MRS. SUSAN MEMMINGER PASSES TO THE BEYOND

Death Removes One of the Most Gracious Women of the South.

Mrs. Susan Mazzyck Memminger, of Charleston, S. C., widow of the late Rev. Robert N. Memminger, and mother of Rev. W. W. Memminger of Atlanta, died Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's infirmary, after an illness of several months.

She was 72 years of age, and is survived by five sons—Judge Memminger, of Charleston, S. C.; Lucien Memminger, of the American consulate in Paris; Edmund and Gustave Memminger, of Florida; and Rev. W. W. Memminger, pastor of All Saints' church, Atlanta. Her funeral will take place from the church this afternoon at 5 o'clock, and the interment will be in the old family cemetery in Flat Rock, N. C.

The news of the passing of this distinguished woman will cause sorrow in every community in which she has been known, not only in Charleston, where her memory has been one of distinction since 1838, when her ancestors came from France, but wherever she has visited among relatives and friends, north or south.

She went abroad last summer to join her son, Lucien Memminger, in Paris, where she was taken ill, and from this illness she never entirely recovered. At that time her son, Rev. W. W. Memminger, went to Paris, and, with him, she returned to Atlanta, with the hope that the climate here would prolong her life. She improved for a while, but within the last few months it was evident that her passing was near. She was a woman whose maturity was characterized by beauty that distinguished her in her youth, and enriched a character of great strength and loveliness.

Woman of Culture.

She possessed that culture which was the attribute of the gentlewoman of her time, and a grace of bearing and manner exquisite in its poise and charm. She was a member of the Colonial Dames of South Carolina, and a member of the Huguenot society, combining with her loyalty to the ideals and traditions of the past a live and ardent interest in her country of the present day.

Her passing deprives the "new south" of another of those precious heritages of the "old south," for the woman of Mrs. Memminger's day represents a product than whom the world has known no better and no greater. In the history of the new world, the chapter these women have furnished in southern life will remain ever as indelibly clear and bright as the evening star.

INTEREST GROWS KEENER IN BIG PRIZE CONTEST

and regulations governing this contest are simple and specific. They are, in part, as follows:

1. Fill out the nomination ballot and send same to the Contest Department of The Constitution. Each contestant is entitled to one coupon good for 5,000 votes. Contestants may nominate themselves. They do not have to be subscribers to The Constitution. It costs nothing to enter this contest, and no obligations are involved in doing so. Put your name, or that of a friend or relative, today.
2. Any white woman in the territory covered by this paper is eligible to enter this great voting contest.
3. How Votes Are Secured. Besides voting certificates issued on subscriptions, a daily ballot, for a certain number of votes, will be published in each issue unless otherwise announced. Each daily ballot printed will be limited and must be in The Constitution office before the expiration date printed thereon.
4. Candidates are not restricted to getting votes or subscriptions in their own particular district, but may secure subscriptions in any part of the United States; and if cash accompanies the order, voting certificates will be issued, but voting certificates will be issued only on cash-in-advance subscriptions.
5. Candidates in one district are not competing with candidates in another district, except in the instance of the grand prizes. The division of districts, as shown elsewhere in this paper, so equalizes competition that every candidate has an equal chance to win.
6. No votes will be allowed on subscriptions held more than one week after being secured by contestants. Subscriptions must be turned in promptly, together with the money collected on them. Votes will be issued when the money is received, but the contestants may retain these votes and cast them whenever they wish within the rule.
7. No votes will be issued on subscription payments less than the amounts stipulated in the voting schedule.
8. Votes will not be allowed on arrearages either for subscriptions due The Constitution or to the carrier unless the payment is sufficient to bring the subscription account up to date and at least six months in advance of the date on which payment is made. In such instances, votes may be issued for the full amount paid on old subscriptions, according to the schedule.
9. On payments other than those scheduled, votes will be issued according to the scheduled amount next below the amount so paid.
10. Ballots cannot be bought. They can be obtained only by subscribing and prepaying a subscription to The Constitution or by cutting daily ballots from the paper.
11. To insure being counted all daily ballots must be neatly trimmed to uniform size, fastened together and sent in flat. Do not fold the ballots.
12. Fill Out the Top. In sending in daily ballots it is unnecessary to fill out more than the top ballot in each package. Then write on this ballot the number of votes the package contains. Contestants who fail to comply with this rule must accept the count of the contest department of The Constitution as final. We do not acknowledge the receipt of daily ballots unless an error is discovered in your count. Only one nomination ballot good for 5,000 votes is placed to the credit of each candidate in the published score. Daily ballots are also credited in the published score. Voting certificates are issued on subscriptions only.
13. Each publication of daily ballots will be final except in case of typographical error or mistake of the contest department. In the published score, to save all daily ballots and they will be destroyed three days after date of publication.
14. By the filing of votes all contestants must accept and agree to all conditions.
15. Votes once issued to one contestant cannot be transferred to the credit of another.
16. No voting certificates can be cast for publication and the subscriptions upon which they were issued used in making up clubs then forming. 17. Votes issued in error will be declared void by the campaign department of The Constitution and thrown out if cast. 18. Neither salaried employees of The Constitution nor their immediate families can enter the contest. 19. In case of a tie, prizes of equal value will be given to those tying. 20. The Constitution will recognize no promise either written or verbal made by agents, collectors or canvassers contrary to the published rules and regulations governing this contest. 21. The right is reserved to reject the name of any candidate for cause, or to alter these rules and regulations should occasion demand. 22. Any question that may arise between the contestants will be decided by the campaign manager and his decision will be final. 23. This contest officially begins April 12 and ends at midnight June 27, 1914.

Subscription Rules.

24. Anyone taking The Constitution regularly when this paper is announced April 5, 1914, will be classed as an old subscriber. A subscription will not be counted as new if it is simply transferred from one member of the family or household to another, or if it is transferred to firm or corporation, or vice versa. A second paper ordered delivered to which the paper is regularly delivered at the time the contest was announced will be considered as new only on payment of an equal amount or more made on the subscription originally going to that address. Exceptions may be made to this rule in the case of boarders and roomers. But The Constitution requires the right to decide all such cases. Any combination of circumstances by which The Constitution does not gain a subscriber, the subscription cannot and will not be classed as new. A subscription which is new when first payment is made will be considered new on any subsequent payment during the contest.

Two-Year Subscriptions.

25. Subscriptions will not be taken for a longer period than two years in advance. 26. No votes will be issued on subscription payments made direct to The Constitution or its agents unless a request for votes is made at the time of payment and the name of the candidate for whom said votes are to be cast is given.

27. Contestants may replace a subscription or subscriptions turned in as new and found to be old, and count same in the club offer in effect at the time that the original subscription is sent in, provided such subscription or subscriptions are sent in within three days from the time contestant is notified of the facts. 28. Contestants having subscriptions to enter on a club offer and being unable to get the letter postmarked in time, may telephone or telegraph the contest department the exact amount of remittance they are sending, before midnight of date upon which the club offer expires, and that amount will be counted in the period then in effect; provided the amount is forwarded by first following mail. But such telephone or telegraph tolls must be paid by the sender. 29. Contestants will not be permitted to offer The Constitution at less than the regular subscription price.

NAVAL OFFICERS DISCUSS THAT PROHIBITION ORDER

Washington, April 7.—Discussion of Secretary Daniels' order barring alcoholic liquors from American warships and naval stations continued today wherever navy officers congregated. Mr. Daniels said he had not yet considered in what circumstances he would make exceptions to the iron-clad rule, but reminded inquirers that Surgeon General Braisted, who recommended the banishment of alcohol, had suggested that exceptions could be made wherever international courtesy required. "I am sure the order will meet with the approval of nearly all officers, and I expect full compliance," said Mr. Daniels. The order created no little interest among the army officers. When it was mentioned to Secretary Garrison, he said: "When I was a young man my father pointed out to me a man who had made a fortune minding his own business."

