

OFFICIAL PROGRAM FOR SHRINERS' WEEK MADE PUBLIC TODAY

All Scheduled Events Have Been Arranged for Busiest Week in Whole History of Atlanta.

RECEPTION AND BALL FEATURE FOR MONDAY

Parade Tuesday Morning Will Be Four and a Half Miles Long—Other Interesting Features.

The official program of the Shriner's meeting here next month is made public for the first time today. It is subject to change, but none is anticipated. It shows the details of the fixed program—the scheduled events around which the busiest week in Atlanta's whole history will be built.

On Monday, May 11, the reception of visiting temples and patrols will keep the city busy throughout the morning. This is when special trains will be arriving every two or three minutes. Atlanta will be full of visitors already, however, for the first of the Shriner's and others will have arrived the preceding Saturday, with others following every hour throughout the rest of that day and Sunday.

At 2:30 p. m. Monday, May 11, the Will Irwin sweepstakes will be conducted at the motorrome. This will be followed by the Yaarab free-for-all races at the motorrome at 8 o'clock that evening.

Grand Reception and Ball. At 8:30 o'clock the grand reception and ball in honor of General Potentate W. W. Irwin and Mrs. Irwin will be held in the Auditorium-Armory. Two bands will furnish the music which will be continued following each other without intermission. More couples than ever before have danced at one time and place are expected to be on the floor that evening.

Tuesday night, May 12, will see the great parade, with more bands in line than have played at the inauguration of any president or the coronation of any king. This will be a half mile long, of the imperial potentate from his headquarters in the Hotel Ansley to the imperial council meeting place in the City Club. At 10 o'clock the imperial council will begin its sessions. At 11 the visiting ladies will be conducted on an automobile ride over the county's prettiest roads, with luncheon at the Hotel Ansley. At 1 o'clock the imperial council will recess for luncheon in the Masonic temple. At 2:30 the California handicap races will be run at the motorrome.

Second Grand Parade. At 7:30 o'clock that evening the second grand parade of the day will march through Atlanta's streets. In this will take part not only the patrols and bands which will have appeared in the morning procession, but also every other Shriner in town. At 8 o'clock the Seattle sweepstakes will start at the motorrome. And at 8 o'clock the second grand ball in the Auditorium.

Following is the program for Wednesday, May 13:

Exhibition drills by visiting patrols at Ponce de Leon park, 9 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. This is expected to be one of the big spectacular events of the week, rivaling the two parades in that respect.

Imperial council sweepstakes races at the Motorrome, 2:30 o'clock. Banquet to the newly elected imperial potentate at the Piedmont Driving club, 8 o'clock. Motorrome races, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Grand reception and ball, the third of the week, by Yaarab patrol in honor of visiting patrols and nobles, in the Auditorium, at 9 o'clock.

Visiting Historic Spots. Thursday's program is open for visit to all the points of historic, scenic and sentimental interest in and around Atlanta. This is the day when the visitors will be leaving by train loads for home. At 8 o'clock that evening the members of the imperial council and their ladies will leave for Savannah under escort of Yaarab Temple, to spend Friday there as the guests of Alee Temple. The Savannah program includes automobile rides, shore dinner and surf bathing at Tybee, and other features. At 11:30 o'clock Friday night the visitors will leave Savannah on their way to Atlanta and home. Saturday will find many Shriner's and other visitors still in Atlanta. The last of them will not leave for several days, but the formal program does not extend beyond Friday, May 15.

There will be a ball game at Ponce de Leon park every day during Shrine week, beginning at 9 o'clock each afternoon. It is expected that another regiment will have been stationed at Fort McPherson before then, and that dress parades will be held each afternoon. The federal prison will be open to visitors each morning from 10 to 11 o'clock and each afternoon from 2 to 3 o'clock. While this program is being carried out, Atlanta's visitors will be busy with their own plans. Bands will be playing everywhere downtown day and night. Patrols will be marching and drilling all around. Every phase of Atlanta's normal life will be intensified.

Phantoms in Divorce Court Tell Their Side of the Story

There were thirty-two phantoms in Judge Ellis' division of the superior court Monday. Of course, a courtroom is no place for a phantom—especially phantoms of such disorderly and lawless character as the thirty-two in question. T. A. Burdette, court deputy, would have ejected them, no doubt, except for one fact. They had a right there, having each and every one been summoned to show cause why Mr. Somebody or Mrs. Something-or-other should not be granted a decree of divorce from them. They were a disreputable lot. "It's always a disreputable lot on the day for undefended divorce suits," explained Deputy Burdette. "Just look at the charges against them in the divorce papers. Here's one that hit his wife with a poker when she was getting breakfast. Here's another that deserted a girl of 17. Here's a woman who never did anything but quarrel from the day she was married until the day her husband was compelled to leave her. Here's another woman who ran away with a former lover. A bad lot, these fellows—a bad lot. No wonder they don't dare to answer these suits."

Phantom Tells Story. At this point the deputy was compelled to hand the judge a decree which the jury had just granted, and the visitor was left alone. But not for long. The deputy had scarcely turned away when the visitor felt the clap of a hand on his shoulder. He confronted a stout, jovial phantom of 35 or 40. The phantom pointed a

MORE AFFIDAVITS FOR FRANK MOTION

Reported That Large Number of New Documents Will Form Part of Extraordinary Petition. Lawyers for Leo Frank have come into possession of a large number of new affidavits which are likely to be made public within a short while. These new documents are said to be between twenty and forty in number. Many of them are reported to be from witnesses in the Frank trial who testified for the prosecution. Some of them, it is said, repudiate testimony on the stand, while others charge unfair methods of the prosecution and detective department. Although it was generally admitted that the new affidavits are in existence, members of Frank's counsel refused to discuss them with reporters Monday afternoon. It is stated, with authority, that the affidavits were submitted to Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey at an early date as of supplementary evidence to be contained in the re-trial plea before Judge Ben Hill. Detective Burns spent most of his time Monday in conference with his associates, Guy Biddinger and Dan Lehon. The final report, which he is expected to make between now and Friday, is in process of formation. Although he said that he had not decided definitely, it is probable that the noted detective will seek an interview with Jim Conley some time today. This will be arranged between Burns and the negro's counsel, William M. Smith. The affidavits will also see Hugh Dorsey within the next day or so. He says that he is waiting for the solicitor to finish the press of court business so that he will have sufficient leisure to confer with the detective.

ONLY TEN FIREMEN OF OLD VOLUNTEERS NOW ON THE ROLL

Of the fifty stalwart young men who sixty years ago organized the first volunteer fire company of Atlanta, there are now but ten left. The roll call at the annual meeting of the association of these veteran fire-fighters yesterday morning. Of this number, but five were able to be present at the sixtieth anniversary meeting of the organization, the remaining five being detained by illness or absence from the city. The officers elected by the five veterans were John K. Weaver, president; Charles Klassetz, vice president; John M. Heinz, secretary; E. E. Gardner, treasurer. Henry P. Haney, Charles Heinz and Louis Bender were selected as the finance committee. The living members of the organization are as follows: John M. Heinz, Henry P. Haney, Charles Heinz, Louis Bender, A. Klassetz, Charles Klassetz, J. Mann, E. E. Gardner and H. C. Dunlap. The first president of the association was the late Major John McCaslin.

Waycross Law Upheld. Washington, April 6.—A waycross, Ga., ordinance taxing lightning rod agents for putting up rods within the city was upheld as valid today by the supreme court.

HUERTA PUTS BAN ON CONSUL AGENT OF UNITED STATES

Exequatur Granted to Geo. C. Carothers Has Been Canceled by Dictator Because of Fall of Torreón.

ALLEGED THAT AMERICAN FAVORED THE REBELS

Huerta Charges That Carothers Sent Dispatches During the Battle for the Purpose of Aiding Villa.

Washington, April 6.—The cancellation by the Huerta government of the exequatur of American Consul Agent George C. Carothers because he sent to Washington dispatches saying the rebels had taken Torreón from the Huerta forces, failed to disturb state department officials today. The Huerta government still denies Torreón has fallen.

Roaming Commission. Mr. Carothers obtained his exequatur when he was accredited to the Torreón government and stationed at Torreón. Since the outbreak of the Carranza revolution he has had a roaming commission in northern Mexico and his exequatur from the Mexico City government has been of little value to him, all his dealings being with the constitutionalists. It is the intention of the American government to keep Carothers with General Villa and the constitutionalist leaders to make prompt representations for the safety of American and other foreigners and to look after their interests generally. Should Mr. Carothers find it necessary to go into territory controlled by the Huerta government he may now be unable to do business with its local authorities, but there is no prospect that he personally will be inconvenienced or prevented from making observations as an unofficial representative.

Expulsion of the Spaniards. Official advice telling of the expulsion of the 600 Spaniards from Torreón by General Villa were expected during the day. Until the Spanish ambassador calls to the attention of the state department here, there is little likelihood of any action by the Washington government. The United States itself issued a warning to its own subjects to leave those parts of Mexico where military operations are being carried on and has more than once intimated that other governments might well take similar steps. The right of deportation is one provided for under the Mexican constitution and has been exercised today by the Huerta government and the constitutionalists for alleged military or financial support of the enemy and for various other reasons.

Mr. Riano, the ambassador from Spain, received official notice today of Villa's expulsion of Spanish subjects from Torreón and prepared to make representations in protest to Secretary Bryan. Spain not only objects to their expulsion, but also to the confiscation of their property, which is estimated to run into the millions. No request for recognition of the constitutionalists has been made by General Carranza. President Wilson indicated today that the United States is guided by developments in determining such questions.

Charge Against Carothers. Mexico City, April 6.—The Mexican foreign minister, Señor Torres, today declared that the Mexican government had intercepted a telegram from George C. Carothers, the American consul agent at Torreón, declaring "it is advisable to persist in the statement that Torreón had fallen, though such was not the case, in order to prevent the government from getting reinforcements to the aid of Villa." The said foreign minister, was the reason for the withdrawal of Consul Carothers' exequatur. In making this announcement, the minister appealed to the Secretary of State, declaring that he had information that Carothers had sent dispatches to the United States reporting that General De Moura and Maas, at the head of their forces, had entered Torreón. Those generals recently were reported to be at San Pedro, where they were meeting with strong opposition from the rebels.

ALL THE SPANIARDS ARE BEING EXPELLED

Juarez, Mexico, April 6.—Northern and central Mexico, it is said, are being thoroughly cleared of Spanish residents by the constitutionalists. The latest news of wholesale expulsion of Spaniards was brought here by General Eduardo Gutierrez, commander of the rebel forces in the state of San Luis Potosí. "We have expelled every Spaniard from that part of the state which we control today," he declared. "We control all of it except the capital and the city of Matzahuala. In the state of Zacatecas, where General Panadero has possession of all territory north of the capital, the same course has been followed. I estimate that nearly 1,000 Spaniards have been deported from these two states in the last two months."

Every consideration has been shown them, General Gutierrez said. They have been given plenty of time to carry away their household effects and their possessions, but not one has been permitted to remain inside rebel lines. Justification for the wholesale deportation, it is said, is found by the insurgent chiefs in article 23 of the constitution. Continued on Page Twelve.

UNDERWOOD FOR SENATE BY WHELMING MAJORITY OVER MERRIMAC HOBSON

HIDING BURGLARY BEHIND THE FLAG

That's What Advocates of Free Canal Tolls Are Doing, Charges Senator McCumber.

Washington, April 6.—Publicity for the deliberations on the Panama toll exemption repeal was determined upon today by the senate committee on interoceanic canals, which tomorrow will begin consideration of the controversy from all its aspects. Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the committee, decided upon open sessions at the outset after a conference with his colleagues. Whether hearings are to be held has not been decided, but this will be determined when the house repeal bill and various compromise senate measures are taken up formally. How long the committee will deliberate on the issue before making a report to the senate no one would predict tonight, but administration leaders let it be known that any effort to prolong the preliminary consideration would be opposed even to the extreme of moving to discharge the committee from consideration of the subject.

No Effort to Delay. Senator O'Gorman, leading democratic opponent of the repeal, and others who join with him in the fight, still insist, however, that there will be no effort to delay in committee. When the issue reaches the floor of the senate various forces at work to complicate the situation make it improbable that a vote can be reached for several weeks. Senator McCumber, republican of North Dakota, a member of the foreign relations committee, who steadfastly stands for the repeal, addressed the senate at length today in support of the repeal bill. He flatly declared that toll exemption for American ships was a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and that it was against the spirit of the senate when the treaty was ratified. For the congress to insist upon toll exemption for American coastwise ships, he said, was to hide behind the American flag while burglarizing the treasury for the benefit of "a coastwise shipping trust."

