RETRIAL HEARING FOR LEO M. FRANK COMES TO CLOSE

Luther Rosser Concludes Argument by Bitter Attack on Juror A. H. Henslee and Witness Jim Conley.

JUDGE WILL ANNOUNCE DECISION NEXT FRIDAY

Hearing of Argument for New Trial Was One of Longest. Lasting Seven Days.

M. Frank came to a close at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At 9 o'clock Friday morning Judge Roan will announce his decision. It was reserved at the close of the final session in order for the judge to consider a number of legal points and to permit both the defense prosecution to make certain changes in documents filed with the

The hearing concluded with a bril-Hant speech by Luther Z. Rosser, associate counsel for the defense, which occupied the entire day. He dwelt chiefly on legal questions and cited many court decisions. He attacked the evidence of Jim Conley and assailed

Selicitor Dorsey. The detective and police department also came in for a liberal panning. Harry Scott, of the Pinkertons, who was an active figure in the Phagan investigation, was likewise flayed. Rosser's bitterest words, however, were employed in assailing the twelve jurors who took the word of the negro Conley in preference to a white girl and two white men.

Says He Is Losing Money.

During progress of his address Mr. Rosser declared that he was not being paid a fabulous sum to represent Frank, as, he stated, many people were wont to believe. "Instead." he assert-ed, "I am losing money. Money is goed, I am losing money the expenses of this man's defense. It's not the money that's in it. It's my heart and soul that moves me to fight for him."
The conclusion of his argument wa

He opened the afternoon session with an attack upon Juror Henslee.

"Henslee swears to on thing and then to another and swears both are correct How are you going to get around a thing like that? When your honor thing like that? When your honor sees Henslee as I'm going to paint him -not as my friend Dorsey has painted him—why, you can either take Mr. Henslee or let him alone.

"Why, when Henslee went to Albany after the verdict he held a veritable reception among his frineds, rejoicing over the fact that he had found Frank guilty. That is proved by his own affidavit when he says a number of friends saw me in such and such a place and congratulated me. This was the most indecent act ever attributed an allegedly decent white man. In the name of fairness and justice, are we going to stomach such as this? Can this man Henslee be the good, irreproachable person Dorsey was alluding to yesterday? Would You Believe Henslee?

"Now, tell me something. Would your honor, under these circumstances, believe Henslee if he came to you and sald your daughter was sick in Carrollton when, just a moment ago, two other men had told you she was sick in Forsyth? I hardly think you would. I know I wouldn't.

It would be better to do it all ove again and let him have a new and fair and impartial trial than to let this Henslee's besmirched character dirty the laws and judiclary of our state Enough about Hensiee. It makes me sick every time I think of him.
"But something about Conley: That's case. Nothing your honor did was more harmful to Frank than to permit the admission of testimony as to perver-sion. erable tale.

"I am sure that these three alleged acts of perversion which Conley relates alone convicted Frank. When this negro's word found lodgment in the jury mind, there was left no more room for any thought of innocence. And that's the truth of the conviction of Leo Frank.

WILL JURY DOOM TO EATON WOMAN?

Jury Took Case at 6 O'Clock Last Night and Seems Deadlocked, as No Verdict Has Been Returned.

MRS. EATON AS WORSE THAN A RATTLESNAKE

So Prosecuting Attorney Declared in Asking for Her Conviction—Insanity Not Urged for Mrs. Eaton.

Plymouth, Mass, October 28,—The case of Jennie May Exton, charged with the murder of her hisband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Baton, was given to the jury shortly after 6 o'clock to-

Various exhibits, including bottles of arsenic and letters written by Mrs. Ea-ton, were taken to the jury room to be considered by the Jury, in accordance with the instructions of Chief Jus-

Pletured as Leving Wife. William A. Morse, sounsel for Mrs. Eaton, spoke for four hours, drawing a picture of the defendant as a leving, self-sacrificing wife, entirely justified in her beliefs about her husband. She was a "martyr," and her only fault was that she "loved too much," her attorney declared, while he portrayed the admiral as a man of double personality, one in whom corruption was concealed under the mask of a gentle, manly bearing. He asserted that the prosecution had not proved a single count in its murder charge against Mrs "The accused woman," he said: "does not avail herself of any claim of insanity to avoid a consideration, but bravely demands a verdict of the facts." Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft lustrous and beautiful as a young girls after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

MURPHY CANDLER URGES NEW GRADES FOR GRAIN TO BE PROMULGATED RENAMING OF CLEMENTS

Georgia Rail Commissioner Calls on President-Candler Talks of Physical Valuation.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, October 29.—(Special.)— Murphy Candler, chairman of the railroad commission of Georgia, who is here attending the state railroad com-missioners' convention, called at the white house today to urge the reap-pointment of Judson C. W GRADES FOR GRAIN BELL WRITES WILSON

Washington, October 28.—Represent-atives of the National Grain Dealers' association today formally notified Sec-retary Houston that the organization association today formally notified Secretary Houston that the organization favored the government's proposed standardization of foreign grades. Adoption of the new grades by the association was over the protect of representatives of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce, who declared that promulgation of the new grades would seriously affect their export trade, the largest in the country.

Many of the speakers at the hearings today, while favoring the proposed grades, urged modification. In place of the government's proposed number three corn with a moisture contest of 175 per cent, they urged the substitution of a grade to be called "standard," and making the government's proposed number four a number three with a moisture test of 18.5 per cent. This, they pointed out, would leave the present grades practically unchanged and would give the producer an incentive to produce a "standard" grain with a moisture test of 17.5 per cent. In view of the action of the Grain Dealers' association, agricultural department officials expect no other legislation aside from the pure food law will be needed in enforcing the new grades which will be promulgated soon.

Georgian Approves Separation of the Races in Work of the Gövernment,

By John Corrigue, Jr. Washington, October 28 — (Special.) Representative Thomas M. Bell has written a letter to President Wilson expressing his views in regard to seg-regation of the races in government work at Washington. He wants the segregation plan carried to the extent of separating the races on the street cars of the national capital. At present negroes and whites are seated indiscriminately on the street cars, and this how free parts. this has frequently led to clashes. This would largely be avoided, said Mr. Bell, if they were divided as in Atlanta.

His letter to the president was elicited by the engagement made for a delegation of negroes to call at the white house on November 10.

Bell's Letter to Wilson,

Mr. Bell's letter follows:
"Mr. President: I see from reports seven years than any new man possibly could. He has been on the commission twenty-one vears.

Just Treatment for Negroes.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED BY RECEIVER OF BANK

New York, October 29—The receiver for the defunct first-Second National bank, of Pittsburg, entered suit in the federal court nere today against the Chase National bank, of this city, to recover $100,000 The complainant charges that the Chase National entered in a conspiracy with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company to evade payment of the sum, which, according to plaintiff, is due on a note transaction.