FLOATING HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES

Pittsburg, April 7.—The hygienic section of the academy of science and art today announced plans for a floating hospital crew of doctors and nurses and will be for patients while they are awaiting admission to the state or county hospitals. Moving picture shows throughout Allegheny county are to be asked to set apart a day when pictures showing the ravages of the white plague will be shown, the proceeds to go toward the maintenance of the hospital. Already a considerable sum of money has been subscribed, and it is expected to have the boat ready for patients this summer.

HE KILLED HIS FRIEND FOR ALIENATING WIFE

Paris, April 7.—Maurice Delacroix, an inspector of police, shot and killed his comrade and intimate friend, Inspector Raymond Dupin, at police headquarters here today. Delacroix declared he obtained evidence last night that Dupin was alienating the affections of Madame Delacroix. Delacroix surrendered.

Inspecting Bibb Cattle.

Macon, Ga., April 7.—(Special.)—State Food Inspector Methvin today began an inspection of the dairy cattle in Bibb county to determine whether or not they are afflicted with tuberculosis, with a view of improving the standard of Macon's milk supply. The campaign is the result of the efforts of Chairman Williams, of the board of health, who believes that the milk supplied to Macon consumers can be considerably improved. There are about forty dairies in Bibb county, using at least 1,000 cows. Those which are found to have tuberculosis will be condemned and ordered killed.

LIQUOR ADS NOT BARRED BY THE MISSISSIPPI LAW

Jackson, Miss., April 7.—Newspaper advertising is not solicited, and therefore Mississippi newspapers are not prohibited from printing liquor advertisements by the May-Lott-Lewis anti-liquor law which went into effect yesterday, according to an opinion rendered today from the office of Ross Collins, attorney general of Mississippi. The May-Lott-Lewis law stipulates that "no person, firm or corporation, by letter, circular or otherwise, shall solicit or take orders for any intoxicating liquors." The law applies to the entire state. The Chinese government, which owns the country's telegraph system, has extended it until more than 36,000 miles of land lines and about 1,000 miles of cables are now in use. Economy of floor space is the advantage of a Wisconsin inventor's step ladder in which a third section carried between the front and back can be raised to a desired height.

N. B.—Read What Mr. W. A. Verney Says:

Atlanta, Ga., March 27, 1914.

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley, City—
Dear Sir:—
On last Tuesday I happened to be near the property that you are now developing on and near Peachtree Road. You showed me over the country estate. I was amazed at the aggressive and progressive way you are going at the work; it is the biggest thing of the kind that I have seen in and around Atlanta; it will fill a want that has been needed a long time—homes to be located on acreage instead of lots 60x150. The people of this city will and should be proud of your latest subdivision—one which I believe will be the best for many years to come. I unhesitatingly say the property offers the surest and quickest profit to the speculator that I have ever seen. It only needs to be seen to be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
W. A. VERNEY.

UNDERWOOD WINS.

Oscar Underwood wins the bitterly-contested election for the United States senate from Alabama.

The news will be no surprise to the country. Had Alabama rejected the opportunity to be served in the senate by such a man it would have been equivalent to confessing to the country that the state was in need of a guardian.

The triumph of Underwood is a tribute to popular confidence in his honesty, ability, fearlessness. In the line of conviction, he felt called upon to oppose the position of President Wilson on the Panama tolls issue.

As senator, Underwood will make history for his country and his state. His instrumental role in the tariff and currency legislation is earnest of that prophecy.

A disagreeable but perhaps inevitable feature of the campaign was the attempt to defeat Underwood by dragging in the purely local and economic issue of prohibition.

