta. The engineer in charge of the construction work, Charles E. Asst, who has been constantly on the job since it was started three years ago, signalled Superintendent Fred Smith to open the big valve at the top of the penstock tubes and let the water from the tunnel start on its way down the slides and over the falls. Superintendent touched an electric button, the valve gates rose and in another instant, without noise or vibration, a stream of water 5 feet in diameter descended 600 feet through the steel tubes and struck the turbines in the power house below without making a sound with very little vibration, the wheels began to revolve. In a few seconds they were turning at a rate of 300 revolutions per minute and the manufacture of current by harnessing Tallulah Falls had commenced.

Congratulate Engineer.

The spectators shook hands with Engineer Asst and congratulated him on the successful outcome of his years of labor, but he merely smiled his acknowledgments and said it was the best hydro-electric plant in the country because it was the most modern and he the late inventions and improvements in it.

The current leaves the powerhouse at a voltage of 110,000. It is transmitted at this voltage over the tower lines to the sub-station on North Avenue, where it is "stepped down" by means of transformers to 11,000 volts and is then distributed over the system to its various tasks.

The development of Tallulah Falls has occupied a period of about three years. It was planned by the Georgia Railway and Power company. It is said by the engineers engaged on the work that the plant was completed in the shortest length of time on record, considering the magnitude of the development. The work was proceeded under adverse weather conditions and through considerable litigation over the land upon which the plant is located. The litigation was decided in favor of the power company in the lower courts, and an appeal to the supreme court was refused. The case has already been argued and is now under consideration by that tribunal.

the conference, Engineer Kauffman, of the city's construction department, who made a blueprint and blueprints and elevations, said that he estimated the cost, which also includes the viaducts, at $14,000,000. The estimates were made at the request of the city council.

Mayor to Name Committee.

Before the conference ended, President Moore asked if it would be agreeable for Mayor Woodard to appoint a committee of six to confer with the legislative committee. There was no objection, in fact, it was agreed that a suggestion to move in the direction of getting immediate action.

Mayor Woodard informed the conference that he would appoint his committee Thursday.

There were present at the conference Mayor Woodard, President Moore, W. A. Wimshill, John W. Grant, Alex. W. Smith, Councilman Albert Thompson, Construction Chief R. M. Clayton, Engineer Kauffman and Secretary W. H. Leahy.

Bleckley's Plan.

Harrison Bleckley, the well-known Atlanta architect, was the first to suggest the plaza scheme for permanently improving that unsightly stretch from the Union passenger station west to the Georgia legislature. He drew elaborate plans which attracted considerable attention and favorable comment. Two years ago he appeared before the Georgia legislature and unfolded his plans, and has been working hard ever since to start a movement looking to the carrying out of his plan or some other permanent plan of improvement.

28 CITY OFFICIALS UNDER INDICTMENT

St. Louis, October 22.—The indictment today of twenty-three former officials of East St. Louis, Ill., on charges growing out of an investigation of alleged municipal irregularities, was charged by State Attorney Webb as the forerunner of other indictments to night include a former mayor, a former city treasurer, two former comptrollers, two former heads of city departments, twelve former aldermen and the present chief of detectives. All these were a part of the administration of Charles S. Lambert, who retired from the mayoralty last spring, being succeeded by Mayor Chamberlin, who was elected on a reform platform.

Among allegations supported by evidence introduced before the grand jury were the following:

That East St. Louis was more than $200,000 in debt.

That during the Lambert administration warrants were issued for large sums for the payment of city officials who had contracts with the city in violation of the law.

Many of the indictments returned against the various ex-officials cover the same offenses, but are differently phrased to meet legal points.

Most of the indictments charge conspiracy to defraud the city of various sums of money. The frauds aggregate, it is charged, $100,000.

Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. Elderly persons of both sexes can follow these suggestions with every assurance of good results. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 City Mound Home, San Francisco, Cal. DISCLOSES SECRET

Matter Didn't Prove Experiment After All, and She Now Makes It Public.

Mineral Springs, Ark.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. J. M. Rivers says: "If it had not been for Cardui, the woman's tonic, no doubt, I would have been in my grave."

I was sick all of the time for 10 years, and took medicines constantly. I suffered terribly. At last, I decided I would just try Cardui on my own hook, and kept it a secret. It was certainly a God-send to me. Since taking it, I have no pain whatever, feeling good, and can wrestle with my 16-year-old son. In fact, I don't feel over 16 myself. Am as happy as a lark. When I began taking Cardui I only weighed 101 pounds. Now I weigh 117½ pounds, and am going to continue taking Cardui until I weigh 135.

