

RUSS FORCES AGAIN MASTER AUSTRIANS AND CHECK GERMAN MARCH ON WARSAW

Defeat of Francis Joseph's Troops Reported Almost as Severe as That Suffered at Hands of Servians.

FRENCH AND GERMANS BOTH CLAIM ADVANCE IN WESTERN STRUGGLE

Steinbach, in Upper Alsace, Invested by French—Heavy Fighting Occurring in Argonne and on Heights of Meuse.

London, December 29.—There has been a slackening of the fighting in northern Poland between the lower Vistula and Pilica rivers, where the Russians have captured some German trenches and guns...

In southern Poland the Russians also record some successes, while in Galicia they apparently have inflicted a defeat on the Austrians almost as serious as that which Emperor Francis Joseph's troops suffered in Serbia.

CAPTURE OF VILLAGE CLAIMED BY FRENCH

Of the fighting in the west the French and German reports are in direct conflict. The French claim to have occupied the village of St. Georges, which is on the main road between Neuport and Bruges and two miles from the former town.

Heavy fighting is taking place in the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse. The French report apparently refers to later events than those recorded in Berlin, for Paris tells of the capture of a trench, which the German communication mentions as having been captured by the Germans.

AUSTRIAN REVERSES ADMITTED IN BERLIN

Berlin, December 29.—(By Wireless to 'Sayville')—Items given out today by the German official press bureau include the following:

"The Russians have strengthened their forces opposing the Austrians in Galicia and the latter, it is understood, are now capturing the Germans. This will require some time. Local military reports claim that Russia's occupation of the line of Krasno-Jaslo is no real gain for the Russians, but that it is weakening their position. This view, however, is considered too optimistic and the fact must be faced that the extreme left wing of the Russians is moving itself superior to its opponents.

"News of importance is likely to come from the Vosges district at any time, as the French have assembled strong forces all along the line of Bel-fort-Epinal-Toul-Nancy. They still hold all the Vosges passes and appear to be developing new activity along an extended line against Alsace and Sundgau.

"Major Morant, military expert of the Tageblatt, in an article discussing the English reconnaissance at Cuxhaven, declares it would be extremely difficult to winter to land troops on the Holstein or North Hanover coasts, but that even if it were done, the invaders would get a warm welcome.

"The German government will permit private traffic on the Belgian railway. It has been recognized that the crux of the difficulties in the way of commerce between the United States and other American nations lay in the question of credits. South and central American buyers have been accustomed to seek and easily obtain long-term credits in Europe.

GERMANS FALL BACK ALONG BZURA RIVER

Petrograd, December 29.—The following statement received from the Russian general headquarters, was issued this evening:

"Today between the lower Vistula and the Pilica only fighting of small importance took place. The Germans left their trenches on the right bank of the Bzura near the village of Mistrzevica and fell back on the left bank of the river. Our heavy ar-

HUSBAND ACCUSED BY MRS. HOPKINS

Wife Mentions Names of a Number of Women in Divorce Papers Just Filed in New York.

New York, December 29.—(Special.) In the belief that Dr. John R. Hopkins, of Atlanta, one of the wealthiest men in the south, has been unduly intimate with a number of women, Mrs. McKie Bennett Hopkins filed the complaint in her action for a divorce in the supreme court today.

Dr. Hopkins is owner of a large patent medicine business in Atlanta. It is said that while he will not oppose a divorce, he will object to paying large alimony to his wife. Justice Hendrick appointed William C. Arnold, of 165 Broadway, to take testimony in the action and to file a report.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins were married at New York City in 1891. She is residing in this city, and lived here, according to the complaint, since January of this year, when she alleged her husband guilty of misconduct. The complaint asserts that Dr. Hopkins was frequently intoxicated and became so cruel to his wife that she was forced to flee his home.

WOMEN WHO DEMAND NEW STYLES BLAMED FOR LACK OF WORK

Philadelphia, December 29.—American women who demand new styles of clothes each recurring season are largely responsible for conditions which have thrown thousands of workmen out of employment, according to Miss Juliet Stuart Poyntz, of Boston, in an address today before the national conference on the unemployed.

"Miss Poyntz declared that expense on the part of women who refuse to wear last year's clothes has had a quieting influence on the industry of the industrial world as the way. Manufacturers cannot provide steady employment for their people, she said, unless they know what to make until the last minute.

AMERICAN BANKERS AS GUESTS OF U. S.

Washington, December 29.—The United States has invited all leading and South American nations to send their ministers of finance and central bankers to Washington for a conference with treasury department officials and financiers of this country on financial and commercial problems confronting the two Americas as a result of the European war.

Invitations were sent formally through the embassies and legations here. The plan originated with Secretary McAdoo, but Secretary Bryan and President Wilson have taken an active interest in it. It has been suggested that congress be asked for an appropriation to defray expenses, but whether or not this is done the visitors will come as the guests of the United States.