The motives behind the defeat of the measure must make an interesting story. It is not improbable that we have here an exhibit of a recrudescence of Tammany, fearful of the fleshpots in the face of a foreign and merciless invasion.

tire page to exploiting the advantages to the state of these alternative routes. The Chronicle also points out that the governmental engineers have accepted a route from Savannah through Darien and Brunswick southward, and stresses its advantages.

Largely as a result of The Constitution's good roads crusade and round-the-state tours, the roads in Georgia heretofore disjointed and local are being connected and given a consecutive value.

What this really big American would have to gain by administering New York's police department it is difficult to imagine. He is, in the first place, too great a man for the position.

History has shown that few men can discharge the duties of police commissioner of New York city without being smudged with the stain of politics or scandal.

The motives behind the defeat of the measure must make an interesting story. It is not improbable that we have here an exhibit of a recrudescence of Tammany, fearful of the fleshpots in the face of a foreign and merciless invasion.

The senator further says that after twenty years in congress he cherishes no inordinate political ambitions, and that it may well be his party can be served better by some man who has been less imbroiled in factional disturbances than himself.

There are few abler men in congress than Burton. The Constitution has not invariably admired his partisan bedfellows, but we have done justice to his personal conviction, capacity and courage.

Omelets, Plain and Fancy.

Eggs are so easily prepared that it would seem that every one should know the seven hundred different ways of preparing them.

And there is nothing so simple in the whole line of cookery as this battered omelet. It is a mass of fluffy bubbles and all that is needed to insure its beautiful lightness is a little care.

Now you say the omelet always falls just as you are about to serve it; this, too, can be avoided.

It is better to make two small omelets than one great one, and four eggs are sufficient for any time.

Beat the yolks of the eggs until lemon colored and thick and the whites until they are stiff, add a tablespoon of ice water to the yolks for every egg used.

Very elaborate omelets are baked in silver dishes and are dignified by the name of souffles; they may be sweet or plain or made with oysters or chicken.

A very popular omelet for breakfast is made as directed and folded over once after being spread with warmed orange marmalade.

Fiddling.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Fiddling is good for the soul—some say. If you fiddle away when there is important work to be done, while some one else is doing it, about the time you have done the time to fiddle.

But when at work, forget fiddling. Always leave the fiddle at home. In imagination, even, let not your mind go back to its fiddle.

What kind of a fiddle? There are many kinds. Not literally the one with strings. Maybe a good book, or a journey among the trees and flowers and birds in the country.

Own a fiddle of some sort. And learn to fiddle. Your nerves will thank you and your friends will thank you. But fiddle in fiddling hours.

DAVY CROCKETT.

By GEORGE FITCH. Author of "At Good Old Swank."

Davy Crockett was a 101 per cent American citizen, who lived, very informally, between the years 1786 and 1836.

In those days life in the western frontier of the United States was even more dangerous than it is during the hot political campaign today, said frontier being in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Just at present a large number of trusts seem to be mistaking Woodrow Wilson for Davy Crockett.

Crockett wore a coonskin cap with a tail to it and deerskin pants and moccasins. But when he went to congress for Tennessee he put on the wide felt hat of civilization and became noted for his humor and good sense. When Tennessee became too tame for him he went to Texas, which was suffering from Mexico's in its worst form, and helped citizens get up a revolution.

But we can't help having some slight sympathy for the Mexican soldiers who had to hang around the Alamo while Crockett was still shooting that long barreled rifle.

Poles of New England.

(Harry Shipman Brown, in The Forum)

Three rooms that compose a dirty shanty; twenty people. Half trampled under foot, the children. It is the wedding of a Polish girl. The guests are singing, wine, liquor, and beer are flowing freely.

A hot field. Under the full glare of a cruel sun, a Pole and his wife, in a disappreciated baby carriage straight from the junk heap, a tiny baby, crying drearily in their bare feet and scant clad limbs and bodies, labor the man and woman on their knees, weeding those never-ending rows of onions.