The Galleries Cheered. Senator McCumber's argument was one of the most extensive yet presented in the senate on either side of the controversy. He talked for three and a half hours, virtually without interruption, and at the conclusion of his speech, appealing to all "right-thinking" members of the senate, to support the repeal, the galleries broke into applause as Senator McCumber sat down, and the galleries broke into applause, glorifying the treasury for the benefit of "a coastwise shipping trust."

He Calls It Ridiculous. He characterized as ridiculous the contention of the Secretary of Commerce that the repeal of the toll exemption would result in a loss of revenue to the government. He insisted, and it was folly for the government to seek to "ransom itself from piracy, to hire a competitor."

Administration senators tonight seemed to have no objection to the repeal, but the house repeal bill would carry in the senate unopposed, maintaining that several democrats who had been expected to support the repeal, had supported the repeal. The majority on the final roll call in favor of repeal would be at least ten votes. Eight or nine republican senators now are expected to support the repeal, despite the effort of the house foreign affairs committee. Democrats of the committee will consult Secretary Bryan, it is reported, and the repeal of the toll exemption will be a resolution requesting the president, if not incompatible with the public interest, to give the senate all information, received in correspondence relating to the negotiation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Senator Brandegee favors the repeal bill.

Action on Representative Knowland's resolution calling on President Wilson to request the repeal of the toll exemption was delayed in the senate today by the introduction of a resolution by the British foreign office, and made allusion to an Anglo-American agreement on a Mexican policy. President Wilson referred to that as one of the "crowning insults" of the Panama debate.

President Wilson today told visitors he considered that editorial expressions in the press and correspondence from disinterested observers all over the country revealed support of the administration stand for the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption. The president said he did not expect the question to be a campaign issue, but expressed confidence for an administration victory in the senate.

Incomplete Returns Indicate That the Democratic House Leader Has Been Named for Higher Honors by His State.

COMER SEEMS TO LEAD IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Ticket Was Very Long and Count Slow—At 2 O'Clock This Morning No Definite Returns Had Been Received—Heavy Vote Cast in the State.

Birmingham, Ala., April 7.—Indications early today were that Oscar W. Underwood had triumphed over Richmond P. Hobson in the contest before state for the nomination to the United States senate. Owing to the complexity and length of the ballots complete returns probably will not be received until tonight.

The protracted struggle for the nomination between the two distinguished candidates terminated with a record-breaking vote by Alabama democrats. Interest in the contest for the short term in the United States senate, the nomination of ten congressmen, a governor and other state and county officers also brought thousands to the polls.

Statement by Underwood. Both Mr. Underwood and Representative Hobson were in the city tonight watching returns from the entire state. Shortly after midnight Mr. Underwood made the following statement: "I am thoroughly satisfied with the primary election, held yesterday. The splendid majority that the returns indicate will be given me in the state, I attribute to the magnificent work of my friends who have done for me in my absence. The result I feel is a personal vindication and a distinct approval of my remaining in Washington and attending to my official duties. But after all is said, the final conclusion must be that it is more of a victory for fundamental democratic principles than for myself."

Hobson Doesn't Yield. Representative Hobson did not volunteer any statement. When asked if he conceded the nomination of Representative Underwood, he said: "I most positively do not."

Incomplete returns from more than forty of the sixty-seven counties in the state indicated a very close contest between Ray Ruskon, of Montgomery, and Frank S. White, of Birmingham, for the nomination to the short United States senatorial term. Walter T. Brown, of Ragland, apparently was outdistanced.

The Race for Governor. The gubernatorial contest appeared to be even closer than preliminary estimates intimated. While it seemed probable that former Governor B. B. Comer would receive a plurality, the hopes of his followers that he would receive a majority were considered doubtful. The contest between E. F. Kolb, of Montgomery, and Charles Henderson, of Troy, for the same nomination, fluctuated continually. It was thought that complete returns would be needed to determine which would receive the more votes.

From returns available at an early hour it did not seem probable that Walter D. Seed, of Tuscaloosa would stand any chance of participating in a runoff primary which seemed inevitable. Taylor Beaten by Gray. A feature of the United States congressional contest was an indication of the defeat of Representative G. W. Weather Prophecy PARTLY CLOUDY

C. F. von BERRMANN, Section Director.

Taylor by O. L. Gray, of Choctaw county, for the nomination in the first district.

In the ninth district contest George Huddleston, of Jefferson, was leading his three opponents, but complete returns were thought necessary to foretell the outcome.

Congressmen Named. Apparently Representatives Henry D. Clayton, of the third; Hugh S. Dent, of the second; Frederick L. Blackmon, of the fourth, and John L. Burnett, of the seventh, were nominated for re-election.

Great Majority for Underwood. Montgomery, Ala., April 6.—Incomplete returns from various boxes in nearly one-third of the state indicates an overwhelming majority for Underwood for United States senator over Hobson.

The race between Ray Rushton and Frank S. White for the short term senatorship is very close. At midnight tonight, out of a total of 3,708 votes in the city proper, not a single one of the seven boxes had been counted and managers declined to give out the partial count up to that hour.

Underwood 407, Hobson 195. Short term senator, Rushton, 448, White 52. For governor, Comer, 201, Henderson 175, Kolb 130. It was stated that the first city box to be completed may be reported about 2 o'clock in the morning.

Underwood Sweeps South Alabama. Mobile, Ala., April 6.—Mobile and south Alabama polled the heaviest vote in years today. The total in Mobile county will reach 6,000. Underwood is sweeping south Alabama. Comer, for governor, is leading Kolb in the country precincts, but Kolb is expected to take a wide lead in the city.

Early reports from south Alabama indicate that Underwood and Comer are leading easily, particularly in the country districts. Oscar Gray is leading Taylor for congress, and Mabry is leading Kent in the Second district, so far.

Less than 1,000 of the 5,000 ballots cast in Mobile county had been counted at midnight, but it was conceded that Kolb had carried the county by a tremendous plurality. He will probably get 3,000 votes, Comer about 1,300. Underwood has carried the county five or six to one.

The race between Ray Rushton and Frank S. White for the short term senatorship is very close. At midnight tonight, out of a total of 3,708 votes in the city proper, not a single one of the seven boxes had been counted and managers declined to give out the partial count up to that hour.

Ten out of the fifteen country precincts of Montgomery county reported at that hour give: Long term senator, Underwood 407, Hobson 195.

Physicians tonight reported the patient, who is a Birmingham, Ala., capitalist, is slightly improved. His condition has been critical for several days. Mrs. Underwood said tonight that she would remain here at the winter home of her father or several days, at least.

STEAMER IS MISSING WITH HER CREW OF 173

St. Johns, N. F., April 6.—The sealing steamer Santa Cruz with 173 men on board, still is missing. The steamer Santa Cruz, sent in search of her by the government, was reported to have sailed tonight with all observation cut off by thick fog. The steamer was ordered to continue search for two days more.

Although the underwriters had said that the Santa Cruz was on board if she day, the steamer was reported to have sailed tonight with all observation cut off by thick fog. The steamer was ordered to continue search for two days more.

CAROTHERS RETURNS FROM TORREON FIGHT

Juarez, Mexico, April 6.—George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department, who has been through the Torreón engagement with General Villa, returned here tonight to assist in negotiations looking to the welfare of the 600 Spaniards ordered out of Torreón by the rebels. He brought with him the first non-partisan eye-witness account of the battle.

"The rebel loss," said Mr. Carothers, "was 600 killed and 1,400 wounded. We don't know the federal loss accurately except that Villa found in the hospitals 800 of their wounded." Asked why Velasco, the federal commander, evacuated the city, Mr. Carothers said the federal leader's one excuse was that he had run out of small arms ammunition.

ISTHMIUS OF PANAMA STOREHOUSE FOR WORLD

Plan to Make Panama and Colon Free Ports of Entry for All Merchandise.

Panama, April 6.—The isthmus of Panama is not only to become a gateway for the world's shipping, but a great storehouse for the goods of all nations, according to the hopes of the Panama republic.

The plan to make Panama City and Colon free ports of entry for all merchandise of the world is being drawn up for introduction to the next general assembly of the republic. The government anticipates no serious opposition.

HER SMELL RESTORED BY AMERICAN SURGEON

London, April 6.—Countess Nade Torby, the pretty daughter of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, never had any sense of smell until she quite resigned herself to her condition until her father happened to meet at a dinner party a certain American surgeon over here on a brief holiday, and mentioned the defect to him in conversation.

"Do you mean to say you have never consulted a British physician on the subject?" His imperial highness replied that he had, or at least the Countess Torby, his wife, had done so, but she seemed to think nothing could be done and that the defect was not worth troubling about.

CAPTURE OF TORREON CONCEALED BY HUERTA

Mexico City, April 5.—Another day passed without a line of published news indicating the loss of Torreón, and the government reiterates its denial. It has even requested the banks to post copies of telegrams from Loreto and Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, asserting that General De la Huerta and Mas have arrived at Torreón and are cutting the route of the rebels, alleged to have been begun by General Velasco.

NO HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF MRS. MEMMINGER

Reports late last night from the bedside of Mrs. Susan Memminger gave no hope for her recovery. Mrs. Memminger has been critically ill for several days at St. Joseph's infirmary. She is the mother of Rev. W. W. Memminger, pastor of All Saints' Episcopal church.

Way Towards the Whip Hand.

(From The Washington Post.) The report that China is in the market for two 30,000-ton dreadnoughts as an initial step toward taking the place among maritime nations as a first-class naval power, is another indication that the yellow race is awakening to the fact that its preponderance numerically can never give the whip hand over the white race in the absence of a fleet powerful both in offense and defense.

TRIALS OF DEBUTANTES AT KING GEORGE'S COURT

Ridicule Directed at Those Who Are Not Dressed Up to the Minute.

London, April 6.—One of the wealthy and fashionable widows who went to the last court has been giving me a description of what she called the "going on" of some of the women and girls awaiting their call in the ante-room before entering the royal presence chamber and her account was not better put than in her own words.

This kind of thing happened last year and got to the queen's ears; but though her majesty was very much distressed she could do nothing. Last year it was with the greatest difficulty a lady from the Emerald Isle was strained from telling such women what she thought of them. Indeed, she did manage to get out a sentence or two, and there was a little less jeering afterwards.

After a court at Buckingham palace a rare lot of oddments are always found about the rooms. After the last several pieces of false hair were picked up, a few pieces of stray precious stones which had dropped from their settings, as well as several buttons, an American woman who had lost one of the latter boldly drove up to the palace next day and inquired if hers had been found. She evidently did not know that it is never etiquette to ask for anything lost in a royal house. She was shown all the ownerless articles and selected her own. But the royal footman who attended to her had almost the proverbial bit after she had gone. Although for every article handed to the maids in attendance in the cloakroom a ticket is given some queer "accidents" have happened at the great gatherings. At the first court this year the wife of an ambassador was given a very poor substitute for her magnificent fur wrap. But though she worried her heart out over the lot she knew better than to complain.

A Landmark Blown Away.

(From The Fitchburg, Mass., Sentinel.) The tower on High Rock, Pearl Hill, was blown down recently after having withstood the storms and gales for over a quarter of a century. The tower was erected in 1888, by the late George E. Putnam and had been climbed by thousands of Fitchburg people and visitors to the city, offering as it did a commanding view of the surrounding country. It was about eighty feet high and was located on the highest point of the cliff forming the eastern ridge of Pearl Hill, which at this point has a precipitous fall of 125 feet to the base. The top of the tower was some 700 feet above the level of the sea, and there was nothing to obstruct the view of the landscape.

The tower was strongly built, the structure being of wood. The base was bolted into the rock. This did not prevent the high wind from blowing against the superstructure, which had become weakened by long exposure, and at 7:15 o'clock there came a heavy blast, under the force of which the tower fell and fell with a crash. The wind was from the east and blew the tower over toward the cottage situated about the rooms.

