RECORD-BREAKING CROWD MUST TURN OUT ON TUESDAY

Atlanta Must Win Attendance Trophy Again—Mayor Orders Half Holiday—Ad Men in Parade.

ADVANCE TICKET SALE SHOWS MUCH INTEREST

Merchants Closing Stores. Chamber of Commerce Mailed Out Postals—Dent Twirls Against More.

Atlanta must and will turn out a record breaking crowd at the opening baseball game of the 1914 season at Ponce de Leon park tomorrow afternoon, when the Nashville Yols come here to try open the lid.

Atlanta's right to be called "The Best Baseball Town in the South," has been questioned, and from seven different and distinct directions.

Remember the slogan. "What it takes to win the opening day attendance trophy, Atlanta has got."

That's the deft that we are throwing back at the "show me" cities that doubt such a slogan. It's now up to Atlantans to make that slogan stick, so we can fire it back at them Wednesday morning in screaming seven column headlines.

Final Work. The final preliminary work on the part of the civic organizations that are in behind the movement to land the opening day attendance trophy for Atlanta, will be completed today.

When Atlanta wants a thing, she usually goes out and gets it—grand opera and the regional bank for example. She wants this attendance trophy, so there can be no other result.

The other cities are to be admired for trying to wrest the honors from Atlanta. Atlanta sets the mark in everything to which they all aspire.

Saturday Handicap. Harder work is needed to land the attendance trophy this year than last. The teams that open the season away from home on Tuesday, will open at home the following Saturday.

This is a condition, that did not have to be met last season. It is a condition that calls for a most concerted effort on the part of every one interested.

Mobile, New Orleans, Nashville and Memphis will open the season at home on Saturday. It is therefore, strictly up to Atlanta to show these cities that here attendance on a week-end can surpass theirs on a week-end.

Daughter Married But Her Parents Don't Know It Yet

Romance of the Switchboard Is Here Revealed for First Time—Bride Is Still at Work.

All last night pretty Maude Crane, 18, blue-eyed and attractive, sat at her post of duty at a switchboard in the Atlanta Telephone exchange, cherishing a secret which she did not share with even her parents.

Little did she dream, however, that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crane, 138 Flat Shoals road, will read this story in The Constitution this morning, learning for the first time that she is the bride of Roger P. Gilbert, of 15 Houston street, night manager of Scherer's cafe.

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, please don't say that, even if you were secretly married, it was none of a reporter's business, for, really and truly, everything that happens is an affair of the newspaper reporter. Especially such things of court record as your marriage happens to be.

And, furthermore, you can't expect to keep a marriage secret forever, you know?

The marriage took place last Tuesday, and was performed by Judge Luther Z. Ross, in his chambers in the municipal court. They did not intend to tell father and mother Crane until they had furnished a flat and had prepared to settle down to housekeeping. In the meanwhile, the happy bride had planned to remain at duty in the telephone exchange.

But marriages will out. And, when father and mother Crane learn the pretty romance that lies behind their daughter's marriage, they'll shower innumerable blessings, it is predicted.

You see, both Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert work at night. He manages the Scherer Peachtree Street Cafe at night, and she manipulates the various wires of her switchboard during the same hours.

One night Gilbert chanced to find the transmitter down from the hook on the telephone in his office. He picked it up, called into the mouth-piece and heard a feminine voice—very sweetly respond over the wire.

"Sleepy, dear?" he asked. "Uh-huh!" came the dainty reply. Well, the rest might be easily guessed. Thirty-six hours later the two met by appointment. Within thirty-six days a love affair had begun. Within six months he popped the question. Within six days they were married.

Within six more days a normal newspaper man learned the story.

REFERENDUM IS TAKEN ON THE COPPER STRIKE

Calumet, Mich., April 12.—It was said tonight at the Western Federation of Miners' district union office at Hancock that returns on the copper strike vote were incomplete and that no figures would be available until tomorrow. At the headquarters of Amwick the local vote was given as 1,257 against calling off the strike and 351 for.

No figures were given at the Calumet headquarters, but it was said the Western Federation was still working for continuing the strike. A majority of the members voted, it was said.

A Week For Putting Savings In the Bank. AUTOMOBILES have been offered at bargains in Constitution ads recently. Did you get one at reduced price? New potatoes were offered at low rates and some grocers have made various low prices on fresh country eggs with great frequency.

Probably this week will see many opportunities for you to save money in household purchases. Begin today.

Figure the regular price and then the price paid by careful shopping and put the difference in the bank—pick the bank from the banks advertised in The Constitution. Read Constitution ads to cut the cost of living without cutting the quality.

HERE IS A CHANCE FOR THE CITY HALL

Moncrief Starts Fund to Decorate Building With Electric Lights During the Visit of the Shriners.

Editor Constitution: I notice in today's Constitution that the aldermanic board has refused to concur in the action of council to appropriate for decorating the City Hall with electric lights for the Shriners' convention. If the City Hall should ever be decorated in such manner, it should be during this convention, and our aldermanic board, I think are making a great mistake, as that would be a great advertisement for our city.

Let the people of Atlanta get together and have this decorating done and I will give $5.00 as a starter.

Yours very truly, S. P. MONCRIEF.

Several weeks ago it was proposed to decorate the City Hall building with electric lights during the visit here of the Shriners in May. It was argued that this would be a great advertisement for Atlanta and that, with all the rest of the city properly lighted, it would be a disgrace for the City Hall building to be neglected.

So, largely through the instrumentality of Councilman Dallas, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the City Hall, an appropriation was passed by council, calling for the expenditure of $1,500 for this electric lighting scheme.

Hardly had Councilman Dallas, however, planned for the proper spending of this money, in order that the City Hall be placed on a par with the business buildings of Atlanta, when the aldermanic board met, and decided that since there was no $1,500 available in the city's treasury for this purpose, that it would not be possible to appropriate this sum. Consequently, the aldermanic board voted the proposition down, and decided to spend about $150 or $200 for this purpose, decorating the building in bunting and flags, instead of with lights.

Now, Mr. Moncrief advances the suggestion that the citizens of Atlanta raise by subscription sufficient funds to properly decorate the building and thus help the city out of her financial embarrassment.

REBEL FORCES YIELD TO THE GOVERNMENT

Santo Domingo, April 12.—Rebel forces that have occupied the citadel at Santiago have surrendered to the government. Another rebel force under General Maurice Jimenez, military chief of the insurrection, which occupies a fortified position at La Vega, also has surrendered to federals under Tancred Savinon, who has been appointed governor there.

President Bordas, heading 1,500 men, is on his way to Santiago, having taken the field against the insurrectionists a week ago. The government is virtually in control of the republic and peace prevails, except in the northeast portion.

row another chance are happier in their optimism, but many times the anticipation is its own reward; those who have the advantage of these class of people are those who have their eyes and ears open today. Today is the day of all days. Yesterday is gone forever and tomorrow never comes. So it is that only in today's opportunity have we tangible reality.

Now Is the Opportune Time For Contestants to Enter Big Constitution Contest

Often in the course of a life time a decision concerning a certain policy or course of action becomes imperative. In the correct solution of this problem lies, to some extent, the measure of success to be attained. A moment's indecision when the time of quick action is at hand, hesitancy or procrastination, an advantage overlooked, too often means the difference between success and failure. Regret must always follow in the wake of lost opportunity. Those who live in their yesterday's sadly contemplate what might have been, those who see into tomorrow

Southern Cooking Proving Big Lure For the Shriners

Fried Chicken, Hot Biscuits, Ham and Gravy—That's What Visitors Want, Says Forrest Adair.

Where can the Shriners of Mecca temple, New York, get a real old-fashioned southern dinner during their visit to Atlanta next month?

They want it, and are trying to make arrangements in advance for enough fried chicken and hot biscuits and ham-and-gravy and other old-timey good things to feed the whole temple. They want to get off by themselves to some place within trolley distance of the city and have the time of their lives together around a real southern dinner.

Who can serve it to them? "I would like to put the question up to Atlanta," says Forrest Adair, potentate of Yassar temple. "And at the same time I would like to impress this point on all our people—that the Shriners won't want Delmonico cooking while they are here. Every last one of them that comes from anywhere outside of Dixie will want our typical southern cooking—the things he can't get at home."

Mr. Adair has received a letter about this fried chicken dinner Mecca temple is planning. William Faucett, of the traffic department of the Old Dominion Steamship company, New York, on one of whose steamers the New York Shriners will travel part of the way to Atlanta, has written to S. C. Porter, the company's southern agent in Atlanta, asking him to help; and Mr. Porter has asked Mr. Adair's aid.

Now Mr. Adair puts it up to Atlanta. "Mecca temple will arrive in Atlanta, Monday, May 11," writes Mr. Faucett. "It is their desire to have a real old-fashioned southern dinner on Tuesday, May 12, and they have asked us to suggest some place within trolley distance of Atlanta where they can get it. They would like to get out into the woods or to some large park, where they can lounge around for the afternoon, returning to Atlanta in time for the parade in the evening. They are anxious to have a good dinner, and would be willing to pay up to $1.50 a plate. They would have 100 to 150 persons there to eat it. If you know of such a place will you inform me in order that the committee of Mecca temple may take the matter up directly?"

Mr. Adair considers this a fine opportunity for some good woman who knows how to prepare the real fried chicken and who has a large lawn where she can serve it.

Perhaps some one woman would undertake this dinner for Mecca temple. Perhaps the ladies of some church might band together and supply it. Mecca is the original temple of all Shrindom, and probably is the biggest. Its members know what they want, and are willing to pay for it. They want some of that fried chicken they've been hearing about, and some of that hickory-cured ham, and some of those other good dishes that you can't get anywhere but in the south. And they won't be the only folks who'll be looking for those things when they get to Atlanta.

No one is predicting that any change of policy on the part of the United States government will follow Mr. Lind's report to the president, although it is realized that the problems involved in Mexico have undergone radical changes since Mr. Lind went up from Vera Cruz to see the president at Pass Christian during the New Year holidays.

The Expulsion of Spaniards. One of the results of the Torreon meeting is expected to be a reply to the navy department's latest representations, especially in the case of Spaniards exiled from Torreon. Although Carranza has told the department that he is not disposed to interfere with Villa's course toward the Spaniards, there is a frankly expressed expectation that this stand may be modified.

Should the two rebel leaders decide to pay no heed to Secretary Bryan's demand that the cases of all Spaniards be settled on their individual merits the United States will be confronted with a problem of the greatest gravity, since Spain has placed the safety of her subjects in Mexico entirely in the hands of the United States.

FOUR GUNMEN DIE AT DAWN IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR; DENY GUILT TO THE LAST

HARRIS TO ENTER FOR GOVERNORSHIP

If President Wilson Is Willing for Him to Resign as Census Director—Basis of Harris' Campaign Outlined

By John Corrigan, Jr., Washington, April 12.—(Special.)—William J. Harris will call on President Wilson during the next few days to learn if it will be agreeable to the president for him to resign as director of the census in June, 1915, to assume the governorship in the event of his election.