Guv E. Tripp, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse company, tonight explaired the position of his company and the Chase National bank in the suit. The $100,000 sued for, he says, represented the participation of the First National bank, of Pittsburg, in a loan to the Westinghouse company, madethrough the Chase National bank, as a resuit of which, by agreement, the Westinghouse company deposited in the Pittsburg institution $100,000 received from the Chase National. Before the loan matured the First and Second National banks, of Pittsburg, were merged and the merged bank became insolvent.

The suit, Mr Tripp said, is to judicially determine the Westinghouse

LAST CALL IS SOUNDED FOR HEIR TO $160,000

New York, October 29.—Surrogate Cohalan sounded today the last call for John Kopp, last seen at Oroville, Cal., fifteen years ago, to claim a legacy of $160,000 left him by his mother in 1901. For twelve years the money has remained unclaimed in the keeping of the city chamberlain.

According to a petition filed by Kopp's brother Albert, who lives in this city, Kopp fled Oroville in July, 1398, for Quincy, Cal., to escape an epidemic of smallpox. He has not been seen since. Albert Kopp seeks to have the missing man adjudged dead and himself appointed administrator of the estate.

A musical farce under contemplation is to be given the name of September Mora and produced in New York at an early date.

Georgia Rail Commissioner Calls on President-Candler Talks of Physical Valuation.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, October 29.—(Special.)— Murphy Candler, chairman of the railroad commission of Georgia, who is here attending the state railroad com-missioners' convention, called at the white house today to urge the reap-pointment of Judson C. W GRADES FOR GRAIN BELL WRITES WILSON

Washington, October 28.—Represent-atives of the National Grain Dealers' association today formally notified Sec-retary Houston that the organization association today formally notified Secretary Houston that the organization favored the government's proposed standardization of foreign grades. Adoption of the new grades by the association was over the protect of representatives of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce, who declared that promulgation of the new grades would seriously affect their export trade, the largest in the country.

Many of the speakers at the hearings today, while favoring the proposed grades, urged modification. In place of the government's proposed number three corn with a moisture contest of 175 per cent, they urged the substitution of a grade to be called "standard," and making the government's proposed number four a number three with a moisture test of 18.5 per cent. This, they pointed out, would leave the present grades practically unchanged and would give the producer an incentive to produce a "standard" grain with a moisture test of 17.5 per cent. In view of the action of the Grain Dealers' association, agricultural department officials expect no other legislation aside from the pure food law will be needed in enforcing the new grades which will be promulgated soon.

Georgian Approves Separation of the Races in Work of the Gövernment,

By John Corrigue, Jr. Washington, October 28 — (Special.) Representative Thomas M. Bell has written a letter to President Wilson expressing his views in regard to seg-regation of the races in government work at Washington. He wants the segregation plan carried to the extent of separating the races on the street cars of the national capital. At present negroes and whites are seated indiscriminately on the street cars, and this how free parts. this has frequently led to clashes. This would largely be avoided, said Mr. Bell, if they were divided as in Atlanta. His letter to the president was elicited by the engagement made for a delegation of negroes to call at the white house on November 10.

Bell's Letter to Wilson,

Mr. Bell's letter follows:
"Mr. President: I see from reports seven years than any new man possibly could. He has been on the commission twenty-one vears.

Just Treatment for Negroes.

"I believe in just treatment of the negro, but he should not be accorded advantages beyond his moral and social capabilities. He enjoys his religious and civil freedom, but these were won for him and not by him. The conditions, which he now enjoys have come up out of the suffering and patience of another social group and the more intelligent of the race are gradually turning to a policy of self-respecting segrogation, and it is the duty of the stronger race to aid them. The more intelligent among them are today keeping more closely than ever to themselves, and segregation would encourage rather than discourage, and would not force back with them the desire for advancement which to them is obtainable, made possible by the stronger race. I believe the policy of segregation timely, and if found feasible to a well-governed country, no intelligent or reasonable individual of either race will have cause to complain."

SCHOOL FURBELOWS COST 2 YEARS OF LIFE

Hobson Addresses Congress.

The last session of the congress tonight was featured by an address of Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, here to attend the congress and to further his political campaign for United States senator, in which his chief opponent is Majority Lender Underwood. Mr. Hobson again reiterated his plea for a larger navy. He declared that the opening of the Panama canal would be greatly augmented in its influence upon American commerce by the 5 per cent differential in favor of American ships provided in the new tariff law. Trade gained by the opening of the can I would be greater, he contended, if the United States had a more powerful fleet to wield more influence in the maritime world.

A feature of the women's auxiliary of the congress was an address by Miss Alice Davies, representative of the department of commerce, who is trying to interest women in the movement for better roads. Miss Davies said that by a well organized system of education among the women and children of the south the movement for good roads would be greatly strengthened.

Washington, October 29.—Postmus-ter General Burleson is the author of what is expected to prove one of the "six best sellers" among the books of the coming season. Announcement was made today that it was off the press and soon could be had at thousands of postoffices and subpostoffices of postofices and subpostofices throughout the country. The book, its attractive title being "24:1c-2c," is embellished with beautiful engravings and will sell for the nominal sum of 73 cents.

A demand for such a book was recognized by those who approved of that other sterling little volume issued by the government and which contained twelve 2-cent stamps; the price of which was 25 cents. The new volume is to contain twenty-four 2-cent and an equal number of 1-cent stamps.

The leaves of this new educational work," said a postofice official today, "will go far to fill a long-felt want. In fact, properly used, they will go as far as the Philippines, Hawali or Porto Rico. It is seldom announcement is made of a new volume that is destined to exert so widespread an influence. The department loday bisued in-tructions to postmasters throughout the country concerning the issue of the new stamp book.

RAILROAD REHABILITATION.

In the fullness of time it begins to appear as though the railroads, heretofore given to carving "melons" for the benefit of speculators and financial "operators," may be about to cut a billion dollar melon for the benefit of the whole people. Admittedly, the rehabilitation so drastically needed by the transportation system of America will cost a cool billion. Portions of that sum would percolate into every conceivable trade artery. Public sentiment and even the interstate commerce commisslon seem shaping to make that rehabilitation possible.

A recent address made by Chairman E. E. Clark, of the commission, to the National Association of Railway Commissioners, is significant. He told his hearers that the railreads could not provide the transportation facilities asked of them, as to freight and passengers, unless their income was increased and their credit strengthened. This meant, he intimated, a general if small elevation of rates. He admitted prejudice against such policy, growing out of the past high financiering and abuses of the carriers. But he said that if the carriers are to be penalized for their past sins, the commerce of the whole nation would be made the victim. No one doubts that the railroads of the whole country are in need of extensive standardization. Their equipment and facilities are entirely insufficient to meet the daily demands upon them, not to anticipate the future. It is conservatively estimated that at least a billion dollars is required for this task, which cannot much longer with safety be delayed.