Put in operation the right system of sales records and it will act as a spur—not a whip—on your sales force. By the "right system" we mean the system we have devised. Changed to meet varying conditions, it is in operation in hundreds and hundreds of concerns, small as well as large. It shows among other things:

- Which lines sell best; and which don't. Which salesmen are making money for you; and which are not. Which customers are increasing their purchases; and which are not. When salesmen called last, and what transpired at that time.

The idea back of the system is to make the sales-manager master of his job. But the salesmen get just as much good out of it as the sales-manager. Let us show you some of our forms. Let us suggest a set of records to fit your business. Samples mailed on request.

SOPERTON WOMEN HELD FOR KILLING

Fanny Dun Charged With Slaying Fred Miller With Shotgun—Girl's Mother Is Also in Jail.

Dublin, Ga., April 6.—(Special)—News was received here today that Mrs. M. C. Dun and daughter, Fanny May, are in jail in Montgomery county for the killing of Fred Miller at their home in Soperton.

From accounts received here it seems that Miller and several other men had been frequenting the home of the women, the older woman being a widow, and Miller had been ordered to keep away from the house. Saturday night he went to the house again and became belligerent and the girl, it is said, shot at him through a door shutter with a shotgun, the lead tearing off the entire top of his head and killing him instantly.

Bankruptcy Petition.

After F. W. Durham, engaged in the automobile service business, had filed with Deputy Clerk Fred Beers, of the federal court yesterday, a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, the Oakland Motor company, a corporation formed under Michigan laws, asked for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of Durham's estate.

FAIRBURN POSTOFFICE DYNAMITED BY YEGGMEN

Safe Blown for Second Time in Year—Robbers Get Nothing.

Fairburn, Ga., April 6.—(Special)—Although the safe was wrecked and the postoffice badly damaged when yeggmens blew up the safe early yesterday morning, an accounting has shown that the unknown robbers did not get so much as a cent for their trouble. This is the second time within a year that the Fairburn office has been dynamited with very negligible results for the looters.

CENTRAL PRESIDENT IN ATLANTA ON WAY TO SAVANNAH MEET

Charles H. Markham, president of the Central of Georgia railroad, spent Sunday and Monday in Atlanta en route to Savannah, where he will go Tuesday to attend the directors meeting of his road.

Mr. Markham came to Atlanta from New Orleans. He is much pleased with the prosperous condition of the country along the lines of his road.

Officer Tried for Heroism; Chief Discusses the Charge

Lieutenant Walter H. Cheshire, of the county police, was on trial Monday for heroism. It was charged that on Sunday morning, April 5, 1914, on the paved Piedmont road, Lieutenant Cheshire had deliberately stopped a runaway horse.

"I don't know that I'd call it heroism," said Chief Mathieson, appearing for the defense. Mathieson watched, and even directed, the entire affair from the front porch of his home. Chief Mathieson was an excellent witness.

The prosecution begged at this point to introduce exhibit A. Exhibit A was in printed form and looked as though it might have been clipped from a newspaper.

LEE DECLARES NEGRO MURDERED HIS UNCLE

Black Arrested on Suspicion. Coroner's Jury Still Probing Hawkinsville Case.

Hawkinsville, Ga., April 6.—(Special)—The body of Paul Bonnell who was murdered in his bed here Saturday night, was carried to his former home at Live Oak this morning for burial, accompanied by one of his brothers and the boy's nephew, who was arrested charged with the crime on a warrant sworn out by Acting Marshal Black is still in jail and has not attempted to give bond.

John Kirghis, a negro about 32 years old, was arrested today on suspicion and is being held by the authorities. No direct evidence against any one has been given out as yet, and the coroner's jury has not finished its investigation, but will tomorrow, and in the meantime being a negro, the case is being taken up and investigated by the whites.

Tossed From Street Car, Man Is Struck by Auto, Now Sues for Damages

If hard luck had any potency which could be leveled upon, it is probable that it would be co-defendant with the Georgia Railway and Power company in a suit which Roscoe C. Irwin filed Monday in the superior court.

Mr. Irwin explains that on November 22, 1913, he was on his way home on an East Point car. His customary stop was The Oaks. He found the conductor of this fact, but the conductor was interested in something else, it is alleged. The car went past The Oaks and Irwin decided to get off at New McPherson. He was standing on the steps, awaiting the arrival of the car at that stop, when, he says, the conductor doubtless with no other intention than assisting him, gave the emergency stop signal. The car stopped so suddenly that according to Irwin, he was thrown from the step.

As an exercise, so I didn't get a blow. Instead I bolted to the lieutenant, who was down the road a little way and told him to get on his motorcycle and stop it."

THAT SAHARA ORDER STIRRING THE NAVY

Officers Say the Anti-Liquor Rule by Secretary Daniels Is Absurd.

Washington, April 6.—Secretary Daniels' order barring the use of alcoholic liquors in the navy, effective after July 1, next was generally discussed in naval and other circles here today. The order, one of the most sweeping ever promulgated by the navy department, not only abolishes the traditional wine mess of the officers, but will bar all alcoholic liquors from every ship and shore station of the navy.

Surgeon General Eustace recommended it after an exhaustive investigation. While declining to discuss for publication the effect of the order, naval officers privately expressed the belief it may fail of its purpose—to prevent or decrease drunkenness within the navy. To effect that end, it does more than abolish the wine mess. No distilled spirits are sold in the wine mess—only wines and beer.

Officers contend it is absurd to suppose that men ever become drunk on beer or champagne. They express the opinion that the order will curtail their personal liberty and prevent their affording visitors from foreign havens the wines which they are accustomed to drink on their own vessels.

The order was hailed with joy here today by the prohibition forces, who declare it will have a great influence in the furtherance of the temperance cause.

When asked today to comment on the order, President Wilson said it was strictly a prohibition measure and is understood that the president was not consulted by Mr. Daniels before the issue of the order. He has no reason to know whether it had the president's approval.

Helping Kidneys
By Clearing Blood
A Function Greatly Assisted
By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important in the use of S S as a stimulant to the myriad of fine blood vessels that make up the structure of the kidneys. All the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as filters and sponges. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S S is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S S acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed to the excretory organs. Their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, buskiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other redox indications of weak kidney action, it will purify your blood with S S, so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular strength and retain the normal health.

HOME RULE MEASURE PUSHED IN COMMONS

Motion to Reject the Bill Was Defeated by a Majority of 80 Votes.

London, April 6.—By a majority of eighty an amendment for the rejection of the home rule bill was defeated in the house of commons tonight and without division the bill was given for the third time its second reading in the house.

The announcement of the figures evoked louder cheers from the opposition than from the ministerialists, the opposition interpreting them as gratifying proof of a dwindling government majority. But the amendment is accounted for to some extent by the abstention from voting of the Obriens.

Speeches Conclutatory.
The speeches today were generally much more conciliatory in tone than those which marked the bills earlier passages. John E. Redmond, the nationalist leader, who opened the debate again held out the olive branch to Lister in a speech of great eloquence but insisted that it was impossible for him and his colleagues to agree to the permanent exclusion of Lister and to abandon the principle of 'Ireland a nation.'

Andrew Bonar Law, the opposition leader, though professing in certain passages of his speech to see hardly any hope of a peaceful settlement, and predicting that civil war was certain if the government persisted in pushing the bill through declared that he and his colleagues would gladly accept a proposal for the renewal of the conversations with the government leaders, but feared that nothing would come of it.

Andrew Birrell chief secretary for Ireland, was most optimistic. Despite all adverse criticism he was certain that great progress had been made towards a peaceful settlement, and civil war he declared was impossible.

The Votes on the Bill.
The second reading of the home rule bill was carried the first time by a majority of 101, and the second time by a majority of 98. Tonight eight O'Connors abstained from voting. Two liberals voted against the government. One nationalist was absent through illness. Three laborites also were absent, and Charles P. G. Masterman, who had previously voted as a member of the government, lost his seat in the election for Bournemouth last February. Mr. Asquith took no part in the voting, as he recently resigned the secretaryship of war. Sir Edward Grey's departure from London is said to have no political significance, as he is taking a holiday, which he arranged for some time ago.

A large gathering of Irishmen, all carrying green flags, assembled outside parliament tonight to celebrate the passage of the measure. They cheered wildly when the result of the vote was announced and gave ovations to the members of the government. The nationalist leaders as they left the house.

Redmond's Attitude.
"I think in the present circumstances there is nothing for the house of commons to do but pass with it hands." This was the closing sentence of a speech made by John E. Redmond, who made the final speech on behalf of the nationalist party of the house of commons on the home rule bill. The vote of the house on the measure was arranged to be taken tonight.

The days' proceedings in the house were opened by Mr. Redmond, who insisted that the present stage of the controversy was so critical that all energies must be devoted to facing a settlement of the question.

"The country as a whole is sick and tired of the Irish question, and it must be settled here and now. The house of commons owes it as a duty to Ireland and to England to pass the home rule bill. I am profoundly glad that the government and the house have once been passed it will be repealed."

Carson Talks for Ulster.
"The only sound way," said Sir Edward Carson, "is to leave Ulster out of the bill until her consent to inclusion has been won." Sir John Simon, the attorney general, told the house that the government's chief interest was to see that the bill was passed, but that Ireland could not be permanently divided. He said the efforts to compromise should fail, the government is going to carry the home rule bill as it stands, he said.

Cincinnati Sundaes,
Latest Sunday Drink,
Popular Until Raid

Ever order a Cincinnati sundae? Lieutenants Oliver and Carroll, acting under the orders of Chief Matheson, of the county police, ordered one at the soda fountain of James Allen, 1750 Broadway and Marietta street, Sunday, and about ten minutes later, were busily confiscating 200 half-pints of whisky. A Cincinnati sundae, chief Matheson correctly informed, was the trade name at Allen's place for something that didn't have ice cream in it. Allen was held under $500 bond.

SODAS, THEN MARRIAGE.
Now Mertice Is Sorry, and Sam Departed.

When Mertice Bayles was 12 years old there was no far from her home. The owner of this soda fountain was named Sam Freedman. Now, when on a severe cold, ice cream sodas have great powers of persuasion. In August 1907, Sam and Mertice were married by a justice of the peace.

Mertice is 18 now, and ice cream sodas have lost their power. As for Sam Freedman, if he ever had any place in her affections, over and above the importance as a source of soda, he has now vanished into the same dim beyond which engulfed Sam about a year after his marriage. "Nevertheless," said Judge Ellis, as he granted the girl wife a divorce suit in the superior court Monday, "I'd like to have that fellow in this courtroom for about ten minutes." And there was that in his manner to indicate that Sam would not enjoy the encounter.

JUDGE VINSON SPEAKS.
Candidate for Congress Makes Address at Irwinton.

Irwinton, Ga., April 6.—(Special)—Judge Carl Vinson, candidate for congress in the tenth district, addressed the Hardwick, spoke here today, following closely the lines of his opening speech at Sparta two weeks ago. He will speak tomorrow at Warrenton.

After being introduced by former State Senator John S. Davis, Judge Vinson advocated a legislation to stop gambling in cotton, depletion of excessive in national appropriations and declared that all lawmakers should come directly from the masses of the people, to better represent public opinion. He paid his respects to "bosses and peanut politicians" as victims that prey upon the vitals of the people.

COMBINE OF OPERATORS FAVORED BY MITCHELL.

Washington, April 6.—Organization of coal mine operators so they may agree on prices was advocated by John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers, at a hearing today before the federal commission on industrial relations. He argued that the government should have supervisory power over such an arrangement. Forty per cent of all coal mined in the United States was wanted, he said, because mine operators cannot dispose of it at a profit.

Mr. Mitchell thought a federal industrial council with power to investigate causes of threatened or pending industrial strikes would be of great value, provided it had no power of compulsory arbitration. "The coal mine coal miner is so much better off today than he was in 1897 that there is no basis of comparison," said Mr. Mitchell. "But believe the mine should be among the best paid workers in America."

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS WILL BE CONSIDERED

The executive committee of the At-Improvement commission will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the office of the chamber of commerce to plan a systematic campaign to keep the question of civic improvement before the public. The question of a bond issue for the plaza will also be discussed. The meeting will be held at the new headquarters on the second floor of the new Commerce building at the corner of North Fryer street and Auburn avenue.

MAYOR OF NASHVILLE SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

H. E. Howse, mayor of Nashville, Tenn., last night sent the Constitution, the following telegram congratulating Atlanta on securing a national bank. Nashville, Tenn.—Nashville was applicant for regional bank, and therefore could not be expected to be enthusiastic over the failure of our statement at Washington to recognize our superior facilities. Since Nashville could not succeed, then we heartily congratulate Atlanta, certainly the next city of importance of the central south. H. E. HOWSE, Mayor.

