

BOND ISSUE OF $3,000,000 FOR CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS RECOMMENDED TO COUNCIL

Committee Proposes Expenditure of $1,000,000 to Give Atlanta Adequate School Training to Her Thousands of Youngsters.

DATE OF THE ELECTION TO BE MARCH 3, 1915; BOOKS CLOSE ON FEB. 20

Sewers and Disposal Plant to Get $750,000; Grady Hospital, $225,000; Fire Department, $150,000, and Police $100,000.

Recommendations for a $3,000,000 bond issue for rebuilding the entire school system, extension of the sewer system and improvement of the police and fire departments, will be made in a report which the bond issue committee will make to council, next Monday afternoon.

Under a resolution introduced by Alderman Nutting, the committee will recommend to council that the date of the election be March 3, 1915.

The details of working out the plans for the expenditure of the bond money will devolve on the 1915 council and various committees.

Next year's council will also make the arrangements for the sale of the bonds, and will look after such details as will guarantee a sale of the bonds on the most advantageous terms.

Alderman John S. Candler, chairman of the bond issue committee, and Alderman Nutting, chairman of the subcommittee, met at Monday's meeting.

As an illustration, Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of the construction department, advised that $100,000 for sewers and disposal plants, but the committee only allowed $750,000.

The park department's request for $2,000,000 for playgrounds and park improvements was not included in the bond issue.

Advocates of the bond issue are more certain than ever that Mayor Woodward will give the bond issue his unqualified endorsement.

Mayor Woodward said Monday afternoon that he had practically agreed on most of the details.

Details as to the number of new schools, location and construction, will be left entirely with the education board to work out.

BOOM IN BUILDING PLANNED FOR CITY

Insurance Companies Will Be Informed of Advantageous Conditions Here and Urged to Make Loans.

The "build now" committee held a rousing meeting at the chamber of commerce Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with eighteen members present.

Chairman Krieger opened the meeting with a short talk outlining the plan for which the committee was appointed.

A committee on loans to communicate with insurance companies and other large loan companies, informing them of the very advantageous conditions of building in Atlanta.

Another committee, of architects, builders and material men, to ascertain the cost of building and make a carefully prepared statement showing the saving that will accrue if money is invested at this time.

The information thus collected is to be compiled or placed in the form of an address to the public and published in the newspapers.

It is believed that great activity will soon result from these efforts.

H. Black made an important statement to the effect that insurance companies have recently discovered that real estate loans are worth 100 per cent on the dollar.

For this reason there is a general disposition on the part of insurance companies who have been investing a large part of their funds in stocks and bonds to transfer a great many millions from this form of investment to real estate loans.

For this reason it is believed that the coming year will see more money invested in real estate loans than ever before.

Washington, December 14.—Secretary Bryan today reiterated his determination to seek ratification during this session of congress of the Nicaraguan canal treaty and the Colombian indemnity treaty.

The Nicaraguan treaty calls for a $3,000,000 payment to Nicaragua for canal and coaling station rights, and the Colombian convention would give Colombia $25,000,000 in settlement of differences growing out of the separation of Panama and the building of the Panama canal.

New York, December 14.—The French liner Florida, six days overdue from Havre, has not been heard of since she sailed on November 22, according to a cable message received by the line today from its French agents.

The cotton loan committee was represented by W. P. G. Harding and Paul J. Wade, of St. Louis, A. H. Wiggin, New York, and Levi Rue, Philadelphia.

Washington, December 14.—Cash in the vaults of the 171 national banks reporting their condition to the comptroller of the currency at the close of business October 31 amounted to $28,553,375, an increase over the amount reported for the same date last year of $6,078,844,517, a decrease of $10,188,622.

COTTON LOAN PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL

Representatives Who Will Aid in Handling $135,000,000 Confer With the Loan Committee.

Washington, December 14.—The $135,000,000 cotton loan fund plan to finance the surplus cotton crop was approved unanimously tonight by representatives of committees which will aid in handling the fund in northern states.

Although no definite statements were made at the meeting as to how much cash will be drawn from the fund to carry the surplus crop, estimates ranged from $10,000,000 to $70,000,000, and members of the cotton loan committee were confident hundreds of applications for loans would be forthcoming before January 1.

The meeting was said tonight to have been unusually harmonious. There were some criticisms of details and it was argued that some provisions put hardships on southern banks and on prospective borrowers.

Having defended Plan. W. P. G. Harding, member of the federal reserve board, chairman of the cotton loan committee, was chief speaker at the meeting.

The cotton loan committee was represented by W. P. G. Harding and Paul J. Wade, of St. Louis, A. H. Wiggin, New York, and Levi Rue, Philadelphia.

FAMILY SAVED BY CAT

Lewis Family Escapes Death When Home Burns.

Night fires ravaged Atlanta residences in different sections of the city last night.

On Stewart avenue, near the Central boulevard, two residences were burned to the ground. They were the homes of F. G. Lewis and J. E. Guy.

The Lewis family had retired for the night, and when the flames were discovered they barely had time to escape from the burning building.

The family cat is probably responsible for the family's getting out of the burning house alive.

A chimney burned out in the Hayden apartments at 175 South Pryor street, creating a great deal of excitement amongst the lodgers for half an hour.

A stove in the residence of Mrs. T. E. Ross, 89 Capitol avenue, heated red-hot, ignited the flooring and a big hole was burned in the floor before the fire engines could arrive on the scene.

MERCURY WILL DROP TO 10 DEGREES TODAY

Record-Breaking Cold Wave Predicted for This Morning by the Forecaster.

Downtown shoppers early last night suffered from a biting gale that whirled down with unabated fury from the northeast, and nipped the unprotected cheeks of fair young pedestrians until they were a rosy flush.

But this morning imagination will be outdone by a cold fact—in fact, a frigid fact. The skies, however, are expected to be clear, but the strong and chilling winds will continue throughout the day, it is predicted.

JOBS FURNISHED TO 600 WORKMEN

Men Who Had Been Unable to Find Employment for Days Now Working for the City.

There's a small army of men—presumably 600—hard at work today building sewers in various parts of Atlanta.

These men on Saturday and on every other day for weeks tramped over the hard pavements of the city "looking for a job."

They rolled out of bed as early as 5 o'clock Monday morning, and at 6 they formed in front of the city hall and begged for work.

Most of the men put to work have shovels and picks with them to make sure that they would be put to work, while others, in their eagerness to apply their muscle to manual labor, grabbed tools from the city wagons before they were even assigned to do any work.

These 600 men worked from 7 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon, and they demonstrated that they not only were willing, but were capable of doing the work demanded by the city.

In Pittsburgh, where the McDaniel street sewer breaks off a gang of forty-five negroes were put to work.

There were about 350 men on the job anxious to start work at 7 o'clock, but there were only jobs for seventy-five.

Some were young and some were old men. Some were clad in clothes which bespoke of times of prosperity.

The city has about $142,000 to keep the men at work. The city can pay out $300 a day in wages for three months. At the end of that time there is likely to be more work.

Philadelphia, December 14.—Major General Jose J. Montenegro, commanding the armed forces of Cuba, died here today.

Austrians Are Routed By the Servian Forces And Belgrade Retaken

NEW CHANCE SEEN FOR LEO M. FRANK IN SUPREME COURT

Appeal From State Supreme Court's First Decision Possible Under Certain Conditions, Says Hooper Alexander.

PLEA WOULD BE BASED ON CROWD'S INFLUENCE

Harry Alexander Says Lawyers for Defense Will Give Careful Consideration to United States Attorney's Opinion.

That Leo M. Frank has a ground of appeal to the supreme court of the United States, on a writ of error from the Georgia supreme court's first decision in the case, was the opinion expressed by Hooper Alexander, United States district attorney, in an address before the students of the Atlanta Law school Monday afternoon in his class in "constitutional law."

Mr. Alexander was lecturing to the students on the fourteenth amendment, and was discussing the "due process" clause of that amendment, when the question was propounded by one of the students: "Can you tell us why Leo M. Frank's appeal on this ground was turned down by the United States supreme court?"

Mr. Alexander explained that the United States supreme court simply concurred the prior right of the Georgia supreme court to define what "due process of law" in this state shall be, in regard to the manner and time of making appeals from the decision of lower courts.

He then went on to state that on a different ground from the one carried this time, before the United States supreme court he believed that Frank yet has a right of appeal, in bringing up the question of the influence of the crowd at the trial of Frank.

"I do not know whether this point was set forth in proper form in the original motion for a new trial, which was turned down by the Georgia supreme court," said Mr. Alexander, "but if it was so stated, and if the time for obtaining a writ of error on that first decision has not yet expired—and I do not believe it has expired—then in my opinion Leo M. Frank can take his case before the United States supreme court on a writ of error from the first Georgia decision."

If an appeal should be made on the ground suggested by Mr. Alexander in his address, and if such an appeal should be heard and favorably considered by the United States supreme court, it would result not in setting Leo M. Frank free, but in the reversal of the federal court's decision.

Frank's Lawyers Interested. Harry Alexander, who has just returned from Washington, where he led the unsuccessful fight before the United States supreme court, is expected to hear on the petition to set aside the verdict on constitutional grounds, was greatly interested in the opinion of Hooper Alexander.

Frank's lawyers are one of the ablest lawyers in the state, he said, "and is regarded as an authority on constitutional points. Consequently we feel greatly encouraged over his view of the case."

"I agree with him that the influence of the crowd on the jury constitutes a point on which the United States supreme court has the right to act."

"In fact, we have argued this point before the individual justices of the supreme court, when we made the point that Frank's constitutional rights were violated when he was not present at the rendering of the verdict."

"Now the fact that he was not present was simply the result of the fulfillment of the public mind, and the conditions being right, and the surroundings such that a fair trial could have been given Frank, the judge would never have suggested that the state should be allowed to act, and the time for the rendering of the verdict came."

"I do not know, of course, whether we will be able to ask a hearing by the supreme court on an appeal from the first decision by the Georgia supreme court, as Mr. Alexander suggests. I agree with him, however, that if the point of violation of the federal rights was covered in the original appeal to the Georgia supreme court for a new trial, then we have a right to appeal from that decision, even at this time, to the United States tribunal."

GREAT BATTLES RAGING IN POLAND AND GALICIA, BUT NO DECISIVE RESULT

Poland Is Fast Becoming Another Belgium in Point of Suffering—Each Army Accuses the Other of Looting and Cruelty—The Bad Weather Hampers Operations on Western Front, But Some Advances Are Claimed by the French.

London, December 15.—(1:25 a. m.) The Servians, after a fierce battle, have recaptured Belgrade, according to a Nish dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company.

London, December 14.—The most striking feature of the day's official news is the candid admission by the Austrian government of the defeat of the Austrian army in Servia and apparently the abandonment of its third attempt to invade its small Slav neighbor.

While attributing the failure to the enemy's superior force, as all government bulletins explain failures, the Austrian war office announces plainly an extended retirement and heavy losses.

"New decisions and measures consequently will be taken to repel the enemy," says the Austrian statement, "and it is to be expected that the Austrian army directed against Servia will assume a defensive line."

SERVANS PRESS VICTORY HOME. The Servians claim to be pressing home their victory with more captures of prisoners and to have driven part of the invading army across the Drina river. Moreover, they express confidence they are about to retake the capital and expel the invaders from Serbian territory.

The progress of the war in northern Hungary is less definite. Sunday's German wireless report, with candor equal to that of the Austrian bulletin, spoke of the "severe resistance" which the German and Austrian armies are encountering in south Poland and in Galicia, adding that it was evident that the Austrian forces in the Carpathians are not numerically strong enough to clear the Russians out of Hungarian territory. But the Austrians claim they are driving down the northern slopes of the Carpathians the Russian invaders who were last week in occupation of several towns south of that mountain range.