No one recognizes the situation more keenly than the average railroad head. But he knows also that it is impossible for the railroad to market bonds and securities so long as its income is, as at present, upon a problematic and fluctuating basis.

If the railroads could borrow the money they need, hypothecating their securities in return, the resulting enormous expenditures would flow into every commercial and industrial channel in America. The prosperity that now lacks a finishing touch because the railroads have, perforce, stayed out of the purchasing market would mount into unprecedented proportions: The country in general would begin to enjoy one of the most opulent eras in its history.

The public would not object to a modest increase in rates, if the increase were made uniform and if there were no indications of discrimination. The American people are not slow to recognize a crisis when they meet one, and they are beginning to understand the folly of attempting to wreak punishment upon the railroad of today for the offenses of the railroad of yesterday.

Any hesitancy on part of public sentiment is to be found in fear that these ancient sins may be repeated. The public wants to know that the huge treasure imperatively needed by the railroads will go to the laying of tracks, the purchasing of supplies and the replacement of equipment. and not to thimble-rigging purposes, crushing competitors and huge "melon" dishouts. The people do not grudge the railroads honest dividends. But they do not expect again to tolerate the distribution of what used to be the equivalent of piratical prize money. Reliable evidence is at hand that an era of better understanding has been reached as between the railroads and the people. The former seem resolved on a more straightforward course. The latter have punctured the pretense of the political, ghost-dancers and the muckrakers. The interstate commerce commission itself appears minded to ward off old vicious practices, and to ask for a square deal for the railroads as well as the people. In view of this crystallizing situation, the railroads stand an increasingly excellent chance to dispose of their securities upon fair terms, and to administer the proceeds strictly for the rehabilitation of which they stand so drastically in need.

In the process of rehabilitation the huge sums to be expended will quicken prosperity in every channel. In the ensuing good times there will be all the splendid phenomena that characterized the flush seasons of 1905-6, without the costly reaction of 1907. The country is too well chastened to justify the fear of a repetition of that disaster.

THE ROAD CONGRESS.

The initiative of the people of Atlanta will largely determine whether this city is to secure the 1914 convention of the American Road Congress, with its several thousand delegates from all parts of the country and its far-flung and inestimable stimulation to highway activities. Charles P. Light, field secretary of the congress, recently spent several days here on a scouting tour. What he found in Atlanta and what he was told by Atlantans led him to believe this city to be the logical site for the next convention, which is this year to be held in the south. The superior geographical and other advantages possessed by Atlanta should insure the choice of this city, if its people manifest their characteristic spirit of enterprise. The idea of the association in holding its conventions year by year in different sections is to make national its influence for roadway construction. One convention already has been held in Richmond. To reach all parts of the south it is natural the choice should fall on Atlanta. Of all cities south of Mason and Dixon's line Atlanta has the best facilities for reaching and for being reached by southern points. Additionally. Georgia is inseparably identified in the national mind with the tremendous and unique good roads crusade inaugurated by this state in placing its convicts upon the public highways. The hotel and auditorium facilities of the city are unsurpassed by any city of its size in the world.

It is difficult to estimate the impetus to all manner of road-building activities that would come as an inevitable sequence to the holding here of a convention of such magnitude. Every county in Georgia, and all states surrounding Georgia would feel the

The Hotel Men's Association of Atlanta has underwritten the movement to bring the convention to this city, and they will have the co-operation of business men and citizens generally.

PARKER'S SOUND ADVICE.

When John M. Parker, of New Orleans. addresses himself to the subject of cotton and cotton exports he speaks with the authority of a specialist. He was the principal speaker at one of the recent sessions of the Southern Commercial Congress, and his theme was, "The Panama Canal and Cotton Exports."

Mr. Parker dwelt upon a feature The Constitution has often touched, and that is the probability that in time we will have to reconcile ourselves to forfeit a large part of our cotton goods sale to the Orient to Japan and China, especially the former country. He showed that Japan aspires, and with reason, to be the England of the far east. She has the location. She has the cheap labor and she has the energy and ingenuity. It will be painful reading to those southerners and Americans generally who have not kept abreast to be told that we must in all probability relinquish hope of a long-coveted monopoly in Oriental trade. But Mr. Parker's logic is sound, and he presents a compensation.

South and Central American western coasts, he shows, have a population of 20,000,000, and do an import business of $200,000,000 a year. He sees no reason why America, and specifically the south, should not reap the larger share of this trade. Mr. Parker spoke, moreover, in terms of the present only. When these countries take on their real stride—and the opening of the canal will be the signal—the 20,000,000 population and the $200,000,000 in imports will jump to inestimable proportions.

But before the south can begin to extract pay dirt from this gold mine it must meet a few conditions. Read what Mr. Parker says:

Cur manufacturers should offer these people what they want, and not what we think they should have. Nearly every consular report complains of the utter disregard of the American shipper in complying with the purchaser's orders in regard to packing, and at the same time refers to the scrupulture of the British, in seeing packages put the careful as ordered. This is a most then of the British in seeing packages put up exactly as ordered. This is a most important matter due to the difficulties of transportation. Most of the freight is carried from the sea coast often far inland, and the great cases in which we see our cotton goods packed in this country are utterly unserviceable where the mule or the party of the colly matter. utterly unserviceable where the mule or burro has to serve as the only means of transportation.

Lack of adaptability to native needs and customs has long been one of the greatest impediments to the growth of America's trade abroad. Mr. Parker summons the south to remedy this condition. Unless it does so, and starts about the task now, the people whose money built the Panama canal will not reap the benefit to which they are entitled from its operation.

The Sleeping Passenger. (From Louisville Courier Journal.)

According to a ruling in the circuit court of Christian county, it is not the duty of trainmen to wake up sleeping passengers who have reached their destination.

Suit for damages had been filed against a railroad company by a man who had been carried past his station. He was on his way to Hopkinsville one night last summer and was asleep when the train reached that city. He failed to hear the trainman's familiar call of "all out for Hopkinsville." and was carried on to Guthrie, where he was compelled to spend the night and buy a ticket back home the following morning.

The court dismissed the plaintiff's suit on peremptory instructions, holding that the train crew had done all that was required n calling the station and stopping the train For the man who occupies a berth in a Pullman there would be cause of action in such a case. The situation is different with the man who risks 40 winks of sleep in a chair in the day coach and unwittingly exceeds the limit. He is supposed to know where he is going and to be on his way with eyes ears open. He is presumed to have a definite idea as to where he gets off.

A Story of the Moment By WALT MASON, The Famous Arose Poet

SOME REASONS WHY.