SHOT WOMAN TO DEATH AND THEN KILLED SELF

Richmond Policeman Murders His Sweetheart and Puts Bullet in His Head.

Richmond, Va., April 6.—Police Sergeant Phil L. Neizel late tonight shot and instantly killed Mrs. Roberta Lester in her home, and then shot himself, dying as he was being lifted into a hospital. Neizel, who was on duty, went to the woman's home, where he had frequently visited, and in a quarrel struck her a severe blow in the face. Miss Emma Miller, a neighbor, rushed in and restrained him from a further attack, and while Mrs. Lester was bathing the wound Neizel shot her through the head. He fired over the shoulder of Miss Miller. Satisfied that the woman was dead, Neizel shot himself in the temple. A bottle of chloroform was found in the officer's pocket. Mrs. Neizel stated to the police tonight that Neizel had informed her before leaving home that he expected to kill Mrs. Lester.

PRIMARY IN ELBERT TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Elberton, Ga., April 6.—(Special)—Elbert's primary will be held Wednesday, April 8. Every office is contested, but chief interest surrounds the race for county commissioner, which is being made by James McIntosh, present chairman of the board, T. M. Swift, ex-representative, and T. E. Crawford, an ex-commissioner. Owing to the warm weather a large vote is not expected. The race for treasurer is unique, the dozen candidates are mostly old confederate veterans. S. N. Haley and S. W. Vaughan are in a lively race for sheriff. A. A. Seymour has announced as a candidate for representative, making four in the field.

GALLON OF LIQUOR
FIXED BY THE LAW
FOR MISSISSIPPI

Jackson, Miss., April 6.—One gallon of whisky or one case of beer is the maximum quantity of intoxicants that can be legally ordered within any thirty-day period by a resident of the state of Mississippi, under the provisions of the Mott-May-Lewis liquor law, which went into effect today. The statute applies to the entire state, and was enacted by the last legislature. The law also prohibits the operation of locker clubs.

After Common Carriers.

Washington, April 6.—The Cummins bill to make common carriers liable for full value of shipments was favorably reported today from the senate interstate commerce committee, with amendments to require full damages for loss of stock and making certain exceptions where the nature of the shipments is concealed or the interstate commerce commission approves rates on certain values.

SHE WANTS CHILDREN KEPT IN THEIR HOMES

Philadelphia, April 6.—Miss Mary Bartelme, Chicago's woman judge, today occupied a seat on the bench with Judge Gorman while he heard the cases in the house of detention. Later she described some of her experiences while presiding in the Chicago juvenile court and protested against the growing tendency to commercialize the recreation of children.

"We should try to keep the children in their homes," said Miss Bartelme. "Recreation should be provided for them in Chicago, I am sorry to say, the boys and girls crowd the 5 and 10-cent theaters. Their recreation is commercialized. I hope this is not true of Philadelphia." Miss Bartelme also made a plea for the care of the girl between the ages of 13 and 16 years. "I sometimes think," she said, "that it would be better to allow a girl to work between the ages of 8 and 16 years and then look after her when she is between 13 and 16 years old."

INDICTED FOR MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE

New York, April 6.—The arrest today of Morris Struppicker, secretary and treasurer of the cloak and shirt-makers' union, revealed that he and two other officers of the union had been indicted for murder in the first degree. Max Sigman, first vice president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, was arrested yesterday under these indictments. It is charged that Struppicker and Sigman and a third man caused the death of Herman Liebowitz during the great cloakmakers' strike in New York City in 1910.

The police were unable to make any arrests until the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, a new organization which sprang up at the time of the strike, took up the investigation and turned its investigation over to the district attorney.

Mrs. Wilson Goes Motoring.

Washington, April 6.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson went motoring today for the first time in several weeks. She has entirely recovered from an injury sustained by a fall over a rug in the white house.

LABOR CONTEMPT CASE IS ORDERED REARGUED

Washington, April 6.—The Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison contempt case today was restored to the docket of the supreme court for reargument April 20 before the entire bench. The three labor leaders stand convicted of contempt of court in the Euck's stove and range case. Some observers drew the inference from the reassignment that the court was divided on the case and the return of Justice Lurton to the bench today led to the restoration of the cases for a second argument.

CITY WILL BUY PART OF MOSELEY ESTATE

Council Authorizes the Purchase of Ten Acres in the Seventh Ward to Be Used for Park Purposes.

Urged by citizens in the Seventh ward, council yesterday authorized the purchase of ten acres of the Moseley estate to be used for park purposes. The city will pay $10,000 for the tract and will secure an option in the name of some citizen for the purchase of the remainder of the tract.

The money with which the purchase will be made will be taken from the fund of $9,000 provided in the January finance sheet for an engine house in the Seventh ward, and $1,000 provided for street improvement. The purchase will be made immediately, and the representatives of the Seventh ward will be authorized to negotiate the securing of an option on the remainder of the tract.

Alderman Jesse Armistead, of the Seventh ward, offered the resolution Monday afternoon that the city purchase the tract. It was the unanimous decision of the Seventh Ward Improvement club that the city buy a part of the Moseley tract for park purposes in the Seventh ward.

The Moseley tract is one of the finest properties for park purposes in Atlanta. It has an historic value by reason of the fact that a part of the battle of Atlanta was fought on it. Council will have the final word in determining which ten acres shall be purchased first. It is understood that the owners are anxious that the property be acquired by the city for park purposes only, and for that reason has offered the tract at an exceedingly low price.

JUDGE ANDREW CALHOUN NOW IN NEW QUARTERS

Judge Andrew Calhoun, of the criminal court of Atlanta, began sitting Monday in the courtroom at the Throver building which has been vacated temporarily through the adjournment of the criminal branch of the superior court, presided over by Judge Ben Hill. Another transfer was that of Luther Z. Flosser, Jr., who is now sitting in the criminal branch of the municipal court, ended last week. He is succeeded by Judge Hathcock, who under the regulations of that court, will now sit in the criminal branch for the next sixty days.

ST. PAUL PREPARING FOR COMING REVIVAL

St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church on Grant street is planning one of the most extensive Easter services next Sunday. It has set aside in anticipation of its own time Methodist revival which will last for ten days the latter part of this month and bring here some of the most prominent ministers and platform speakers in the United States.

Rev. E. F. Fraser the pastor, announced that he proposed to make Easter Sunday a great rally day, both in the Sunday school and the church, and to have the Sunday school children, as well as the congregation, fully informed as to the plans for this revival.

Following these special services Dr. Fraser will hold special preparatory services at 4 o'clock every night next week, commencing with Monday evening at 7 o'clock. On that day Bishop J. C. Kilgore of Durham, N. C., and Dr. S. A. Steele of Columbia, S. C. will arrive, and while Bishop Kilgore conducts the night service at St. Paul's, Dr. Steele will conduct the Trinity Dr. E. O. Excell of Chicago will be in charge of the music arriving from Milledgeville, Ga., where he has a two days' engagement before coming to Atlanta.

Rally at Dawsonville.

Dawsonville Ga. April 6.—(Special) A great educational missionary rally was held at this place yesterday. The speakers were men, women and children from the different parts of this and Forsyth counties, who were suffering with the needs of the heathen and the neglected parts of our own country.

Rich Prize List Offered In Constitution's Contest Has Amazed the Public

The announcement in Sunday's issue of The Constitution of the most striking advertising campaign ever attempted by an Atlanta paper, through the medium of which $25,000 in prizes and cash are to be distributed, has amazed the public. Popular voting contests, such as this campaign will be, have heretofore been given on a smaller scale. Scarcely has any other country in the world been offered a share in such high-grade prizes as The Constitution will distribute in the latter part of June this year. The most surprising feature will reveal the value and usefulness of the awards, and it will also reveal the fact that the candidates all have a splendid chance to win. The territory has been so equally divided that each one will have an equal opportunity at any prize.

The most warmly commended feature of the contest is the provision that all of the energetic contestants who fail to obtain a listed award will be paid a cash prize. The Constitution has always dealt frankly with its readers, and so it will deal in this subscription campaign. This means that the Constitution has placed its honor based upon years of financial dealing, to distribute fairly this splendid list of prizes as set forth in the rules and regulations governing same. It means money, but simply exchanging $25,000 worth of prizes and cash for the purpose of adding new friends to the ready-made list of appreciative patrons.

Many Nominations Certain. Nominees in this campaign should remember they will be backed by the south's greatest newspaper and such backing means success if the proper effort is put forth by the nominee. In view of the hearty appreciation of the exceptional opportunity expressed by the general public, it is reasonable to suppose that there will be many names which will appear when the first list of nominees is published in a few days. For an award to see that their names get into the list, they should send in their nomination as soon as possible, so that they may receive the necessary information as to the campaign will develop and bring out to the best advantage the every qualification of enterprise and energy. Not only may the candidate choose from among the many handsome gifts $25,000, but every candidate who fails to obtain a listed prize will receive a cash prize of $100. In short, the Constitution offers any white woman in the state of Georgia and contiguous territory an opportunity to compete for and obtain a prize of very great value without the expenditure of one cent upon his or her part. Every prize in this splendid list will be given away in the strictest sense of the word. Not a single penny will be cost nothing to enter, and it will cost nothing to win. The Constitution has no equal in competition that no matter where you live or what your business may be, you have an opportunity to obtain one of the grand prizes as good as that of any other candidate. For the purpose of this contest of the state of Georgia and contiguous territory has been divided into nine districts. These nine districts are divided into two grand divisions. Atlanta, Ga., and suburbs, consisting of four districts, comprise the first grand division. Outside of the city, consisting of five districts, comprise the second grand division. In each of the two divisions an Oakland seven-passenger touring car, fully equipped of value $2,500, a 4-5 passenger touring car, fully equipped of value $1,500, and a 2-3 passenger touring car, fully equipped of value $1,000, will be given away.

Overland Prize Offered. After the two grand division prize winners have been eliminated the contestant standing highest in each of the nine districts will be awarded an Overland touring car valued at $1,115.

ing car is one of the very best automobiles on the market today at the price. Many higher-priced cars of no greater beauty or colour are giving no greater safety. It is a roomy, spacious model, richly upholstered, insuring perfect comfort. In addition to being fully equipped as all up-to-date cars are, it is also equipped with Gray & Davis electric engine starter and generator. Nothing left to be desired. With plenty of power and perfect action, this car answers the demand for a consistent and dependable automobile.

After the automobiles in each of the nine districts come the second prizes, which are $750 Ludden & Bates' Self-Player Pianos, which is the regular Ludden & Bates' cabinet grand upright piano, into which has been built the most perfect player mechanism. The player is therefore an instrument in one a piano for the musician and a self-player for those who have never studied music. A handsome bench and scarf and fifteen rolls of music are included with each player.

Candidates in one district will not be competing with those in another except in the instance of the two grand division prizes in each of the two divisions. Contestants are not restricted to their own district or division but may get subscriptions anywhere they are to be had.

About the Prizes. Thirteen automobiles head the list of magnificent prizes. Four are grand division prizes and nine are district prizes. These cars were selected with special regard to the greatest value of the money invested.

As the first grand prize to be awarded in each division to the candidate for the largest number of votes in the world of its class. It is known as the "Oakland" 6-8 seven-passenger touring car, fully equipped, beautiful in style and comfort, and beautiful in arrangement and adjustment. Beautiful to those who desire luxury personified in style and comfort, and beautiful to those who see in it the most complete and dependable motor car, and that approaches the ideal in mechanical perfection.

The second prize in each of the grand divisions is the Vello 4-5 passenger touring car. The Vello is beautiful in design and the body lines are in the most modern and up-to-date ideas, and has long since been known as a car that will go day in and day out over the roughest roads anywhere and free from mechanical difficulties. These cars in addition to having the best equipment are also equipped with Gray & Davis electric starter and lighting of the most advanced type.

In each of the nine districts an award was selected, thought to be commensurate with the efforts of those who obtain the highest score in votes for the first of the grand division prizes. After carefully considering the desirability of many and various things the conclusion was reached that an automobile should head the district prize list. Then the question arose as to which of the numerous motor cars upon the market should be chosen. Many good cars could be had, but after considerable negotiation The Constitution was able to make satisfactory terms with the Overland Southern Automobile company for nine five-passenger Overland touring cars. These cars embodying all of the qualifications demanded by The Constitution.