POLAND BECOMING ANOTHER BELGIUM. Poland is fast becoming another Belgium in point of suffering, while the opposing armies drive each other back and forth, occupy and recapture cities and villages and inflict upon the inhabitants bombardments similar to those suffered in Belgium and northern France.

More than 500 Polish towns have been ruined, according to various accounts from the correspondents. Each army accuses the other of looting and cruelty. The flight of the

Here we can in the week before Christmas announce the arrival of one hundred seventy-five new suits at savings—fine, big savings, and, if the express is prompt, we'll have more by the time you get here today.

This is the best thing we have done this season in the matter of getting smart, desirable suits to sell at a price. Now that we see so much about disposal sales of suits that have outlived their favor, it will doubtless prove a matter of satisfaction to the women of Atlanta to have spread before them suits newer than Federal Bank notes and as valuable at their prices.

They are Priced at $15.00, $19.50, $25.00, $29.75

Many of them are styles being coined right now for Spring, others are fur-trimmed short coats with flare skirts—broadcloths, gabardines, serges, black, navy, brown and green.

One of the notable features is a broadcloth suit at $15.00; it has a short, trim coat, fur-trimmed. But perhaps the greatest interest will center in the $19.50 suits that so plainly show their $25.00 to $30.00 value. Four styles.

In need of a suit? Let this be the word to the wise. Here is opportunity!

COUNSEL FOR SOUTHERN PRESSES FRANK WRIGHT

Thom Intimates Wright's Private Interests May Have Influenced Testimony.

Washington, December 14.—Intimations that his private interests might have influenced Frank C. Wright, of Bristol, Tenn., in his investigation of the Southern railway's coal-carrying lines were made at today's hearing by the senate committee which has before it the southern coal transportation companies.

Alfred Thom, general counsel for the Southern railway, cross-examining Wright, brought out that the committee witness was associated in the coal business with E. L. Dulaney, of Bristol, who charges that the railway has bottled up southern coal in the interest of the "coal trust." Wright has been on the stand for several days, and counsel for Dulaney told the committee they inferred from his testimony that the Southern had bought up "blind end" roads projected toward the coal fields to shut out competition.

GOETHALS TO PROTECT NEUTRALITY OF CANAL

Washington, December 14.—Governor Goethals reiterated request for destroyers to enforce neutrality laws in the canal zone, the subject of a conference today between Secretary of War Garrison, Counselor Lansing, of the state department, and the naval bureau of operations. No decision was made and it was indicated tonight that because of the delicacy of questions involved and the scant information furnished by Admiral Goethals, it might be several days before any action was taken.

Secretary Garrison "early in the day received a cablegram from Colonel Goethals, explaining his request for destroyers to enforce neutrality laws in the canal zone, which was not made public, but Mr. Garrison said in a confidential message to the naval bureau that the necessity of preventing misuse of the zone as a base of support by belligerents required the presence of swift-moving war vessels.

It is understood that administration officials will go deeply into the question of the removal of the government in conducting activities in waters adjacent to the canal zone before any step is taken.

Regarding the alleged use of radio outfits by British colliers within the canal waters, officials are trying to obtain the extent to which this has been done. It is suggested that a warning will be sufficient to stop alleged offenses without invoking a display of force. If such a display would be necessary, however, it will be incumbent upon the navy, as by a proclamation on August 5, the navy department was placed in exclusive control of the radio service in the canal zone.

Maude Adams Holds Captive Large Audience at Atlanta

There is just one Maude Adams—just one in this wide world, with its millions and millions of persons. No one you ever saw or ever will see suggests her even remotely. In the art of the stage she is a rare exclusive, indescribable, possessed of a wealth of charm.

And in all the world of men who dip pens in ink to picture the passing show, there is but one James M. Barrie.

As well try to imitate the one as the other. In the case of the effort would prove impossible of performance.

Viewing the two one is inclined to the belief that the Creator made them the one for the other—so perfectly do the writings of the man fit the personality of the woman.

Just as no one could interest Peter Pan save Maude Adams, just so certain it is that no one could portray the elusive role of Leonora save this self-gifted artist.

Through three acts that were all too short one saw last night at the Atlanta theater and marveled at the art of this inimitable twain. Comedy irresistible—more delicious, if you will—humor more strongly flavored with a spice all its own one might travel far and wide and fail to find.

But to describe it—the play and the player—were a task too difficult for one to attempt. In sorting out the various adjectives that ordinarily do duty in what is termed descriptive writing one realizes how totally inept they are.

Columns upon columns have been written of Maude Adams by men who stand at the forefront of their profession. I have yet to recall one which gave the faintest conception of the woman. Her peculiar charm defies analysis, just as it defies description.

A majority in last night's large audience had seen Miss Adams in other plays. In "The Legend of Leonora" she was something more than a woman. Just as Peter Pan was something more than a little boy who refused to grow up, Odly enough she suggested Peter Pan, gaubed though she was in female attire. Leonora had never quite grown up, despite the fact that she had several children and had killed a man who refused to shut down the window in a car because the cool air was blowing on one of her children who had a cold.

No, she was something more. She considered this act the most natural thing in the world. It was as impossible for her to see the gravity of murder as it was natural for her friends to condone the offense. Peter Pan Barrie says in concluding lines of the play, spoken by the judge who tried her, she was a woman of the fast, the free, the woman, illogical if you will, such as our mothers and our grandmothers were, a creature who ruled all men with a charm indescribable. Leonora was just a woman raised to the highest power, clinging, beautiful, lacking in sense of humor, helpless, but capable of unreasoning combat in the moment supreme.

About such a character Barrie has fashioned the most whimsical of stories. In the hands of a man less sure of the touch, less of the artist, "The Legend of Leonora" would prove extremely dull and unconvincing. As it is, it is a gem of its kind.

"The Ladies' Shakespeare." Following "The Legend of Leonora" Miss Adams and her company produced "The Ladies' Shakespeare," an adaptation of "The Taming of the Shrew," by Barrie. One is inclined to wonder what manner of Katherine Maude Adams will make. Barrie's purpose is to give Katherine a chance—to let her play the part of a real woman of wit, would portray her. She is the reverse of the Katherine of the traditional stage. Her taming of Petruchio is delightfully humorous.

Miss Adams is splendidly supported. The double bill will be seen tonight, Wednesday matinee and Wednesday night. SIDNEY ORMOND.

Keith Vaudeville.

While the headline at the Forsyth this week, Anna Held's daughter and her company's falls come up to excite the supporting acts of most pleasing entertainment, providing an enjoyable performance for all who are fond of vaudeville.

Nonette is the star and the favorite of the bill. This pretty violinist, who is a singer as well, is sure to bring many of those who saw her Monday back for a second, and perhaps a third, performance.

Several years ago she made a big hit here on her first appearance. Then she came on the wings dressed in a Gypsy costume, playing the violin before she reached the footlights, and from the second she came in sight of her audience she could truthfully say that she had "come, seen and conquered."

This week it takes her a little longer to get the old-time grip on those in the audience who keep her, and Monday night was even a greater favorite with the crowd than in the afternoon.

Nonette is good to look at, sings fairly well, plays much better, and has a magnetic personality. She is especially attractive in her Gypsy costume. Her melody was perhaps the most noticeable feature of her act, and the "Tippery" part of it caught the gallery.

Notette is offered by Bayonne Whipple and Walter Huston in a comedy creation called "Spook." It is all about a widow who has been left one million dollars by an old man, who has inserted a clause in his will that unless she has a picture painted on the front door of her home she loses the money. After the painting is done the ghost of the old man appears, and the complications furnish opportunity for many laughs.

As they come to applause, and especially to winning the favor of the gallery, the honors of Monday afternoon went to the comedians, Ben Austin and George Morton, two black-face comedians, who bill themselves as the "Two Black Dicks." The best part of this act is the dancing of one of the "Dicks." It's just a little hard to say who is the best.

An excellent closing number is presented by Mallia and Bart. In "The Cuckoo" they keep the crowd laughing the last act on the program has a hard time in getting the attention of those who have drifted up and others on the way to the doors—but the "smash" trust kept the crowd seated. The "Novelty Clowns" give an extraordinary lamping exhibition to open the bill. Bessie Kyle, always an Atlanta favorite, and Harry Richards, who has been in the city for some time, are the stars of the act.

The "Seven Keys to Baldpate." (At the Atlanta.) The runtimes have been many years in the universal verdict accorded "Seven Keys to Baldpate" to remain three nights with a matinee Saturday. All who have seen the play are enthusiastic over it and the demand for seats is large. The sale of the tickets has been very brisk, and the treasury at the Atlanta busy. The first act, by George M. Cohan, and will be presented here by a company of the first rank, with Cyril Scott at its head. This is a play which has been in the city and also played many weeks in New York and most of the details of the play are lost in the presentation. It is likely that none will want to miss, for it has been praised as few plays are praised.

Emma Bunting. (At the Lyric.) Little Emma Bunting and her company presented her highly successful play "Seven Keys to Baldpate" at the Lyric theater last night. Rupert Hughes wrote this production especially for Miss Bunting, and it gives her ample opportunity to display her talents before a highly sympathetic audience.

In this show Miss Bunting established an attendance record in Atlanta, which was presented in other cities. In enacting the part of "Teas, Miss Bunting has an opportunity to display her talents to splendid advantage. As "Teas," dressed in a big sonneter's hat, a bow and big rubber hat all much too large for her, she presents a quaint little character, and her role has endeared herself to thousands.

George Whitaker, himself most popular here in Atlanta, having ever since her initial appearance here, is opposite to her, is seen in a character in which he shows marked ability. The support company is Miss Bunting's very best, and each member has opportunities to show their versatility.

Heterodox to have Miss Bunting remain at the Lyric for one week, much to the delight of her admirers, the company which will offer "Mam'zelle," in which she will give her own impersonation of the famous Eva Tangway.

MORTUARY

(All Funeral Notices Appear on Last Page.)

Clarence Giffen.

Word reached the city Monday of the death of Clarence Brown Giffen of Marietta, Ohio, who died at a sanitarium in Cincinnati, Ohio. The deceased was the oldest son of the late R. K. Giffen, of this city. After completing his education, he entered the fertilizer business in Marietta, Ohio, where he was prominent in both business and social worlds. He was president of the Town and Country club there for three years. Mr. Giffen had been in failing health for several years, having spent most of his winters for the past few years in St. Petersburg, Fla., and also with his mother, Mrs. R. K. Giffen, of this city. He was a vestryman of the St. Luke's Episcopal church in Marietta, Ohio. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. R. K. Giffen, of Cincinnati; R. K. Jr., of Marietta, Pa., and D. E., of this city; two daughters, Mrs. W. W. W. Va. Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Giffen left last evening for Wheeling, Mrs. R. Giffen having been ill for two or three months ago, when he began to fail.

E. R. Kinnebrew, Athens.

Athens, Ga., December 14.—(Special.) Dr. E. R. Kinnebrew, aged 65, the last surviving member of the family of that name, died early today at Franklin, N. C., whence he moved from Athens two weeks ago. He was prominent in drug business in this place for many years. The burial is to be at Franklin Tuesday.

Elmer Jones.

Elmer Jones, aged 38 years, died Monday morning at 4 o'clock at the residence of his sister, Mrs. E. J. Gorman, on Fulton avenue and Centre. He is survived by his wife and two children, Otis and Ruby Jones; his mother, Mrs. O. J. Jones; two brothers, Oscar and A. A. Jones, and three sisters, Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. H. Y. Hilderbrand and Mrs. Gorman.

Olie Hubbard.

Olie Hubbard, aged 15 years, died last night at a private hospital. His body was taken to the funeral home and will be buried by two uncles, John Kitchens and Olie Hubbard of Winder. The body is at Greenleaf's home chapel pending funeral arrangements.