Mr. Harris is seriously considering making the race. He does not want to resign his present duties, however, but to hold on until he can reorganize the bureau according to his ideas. He has already carried out a number of reforms and greatly strengthened the force. When he took charge he found nine out of ten of his chiefs of division and other associates were republicans. There are not nearly so many now, although changes are necessarily slow under the civil service. In addition to bringing up to date the badly-delayed work of the bureau, Mr. Harris effected a saving of $100,000 in one bureau alone, that devoted to the statistics of cities.

"If President Wilson, who has shown a great interest in this work and been kind enough to appoint me to supervise it, should not be willing for me to resign in June, 1915," said Mr. Harris, "I will, of course, serve for the remainder of the administration. I could not well do otherwise."

Basis of Harris' Campaign. In discussing the prospects for this year's state campaign, Mr. Harris said that he would have monopolized the office of governor long enough and the next administration has problems to solve which call for the experience of a business man. His campaign would be based on two main issues.

First—Extending to the cities and counties of Georgia the use of the state's superior credit and enabling them to save interest on bonds through the state's indorsement of these bonds. This practice has been followed with great success in Massachusetts for thirty years, and in Rhode Island and Arizona for twenty years.

Second—Restricting the next lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad to the lines and terminals actually necessary for the operation of the system. The five acres in the business district of Chattanooga, which the state owns, he would handle on a separate plan. His idea is to lease this property for business structures on long time, requiring the lessees to erect substantial brick buildings, which would revert to the state at the expiration of the lease. Thus the state would secure a much larger annual rental from this property than it now does, but would be the owner at the expiration of the lease of the improvements erected without expense to her.

His Record in Legislature. "I was the first person in Georgia and the state legislature to advocate the disposition of the state's railroad property," said Mr. Harris. "The leasing of the Western and Atlantic is an important business question, and its proper handling will mean much to the state in a financial way. The additional revenue, which can be earned for the state, will go to the common school fund."

While in the legislature he applied his business knowledge to aid the state. He offered a bill to change the distribution of the fees from oil in the state. Formerly two-thirds of the amount collected in fees went to the inspectors, and one-third went to the State Agricultural college. Mr. Harris' bill, which was passed, gave three-fourths to the state colleges and one-fourth to the inspectors. While Mr. Harris' record in the legislature is not making campaign should be entered in the race, as now seems probable, he is one of the best hand-shakers in the state. Not even Judge Dick Russell can beat him at that pastime. It has become a proverb that "Bill Harris knows every body."

KEEP AWAY FROM BAD COMPANY, THE BURDEN OF THEIR ADVICE—TWO NUNS VISIT THE CONDEMNED.

Easter Sunday and the Night That Followed Almost One Continuous Prayer for the Condemned Men.

GUNMEN SEND MESSAGES TO BOYS OF EAST SIDE

Keep Away From Bad Company, the Burden of Their Advice—Two Nuns Visit the Condemned.

Ossining, N. Y., April 12.—Harry Horowitz, Louis Rosenberg, Frank Cirofici and Frank Seidenshner have spent their last day on earth.

As the gunmen whose picturesque aliases were flung across the continent after the murder of the New York gambler, Herman Rosenthal, they die at dawn in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison, convicted of that murder.

Declared Their Innocence. To relatives, who had them good-bye today and to their spiritual advisers, the four condemned men again declared their innocence, and as night settled down over the prison and the death watch stood close about their cells, there was nothing to indicate that they would not deny their guilt until the end.

Which would go first to the chair was a secret that only the warden knew. It would depend, it was said, on the gunman's demeanor. He on whom the ordeal bore heaviest, whose nerves gave evidences of snapping, would be first dispatched, thus to obviate a scene. Prison gossip has it that "Lefty Louie" (Louis Rosenberg) was the most erratic of the four; and that he would march first to the chair. Others thought the first to die would be "Dago Frank" (Frank Cirofici), the Italian of the quartet, who has declared in statements to Governor Glynn and others, that he was far from the scene of the murder when Rosenthal was shot down. James Clancy, warden of the prison, shook his head and turned away when the subject of the order of death was mentioned.

Continuous Prayer for Condemned. This Easter Sunday and the night that follows was almost one continuous prayer for the condemned. They were on their knees most of the time that they were not talking with relatives. A prisoner, in a distant cell, now and then blew from a battered cornet the quavering notes of "Nearer, My God to Thee," and in the death-house proper a phonograph played sacred music. On the walks in front

ON "DIVINE HEALING" DR. HOLDERBY PREACHES

Pastor Says Mrs. Etter Is Supported by Authority of the Bible.

During his services Sunday morning at Moore Memorial church Dr. Holderby referred to Mrs. Etter, who is conducting what she calls "Divine Healing" services at the old Broughton Tabernacle.

"Having been asked by a number of people, both in and out of the church, to express my opinion of the teaching and methods of Mrs. Etter, who claims that God can heal the sick, I have no hesitancy in giving my views," said Dr. Holderby.

"I have not attended any of Mrs. Etter's services since from what I am told as to her doctrine in the matter of God's power to heal the sick, who certainly has behind her the authority of the Bible and is therefore right. I never criticize any one whose object is to do good, although I may not in-dorse all of their ideas and methods.

"The doctrine of divine healing or healing by faith is certainly taught by Jesus Christ and He gave command to His early church to 'preach the gospel of the kingdom and to heal the sick.' And, this, the disciples did by the power of Christ. But the church seems to have lost that power because she repudiates the doctrine. The doctrine has become a 'dead letter.'

"Will the church ever regain her lost power? Yes—when she has faith. But this question of 'Divine Healing' is very unpopular with the church today. The more she preaches it is regarded as a fanatic or an idiot. If the preacher is not prepared to lose his job, he had better not preach the doctrine of 'Divine Healing.'

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The largest Sunday school in the history of Central Baptist church was the one which assembled yesterday morning, and Superintendent Autry was the happiest man in Atlanta. He and his teachers had prepared a splendid program, which was beautifully rendered, centering in the great theme of Christ's resurrection. There were 654 present.

Immediately following the Sunday school program, Dr. Ridley preached on "Christ's Calls to the Church," to a capacity congregation. At the close of the service in the main sanctuary a collection of several hundred dollars was taken to cover a deficit in the church's financial condition.

At the evening service the pastor spoke on the same subject as at 11 o'clock, it being a continuation of the same sermon. At this service the congregation was reminded of the coming of the Holy Spirit, and the work of the home mission board of the Baptist convention would be in Atlanta's hands, and the campaign begins on May 17, and will last for fifteen days.

YOUNG WOMAN ATTACKS PARKHURST IN PULPIT

But Organist Throws on the Pedals and Drowns Voice of Jane Est.

New York, April 12.—Jane Est, a young woman Industrial Workers of the World sympathizer, today at the morning service of the Madison Square Presbyterian church interrupted the service and was arrested. Rising from a seat just over the chancel, Miss Est started an attack on the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, the pastor.

"I want to call your attention to an article in this paper," the young woman said. It was just as the prayer of consecration was about to be offered. As she spoke, she waved a newspaper. "This church," she added, "has a minister who repudiates Christ—"

The organist, looking over his shoulder and catching sight of the speaker, began running his fingers gently over the keys. Miss Est then essayed to pitch her voice above the melody of the organ, but the organist changed from the treble clef, threw on the pedals and loudly shook the edifice with the sonorous vibrations of the big pipes. Only a syllable or two of what the woman was trying to say reached the congregation.

Hearing of the disturbance the sexton rushed to the street and called a policeman. The two men, assisted by members of the congregation, ejected Miss Est from the building. She was taken to a police station, where she was charged with disturbing public worship.

Miss Est was arraigned and held in $500 bail for examination Tuesday. She could not furnish bail and was remanded to the Jefferson Market prison, adjoining the court.

Dr. Parkhurst, who was ill, was not in the church when Miss Est began her harangue.

ARCHIE BUTT MEMORIAL DEDICATED TUESDAY

Augusta, Ga., April 12.—Unveiling of the Butt memorial bridge, erected here in memory of the late Archibald W. Butt, major in the United States Army and military aide to William H. Taft while the latter was president, will take place here Tuesday. Major Butt lost his life in the sinking of the Titanic.

The principal address will be delivered by former President Taft, who already is here. His subject will be "Archie Butt, My Friend and Aide."

Major Butt was a native of Augusta and the memorial was erected by the local association here and the city of Augusta.

The Masonic order, of which the dead officer was a member, will have a prominent part in the affair. Sixty members of the Temple-Noves lodge, of Washington, will be present. Major Butt was affiliated with the Temple-Noves lodge.

As to the situation resulting from the arrest of American marines at Tampico, Secretary Daniels is satisfied that Rear Admiral Mayo, who has been informed of Huerta's apology, will consider the incident closed, and may not press his demand for a salute to the flag. He has also apologized and promised investigation and reparation may be desired until the inquiry is completed.

U. S. TRANSPORT HANCOCK ORDERED TO TAMPICO

New Orleans, April 12.—The United States transport Hancock tonight received imperative orders from Washington to proceed at once to Tampico. It is understood here that the Hancock is being sent to Tampico, where sharp fighting between Huerta's constitutionalists and federals has been reported.

The Hancock will take on 400 tons of coal, but the bunkers which have an 800-ton capacity, and will sail tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The vessel arrived here two months ago, bringing 800 marines from the first advance base regiment. The marines will remain at the naval station here, it is stated.

When the Hancock steams south tomorrow she will probably be accompanied by the United States battleship Solace, under orders to hasten her departure for Tampico. The Solace arrived here early last week, and the crew was given shore leave for eleven days. Two days after the Solace docked she was ordered to proceed immediately to Tampico, but was delayed by coaling and by necessary repairs to her ice-making machinery.

With the departure of the Hancock and Solace, the navy will be represented here by the vessel of the supply ship Culgoza, which arrived tonight from Pensacola, having aboard a small reconnaissance force of marines and camp equipment of independent battalions of the United States marine corps, from Camp Elliott.

The United States gunboat Isle de Luzon, attached to the naval reserves, passed down the river tonight en route from St. Louis to New Orleans, and it is stated here she will be overhauled for service in Central American waters.

CARRANZA AND STAFF ARRIVE AT CHIHUAHUA

Junere, April 12.—The new constitutional capital was established at Chihuahua today with the arrival of General Venustiano Carranza and his staff. This information arrived today in a brief telegram. Carranza left here yesterday morning. It was said his interview with General Villa would take place Wednesday or Thursday.

General Carranza's telegram to Rafael Zubaran, his minister of the interior, and the only cabinet member remaining here today, says that Carranza's first duty would be to return to Mexico to represent Carranza in matters unanswered, owing to the press of emergency matters connected with the military campaign.

DECATUR ENCOURAGING FIGHT AGAINST WEEVIL

Bainbridge, Ga., April 12.—(Special.) Decatur county is going to combat the boll weevil by encouraging industry among the farmers of the county. Under Ira Williams, of the state department of agriculture, the growing of cotton under boll weevil conditions is to be taught by practical experiment at the location of Donaldville and Bainbridge. Experiments are being made toward increasing the percentage of lint and the fineness of maturity.