I just can't say enough for Cardui, and I believe if all women who suffer from womanly troubles would take it, there would be more happy homes. Using Cardui is no experiment. It has stood the most severe of all tests—the test of time. Cardui has been in use for over half a century, and in this time has benefited more than a million women. It is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which have been found to build up the vitality, tone up the nerves, and strengthen the womanly constitution.

Curious Citizens Barred

From the Frank Hearing;

Many Go to Wrong Place

Surprisingly large numbers of people congregated yesterday in and about the old city hall on Pryor street, expecting to be admitted to the hearing which they believed to be in progress in the structure on the motion of the attorneys for Leo M. Frank for a new trial.

Early as 3 o'clock Wednesday morning there was a regular stream of men weaving in and out of the old city hall refusing to believe the word of the attendants of the various court rooms that the Frank hearing was not in progress there. The visitors or would-be auditors, continued their vigil during the afternoon hours, but to no avail.

In the crowds which were about the temporary courthouse were seen many of the men who managed to attend the daily sessions of the original Frank trial.

On account of the court being held in the first floor courtroom of Judge Calhoun at the Frank hearing, the public has been barred from the building. The public has been barred from the building. The public has been barred from the building.

WET BUT WARM DAY IS THE PREDICTION

Normal Weather Is Expected During the Next Few Days.

Although it is likely that showers will fall here in a while, the thermometer will be on the rise, working the mercury in the bulb towards the "summer heat" mark.

The weather forecaster declares that before the present week is out, the weather conditions will again be normal for this time of year. That means that Indian summer will again be in the air, with delightful, mild, warm days and cool and pleasant nights.

During the reign of the amateur winter king who larded it over Atlanta for the past three days, the city was not alone in her misery. A glance at the weather map for the past three days shows that this city was in the general sweep of the cold area, over southern cities being as much surprised by the sudden descent of the mercury as was the Great City.

Yesterday the thermometer rose steadily from the time the sun rose until it set. At noon the streets were covered with a light frost, and the weather was a warm blanket.

Of course there was an occasional fur-clad miss—more fortunate than some of her sisters being able to show her winter's heavy wraps, just for display.

Nevertheless all signs of Atlanta will today be a warm spot. For tonight there is a shade of dampness in the weather prognostication with a forecast of a rainy day.

However, the weather men refuse to foretell the atmospheric conditions two days ahead, but the mere hint of showers for Friday.

"DOPE" FIEND PLEADS FOR CHANCE TO REFORM

Pleading that if he was released he would quit the use of narcotics at once and rehabilitate himself, Walter Fisher, the man assigned in city court before Judge Calhoun yesterday, touched the court's sense of pity to let him go on parole.

Fisher, who is a white man, usually deaf to such appeals, took the time to deliver a little homily on "life and death" to the man.

"I appreciate your sincere desire to reform," said the judge, "but the trouble is that when a man says 'dope' it is almost impossible for him to quit voluntarily. A man's will is sometimes much weaker than his instincts. In other words, a man may mean to do the right thing and then at the first opportunity he may do the wrong thing."

"I am strongly moved by your plea and I will try to give you the chance to reform that you ask. I shall sentence you to only eight months on parole, and if you do not reform, I will send you to the penitentiary."

Fisher was sent up to the city court on a charge of vagrancy, and his "dope habit."

TEXTILE WORKERS RAP INDUSTRIAL WORKERS

Philadelphia, October 22.—Renewed attacks on the Industrial Workers of the World, the indorsement of several national unions in the city, and the appointment of officers and committees which embodied numerous recommendations of the Textile Workers of America.

The report of the secretary showed the organization in sound financial condition, said the union has won most of its battles in the past year, and that the workmen have benefited as a result. The secretary's report also announced that the Textile Workers of America had declared that but for the tactics of the rival labor union, the textile industry would be amicably adjusted.

MOOREFIELD AND BISHOP NABBED FOR STOCK DEAL

Arrested for Using Mails to Defraud, They Will Be Brought to Atlanta.

Greensboro, Ga., October 22.—B. E. Moorefield and H. B. Bishop, recently returned here from Florida on a charge of the sale of illegal stock, were today arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Miller on a warrant charging use of the United States mail with intent to defraud.