SCANDINAVIAN KINGS TO HOLD CEREMONY

Copenhagen, December 15.—(Via London, 1:59 a. m.)—By invitation of King Gustav of Sweden, King Haakon of Norway, and King Frederick of Denmark, will visit him at Malmo, southern Sweden, Friday and Saturday.

The three kings will be accompanied by their ministers of foreign affairs and secretaries, and will discuss affairs of common interest which have arisen as a result of the war and especially international relations and the economical situation in Scandinavia.

GERMANY SURE TO WIN, DECLARES VON DER GOLTZ

Berlin, December 14.—(Via The Hague and London.)—The Tageblatt's correspondent at Sofia telegraphs an interview he had with Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz while the latter was on his way to Constantinople. Regarding Belgium the baron said: "The situation is normal, the population having convinced themselves that the Germans are not barbarians. Life continues as if in peace times, and commerce and transportation are getting better."

The Belgians fought bravely for their fatherland. Such opponents should be esteemed. Answering questions regarding the western war situation, the baron pointed out that an army of millions of German soldiers was in the enemy's country and that the richest French provinces were occupied.

"We don't underestimate our opponents," he said. "The French and English fight with utter contempt for death, but we are gradually winning ground and are convinced that some day the enemy's resistance will be broken."

"Germany is prepared to wage the war for years, and the side which is able to stand the most and has the best discipline is bound to win. The enthusiasm and morale of the German soldier, fostered by good supply arrangements, we are sure, will ultimately make us victorious."

Field Marshal von der Goltz said he considered the Russian offensive had been a failure, but that hard fighting was still in prospect.

"But the German army," he added, "with its victorious career against superior numbers, is bound to be so in the future."

He said, in conclusion, he was convinced the Turkish army had greatly profited by its hard work of the last few years and would make a good record.

In Petrograd there is a clock with ninety-two faces that mark the time in thirty cities in as many countries and the movements of the earth, planets and other heavenly bodies.

ITCHING BUMPS COVERED BODY

Just Like Fire. Could Not Sleep At Night. Baby Also Had Breaking Out on Ear. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Route No. 3, Cooper, Texas.—"I was taken with an itching and my whole body got covered with little red bumps. It would itch till I would scratch the blood out of my skin and then it was just like fire. I could not sleep at night until I got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I would bathe in warm water with Cuticura Soap and then put on the Cuticura Ointment and I got well quick. Two weeks from the time I commenced to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment I was sound and well and I have not been bothered since."

"My baby had a breaking out on his ear and behind it and he would claw the skin off. It spread and his little ear was nearly rotted off. I washed it good with the Cuticura Soap and then put on the Cuticura Ointment and they healed it up." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Boles, Jan. 28, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail

If you wish a skin clear of pimples and blackheads, hands soft and white, hair lustrous and glossy, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin to-day the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each with 22-p. Skin Book will be sent free upon request. Address postcard: "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

IMPROVEMENT BONDS PROPOSED IN MACON

Issue for New Hospital, Sewerage and Paving Considered by Council.

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.) The proposed county bond issue of $100,000 having recently been defeated along with $200,000 in bonds for other county purposes, it is now proposed that the city shall issue bonds in the sum of two or three hundred thousand dollars and erect in Macon a modern city hospital. The plan was met with the indorsement of many Macon people and if it is approved by council tomorrow night the voters will be given a chance to express themselves on it.

Council is expected to act favorably tomorrow night on a proposed bond issue of $200,000 for street paving and sewerage, and it is believed that the hospital bonds will be approved at the same time. If that is done the total issue of bonds to be voted on will be in the neighborhood of $500,000.

It is proposed that council shall call a special election for February 1, for which a special registration will be held, the books to be opened January 1. With a special registration for that purpose it is not thought there will be any trouble in carrying the bonds, especially as the improvement work, in addition to being badly needed, will furnish employment to many men now out of work.

ESSAY ON "COURTESY" WINS GENTRY PRIZE

The essay contest held recently by the Bell Telephone system was won by J. R. Gentry, clerk in the office of the first vice president, and one of the youngest employees of the company. The subject of the essays was "Courtesy."

Mr. Gentry is the son of J. C. Gentry, of Atlanta, and a nephew of W. T. Gentry, president of the company. His essay began as follows: "Courtesy has more than hypocritical or studied politeness. It is a combination of three worthy qualities—kindness, common sense and the ability to assume the other fellow's viewpoint."

CRITICAL MOMENTS.

What the war teaches.

Every life has its critical moments. There are times when a man's health is staked up to the care he gives to it within a few hours. His system may be run down, blood laden with poisons and lungs and liver affected.

Twenty-four hours after you start to talk Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, poisonous matter and blood impurities begin to leave your body through the Liver, Bowels, Kidneys and Skin.

So powerfully penetrating is this purely vegetable remedy that through the circulation of the blood it reaches every fibre, muscle and joint, dissolves the poisonous secretions and drives them out of the body.

It brings new activity to the liver, stomach and bowels in a short time, thus causing salivaceous, indigestion and constipation to disappear.

It enters the tiny blood vessels of the skin, bringing with it fresh vitalized blood, and abiding faith in its wonderful cleansing power has come to thousands, when pimples, boils, carbuncles, rash, eczema, acne and other skin troubles dry up and disappear.

Good blood means good health; good health means strong men and women, full of vigor and ambition, with minds alert and muscles ever willing.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is purely vegetable, and is free from alcohol or narcotics and is not a secret remedy for all its ingredients are published on wrapper.

Your Christmas FRUIT CAKE

A Recipe and How to Cook It In Your Gas Range

Atlanta's homekeepers are interested now in this preparation for the Christmas feast. The following recipe and cooking directions are furnished by Mrs. S. R. Dull, the company's cookery expert.

The Recipe:

Black fruit cake: 1 1/2 pounds flour, 1 1/2 pounds sugar, 14 eggs, 1 pound creamery butter, 3/4 cup Porto Rico molasses, 1 heaping teaspoon soda, 2 rounded tablespoons cinnamon, 2 allspice, 1 mace, 1 nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 4 pounds raisins cut in halves, 2 pounds currants washed and dried, 1 1/2 pounds citron cut in small pieces, 1 pound dates chopped, 1 pound almonds blanched and chopped, half-pound crystallized cherries, half-pound crystallized orange and lemon peels. Make cake as any pound cake; add spices, mix syrup and soda together well, add flavoring, prepare fruits, flour well with extra flour, add to batter. Add sherry and brandy, half waterglass each, reserving other half-glass each to pour over cake when it is partly cooled. This will make 15 pounds. Better bake in three five-pound cakes. Line pan bottom with two layers greased paper. Cake batter must be very stiff to hold fruit in place.

The Directions for Cooking:

These call for a gas range. Its heat is even, steady, economical, well distributed, easily controlled and labor-saving. Our new line for the holidays is on display now, awaiting your inspection.

Place a rack in groove 2 (second from bottom of oven). Heat oven two minutes with both lights full lit. Fill the cake-pan to within one inch of top (allowance for rising). Place cake on rack, turning down both lights until they are mere beads. Cook straight through with this heat.

A five-pound cake will take from four to five hours to bake, depending on its thickness.

To test: Insert a straw halfway between the edge and stem of pan. If the straw comes out clean, the cake is done; if sticky, the cake needs longer cooking.

A Few "Don'ts": Don't use an old dark pan or a granite one, or you'll burn the cake. Bright pans never burn. Don't put a pan of water in the oven. Lower the gas and save money. Place an asbestos mat under the cake near end of baking if at all anxious. If you are inexperienced, don't bake in a pan without a stem. Don't take cake from pan until next day.

Our Demonstrators Are at Your Service Every Day.

The Constitution is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at: Hotelling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner).

A FIRM FOUNDATION. The guiding spirit of any bond issue Atlanta projects for the benefit of her schools and other municipal facilities should be permanency and elasticity.

Atlanta's past policy of public construction has been one looking neither toward permanency nor elasticity.

The prevalent idea seems to have been to build as cheaply as possible for the needs of the moment, on the assumption that money saved at the moment was money saved in the long run.

The fallacy of that reasoning is shown not alone in Atlanta's ramshackle school plant, but equally in the streets that necessity forces to be widened and regraded, and in other directions.

Money that is "saved" by shoddy construction is the most extravagant economy in the world. It endangers lives and necessitates later on large additional expenditures that would have been avoided had business methods prevailed in the beginning.

The manufacturer, or the manager of the modern corporation, builds today on the unit system, and with an idea to what might be called the insurance of endurance.

In other words, he constructs his plant so that it can easily be extended, and he knows he saves money eventually by building for keeps instead of for the moment only.

When Atlanta adopts that policy of permanency and elasticity we shall see the school system rescued from the menace of deterioration and inadequacy that now is a recurring specter.

Sooner or later the small town, provincial idea of "skimping" in public construction must be discarded. Every postponement is an added cost.

Today, when good building material is abundant and reasonable, and when skilled and unskilled labor is to be had at the pick of the market, is the time to inaugurate the policy of permanency and elasticity.

If the average Atlantian of business intuition and foresight builds in his private business with permanency and elasticity in the foreground, how much more incumbent is the policy upon the municipality.

WHAT DOES HE EXPECT? The attitude of Carranza toward the principles involved in the border-fringe dispute is apt to eliminate him in the American mind as the possible pacificator of Mexico.

An individual who shows so little reasonableness, so much irascibility, and so little penetration as to the role played by this country, can hardly have the qualities essential for the leadership of a troubled nation.

All that the state department asked of the two factions at Naco was that they transfer their scene of operations to a point sufficiently remote from the border not to endanger the lives of American citizens.

The European belligerents need more territory to accommodate their battle lines.

And the war has developed the claim agent, who is evidently striving for the decoration of generalissimo of the hot air.

The optimistic burglar has no trouble at all in locating Prosperity.

This time the allies are not taking Dixie for their winter colds; but it helps some.

War is anything they care to mention. Now Lord Kitchener says they have misquoted his silence.

It would be interesting to really understand the Mexican viewpoint in this matter. Is it the conception of the various factions that the people of the border towns shall quietly be shot at, wounded and killed while irresponsible bands squabble out their differences? They have the whole of Mexico in which to contend. And yet, for the sake of a little strategic advantage of a conjugal nature, the man who assumedly controls a large body of the Mexicans is willing to forget the almost unprecedented role played by this country, its expenditure of lives and millions.

The president evidently will find a way to compel respect of American life and property without permanently antagonizing the whole people of Mexico. But it is obvious that Carranza, and those of his one-sided viewpoint, need a lesson.

THE SUPPLY MERCHANT.

One of the most ultra-practical contributions to the find-a-markets' discussion which has been running in The Constitution comes from H. H. Summerour, of Duluth, Ga., one of the biggest farmers in the state and one of those most guided by modern business methods. Mr. Summerour's idea is that the supply merchant has the solution largely in his hands. The Constitution agrees with the amendment that if the banker and the town man, including the commission merchant, will co-operate with the supply merchant they will build a road to a home market passable for all corners.

Mr. Summerour argues soundly that most farmers raise hay, oats, corn and other products in less than car lots. Now, the merchant in town has to handle his stuff in car lots, as a rule. Here comes in the supply merchant as a link. There is nothing, says Mr. Summerour, to prevent the supply merchant from accepting small lots of products from his customers, grading and packaging them, making car lots and dealing direct with the city. Another leading argument is that the average small farmer has no commercial rating and cannot, therefore, get in immediate touch with the business fabric of the usual markets. The supply merchant has a commercial rating and can remedy this defect.