The board of trade is also planning to arouse them to the necessity of preparation against the pest and to encourage stock-raising. Dr. J. B. Chason has purchased a magnificent Hereford bull, as have Messrs. Ausley & McCaskey and others in all parts of the county. More than twenty full-bred Duroc Jersey hogs have been purchased. The agitation has been started to get the county to purchase a Spanish jack to encourage the breeding of lint and the fineness of maturity.

PROBLEM IN PSYCHOLOGY IN THE TRIAL OF WALTERS

Accused of Kidnaping Boy Whom Two Women Claim as Their Own.

Opelousas, La., April 12.—A problem in psychology with perplexing complications will be placed before judge and jury here tomorrow when W. C. Walters goes to trial charged with kidnaping a 12-year-old boy. Walters, a Touromer claim the child is their son—Mrs. C. P. Dunbar, of Opelousas, and Julia Anderson, of Barnesville, N. C. Mr. Dunbar says he is positive he is the father of the child. Attorneys say they will have witnesses to prove Julia Anderson's story that he is her illegitimate son.

Testimony of Bertillon experts is expected to be an interesting feature of the case.

Interest in the trial has reached such a state in this section of the country that a railroad used as an investment for an excursion to Opelousas today. From his cell window, Walters talked to the visitors and Opelousas citizens in the jail yard. He said that he was brought to Opelousas that he will prove the child is Bruce Anderson.

IT WAS A PRETTY EASTER, WEATHER MAN RESENTED

There Were Clouds in Plenty, But No Rain Interfered With the Brilliant Parade.

Despite predictions of rain, not even bad weather interfered yesterday with an Easter Sunday, which, in every respect, was brilliant beyond the ordinary brilliancy even of Easter Sundays. The weather man had expressed a strong fear that there would be showers throughout the day, but he must have relented at the last moment. At any rate, no one's new gown was endangered. The clouds hung low over the city for a few hours, but nothing happened.

If it had rained—say, at about 12:30 o'clock, when the churches were just letting out—there would have been broken up an Easter parade of unusual beauty and proportions.

The churches were packed to the doors, in many of them people were standing up in the back or sitting on the steps of balconies. There were any number of elaborate choral services, and in several churches, the worship lasted for more than two hours. The long churches were visited by many people stopping at the usual "once-a-year" congregation filled up the vacant places.

The city bureau was closed on Sunday, but the Washington forecast promised fair weather for Atlanta today.

NATIONAL REFERENDUM ON TRADE COMMISSION

Washington, April 12.—The special committee of the chamber of commerce of the United States, assigned to prepare a nation-wide referendum on proposed anti-trust legislation, announced tonight that it had completed its report on the interstate trade commission bill and would begin the referendum on other proposals for trust legislation contained in tentative bills forwarded. Regarding this the committee says:

"When it becomes more evident what proposals further than a trade commission bill will actually go before congress for consideration, the committee will hold further meetings and make a separate report with a purpose of affording members of the chamber timely opportunity to express their opinions."

MAY VETO PURCHASE OF PARK IN SEVENTH

Mayor Believes Council Acted Illegally in Passing Resolution.

Reports around the city hall are to the effect that Mayor Woodward will veto the resolution passed by council last Monday, and through which $10,000 is appropriated to purchase ten acres of the Moseley estate for park purposes. Mayor Woodward explained yesterday that he has not given consideration to the resolution, and until it is before him for official action he will not discuss the probability of his sending it back to council unapproved.

It is understood that Mayor Woodward's objection to the resolution is based on the section which authorizes any citizen to secure an option on the park property. The mayor has taken the position that the matter has been passed up illegally, and he wants it to be put in shape before attaching his signature to the paper.

It is possible that the mayor will approve the expenditure of the money for the purchase, but will not sanction any action which will have a tendency of hindering the city.

The Moseley estate is in the seventh ward. It has been offered to the city for $35,000, providing it is used for park purposes only. The several ward property owners want the tract for a park, and in order to get it they have secured the $3,000 passed up by the finance committee for an engine house, and $1,000 put in the January sheet for street improvements.

Julia Anderson Picked Boy.

Soon after this, Julia Anderson was brought to Opelousas. Several boys, including the child found with Walters, were taken to the Opelousas jail. Walters was asked to pick out her son. She refused to make a decision on two trials, but on the third she selected the boy identified as Robert Dunbar as her son.

The meantime habeas corpus proceedings were instituted in behalf of Walters in Mississippi and the case was transferred to the federal court where the decision was against Walters. He was taken to Opelousas February 24.

Walters, an itinerant tinker, and says Julia Anderson gave him the boy found with him to care for. The boy told her that he was brought to Opelousas by the tinker, but that he was interested in the case never having heard of the boy before. He told her from him a story that would have important bearing on the problem to be solved.

Certain-teed Roofing

Since we have been giving a regular written guarantee on Certain-teed Roofing, one class of competitors has been saying that their roofing "will generally last twenty years, or longer." They don't guarantee it, however, at all. It's very easy to talk, talk, talk and say any number of years in such talk, but responsible concerns must know all about their roofing if they do any more than talk—they must know their roofings really do last when they sign a printed guarantee of plain requirements that the roofing shall make good. Of course, the irresponsible type—those who are likely to go out of business soon—can sign anything. It's very important that the buyer should not be caught in such a trifling manner.

Another very important thing is these talk guarantees are offered on the cheapest goods the manufacturers make; not being real guarantees, there is no risk. They say nothing about their highest priced brands and qualities—just offer the cheapest thing they have equal to the real guarantee given on Certain-teed Roofing. It's funny, how many people they catch on such things!

When you buy a piece of roofing you should know—and know in writing—that it is the best quality—best brand goods made by that manufacturer. Remember—make him put this in writing, that it is his best in every way, and then have the guarantee in writing and properly signed, too.

It pays to be careful in buying goods where the quality cannot be judged by the sample—where everything must depend upon the standing and ability of the manufacturer to make good over a long period of years in the future.

Certain-teed Roofing is sold at a reasonable price everywhere by dealers who believe in giving unsurpassed quality at a fair profit.

The amount of Certain-teed Roofing required for an average roof, say ten squares, will cost less than $5 over the cheap mail order grade. This small initial cost is saved many times in the fifteen years' wear which is covered by the manufacturer's guarantee.

Certain-teed ROOFING

The General says:
"There are real guarantees also talk imitations"

There are a lot of guarantees offered on roofings. Most of them are by irresponsible people, or merely conversational guarantees. It's a very important thing in a guarantee that there should be responsibility, and that it should be in writing.

every known woman's organization in Atlanta already favors the bond issue. "It's easy enough to get the support of the women," explained a member of the committee last night. "The average woman knows enough about sickness to realize what a vast difference good facilities may make. We talk about taking good care of the sick and injured in the present Grady hospital is absurd. There isn't room enough for the sick and injured that need care, and for those who do get in there isn't room enough to take care of them. Space and air and modern equipment is just as essential to a hospital as doctors and surgical instruments. The present Grady hospital is totally inadequate. It is miles behind the town. If the voters know how many miles, our campaign in favor of the bond issue would not be necessary."

Outline Organization Plan.
A comprehensive organization plan was outlined for the campaign at a meeting Saturday. Pledges of support were received from the various branches of civic, business and industrial life of the city and promises were made which indicate that a great concerted movement is beginning in favor of the issue as already recommended by mayor and council.

Active Campaign Committee.
At the same time a motion was passed authorizing the formation of an active campaign committee, to be composed of from ten to 25 members, and that there would be a special sub-committee actively at work in each ward in the city. It was decided to select from ten to twenty-five representative men from each ward a special committee with R. L. Foreman at its head was appointed by the chairman to take the registration lists, select tentatively the personnel of this big working campaign committee, and to report back at an early meeting. The committee was formed by the appointment of Dr. Lloyd L. McRae as chairman, with the right to select other committee members. At the same time Dr. W. S. Elkin was chosen vice chairman of the general committee.

JACKSON HILL CHURCH GIVES PASTOR AN AUTO

Dr. L. E. Barton's Popularity With Congregation is Thus Shown.

At the morning service Sunday the congregation of the Jackson Hill Baptist church unanimously voted to present the pastor, Dr. L. E. Barton, with an automobile. Dr. Barton is one of the most popular pastors in the city. You do not know how I appreciate the gift of the church," said Dr. Barton. "I believe I have the finest congregation in the city."

WEATHER DOMINANT IN COTTON MARKET

New Orleans La., April 12.—Cotton closed at an advance this last week. This was chiefly due to unseasonably cold weather in the cotton region which was feared, damaged young cotton in the earliest sections and caused further delay to planting in other sections. Much liquidation of long cotton was in evidence being induced by the Easter holidays, and offerings from this source held the market down and caused some nervousness from having its full influence. This coming week the trade will find digest reports from the belt. Higher prices will be inevitable if the belt sends in the reports that would seem justified following the cold weather. On the other hand, if the new week is marked by a favorable turn in the weather the effect of unfavorable accounts from the interior may be only temporary. The lateness of the crop in the most southern portions of the belt will cause much discussion of the August movement in the near future and will intensify any bullish features that may develop in the spot market. A large business in cloths and yarns in Manchester will cause the trade to watch for a corresponding increase in the spot demand on Liverpool. Failure of this demand to increase would cause a first comment regarding supplies held by spinners. Bulls however, consider that the mills of the world have only moderate to small stocks.

PASTOR PAVES WAY FOR GREAT REVIVAL

Dr. B. F. Fraser Conducts Easter Rally at St. Paul's Church Preparatory to Old-Time Methodist Meeting.

One of the biggest congregations of the year gathered at St. Paul M. E. church yesterday morning in response to the call of the pastor, Rev. Dr. B. F. Fraser, for an Easter rally preparatory to the old-time Methodist revival which will bring to St. Paul some of the most noted ministers in the country.

The revival really began with the Easter service, which will be followed by meetings each night during the week at 7 45 o'clock. While they are preparatory services these will really be a part of the revival meeting which will last through Sunday, April 19. For the Easter services St. Paul had a choir of twenty-four voices including the best singers chosen from the congregation, and while the choir selected were the old-time familiar hymns, they were sung with a force and enthusiasm that was refreshing. Dr. Fraser preached a straight Bible sermon pertinent to the occasion, his text from Matthew xxviii, 5-6, and dealing with the resurrection of Christ. During the course of his forceful sermon Dr. Fraser said he had been criticized in some places where he had served on the ground that he stuck too closely to the Bible and had too little to say about science. He illustrated very forcibly that, while science has never been able to tell him anything about immortality or the life hereafter, the Bible had done so, and he proposed to stick to it.