After a short discussion of his views on speculation in farm products, the large amount paid out for support of the army and navy, and promising, if elected, to work for reform along these lines, he stated that he favored leaving the regulation of the postmaster general, saying that this would prohibit the manipulation of laws that would fatten the express companies and would tend to the upbuilding of new roads.

Judge Vinson stated forcefully that he was in favor of the segregation of the races among the employees of the government.

Other reference to Mr. Reynolds was in a question which he compared to the familiar one in the scriptures, "Can any good come out of Nazareth?" His question was, "Can any political good come out of Richmond?" adding that a tree was known by its fruit.

His remarks about other opponents, he also quoted scripture, saying that the candidacy of Judge Rawlings and Colonel A. W. Evans, of Washington county, was like a house divided against itself.

STATES POLITICAL GRIND

GOVERNOR SLATON IS COMEMORATED FOR MAKING SENATE RACE. Although two days ago the Georgia Legislature had announced its decision to re-elect Governor Slaton, Tuesday morning found his desk piled high with letters from all parts of the state commending his decision and offering him support in his campaign for the high office.

These letters were restricted to no part of the state, but came from north, south, east and west.

A large number of the letters commended the governor's action in deciding not to resign from the governorship before the primary.

GOVERNOR EXPRESSES IGNORANCE REGARDING THE FRANK CASE. In reply to resolutions adopted by the Cobb county democratic executive committee urging Governor Slaton to resign in order that the responsibility of granting or refusing a pardon to Leo M. Frank, should that matter come before the governor, may be held by the state, the governor has issued the following statement:

"I do not know the evidence in the Frank case, nor its merits, nor whether it will ever come before me. It is still in the courts, and I am ignorant of the matter by me would be impossible.

"I was elected by the people, and have no right to resign except by their consent. If the sovereign people elect me to another position they have no right to insist that I do not wish me to be senator. I shall continue in the office to which they elected me."

CANDLER ASKED NOT TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR OF THE STATE. An interesting light on the possibility of C. Murphy Candler, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, resigning as governor is contained in a letter which he recently received from a prominent south Georgia business man, and his reply to the same.

In his letter asks that Commissioner Candler do not enter the race, for the reason that the writer believes he can be of much greater service to the state as chairman of the railroad commission than as governor.

The letter to Mr. Candler and his reply follow:

"Dear Mr. Candler, I see from the public press that you are being urged to run for governor. Most any man would be glad to do this, but there are very few men in Georgia that can make a good railroad commissioner.

His reply was: "My dear Mr. Reynolds: I value more than I can express your kind favor of the north and your good opinion of my services as railroad commissioner, as therein expressed. I do not desire this nomination more than any I have had on the gubernatorial situation, from anyone, anywhere.

"I have over half my term to serve, and the state is in a very serious condition of things. I have over half my term to serve, and the state is in a very serious condition of things.

SCHEME TO DECREASE SOUTHERN G. O. P. VOTE

Chairman Hillis Explains Plan Adopted by the National Committee.

New York, April 6.—Charles D. Hillis, chairman of the republican national committee, tonight made public the proposed plan to decrease the percentage of the southern territorial representation in the republican national convention in 1916 and thereafter from approximately 35 per cent of the total voting strength to less than 15 per cent, as provided in the resolutions adopted by the committee at its meeting last December.

Views are Explained.

It was resolved that the national committee consider the question, formulate its conclusions and submit the result of its deliberations for ratification by state conventions. In reaching the views that actuated the national body the special committee of three says: "The committee believed that should conditions of delegates be changed, the number of states entitled to cast a majority of the votes in a national convention, ratify the action taken by the national committee in this respect, its action could be made fairly to express the sentiment of the great majority of the party, for obviously such a change would consist of more representatives of the party than would be assembled in a national convention."

Ratifying the Plan.