As to the impracticability of the arrangement, Mr. Summerour answers that by showing that it is successfully in force in the west and has been for some time. The supply merchant can be depended upon to take enough toll to compensate his extra time and equipment. In the long run, his added business would run up into large profits.

Of course, the country and city bankers; not forgetting the landlord, must back up the supply merchant in this departure. He cannot stand alone. Eventually, all parties to the compact would emerge with profit and enlarged business horizons. Certainly the supply merchant must get out of his present rut of financing for cotton alone.

Whether the fault lies with him or with the "man higher up," the effect, and the penalty, are all the same. Mr. Summerour is a practical man. He is no theorist or dreamer. And he has pointed a practical way out.

THE CANAL'S NEUTRALITY.

Colonel Goethals' hurried and somewhat dramatic request for torpedo boat destroyers to be used in patrol duty to enforce the neutrality laws of the canal zone came as a surprise to those who have followed events in South Atlantic and South Pacific waters. The exigencies of strife, and the tension under which all the belligerents have been and are laboring, have led them to natural carelessness in the observance of regulations touching the three-mile limit and the use of the wireless.

All that Goethals wants or intends to do is to use the swift little vessels for which he has sent, as policemen of the seas, to overhaul offending ships and remind them of their obligations.

There is no cause for alarm on part of timid persons or of fear that this nation is going to be unpleasantly involved. Thus far the contending countries have shown a disposition to observe the neutrality laws when they are brought to mind with sufficient force. That is all Uncle Sam expects to exact of them. It is especially essential that the Panama canal, which in future all nations are to use on terms of equality, should not open its career with a dubious international reputation, even from the technical standpoint.

Friends of Uncle Joe Cannon insist that he will return to congress "in his old form," and that he will so demonstrate to the unbeliever if he has to kick a football over the Washington Monument.

Also it is announced that Gif Pinchot has quit running for office. But he didn't beat the people getting tired.

The European belligerents need more territory to accommodate their battle lines.

And the war has developed the claim agent, who is evidently striving for the decoration of generalissimo of the hot air.

The optimistic burglar has no trouble at all in locating Prosperity.

This time the allies are not taking Dixie for their winter colds; but it helps some.

War is anything they care to mention. Now Lord Kitchener says they have misquoted his silence.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

The Old-Time Chimney. Every time old Winter sends the heralds of the snow the blizzard is a-blowing in the country, high and low. I'd give them radiators in the cities, big as small. For the loved, old-fashioned chimney that was big enough for all.

'Twas joy when homeward goin' o'er the chilly roads and white. To glimpse the hearty welcome of the windows, twinkling light. And know you'd soon be happy where the sweet home-voiced call. 'Round the plain, old-fashioned fireside—that was big enough for all.

The steam-het place has comforts the old-timers never knowed. But it shines no old-time welcome on the winter-clouded road. I think about the old friends, when the winter-shadows fall. There, 'round the old-time chimney, that was big enough for all.

Proverbs of the Highway. Don't set a time to count your troubles; you'll know the sum total of 'em by the time they're through with you.

It's good to take Happiness by surprise, and show her that sometimes you can be happy on your own account.

Half the time when you are thanking the Lord for His blessings you're wondering why they came in such small packages.

Always one more hill to climb, but it's great exercise, and then, too, you have the prospect of hallooia times when you reach the summit.

III Dreams Come True. Little fellow says, says he: "You are where I long to be. On the road, so bright to view: Are you where the dreams come true?"

So he says, and this I say: "There was brightness on the way; Here I rest, with Heaven in view, Waiting 'till the dreams come true."

UNCLE JULES SAYS

NEVER LET YOUR FEELINGS GET AS LOW AS THE TEMPERATURE.

Mighty Jota Him. "O, who will walk a mile with me?" asks an eastern poet; and the shivering editor of The Adams Enterprise says: "Pretty cold weather, but such an invitation. Anything on your hip?"

The World's Way. Single file or double. Gittin' over ground. O' dignify deep for trouble. And nature takes a rest. To be sorry when it's found.

Just Observations. The Maysville Advocate-Democrat sermonizes in this fashion: "The average man is nearly always certain that he is an exceptional man."

"A soft answer may turn away wrath, but a mushy one provokes it."

In Content. "L. A. N." of Marietta, writes of the contented lot: "My room is less than ten by ten. My bed is but a cot; Yet I am told that many men Even these have not."

The sun peeps through my casement small. And bids me waken soon, While there are some so situate They see no sun till noon. I prize my room, I love my cot, And every sunny day I breathe a tiny word or so. Of thanks for my fair lot. And every dark or rainy day That happens in between I know is sent with good intent To keep the good world green. So, when, at eve the sun is set And nature takes a rest, I, too, with thanks, then lay me down, Knowing: I am blest."

Extension of the Gift Period. A negro who recently celebrated his eighty-first birthday asks the editor of The North Missourian to announce that "the gift period relative to the event would extend until July 4, 1915."

Text for the Swift Race. Says the Sage of The Advertiser News: "The fellow who is so swift that he will not allow grass to grow under his feet hastens the time when it will grow over his head."

The Joyous Citizen. He cares not how the world may roll, He gives it hearty greeting; He has the hallooia soul That shouts its joy in meeting!

The Modern Way. "To get more trade you've got to adopt modern methods," says The Clay Center Times. "The modern quacker can get his lady love to the window quicker with an auto horn than with a guitar."

Best Jingle of All. Says the practical singer of The Whitsett Courier: "Some folks may like the jingle Of these here ruinin' rhymes, But, jess, about this season, To me, there's lets more reason And joy that's highly pleasin' In the jingle of the dimes."

The Supreme Sacrifice. (From The Washington Post) Now is the time for Ab Ham to offer his wives' relatives on the altar of his country, and thus end the cruel war.

The Holland Letter

One of the largest of American banks and one also whose activities are accepted as furnishing a fairly good barometer of the money market and the financial situation announced a day or two ago that it will reduce the rates charged those who borrow money upon call from 6 per cent to 5 per cent. There could not be a better proof of the change in the money market situation than this. It has frequently been spoken of since the announcement was made in those words. Yet this institution has since August been making almost free-lance use of its resources. No other American bank has advanced an amount in gold to the gold pool of $2,000,000 which was organized for the purpose of enabling New York City to pay its pending obligations in London and also to the gold pool of $1,000,000 which was organized so that American debtors on current account in London could find the means with which to pay their debts. It subscribed heavily to the cotton pool of $125,000,000, and its influence was sufficient to persuade other New York banks to subscribe to the pool. It has recently participated in a loan to Sweden. It is financing a Panama loan. It has undertaken larger financing in South America.

Therefore, when this institution reduces its rate for call loans from 6 per cent to 5 per cent there is sufficient evidence that available funds are plentiful and that no business man need now be anxious, if his credit be good or if his security sufficient, about obtaining all the funds which he needs.

In three weeks the new year will have come. In that time there is likely to be other proof of a very strong situation in the banking world of the United States. It means, sooner than the charges for borrowed capital used for investment and represented by long-time obligations must fall. Some in the financial district are now somewhat persuaded that there is no sound reason for apprehending that there is to be serious effect upon the price charges for capital by reason of the European war.

The statement was made a few days ago by very high authority that one of the promising features associated with the war in Europe has been the raising of an enormous amount of money without any appeal to the so-called high financiers or great capitalists of the world.

England's Great War Loan. The weekly florist by Great Britain, than which none other of like character or larger amount was ever attempted—did not represent the assistance of great capitalists. It represented to a great extent the savings of the English people. That was also true of the loan recently placed in Germany. France has been securing needed funds by appeals to her people, who have responded willingly and who have utilized their savings in doing that.

Therefore, before the financial part of view which has been made by this war is this—credit and savings are in abundance and can be relied upon for procuring funds necessary for the carrying on of the war.

So also in the United States funds are now in abundance. If they were not, one of the great American banks would not now reduce its interest rate on call loans from 6 per cent to 5 per cent. Moreover, available funds are also in abundance and may be utilized to procure liquid capital through the facilities offered by the federal reserve banks.

These funds and this credit are now available for American business of all kinds. Renewed business activity, if it is accompanied with wise economies, will speedily be followed by accumulation of fresh capital in very large amounts. There is, therefore, no reason for apprehending that the conditions will continue to be what they have been for the past year and a half, and these conditions in considerable measure explain the business stagnation in the United States.

A Half Billion Needed. During the past approximately half a billion dollars represented by short-time notes which the railway companies were obliged to sell must be liquidated or, if that be impossible, must be extended. There is also a feeling in the financial district that these new and confidence-making conditions will make it comparatively easy for the railroads to take care of this great indebtedness. They must have, however, new capital. Very little of this new money is now in abundance. If they were not, one of the great American banks would not now reduce its interest rate on call loans from 6 per cent to 5 per cent. Moreover, available funds are also in abundance and may be utilized to procure liquid capital through the facilities offered by the federal reserve banks.

A report has been in circulation in the West coast district for two or three days that less than $40,000,000, perhaps not more than $30,000,000, of the securities sold in England at the beginning of the war now remain unaccounted for, yet to be taken up. If the statement is true, it would be a very interesting one to be not far out of the way, there will be no difficulty in liquidating this obligation.

Cautionously, step by step, feeling the way, so to speak, the two great exchanges of New York and London are now in the process of being opened up. The cotton exchange has in three weeks since it reopened its doors made it clear that there is no longer any ground for the fear that by reason of the opening of the exchange panicky conditions in the cotton trade would set in. On the other hand, the wool exchange has tended to steady the business. That undoubtedly is to be the experience of the New York stock exchange. Its experimental test in permitting transactions on bonds upon the floor of the exchange has proved to be entirely satisfactory. Now the next step is to permit the further opening of the doors so that there may be transactions in stocks. There will be restrictions at first, but the same is to be true of the exchange. It is believed that these will speedily be removed and that by mid-winter the exchange will be doing business as freely as it did in months before the war began. Another favorable factor in the influences which will be doing business is the fact that the certainty that during the present short session of congress there will be no legislation attempted which would leave the business world in doubt, for if it is in doubt it makes little progress.

HOLLAND. Two thousand and ninety-nine mountain lions have been killed in California since 1907, according to a statement by the state fish and game commission. Of this number, 118 have been killed in the state for the six months ended June 30. The state pays a bounty of $100 for each lion killed. The total cost of killing lions has been $41,980. Humboldt is the banner county for this year, and for every year. In the six months ending with June, Mendocino, Trinity and Siskiyou are next in order of lions. Los Angeles county has the highest bounty on fifteen lions in seven years.

POLITENESS ON THE BATTLEFIELD. There is a tale told about an officer who was conversing with Marlborough during a hot engagement, and just as the fighting was hot and howling profoundly every time he spoke to the duke. That great man suggested that at such a time they might very well waive all ceremony. But the officer bowed deeply in reply to his commander's suggestion, and just as he was bending down a cannon ball cleared him and took off the head of a comrade. The officer, on coming up again and seeing what had happened, remarked calmly: "Four graces perceive that one loses nothing by politeness. The total amount that officer had made himself a short man, and so had escaped."

A STEADY OFFICERHOLDER. (From The Pittsburgh Dispatch) North Carolina has recently presented a record of steadiness in officeholding which is calculated to make the professional politicians of this section green with envy. When John Laws was first elected to the office of register of deeds in Orange county of that state Zachary Taylor was president of the United States and the Mexican war was just over. He has held the office continuously since. He has been elected thirty-two times and has held

WHY THE DATE OF ELECTION? (E. W. Lightner in The Pittsburgh Dispatch) Nearly all the American world knows that the national election and nearly all of the state elections occur on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, but probably not one in all the millions of voters and novoters can tell "why" that date was selected for the choice of electors. The "when" is easy of discovery, but that is another story. It is always the first Tuesday after the first Monday, but anybody who looks at the calendars of several years in November will see that the date varies almost every year.