Well-Known Preachers Coming.
Every member of the congregation was urged to lend his personal efforts to making a success of the coming revival, and the enthusiasm shown indicated that the entire congregation, including Sunday school, too, feels a deep interest, and will do their full share. Next Friday, Bishop J. C. Kilgo of Durham, N. C., one of the most forceful of Methodist preachers, will be here to take up the revival at St. Paul. There will arrive the same day Professor E. O. Excell of Chicago famous singer who brings with him one of the best pianists in the country. His choir will be trained under Professor Excell's direction and the choir will be one of the chief features of the revival. Bishop Kilgo will conduct his first services at St. Paul Friday and on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, he will preach there to men only. Dr. Fraser is determined to make this one of the biggest men's meetings ever held in Atlanta.

Services at Trinity.
There will arrive also on Friday Dr. S. A. Steele of Columbia S. C. another of the South's strong preachers, and while Bishop Kilgo is speaking at St. Paul Dr. Steele will preach at Trinity. Dr. George R. Stuart of Knoxville, the famous platform speaker, also will be here for the revival, as will a number of others of national reputation. Dr. Luks Johnson, pastor of Trinity, has arranged with Dr. Fraser to have these speakers at Trinity from time to time while they are here. There will be one or two services daily at that church at which these men will speak.

New York Monument To Union Veterans Unveiled April 30

Americus, Ga. April 12.—Information received here this morning was that the New York delegation of veterans, and prominent citizens coming to Andersonville national cemetery April 29 for dedicatory ceremonies of the New York state monument will come directly to Americus giving later to Andersonville. Five hundred New Yorkers will constitute the party, and will be entertained while in Americus with a program arranged by the Americus Chamber of Commerce. An immense barbecue dinner at the Andersonville grounds and automobile drives here are entertainment features contemplated.

RED CROSS TO PREVENT FLOOD AND FAMINE

Washington, April 12.—Plans are being perfected here for beginning work on the immense reclamation project in China fostered by the American National Red Cross to relieve suffering from flood and famine in the Hwai and Yellow river districts of China. Chen Chin Tao, China's financial adviser in its dealings with foreign nations, will reach here from London in about two weeks to confer with Kai-Fu Shan, the new minister to the United States, about arrangements for the large loan necessary to carry out the project. The Red Cross is anxiously awaiting passage by congress of a resolution authorizing President Wilson to detail an army engineer to serve on the commission which will be organized to study the problem. Lieutenant Colonel William L. Sibers, who built the great Gatun locks of the Panama canal, has been mentioned as a possibility in this connection. The Red Cross member of the commission will be Charles D. Jameson, an engineer who for the past three years has been in China making surveys and preparing a report as to how the work can be done. A third member will be named by the American Engineering corporation of New York, which will do the work. Mr. Jameson, who presented his preliminary report some time ago, showing the need of reclamation in a section of country which had almost no little rest from floods and subsequent famines for the last two thousand five hundred years, is in Washington to consult with Major General George W. Davis, chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross. Mr. Jameson said the project, which will require about six or seven years to complete, will do away with about 17,000 square miles, where now only two crops in five years is the rule. The result, he added, would be to make producers of and save from suffering, starvation and degeneration millions of people who are fast becoming beggars and robbers.

RAIN IS PREDICTED FOR SOUTH ATLANTIC

Washington April 12.—Generally fair weather for this week in all parts of the country, except the Southeast Atlantic states where rain is indicated for the first day or two, was the forecast tonight by the weather bureau. "It will be cool and frosty, over the central and eastern districts," said the bulletin, "and fair weather is likely to continue during the greater portion of the week (clearing by Tuesday in the South Atlantic states), with a return to more moderate temperatures." "After the middle of the week a disturbance will appear, but probably without result other than local rains in the North Pacific states."

What is the Encyclopaedia Britannica?

Why should I own a set?

Why should I buy it NOW?

STRANGE as these questions sound to people who know what a tremendously important and valuable work the Encyclopaedia Britannica is, hundreds and hundreds of men and women who see this advertising are asking themselves these very questions.

For those who have never come in contact with the Britannica we can simply say, "It is the greatest gathering together and compilation for ready reference of essential, practical world-knowledge that has ever been issued."

It is the work of the foremost authorities on every phase of human knowledge. It is written in a clear, easily read and easy to understand manner.

It is the court of last resort for the greatest thinkers and doers of the day, as well as the "man in the street."

When lawyers, doctors, statesmen, judges, manufacturers, travelers, teachers, scholars, students, engineers, or trained workmen say, "The Encyclopaedia Britannica says—thus or so," controversy and question ceases. It is the authority on every subject touched.

To understand What the Britannica is, is to understand Why you should own it

The successful men of this age, whether leaders of finance, heads of educational institutions, directors of great newspapers, builders of great ditches, bridges or railroads, experts in mining, manufacturing or farming industries, are successful and their opinions carry conviction because they know. This class of men and women were quick to purchase the new 11th Edition of the Britannica. To them it is a necessity, a tool, an instrument by which they build up and hold onto their leadership and success.

Why should You own a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica?

Because if you will only try to make good use of it, it holds, between the covers of its 29 volumes, knowledge that it has taken the world centuries to accumulate—knowledge that you can apply to instant advantage. The men who have not gone ahead are in the last analysis men who do not know. Perhaps this is just the opportunity that you have been waiting to come tapping at your door. No matter what your vocation—clerk, salesman, miner, lumberman, carpenter, teacher, weaver, dyer, any of the trades, any of the professions, the new Britannica will be an invaluable aid to you in your work. It points the way up. It gives facts on which to grow.

Send for our Complete Prospectus—Free

To make it easy for you to get a clear, comprehensive idea of what the new Britannica is, we have published an 80-page, handsomely printed prospectus of 250,000 words, which costs you 50 cents a copy to print and mail. This contains sample pages that show the new and marvelous form in which this tremendous work is put into 29 slim, beautiful books that can be handled and read with as much comfort as you can handle and read an average book. It shows the new India Paper by the use of which the whole of such a large work, 44,000,000 words, 28,150 pages of text, dealing with half a million topics, 14,689 full page plates, text illustrations and maps has been condensed into a form that enables the entire set to be placed on your library table or desk.

Write for this Prospectus today. If you think there is a need for the Britannica in your life and work (and there is); if you seriously want particulars about it, let us send you this handsome prospectus. If you are merely curious to see what the prospectus looks like, don't write. In itself the prospectus can do you no possible good. In that it can help you to decide whether or not you ought to buy the Britannica you will find it instructive and interesting.

THE MAD DOG.

Dr. Claude Smith, Atlanta's city bacteriologist, has united with the state and city boards of health in exposing the danger from rabid dogs and, at the same time, baring some of the fallacies commonly held regarding this menace to the community.

Many people still believe that the dog, or other animal, afflicted with hydrophobia, is dangerous only in warm weather. Hydrophobia is a peril at all times of the year, whether in the dead of winter or the sultriest part of the summer's season.

Another common mistake is to compass the immediate death of the animal suspected of causing the infection. In the first place, the premonitory symptoms of hydrophobia are obscure and as yet ill defined.

Reliable authorities are persuaded that ordinary care would eliminate hydrophobia from Georgia and every other American state within a few years.

THE COUNTRY SCHOOL. Dr. P. F. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, told the Conference for Education in the South some striking truths about the country school and the country teacher in his recent address at Louisville.

One of Dr. Claxton's premises was that the country school should observe as long a term as the city school. He is right. The city child has the advantage of many secondary educational advantages, such as those coming from observation and contact with the center of civilized influences.

Another strong point of Dr. Claxton's was that surroundings and terms should be made attractive for the country teacher. So far as possible he would give the country teacher a permanent tenure.

domiciled. And, due to the short sight and parsimony of rich Atlanta, there is hardly more inducement for the city teacher to do likewise.

Slowly but universally a change is coming over our conceptions with regard to the country school. We are daily seeing it more in the light of a vital contribution to society.

In Georgia, the awakening has manifested itself in the increasing number of counties that levy special taxes for the support of local school systems. It is to be hoped the idea will make more rapid progress in the future.

ORGANIZED OBSTINACY. John Mitchell recently told the federal commission on industrial relations that he believed there should be a federal board empowered to investigate causes of threatened or pending strikes.

The plan suggested by Mr. Mitchell already has been tried with remarkable success in Canada. In the dominion they have in operation not a compulsory arbitration, but a compulsory publicity law.

Organized obstinacy on part of either capital or labor is, in this century, old-fashioned, ruinous, indefensible. We do not overlook the possibility that in extreme instances drastic lessons are required to bring either one or both parties to a realization of their duties.

IS MONROE DOCTRINE A JOKE? Prince Henry of Prussia, brother to Kaiser Wilhelm, is in South America ostensibly upon a diplomatic errand.

Consular agents and higher officials, such as Mr. Root and Colonel Roosevelt, have told us that Europe was in South America in the matter of business getting where we lose. In other words, that the manufacturers and shippers of Europe study native needs, native customs and conform to both.

THE COUNTRY SCHOOL (continued). One of Dr. Claxton's premises was that the country school should observe as long a term as the city school. He is right. The city child has the advantage of many secondary educational advantages.

And now Uncle Joe Cannon has come out in favor of the tango. He is still able to hop high to reach a line of limelight.

DAILY GRIS FROM THE STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

JUDGE THOMAS RECEIVING TENDERS OF SUPPORT FROM ALL PARTS OF STATE. Valdosta, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The dominant political topic in this city, and throughout this section just now, is whether Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, will decide to make the race for governor this year.

Judge Thomas is regarded as the strongest candidate south Georgia could offer. This is unquestionably true in the counties composing the Southern judicial circuit, over which he has presided for a number of years, and in which he served as solicitor general for several terms.

Judge Thomas has received many letters and telegrams since returning from Mobile, pleading his earnest support and urging him to get in the race. Prominent men from different sections of south Georgia called on him Saturday and Sunday and gave personal expression of their desire to see him run.

It was also decided that the county primary of Thomas will be held on August 19 at the same time as the state primary.

OCCILLA FRIENDS WOULD WELCOME ANNOUNCEMENT OF JUDGE THOMAS. Ocilla, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—No recent political announcement has created anything like the interest that was manifested here when the day papers containing the statement that Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, might enter the race for governor, were received.

Almost without exception and regardless of faction the voters here agree that Judge Thomas is the one man upon whom south Georgia can and will unite for governor with a reasonable certainty of success.

It is the general impression here that all of south Georgia will rally to him if he announces, and it is believed that he will have a very strong support in all other sections of the state.

THE POSITION OF GOVERNOR AND CANDIDATE SEPARATED BY SLATON. In every way possible John B. Slaton, governor of Georgia and candidate for the United States senate to succeed the late Senator Augustus O. Bacon, has separated the two positions he now occupies—the position of governor and his status as candidate.

Even in such small matters as stationery, Governor Slaton is exceedingly particular with matters of state, he uses the stationery provided by the state for official business.

J. R. SMITH NOW MENTIONED AS A CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR. Friends of J. R. Smith are now talking of him as a possible candidate for governor. During the past two or three days this talk has been generally heard around the hotel and in the political saloons.

DR. L. G. HARDMAN PAYS VISIT TO GOVERNOR SLATON AT CYPRESS. Dr. L. G. Hardman of Commerce, the only physician in the state to be held in honor by the people, paid a visit to Governor Slaton Saturday.