"It's almost impossible to get a good girl for general housework," complained the druggist. "I have been advertising for a girl for a week, offering fabulous sums in wages, and all the privileges any human being could ask, but the competent girls don't apply for the portfolio. A few freaks have called at the front door offering to go to work, but my wife turned them all down at sight. You can get plenty of inexperienced girls, but the capable, experienced ones are conspicuous by their absence."

"The capable, experienced girls have blown into some other line of business," said the village patriarch. "The highest ambition of every domestic is to get a job in a store or photograph gallery, so that she can preserve her complexion and keep her hands from looking like pickled mackerel. I can't say that I blame her when I survey the situation calmly, although I often have argued to the contrary.

"We hear and say a great deal about the advantages of kitchen employment, but in our hearts we don't really believe in them. I can't imagine any sane woman taking an active accrest in housework, even when she's doing it for herself; when she is doing it for somebody else the strain must be almost unendurable.

"Every woman wants to look as well as she can, and while we tell her that it is cheap vanity on her part, and point out that sterling worth beats beauty all to thunder, we expect her to be as attractive as possible. If she fails, to be attractive, we tell her that we are willing to be her brothers, when she asks us to be her bride-Well, a girl in the kitchen feels that she is sacrificing all the good looks she fell heir to. One minute she is steaming her face over a kettle, and the next she is baking it over an oven. She ruins her hands splashing around in dishwater, and her hair gets full of soap grease. Every time she looks in the mirror she feels that something will have to be done, and so she sits up all night studying stenography or civil engineering or something of that kind, and the first chance she has she breaks into one of the learned professions, and all king's horses and all the king's men couldn't drag her back to the culinary department

"The domestic has so many annoyances that it would take an hour to enumerate The very fact that she is called a domestic is a grievance. It seems to take her out of the ranks of human beings and place her among the horses and cows. If a man called me a domestic the blood would boil in my veins, and I'd forget my burden of years long enough to put a sole-leather ear on him.
"No woman ever treats a domestic just right. I have had more wives than the average man, and they always had hired girls, and not one of them knew how to treat those damsels. One of my wives was too familiar, and another too haughty, and The most common fault is an excess of hauteur. The average woman seems to take a demoniac pleasure in ordering the suffering domestic around after the manner of an empress of Russia. In this country people won't stand for that sort of thing, and so the haughty females spent most of their time trying to engage new girls, and wondering why they can't keep them when they get them.

"Other women are always on the look-out for errors. They'll sail into the kitchen and paw around and raise old Ebenezer if they find some grease on the range, or if the soap is being wasted, or if the dishrag needs washing. If there are no sins of omission or commission to kick about, they'll invent some, and raise a riot anyhow. Women of this sort seldom, if ever, find anything to praise. A girl may ruin her shirt-waist trying to please, and never hear a word of approval; but if she drops an old three-cent glass tumbler, that tumbler immediately becomes priceless cut glass, and you can hear the mistress squawking for blocks

"The wonder is that any women find it. possible to engage flery, untamed domesand tribulations which beset those unfortunate handmaldens. My prediction is that they will become scarcer and scarcer until women have to do their own housework, and then the republic will crumble

"I Remember My Mother." William Rose Benet.

I remember my mother In the deep still night-time, When books were on the shelves again And toys were put away, When the moonlight filled my bedroom And the shadow-time, the flight-time Of happy, sleepy memories Remade the merry day.

How soft the door was opened, How swift she stole upon me. With covers for my carelessness Awake enough to see Her silver dress of silentness, Her wistful brows that won me; To feel her touch upon me. And the way she looked at me!

The book that always slipped from bed Was smiled upon and taken. The clothes that lay both far and near Were folded on the chair, last, she kissed me lightly, Sc lightly-not to waken, And her white arms were about me, And her soft dark hair.

And charger-borne afar that night Through spectral lands and lonely, With elves close riding For some dungeoned castle-keep, I thought, "My pretty Mother! I wear her favor only." I thought, "My lovely Mother!" And smiled in my sleep.

Kieff Not Typical Russian City. (From the London Chronicle,).

Kieff, more familiar as Kiev, scene of the great "ritual murder" trial, is the earliest seat of Christianity in Russia. As the most ancient capital of the empire it has earned ins title of mother of cities. Its far-stretching monastery of Petcherskaya Lavra is of the wonders of the world. With many a church and chapel and innumerable monkish cells within its high wall, the "City of Caves" forms a town by itself. To the cata-combs cut out of the solid rock every year come pilgrims from all over Russia to worship at the shrines of the saints who came years ago from Byzantium.

But Kieff is not a typically Russian city. ft has lost its early Byzantine character without gaining the modern Russian spirit a result attributed to the rule of the Poles, who kept the city under their influence for centuries. So you may call the Kieff people Little Russians who differ from the Great Russians as much as the English do from the Scots. Imperialists did their best seventy years ago by establishing a local university to Russify the town, but most writers agree that ancient elements are still alive, and that Kieff is the right place for a mediaeval trial.

The World's Mysteries

DID BYRON WRITE "WERNER,"

Byron wrote "Werner," when this drama is credited to him and was published under his name, and yet some doubt has been thrown upon the subject by a statement made by F. Leveson Gower, in 1899, to the effect that Byron was not the author but that it was written by Mr. Gower's grandmother, the Duchess of Devonshire. He claims that the duchess wrote the play and gave the manuscript of it to her niece, Lady Caroline Ponsonby, and that she, some years later, handed it over to Lord Byron, who subsequently published it in his own name Lady Caroline became acquainted with Lord Byron in 1812, and fell desperately in love with him. At first his vanity was flattered; but he gradually became bored by her pursuit of him, and in 1818, after many quarrels, a final rupture between them took There is absolute proof that the duchess wrote a drama founded on Miss Lee's tale "Kreutzner, or the Hungarian," which is the same subject as Byron's accredited drama.