EDGEWOOD PLANT TO BE SOLD FOR $4,500. Under a resolution approved by the tax committee, of which Councilman Charles W. Smith is chairman, council yesterday authorized the sale of the old Edgewood water plant for $4,500. The property is located on South Mayson avenue, and is in that territory in the ninth ward which was formerly the municipality of Edgewood. The site stood on 230 feet and is near the railroad tracks. The sale which the city has authorized is on a cash basis.

in council, Alderman Seawright has taken great interest in the affairs of the city. He has familiarized himself with committee work, and Mayor Woodward regards him as a valuable city father.

Mayor Woodward sent a communication to council urging that the Grand monument at Marietta and Forsyth streets, be cleaned.

Council accepted the invitation of Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, grand marshal of the Memorial day parade, to participate in the ceremonies. City Clerk Walter Taylor was authorized to provide for carriages.

RESERVE BANKS SOON IN ACTION

Every Effort Will Be Made to Expedite New System. Several Steps Must Be Taken by the Banks.

Washington, April 6.—Every effort will be exerted by the federal reserve bank organization committee to have all banks expedite the formal steps necessary to put the new currency system in operation.

Members of the committee apparently have no expectation that there will be any financial crisis to face requiring the assistance to banks which the reserve system will provide, but they are particularly anxious to have the twelve reserve banks in the field when crop moving time comes around next fall. They hope to be able at that time to demonstrate how easily and quickly the reserve system will take care of a situation which in previous years has caused financial worry, and which has failed to direct loans from the United States treasury to national banks in the farming regions.

It's Up to the Banks.
Under the law the several steps to be taken by the banks might be delayed so that there would be no chance of setting the reserve banks up before autumn, but if the banks respond promptly there is little reason to believe that the organization will be deferred longer than a few months. The committee has worked at full speed on its part of the preliminary work, and tomorrow the formal notice will be sent to the 7,548 banks which ask entrance into the system, the notification of reserve banks and the limits of reserve districts. With the notices will go blanks on which banks must apply for subscriptions for stock in the reserve banks. Thirty days are allowed for banks to make the first payment of the required 8 per cent of their capital and surplus.

As soon as banks in any one district have subscribed the $4,000,000 capital necessary for the reserve banks, the succeeding steps of organization will be promptly taken. The reserve bank will be given a charter and the member banks will elect their directors. Six of the nine directors of each reserve bank.

Federal Reserve Boards.
President Wilson probably will name the five members of the federal reserve board. He is entitled to appoint the board by the time the reserve bank charters have been granted. Then the administration is expected to do its utmost to speed the organization of the system along. The reserve board will name three directors for each reserve bank and will have the authority to place upon clearing house associations through the new system. The reserve board will have much power over such associations, but no one in authority cared today to predict how far it might go toward curtailing their activities.

Loans to Move Cross.
Secretary McAdoo tonight announced the results of the direct loans to banks at the moving time last fall. Treasury funds were deposited in 12 banks in 22 cities in 28 states, for a total of $27,386,000. The last of the loans were repaid by April 1, the limit set by the treasury. The government received an interest of 2 per cent a year on the loans.

Phantoms in Court Tell Their Story.
Finally, he started coming home late. He came home one night and his wife had gone to her mother's. He went after her, and there was a quarrel. They made it up. There were more. There was one they didn't make up. The woman sat at her mother's for a week. The man got drunk and lost his job. Then he heard of another job in Birmingham, and went there. Pretty soon he was a tramp. That's what he is today; a drunk, a tramp. As for his wife, she's satisfied she'll never be. She got married and satisfied her vanity. What more do you want?

Any Excuse Would Do.
"But about the poker?"
The phantom gave an unpleasant chuckle.
"Oh, about that! Why, the last time she wrote him she asked if there'd been any objection to her testifying that he'd been in the back."
"Testify to anything." And there you are.
"Decree granted!" came from the bench. Another case had gone through the mill. There was a suppressed cry behind the other phantoms—a woman this time.
"Her husband just got a divorce on grounds of desertion," explained the stout phantom.
"He drove me to it!" cried the woman. She had stood by him as long as I could. But he drove me to it."
A particularly interesting case," said the stout phantom. "Let me explain briefly: She was married to a young fellow who was quite brilliant and extremely proud of himself. You noticed him on the witness stand—rather good looking, and so kind and honest looking that the jury believed every word he said. I suppose he believed it, too. Well, the truth of the matter is that the young fellow was a phantom that a wife hampered him. Wives always do hamper one, of course. He never admitted to himself that a wife hampered him. No, not for a moment. Nor did he ever tell his wife that. And he was a clever fellow. What he did was to convince himself that his wife did not love him. The clever ones at the dock at that woman—she loves him yet. Why, she worshipped the ground he walked on. And the way he proved to himself that she didn't love him was to fix his demands so high that the woman's wit would not answer them. Then, when she didn't meet them, he told himself—sincerely, mind you—that she didn't love him. After awhile he began telling her. Then he became jealous."

Council Gets Rude Shock When Nutting Leads Fight To Sustain Mayor's Veto

Evidence of hostility between Mayor James G. Woodward and Jesse B. Lee, fifth ward councilman, cropped out in the general council meeting yesterday afternoon when Lee led a forlorn fight to override the executive veto of the proposal to transfer the school lot to the city.

Friends of the mayor and a few who have consistently opposed him rallied to the support of the veto. It was sustained by a vote of 18 against 7. Members of council were given a great surprise during the debate on the mayor's veto message when Alderman James R. Nutting, heretofore regarded as Woodward's bitterest foe, took the floor and argued eloquently in defense of the executive's action.

Nutting Explains Vote.
"I think this is the first time I have not voted to override the mayor," Alderman Nutting declared. "I have consistently voted against him, but in this instance I believe that he is right, and whenever I believe he is right I am going to support him."
When councilmen and aldermen rose to their desks to each other, and in a spirit of jest Councilman Sam S. Shepard, of the third, who is also regarded as a foe of the mayor, and the fifth ward councilman, the appointment of a committee of three to investigate the cause of the apparent friendly feelings between the mayor and Alderman Nutting, Mayor Woodward and Councilman Lee and Hall to make the investigation, but subsequently, when the committee asked for an appropriation of $3,000 to be taken from the city's street improvement fund to defray the expenses of the investigation, the chair dismissed the committee.

The sixth ward, by the way, is Alderman Woodward's ward. He is the Mayor Woodward based his veto of the resolution authorizing the transfer of the Marietta school lot, which is valued at approximately $4,500, to the park department on the contention that the resolution was irregular, and he urged council to allow the property to remain within its control. To transfer the property to the park board would have meant that should council ever want to revert it to some other purpose it would be opposed by the park board.

Wants Lot for Warehouse.
Since the creation of the office of purchasing agent, the city council contemplates buying large quantities of material when the markets are low. This will require a warehouse for storing the material, and it is the purpose of the mayor and purchasing agent chambers to have the warehouse erected on the school lot which fronts

KISS IS A SMALL THING, BUT IT CAUSED TRAGEDY
So Woman Says in Telling About the Osculatory Habits of a Parson.

New York, April 6.—Three women testified today in the secret ecclesiastical trial of Dr. Jacob R. Price, the Methodist clergyman charged with improper conduct toward nine women members of his congregation. Mrs. Hilma Dohl testified that Dr. Price had made her an improper proposal. Mrs. Duke Moore said the clergyman had kissed her after a prayer for her husband's conversion, and Miss Prudence Dohl corroborated testimony of her mother, Mrs. Dohl, that efforts had been made to keep her from appearing again as a witness against Dr. Price.

Burton to Quit Senate.
Washington, April 6.—Senator Burton, of Ohio, in a formal statement tonight announced that he would be a candidate for re-election unless circumstances arise which I do not anticipate. The senator said that after more than twenty years in congress he was not anxious to return, and that someone who had been less involved in fact and less prominent in the last two years might be more favorably regarded as the candidate of the republican party.

on railroad property and which is regarded as not being ideal for park purposes.
Councilman Lee was aided in his fight by Alderman Maddox, who argued that the fifth ward did not want a warehouse building, but desired a park on the school site. Alderman Thompson also joined in the movement to override the mayor.

After the vote was counted, but before Clerk Taylor announced the result, Alderman Maddox asked the privilege of offering his vote and was recorded as sustaining the mayor's veto.

The line-up was as follows:
To sustain veto: Aldermen Seawright, Kelley, McDonald, Maddox, Nutting and Amistead, Councilmen Silverman, Knight, McCard, Hall, Ashley, Farlinger, Sisson, Colcord, Dallas, Humphrey, White and Smith—18.
To override: Aldermen Thomson and Owens; Councilmen Wardlaw, Lee, Boynton, Wood, Shearer, and Mayor Vetoes Resolution.

Mayor Woodward also returned, without his approval, the resolution authorizing Chief of Construction Clayton to advertise for bids for material for sewerage and drainage work.
The mayor took the position that council's ordinance creating the office of purchasing agent takes from the various departments the power to make departmental purchases. In the interim between meetings of council the construction department proceeded under the resolution and last Friday opened bids for material. Monday afternoon the street committee proceeded to award the contracts to the lowest bidders.

Council was very nearly divided on the veto, and after considerable discussion the veto was referred to a committee composed of Alderman Kelley, Councilman Silverman, Councilman Lee, chairman of sewers, and Assistant Attorney Ellis. This committee returned a report urging that the bids accepted by the ward. The committee is recommended to the purchasing agent for acceptance, thus obviating the necessity of putting the veto to a vote.

The committee's report was adopted. Council then ordered the mayor's veto tabled. By its action council passed the bids up to the purchasing agent. The bids will no doubt be accepted on condition.

Brickbats for Lee.
When Mayor Woodward was informed of Councilman Lee's attitude toward his veto he smiled.
"I knew when I gave him so many committee appointments that it would turn his brain," the mayor remarked. "However, I am not worried about him. He is, in so far as my committee appointments are concerned, an accident. Had the other two members of the fifth ward been appointed to work in harmony with my administration, Councilman Lee would not have received a single committee appointment that the job I gave Lee was too heavy for his shoulders."

"Driven From Home."
(At the Bijou.)
Interpersed with clever specialties, "Driven From Home," a thrilling melodrama with its scenes in the mountain country of the northwest, was given before a crowded house last night at the Bijou. The play is a favorite from the start. Miss Marie Clark's violin playing in the second act, and the singing of the quartet in the third, were features that were received with enthusiasm by the big audience.

This week Eddie Black is appearing in one of his favorite roles, that of a dandy. He was a success in "Little Baby Hazel Johnson" also. "Hit, not only as a player, but also as a singer." "The Young Man" is effective in the part of Bert Johnson. Frank Dare, Newton Ross, R. H. Turner and Walter Van Dyke have a clever portrayal of themselves. Miss Alice Delane gave a clever portrayal of a difficult role, while Miss Anna Brandt, the little soubrette, appeared, and made much of a somewhat small character part.

"Stock Completely Sold Out"

That will express the condition of affairs as regards the new Encyclopaedia Britannica in a very few days. Meanwhile immediate delivery following receipt of order can be promised, but at the present rate at which the work is selling, the stock on hand will not last longer than the 21st of April.

IN the case of most things that you need and are thinking of buying, it is possible to assume the leisurely attitude and rest upon the comfortable assurance that "some day" will do just as well as to-day. Unfortunately, this does not apply to things for which the demand is greater than the supply.

Eight times it has been necessary to print the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, and some 16 presses have been constantly running for more than two years. Very soon there will be a shortage of stock, due to the announcement that the present extremely favorable prices can no longer be continued. The daily volume of business has doubled within a month, because many of those who have been promising themselves that they would buy the work "some day"—have decided to translate intention into action—and are registering their orders now, so as to be certain of immediate delivery of the books.

THE above four headings describe in bold outlines a situation that has a personal interest for every thoughtful reader of this newspaper; namely, the fulfillment of the published announcements that have appeared from time to time.

- (1) That the present low prices of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica were "temporary."
- (2) That these low prices were designed to effect a large and rapid sale among all classes of book-buyers;
- (3) That because of the large investment necessary to make this entirely new summary of all human knowledge, a legitimate financial return could not be earned unless future buyers were made to pay higher prices, and
- (4) That a definite date would be announced after which the present low prices would be discontinued and a new schedule of higher prices would go into effect.