MACON PROMISES TO STATE POLITICS CENTER OF STATE. Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—As a breeding place for candidates for office, both inside and outside of the state, Macon seems to be trying to break all records this year.

SMITH TO FORMALLY ANNOUNCE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSION. Brunswick, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—George C. Smith, of this city, who has been mentioned for the past few weeks as a probable candidate for the Georgia railroad commission, today stated that he would be in the race, and that his formal announcement would be made within the next few days.

SMITH TO FORMALLY ANNOUNCE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSION (continued). Mr. Smith is one of the best-known business and railroad men in the state, and has many friends in all sections.

SMITH TO FORMALLY ANNOUNCE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSION (continued). Mr. Smith will not make his race on the south Georgia argument simply because he is a south Georgian, still he is believed that he will receive practically the unanimous support of this section of the state.

proper time. If he does, Mr. McNeil will not run, though there is a possibility that John Boisseau, secretary to the late Senator Bacon, may get in the race.

Dr. G. H. Hardman of Commerce, who has announced himself as a candidate for governor, with prohibition as his platform, spoke in Macon Saturday evening before the student body of Mercer university.

Colonel Cooper told his audience that he considered that the Cobb county executive committee had oversteered its course in its resignation demanding that Governor Slaton resign from the governorship by charging that he had an ulterior motive in retaining in his office, but took the position that the present governor should put himself on an equal basis with others who are running for the senatorship and not use the power of the office of governor to bring him votes in his race for senator.

Colonel Cooper is the only one of the candidates who have yet made any speech, though T. S. Felde is expected to take the stump just as soon as his resignation as attorney general becomes effective.

He states that at first he was not inclined to treat the suggestion seriously but came to believe from the persistence of many friends that it was to an effort to fill well the office of governor, but that he is not able to make the sacrifice it would mean to make the race and even if successful to hold the office.

Judge W. H. Branch, who has been in the public eye as a specially vigorous jurist on the superior court bench, has been asked by several of the lawyers here several more over the circuit and by scores of letters from friends in other parts of the state to consider getting into the governor's race.

He has not stated that he will not seriously consider the proposition. He has informally announced, however, for re-election as judge of the western circuit and will have no opposition for that race.

TWO WARM CONTENDERS MARK CAMPAIGN IN MADISON COUNTY. Danville, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Politics in the first state of Madison County assuming tangible proportions and shape. The registration is complete with 2,000 voters and the county primary on the books. The date of the county primary has been set for the 9th of May.

The county officers have no opposition except the sheriff and treasurer. The sheriff, J. M. Darr, has had no opposition. The treasurer, J. M. Darr, has had no opposition.

THREE CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES SPEAK TO WILKINSON VOTERS. Tilton, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Wilkinson superior court was held here today Tuesday and Wednesday last week and each day at the noon hour the voters heard a speech from a candidate for congress from this section of the state.

On Monday, Judge Vinson, from Baldwin Friday, Colonel Willis Evans, of Sandersville and on Wednesday, Judge Reynolds, of Union County spoke. Each speaker was given an attentive hearing.

As there were more candidates than could fit Judge Ben Rawlins, of Sandersville, failed of an opportunity to be heard. However, he still held his stay by shaking hands with his voters.

It is impossible at this date to predict who the winner in Wilkinson may be, as each has a good following.

The democratic executive committee has fixed May 12 as the day to be held in the county for county officers. W. A. Jones, of Gordon, and Dr. J. H. Duggan, of Nickleville, are candidates for representative.

TWO SANDERSVILLE CANDIDATES CAMPAIGNING HARD FOR CONGRESS. Sandersville, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Judge B. T. Rawlings and Hon. A. Willis Vinson, both of whom are campaigning for the tenth district in the race for congress, during this week they will make speeches in several of the counties. No point debates have been announced, but the public is eager to see the two candidates.

Sandersville has four citizens in the race for various political jobs outside of the county positions this year. They are Rawlings and Evans, for congress; Hardwick, for United States marshal; Beverly D. Evans, for supreme court judge.

Representatives J. J. Harris and S. J. Taylor both will formally announce their candidacy for the legislature next week.

WARE COUNTY CANDIDATES. Ware, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Final preparations for the May 12 election in Ware on May 29 were taken at a meeting of a subcommittee of the county executive committee here Saturday.

During the probability of a second primary, the rules committee today fixed assessments on candidates in the county primary at $20, obligating the candidates for surveyor and coroner.

May 1 was named as the closing date for all entries.

SMITH TO FORMALLY ANNOUNCE FOR RAILROAD COMMISSION (continued). Mr. Smith arrived at this conclusion after conferring for the past several days with his friends and the members of the state bar.

Mr. Smith is one of the best-known business and railroad men in the state, and has many friends in all sections. He is a practical railroad man, having served many years of his life in the business.

THEATERS IN ATLANTA HAVE PROSPEROUS YEAR

Atlanta Closes Soon, Stock Opens at Lyric, Forsyth Still Running.

The theatrical season, so far as Atlanta is concerned, is nearing its end. But one more week remains after this of the Atlanta, while the Lyric regular season has already ended, and stock begins tonight. The Forsyth is still open with Keith vaudeville. This week the Atlanta is offering a sensational picture in six reels, "Smashing the Vice Trust," while two of the most important shows of the season follow next week in "The Minister in Kismet" and "Damaged Goods." The end, therefore, will be highly interesting, and more worth while than any week of the season, with few exceptions. Despite the fact that calamity howlers have ruled over the country, and this has been called the worst theatrical season in seventeen years, the Atlanta has fared unusually well. With a poor start, the season looked blue for a few weeks, but then good plays began coming in rapid succession, and kept up until the end of the season finds the playhouse announcing that all records for attendance in the city have been broken, even to that of the abnormal year, 1895, when the big exposition was held, and the Grand set a great record. The gross receipts have been more than doubled at the playhouse in the three years it has been open. Manager Homer C. George is the happiest man in Atlanta over the result of the season. The judgment of Klaw & Erlanger in establishing the Atlanta has been thoroughly proven correct, and the business volume has grown to an extent that is little less than wonderful. The result is the eyes of the booking offices have been opened, and Atlanta is sure to receive more and better plays than ever before. This season a greater number of performances were given than in any previous season. The class of productions has been unusually high, the full season considered. Already a number of the best for next season, and a number of the greater shows will be brought here engagements were played, and in some instances the receipts were far in excess of those drawn by the same companies in New York. The Atlanta is not the only Atlanta theater to have a prosperous year. The Lyric is still open with vaudeville drawing large audiences to that ever popular playhouse, and the indications are that the house will remain open all through the summer. The house has been a big money-maker for Jake Wells ever since it was opened. Manager Homer C. George is the happiest man in Atlanta over the result of the season.

RELIGION IS VOLUNTARY, SAYS CARLYLE HAYNES

Church Losing Out by Trying to Compel People to Believe, He Asserts.

"The church is losing out. The power it once had with the people is forsaking it. This is the result of its turning its back on the power of the Spirit of God and reaching out for the power of the state to accomplish its ends. The church is seeking now by human effort and human legislation to compel the people to believe what it teaches and come under its influence, or at least act as if they did believe. This, instead of making Christians hypocrites, has made the striking comment of Carlyle B. Haynes, of the American Religious Liberty association, at the closing session of the religious liberty institute last night at the First Seventh-day Adventist church on East Fair street, where for the past three days delegates have been present from the churches of this denomination from nearly places. In closing the three-day institute which has been in session since last Friday morning, the church in question was the subject of the "Weapons of the State," "The Limits of the Church's Authority," "The Derivation of the Power of the Church," and "The Derivation of the Power of the State." Mr. Haynes said: "Religion is voluntary and cannot and ought not to be forced. It is not within the province of the church to punish transgression or sin. It is not for the church to exercise judicial power in matters relating to man's relations to his fellows."

HE HAD YELLOW STREAK AND KILLED HIMSELF

Chicago, April 12.—Christ Wolf, a merchant, committed suicide tonight in his office after writing a long note be-coming his lack of business daring. "I have had a yellow streak all my life," he wrote. "Take my worthless body, have it cremated and scatter the ashes in the breeze." Wolf had amassed a fortune of about $100,000.

Everybody's Doing It Now; Even Atlanta's Brave Cops Learn Tango for Big Picnic

The Atlanta police are planning a gala day for the 10th of May, when they will hold their annual picnic at Cedar town, Ga. Several unique and interesting features of the day's entertainment are being arranged by the committee, of which Officer Sam Arrowood is chairman. Prizes of $10 each have been offered for the "cops" who can dance the tango best. The committee at first, due to their modesty, offered these prizes for the best waltz, but the mayor of Cedar town insisted that they be offered for the tango, which is more up-to-date. Atlanta "cops" will take lessons between now and the date of the picnic. The picnic will be held on the beautiful grounds of Cedar Grove park, at Cedar town. Besides the prize tango which will be held in the large dancing pavilion, where a string band of twenty-five pieces will furnish music throughout the day, boating, swimming and fishing in the large lake will be enjoyed. The committee has chartered two trains of ten coaches each. It is expected that fully 5,000 tickets will be sold. Every policeman is expected to bring his sweetheart, his wife and his family, if he has one.

A match game of the national sport will be one of the entertainment features of the day. A picked team from the entire Atlanta police force will play a team of college stars, picked from ex-stars of college teams who are now living in Cedar town. Their Beavers will pitch the first ball of the game, and the mayor of Cedar town will umpire strikes, and an Atlanta policeman will umpire bases. The first section of the excursion train will leave Atlanta at 7:30 o'clock, and the second section at 8 o'clock. The train will leave Cedar town in the evening at 6:30 o'clock and at 7 o'clock. Tickets will be sold for $1 for the round trip. The committee is planning an extensive advertising of the picnic. Large signs are being made, which will be placed on the auto patrol wagons, which daily go to every portion of the city. Signs will be placed in all of the downtown show windows and other public places. It is rumored that a sub-rosa committee is secretly working to get Chief of Police James L. Beavers to relieve the policemen during the day from the regular duty in "Blue No. 1" and police rules and regulations, code city of Atlanta. Certain officers have been removed from duty and are removed the signal success of the day is assured. The proceeds will be used as a fund for a police relief association, to be for fit police who are injured while on duty.