Years ago the writer inquired of many of the most learned congressmen in Washington as to the "why" of the mystery. Not one could answer except to say: "Bless me, I don't know." Harry Smith, who for long years was journal clerk of the house of representatives, was almost a magician in dragging to light those little mysteries associated with the history of the country. He sought high and low as to the "why" actually for months, and then gave it up.

It is really one of the curiosities of our national legislation. If H. E. Ayer, chief bibliographer of the congressional library, says: "As to why the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, instead of the first Tuesday in November, was fixed for the date of presidential elections, we have to report that no satisfactory answer can be given."

ALL WEALTHY, ALL SAD. (From The Omaha Bee) Opie Read thinks this would be a dreary old world if everybody in it had a million dollars.

"Think of it, just think of it," he asserted at the Monday night in his lecture. "If everybody was worth $1,000,000, and a man asked another to do some work, he would just put on a high-top air and tell him to change climates."

"To much money cripples good fellowship. There was never a better belief than that money and ignorance can make a man happy. I would like to impress this on the young man who hasn't got a dollar."

"Poverty doesn't mean virtue any more than ignorance means righteousness. The world isn't nearly so bad as most of the 'God help us, we're going to pieces,' chautauqua lecturers would have us believe, according to Mr. Read.

"When we're beginning to hear about evils that are more likely to be going than coming," he said, "in pessimism there can be nothing but stagnation and death."

CHRISTMAS ALL THE YEAR. (Jerome P. Fleishman, in Old Bay Line Magazine) Let's see, now. The Christmas spirit is one of "peace on earth, good will toward men," isn't it?

"Fine! Let's live up to it. Let us go a bit further. Suppose we open our minds and hearts to a more liberal idea 365 days a year and see how it works!"

Suppose we deliberately refuse to harbor thoughts of hate and anger and revenge and prejudice and littleness.

Suppose we let truth enter our souls that we are all brothers and sisters—here for a little while to do God's bidding and then go home to Him and give an accounting of our conduct.

Wouldn't it be a glorious old world if all the things that are hateful and mean and the mean folks could know the wonderful power of a little bit of brotherly love?

We can make it such a world. You and I can begin right now to practice kindness toward each other. We'll be more loving, more patient, more big—big spiritually, morally, humanly.

Let's make it Christmas all the year round!

A HOUSE ON MOTOR WHEELS. (From The Philadelphia Record) "If it takes an old Conestoga wagon on the chassis of an autocar a half-day to travel a square, how many days will it take to reach California?" was a question that was puzzling merchants and travelers at the street corner Third and Fifth streets, Camden, last night. Harry C. Kromer, a retired locksmith, of 412 Federal street, was advised a few weeks ago by his physician to take a trip to California for his health.

Instead of going by train, he built the unique contrivance referred to. It is a house on motor vehicle wheels and filled with household necessities.

On a test yesterday Kromer traveled less than a square in half an hour. He had with him a tire, and was compelled to have the strange-looking machine towed back to the garage. When he gets a good start, Kromer says, he believes he will have no more trouble. It will be accompanied on the long trip by Mrs. Kromer and a dog.

FISH SEEKS FRIENDSHIP. (From The St. Paul Pioneer Press) A curious instance of the familiarity of fishes with human beings has been observed in Portland, Ore., at the Taylor State barge office. The official boat is kept at the end of the wharf.

Some time ago one of the boatmen began to notice a fish about eight inches long and resembling a carp that seemed to wish to go up to the top of the water whenever the man appeared, and did not seem to be at all afraid.

After a time all the men got to know the fish and began to pick it up in their hands. The fish would not be in sight, but he would first soon appear and frisk around near the surface. Once or twice he has come so close as to rub his nose against the boatman's hand, and the men are awaiting further developments.

WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER OF LIONS. (Sacramento dispatch to The San Francisco Chronicle) Two thousand and ninety-nine mountain lions have been killed in California since 1907, according to a statement by the state fish and game commission. Of this number, 118 have been killed in the state for the six months ended June 30. The state pays a bounty of $100 for each lion killed. The total cost of killing lions has been $41,980. The Railroad Lunch Counter.

The railroad lunch counter is a place where life can be sustained by the traveler as a last resort. It has been said about the railroad lunch counter that it has been said by its patrons and cannot be reproduced in these pages. There was a time when most of the remarks made by the victims were directed against the wretched and mysterious substance which were sold for food. These days are practically over, however. The lunch counter now sells real food in many instances and does not rely upon the smoke and cinders of the journey to destroy the travelers' sense of taste as that last year's sandwiches may be palmed off upon him with impunity.

The traveler's chief grievance against the railroad lunch counter of today is the fact that it costs him food at double prices. The man who has to travel on the American railroad is usually fined 100 per cent of his food bill for his rashness. In fact, the railroad lunch counter is the greatest argument against the folly of leaving home which exists today. All through this country worried passenger agents are spending thousands of dollars in advertisements pleading with the careless citizen to leave home and insert himself into the bosom of the golden west.

They do things differently in England. The English railroad feeds its passengers at a trifling below the regular rates on excellent food and declines to sell to the stay-at-home. In England, people ride on the trains for the privilege of buying baskets full of lunch for 37 cents; while in America the citizen puts off his trip as long as possible and then eats a full meal and fills his pockets full of crackers before starting.

Nothing is so damaging an argument against the intelligence of the men who run our railroad system as the fact that the citizen puts off his trip as long as possible and then eats a full meal and fills his pockets full of crackers before starting.

When a railroad manager attempts to increase his passenger traffic by charging the $10-a-week citizen a dime for a ham sandwich and another dime for a bread and butter sandwich, and a dime for a making himself a standing argument for government or at least kindergarten control.

ORIGIN OF AN OLD SAYING. (From The Indianapolis News) "Drunk as blazes" was originally "drunk as Blaziers." Blaziers being admirers of Bishop Blaise, patron saint of the wool-combers, who at Leicester and other English towns, celebrated his name-day with marchings and drinking bouts. Sir Thomas Wyse, in "Impressions of Greece," mentions this custom and says: "Those who took part in the procession were called 'Blaziers,' and the phrase 'drunk as Blaziers' originated in the convivialities common on those occasions."

DANGER IN IT. (From The Chicago Herald) Movies of lawmakers at work are advocated as a means of educating the foreigner. The danger is that they would give him the impression that in this country where smoking cigars and sitting in a chair on desks was regarded as work.

COMMON SENSE CURTAIN-RAISER. (From The Houston Post) A church council in Richmond is taking steps to inaugurate a world-wide revival of religion. We favor it, but suggest that, as a curtain-raiser, there be a world-wide revival of common sense. Right now it seems that three-fourths of the human race is crazy.

LARGEST BOOK IN THE WORLD. In the great library of the British museum is to be seen the largest book in the world. This is an atlas of beautifully engraved ancient Dutch maps, bound in leather and fastened with clasps of solid silver. It is nearly seven feet high, weighs 300 pounds, and was presented to King Charles I. before leaving Holland in the year 1660.

DRAWBACK TO PROGRESS. (From The Houston Post) One of the chief drawbacks to the progress of civilization in the United States is that there are too many men who think when they have learned to perforate a man's lung with a six-shooter at 20 paces they have acquired a liberal education.

Daniels Admits Supply Is Inadequate for the Navy. Alaskan Coal Stands the Navy's Test

Washington, December 14.—Formal announcement of successful naval tests of coal from government-owned Matanuska fields in Alaska was made today by Secretary Daniels before the naval committee of the house. Trials by the cruiser Maryland about ten days ago, Mr. Daniels said, had shown that the Matanuska coal was as good as any to be found.

The results of this test, over which my officials have been existing quickly nearly two weeks, were particularly gratifying, Mr. Daniels said, because disappointing experiments with coal from the Beving fields a year ago had dimmed hopes that the rich deposits in Alaska ultimately would meet all of the government's demands for fuel on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Daniels spent his fourth and last day before the committee, explaining the needs of the navy in connection with the preparations for the annual appropriation bill and answering questions on every phase of the national defense problem. He told of a proposal for building a half-million ton projectile plant at Philadelphia or Indianhead, Md., admitted that it was no secret in the navy that the supply of shells for the great guns of the battleships was inadequate on the retired pay question.

Captain Winterhalter, the secretary's aid for materials, was questioned about submarines, and had quite an argument with Representative Hobson, of Alabama, over war scares. Captain Winterhalter said he was unable to see international dangers ahead pictured by Mr. Hobson. Then the congressman all of the committee's "scare" last year that put the American garrison in the Philippines in a state of siege.

"In May and for some months of last year," said Mr. Hobson, "our gunners at Corregidor island stood at the ready with plans for a two-year's siege. The harbors were mined. Troops from all over the islands were brought into Corregidor and everything prepared for a siege, except the shells. It was the government's responsibility to see that."

Mr. Hobson did not go into the details as to the cause of the preparation and Captain Winterhalter apparently was not inclined to discuss the subject.

Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, continued his efforts today to get hearings on his proposed commission investigation of the nation's preparedness for war. He addressed letters to Representative Padgett, chairman of the naval committee, and Representative Hay, chairman of the military committee, asking them to summon war and navy department officials, certain retired army and navy officers and former cabinet members. Mr. Padgett declined to summons former officers or officials, saying that the committee preferred to hear the men now in charge of the government's work.

Secretary Roosevelt, of the navy department, and Captain Stirling, commanding the Atlantic submarine fleet, will be heard by the house naval committee tomorrow.

Recommendations by Daniels.

Three recommendations were made by Secretary Daniels at the afternoon session. They were:

Appointment of all second lieutenants in the navy hereafter on the basis of merit, so that those who do not measure up to requirements after appointment may be dropped.

Reduction of the number of naval officers on the basis of their length of naval service and the extent of their disabilities.

Authority for using part of a $40,000 contingent fund to protect the navy's right of and property on land reserves.

The secretary said the navy was trying to put its yards on a business basis with industrial managers, trying the plant at New York, Norfolk and perhaps some other places.

"The Philadelphia navy yard is in excellent shape," he added, "and hasn't as many evils—and other things—connected with it as they have in some of the other yards. We are going to put a construction officer in charge of the Norfolk yard."

Asked as to his policy regarding officers, he said that the navy would accept private employment, Mr. Daniels replied that now and then it was necessary to allow resignations of some indifferent officers, but that it was harder for a first-class, valuable man to resign than for a camel to go through a needle's eye.

Declaring the navy had too many officers ashore, the secretary said, "we should abolish the office of captain of every yard. Every office we can spare should be abolished."

Proposed New Dry Dock.

Representative Lee, of Pennsylvania, brought up the proposed new naval dry dock, suggesting that a view of the site selected at Norfolk, it would be better to build a dock at Philadelphia, "where the bottom is safe and sure."

"The reason I recommended the building of a dry dock at Norfolk," he said, "is because that yard had more docking, more arrivals and departures than any other yard. I recommended the location at Norfolk, it is for congress to determine what

AMUSEMENTS SCORED IN SERMON BY SENTELL

"The Devil in Amusement" was the subject of Rev. William A. Sentell before the Gordon Street Baptist church congregation Sunday night.

In speaking of theaters, cards and the dance, he said: "They are all unclean in association, harmful in influence, evil in their tendency, and destructive of Christian living. No strict moral play can exist on a paying basis. Financial success depends on an appeal to baseness. Moral plays are simply bait. Behind this door lies the great theatrical manager, as saying: 'The theme presented in the theater is an appeal to the baseness of men, is a lust that leads to madness.'"