In England the prices were increased on December 20th last, and the work is now selling there at the advanced prices, but owing to the much larger territory to be covered in this country and in Canada an extension was granted by the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press until May 28th.

Until then, therefore, anybody can buy the new Encyclopaedia Britannica direct from the publishers and pay much less money for it than he would pay if it had been sold in the usual way through book-sellers.

to take advantage of the present low prices. The Last Chance the public will have to get the most authoritative, as well as the most comprehensive work of universal reference ever published, before the advance in the prices as above, is now only a matter of a few weeks.

More than 58,000 sets have been sold. All classes have bought it. Scholars and business men, millionaires and wage-earners; farmers, intelligent mechanics and store-keepers have praised it as no other work of the kind was ever praised. It is a book of universal appeal and universal usefulness, and all you need pay now to get the complete set, with a book case, is $5.00.

A BOOK FOR EVERYBODY --- ON TERMS FOR EVERYBODY

THE new Encyclopaedia Britannica is not a rich man's book, but it is a book primarily for all ordinarily intelligent persons of moderate means. If it were published for the rich only a very few copies would be sold, the venture would not yield a profit, and the price for a set would run into thousands of dollars. At such a price its publication would serve no useful purpose. It would, in fact, defeat the very object for which the book was originally designed, namely, the dissemination of useful knowledge among all classes of the public. The contents of this new 11th edition, as of all previous editions since the first (Edinburgh, 1768), have to do with the vast body of essential knowledge upon which the activities of our busy world in every direction are based. The province of the book is world-wide, and its appeal is, therefore, to every class. No one need feel that he cannot buy it—the monthly payment system points the way; $5.00 in cash with the order will bring you the 29 beautifully printed volumes on India paper and bound in leather.

If You Do Not Already Know About This Great Work, You Should Send Your Inquiry Now

THE safest way to make sure of getting the book at the low price is to order at once.

The new Britannica has been so widely advertised and is already in so many hands that you very probably know all you need to know to order now.

But if you still need information, you should send promptly for our large illustrated prospectus. The prospectus will be sent you by mail on receipt of your inquiry, together with full details of bindings, prices, the easy terms of payment now available, and specimens of the genuine India paper used in this edition.

Yak—should, however, send the inquiry form today, for if you let the matter slip now you'll run the risk of being too late to benefit by the present low prices and easy terms.

The sooner your order is placed, the sooner you will get the book and benefit by its use.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole Advertising Manager for all territory outside Atlanta.

The address of the Washington Bureau is No. 1727 S Street, N. W., Mr. John Corrigan, Jr., staff correspondent in charge.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by the day after issue. It can be had: Hottel's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Forty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

JUDGMENT!

The whole country is rightly demanding of the interstate commerce commission an early decision with regard to the railroad rate cases.

The early part of last week we were told the verdict was to be expedited.

Now comes the intimation that Mr. Brandeis and his theories are again on the job and that the verdict is likely to be delayed.

This sort of business is piddling, while the progress of business is halted.

Whether the commission decides for or against the petition for a nominal increase in freight tariffs is not the most pertinent point.

Decision as against indecision, certainty as against uncertainty, is the imperative requirement.

For about two years, and at intervals, the commission has had these cases under advisement. In that period, not only the railroads, but business also has been on the grill.

It is uncertainty that keeps business from swinging to normal. Underlying bases of prosperity never were better. But there is going to be no booming ahead at full speed, until business leaders know whether the railroads are going to be allowed to enter the market for supplies and labor, or whether they must adjust themselves to existing conditions.

If the commission cannot reach an equitable decision, with the aid of two years' accumulation of facts, it will not be able to do so ten years hence.

It is extremely kind of Mr. Brandeis to volunteer to assume all the functions of the commission. He turns with equal facility from the regulation of trusts to the revolutionizing of finance, from the draughting of congress to the best way to "speed up" a pants factory. We may not know anything more about the operation of railroads than a tom-cat does about grand opera, but he doesn't hesitate to lay out a beautifully-embossed set of blue-print theories on "how to do it," guaranteed under the pure-flood-and-Brandeis-law. Now, if Brother Brandeis and his theories are to control—if he is to be the Pooch Bait or the Lord High Executioner—even that will be better than continued uncertainty.

But every day the commission holds off decision, every day it protracts uncertainty, penalizes every business interest in this country.

If Brandeis is to be the Boss, the sooner the country knows it the better!

If the commission is going to mercifully chloroform his theories, we ought to know that also.

Above all, end indecision! For or against, what the country wants from the commission is—
Judgment!

ONE OF THE BEST SIX.

Appropos a recent editorial in which "Life," the national weekly, classified The Constitution as one of the best six standard American newspapers, The Constitution is in receipt of the following letter:

"Editor Constitution: The estimate of "Life" touching the Constitution expresses my sentiments entirely, especially since I have been and am now a reader and subscriber of your paper since its first issue, in July, 1868.

"SAMUEL MEYER.
 "79 West Eleventh St., Atlanta Ga."
 Mr. Meyer, a pioneer citizen of Atlanta, is a conservative and successful business man who enjoys the respect of those who have long known him, as well as of the younger generation. He is a type of the man who helped make Atlanta.

"So give the news succinctly, fairly, quickly, sanely; to advocate sound public policies, in the teeth, sometimes of passing prejudice; to avoid narrowness or provincialism; to "plug" everlastingly for the permanent development of city, state and country; to shun filth and squalor in the news; to refuse to cater to vulgar or morbid or prurient instincts; to decline to invade privacy; to decline to capitalize the allurements of vice, the pitiful tragedy of misery; to avoid hysteria—that is and long has been the creed of The Constitution.

America is a nation of stupendous size and the whole scale of tastes. There is no doubt room for both the sane and the insane type of newspaper, but The Constitution would not feel that it was entitled to the distinction of being regarded as the "standard southern newspaper" if it did not merit classification with the sane type of modern journalism.

ADMIRAL AND "JACKIE."
 Secretary of the Navy Daniels has put the admiral and the bluejacket on the same plane from the standpoint of sheer manhood.
 Such is the effect of his order decreeing that liquor is not to be kept on board war vessels and at naval stations, for either officers or enlisted men.
 The long-standing rule of the navy has been that while the enlisted man may be court-martialed if liquor is found in his quarters, the officers of the quarterdeck can join in a "wine mess," including all sorts of alcoholic beverages on board ship.
 The spectacle of enlisted men court-martialed for a practice to which officers were invited constitutes a contradiction without justification in rhyme or reason.
 The secretary bases his order on a recommendation of the surgeon general who declares that liquor on shipboard is antagonistic to efficiency.
 This means that temperance wins its way in the navy not from sentiment, but from economic motives. The secretary does not say that officers or men shall sign the pledge, but he puts them both upon the same footing, where it comes to alcoholic indulgence on board or "in the reservation."
 His order is democratically American, in that it places no fictitious values upon manhood.

WE STAND PAT!

The Augusta Chronicle, in very cordially commending the selection of Atlanta as the regional reserve bank center for this territory, says:
 But the three Atlanta papers are at wide variance as to where the bulk of the "credit" belongs. Here is the line-up:
 Constitution: "The Atlanta Spirit won."
 The Journal: "All credit for bringing the regional bank to Atlanta belongs solely to Senator Hoke Smith."
 The Georgian: "William Randolph Hearst's magnificence and unselfish work brought the regional bank to Atlanta."
 The committee was composed of hard-bitten business men, who let sentiment have no play.
 The Constitution stands pat in holding that the real controlling factor in this fight for Atlanta was Atlanta itself and the fact that the state was back of the city in the contest.
 Atlanta got the bank because Atlanta was entitled to it by the very logic of the situation and whenever the Atlanta Spirit gets back of any logical and reasonable proposition it always wins!
 It won in the old days, when The Constitution was the only newspaper spokesman of the same old Atlanta Spirit, just as it now shares the honor with others.
 And in the old days, as now, it was the Atlanta Spirit that did the work, just as it did it this time.

Condolences to New Orleans, with wishes for better luck next time, when she isn't up against Atlanta.

Prosperity awaits the magic word from the interstate commerce commission and the organization committee of the currency system.

Congressmen have refused to reduce their own mileage rate. The cost of living is also rising.

State politics is what Sherman said about war.

As a chronic kicker, La Follette quickly regains form.

Atlanta employers will make a good civic and business investment by allowing their employees to retain membership in the Fifth regiment.

We are now asked if the Monroe doctrine is "obsolete." Ask Huerta.

The Important Man.

You are important if you put yourself in the way of important things to be done—and do them.
 The years, since History began, have produced Dreamers and Air Castle builders, whose imaginary achievements would have astounded the world had they actually put their mind pictures into reality. But all along, such have breathed out their span and died ordinary and unknown.
 The Important Man is he who puts his Dreams and great Imaginations into Works.
 The men who pave our streets and plough our soil, and run our machines, and write our books—and who do whatsoever useful things that come to hand—are Important Men. The task is not always indicative of the Importance of the Man. But the Man is, always indicative of the Importance of the task.
 Your future Importance depends upon the Importance you place in the things you now do.

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF JAMES STEWART.

One of the greatest political trials in the history of Scotland—political because it had to do with two great clans of that country, although murder was the charge—was that of James Stewart, of the Glen. It was the culmination of a feud that had existed between the Stewarts and the Campbells for many years, and even to this day the bitterness has not subsided that was started by the murder of Collin Campbell, of Glenure. Whether or not James Stewart was guilty has always remained a mystery, but at any rate he was compelled to pay the penalty on the scaffold. The gibbet was erected near the present Scottish town of Ballachulish Ferry, and Stewart died on November 8, 1752. Collin Campbell had been murdered on the afternoon of May 14 of the same year.

As before noted the clans Stewart and Campbell were at enmity, although the two clans had frequently intermarried. In fact James Stewart and the murdered man were blood relatives. They had been friends in past days in the roistering revels. Campbell was a wealthy land owner, and James was one of his tenants and looked after the paying of the rent of other tenants.

Finally, however, their relations became strained, because Campbell insisted upon carrying his feelings into the next generation, Stewart as being too lenient with the tenants. Allan Breck, another relative of Stewart, and a sort of stormy petrel, was also held on suspicion as being implicated in the murder.

On May 7 Campbell set out from Edinburgh for Fort William on business, and one week later he began the return journey with a party of three, intending to pass the night at the inn at Kintalline, near the scene of an intended eviction. Ballachulish Ferry had just disappeared from view to the four riders, and the hills of Morven were becoming prominent, when suddenly at a point in the road at the wood of Lettermore, a shot rang out and Mungo Campbell heard Collin exclaim, "Oh, an dead!"

The noise turned to seek the assailant, but he had disappeared over a hill in the distance. He started in pursuit, but lost track of him. Another of the party was quickly sent on ahead to secure assistance, while one of them guarded the body. About twelve persons were arrested on suspicion, including Campbell and Allan Breck. James Stewart and his son, Allan, were taken to Fort William on the 16th of May. Mrs. Stewart made every effort to secure an interview with her husband, but she only succeeded toward the end of June.

At last, on the 6th of July, about seven weeks after his arrest, the monotony of the prisoner's loneliness was broken by the receipt, for the first time, of a warrant dated May 17th, authorizing his release. Lord Kilmorlan, then at Edinburgh, ordered Stewart, Campbell and Allan Breck, to prepare his defense. The trial was fixed to take place at Inveraray, on the 21st of September, 1752. The bench was occupied by three judges—the Duke of Argyll, Lord Elibank and Lord Kilmorlan. The counsel for the prosecution were the Lord Advocate, William Grant, who had been chief law officer of the crown during the strenuous days that followed Collin Campbell, James Erskine, sheriff of Perth; Robert Campbell, of Asshick; John Campbell, and Simon Fraser.

Many witnesses were examined. An attempt was made to lead direct evidence that James had previously endeavored to arrange the murder of Campbell by deputy, but this attempt utterly failed. There was no absolute evidence that James Stewart was the murderer, nor in any way an accessory to it. With the evidence regarding Allan Breck it must be admitted that there was a strong presumption that he was the actual murderer, he was far from being blameless.