Byron's "Werner" was published in 1822 in November. There is another slight cir-cumstance which bears upon the question. It was Byron's habit to hand over his poems some lady friend to be fairly copied out. Mrs. Shelley, who was living with her husband at that time with Byron at Pisa, wrote out a fair copy of "Werner," which still exists, and is the copy from which the poem was printed; and it is noteworthy that while the rough copies of his other poem have been preserved, no rough copy of "Werner" is to be found. This is easily "Werner" is to be found. to be accounted for if what Mrs. Shelley transcribed was a copy of the original manuscript, the production of another person but not so if it was the production of the

The internal evidence, it would appear, is even more important. This cannot fail to strike any one who compares this tragedy with his other poems. When it appeared it was at once condemned, alike by friends and critics. Though they were struck by its inferiority to his other works it naturally never occurred to them that it was not written by Byron. One of them wondered

It seems an odd question to ask whether , what Byron could be at. Some praised the work as a drama, for which they gave Miss Lee the credit; but they all found fault with the poetry. Blackwood said of it: "It is indeed most unmusical, most melancholy." It is true that in Byron's dramas the blank verse is generally poor, but not to the same extent as it is in "Werner." In this play whole passages are taken bodily from Miss Lee's tale, with only the occasional addition of a word to make it scan like blank verse. It is indeed remarkable that a poet who had such wealth of language at his command should offer to the public as poetry the prose of another person. "All this," Mr. Gower says, "proves that Byron committed, so extraordinary an act as to deliberately publish the work of another author over his own name. Naturally," he further states, "many persons will disbelieve it, and will declare it impossible that so great a poet should, at the height of his fame, assume the authorship of anything so inferior. Was he not aware that it was in the power of some of the rela-tions of the duchess to expose him by producing her manuscript? But he may have thought that Lady Caroline had destroyed it, and that they knew nothing about it, or e may have relied upon their unwillingness to do anything that would revive the scandal that was already connected with her name. It may have been this consideration which induced the daughters of the duches and the Ponsonby family to keep the mas

On the other hand, no member of any of the families descendant from the duchess have ever been able to produce the manuscript they claim that she wrote and that Byron appropriated. The frantic efforts Byron made in 1822 to sell this manuscript is another evidence that the family of the duchess claim against him, for his correspondence shows that he needed money badat that time, not for himself, but to help the cause of Greece. Was it possible that he was so deeply involved wilth work for struggling Greece, that he found no time to write anything of the character himself. and therefore appropriated the efforts of the Duchess of Devonshire, thereby gaining the money he so badly desired.

REST.By GEORGE FITCH. Author of "At Good Old Siveah"

Rest is the process of recuperating after labor. Rest is a very important duty of man. If e were to work continuously without rest, he would soon fade away and be deposited upon the junk pile of worn out humanity. This is because labor tears down the muscle cells. Therefore, it is necessary that man should occasionally sit down in a quiet spot and allow himself to be rebuilt. Rest after labor is a great boon. But a large number of people make the grave mistake of resting at the wrong time. They insist on resting before work. This leads to grave consequences. The system keeps on piling up muscle cells on top of the old ones, and presently the owner thereof is too strong to work. This is a terrible condition, and leads to great woe. The earth is encumbered with men who cannot work until they get through resting, and who cannot get through resting until they have begun work. In the meantime their wives' clear-starching is much admired by our best families. Various people require greatly varying amounts of rest. A man who works hard twelve hours a day with his hands can get enough rest in the evening in two pipefulls of tobacco to restore himself completely. But a banker who works from 10 to 2 has to go out on the golf links for three hours a day in order to keep from drooping like a weary flower.

Some men work all their lives without vacations, while others take a month off each year and rest with great fury at the seashore or in the mountains, or amid the taxicabandits of Europe. A great many people criticise this country severely because there is no rest in it to speak of. In England man works from rest to rest, while in this country men rest from work to work and regard the resting ime as a dead loss. Englishmen rest in the morning, at noon, in the afternoon for tea, and from Friday until Monday. Then they retire at 45 and rest the remainder of their lives-after which they die, leaving enough of money to enable their descendants to rest on forever. In America, man works until the electric light plant breaks down, takes his vacation with a secretary two stenographers, and celebrates his seventieth birthday by organizing a trust.

This is one of the things which leads to he general suspicion that the Englishman has no sense of humor.

"Father" and "Mother" Best. "Father" and "mother" are difficult words to improve upon when one thinks of the associations they convey, and the dignity of their meaning. Many, however, have been the offshoots of these appellations. "Papa" and "mamma" have been in use in England for at least three centuries, and it is generally accepted that they are of Italian origin, as Dante uses the word "mamma" in the Furgatorio. Among middle class folk "dad" or "daddy" is a favorite nickname. 'Dad" is of pure Welsh extraction and is derived from or is a corruption of the word "tad."

"Pater" and "mater" make their appearance when students are in the throes of Latin grammar. "Poppa" and "momma" have appealed to the young American. None of these nicknames, or terms of endearment, can, however, approach the beautiful Anglo-Saxon definition of parents "father" and "mother," and it is these terms that one clings to when childhood's

By Miss Isma Dooly. Cuthbert, Ga., October 29.—(Special.) With three general sessions today, executive board meetings and many committee meetings, the annual conven-tion of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs is in full swing, the pres ence of the general federation presi-dent, Mrs Percy Pennybacker, adding nspiration to the assemblies questions through your committees for the study of political science so that you will be ready for any responsibil-ity which your government may now or in the future entrust to you," was a significant statement made by Mrs. Pennybacker, which set the women to thinking, though the word suffrage has not been mentioned in the convention. Mrs Pennybacker participated in the brief and beaftiful memorial service to the late Mrs. H. C. White, which was conducted by Mrs M. A. Lapscomb. She discussed that beloved woman as the club women, phillonthropist and social leader, but described the heart and soul of her work as that which illuminated her home.

Work Begins at Home.

"Woman's work is without the foundation to support it and keep it going unless she wields it first in the home," declared the general federation president in the address made by her at the evening sossion of the convention. She urged the attendance of the Georgia women at the blenmal to meet in Chicago next June. We need the inspiration a delegation of splendid Georgia women can give us and you need the ispiration the delegation will bring back to Georgia.

Georgia is the only state which has been twice visited by Mrs. Pennybacker, since she has led the forces of the natin's organized women.

At the conclusion of the morning session the entire assembly was entertained at a beautiful luncheon given by the Girls' club of Cuthbert, at Andrew college, the social center of the convention. "Woman's work is without the foun-

No feature of the evening program was received with more interest than the report made by Mrs. J. Lindsay Johnson as editor of the Woman's Edition of the Constitution, published June 4, by which the nucleus of a state endowment was secured.

CONVICTED OF ARSON.

Negro Prosecuted by Chief Joyner Found Guilty.

Jefferson, Ga., October 29.—(Special.) Emory Montgomery, colored, charged ith arson, was found guilty this afternoon and sentenced to 131/2 years in prison. The case was vigorously prosecuted by State Fire Insurance in prison. The case was vigorously prosecuted by State Fire Insurance Commissioner W. R. Joyner.

The evidence submitted shows that J. D. Davis rented an old dairy which he used as a barn and in which the owners of the building stored feed. The building was insured for $1,00. Shortly afterward the owners of the building removed a large portion of the building permoved a large portion of the building permoved a large portion of the building burned to the ground.

Suspicion at the time pointed strongly to the negro, Emory Montgomery, who was in the vicinity. Chief Joyner made an investigation. He then ordered the solicitor general, John B. Gamble, to have Montgomery taken into custody.