The plan can be ratified by any republican convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for state offices, or for the purpose of adopting a party platform, or by any convention called by the republican state committee and held before January 1, 1915. The national committee has the honor of presenting the plan for presentation to the several republican state committees and to the national convention to be convened in 1916. The basis proposed for the election of delegates is that the states having the greatest number of republican votes a larger proportion of voting strength in the supreme council of the party, and the changes made in the rules that way is open for the separate states to enact laws for the election of delegates in primary election, and for the majority of the voters participating in the primaries to elect delegates who will voice the sentiment of the majority."

A Chest of Silver The Family's Best Gift to the Bride

In selecting a flatware pattern for a bridal gift, particular care should be exercised. It is not like picking out something which will be replaced from time to time. The silver you will give will be used and prized always and will probably be added to at frequent intervals. Our stock of Sterling Silver was chosen with this idea in mind, and we believe our election will meet with your hearty approval. Our engraving is noted for its smoothness and beauty. CANADA RAILWAY RATES ARE SHARPLY REDUCED

Ottawa, Ontario, April 7.—Substantial freight reductions are made in a decision handed down today by the railway commission, which provides for new rate schedules and standardization of tariffs. The reduction will amount to from five to thirty per cent on nearly all classes of goods on all railways operating from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast and will go into effect September 1 of this year. Local grain and flour rates are reduced by two methods, first by a direct reduction ranging from 20 to 30 per cent, and second by making the terminal point of origin the maximum that may be charged between intermediate stations. Warehouse rates on flour and other grain products are similarly reduced. This is an endorsement of the complaints of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the application of the Winnipeg board of trade. Substantial cuts in coal rates from the Alberta mines are made.

UNITED STATES LOSES IN THE COAL ROAD CASE

Suit Brought Against Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Is Dismissed.

Trenton, N. J., April 7.—The United States court filed an opinion here today dismissing the suit of the United States government against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The court holds that there is no United States law or decision prohibiting the same set of individuals holding seats in two major corporations even though they may be engaged in kindred business. The decision was handed down here by Judge Gray, Buffington and McPherson, in an alleged judicial circuit. The action was brought in the federal court here, but through a certificate of expedition filed by Attorney General McKelvey, was heard by the judges of the United States court in Philadelphia in January.

Case Very Important.

The case is considered of the highest importance by the government, as it is one of the steps planned by the committee to break up what it alleges to be a monopoly of the anthracite coal trade. The case, which was brought under both the Sherman anti-trust law and the Hepburn railroad law, in all probability will go direct to the supreme court of the United States.

Somehow similar suit recently was instituted against the Lehigh Valley railroad and its subsidiaries in the federal court in New York, and another government action against the railroad to separate it from the Jersey Central railroad and other interests, is in the United States court in Philadelphia.

Today's decision is the second time the government has lost in a similar case. The first case involved all the anthracite roads and reached the supreme court, which decided that the commodities clause was constitutional, but that the federal government could not force a corporation which owns the commodity the railroad is transporting. A somewhat similar suit recently was instituted against the Lehigh Valley railroad and its subsidiaries in the federal court in New York, and another government action against the railroad to separate it from the Jersey Central railroad and other interests, is in the United States court in Philadelphia. Government to Appeal.

Washington, April 7.—Immediate steps will be taken by the department of justice to appeal to the supreme court from the decision of the court of appeals in the case against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company. Attorney General McKelvey tonight said he hopes to have the case up for argument during the fall term. Although officials here say today's result is not a serious blow because it is not the final decision, it was evident that if the supreme court were to sustain the circuit court, the whole plan of the department to break up what it believes is a monopoly of the hard coal industry in eastern Pennsylvania would be in great danger.

BITTER PROTESTS MADE BY THE DEFEATED CITIES

New Orleans, Baltimore and Omaha Sore Over Failure to Land Reserve Banks.