The men were arrested in default of which they are being held under guard in a hotel here tonight, and they will be taken to Atlanta for arraignment tomorrow if they cannot furnish bail.

Bishop's father is said to be a well-to-do resident of Columbus, Ga. The men are alleged to have floated a large amount of stock in company with which they were named only on the stock certificates which they issued.

When the men were arrested in state court a few days ago, after first being brought back from Florida, alleged victims from Wilkes and Lincoln counties demanded that the prisoners be turned over to them. Rough treatment was promised, but the request was, of course, denied.

SKIRTLESS SUITS URGED FOR WOMEN BATHERS

Chicago, October 22.—Skirtless bathing suits for women and segregated sun baths for "beach bathers" were recommended at a meeting of the city council health committee today. The meeting was the result of the arrest of Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova last summer when she went into the water at the Jackson park free beach in a bloomer suit minus a skirt. Dr. Ladova, Mrs. L. Brackett Bishop and Mrs. O'Malley, wife of Dr. Thomas J. O'Malley, former member of the board of education, were announced as the chief advocates of the skirtless suit. Arguments were made also against the wearing of stockings by women bathers as being unsanitary and a needless expense.

"Nothing has prevented women from being really good swimmers so much as the wearing of long skirts," said Norman C. Box, swimming instructor of the Chicago Athletic association, in a letter to the committee. "Not any of the requirements of propriety are served by the drapery of a wet skirt."

The Vanderbilt-Michigan and the Georgia-Virginia games have been set for Saturday and taking notice of the reports sent from Auburn, it is apparent that the Auburn folks claim that their backfield is too light, while the scribes say that it is plenty heavy enough.

Wordy War.
AUBURN managers and the Birmingham newspaper men are having a wordy war regarding the statements that the Birmingham scribes have been making of late. One of them particularly has been taking the Auburn management to task for their bear reports regarding the team, and insisting that reports sent from Auburn should be as conditions really are. The main point of discussion seems to be that the Auburn folks claim that their backfield is too light, while the scribes say that it is plenty heavy enough.

From This Angle.
LOOKING from this angle and without attempting to side with either the Auburn crowd or with the Birmingham scribes, the statements of Assistant Coach Alexander, of Tech, and Head Coach Hardage, of Mercer, so agree that there must be no mistake. They both declare that Auburn "has got it," and these men are paid to know.

Some Battle.
THERE seems to be a prevailing opinion at Nashville that the Commodores have a chance against the Michigan team Saturday. On just what they are basing their hopes is not very clearly brought out, but there is such a general feeling of optimism in all reports that we are from Dudley that there must be a "midget" in the "woodpile" somewhere. We await the outcome of the game with considerable interest.

Great Excitement.
THE STORY to the effect that Fielder Jones, formerly manager of the Chicago White Sox, and now an official in a coast baseball league, and Christy Mathewson, the great right-hander of the Giants, are going to contest for the checker championship of baseball should create great excitement. So would a game of "fiddlewinks."

Like the Jackets.
CHATTANOOGA sport scribes are not a bit backward in their picks for the coming Sewanee-Tech game, which will be played here a week from Saturday. They say that having seen both the Jackets and the Tigers in action that they like the Heisman machine better than Cope's warriors. They believe that the Jackets will win the battle handsily. Local football fans hope they have the right dope.

Their Own Good.
WE MAKE this suggestion for the good of the baseball association. Every man connected with the club we consider a personal friend and a good reason for the fact remains that by not having larger stands, they lose money when there is a big day of some kind. They have heard much of fans say on July 1, for instance, "I'd go to the game this afternoon if I was certain that I could get a seat without pushing to death or crowding when I got in there." There are more fans that make this statement than one would really think and the local club would make a hit and incidentally get more money into their treasury by the erection of additional stands.

What He Saw.
DAN MCGUGIN, coach of the Vanderbilt football team, was a spectator at the Virginia-V. M. I. game last Saturday, and when he returned to Nashville, according to stories printed in the Nashville papers, he stated that the Virginia team was considerably stronger than last year. In fact they looked to him like they were at least half as strong again and maybe more. That should be a warning to both Georgia and Vanderbilt.

MICHIGAN-VANDERBILT GAME WILL BE FIERCE

Both Teams Have Same Style of Play—Nashville Scribes Think Vandy Has Chance.