At length all the speeches were finished. All that the skill of the prisoner's counsel could do had been accomplished. No record of any standing up in existence, and probably none took place. The jury brought in a written verdict and James Stewart was sent for to hear his doom pronounced. The verdict condemned the prisoner to be taken to Ballachulish, and there to be hanged, his body thereafter to be suspended by chains.

In a few manly words the prisoner protested his innocence, his readiness to die, and his grief that his name should afterwards be associated with a deed so foul. So ended the trial, and it fell to the officers of the garrison and private hatred had done their worst.

The prisoner was carried back to Inveraray prison and was afterwards transferred to the scene of his former confinement at Fort William. Following his execution the body was hung in chains as directed, and the king's soldiers stood guard to prevent the Stewarts taking it away for burial. Years passed and the skeleton still rattled on the gibbet in the wind. Finally, it is said, that the bones found a quiet resting place in the kirkyard of the Ardshiel Duror of Appin.

Vital Republican Weakness.

The main trouble with the grand old party and its factions is that they have no vital issue to present to the voters. The one question to which they were united the protective tariff, has so far been put in the way of settlement that practically it counts for nothing in national politics. Four years ago only, even Mr. Roosevelt dared not vary a hair's breadth from his then party's dog standard of protection. And last year, when he raised the banner of revolt, his attitude toward protection was weak, wabbling, and cowardly. Now it has been even more frankly and heavily reduced; no one is religiously hurt; no one much cares. Mr. Perkins taunts the democrats with casting a minority of the votes for present, but on this question not merely the majority, but the great body of the voters are with the democrats.

In connection with the tariff the republicans built their hopes largely on the democratic legislation as to the currency and trusts. The currency legislation, under the pressure of public opinion, has been shaped far more safely and sanely than could have been expected. Towards the trusts the recently applied policy of the administration is so conservative and just, so considerate of all essential interests involved, that it holds out little promise of an available issue for the republicans. It is equally discouraging to the regulars and to progressives. In these conditions, Mr. Perkins' peppery denunciation of the national committee will have little influence and the desperate effort of the committee to unite the party is not likely to have much more.

All Along the Line With George Fitch

Submarine Boats.

A submarine boat is a boat which dives below the surface of the water and occasionally comes back.

Submarines were invented during the civil war by the confederates and proved to be one of the most damaging of weapons for the Union forces. As fast as enough super-heroic rebels could be gathered together to man a submarine, they would take it down below the surface for a trial trip. Later it would be raised by a derrick and the confederate would kindly report a verdict of accidental death.

Since then submarines have been greatly improved and it is now possible to live in them for whole days, while they are lying on the bottom of the sea. However, in the end the result is usually the same. A great many very brave men have been killed by these awful war machines, but unfortunately they have all been inside the vessels.

The submarine is supposed to slip quietly beneath the surface and to come to the surface at a battle-squad and blow it several thousand miles past Jericho at one blast. Possibly it may do this some day when there is enough war in the world to allow a battleship and a submarine to meet in an unfriendly manner. As the meanwhile, however, the submarine continues to dive peacefully for the bottom and to be there as contentedly as a catfish feeding in the muddy bed of the Missouri river.

The United States owns a large number of submarines which have been far more humane than those of most countries. They travel long distances and do not sink except at the word of command. In the United States, the aeroplane has proven much more fatal to our brave defenders than the submarine, but in foreign nations the self-diving boat is the favorite method of producing quick promotions in the navy.

"A boat which dives below the surface of the water and occasionally comes back."

War is a terrible thing, but not much more terrible than the fear of war, which makes it necessary to stuff a few dozen nifty men into a submarine vessel every few months and lay them away to soak in the bottom of the ocean.

Peru.

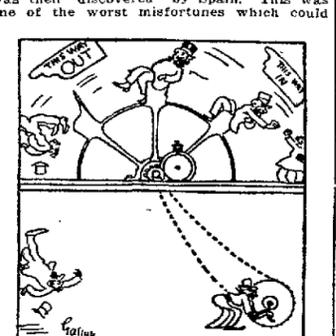

Peru is a patch of land as large as Alaska, in the left hand side of South America, looking north. It is a republic of the high-speed rotary type and its present government should be ascertained by looking in the bulletins on the first page.

New Peru consists of three parts—desert, mountains and forests. It begins at the Pacific ocean with a strip of desert so dry that Peruvians who go to the Sahara get rheumatism. Back of the desert the Andes rise to a height which makes Broadway in New York look squatty. Peru is full of mountain peaks from 20,000 to 23,000 feet high, and whenever a Peruvian and a Chilean begin to dispute about the elevation of their leading mountain peaks the police move hastily in and disarm them.

Half of Peru is three or four miles above the rest, and the man who wishes to campaign for office begins his career with a long course in mountain climbing. Railroads in Peru climb higher than aeroplanes in France and mountain sickness is more common than seasickness.

Back of the mountains, Peru consists of dense tropical forests through which the Amazon river winds its way, swallowing the fumes of the peace and tax collectors with impunity. The celebrated Amazon river was invented in Peru and flows for its first thousand miles through this country, but Brazil has always gotten credit for it, because the mouth is always a better advertiser than the head.

Hundreds of years ago, Peru was a wonderful country with a stable government and vast garden-like fields. Unfortunately, it was then "discovered" by Spain. This was one of the worst misfortunes which could happen to an early country. After the emigrant Mr. Pizarra and his wheeled a wonderful amount of gold from the Inca of Peru, he burned him alive and then established a civilized government over the Indians. This worked so well that soon there were only about 500,000 of them instead of 9,000,000.

"A republic of the high-speed rotary type"

Peru has been free and independent for almost 100 years and now has a population of about 3,500,000, not counting defeated candidates for president and aspirants for the position, both of whom usually live elsewhere. It produces gold and silver, rubber and the celebrated Peruvian bark, which has no bite to it at all. The national bird of Peru is the llama, which is a wool-bearing beast of burden living best three miles high. It has a spiteful look at its enemies like a politician who has been caught with the goods.

Peru would be a more prosperous country if it could get farther away from Chile, which whips it at every opportunity, and grabs a little more territory.

He Knew Calmette.

Gaston Calmette, the editor of the Paris Figaro, shot down in his office by Mme. Caillaux, went to his death as the gentleman he was all his life.

When Mme. Caillaux asked in his visiting card and Paul Bourget sent Calmette: "What are you going to do?" "I'll do one thing," answered Calmette. "I'll do it." (She is a woman and I ought to receive her.) And those words were his death sentence. I had the pleasure of meeting, the late Gaston Calmette and the impression remained with me that he was the most perfect type of "the gentleman editor."

STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

THE AKERMAN CASE MAKES DEMOCRATS AT CAPITAL TAKE NOTICE

Washington, April 6.—(Special.)—The Georgia delegation is sitting up and taking notice over The Constitution editorial, "The Case of Akerman," who seems to be setting down to a life tenure as district attorney for the southern district of Georgia. Comment is widespread that pressure will be brought to bear on the president to let Akerman out and substitute for him a democratic district attorney.

One representative said to me, today, discussing the editorial:

"I have been wondering how Mr. Wilson and Attorney General McReynolds could gain their own consent to keep Akerman in office."

"If Akerman is retained in office it is likely to damage the interests of the democratic party in Georgia, and it certainly will be prejudicial to the esteem in which the administration is now universally held in Georgia."

"Not Spills, But Justice." "I say this, not as a matter of view of a spokesman, but as a southern democrat. I know it to be a fact that Akerman is personally offensive to democrats in my district."

"They resent a man who has done so much for the republicanism in Georgia being continued in an office which he can use as a place of vantage to work further harm to the democrats and advance the cause of the black-and-tan G. O. element."

"The contention that Pratt Adams, of Savannah, should not succeed to the office unless he severs his legal connection with his father is far-fetched and inconsistent. Eighty per cent of the name of a score of federal district attorneys who maintain lucrative private connections."

Scheduled for Retirement. If the attitude of the Georgia delegation and of other senators with whom I have talked is indicative, Akerman is scheduled to early retirement.

At least, considerable pressure will be brought to bear in the right quarters to produce this effect.

It is significant, also, that even republicans are surprised and nonplussed at the retention of Akerman, while the republican appointee in the northern district was retired months ago.

HON. L. G. HARDMAN ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

The next interesting thing on the political program, ladies and gentlemen—the word ladies is used advisedly, for women are not yet in the political arena and will be for these days—is the scramble for the governorship.

And the latest news in this connection is the announcement that the Hon. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, Ga., has decided to run.

Dr. Hardman is well known as a Georgia politician and for some years was representative from Jackson county.

Dr. Hardman's announcement makes two positive entries. J. Randolph Anderson, of Commerce, Ga., has not as yet given out a formal statement, but weeks ago he stated that he would make the race provided Governor Slaton ran for the senate.

The announcement of W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, is also expected at any time. Later on still other names will be out.

The news of Dr. Hardman's announcement was contained in the following dispatch:

Commerce, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—Hon. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, Ga., has decided to enter the race for governor. His platform will be furnished to the press tomorrow.

Dr. Hardman formerly represented Jackson county in the legislature for several terms. He is a candidate for county commissioner and senatorial district in the state senate. Dr. Hardman was the father of the present prohibition bill and has recently been urged by his friends throughout the ninth congressional district to enter the race for congress.

From this district, but Dr. Hardman has been brought to bear upon him from all over the state to enter the race for governor and he has definitely decided to do so.

SLATON WILL NOT RESIGN UNTIL AFTER THE PRIMARY

Governor John M. Slaton announced Monday that he would not resign as governor until after the primary of August 19, and that if he is nominated for the position of senator his resignation would not be forthcoming until some time in October.

"I feel it my duty to remain in office and take part in legislation which will come up at the next session of the general assembly," he said.

By the time the legislature has adjourned, he will have accomplished all I can accomplish, as there will be no more sessions of the legislature during my term of office."

Governor Slaton spent one of the busiest days of his life. The entire state had been watching and waiting for his decision in the senatorial succession matter and just as soon as his decision became known messages began to flash over the wires from all parts of the state and scores of letters, pledging hearty support and assuring him of every possible effort on his behalf, were written on Sunday and received Monday.

To answer all of these letters kept Secretaries Perry and Lim and several stenographers busy during the entire day.

The tension of the past week or ten days was over, but there was plenty of hard work to take its place. As the campaign progresses this work is going to increase by leaps and bounds.

DECISION WAS NOT REACHED UNTIL THE VERY LAST MOMENT

Contrary to the general impression which prevailed throughout Saturday, Governor Slaton stated emphatically Monday that he did not fully make up his mind to make the race for senator until that night.

It was not until he spoke of the matter in detail Monday:

"Up to the very last moment I did not make up my mind. During Saturday I had no conference with Senator West and I had no idea of his intentions. I had stated publicly that I would not make the race if he cared to do so and that is all I did say."

"During Saturday I did not see Senator West and held no conversation with him. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon a number of my friends from all sections of the state called on me and expressed the opinion that I was prominent in their respective sections—gathered at my office and we went over the situation. It was the consensus of opinion that I should make the race, but even then I did not make up my mind. It was only when I received a telephonic communication from Senator West in which he stated that he had decided not to make the race that I fully made up my mind. I had this talk with him about 5 o'clock that night, but I did not announce my decision formally until about 10 o'clock."

Governor Slaton said he would issue his formal statement to the voters of Georgia within the next day or so.

FELDER GOES TO WASHINGTON TO GET AN INJUNCTION

While Governor Slaton is busy looking after his steadily increasing correspondence, Attorney General Thomas S. Felder has gone to Washington to secure a permanent injunction against the Ducktown Sulphur, Copper and Iron company (limited) to prevent the fumes of the plant from encroaching on Georgia lands. This is an original case and is not to be confused with the case of the Tennessee Copper company, which is under contract with the state to pay for damages done by fumes.

FRIENDS OF COL. CRUM WANT HIM NAMED AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Cordale, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—Senator W. S. West is being urged by friends among the local bar and other citizens to consider the appointment of Colonel D. A. R. Crum, of this city, as district attorney for the southern district of Georgia. On his way to his home at Valdosta from Washington Saturday, Senator West was met by a large delegation of his constituents on behalf of the candidacy of Colonel Crum.

However, expressing himself as being under obligations to concur in the recommendation of the late Senator Bacon, naming Mr. Adams, of Savannah, for the place, Colonel Crum is not expected to accept an appointment to the office should he be made at once, discussing certain reasons why the recommendation of Senator Bacon could not be affirmed by the president at this time.