CRAZED BY RAVAGES OF PELLAGRA, WOMAN TAKES FATAL DOSE

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.) Driven insane by the ravages of the dread disease pellagra and knowing that at best she could live only a few days longer, Mrs. Robert W. Smith, wife of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad employee, had her little daughter purchase strychnine tablets for her and this afternoon she swallowed twenty-two of the tablets, a total of one and a half grains. Her death followed on hour later.

The daughter did not know of her mother's intentions when she bought the poison.

SAYS WIFE CHOKED HIM; NOW HE'S A SINGLE MAN

A charge of extreme militancy, in that she choked him to the verge of death, was made against his wife by A. L. Oden, a cigarmaker, in the divorce hearing in superior court yesterday morning. He was granted a decree, in Judge W. D. Ellis' court. In doing so, however, the jury removed the disabilities of the divorce and awarded her alimony of $15 monthly.

DINING CAR COOKS SCALDED BY SOUP IN S. A. L. WRECK

When a broken rail derailed five cars, including a diner, on Seaboard passenger train No. 6, shortly before noon Monday, near Borden-Wheeler, Ala., three negro cooks in the diner were badly scalded by overturned hot soup in the kitchen of the diner.

Four white passengers, including two white women, were slightly injured, according to reports received in the chief dispatcher's office here of the Seaboard.

A special train was hurried from Atlanta and returned at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, bringing the injured. The injured whites went to their hotels, but the three scalded negroes were sent to the Atlanta hospital.

The wreck was cleared away by last night.

SYSTEMATIC CHARITY PLANNED BY PREACHERS

At the meeting Monday of the Evangelical Ministers' association, action was taken whereby the churches of Atlanta propose to see to it henceforth that no case of need shall exist in this city, if they are able to prevent it. It is merely a case, declares Dr. John E. White, of "the church on its job."

In putting into effect their resolutions, the churches of the city are going to work with the Associated Charities and make of it a central agency to which the relief committee of every church will report.

The following resolutions were passed by the ministers:

To the Citizens of Atlanta The Evangelical Ministers' association rejoices over the commercial success of the relief committee of the city and the relief of the problem of unemployment.

We are sure that the need is very great and that an extraordinary expenditure of effort of all of our citizens. No one should be without the necessities of life. The distribution of gifts will be necessary in very many cases, but the providing of the need of the hour.

We call upon our citizens to do three things:

1. To refrain from discharging men and women from their employments unless it is absolutely necessary so to do.
2. To give as much employment as possible to the laboring through construction and repair work.
3. To provide a maximum of house and yard work, or any form of labor, that will enable men and women to earn an honorable living.

We are convinced that prompt and earnest cooperation of our people along these lines will greatly relieve the present trying condition.

Dunbar H. Ogden, chairman; John E. White, C. B. Wimmer, C. O. Jones, L. O. Smith, and the members of the Evangelical Ministers' Association.

OLD CLOTHES WANTED

The authorities at the Associated Charities remind you that they are always in need of old clothing, such as overcoats, suits and shoes, which they will not use any more, but the association can use to great advantage any articles of this kind.

NEW SMITH NOW CHIEF OF LATTER DAY SAINTS

Independence, Mo., December 14.—Frederick M. Smith, first counselor, today was confirmed temporary president of the reorganized church of Christ of Latter Day Saints, succeeding his father, Joseph Smith, president, who died last week. This ceremony was taken at a meeting of the quorum of the twelve apostles, the highest ruling body in the church, and was in honor of a revelation announced in 1906 by Joseph Smith. A general conference of the church will choose a permanent counselor next April.

The new leader is a grandson of Joseph Smith, who founded the church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He is 38 years old.

SPIRITED CONTEST OVER TIFTON OFFICE

Washington, December 14.—(Special.)—A spirited contest over the position of postmaster at Tifton is being waged by a number of applicants, among them G. L. Blalock, W. H. Farley, C. M. Guest, H. H. Bennett, L. E. Peoples and C. C. Spurlin.

Both Georgia senators have been appealed to by friends of the applicants to control the appointment.

Representative Park has recommended William T. Adkins as postmaster at Edison.

CENSUS FIGURES GIVEN ON EXPORT OF COTTON

Washington, December 14.—Germany in the last four months, received only 1,052 bales of American cotton, 1,000 bales of which were sent last month, as shown today by census bureau statistics. November's total cotton exports were slightly more than one-half as much as November of last year, while the shipments abroad during the last four months showed a decrease of 2,801,000 bales.

Cotton used in the United States during November showed a decrease compared with November, 1913. The quantity of cotton on hand November 30 in independent warehouses was 1,747,000 bales more than at that time last year.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION LOSES IN NEW ZEALAND

Wellington, New Zealand, December 14.—An indication of the defeat of national prohibition is given in a preliminary count of the poll made public here as follows:

The vote in fifty-six licensed districts gives for national prohibition 1,369, for national continuance, 230,697.

In twelve no-license districts the vote for national prohibition was 1,089 and for national continuance, 36,771.

BIG COTTON SHIPMENT FOR A RUSSIAN PORT

Galveston, Texas, December 14.—The British steamship Indrakul sailed today via the Panama canal with 6,500 bales of cotton for Vladivostok and 4,000 bales for Kobe and Yokohama. This is the first shipment of cotton from here for a Russian Pacific port.

Smith Resigns for Hardwick

Washington, December 14.—(Special.) Senator Hoke Smith resigned from the senate committee on postoffices and post roads to permit his colleague, Senator Hardwick, to succeed him. This is a most important committee, and considers all appointments in and other matters affecting the postal service.

Company Answers Complainants Made Of Cold Street Cars

A number of complainants were made to The Constitution yesterday with reference to the street cars not being sufficiently heated.

Representatives of the street car company have issued the following statement:

"Heat fuses were placed in all the cars on November 19, and these are inspected every night, with the result that hardly a single one has been found defective. It is practically impossible to maintain a steady heat in a street car on account of the opening and closing of the doors, the glass windows (glass being a conductor of heat and cold), and the fact that motion which the cars move over long open stretches, making the cold radiate rapidly inward from the glass.

"All the company can hope to do is to have the cars as comfortable as possible. We have placed an electric radiator under every other seat, so that they are well distributed throughout the car. Then, too, it is hard to suit everyone, for whereas one man will be cold another will be too warm in the same car."

BOND ISSUE OF $3,000,000 FOR CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

Washington, December 14.—"Economy" is the watchword of the appropriations committee in the preparation of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, first of the big supply measures, which was reported to the house today. The committee lopped off nearly $2,400,000 from the estimates submitted by the various departments, cutting salary allowances all along the line, and in measure appropriating $38,754,753.60. The bill provides for more than 16,000 salaries of government employees.

The total of the bill is an increase of $1,238,843 over last year's measure. But this year's measure is a special appropriation of $26,100, and authorizes 1,000 additional employees, for taking the agricultural census authorized by the law covering the last regular census in 1910. The committee, in its report, says that this is an extraordinary expenditure, and will come once every ten years, and maintains, therefore, that this year's measure is materially less than the last appropriation.

The bill contains the usual provision cutting down the usual number of members of congress from 20 cents a mile to 5 cents a mile. The fight to reduce the number of members has been on for years, and although the committee each year reports the reduction, it is always defeated in the senate.

The committee cut $182,280 from the estimates of the secretary of commerce for the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, although an increase of $25,000 in this year's appropriation was allowed for promoting commerce with South and Central America.

DEKALB PLANS CORN AND CANNING CLUBS

Plans for the organization of county-wide corn and canning clubs by which DeKalb county can set the pace for the state and the south will be discussed at the regular meeting of the DeKalb County Teachers' association next Saturday morning at the Ingleside school.

Representatives of the government and the Decatur Board of trade will appear before the meeting and present plans for such a campaign, and the will be presided over by Superintendent Carroll, of the DeKalb county schools.

Eugene Clark, the DeKalb county boy who has won two scholarship prizes to the State College of Agriculture, and who exhibited 130.69 bushels at the state corn show, where he won a prize, will be present at the meeting.

HOT FIGHT IS OPENED ON WATERWAYS MEASURE

Washington, December 14.—The fight against river and harbor legislation was begun for this session of congress today when Representative Freer, of Wisconsin, attacked in the House proposed improvements in the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers. He declared the proposed improvements in the Cumberland section of the Tennessee a "scandalous project" and asserted that the purpose of the measure was to improve the navigation in that section of the river for the benefit of the Alabama Light, Power and Water company, which he called the "Alabama power trust."

Representative Freer criticized the army board of engineers for recommending the project and he hit the government in a position of spending the "people's money to aid special privilege."

Freer's attack was met by a reply from Representative Moon, of Tennessee, replying, asserting that the Mussel Shoals improvement was a worthy project, designed to build up water freight routes.

Waycross, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—Two burglaries, one hold-up, a death by fire and an incendiary fire summarizes events in and near Waycross for the past twenty-four hours.

At Millwood, the Atlantic Coast Line station was entered and twenty-six quarts of whisky taken from the Southern Express office.

At Wareboro an unoccupied two-story dwelling belonging to County Tax Collector J. T. Strickland was fired, the loss approximating $5,500.

In Waycross, burglars entered the grocery store of H. S. Prudden, securing a quantity of meat and other supplies. Della Perry, 3-year-old girl, died from burns received while standing before an open fireplace.

BRISBANE IS REMOVED TO PRIVATE HOSPITAL

Upon the arrival of his physician, Dr. R. W. Wylie, from New York, Arthur Brisbane, editorial writer for the Hearst newspapers, who for the past several days has been seriously ill at the Georgian Terrace hotel, was removed last night at 6 o'clock in the Patterson ambulance, to the Davis-Fischer sanitarium, pending an operation. It was reported that an operation for appendicitis would take place this morning. Dr. Wylie stated last night that Mr. Brisbane was improved. Dr. Baxter Moore, of Atlanta, is assisting him with the case.

SIX NEGROES REMOVED TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Fort Smith, Texas, December 14.—after a mob of several hundred men and boys had formed early tonight to lynch six negroes arrested in connection with the killing of Oscar Scroggins, a 17-year-old messenger, it was learned that the men were removed late today from the county jail here to Dallas for safe-keeping. The crowd dispersed.

Scroggins was shot and killed Friday night after he had been lured several miles from Fort Worth under pretext that a sale of his motorcycle could be arranged. According to the police one of the negroes arrested confessed to implication in the killing, and named the others. Scroggins' body was found hidden in a well early today.

Bouts Switched to Thursday

EDITED BY DICK JEMISON.

YANKEES BOUGHT BY JACOB RUPPERT

Price About $450,000—Report Is Current That Hugh Jennings Will Be Ruppert's Choice for Manager.

French Lick, Ind., December 11.—The New York American league club has been sold to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, who has offered to purchase the club for $450,000.

This is the substance of statements here today by Colonel Ruppert and James A. Hunter, president of the Federal league, who conferred regarding the proposed establishment of a Federal league club in New York.

After the conference Colonel Ruppert said: "I already have taken over the Yankees. The price is the only thing that remains to be settled. This probably will be about $450,000."

"I am afraid we were too late," said Mr. Gilmore, "as Colonel Ruppert already has purchased the Yankees and shall return to Chicago and try to find another backer for the New York club. I may interest Pat Hanahan and Mr. Seebach, of Louisville."

Colonel Ruppert said that George Gust and William H. Huston were associated with him in the deal for the New York club. He said Ben Johnson, president of the American league, and Huston would come to French Lick Thursday to complete the deal.

A manager has not been considered, Colonel Ruppert said, but a report was current here tonight that Hugh Jennings is being considered. Jennings is characterized by the report that Connie Mack would pilot the club as absurd.

Contracts to Be Signed.

Chicago, December 14.—The actual signing of the contracts is the only detail needed to complete the sale of the New York American league ball club to Colonel Jacob Ruppert, according to Ben Johnson, president of the league. Johnson said tonight he would go to French Lick this week to attend to the transfer.