Washington, April 7.—Vigorous protests against the failure to include New Orleans, Baltimore and Omaha in the list of federal reserve bank cities were voiced in the house today. The debate started with a speech by Representative Dupre, of Louisiana, who, reading long resolutions adopted at New Orleans mass meetings, said he wanted to "drive into the minds of congress" what the sentiment of that city was on the unfairness of leaving out New Orleans.

Many took part in the discussion and tomorrow Representative Glass, of Virginia, chairman of the banking and currency committee, will make a statement in defense of the organization committee that selected the cities.

Baltimore Can't Understand.

"I have nothing to say against Richmond," declared Representative Linthicum, of Maryland, "but the people of Baltimore cannot appreciate the reasons why a city not along the seaboard, so far as the foreign trade is concerned, a city not doing a foreign business as we are doing a city not in close proximity to both the north and the south and practically all the business between those sections passing through the port of Baltimore, is being done here, and Baltimore, I repeat, cannot see why Richmond should be considered over and above the city that always has been the financial center of the south."

Representative Glass suggested that Richmond loans $25,000,000 to the southern states, and Baltimore replied that a large portion of the $35,000,000 is derived from loans by Baltimore banks to Richmond banks.

It is not clear to anyone of political bulk," said Mr. Linthicum, "but there is no comparison between the claims of the two cities."

Politics Charged.

"It will be a sorry day for this country when gentlemen like legislation, inject politics into the financial operations of the country," said Republican Leader Mann. "We feared that was being done when the currency act was passed, and we are now apparently has taken politics into consideration. We hope it will not be repeated."

It is apparent that the secretary of the treasury receives a bank in New York, the comptroller of the currency receives a bank in his little city, and the secretary of agriculture gets two banks in his state, and that outside of New York, the other two do not receive the business which naturally trends in that direction.

We are told now because, I expect, of the present partisan division, that the federal reserve board will be appointed until the Panama tolls question is settled.

Representative Glass: "I assume my friend thinks that a democratic reserve bank in Philadelphia to make that a democratic city."

Tribe and Hardwick Defend.

Representatives Tribe and Hardwick of Georgia defended the selections. Representative Tribe denounced the efforts to attack the selections of the cities.

Washington and New Orleans, he said, are the only cities seriously complaining about the action of the board. It is interesting to note that the board of the government for fifty years has had a reserve bank in New Orleans, and the lion's share of the rivers and harbors of the country has been in the hands of the city of New Orleans.

These two cities seem to think because they are the largest cities in the south that they are entitled to a federal reserve bank.

Senator Randell asked to have the New Orleans mass meeting resolutions attacking the reserve bank read in the senate, but Senator Hoke Smith objected and after a sharp exchange Senator Randell gave up the attempt.

Attending physicians reported last night that Dr. J. Scott Todd, prominent surgeon and practitioner, who for some time has been critically ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel S. Wallace, at 171 West North Ave., will not live throughout today.

SOUTHERN WRITERS MEET IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—A plea for conservation of southern life in song and story was made to members of the League of Southern Writers at the opening session of their annual convention held here tonight. Mrs. Rutledge, of Louisville, presided at the session of the league, made the plea, and urged the writers to devote their talents to the glorification of the customs, character and spirit distinctive of life in Dixie. Among the speakers at tonight's session was Mrs. Anne P. Rankin, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of the Southern Women's Magazine, who gave reasons for the league's formation. A magazine devoted to their particular interests in the South was the aim of the league, she said. The Hermitage association, presented the league with a gavel and a hickory nut from one of the trees at the Hermitage. After the business session delegates were entertained by a dinner given by women writers of Louisville and the convention league.

SOULE AND BRITAIN TALK AT CONFERENCE

Georgians Discuss Educational Matters at Louisville—Ogden's Work is Lauded.

Louisville, Ky., April 7.—Services commemorative of the life of the late Robert C. Ogden, of New York, and his work in the development of the southland occupied tonight's meeting of the conference for education in Dixie. The country life of the south, the conference movement, of which he declared Mr. Ogden virtually was the founder and the vitalizing spirit after his untimely death, were the subjects of the evening's sessions.