TWO PRIMARIES MAY BE HELD FOR WARE COUNTY OFFICERS

Waycross, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—By fixing the state primary at August 19 the executive committee of Georgia named a date for Ware county's second primary, the Georgia local bar and other citizens have agreed to hold the second primary if one should be found necessary, on the same date as the state primary. The first primary is set for May 20.

It is understood that the rules for the county primary will be practically the same as those used in the city primary last fall. These rules, if adopted, will prohibit the use of whisky, carriages, automobiles or money in getting votes, and any candidate guilty of violating any of the rules will be declared ineligible and the candidate next to him declared the nominee.

BALDWIN COUNTY PRIMARY DATE IS CHANGED TO MAY 1

Milledgeville, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—The date of the Baldwin county primary has been changed by the committee on May 6 to Friday, May 1. The former date conflicted with the Confederate reunion at Jacksonville, and many veterans, who always attend, petitioned for the change.

The office of county commissioner is the most sought, as there are as many as eight or ten candidates announced for the three places. This contest is growing heated. All of the candidates are asking re-election and new aspirants are making a stubborn fight.

There are other contests, but they are overshadowed by the commissioners' scrap.

SHORT CAMPAIGN DISCOURAGES CANDIDATES IN FLOYD COUNTY

Rome, Ga., April 6.—(Special.)—The prospect of a short campaign has somewhat discouraged possible candidates for county office. The primary is to be held on April 28, and entries will close on April 17.

The only now candidate to announce since the fixing of the date of the primary is C. H. Mull, who is a candidate for county commissioner. J. B. Sullivan is also expected to be a candidate.

For tax collector, John M. Vandiver, the incumbent, is opposed by Leonard G. Todd, a Rome business man. Tax receiver, Tom Jenkins, has as his opponents, T. E. Hendricks and Zack Salmon. Sheriff W. G. Duncanson is opposed by Joseph R. Barron, one of his deputies. J. Scott Davis, of Cave Spring, is asking a second term, his opponent being W. O. Connor. Corner John Miller will run again, and L. D. B. Arcecock is in the field for this place. Judge John H. Reece, of Floyd city court, will probably not seek another term. W. J. Nunnally, representative from Floyd county, in the legislature, is an aspirant for the place.

To date no opposition has developed to D. W. Summons, clerk of the superior court, and to T. B. Owens, county treasurer.

REAL ESTATE MARKET GETS HUNCH FROM THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

Yesterday was the busiest day the real estate market of Atlanta has had for a year.

Really experts attribute the effect to the stimulus of last Sunday's Constitution, full of the gossamer tales with real estate projects and news stories of real estate developments.

All Monday the phones were ringing in the offices of real estate men, calls were frequent and the mail was heavy with inquiries for particulars about the promising ventures described in Sunday's Constitution.

The Hunch. "The Constitution last Sunday," said one of the conspicuous leaders in the local field, "gave the real estate situation the needed hunch to vitality."

"For several months things have more or less lagged. We have had nibbles, but no good strong buying. The Constitution reminds me of

NINE LIVES ARE LOST IN A BRIDGE DISASTER

Nine Other Persons Narrowly Escape Death Under the Mississippi at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., April 6.—Nine men lost their lives today and nine others narrowly escaped a like fate when a shaft leading to the underground workings in the foundation for the Harrahan railroad bridge, being constructed across the Mississippi river here, became filled with poisonous gases. Eight of them suffocated while ascending the shaft to their places in a caisson 90 feet below the surface, and the ninth man, Peter Watson, a watchman, lost his life in an attempt to rescue his comrades. Those rescued were taken to a compartment adjoining the gas-filled shaft. They were hauled to the surface through an opening used to send material to the workmen.

All the Dead White Men.

All the dead were white men. Those rescued are negroes.

Theory of Physicians.

A physician who examined the bodies stated that they bore evidence of carbon-monoxide poisoning which might have been formed through the burning of the oakum and rubber lining on top of the caisson. The gas was found to be a deposit of "marsh gas" was penetrated in making the excavations.

I'M A MURDERER, YOUNG MAN SAYS

Van Goosby Confesses Crime and Asks to Be Arrested—Afflicted With a Homicidal Mania.

Danville, Va. April 6—In a murderer and I want to be arrested," said Van Goosby, a well-dressed young white man, to Police Officer Petty of this city, shortly before midnight Saturday.

The officer looked at the man as if to determine whether he were joking or not, but Goosby continued. "I mean what I say. I am wanted in Georgia for murder, and I committed the deed at Douglas. My name is Van Henry Goosby."

The man was so persistent and so thoroughly in earnest that Petty took him into custody and escorted him to jail. Goosby told the officer he had killed his stepfather, a man named Hodge and had been tried and acquitted. Later while residing at the same place he claims that he was approached and unbranded by Tom Hodge, a brother of the man he had killed. Words led to an altercation in the course of which Goosby killed the second man and fled, coming to this city in company with his brother Goosby, assumed the name of King while his brother, he asserts, assumed the name of Saunders. Goosby secured employment in a cotton mill under his assumed name.

On Sunday, just after dinner Goosby, who was confined in a cell with two insubordinate prisoners, wrenched a metal plunger from the plumbing equipment of the cell and without warning assaulted his fellow prisoners. Their cries summoned the jailer, who disarmed the man. City Physician Hudson, who examined Goosby, expressed the opinion that he has homicidal mania and ordered him isolated in a secure cell.

To Be Brought to Georgia.
Douglas, Ga., April 6.—Today Sheriff J. C. Willis, of DeKalb county, received a telegram from the chief of police of Danville, Va., advising him that Van Goosby had surrendered to him and confessed that he was wanted in Broxton, Ga., for killing his stepfather four years ago.
On September 25, 1910, Goosby, in a dispute over a game of cards, is said to have shot and killed his stepfather, Tom Hodge, in Coffee county, on the J. J. Rowe place, six miles from Broxton, Ga. Goosby was arrested at the term of court in 1910 the grand jury returned an indictment against Goosby for murder. Sheriff Willis will send a deputy for Goosby, who it is understood here, will come back without requisition papers for trial.

REBEL FOREIGN POLICY EXPLAINED BY CARRANZA

General Is Willing to Accept the Mediation of the United States.

El Paso, Texas, April 6.—A carefully worded communication from General Carranza dealing with the rebel foreign policy was made public today by Dr. Henry Allen Tupper, of the international peace forum. Dr. Tupper interviewed General Carranza at the request of Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texas. The letter says in part:

"I possess a deep admiration for the American people and hold in great personal esteem President Woodrow Wilson and Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan. I know they are men of the very highest mental and moral and political aims and are sincerely and entirely disinterested and are the result of the existing harmony between the aims of the cause which I have the honor to represent and the ideals of American democracy. I am at the head of the constitutional army or in any other office my policy will be to strive in such way as to have our international obligations respected with the same care as our relations with foreign governments become more and more cordial, and especially with such countries as have their destiny linked with the political, economic and personal interests of Mexico.

Regrets Misunderstandings.
I sincerely regret that incidents of an international character should have given rise to an interpretation not entirely in accord with my real attitude as the chief of the constitutionalists. I have striven to place myself in the legitimate light deserved by the high aims of our party without overlooking the cordial suggestions which were offered me within the attitude just expressed neither evading responsibility nor ignoring diplomatic customs and usages.

In pursuance of this attitude all representations and matters called to our attention by the United States in an unofficial way have in the past received our prompt attention and I am sure that hereafter the same attention will be given to all representations and matters presented to us through the United States in behalf of other nations in conformity with international diplomatic usage and custom notwithstanding the fact that we always have deemed it preferable to avoid international complications with the United States by other powers as a result of its attitude toward the political situation now existing in the republic of Mexico.

To Accept American Mediation.
In accordance with the views above expressed I repeat that I am at all times disposed to give attention, for instance, to foreign representations provided of course that we are not satisfied that mediation is at the request of such power.

I can conceive no better evidence of the spirit of cordiality and friendship which we bear towards the United States than our willingness to receive unofficial representations and claims made by the United States in regard to all matters concerning its citizens within the republic of Mexico. I must however call your attention to the fact that we could not without sacrificing our hard fought for prestige consider representations made through the good offices of the United States in behalf of foreigners unless we be officially informed that mediation has been requested of the United States by the interested nation.

ATTACKED CATHOLICS AND GOT INTO TROUBLE

Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon Badly Beaten at Denver—His Nose Broken.

Denver, Colo., April 6.—Rev. Otis L. Spurgeon, of Des Moines, who was forcibly escorted from the city last night by unidentified men because of attacks on the Catholic priesthood in a lecture, was brought to a local hospital today suffering from injuries at the hands of his assailants. No one was allowed to see him.

In a lecture here Saturday night Spurgeon accused Catholic priests with immorality. Last night a party of seven men visited Spurgeon at his hotel and seized him. His captors took him in automobile to a place about 24 miles north of Denver, where he was beaten and released after being given $2.10. Spurgeon succeeded in reaching the house of a deputy sheriff who brought him to the hospital. Spurgeon's nose was broken and he suffered other injuries.

REPORT OF ENGINEER ON GRANITE HIGHWAY

The executive committee of the Granite Highway association met last night and heard reports from the engineer, who has just completed a preliminary survey of the first half of the proposed route for the Granite Highway. The road will extend from Decatur to Lithonia, a distance of 18 miles. The engineer estimated that the cost of building the road from Decatur to Stone Mountain, which is 3 miles, will be $200,000. The Stone Mountain quarry furnishes free of charge the broken stone to be used in the construction. This will make the cost of the entire road figure about $180,000. Half of the expense will be borne by property owners along the route and the remainder by DeKalb county.

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.
It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using this simple recipe. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bay rum, a small box of Barbos (this brand name is of glycerine and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair but darkens streaked faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.

ACCUSER OF PREACHER RECEIVES A THREAT

New York, April 6.—A threatening postal card sent to Mrs. Hilma Dohj advising her not to press her charges was today's contribution to incidents in the secret ecclesiastic trial of Dr. Jacob E. Price, Methodist clergyman charged with misconduct by nine women members of his congregation. Mrs. Dohj said she had received the card after she had made improprio proposals to her and treated her as no man had ever treated her before. "Your accusations against Dr. Price," read the postal card, "are all false. I suppose you are another unfortunate victim of a newspaper reporter. Better let this matter drop."

HUERTA PUTS BAN ON CONSUL AGENT

Mexican constitution—the famous "pernicious foreigner law, which gives Mexican authorities the right to deport undesirable aliens.
General Gutierrez followed up his attack on the Spanish exodus by a tirade against the Jesuits in Mexico. And the Jesuits come next, he said. Already, it was learned, numbers of Catholic priests have been forced to leave the country in which the Gutierrez men are operating. Most of these priests were said to be Spaniards but a number were of Mexican descent.

SOLDIERS GATHERING FOR THE NEXT BATTLE

Torreon, Mexico, April 5, via El Paso, Texas, April 6.—San Pedro, twenty-six miles northeast of here, it is said in all probability will be the scene of the next battle.
San Pedro, a hill girt city, whose natural defenses must be approached over a hot country, held a federal garrison all the time the battle of Torreon was being fought, but this force was assailed by a rebel column from coming to the assistance of General Villas.
Recently a comparatively small force of rebels attempted to take the town, having underestimated the strength of the garrison, whose numbers were developed by the attack.
General Villa has been building up his force in the last few days for a renewal of the assault. The defeat of the federalists at San Pedro would, it is said, remove the last federal force from this district.
The whereabouts of the troops driven from this city last week is not known, although it is believed Villa is headed for Saltillo.
The Spanish colony ordered out of this city by General Villa is said, probably will be placed aboard trains for Juarez tomorrow.

LIND AND HIS FAMILY SAIL ON THE MAYFLOWER

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 6.—John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, with his daughter and the family of Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, embarked on the Mayflower today to proceed direct to Washington. William F. Canada, American consul here, and the consular staff went on board to bid them farewell.
The French cruiser Descartes arrived early today and saluted the foreign warships here.

HABES CORPUS DENIED TO INTERNED MEXICANS

Fort Worth, Texas, April 6.—United States Judge Meek this afternoon denied the application for habeas corpus filed by the 3,000 Mexicans interned at Fort Bliss, Texas. These Mexicans are to be surrendered to United States soldiers at Pecos, Texas, after Villa had driven them from Culagua, Mexico.