By Paul W. Trennon.
Nashville, Tenn., October 22.—(Special.)—With the eyes of the southern football world turned upon the Vanderbilt-Michigan battle, Saturday, the struggle promises to outdo in desperation any of the five previous games in which the deadly rivals have grappled.
In many respects will the two eleven find themselves possessed of the same advantages and the same handicaps. Both at present are badly crippled, the Commodores having two stars, Morran and Turner, in the hospital corps, while the Maine and Blue team, in the Michigan-Agile game, was forced to shift tackle Pontius to the backfield.
Even if Yost should be forced to use the giant tackle again at full back against the Commodores, the Michigan is sure to put up a fierce fight—since Brother-in-law Fielding never allows himself to get so mushy over Brother-in-law Dan McGugin. On the contrary, he would prefer to trample on the southerner man on any other eleven on the Michigan schedule.

Same Style.
While, as a whole, Vanderbilt may be in better condition than Michigan, still the Commodores will be out-weighted man for man by many pounds, while the system of play will be identical. It is that one feature alone, which will make the sixth meeting of the two eleven worth traveling miles to see.
It was the application of the Yost style of play, that unceasing demand for speed, that apparently so open a defense, yet closing in like a vice on the runner, by who knows what means learned the system while a guard on one of the famous old Wolverines eleven, which carried Vanderbilt in 1904, in the football supremacy in Dixie and in all the succeeding years no time below the Mason Dixon line has been able to dislodge the Commodores from that pinnacle.
Now the pupil McGugin has reached a level in the technique of the clash of their rival machine will see a combat in which both shall employ the same attack, the same stubborn resistance and the same shrewd counter movement to outwit the other's cunning.
With their molekian warriors as pawns these two masters of the gridiron will strain to the breaking point every scheme of football generalship. And McGugin can justly be called a master, since with his wonderful Van derbilt machine he has held the Navy and Yale to a scoreless tie and last year transformed a game at Harvard, which at Cambridge was anticipated as a practice match into a desperate battle.
Possessing as they do so many points of advantage and weakness in common, no flukes could possibly mar the game and only the best team can win.

GEORGIA TO USE ITS SAME LINE-UP

Battle Front That Beat the Alabama Eleven Will Face Virginia at Ponce De Leon on Saturday.

Athens, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Georgia will enter the game against Virginia with the same line-up as against Alabama. The entire team that started last Saturday finished the game, thus showing the splendid condition of the men.
There is no muscular soreness and some minor injuries, the team is in splendid condition. Conklin has a bad "charley horse" which does not seem to respond to treatment. Delapierre suffered a painful bruise in his side. At first it appeared that his ribs were broken, but a careful examination showed only a severe bruise.
There is no chance for Carey or Crum in the line-up. Carey's shoulder is not mending and there is but little chance of his getting into the game. Crum should be back in the Auburn game.

Logan a Star.
Harry Logan, the new left halfback, has proven in practice that he is the fit man for the place. He was played a few minutes in the Alabama game, having a chance to show his ability.
Yet, he laid out two Alabama men on separate occasions with the fiercest tackles ever witnessed on any field. His offensive work is not in keeping with his defense, but will improve as he gains in experience.
Hugh Conklin is still the same steady player of old. Never showy, his work is not half appreciated save by the Georgia coaches. He has the record of keeping his end from being violated by a single gain, thus far. Maybe Virginia will slip in, but they must be good.

Conklin an Idol.
Hugh is the idol of his college mates because he sacrificed business in order to return to practice when he was hurt. Powell is the star of Georgia's team. This year, in his position of fullback, he equals McWhorter. The way he hears through a line makes one recall the days when Manter backed Vanderbilt into a champion boy.
Wonder and, without doubt, is the best fullback developed in the south in years.

Company A . . . 1 0 1.000

The season of the National Guard basketball league of Dixie, which was scheduled to open last night, will be formally opened on Friday night with two games. Two of the teams scheduled for games last night had not sufficient time to get teams in proper physical condition and the games they would appear when next scheduled.

Company C took a game from Company A for the forfeit route, 2 to 0. The Governor's Horse Guard won either by forfeit or award.

A practice game was arranged between the Governor's Horse Guard and a picked team, to furnish spectators with over forty field goals in 30 minutes.

Friday Games Good.
There will unquestionably be two splendid games staged Friday night. The Governor's Horse Guard will play the Fulton Fusiliers in one of the fray, and the marist Rifles will meet the Lady Cadets in the other.