Selections From Grand Opera Please Big Sunday Audience

If the excerpts played yesterday by Edwin A. Kraft, at the Auditorium organ recital, are characteristic of "Der Rosenkavalier," some perturbation and bewilderment on the part of the audience, which is to hear the new opera shortly, may be forgiven. Mr. Kraft chose the prelude and waltz. A portion of their startling effect may probably be attributed to their setting, the remainder of the program being made up of recognized classics. Even with this taken into consideration, however, the two pieces made an extremely bizarre impression. A note on the program quoted Richard Strauss as saying, "Hofmanns-thal's text has a charming and decided rococo tone, and it may become my task to convey this atmosphere to the musical setting." So far as the rococo part is concerned, the composer certainly performed his task well. Few things more charming than rococo have been heard in these parts. As to its being charming, the individual hearer will have to decide for himself. The waltz was charming. But on the other hand, not rococo, it was smooth and gracefully proportioned, like all Strauss waltzes, and it fell on the prelude-troubled spirit with a touch of infinite calm, but it was not this, it was a waltz was rococo, excessively modern, and not necessary.

ly charming. It contained no premonition of the waltz; in fact you could no more imagine a connection between the two than between a Cubist painting and a Corot. Perhaps that was why Mr. Kraft chose them. He played both with matured interest. It he risked no flights, the case was one where repression was pardonable. The first number of the afternoon, the minuet and serenade from "Pacelli-acci," was perhaps the most effective of the program. The minuet, with its delicate certainty, and the serenade, with its mutation of tone and continuous harmony, are particularly adapted to the pipe organ. Excellent effects were also secured from the Lohegrin selections. Mr. Kraft chose the introduction to the third act, and the bridal chorus. The more appropriate nites which the latter gives for organ rendition were utilized perfectly. The program from "Cavalleria Rusticana," which was the second number of the program, might have been rendered with a little more enthusiasm. Selections from the "Masked Ball" followed "Der Rosenkavalier," and from their position, were doubly satisfying. There was no number of the program, perhaps, which could have emphasized more graphically the shortcomings of the Strauss present. Beside the careless setting and easy drama of Verdi, the "charming and rococo tone" of "Der Rosenkavalier" seemed blighted. On the other hand, the memory of that very blatancy made one suspect Verdi a bit, as one always does, and not daring to seek beyond it. The prelude and minuet from "Manon" was another selection with which Mr. Kraft scored heavily. Selections from "Il Trovatore" concluded the organ program. The two solos of Solon Drukenmiller received much applause. One was "Sweet Madeline" and the other "At Dawning." One was by Mary Corley Fields and the other by Charles W. Cadman. It was probably the first time the names of these particular composers were heard. Mr. Kraft will continue his opera reviews throughout this week and next. More selections will be played in the following order, at 8 o'clock each night: Wednesday night, April 15, "Eglogue" and "Cavalleria Rusticana;" Thursday night, April 16, "Masked Ball" and "Il Trovatore;" Thursday night, April 23, "Manon" and "Der Rosenkavalier."

AVOID THESE PITFALLS, URGES JUDGE BROYLES

Warns Young Men Against Liquor, Gambling, Debt, Extravagance and Idling.

Recorder Nash Broyles spoke last night at the Georgia Avenue Presbyterian church to an appreciative audience that crowded the church to the doors. Judge Broyles took as his subject, "Pitfalls on Life's Highway," and warned young men starting out in life against several dangers. He cited extravagance, debt, idleness, gambling, cigarette smoking and whisky drinking. "A great percentage," said the speaker, "of the cases in my court are the result of some one of these evils. Some of the men whom I have put on probation have gone home and murdered their wives, their weakness was liquor. Nathaniel Fruit, the barber who committed suicide on April 4, was conquered by whisky—he was placed on probation by my court only a short while ago."

AT THE THEATERS.

"Smashing the Vice Trust." (At the Atlanta.) This afternoon at 8 o'clock the first performance of the wonderful photo drama, "Smashing the Vice Trust," will be given at the Atlanta Grand opera house. The drama is a sensational story of trapping girls, and District Attorney Whitman's crusade and raids against the vice trust. It is vivid in a sensational, interesting, as well as spectacular. Over 700 views are shown, the performance running about two hours. The picture will be given each afternoon and each night at 8:30 o'clock during the week and all Atlanta is expected to visit the playhouse and view it. Reformers and sermons in it and sensationalists find striking action and altogether everyone is pleased by it.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forsyth.) Louis Smauro, assisted by Flavia Aracaro and a company of fourteen musical comedy players, including Lillian Boardman and Fred Lyon, will present the headline act at the Forsyth this week in "The New Persian Garden," concocted to be about the greatest miniature musical comedy in variety. Another feature is to be Stuart Barnes, the most popular singing comedian ever introduced in Atlanta. He is a headliner in vaudeville and a star on every bill that has been fortunate to have a vaudeville act. "Your Phiz and Mine," by Austin Webb and company, will be one of the treats of the bill. Mr. Webb is a star in variety. A comedy feature will be offered by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry, who present "The Rules," a screen about the visit of a country lad to a variety theater in New York. Alido White, a charming violinist, and Charles Broyles' musical circus will contribute to the merit of the bill.

"Dope." (At the Grand.) A wonderful photo-play will be the attraction at the Grand all the week with daily matinees at 2 o'clock and evening exhibitions at 8:30 o'clock, at popular prices, 10 and 20 cents. The picture is not a mere fetched scheme built around the drug habit, but the sensational sketch produced with tremendous success in vaudeville by short-comer Lash and a selected company, and is called "Dope." Mr. Lash, who was a member of the Joseph Kilgore company at the Grand several years ago, is conceded to be among the foremost character actors of the time. He has been identified with some of the greatest Broadway successes and for three years has been playing the "Dope" in the Metropolitan vaudeville theaters. The sketch is too massive to take on the road, hence has not been seen on the circuit. For this reason, Mr. Lash and his company posed for the six reels that make up the photo-play.

"The Lily." (At the Lyric.) Local theatergoers are going to be given an opportunity this week to prove that they are not all asleep. The Lyric is presenting the spring and summer season at the Lyric opera house—there will be evening performances all the week at 8 and matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock, and there has been a fine advance reservation for nearly all the performances. In introducing the Lucile LeVern company, general director Jake Wells has drafted a success from Richmond and Norfolk, where the popularity of the company would insure the same success that has followed it for four seasons in the Metropolitan vaudeville theaters. The players are all well known by reputation, and will have the benefit of stage direction that is superb. The opening bill will be David Belasco's wonderful play, "The Lily."

13 NORTH BROAD ST. ATLANTA, GA.

What think you? A few nights ago, a boy twenty years old was shot by another, of twenty-one, in an Atlanta barber shop.

Drunk. Thursday, at the bottom of the elevator shaft in the Steiner-Emery Building, a man was found dead. "His face was mashed in terribly." "A hole in the back of the neck as from a blow or a bullet." Near by was the whisky flask. Upstairs is a so-called locker club.

Another victim of our disregard for law and life, whether or not he found his liquor and death in the blind-tiger above? And with these two victims should we not remember the other boy carried from the prize ring to die? His antagonist you will recall was also arrested in one of our bars.

Where are we going? Whether are you leading others? And what is the meaning of this—A dispatch sent The World, of New York, from Atlanta recently said—

"This city has actually shown a decrease in population in the past 18 months—to bring about normal conditions, which will tend to keep the City's population from showing further decreases, the Citizens' League has been formed."

In The Savannah Morning News, the Liberty League in a four full column advertisement used these headlines—

"Leading Atlantans join in war—Form league to enter politics—The Church shall not dominate the State. The richest and most influential men in Atlanta have so declared. Fanaticism, hysteria and sensationalism shall not run Atlanta. Let the preachers return to the pulpit and the Bible—Let politics alone. Will Savannah follow Atlanta, or let the Churches run the City of Savannah?"

Are these advertisements, published in other cities—Is the falsehood published in New York as to Atlanta's population—Are these Atlanta's messages to the world?

A Philadelphia paper has said— "Certainly nothing that the Forward Movement could have said about Atlanta could have damaged its reputation half as much as the formation of this League."

Men sometimes make mistakes. Leaders in the civic and religious life of Jerusalem, blinded by the sins of greed and self, to get rid of Jesus, bought Judas Iscariot. Easter morning, they found they could not stop with bribing Judas. Graft and rottenness warring against the cross are progressive—they must buy others. Matthew tells it—

"They gave much money unto the soldiers saying, 'Say ye, His disciples came by night and stole Him away while we slept!' so they took the money and did as they were taught."

But the lie failed: for Christ came saying— "All authority hath been given unto me—Go and make disciples—Lo, I am with you always."

As Dan Crawford phrases it, "Saith the liar, 'Say they stole Him away.' Saith the Truth, 'This will shame even the devil. Me? They could not steal Me away, for lo! I am with you in person to nail down the Resurrection lie—Yes! Nail it down with the Resurrection Truth of my real Presence with you.'"

Corruption ever fails. Christ is risen. To you, He says— "AS THE FATHER HATH SENT ME, EVEN SO SEND I YOU —YOU ARE WITNESSES OF THESE THINGS—GO PROCLAIM THE GOOD NEWS—GO, MAKE DISCIPLES, TEACHING THEM TO OBSERVE ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER I COMMAND YOU."

Are you obeying? The writer to the Hebrews speaks of those who "crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh and put Him to an open shame."

What do you do when you sell to others the privilege of breaking up homes, of causing the birth of degenerate children, and of making murderers of men? O Christian member of the respectable club that violates the law—What do you do when you pay your steward to commit a crime? Are you trying to teach men "to observe all things whatsoever?" Jesus commanded you, when you or your representatives directly or indirectly seek to cause jurors and public officials to perjure themselves, as you do if you connive at the breaking of the laws of your state in your club?

Yea, Christ is risen. Have you not read and heard— "What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us who is against us?—It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.—

"In all these things we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us."

Hear Him today saying— "Lo, I am with you always even unto the end."

JOHNSON AND TENER IGNORING FEDERALS

On Eve of Season's Opening the Leaders of Both Major Leagues Are Optimistic Over Prospects.

New York, April 12.—On the eve of the major league baseball season, executives and managers of the American National League predict another six months of exciting pennant races and general prosperity.

Organized baseball, ignoring the invasion of its field by the newly-formed Federal group of owners and players, reiterates its faith in the loyalty of its followers and the standard of the game as played by its clubs.

Both President Ban Johnson, of the American league, and President John K. Tener, of the National league, expressing the prospects of their respective leagues for the coming season, express the belief that organized baseball will receive the confidence and support of the public in the coming season. In fact, optimism, harmony and enthusiasm appear everywhere in the words of the owners and managers, who are represented by their presidents a few hours before the initial contests of the new baseball year.

Johnson Optimistic.
President Johnson, as the spokesman for the junior association, states: "The American league, which entered its history during the season of 1913, looks forward to another year of loyal support from the public—support earned by the constant efforts of its club owners to give patrons the best there is in any league."

President Tener, as representative of the National league, expressed similar sentiments in the following words: "At the very best, baseball predictions are no more than probabilities. Certain elements enter into a baseball championship that it is not possible to forecast with accuracy. The strength of eight clubs and attempt to forecast their position at the end of the season."

"Generally speaking, I am well pleased over the outlook in the baseball everywhere for the season of 1914. I have not received a report from a club manager that has a pessimistic tone."

"I think competition will be keen in quarters that have not been so in the past. It is this enthusiastic interest in the game that leads me to state unhesitatingly that I expect a year of exciting baseball to be in store for organized ball in general."

Umpires Are Assigned.
National League umpires received their instructions for the season and the American league umpires were assigned on Tuesday next at the league headquarters here today.