Navin to Keep Jennings.

Detroit, Mich., December 14.—President Frank J. Navin, of the Detroit baseball club, tonight said Hugh Jennings would manage the New York Americans next year.

Montgomery May Enter the Ga.-Ala. League

Rome, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—Montgomery, last year in the Southern league, has applied for a franchise in the Georgia-Alabama league. The directors of the league have the application under consideration, and it is probable that Montgomery will be admitted, taking the franchise left vacant by the disbanding of the Gaston team shortly before the end of the season last year.

The transfer of the Southern franchise to Montgomery is the only one left that city without organized baseball. The South Atlantic league, in which franchise was sought, turned down Montgomery's application, and the directors of the Alabama league also took the matter up with the Georgia-Alabama league.

The next meeting of the directors will be held in February at Talladega and informal expressions from the directors of certain other towns indicate that favorable action will be taken.

With the exception of Gaston, all of the towns in the league state that their treasurers are in good condition and they are ready to begin the season on schedule time. The seven cities are Rome, LaGrange, Newnan, Anniston, Talladega, Opelika, and Selma.

Y. M. C. A. Athletes Contest Wednesday

At the Young Men's Christian association Wednesday night another interesting athletic meet will be held in the big gymnasium.

Nearly 100 entries are expected to contest in the seven events, which are as follows: 30-yard low hurdle, Standing hop, step and jump, Rope climb, Bar vault, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash.

Piedmont Wins.

Demorest, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—The young ladies of Piedmont college met the N. G. A. team here last night, defeating the Demorest team by a score of 16 to 12. This was the first game played by either one of the Piedmont teams and was hotly contested from the start.

Colleges of Two Classes Not Debarred From Playing Each Other, Says Randle

Educational institutions belonging to the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association may hereafter meet each other in football, regardless of whether they play freshmen on their varsity eleven, according to a statement issued here last night by Professor W. N. Randle, chairman of the faculty committee on athletics at the Georgia School of Technology.

Professor Randle has just returned from Lexington, Ky., where he attended the annual meeting of the association. He explained, however, that he was present in an unofficial capacity, as the Georgia School of Technology recently withdrew from the organization, and has not yet determined whether it will re-enters.

Respectfully the action of the convention in providing for two divisions of the association, class A not to play freshmen on its football eleven and class B to have that privilege, Professor Randle said:

"The convention did not contemplate prohibiting colleges which decide to play freshmen in football from playing colleges which decide that first-year men may not compete. They can meet each other without restriction—one playing freshmen and the other debarring them. Press reports from Lexington saying that members of the association could play football only with opponents in their class were erroneous."

"No arbitrary division of the association into two classes, as respects the playing or debarring of freshmen on football teams, was made. Institutions will decide for themselves what class they desire to be enrolled in. This decision must be made by July 1, 1915. It cannot then be changed until the football season of 1916, should any college desire to take such action."

"The new amendment to the constitution supersedes the rule that has heretofore been in effect—that association members with an enrollment of more than four hundred students could not play freshmen on their varsity football teams, while institutions with an enrollment below that number had that privilege."

Four Years in Each Branch.

A change also was made in the rule governing the length of time for which a student may participate in collegiate athletics. Professor Randle said: "The provision, as it existed, restricted students to a total athletic period of four years on varsity teams, regardless of whether the individual played four years in any one branch of sport."

Professor Randle said that this rule would be changed at the meeting to provide that a student may engage for four years in each branch of sport, but that the total period of competition for an individual must not extend over more than five years.

New regulations were adopted governing the change of athletes from one college to another. Heretofore students going from one institution to another were compelled to spend a year in attendance at the second institution before they could play on varsity teams.

Heretofore they would have the privilege of playing on varsity teams at the second institution during their first year in attendance, provided they have not been members of a varsity team the previous year at another institution.

Two meetings of the executive committee of the association heretofore were held in July and the other in December. One will be held in July and the other in December at the annual meeting of the association.

The rate of the association has provided that debarred athletes could only be reinstated at the annual meeting of the committee. The new provision will enable action to be taken in such cases twice a year.

There will be no meeting of the association will be held in New Orleans on December 10 and 11, 1915.

The new organization branches are not in favor of the steps taken at the meeting is evident and a new organization will be held one year instead of two. The following dispatch from Memphis, in which a well-known coach, whose name is not given, is quoted, shows the way some of the schools feel.

Memphis, Tenn., December 14.—(Special.)—Following the defeat of the annual amendment and the summer baseball clause of the one-year rule at the annual meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association, a coach of a prominent southern college said here tonight that movement for the formation of a new association was already on foot. This new organization, according to his intentions, would include Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Alabama and possibly one or two other universities to this section.

This new association, it is said, would hold one-year meetings, regardless of year's participation in all athletics, and also that it would be held at all outside of the player's home county. The proposed members of the new association include Vanderbilt, Sewanee, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Alabama and possibly one or two other universities to this section.

The new organization will favor abolition of the clauses and rules forbidding summer baseball playing and exempt all members from the one-year rule, regarding the size of student bodies.

It is also understood that several other institutions are being sought for membership in the new organization. At Lexington it was adopted once the organization is formed. One of the features of the new organization is that it will be a unit entrance requirement and that as they were all with about 30 miles between them, it would be possible to hold a meeting and an undisputed championship to be decided.

HAYES LOSES TO BURNS IN THIRTEENTH ROUND

Referee Stops Fight and Declares Burns Winner—Hayes Never Had a Chance.

New Orleans, La., December 14.—The referee stopped the fight here tonight between Frankie Burns and "Chick" Hayes during the thirteenth round and declared Burns the winner. The fight was scheduled for twenty rounds, and was announced from the ring as for the bantamweight championship.

Hayes did not have a round to his credit, and it was apparent after the second round that he was outclassed in boxing and hitting ability.

Burns began the fight with a rush, playing entirely for the body. He shot left and right hooks into the Indianapolis boy's stomach, and at close quarters kept telling right hooks to the kidney.

This terrific punishment told on Hayes during the third round and in the next two he plainly was feeling the effects of the hard body punching. In the fourth round Burns evidently believed he had Hayes ready for a knockout. He changed his methods then and began fighting for the head.

He rocked Hayes repeatedly with hooks and right crosses to the jaw, which caused the Indianapolis fighter to be badly cut in the early part of the sixth.

During this round Burns seemed to disregard any particular method, and rained blows on head and body. In the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth Hayes sank several times as if beaten down by the many blows, but remained on his feet. When he was staggered about in the last half of the fight, he was stopped.

The promoter staging the fight announced that Burns will be given a belt emblematic of the bantamweight championship.

GIANTS-PHILLIES DEAL CALLED OFF; BOON MAY JUMP

New York, December 14.—The deal between the Giants and the Philadelphia club, involving Doolin, Lobert and Magee and several players under contract to play with New York, has been abandoned, according to Manager John McGraw.

The trade fell through, the Giants' leader said, because the Philadelphia club, while it is likely to be given a deal in which Lobert and Magee were mentioned, it was also stated today that the deal would be necessary to give several players for him.

A week ago Doolin served ten days' jail for a trifle excessive, especially in view of the fact that he was the 1913 baseball team captain of the Philadelphia club. He promised President Baker he would do nothing until the deal was made, but McGraw's contents he is a free agent, at liberty to do as he pleases. It is expected that Doolin will jump to the Baltimore Federals.

GEORGIA TO PLAY IN CHATTANOOGA OCT. 9 OR NOV. 6

Chattanooga, Tenn., December 14.—(Special.)—The University of Georgia eleven will play the University of Chattanooga in a football game, the switching of a few dates which threw everything into confusion.

After considerable negotiations, officials of the two schools finally agreed upon a date contract with the Red and Black eleven for the one "big" game to play at Chattanooga. The game will be played either October 9 or November 6.

Schools making among the S. I. A. colleges, this year has become "all bawled up" and all sorts of changes are to be expected. The occasion is the VANDY IS ARRANGING FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Nashville, Tenn., December 14.—Vanderbilt's football schedule has been partly completed, games having been arranged with Virginia, Auburn and Sewanee. The following schedule of the terms will probably be reached by the end of the week. The remainder of the schedule, North Carolina, Georgia and Wake Forest, will be arranged at a later date.

The following dates have been arranged: Virginia at Charlottesville, October 30; Auburn at Birmingham, November 13; Sewanee at Nashville, November 20.

It is stated that Vandy will be unable to play Tennessee at Knoxville this year, but has agreed to do so in 1916.

WHITE BEATS MURPHY IN THE SECOND ROUND

Kenosha, Wis., December 14.—Charles White, Chicago lightweight, knocked out Jimmy Murphy, also of Chicago, in the second round of a scheduled ten-round exhibition here tonight.

JOHNNY SUMMERS LOSES TO SERGEANT BASHAM

London, December 14.—Johnny Summers, here, lost to Sergeant Basham in the ninth round of a contest at the Royal Albert Hall, London. The featherweight championship of Great Britain.

COOMBS IS MADE FREE AGENT BY MACK

Philadelphia, December 14.—Appreciating the great work of Pitches Coombs, the Philadelphia Athletics, who did not jump to the Reds after waivers were asked on him, Connie Mack has made him a free agent, leaving him to go where he wills.

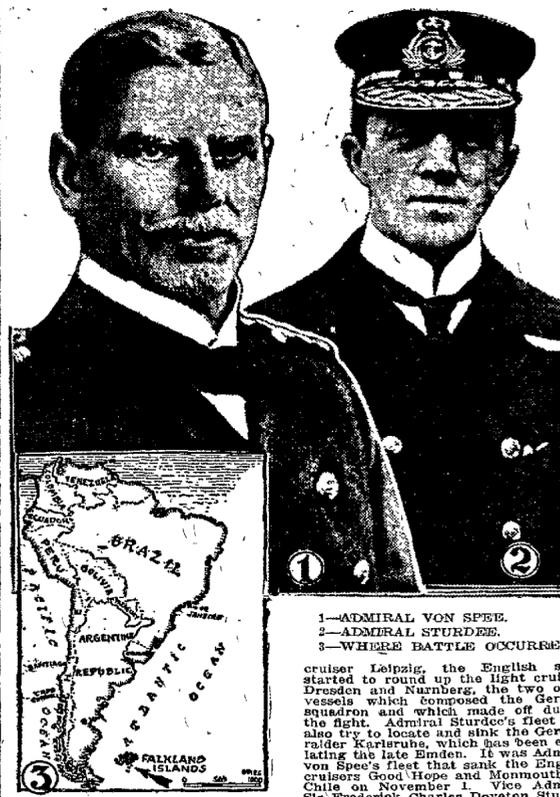

Cornelia Wins.

Cornelia, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—The Cornelia high school team defeated the Demorest team in a basketball game at Demorest Friday night. The game was won by the Cornelia team by a score of 15 to 23. The game was very interesting from start to finish, as neither of the teams led in each half.

Kilbane Outpoints Houck.

Philadelphia, December 14.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, outpointed Willie Houck, of Philadelphia, in a six-round bout here tonight. The champion's ring experience and superior reach enabled him to come out ahead in each round. Kilbane weighed 125 and Houck 123.

THE VICTOR AND THE VANQUISHED

1—ADMIRAL VON SPEE. 2—ADMIRAL STURDEE. 3—WHERE BATTLE OCCURRED.

After the British squadron, in command of Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee, chief of the British war staff, crushed a German squadron under Admiral Count von Spee off the Falkland Islands, in the south Atlantic, and the German navy since 1873.

WINSTON CAPTAINS N. C. A. & M. ELEVEN; WANT TECH GAME

Raleigh, N. C., December 14.—(Special.)—Ralph E. Winston, of Youngsville, N. C., has been elected captain of the N. C. A. & M. football team. Captain Winston is also captain of the 1914 baseball team, has been a varsity man for the past two years, plays tackle, where he has been of great service to the team.