"Johnnie" Green is the leader of the Fusiliers' team, and has a splendid team. But play will not be an old Y. M. C. A. star on this team. The Stokers' team is a complete team, and all three are well-known players.

The Governor's Horse Guard's Specials is an entirely new team, but is expected to run the Fusiliers a close race.

The Grady Cadet team is composed largely of ex-S. V. D. players, and have been working in the Grady Rifles have a large supply of experienced players.

VIRGINIA COACH

HEAD COACH WARREN. This is the man who is handling the destinies of the University of Virginia football team this season. He will pilot his squad into Atlanta Friday.

TWO GOOD PREP GAMES ON TAP FOR SATURDAY

By Carl Taylor.
Tech High v. Locust Grove Institute, at Locust Grove, Ga., and Donald Fraser v. Georgia Military academy, at Decatur, are the games that will be played by the local prep leagues Saturday.

The former should be a corker, as Tech High has won every game that she has participated in this season, and should give the Locust Grove eleven all that she is looking for in this game. Tech High has a good chance to win the prep state championship this year, as she has defeated Stone Mountain and Riverside, the last named prep organization, one of the strongest prep organizations in the state.

The team has been practicing every afternoon this week on their campus, and the work has been toward strengthening their line, which is considered the weakest point on their team, and it is some line at that. Locust, the star center of the Tech eleven, has been giving the team some valuable information along this line, and has taught the team many good plays which they will be sure and use in this game.

The backfield, composed of Parks, Bedel, Weston and Myers, is one of the best in Atlanta, and could hardly be beaten by any other backfield.

The line-up that Captain Parks will use, while not yet quite decided, will be as follows: Parks, center; Bedel, Caltr and Delaney, ends; Colcord and Fowler, tackles; Hooper and Thompson, guards; Parker, quarter; Bedel and Weston, half; Myers, full; and Edmondson, center. Fourteen men will be taken on this trip and all the promising men will be given a chance to show their wares.

Captain Phillips and Captain Wares will vary but little in their line-up, which will be played on Donald Fraser's field, in Decatur.

Donald Fraser has been practicing hard since their game with Boys' High, and have improved wonderfully since that time. This was demonstrated Saturday, when they defeated the strong Inman Park team by a close score.

The line-up that Captain Phillips will use has been bolstered considerably, and should give a good account of itself.

Coach Henderson has been putting his squad through vigorous practices since the game with the Mercer scrubs last Friday, and has gotten them into good shape for the coming battle with Donald Fraser. The present line-up has been giving most trouble, and the work has been mainly to strengthen around splendidly.

The line-ups that will probably be used in the coming game are as follows: Donald Fraser, Wares and Stanley, ends; Story and Estes, tackles; Warshaw and Malloy, guards; Van Valkenburg, quarter; Wares and Lewis, halves; Phillips, full; and Rusk, center; Georgia Military academy, Kenal and Walker, ends; Cummings and Porter, tackles; Angel and Perry, guards; Smith, quarter; Medlin and Allen, halves; Davis, full, and Clark, center.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock and the admission price will be 25 cents.

Raleigh, N. C., October 22.—Claiming the Agricultural and Mechanical college has paid men on its football team, the University of North Carolina today cancelled arrangements for the first game in eight years on November 1st, which was to be played at the Agricultural and Mechanical college. The Agricultural and Mechanical claims the men are ineligible.

YELLOW JACKETS BUSY ON SIGNALS

No Scrimmage by the Regular Varsity This Week—Fear of Injuries the Cause for Plan.

The Tech Yellow Jackets are busy at work on signals that they will use against the Lawrence Tigers one week from Saturday.

Coach Heisman is putting the variety through a thorough signal drill this week. To date there has not been any scrimmages by the first varsity, the second varsity scrimmaging against the scrubs.

The first varsity runs signals the entire afternoon and they are showing more speed in the way they are able to pull off the plays and they are handling the ball cleaner than ever before in a year.

The Preas case was the cause of considerable campus talk Wednesday afternoon, but the general consensus of opinion seemed to be that the charges would not develop anything and that Preas would be reinstated in the near future.

It was at first reported yesterday that some of the football players were posted for being deficient in their studies, but according to Coach Heisman and some other authorities there is no likelihood of the boys being barred from standing and an examination making up whatever deficiencies did occur.

Pattin and Loeb were out in uniform yesterday and run signals with the varsity. Neither showed any perceptible signs of injury, though the little attendant surgeon of warlike the stiffened muscles from the injuries caused the two men to favor their injured members when the occasion demanded.