Detective J. A. Harris was detailed to the case, and the negro was given the third degree. He confessed to the crime in the presence of three white witnesses. Montgomery later denied that he confessed. The case was doubly fought with three prominent lawyers on each side.

Georgia State Fair SALTS FOR KIDNEYS October 21-31, 1913

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally else we have backache and dull misery handsches ged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmiess; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications plications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Believed Negro's Word.

'They would rather believe the negro's word. They took it in preference and, in believing it, put the nasty brand of liar on a sweet, little white girl. Oh, how times have changed. I hope to God I die before they change any worse than this.

'Was that all? No. This jury of brave and fearless knights, courageous and unfrightened, sat in their seats and announced to the assembled city that the little Kern girl's story and that of Mrs. Levy and Mr. and Mrs. Selig were lies in the face of the filthy negro's reeking tale. 'Away with Mrs and Mrs Selig, away with Mrs. Levy, away with Anglo-Saxons, you are corruptors, perjurers,' and these twelve good men and true wrapped their arms lovingly and tenderly around this stinking black brute, saying 'we love you, Jim, we love you, will battle Tech High hard.

Tech High, having a good chance to win the Prep league championship, as well as the State Prop championship this year, is determined to win this battle and the team that will go into the game Friday will be a fighting one and will play G. M. A. to the bitter end.

The loss of "Bill" Bedell will hurt Tech High considerably. When the team went to Rome Bedell was hurt and has been unable to play sine inen, and it looks as if he will not be able to participate in any of the remaining games. He is a clean player and was a sure ground gainer for Tech High and the team will feel his loss.

The game will start promptly at 3 30 o'clock and an admission price of 25 cents will be charged.

While the two captains may make some minor changes, this is the way that they will in all probability line up.

Zach Curlin, with all his faculty disabilities removed, will take the general-hip place on the Vandy eleven for the game Saturday with Virginia. Curlin carries about as cool a football head on his shoulders as there is in existence, and he is expected to strengthen the Vanderbilt attack as the result; in addition, his educated toe should be of considerable service. Confidence has been replaced by determination in the Vanderbilt squad. They believe the dope points to the Old Dominion eleven winning, and with such a condition existing, the first time such a condition existing, the first twanderbilt camp in years, there promises to be some lovely scrapping at Charlottesville Saturday.

Despite the fierce game with Michigan and the way in which they were hammened by the heavier Wolverines, with the exception of Brown, every man on the squad came out of the game in great shape. This is a bighelp, as McGusin can drive his reconstructed machine at a florce clip in preparation without having to cater to the injured men.

practice, and their showing was quite disappointing to their supporters. "Nick" Allen, who started at guard for Company C, and was later shifted to center, roughed it throughout the time he played, and when the game had but five minutes to go, he had a short encounter with a forward of the Company H team. When the referee tried to stop the combat, Allen struck him in the face, drawing blood, and it was only when spectators interfered that a general fight was prevented. The game was not finished, as Company C had not a player to substitute for Allen, who was ruled out.

HE CALLS LAND LAWS

HE CALLS LAND LAWS BLIGHT ON PROGRESS

Tulsa, Okia, October 29—Representative Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, chairman of the house committee on public lands, in an address before the International Dry Farming congress here tonight, criticised the administration of affairs in the interior department and assailed United States land laws now in force as a "jargon of inconsistencies that retard progress and development."

now in force as a "jargon of inconsistencies that retard progress and development."

"Our land laws are in many respects crude, irreconcliable, inefficient, without uniformity, confusing to the brain of the settler and impossible of interpretation by the layman," Mr. Ferris declared. "Most of our so-called land laws are simply a confusing mass of executive orders, rulings, interpretations and decisions made by bureau chiefs and clerks in the various ramifications of the interior department. "During my service in congress we have had four secretaries of the interior, Ballinger, Garfield, Fisher and Lane. The views of these four menhave differed in policy, on questions of law, on questions of construction and many of the decisions made are actually obstructive to the settlement of the lands of the west and a blight on the development of the unbounded resources of a nation.

"On the question of the management of our public lands the last two national administrations have been wandering in a maze of conjecture which is blighting to both east and west."

Mr. Ferris urged that land withdrawn by the government for exploration for minerals, but found to contain none, should be more quickly restored to settlement.

'Conservationists who believe in fighting greed and irregular dealing are those among whom we will all finally enlist.' Mrs Ferris continued, "but the conservationists who believe in a policy of non-use, opposing well regulated use and development of our resources are. In my judgment of a school of perhaps patriotic thought, but without real first-hand information as to true conditions."

BIG RAIL BOND ISSUE

Boston, October 29.—Former Gover-nor Morgan G. Bulkeley, of Hartford, Conn., and Charles S. Ensign, of New-Conn., and Charles S. Ensign, of Newton, brought a bill in equity in the supreme court today asking that the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company be enjoined from issuing bonds to the amount of $57.52,000 and 675.526 additional shares of stock authorized at the meeting of stockholders August 22. A subpoena has been issued returnable the first Monday of December.

The complainants, who are stockholders, say it is contemplated that the additional shares of stock shall be distributed only to holders of the convertible bonds it is proposed to issue. They allege the proposed distribution violates their rights.

1545 Aisquith St., Baltimore, Md. -My children were afflicted with what they called ringworm of the scalp contracted from a house-cat they were playing with The ringworm formed on their scalps about the size of a silver dollar and their hair fell out, leaving a round scale or crust on their scalps. Their hair fell out in round spots. There was terrible itching and they scratched till the blood came They were very fretful very cross. They were treated for several months with no improvement whatsoever. Instead of improving they were getting worse and the ringworm was spreading and getting larger. I was told they would never have any hair and would always be baid. Then I began using Cuticura Soap in connection with Cuticura Cintment and the first week I could see the wonderful remedies were doing all they were claimed to do and in six weeks' time they were entirely cured. Cox's Dog Is Found

Tuesday morning Pete, T. E. Cox's white and speckled dog, disappeared.

Tuesday evening Mr. Cox inserted the following advertisement in the Lost and Found column of The Constitution:

Wednesday morning Mr. Cox was called to the telephone. A Mr. Terry was on the wire.

"Did you lose your dog?" asked Mr. Terry.

"I did," said Mr. Cox.

"Probably I have him," said Mr. Terry. "I bought a dog last night from a negro for $10."

"I'll pay back the $10 if you'll return the dog," said Mr. Cox, and Mr. Terry took the dog to 17 Wall street.

The negro that stole the dog was traced by the police, arrested and taken to jail.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, October 19.—Bearish pressure was put on the cotton market today and prices tell off under it over a dollar a bate, although the decline was not any too well maintained and quickly responded to the buying when sellers of the morning tried to take profits in the afternoon. Wenther in first did not have their usual effect. Little attention was paid to the cold shid weather conditions in the cotton belt.