The umpires reported in fine condition, most of them having spent several weeks of the winter in practice games. Emile has been umpiring in the Brooklyn club's spring games; Dick has been umpiring in the Western Reserve and Al Orth has coached and umpired for the Washington and Lee clubs.

Crackers Won Eleven Games During Exhibition Season; "Hack" Eibel Led Batters

By Dick Jemison.
The Crackers brought their exhibition season to a close Saturday with a close victory over the Rochester Internationals. They play a game this afternoon, but it is nothing but a conditioner and something for the players to try out their signals on.

The twenty games the locals hit for a 278 clip against 255 for the opposition, making 178 hits to 168 for the opposition.

Outfit Opponents.
In these games the Crackers outbatted the opposition, but were outfielded. In the twenty games the locals hit for a 278 clip against 255 for the opposition, making 178 hits to 168 for the opposition.

Hack Eibel's Record.
Hack Eibel is the real batting leader for the exhibition season, with a .375 average in 27 games, compiled from 31 hits in 73 times at bat. George Kirschner had a higher percentage, but was only in half the number of games.

Farms and Farmers

Address all letters intended for this Department to Col. R. J. Redding, Editor of Farms and Farmers Department, Griffin, Georgia.

Farm Demonstration Work.

It is exceedingly gratifying to note the fact that the authorities in charge of the department of agriculture at Washington and of the several state colleges of agriculture are becoming convinced of the necessity for more practical work in promoting the cause of agriculture than has been done for a quarter of a century in the past in the various state departments, college lecture rooms and laboratories, including also the experiment stations of the several states. Twenty-five years ago it was thought that a great advance had been made when the so-called Hatch act was passed providing for the organization of an experiment station in each state, and appropriating $15,000 from the United States treasury for the support of these institutions. And now a great advance, a very much needed innovation, there were many problems of the farm that were pressing for solution. That the work of these stations has been effective—in great degree—goes without saying; but it was soon found that the practical farmers of the country—at least in the south—were not availing themselves of these research and demonstration stations, although many thousands of copies of bulletins, filled with the most practical information, illustrations and exhortation, were sent out to the farmers of the country, and the percentage of those most accustomed to reading and to learning from books were availing themselves of the bulletins, and the bulletins and reports. But the large mass of farmers benefited at all received the benefit in an indirect way, rather than second hand. There are many thousands of farmers, possessed of good, hard common sense who are habitual students of books, agricultural journals and bulletins. They are not classed as "uneducated" for they can read, write and cipher, which brings them into the class of literates. But they had not acquired the reading habit, they did not possess libraries of books on agriculture. In many cases hard labor, either in the field or in the workshop, left little time for reading and study after 12 hours of a day's work. When a farmer sees a half dozen highbred cows giving from one and a half to two gallons of milk each at a milking, there is no getting around the fact, the only way to better it. When a farmer sees a half dozen highbred cows giving from one and a half to two gallons of milk each at a milking, he cannot dispute the evidence of his own eyes. And so with all the crops and processes on a farm, and not on a farm "away off yonder," but on his neighbor's farm or his own, one that he knows about. There ought to be a demonstration farm—at least one—in every county in the southern part of the south. So mote it be!

R. J. REDDING.

Excellent Crop Prospects Improve Trade Sentiment

There Are Disappointing Features to Outlook, However, Says Bradstreet.

Bradstreet's report says: Excellent early crop prospects, which buoy sentiment, sharply contrast with disappointing trade dislocation, irregularity in industry and cautious buying for future account. However, Eastern railroads have made for a larger turnover in retail lines, almost wholly in wearing apparel, though hardware and other goods are also active, but because of cool weather over a wide area, results are by no means uniform. The more important centers business has been relatively better than in those zones that cater to the country districts, where lower temperatures added to spring farm work, have been most detrimental to final distribution. At the same time the cold snap has militated against reorders, thus affecting the jobbing trade.

Crop Prospects Good.

While crop prospects, as well as indications of heavy planting this spring, are such as to encourage optimists as to the future, it is noteworthy that buying continues on the basis of immediate wants. In fact, the situation would seem to suggest that buyers have become wedded to the purchase of immediate wants, and at frequent intervals, thereby making manufacturers and wholesalers carry the stock. In this connection it is to be noted that at most centers mail-order houses are reporting a depressed state of business, and in this respect being furnished by the parcel post system. Reports from other centers are decidedly mixed aspects, resumptive in this or that place being offset by slower operations at other points.

Steel Trade Better.

The steel trade taken hope from favorable crop prospects, and expectations of not up to expectations, though orders for equipment imparted a better business during the week. However, profits from the Chicago district indicate that specifications for finished steel are liberal, and the tinplate trade appears to be favorably circumstanced. Pig iron is very active, and carries the market. In fact, the situation, despite an apparently favorable statistical position and the brass and copper trades of the New York valley are on short time. Machinery markets denote a little more activity, but the improvement, such as it is, is satisfactory. Jewelry manufacturing at the leading New England center is the slowest in years, and in the eastern cotton mill centers are invested with a good deal of new machinery. Lumber is very quiet, and flour milling is only moderately slow.

Wheat Report Helps Inspire Confidence in the Future, Says Dun.

Dun's report says: Sentiment, especially in the agricultural regions, is strengthened by the splendid government report on winter wheat, and the outlook for an almost phenomenal crop is calculated to inspire greater confidence in the future. Reflecting the brilliant prospects, the leading cereal is receding in value, and the purchasing power of the farming community should be enhanced if the present promise of a bumper harvest will obviously expand with an increased production of grain, and monetary conditions are such that it is difficult to likely to be experienced in harvesting and marketing the crops.

Advices Irregular.

Advices from leading centers are still somewhat irregular, with improvement in certain directions being offset by a reactionary tendency in others. Apart from retail lines, quietness is to be expected during Easter week; when trade invariably is of a pre-holiday character. Developments in financial circles have been without special significance, except that much interest is displayed in the forthcoming sale of New York city bonds, which evidently will bring a good price. The market for government securities is also quiet, and the March returns of the principal producer revealed a large decrease of 37.9 per cent in the output of pig iron, but higher than in February, but some rather slow activity is occurring in a few furnaces having already gone out of blast.

Conflicting Comparisons.

Other statistical comparisons remain conflicting; gross earnings of railroads reporting for March were 6.8 per cent higher than in the corresponding month last year, whereas bank clearings this week show gains of 37.9 per cent over the corresponding week, and surplus stocks of copper have diminished. In respect to prices, also, the market is in a depressed state, strength chiefly because of the insistent demand from foreign consumers. It has been a quiet week in the large retail centers handling dry goods, but wholesale buying has naturally ruled quiet. Operations are still along conservative lines, yet in a general sense, values are quite steady. The weather has restricted the distribution of reasonable footwear and machinery is reported at numerous factories. This condition finds a reflection in the prevailing rate of leather and price concessions are not wholly absent. The general trend of the commodity market is downward, 25 declines and 15 advances occurring this week in the 20 quotations compiled by Dun's Review.

WHAT A MAN SAW AT Oglethorpe Park

Mr. Edwin P. Ansley, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: Holy Gee! What are you doing and what are you going to do next? I just came back from Fairyland. What a magic wand you possess!

I was out at my country home and thought I would run over and see what was at Oglethorpe Park, and what has already been done by you is like magic, and what will it be when you get through!

Of course, the place is naturally one of the garden spots of this country, and with your energy and knowledge of making beautiful things out of nothing, as before stated, what will this be that is so beautiful already!

Financially, I am not interested in the property, but as a citizen of this county and state, I want to take off my hat to you as a man who does things and does them not only for financial gain, but for his fellowmen. Anyone who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is a benefactor.

Sincerely, your well wisher,

BURNS EXPECTED TO RETURN SOON

Generally Believed That He Left Atlanta to Investigate Cincinnati Angle to Leo Frank Case.

The destination of Detective William J. Burns who left Saturday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock over the Louisville and Nashville railroad, is being kept a secret by Burns attaches in Atlanta. Although it was rumored that the detective was en route to Cincinnati, where he goes to interview Dewey Howell, Burns officials in Atlanta would neither deny nor admit the rumor Sunday afternoon. They remained reticent regarding their chief's journey. It is said, however, that he will return Sunday, probably tomorrow.

ROW IS EXPECTED OVER R. G. CARTER

City Electrician Turner Is Determined That He Shall Stand Second Examination.

There is likely to be a row when the city board of electrical control meets today to make the complaint of G. Carter, an electrical contractor, against City Electrician R. C. Turner. Carter charges that despite the approval of the board and despite the fact that he has been granted a license by the city clerk's department, the city electrician has refused to do his work, and is threatening to make a case against him.

Frank Reynolds, chairman of the board, did not discuss the Carter case, but he has called the board together for 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, and he says the matter will be thoroughly sifted.

Turner denies that he is antagonizing Carter. Carter says that he stood one examination and was successful. That may be true, but the fact remains that he left Atlanta and was absent from the city for a long period. During that time there have been many changes in the electrical code. Also we have no assurance that during the time Carter was absent from the city he was still engaged in the electrical business. My sole reason for insisting that Carter stand another examination is to be assured that the public will be protected.

QUARRELED WITH LOVER AND KILLED HERSELF

Jacksonville, Fla., April 12.—Miss Mary E. Kirby, an attractive young woman of the High street section of Jacksonville, committed suicide early this morning, following a quarrel with her sweetheart last evening. She drank the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid and was dead when found by her parents.

Accident on Central.

Cedartown, Ga., April 12.—(Special.) A serious accident happened to the engine that was pulling the Central Georgia passenger train from Griffin to Cedartown, two miles below Carrollton, Friday night. The main rod of the engine broke and tore up the track and ties, and the engine came near being overturned. The negro fireman jumped, but was uninjured. Engineer O. Y. Rose stuck to his post and applied the emergency brakes, and was not hurt. The train was due here at 10 o'clock, but passengers did not reach the city until about 12 o'clock.

The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway announces that effective April 14, dining car service will be inaugurated on Western & Atlantic Railroad trains Nos. 92, 93, 1 and 2. This provides dining car service on all through day trains of the Western & Atlantic Railroad.

W. H. BURWELL IS HERE VIEWING THE SITUATION

It Is Probable His Decision in Governor's Race Will Be Known This Week.

Hon. William H. Burwell, of Hancock county, prospective candidate for governor, arrived in the city Sunday. He will remain over Monday to try a case before Judge Reid.

While here Mr. Burwell will hold informal conferences with a number of speakers and make a canvass of the political situation. While he would not commit himself definitely at this time, he has been active in his efforts to make the race, and that in all probability he would do so, if, after a careful survey of the situation, he felt the time ripe to make an announcement.

Mr. Burwell made a splendid record as speaker at the house of representatives, and is personally popular all over the state. He is aligned with neither socialist nor labor, and his race would be pitched on a high plane.

Mr. Burwell, in speaking of his possible race, said: "One thing is certain: If I enter the race and J. Randolph Anderson and Judge W. E. Thomas are also in it, it will be a race between personal friends, and after the campaign is over we will be as good as dead as ever. I have the highest personal regard for both of these gentlemen, and the world is not wide enough or generous to remember after the election."