Both these men will be in good shape to be least a step in the game against Florida in Jacksonville on Saturday. As to the outcome of this game, it will be a hard fought one, Georgia being favored by the odds.

Both teams should win, but the game will be just the thing to put them on edge for the Sewanee battle the following Saturday.

NEGRO MOTORCYCLISTS RACE THIS AFTERNOON

The colored population of Atlanta is very much interested in anticipation of the motorcycle race meet that will be held at the local motordrome this afternoon starting promptly at 3 o'clock.

Bill Jones and Loyd Brown will defend the honors of the local colored community against the invasion of Ben Griggs and Willie McCabe of Chattanooga and the Wilson brothers of New Orleans.

Bill Jones is out to win, just like he was at the local speedway some time ago. Bill believes that he has broken his hard-luck streak and that this afternoon he is going to show them some speed. Bill threatens to ride the boards if any of them other niggers try to keep him from winning.

The Chattanooga riders are confident that the prize money that has been hung up will be easy picking for them. They are after the first prize and will not be satisfied without it. Any way you look at it, there is going to be a rare afternoon of sport.

MALCOLM SMITH FREED OF CHARGE OF MURDER

Athens, Ga., October 22.—(Special.)—Malcolm Smith, white man, was cleared of a murder charge in the superior court here. He was charged with the killing of Horace Denton, stabbed by J. W. Seagraves. It was claimed that Smith and Denton quarreled and that Smith had threatened on the night of the killing to go and take somebody's life. Seagraves, who was charged with the killing, placed on trial the evidence was nil, and he was promptly acquitted.

Welch and Murphy Matched.
Chicago, October 22.—Freddie Welch, British lightweight champion, and Eddie Murphy were matched today to box ten rounds in Kew-Forest, Wis., November 10. They are to wear 125 pounds at 3 o'clock the afternoon of the fight.

TO BUILD NEW BRIDGE OVER CHATTAHOOCHEE

Norcross, Ga., October 22.—(Special.) The county of Gwinnett will erect a new bridge at Holcomb's ferry on the Chattahoochee river. The old piers of the bridge destroyed during the civil war are standing and an examination shows them to be in a fine state of preservation. The county commissioners will probably allow these old piers to be used when the new bridge is built.

WEST PEACHTREE ST. WIDENING COMES UP

Council Will Hold Special Session Today to Hear Street Committee's Report.

Council will meet at 3 o'clock today for the purpose of hearing from the street committee on the proposition to widen West Peachtree street.

Peachtree appeared to outline a plan of further improving the street. At the request of the street committee, council adjourned Monday afternoon to meet again today. The only business will be the West Peachtree petition, which will come up on a favorable report.

The objection in getting immediate action on the petition was to prevent delay. Work on West Peachtree has already been started by the county. The retaining walls were erected some weeks ago and the county is ready to continue the grading. Property owners agreed to give sufficient of their property to make the street wider from the junction out to Peachtree road. The expense of the work which must be done over will be paid by the owners.