The bears made much use of a crop estimate of 15,000,000 bates by a prominent operator, and the heavlest selling of the session followed the publication of these ignores. Butis sent out numerous telegrams stating that the estimate was not being seriously considered, but this did not stop the short selling from the bear side which appeared to be well organized.

The market opened steady at a decline of 11 to 15 points. This decline was in response to lower prices in other markets. Selling increased, and around the middle of the day the trading months went 20 to 25 points under Monday's final quotations. In the early afternoon there was a recovery of 10 to 12 points, but the market sagged again later, closing steady at a not loss for the day of 16 to 19 points.

Ctop reports from nearly all sections of the belt were unfavorable, complaining of rexas and Mississippl stated that the crop was all but picked.

New York, October 29.—Without any bearish efforts and with little short selling the market eased off a dellar a bale today. Eyerything that can be said on the ong side for the time being has been said. The buying has been done. Liverpool is due to 1 and 1½ points up. Comparative Post Receipts.

New York, October 23.—Cables this morning were slightly better than due, under the influence of a smaller crop estimated the crop at 13,870,000 bales, including linters, stating also that his London office estimated the consumption at 14,750,000 bales. Here, however, there was further liquidation on the opening followed by a certain amount of hedge selling from the eastern belt, which is selling, bringing about a partial recovery before the close. This reaction from the highest prices reached the latter part of last week is very natural, in view of the fact that the crop in the eastern belt has always been a fairly large one and that it is now moving rapidity to market bringing from time to time a pressure of hedges upon the market, which is not immediately absorbed in the absence of any broad built speculation. It is a local feeling that this pressure must bring about a further decline, but it is to be expected, on the other hand, that the trade demand will increase on any creession and a period of bad weather which should check the marketing for the time being would bring about a quick recovery here.

Liverpool is due unchanged to 1½ up to-morrow.

IN THE AFTERNOON

In Early Part of Session Principal Stocks Advanced a Point or Two, But Market Afterward Became Heavy.

New York, October 29.—Quotations of the principal stocks were carried up a point or more in the forepart of today's session, but the market turned heavy in the afternoon. The reaction today's session, but the market turned heavy in the afternoon. The reaction in many cases brought prices under yesterday's close.

Conditions in the money markets here and abroad figured prominently in determining the temper of speculation. In London private discounts were higher, following the engagement of gold there for New York yesterday. No further enaggements of gold were expected at this time and the belief was expressed by international bankers that the Bank of England directors that the per cent. The rate rose later to 5½ per cent. Preparations for November dividend and Interest payment and the continued flow currency to the interior influenced the trend of the money markets.

In London, American stocks were depressed. There was some selling here for foreign account Restriction of funds in this market for speculative purposes also exerted an unfavorable influence.

Reports that the Mexican situation was entering upon a more serious phase and further depressing news from the steel trade helped to turn the market downward. The weekly review of The Iron Age, a recognized trade authority, was frankly pessimistic, speaking of further price concessions, reductions in working forces and curtailment of operations.

Bonds were firm and active with considerable strength in various low priced issues.

Total sales, par value, $2,285,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WON'T BOW TO BOSSES

Albany, N. Y., October 29.—Speaking at a banquet of upstate democratic editors Governor Glinn declared his independence of the party leaders, said he had no intention of trying to succeed himself in the office to which he had been advanced by the impeachment of Governor Sulzer, promised the state a business administration and told the newspaper men he wanted them to be newspaper men he wanted them to be newspaper men he wanted them to be his "kitchen cabinet."

The banquet was tendered the editors by the governor after he had conferred informally with them at the executive chamber, where they came on his invitation this afterneon. "I want to send you home with one thought in your minds," the governor said, "that I am going to try to be the best governor, that every drop of blood in my veins, or every atom of brain in my head will allow me to be, and to leave behind a decent record.

"I don't believe, under existing circumstances, I could be a candidate to succeed myself, and I have no intention of trying to be."

IN SOUTH KIRKWOOD

WE TAKE pleasure in announcing to the public that beginning this week we will place on sale twenty-four lots in south Kirkwood, known as the Hunnicutt-Ashford property.

Mr. L. P. Bottenfield has handled successfully more subdivisions in the last two years than any other man in the city. Almost every one in Atlanta knows that his judgment of property values is unerling, and that before offering investments to the public he first assures himself that the investor will make a sure profit. So, when he places upon the market the Hunnicutt-Ashford property and recommends it to either investor or homeseeker, whichever you are, you may know that if you put your money in one or more of these lots you will make a good profit in the next twelve months.

one or more of these lots you will make a good profit in the next twelve months.

These lots are bounded by Bixby, South Howard, Fair and Elenoir streets, none of them less than 50 feet front, with an elevation of from one to three feet. They have city water and sewerage, and are convenient to schools and churches, the South Decatur and Stone Mountain car lines and churches, the South Decatur and Stone Mountain car lines.

There is also a car line projected to go out Fair street and under the new bond issue of the city of Kirkwood South Howard street is to be cherted. All these improvements combine to make these lots one of the safest and best small investments that we know of anywhere, ither in or around Atlanta. The prices range from $500 to $500, with a small cash payment, and the balance either monthly or yearly So don't wait any longer to invest that money you have been saving, until a good opportunity should present itself, but realize now that a better opportunity to make a little money work for you will never come

Call at our office early tomorrow and let us show you these lots—there are only twenty-four and they won't last long.

Friends of Blind Are Urged To Prevent Home Being Sold

The Industrial Home for the Blind Men of Georgia, located in this city, will be soid next Tuesday if some friends do not come to the rescue for the balance due on the property. The institution was established for the purpose of enabling the blind men of our state to support themselves with taeir own handicraft, in the manufacture of throoms.

The Association for the Blind Men of Georgia was organized for the help of fry adult blind of Georgia about two years ago. The industrial home was established about one year ago. The directors of this home have secured enough money during the vear to make a small payment on the property and to purchase the machinery for the manufacture of mooms But they have been compelled to shut down because of lack of capital with which to operate the institution. During the time they were able to run the home they made their own expenses.

YOUNG GIRL FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACKS; MEMORY HAD LAPSED

Apparently lifeless, a young girl was found at sunday Wednes-day lying 12ce downward on the Southern railroad track not far from the end of the Luckie street car line. It was found by a lad who ran to the confectionery store of Lyons & Kinibrek with the news. Both members of the firm hurried to the scene. They carried the girl to the Hemphill avenue pharmacy at the corner of Tenth street and Hemphill avenue. Dr. J. M. Freeman, who was hastly summoned, pronounced the girl to be suffering from the effects of a powerful drug. After ten minutes of artifficial respiration the girl regained consciousness: Her throat was found to be partially paralyzed. She was unable to give her name.