When the war broke out, South America suffered a severe shock to her international business system. Recently one of the largest North American banks established branches in Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires with the approval of the federal reserve board.

Others are expected to follow. Nevertheless there has been no great stimulus to trade and no well-defined

Wife Threatened to Poison His Meals

The pretty young wife of Dr. Samuel L. Whitmore is being sued for divorce. She is accused of threatening to poison his meals, and of breaking a costly candelabra over his skull.

A further allegation is that she discontinued the chiropractic sanatorium operated in Asheville by Dr. Whitmore by beligerently asserting her disapproval of patients and attaches whom she disliked. She is accused of extravagance in dress and mode of living.

Mrs. Whitmore, for the past several months, is said in the petition to have deserted Dr. Whitmore and returned to her home in Milford, Texas, where she owns extensive cattle lands. Dr. Whitmore avers that he has heard no word from her since her abrupt departure, except news that was communicated through relatives to the effect that "she did not love him—never did—but loved another—and always would."

American Protest to England Causes Great Furor in London and Creates Fear of Friction

Regarded by English People as One of Most Important Occurrences of War and Biggest Sensation Since Cleveland's Venezuelan Message.

PRESIDENT URGES HONEST SHIPMENTS

Appeals to Americans Not to Complicate Problem by Hiding Contraband Articles in Non-Contraband Cargoes.

Washington, December 29.—President Wilson today appealed to American shippers of non-contraband not to permit contraband articles to be mixed with their cargoes. He said the United States could deal confidently with the problem of British detention of American ships only if supported by honest manifests.

The president's statement followed a discussion with his cabinet of the general shipping situation and of the protest sent yesterday to Great Britain against prolonged detention of American cargoes and other interference with American trade.

Publication of a synopsis of the note aroused great interest in official circles. Many foreign diplomats made formal inquiry at the state department and were promised a memorandum on the subject. In some quarters it was said steps probably would be taken by other leading nations of this hemisphere as well as European neutrals in support of the American viewpoint.

The president's comment on the situation declared that the Washington government had spoken firmly of its desire for improvement in the conditions of neutral commerce and was prepared to further insist on its rights. The president declared that the point of view adopted by the United States in its note was hardly debatable as England had adhered to it in previous wars.

During the cabinet meeting it was suggested that shippers should be warned against shipment of doubtful articles in non-contraband cargoes. The white house then issued its suggestion regarding manifests. The president said the great embarrassment to the government in dealing with the whole matter was that some shippers had concealed contraband under cargo of cotton or other non-contraband. So long as there were instances of that kind, the president added, suspicion was cast on every shipment.

State department officials said later that there were two cases in which this had occurred and that Great Britain had used them as a basis for general searches of all cargo of other non-contraband. So long as there were instances of that kind, the president added, suspicion was cast on every shipment.

The Morning Post says: "The editorial deals throughout with unshaken faith in our sense of justice. That trust we shall assuredly do our best to preserve. It is quite inconceivable that two sensible peoples should be at loggerheads with each other should not succeed in devising a modus vivendi in accordance with the general principles of international law which will at the same time meet the peculiar facts and circumstances of this unprecedented war."

The editorial says the examination of suspected cargoes always has been a sore point with neutrals during wars and continues:

"We shall not attempt to discuss the American complaints until the text of the note is available, but we will ask those Americans who think that England is in the right to take part in the war to try to put themselves in England's position. Without securing command of the sea England cannot help her allies, and the United States cannot secure herself against invasion. How, then, do our American friends suppose command of the sea should be used as a pretext for certain practices which are an enemy? It was used by the United States government as a means of exerting pressure on the confederacy. The whole coast of the confederacy from Florida to the Mexican gulf was blockaded and every neutral ship traded

Paul Rockwell Describes War As He Lies in Hospital

Paul Rockwell, former newspaper man of Atlanta, who went to France and joined the French foreign legion at the outbreak of the war, has had his first taste of real fighting and is now sick in a hospital, according to a postcard received from him in Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. Rockwell is originally from Asheville, N. C. His brother, Kiffin Rockwell, is with him in France, and is well. Kiffin Rockwell is now in the trenches, near Craonne.

The last time the Rockwell boys were heard from in Atlanta was some months ago, when they were at a training camp at Toulon, near the Spanish frontier. The message at that time indicated that they were having an easy time of it, having plenty to eat, the mellow wine of southern France to drink and dark-eyed damsels to help them while away the hours. That message stated that they were about to leave for the battle front. The present card, which follows, is a continuation of that story.

Here is the card: "December 7.—We have been seeing quite a bit of the war. Left Toulon September 30. First were at Camp de Mailly, near Chalons, for two weeks. Then made a four days' march along

COMMENT ON PROTEST BY PRESS OF ENGLAND

Say Good Will in Note Should Be Met With Like Spirit.