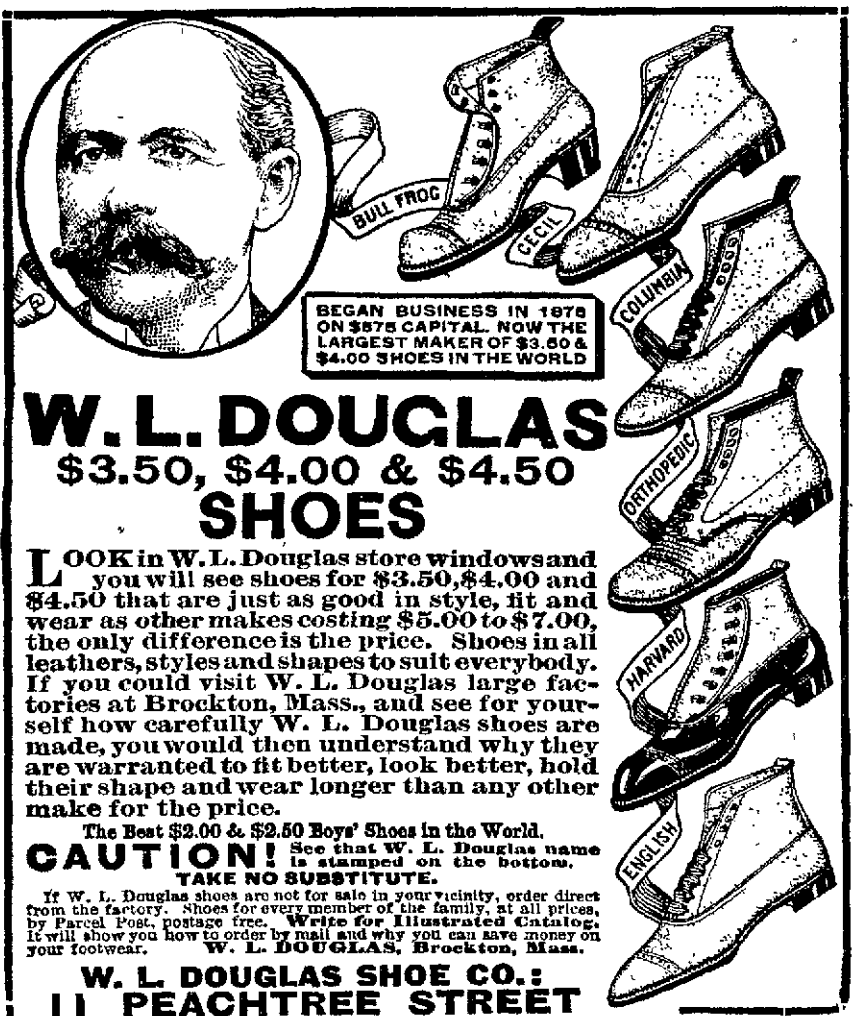

Moose hunting in Nova Scotia is permitted from September 1 to November 15, and the season is now open. The number killed last season was 687.

Many Grand Opera Stars Will Appear in "Salome"

Massenet's grand opera, "Salome," will be given at the Atlanta Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and much is promised for the production. The singing of the opera in English is an important undertaking, since it required the genius of Oscar Hammerstein to even give it in French a few seasons ago. The list of principals to appear here, however, seems satisfactory in every respect and the engagement is expected to win, as elsewhere, a high reputation.

The opera will be sung by two members of the Henry W. Savage Grand Opera company of a few years back. Joseph F. Sheehan will have the part of John the Baptist. He has been seen here in "Madame Butterfly," "Bohème," "Carmen" and other important roles. He was with Mr. Savage for about twelve years. Madame LeBrun will sing the role of the prophetess. She was with Mr. Savage's great company a few years ago and was one of America's most famous prima donnas.

The role of Herodias is sung by Mile. Lydia Sturtevant, who comes from an engagement of some length at the Berlin opera house and who is to return for two more years at the end of her present touring season. Another important singer from foreign lands is Harold J. Gels, who has the role of the astrologer. He is a pupil of Professor Straub and three years ago won the scholarship of a year's study at the Royal opera in Stuttgart, having the reputation of being the youngest principal to appear in Royal opera there. He is 22 years old and weighs 8 feet 8 inches, weighing 210 pounds.

The basso role will be sung by Lawrence Wallace, who is an American and who was a football player in college. His success in opera has been notable. The famous dances of the second and fourth acts are done by Mile. Solis Benoit, who is conceded to be one of the greatest dancers in this style of dancing in the world. She is a French woman and is making her first appearance in America.

Seats are now being sold for the engagement at the Atlanta.

MANKIND IS DECLARED INCURABLY RELIGIOUS

Retiring Moderator Boynton So Tells Congregationalists. New Creed Wanted.

Kansas City, Mo., October 22.—Having elected as moderator, Rev. Charles R. Brown, dean of the divinity school of Yale university, delegates to the National Council of Congregational Churches tonight listened to the address of Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the retiring moderator, who declared Christianity today is flourishing and the church is holding its own.

"Mankind is still incurably religious," said Mr. Boynton, "and the instinct of religion, never more than today asks its brave questions, claims its unclipped hopes and initiates the inspiring adventures."

Dr. Brown was nominated for moderator by Charles N. Prouty, of Spencer, Mass. A strong movement for the election of a layman as moderator was subdued when W. W. Mills, of Marietta, Ohio, and Henry M. Broadley, of Kansas City, both withdrew their names after nomination. The election of Dr. Brown followed on the first ballot. Mr. Broadley was unanimously named moderator.

The delegates did not get a chance to discuss the report of the committee of nineteen containing a statement of doctrine as the commission announced it would hold a public meeting tomorrow to hear suggested changes.

New Statement of Doctrine.