Just as her restorers were on the verge of calling the Grady hospital ambulance two young men arrived and identified the girl. They said her name was Minnie Acceage, of No. 200 Mason and Turner road. In the interim Some one had called the police Call Officers Milam and Palmer responded.

When the girl's father, who had been notified, arrived he told the police that his daughter had suffered from a sinking spell earlier in the day and that on several occasions her memory had Southern railroad track not far from

GRIFFIN POLICE CHIEF ENTERTAINS ATLANTANS

Chief of Police Pate Phelps, of Griffin, Ga, last night at 6 o'clock entertained a score of prominent Atlantans and members of the Atlanta police department it a delicious dinner served in one of Griffin's leading hotels. The Atlanta party left for Griffin about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in automobiles and arrived in Griffin just before dinner. Among the men who enjoyed Chief Phelps' hospitality were Captain W. M Mayo, Gay C. Febuary, Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford, Attorney William M. Smith, Sergeant George Nealy, W. T. Morris and Claud Nealy, Attorney Smith, who has lately been mentioned as a candidate for recorder if Judge Broyles is elected on the court of appeals, acted as toastmaster. The party returned at a late hour last night indorsing Chief Phelps, of Griffin, as an admirable host.

AT THE THEATERS.

Primrose and Dockstader.

Trimitose and Dockstader.

(At the Atlanta.)

Tonight the Primrose and Dockstader minstrels come to town and gayety will reign supreme This company is made up of many famous black-face stars in addition to Lew and George themselves, and they are presenting what is accounted the best minstrel show in years. The critics of the south have been enthusiastic in their praise of the company. Much of the show is the old-time minstrels and the fans who like this form of entertainment are sure to be pleased. The engagement at the Atlanta is for Thursday, Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matine.

Mabel and Edith Taliaferro.

Mabel and Edith Tallaterro.

(At the Atlanta.)

This morning at 9 o clock seats will be placed on sale at the Atlanta for the engagement of Mabel and Edith Tallaferro in Rachel Crothers' fine comedy. "Young Wisdom," The company supporting the stars is of New York caliber. They come from Washington direct to Atlanta and will make only a short tour of the south before returning east. The story of the play has to dio with the love affairs of two young sisters and each of the Tallaferro sisters have a fine opportunity to display their talents. The engagement is for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with a Wednesday matinee.

Keith Vaudeville.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

A record attendance is being registered this week at the Forsyth theater. One of the best all-round bills containing a good variety is headlined by flarry Bulger and Herbert Corthell two well-known legitimate comedians, who have appeared at the Grand on several occasions within the past few years. They offered an act called "The Smith Brothers," impersonating the coughdrop makers. The sketch 'Cherte," which is receiving so much favorable comment from those of the Forsyth patrons who have already seen it, is receiving the highest indorsement daily. Clayton White is assisted by the charming Miss Mae Phelps, who is delightful in her little French song, and obliged to give an encore at each performance, and by a clever company. Leon Kimberly and Halsey Mohr are registering a big hit with their clever number in songs and plano playing. This act is undoubtedly the cleverest of its sort seen on the vaudeville stage.

"The Third Degree."

"The Third Degree."

(At the Lyric.)

In "The Third Degree" Charle Klein has given the stage a play that will live for years in the memory of theatergeers, and one that treats an interesting subject with force and dramatic charm. Years ago Mr. Klein startled the theatrical world with his great political play, "The Lion and the Mouse," and for several seasons it was the most-talked-of play on the stage. When "The Third Degree' was first put on in New York it made an instantaneous hit and crowded the theaters for something over a year. The offering of this play at popular prices by such a clever company as the one that is appearing this week at the Lyric was sure to meet with public favor and Miss Grayce Scott and her players are receiving flattering notices. "The Third Degree" will remain at the Lyric the entire week, with mathrees Thursday and Saturday.

Jewell Kelley Stock Company.

Jewell Kelley Stock Company.

(At the Bijon.)

The stock season at the Bijon is now in its tenth week of unprecedented success, and judging from the cordial reception that is given each play and the undoubted popularity of every member of the company, it would seem as if the Jewell Kelley company, is destined to have a long run at the popular. "An Orphan's Frayer," is meeting with great success and drawing large audiences to the Bijou. The performance as a whole has been declared by theatergoers one of the best offerings of the company. For next week the management announces another one of its successes in the four-act comedy drame, "A Girl of the Streets," in which Miss Rose Motris will be seen in the title role. On Monday night ladies will be admitted free when accompanied by an escort holding a paid 30-cent ticket.

"The New Office Girl."

(At the Columbia.)

A roaring burlesque comedy, "The New Office Girl," will be the attraction at the Columbia Burlesque theater all this week. Fred Kennedy and Lucretia Vincent, who come from New York after a long engagement, will make their debut. Two big specialty numbers—Wallace and Beach, in a comedy acrobatic turn, and Lewis and Weldon, in a comedy sketch, and an added attraction—will round out what appears to be the best bill offered at the Columbia.

PROMINENT HOTEL MAN

From Chicago Joins the Local Force of Hotel Ansley-Demanded by Phenomenal Business.

Business.

Mr J F Letton, manager of the Hotel Ansley, just returned from a trip to Chicago, and makes the important announcement that while in Chacago he secured the services of Mr Charles Leperruque for the important position as one of the Assistant Managers of the Hotel Ansley. Mr Laperruque will enter upon his duties as Assistant Manager on Thursday, October 30.

In securing Mr. Laperruque for the Hotel Ansley, Atlanta is gaining a citizen of whom it may be proud, and securing for the Hotel Ansley an ideal hotel man. He is a man who has leaned much of the people, and their demands by his extensive travel Mr. Laperruque was born and brought up in a hotel in Haure, France, and under the careful training of his father learned the principles of hotel service, and therefore is a hotel man by nature, and when only fifteen years of age accompanied his father to do the marketing, and thus gained a rare education in this particular line. Upon the death of his partent he came to this country and entered into the service of the Hoffman House in New York city, and there began his indication in American demands and methods Later he went back to Pairs and devoted himself to the mastering of the greatest possibilities in culinary achievements, returning in a few years to New York where he was engaged by the Cafe Savarin, then at Sherry's, and laster the Union Club, of New York city, "inally accepting a position as chef at the Plaza Hotel, where he remained in that capacity for three years, impressing all with the originality and perfection of his work in this line. About this time the magnificent Hotel LaSalle, and Chicago, was opened to the pubble, and the manager, Mr George H, Gazley, on the search for a man of the very highest character and experience, learned of Mr. Laperruque and engaged him from the Plaza Hotel to take charge of the culinary department of the great Hotel LaSalle, and while in this hotel Mr Laperruque and engaged him from the Plaza Hotel to take charge of the culinary department, someone who can give