Praised Ogden's Work.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond, Va., acting president of the conference, and presiding tonight, praised the work Mr. Ogden accomplished toward bettering general conditions of life throughout the south. Several other prominent educators spoke in similar vein.

PREACHER FOUND GUILTY OF IMPRUDENT CONDUCT

Women Testified That Rev. Dr. Jacob Price Was Free With Kisses.

New York, April 7.—"Guilty of imprudent and unministerial conduct" was the verdict of the court of the New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today against the Rev. Dr. Jacob E. Price, of the Washington Heights church, defendant on charges made by women members of his congregation. Two other specifications, one accusing Dr. Price of "immorality in conduct in the violation of the moral law" and the other of "indulgence of sinful tempers and words," were not sustained.

It was the judgment of the committee which reported to the conference that Dr. Price "should be and hereby is dismissed," as a result of his conviction on the first specification.

Bishop Luther B. Wilson, presiding at the conference, directed the conference to receive the findings of the committee without any expression of approval or disapproval. The court did not find Dr. Price guilty of acts sufficiently flagrant to demand a change of pastorate, for in the list of charges for the ensuing year as read by Bishop Wilson, Dr. Price retains his Washington Heights pulpit.

Mrs. Claude B. Love, wife of the attorney who prepared the charges of unministerial conduct against the pastor, was recalled to the stand and said she recalled the incident.

ORIGIN AND GROWTH OF THE BLACK BELT IS TOLD BY BROOKS

Professor R. P. Brooks of the University of Georgia, delivered Tuesday night, at the University club, the second of a series of lectures. The subject was The Origin and Growth of the Black Belt in Georgia. Professor Brooks explained the causes of the great movement of Virginians and Carolinians to upper Georgia at the end of the eighteenth and in the first quarter of the nineteenth centuries. He showed how the former Virginia tobacco planters became cotton raisers in Georgia and traced the gradual expansion of the cotton industry across Georgia.

Cotton lent itself peculiarly well to large scale production. The constant tendency was for the size of the cotton plantation to increase. In acreage accompanied by an increase in the number of slaves per owner. In order to acquire the necessary land for expanding his plantation, the planter bought out his smaller neighbors, usually non-slaveholders. The small farmers moved westward in search of new and cheap land, thus bringing about a decline in the number of whites in middle Georgia counties. As the slaves were steadily increasing in number, there soon appeared in the eastern part of the cotton belt a number of counties with black majorities. Every census report showed that the number of black counties was increasing and a black wedge was being driven through the heart of the state. Beginning with Richmond county in 1809, the black area expanded in a southwesterly direction, reaching and embracing Early in 1860. Professor Brooks also made the interesting point that the number of black counties has continued to increase since the civil war. In 1869 there were 44 counties with black majorities, in 1910, there were 64.

HIS CASE HOPELESS MOST FRIENDS THOUGHT Could Not Eat or Sleep. A Friend Advises Black-Draught, Which Does the Work. Pomeroy, Ky.—This town is the home of Mr. A. J. Hughes, whose condition for five years was such as led him, as well as most of his friends, to believe that he could not recover. Mr. Hughes now says "I was down with stomach trouble for five years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. My condition was such that I could not eat or sleep. I tried many different medicines, but they did me no good. Nearly all my friends thought I would die, but one of them advised me to take Theodor's Black-Draught. I followed his advice with but little faith. However, I have now taken Black-Draught for three months, and can truthfully say that I am well. I haven't had sick headache any more, and feel so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." This reliable, vegetable remedy has been in successful use for three quarters of a century. To purify the blood, renew the appetite, regulate liver, stomach and bowels, we urge you to try it. Why suffer, when the same relief that Mr. Hughes found is within easy reach of you? At every drug store. Only costs one cent a dose. Try it. Begin today.