The statement on doctrine, which is objected to by some members because of its broadness, follows:

"We believe in God the Father, infinite in wisdom, goodness and love; and in Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord and Savior, who for us and our salvation lived and died and liveth ever more, and in the Holy Spirit, who with the things of Christ and our revelation to us, renewing, comforting and inspiring the souls of men."

"We are invited to believe in the will of God as taught in the Holy Scriptures and in our purpose to walk in the ways of the Lord, to be guided or to be made known to us. We hold it to be the mission of the church of Christ to proclaim the gospel to all mankind, exalting the worship of the one true God, and laboring for the promotion of progress of justice, the triumph of peace and the realization of human brotherhood, as dependent upon the guidance of the Holy Spirit to lead us into all truth, we work and pray for the transformation of the world into the kingdom of God, and we look with faith for the triumph of righteousness and for life and glory everlasting. Amen."

Engineer and Clerk Hurt When Passenger Hits Freight.

Savannah, Ga., October 22.—Local passenger train No. 20, of the Seaboard Air Line railway, leaving Savannah for Columbia, S. C., at 6 o'clock this morning, collided with a southbound freight train of the same road, five miles south of Columbia, this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

One of the engineers was painfully injured, as was a mail clerk, on the passenger train. No one was killed. Two or three passengers are reported injured but none seriously. The collision, it was said, was caused by a mistake in orders on the part of the engineer of the freight train.

SLEW FELLOW CONVICT; SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Athens, Ga., October 22.—(Special).—Onie Bush, who was serving a term of twenty years for manslaughter, will, at the expiration of that sentence, begin a life term for the killing of a fellow convict, pleading guilty this morning to the killing of throwing him into the mercy of the court. In reality he will go back to the gang to begin serving the double penalty for a mistake in orders on the part of the engineer of the freight train.

One of the engineers was painfully injured, as was a mail clerk, on the passenger train. No one was killed. Two or three passengers are reported injured but none seriously. The collision, it was said, was caused by a mistake in orders on the part of the engineer of the freight train.

EPISCOPALIANS DELAY ACTION ABOUT NEGROES

Question of Negro Bishop Is Postponed Till the Next General Convention.

New York, October 22.—The general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church postponed for three years action on the question of giving the negroes of the south a bishop to represent them directly in the house of bishops.

Majority and minority reports from the committee on racial episcopacy, and opposing the proposal came before the convention. Neither report was adopted. The entire problem was referred by viva voce vote to a joint commission of deputies and bishops, which will report to the general convention in 1916.

The committee will consist of five bishops, five presbyters and five laymen.

Southern Delegates Divided.

The decision to defer voting on the matter was reached after several hours of debate, participated in by delegates from many states of both north and south. The delegates were divided as to the wisdom of creating a separate territorial missionary district for the south.

Those who opposed the plan held it would mean ultimately the establishment of a separate southern episcopate.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of the Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This tonic is always depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and luster of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

ment of a negro Episcopal church entirely apart from the present church, they declared the southern negroes were not sufficiently developed to assume church responsibilities for themselves but were still in need of the influence of white men in their religious affairs.

Supporters of the plan declared a merger of white and colored congregations in the south to be impossible and that hence it was better to give the negroes a church of their own than for them to have none at all. The lamentable conditions among many southern negroes were pointed out. It was asserted the church had failed to alter these conditions and that it should experiment with a negro bishop.

A resolution was introduced by Rev.

W. A. R. Goodwin of the diocese of western New York authorizing the Episcopal church to co-operate with Christian boards of other denominations in the matter of general unity in church missions at home and abroad. The suggestion was made the order of business for tomorrow forenoon. As in other proposed legislation the house of bishops must concur before it can become effective.

Burleson Declines; Tyler Chosen.

It was announced on behalf of the house of bishops that Rev. Hugh Burleson, secretary of the board of missions, had declined appointment as bishop of the missionary district of North Dakota, explaining he preferred to continue his present duties. Rev. Dr. John Poyntz Tyler, archdeacon of Cumberland, diocese of Maryland, was appointed to fill the North Dakota vacancy. Dr. Tyler is rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Hagerstown, Md.

The house of bishops will send Dr. Tyler's name to the house of deputies tomorrow for confirmation.

The house of bishops confirmed the election of Rev. Dr. Frank Du Moulin by the diocese of Ohio as co-adjutor bishop of that diocese. The house of deputies had confirmed this appointment.