London, December 30.—(1330 a. m.)—The morning newspapers comment at length on the American government's note to Great Britain concerning treatment accorded American commerce by the British fleet, and agree that the American protest should be met by the British government in the spirit of friendly good will shown by the note.

Generally, however, the newspapers are inclined to reword the actual text of the note before indulging in detailed criticism.

In the meantime they point out, however, serious difficulties arise whenever questions of neutrality are involved. Moreover they dispute the theory that Great Britain alone is responsible for the dislocation of the world's trade, arguing that, even had she remained neutral, the fact that a number of old nations were involved must have had a detrimental effect on the world's commerce. In any case, they say, Great Britain was not responsible for the war. The Times says:

"The note is dated December 24, and, although the idea may seem fanciful, we cannot help imagining that it was by no accident that the eve of the great festival of peace and good will was chosen for the dispatch of this friendly communication from one of the great branches of the English-speaking communities to the other.

"If anything in the telegraphic summary of the note as received here should seem peremptory we feel assured that this appearance is entirely due to the necessities of compression and will vanish when the text of the document is before us. We fully realize that the necessities of the war make the conduct of the war must occasion to America and other neutrals. We also are confident that when the note is published we shall find that the president Wilson and his colleagues are not insensible to the imperious requirements of our military situation.

"We do not suppose this is a dispute over a right as between neutrals and neutrals as is manifestly necessary for the protection of our national safety. What they do question is whether it is whether the action of our ships does not in some cases exceed that manifestly necessary.

"Daring there are many peculiar conditions arising from the war, which justify Great Britain's policy, the editorial continues:

"The editorial deals throughout with unshaken faith in our sense of justice. That trust we shall assuredly do our best to preserve. It is quite inconceivable that two sensible peoples should be at loggerheads with each other should not succeed in devising a modus vivendi in accordance with the general principles of international law which will at the same time meet the peculiar facts and circumstances of this unprecedented war."

London Papers Say Government Should Consider Note in Spirit of Friendly Good Will—Declare England Is Not Alone Responsible for Disturbing Trade.

London, December 29.—The American note protesting against the British treatment of American commerce and insisting on an early improvement came as a complete surprise to the British public, as there had been virtually no intimation that any friction had arisen between the two governments.

Placards posted by the evening papers were given over exclusively to the American note and the papers gave it the largest headlines they have given any news during the past month. Consequently the British people regard this as one of the most important occurrences of the whole war.

Nothing of the kind since President Cleveland's Venezuelan message has produced such a sensation. The first impression of the public is that the note may create friction, and perhaps some unfriendly feeling, although the newspapers point out that it specifically states that the representations were made in a friendly spirit. The situation is comparable to that which arose at the time of the South African war, when neutral shippers began to send cargoes intended for the Transvaal republic to the neutral port of Delagoa Bay.

WAR NEWS RELEGATED TO SECONDARY PLACE. Even the war news was allotted a secondary place to the note in the news columns of the papers, although that coming from the Russian front was highly gratifying to the allies.

The Washington note had not reached the foreign office late today, but it could not have been dealt with had it arrived, as Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, who has been away for the Christmas holidays, will not return until tomorrow.

The foreign office, however, has constantly reiterated its regret at the delay in American ships, and high officials have expressed a desire to expedite examination of American cargoes as much as possible under the existing trying conditions.

Statements that the delaying of cargoes by the British authorities is held responsible for a certain depression in American trade have created some surprise. Officials expressed the opinion today that Americans holding such views must fail to take into consideration the sweeping effect upon American commerce of the disappearance of German merchant ships from the sea, as well as other effects of the war beyond the control of Great Britain and her allies.

CONTRABAND HIDDEN IN OTHER ARTICLES. It is believed generally in London that the foreign office will make a detailed statement as to the activities of the navy in detaining suspected cargoes which will put these contraband troubles in a different light. The for-

$914,000 NEEDED FOR THE SCHOOLS

Education Board Will Ask Council for Sufficient Funds to Properly Care for the System.

Appropriations amounting to $914,000 for school purposes are asked for in the budget which was submitted by School Superintendent W. M. Slaton to the finance committee of the education board Tuesday afternoon.

The budget exceeds by more than $200,000 the appropriations asked for in 1914, and includes $125,000 for new school buildings, exclusive of the proposed $1,000,000 bond issue, $40,000 for standardizing teachers' salaries, $20,000 for additional rents and $15,000 for miscellaneous needs and labor.

The original budget prepared by Secretary Landrum amounted to a total of $755,787.05, but Major R. J. Guinn raised the point that the board should be given greater powers in the administration of the affairs of the school system, particularly in the expenditure of funds for needed improvements, and supplemented various items which brought the budget total up to $914,000.