Winston's work behind the bat for the Red and White has been of such a high class that he has been elected captain of the team. He is a terrific batter, his slick work for the past two seasons being for an average of over 450.

Graduate Manager J. W. Harvelson has elected Winston the 1915 football schedule, but it is known that Y. P. L. Georgetown, Washington and the N. C. A. & M. football team will be booked again, the Washington and Lee team to be played in the same date the Generals have had on the A. & M. schedule for the past two years.

The P. I. game will be played in either Roanoke, Norfolk, Richmond or Raleigh, while it is likely that Georgetown will be met here on Riddick field during the state fair. The Naval academy will have to be met in Annapolis.

Just what other colleges will be played is not known at present, but efforts are being made to arrange games with Georgia Tech, University of Georgia and University of Tennessee.

BIRDS WERE PLENTIFUL AT THE FIELD TRIALS

Montgomery, Ala., December 14.—Ideal weather conditions prevailed for the opening day of the annual meet of the Southern Field Trials club here today at Leitchfield, below this city. Eleven couples of birds were flushed during the day. Several of the contestants in the derby stakes were eliminated, leaving the contest for the second flight to the following six dogs, whose handlers are shown.

Miss Dan, handled by Gude, and Pap's Ben, handled by Jones; Katie Diver, handled by Jones; Square Edges, handled by Gude, and Miss Clark, handled by Gude.

At the annual meeting of the Southern Field Trials club the following officers were elected: President, E. L. Rogers; Vice President, E. B. Joseph; Treasurer, John E. Wallace; J. R. Roberts, board of governors; E. S. Roberts, secretary; and J. E. Fracker, secretary.

These officers were re-elected, except Mr. Cheek, who succeeded W. A. Blount, Jr., and Mr. Leon Roberts, who succeeded E. B. Joseph. Mr. Sage, of New York. The others are local men.

Immediately following the election of officers, drawing for the all-age stakes, which begin tomorrow morning, was made with the following results: Commissioner's Harry and Upton Dick; Markham by Jones; Katie Diver, Dark Horse and Lady Mohawk White; Stone by Jones; E. B. Joseph; Bob; Joe Blackburn and Hall's Jack; Belle Alford and Billionaire; Security and No. 1 Johnson; John Fracker and Long's Boy; La Vesita and The Harvester.

Mandot and Callahan Draw.

Memphis, Tenn., December 14.—Frankie Callahan, of Brooklyn, and Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, fought eight rounds to a draw here tonight.

CONVICTS OF ILLINOIS PLAN CHARITABLE WORK

Chicago, December 14.—Convicts in Joliet penitentiary put into operation today a plan to raise a fund for the families of the men serving terms.

The 1,336 inmates agreed to spend their spare time at their craft and turn their product over to an agent through the penitentiary. The money received will go into a general fund for the support of wives and children of the prisoners.

GOVERNMENT SHIPS FOR OCEAN COMMERCE

Washington, December 14.—Legislation authorizing the government to purchase ships for ocean trade, urged by the president in his annual message, will be considered tomorrow by the senate commerce committee. It is a view to reporting a bill as soon as possible after the holidays, so that debate may begin in the senate independent of action in the house.

The committee will take up a measure introduced by Senator Stone, identical with a house bill introduced at the last session by Senator Culliver. The committee has developed in the senate, chiefly among the republican majority, some republicans insist, however, they will have democratic support when the final vote is reached.

In the commerce committee there will be opposition to reporting the bill without public hearings, and administration senators may decide to hold hearings before the final draft is presented. When the committee meets tomorrow a motion will be made to hold open hearings to determine whether there is any shortage of ships to transport American products.

NON-RESIDENT ALIENS MAY RECOVER DAMAGES

Washington, December 14.—Non-resident aliens may recover damages under the admiralty laws of the United States for the negligent killing of those supporting them, according to a decision today by the supreme court. The case is that of Patrick and Bridget McGovern, of Ireland. They had been awarded $100,000 for the death of their son while working in the Reading terminal at Philadelphia, but the court held that the law applied to non-resident aliens could not recover under the admiralty laws.

Banquet for Stallings.

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—Macon is making big plans for the banquet which is to be given at the Hotel Danmore Thursday evening in honor of George Stallings, manager of the Boston Braves, and several former players of the club. Invitations have been sent out to hundreds of baseball men throughout Georgia and numerous responses have been received assuring a big crowd.

The banquet will be given at the Hotel Danmore at the present time and who will attend the banquet are John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants; Christy Mathewson, premier pitcher of the New York Giants; and Bud Fisher, the celebrated cartoonist and creator of "Mutt and Jeff."

A local committee is preparing some songs, based on the recent world's series, and a contest will be held with prizes to be introduced during the course of the banquet. Arrangements are being made to give a dinner to the guests of the Macon Chamber of Commerce.

J. W. Wells Disappears.

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—Local police are making a search for J. W. Wells, of Griswoldville, Jones county, who is reported to have disappeared Monday morning and who has not been seen since.

Wells is a prosperous farmer and has forty bales of cotton in a Macon warehouse Saturday. He drove his wife and child to a local department store. The boy waited for him, but when he did not return the father started out and walked to Griswoldville.

Relatives came to Macon today and instituted the search for the missing man. He has not been back to the home for his wife and child. It is believed that he has been seen in a considerable sum of money in his pocket when he came to Macon.

Snatch Thief Nabbed.

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—With the arrest of Levi Coleman, the thief for his recent escapades, the further reports of purses being snatched from women in different parts of the county will be discontinued. Coleman pleaded guilty to snatching purses from two women and was bonded in $1,000 each. He is also thought to have been implicated in several other cases of snatching purses.

Coleman snatched a purse from Miss Olive Witt, 128 Holt avenue, Saturday night and a couple of nights previous took one away from Miss Lilla Davis, 970 Oglethorpe street.

Etheridge Again in Jail.

Macon, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—J. S. Etheridge, the young Houston town attorney, who was recently acquitted of the charge of murdering Miss Fannie W. Berry, near Perry, is now in the county jail with a charge of cheating and swindling against him. The warrant was taken out by H. C. Holtzworth, of Houston county, for Etheridge has been unable to make bond.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE SON OF BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

Paris, December 14.—Reports reaching here today from Bernie state that a son of the German chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, was captured by the Russians at Pietrkow, Russian Poland, and that he has been captured by the Russians.

COMPOSER SGAMBATI SUMMONED BY DEATH

Rome, December 15.—(Via London, 2:10 a. m.)—Giovanni Sgambati, the composer, died last night.

Giovanni Sgambati was born at Rome in 1843. With his colleague Pavesi, he founded the music school attached to the academia di St. Cecilia, and in 1880 also founded the Conservatorio Musicale Romano. He was considered one of the most notable modern Italian composers.

BURGLARS IN STORE Routed by Officers

Two Thieves Make Their Escape, But One Negro Is Under Arrest.

Patrolmen, despite the cold, were wide-awake on their jobs last night and as a result a gang of notorious negro burglars were routed in the act of robbing the L. W. Rogers grocery store, at 411 Edgewood avenue.

The three robbers had obtained entrance to the Rogers store by climbing up a 12-foot ladder to a glass ventilator on the side of the building, and cutting out the glass.

When flushed by Patrolmen Roberts and McCollum they were in the act of pillaging the cash register, which they had broken open.

Patrolman Roberts entering a side door, opened fire on them. The negroes, one after another, dived through the large glass front door, smashing it to fragments.

Patrolman McCollum was waiting in front for the rush, and collared two of the blacks as they leaped for their escape. The negroes broke from his grasp and ran in all directions. McCollum proved a better runner than one of the burglars, whom he chased up a dark alley, and knocked down with the butt of his revolver, after a lively fight. The other two thieves made good their escape. The alleged burglar gave his name as Willie Coleman, of No. 6 West Lyons avenue.

AFTER THE DEATH OF ITS MOTHER BABY WAS BORN

New York, December 14.—For the second time in the medical annals of this city, it is said, a baby was born today after the death of the mother. The woman collapsed in front of a hospital and was taken into the institution unconscious. She died in ten minutes as the result of dilation of the heart.

A Caesarian operation consumed 15 minutes. The baby was dipped alternately in hot and cold water and massaged for 12 minutes before it showed signs of life. After that the infant responded to treatment and in a short time was out of danger. The child was normal and weighed 7 pounds.

BRITISH SHIP BOUGHT BY SAVANNAH PARTIES

Savannah, Ga., December 14.—The British steamer Harleif has been purchased by George F. Armstrong, George E. Walker and Robert W. Groves, members of the shipping firm of Strachan & Co., and a deal is pending for the purchase of the British steamer Harleif by the same parties. The Harleif and the Harley have been owned for some time by the Union Sulphur company. They will be given American registry, and will be the nucleus of a new steamship line for the transportation of freight between this and other American ports and Europe. Organization of the company that will operate the line will follow closely on the completion of the deal for the Harleif, which is expected to be put through in the next few days. The Harleif is to be renamed the Georgian.

KITCHENER WENT TO FRONT WITH KING

EARL KITCHENER.

Earl Kitchener, Great Britain's war hero, joined King George and King Albert of the Belgians at the front with the British troops. The two kings and Earl Kitchener conferred with General Joffre and General French. It is reported that Kitchener's new army of 1,250,000 has reached the American consular representatives in Switzerland and England were roasted yesterday by Harry Cyphers, manager for Schutz-Curtius & Powell, concert directors, who look after the interests of Melba and a number of other grand opera stars. He declared Americans were not properly cared for when the war started in Europe. He says that the consuls might have been far more zealous in their efforts to aid tourists to leave Europe.

AMERICAN CONSULS IN EUROPE ROASTED BY OPERA MANAGER

Mr. Cyphers is an American, but spends most of his time with the London branch of his company. Since England will stage very little grand opera next year on account of war conditions, he is in America endeavoring to transfer the engagements of his stars to this country. He is now a guest at the Hotel Ansley in Atlanta.

"There will be little grand opera in London next year, as most of the wealthy families even here in mourning and likely not to attend," he said. "Most of the artists are already in America. Caruso, cups, jewels and fine furniture were left in her flat in Paris. She wired instructions to have her furniture sent to London, but as practically the only men in Paris not in service have only one arm or one leg, the furniture has not been moved."

"Fritz Kreisler, who was wounded at the front and discharged from the Austrian army is now in America. Kreisler, the most advertised violinist, perhaps in the world, is isolated in Bohemia somewhere. Dink Gilly is a prisoner of war in London."

KENTUCKY SHERIFF TAKES SON TO BAR FOR MURDER TRIAL

Lansing, Mich., December 14.—Sheriff J. S. Eggers, of Greenup, Ky., left here tonight with his 17-year-old son Ernest, wanted in Kentucky to face trial on a charge of murder. Father and son appeared before Governor Ferris late today and waived hearing on extradition.

"It's pretty hard on a father to take his own son back to prison to await trial for murder, but the law is the law," declared Sheriff Eggers. "Irons are unnecessary; my son will return without trouble."

MEN APPRECIATE PRACTICAL GIFTS

It is easy to please a man with a Christmas gift of real quality and actual usefulness. A $1.50 tie, for instance, will arouse pleasant memories of the giver for months afterward. We have some beautiful ties at all prices, from 50c up, that we deliver in attractive Yuletide boxes.

Also in appropriate boxes: handkerchiefs, gloves, combination sets, hosiery, mufflers, etc., etc.

It's a real pleasure to help perplexed ladies settle on a choice of gifts for each gentleman on her list—and it's easy to do, for our stock was bought with just that idea in mind.