Mr. Burwell will hold further conferences with friends during the day, and his decision will doubtless be made known within the next week.

GUNMEN DIE AT DAWN IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Protest Innocence to the Last. Last Hours Spent in Continuous Prayer.

of the prison curious townspeople passed to and fro, whispering, and every now and then a party of dusty automobilists swung down from their car to survey the buildings. In the cut, just under the prison walls, express trucks out for the company that out of the west whipped up white caps on the Hudson.

Of these scenes in the deathhouse corridors today that which stood out boldest concerned the visit of two nuns. As Father Cashin, the Roman Catholic prison chaplain, led the four gunmen in prayer, two Italian Franciscan sisters, who had come from New York to see "Dago Frank" whom they had taught in his boyhood, knelt outside his cell. Raised curtains, showing the cells bare and immaculate after yesterday's cleansing, disclosed the four gunmen also kneeling. Suddenly the spirit of devotion spread to the whole death chamber. Every one of the sixteen condemned among them three Chinamen and Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Amuller, joined in the Lord's Prayer, which concluded the services.

Last Words From Gunmen.
The Franciscan sisters, black robed and black-hooded, urged the four gunmen to accept their fate as punishment for their sins, whether they were innocent or guilty of murder.

"There are many boys who are well brought up and have good parents, who do not look out for the company they get into. Bad company is the cause of their fall. They get a bad record and then no matter whether guilty or not they would be framed up."

"Keep away from bad company is the best message I can send."

"Lefty Louie" said: "Add what I said the other day about bad company. A fellow who honestly earns $6 a week is better off than he who gets $1,000 a week, if he doesn't get it straight."

"We were supposed to have as many friends as any fellow that was on the East Side, but when it came to a showdown it was only the 'school' (synagogue) that stood by us, outside of our parents. Stick to the 'school' and to your parents. If I had life to live over again, I would surely follow this advice."

"Gyp the Blood" said he had nothing to add to what had been said.

The Women Waited Aboard.
Mrs. Rosenberg, "Lefty Louie's" young wife, Mrs. Horowitz, wife of "Gyp the Blood," Mr. and Mrs. Crocifio and Paul Crocifio, relatives of "Dago Frank," Morris and Joseph Seidenshner, brothers of "Whitey Lewis," all spent the early part of the afternoon in a last visit to the death chamber. The women waited aloud as they went out of the prison and could not compose themselves sufficiently to speak. On the way to the station they said that the

Four Gunmen, Their Judge and Prosecutor

1. WHITEY LEWIS. 2. DAGO FRANK. 3. LEFTY LOUIS. 4. GYP THE BLOOD. 5. JUDGE GOFF. 6. SING SING PRISON. 7. DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHITMAN.

Governor Glynn has denied the application of the four gunmen in the Becker case for a commutation of sentence of death or for a reprieve. The men—Frank Crocifio ("Dago Frank"), Louis Rosenberg ("Lefty Louie"), Harry Horowitz ("Gyp the Blood") and Joseph Seidenshner ("Whitey Lewis")—will go to the electric chair in Sing Sing prison at sunrise this morning.

Whitney Lewis asked his brother to tell his mother that she was not the mother of a murderer. "I have never been more than a little wild," he said.

Near the railroad station a photographer who tried to take a picture of the weeping wives of "Gyp" and "Lefty Louie" was set upon by the Seidenshner brothers, Morris and Joseph, who were knocked down and pursued into a small restaurant where he barricaded himself and saved his camera.

The prisoners were not left alone for an instant during the day or night. Until the moment of the electrocution they will be under the observation of Dr. Starr and Dr. Merenson, the prison physicians, in addition to the guards. At 1 o'clock in the morning the final prayers will be said. Father Cashin will kneel with "Dago Frank" and receive his final confession. The Rabbi Goldstein will shortly after six o'clock give the last rites to the four condemned men.

The condemned men's last word from the chair was "I am ready."

"Grieved to inform you," it said, "that the governor has refused to intercede. We pleaded with him for nearly two hours."

Having been told the hour that Mr. Wahle was to make this last appeal the four spent the interval in prayer.

Just before dusk two automobiles from New York swept up the driveway in front of the prison. There were in the party two men and two women. All were decked in Easter finery. They crowded into the prison reception room and announced their names as relatives and friends of "Gyp," "Lefty" and "Whitey Lewis."

All were denied admission to the death house and they departed disappointed. Frank's two young brothers, John and Paul, and his youngest sister visited him tonight after being held up for some time by the warden. In view of the fact that Mrs. Crocifio was to return on the 11 a. m. train from Albany after a last attempt to seek executive clemency, the warden doubted the advisability of having Frank with other relatives.

"Lefty Louie's" father underwent a nervous breakdown in the warden's office and left without seeing his son. He had started from his home in New York with his wife, but Mrs. Rosenberg was taken ill on the way and returned to her home. Mr. Rosenberg, decided, at that time, that his first duty was to care for her, and hurried back to New York to enter the city.

Glynn Refused to Intercede.
The last avenue of hope for the four gunmen was closed six days before their execution, when Governor Glynn refused to grant a stay pending the trial of Lieutenant Charles Becker, who was convicted of the lower court of having plotted the shooting of Herman Rosenthal and a whitey in the morning of July 16, 1912, at the front door of the Hotel Metropole, on Forty-third street, near Broadway. District Attorney Charles G. Whitman proved that the four had been engaged by Jack Rose, Bridget Weber and Harry Vallon to kill Rosenthal before he could get to the district attorney that morning and "squeal" on Lieutenant Becker, who was accused of grafting and extortion. The three turned state's evidence, and it was on their testimony that the four were convicted and that Becker was found guilty of having instigated the crime. District Attorney Whitman's quick action in the case is believed to have been responsible for the conviction of the four gunmen and Lieutenant Becker. Had Becker personal charge of the case before the jury, a few minutes after the murder occurred, a fine setup of evidence and poor memories of various members of the metropolitan police, he carried the case through to a successful conclusion. The men were tried before Judge Goff, but the jury returned a verdict of guilty and sentenced by Judge Goff. The arrow of the accompanying picture indicates the death house at Sing Sing.

For two hours the attorneys pleaded. All appeals to the governor's sympathies were disregarded. Only the new testimony placed before Justice Goff in New York yesterday was presented. When they had finished the governor and his legal adviser, John G. Saxe, retired to a private room.

Every scrap of evidence was gone over carefully, and every affidavit read fully by the governor. Then the names of attorneys were sent for. Pale and a trifle nervous, but with a firm voice the governor said: "Gentlemen, I am sorry, but I cannot do my way clear to change my decision."

With the last chance to save the gunmen from the electric chair gone, the attorneys walked slowly from the chamber.

"It seems the boys must die," Mr. Wahle said, "unless the governor changes his decision before morning, they are doomed."

"Did he hold out any hope?" was asked.

"No," he replied, "on the contrary, he said his decision was final."

Mr. Wahle said, "I was anxious to know every new fact in the case," Mr. Wahle said, "and I tried to explain the evidence and affidavits produced before Judge Goff yesterday, set forth the body's physical condition, and then the governor declared there was nothing in them that could cause him to reverse his decision."

"There is nothing left for us to do but to return our duty as attorneys of bad news. We shall telegraph to New York to renew the governor's decision to the relatives of the condemned men."

The mother and a sister of "Dago Frank" Crocifio were here tonight to capitol Governor Glynn heard the final appeals of two attorneys for the convicted slayers, C. G. F. Wahle and W. E. Kingle, for a stay of the death sentence, and then again for the last time refused to interfere with the execution.

PELHAM POLICE CHIEF KILLS PISTOL TOTER

John Harrell Dead and Three Injured in Affair on Street.

Pelham, Ga., April 12.—Chief of Police D. C. Campbell killed John Harrell, on the streets of Pelham, about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Seeing Harrell with his hand on his gun, Chief Campbell ordered Harrell to take his hand off, but instead of doing as ordered, he drew his gun, whereupon Campbell drew his, and shooting began, about twelve or fifteen shots being fired. Harrell was hit three times, the last time in the temple, and fell dead. Chief Campbell was hit once in the thigh.

Policeman Haire, coming to the assistance of his chief, was hit in the shoulder, and C. T. Pullen, a citizen, was hit in the foot.

Harrell was a well-to-do farmer, living about seven miles from Pelham. He leaves a wife and several children. The affray is said to have been the result of a personal feud.

plead with the governor for the gunman's life. They failed to see him, however, as he was steadfast in his previously-announced determination not to talk with relatives of the condemned men.

Learning that it would be impossible to reach the governor, the women sent a message to him by John E. Riley, state superintendent of prisons. Their only reply was that the governor would do nothing further in the case. They then appealed to Mr. Saxe, but with the same result. Later they called on a local priest.

Attorney Wahle, hearing a report that the women were on their way to Albany, waited several hours to meet them, but when they failed to appear he returned to New York. The women went back to New York tonight.

Special officers guarded the executive mansion tonight. Within the last few days threatening letters have been received by the governor, and on one occasion a woman who said she bore a divinely inspired message to the executive appeared. The governor has expressed no fear of any one, but it was thought best to have officers on guard.

20,000 ACRES BOUGHT FOR STOCK FARM IN WARE

Great Opportunities for Stock Raising in Georgia, Thinks Chicago Packer.

Waycross, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—George J. Sayre, multi-millionaire packer of Chicago, has made plans for the early establishment of a stock farm of 20,000 acres in Ware county, southwest of Waycross. Mr. Sayre believes there is a great opportunity in the stock-raising business in Georgia and it is understood that his stock farm will be the first of a number of improvements he will make in this section.

SPRING

Spring is coming. Spring affects everything. For instance, spring chickens, spring vegetables (and, incidentally, spring trading). People like to "browse" around among the green fields and trees about springtime—they are certain to do it. Lots of them would buy home sites if they could get a suitable location; nevertheless, you will find them looking around in the spring.

We know of a beautifully wooded tract of eleven acres that has about 500 feet of frontage on East Lake Drive as well as frontage on two other streets. This is only three blocks from Country Club. (By the way, there is a fine spring on this land). Why not cut this up for the spring trade? It will sell, all right. Price, $16,000. Terms.

IF KIDNEYS ARE WEAK TRY BUCHU
Mixed With Juniper Is Old Folks' Recipe for Flushing Kidneys—Stops Backache and Uric Acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region, it generally means your kidneys are weak. You must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing the acids and poisons that cause you have backache, sick headaches, dizziness, your stomach sour, your urine coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges, your joints often get sore, water, scalds and other ailments to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Stuart's Buchu is in the best condition at once get from your pharmacist a 14-oz. bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water after meals. Stop eating sweets or sugar. In a few days your kidneys will then find their natural. A well known authority says this is the best treatment for the kidneys. It keeps the blood clean, it strengthens the neck of the bladder. It regulates the kidneys and does away with backache and all disagreeable symptoms, by a 14-oz. bottle of your druggist today.