President Guinn said that the board should not be required by the finance committee of council to specify in a detailed manner the method in which school funds should be expended.

The school board should be trusted by council to do what is right with the moneys appropriated to its care, said President Guinn, and should not be forced to finance the finance committee and council its exact plans as to the sections where the new schools are to be built and the cost of each.

In pleading for more money for salaries of teachers and in the administration of the schools, President Guinn said that the board should have $20,000 to readjust salaries. Except to state that the teachers' salaries should be adjusted, President Guinn did not specify which salaries in the administrative department should be increased, but it is understood that the board wants the salary of the superintendent increased.

Some of the main items of this total in round numbers are as follows: Administrative, $38,500; Teachers' roll, $575,500; Operating expenses, rents, etc., $67,000; Repairs, etc., $14,250; Miscellaneous, $53,500.

The board also has the annual report of Superintendent Slaton dealing with the administration of the schools during the year 1914. The report was filed, and the various recommendations, which are given in detail in another part of this paper, were referred to committees for discussion and report.

When these committees report, the recommendations made will be submitted to council. In his report, Superintendent Slaton highly commends the mayor, council and members of the board of education for the assistance given in the school during the year, and also thanked the press for support which had the effect of bringing about needed reforms.

He notes that the opening of school in West End has been a success, and says that the surveys made of the school system from time to time have been very beneficial. He calls attention to the fact that 25,625 children are attending the public schools of the city, 19,008 being whites and 6,627 negroes.

Superintendent Slaton laments the fact that there are more than 1,511 white children of school age who are not reached. He urges new schools to take care of the increase in attendance in September and urges new high schools for boys and girls.

WILSON BACKS PASSAGE OF BILLS THIS SESSION

Thinks His Program Will Be Passed Without Extra Session.

Washington, December 29.—President Wilson expects his legislative program, the shipping, Philippine, conservation and appropriation bills to be passed at the present session of congress, and without an extra session.

The president said he expected the income of the government to exceed expenditures during the fiscal year. He said he was taking no personal part in the fight over the immigration bill in the senate, but added it was well known that he was opposed to the literacy test.

were treated, and during eleven months of 1914, 23,394 patients were treated. That the average daily costs of patients to the hospital during 1913 of $1.86 had been reduced during 1914 to $1.67.

That $15,085 was turned into the treasury of the city during 1913, and that so far this year $13,108 had been turned in.

That during 1914 the average number of patients confined to beds in the hospital had been 217, against 157 for 1913 (exceeding for this year by 32 the normal bed capacity of the hospital, which is 185 beds).

Nowell, of the Sixth ward, recently selected to succeed the late Charles Northen, and Dr. Vincent, of the Fifth ward, succeeding Dr. Weaver, were present for the first time at the hospital session. The session was presided over by Judge Candler, who is the representative of city council on the board of trustees.

LONG-LEGAL BATTLE IN LEO FRANK CASE

Both Sides Prepare for Hard Fight Before the Supreme Court.

MAY USE SIOUX CITY CASE. News from St. Louis, Mo., is to the effect that attorneys for Leo Frank have obtained information in that city which they will use in their fight in the United States supreme court.

News from Washington is to the effect that formal steps in the granting of an appeal to the supreme court for Leo Frank were delayed yesterday, pending the submission to Justice Lamar of properly drafted papers by the convicted man's lawyers.

The signing of these papers constitutes only a formality, and will not take much additional time. Preparation has already begun for the hardest-fought legal battle yet in the Frank case.

Mr. Dwyer was out of the city attending to private business in Rome yesterday. He and Attorney Grice will likely proceed to Washington within the next week or so—just as soon as O. C. Purdy, clerk of the United States district court, certifies to the record of the Frank habeas corpus proceedings and forwards it to the United States court in Washington.

The first move of the state will be to have the case advanced on the supreme court docket, so that it will be argued before the next conference. Otherwise, if put on the regular calendar, it will not likely be heard for eighteen months or more.

It is a prevalent opinion that if the supreme court renders a verdict in favor of Frank, he will be turned from the state to the federal government, which would mean that the case, however, the supreme court's decision would only reverse the judgment of Judge W. T. Newman and send the case back to him for a new hearing.

GREAT SHIPPING LOSSES RESULT FROM THE WAR. Stockholm, Sweden. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Total losses to Scandinavian shipping which have been reported are as follows up to mid-December.

Sweden, eight ships and sixty lives; Denmark, six ships and six lives; Norway, five vessels and six lives. To that total must also be added Holland with the new vessel, the Dutch States, which was sunk in the North Sea. The total financial loss for the twenty-two ships and their cargoes will reach nearly ten million dollars.

London.—During the first four months of the war fifty-four British foreign-going ships, valued at $11,400,000, with cargoes worth $80,000,000 were destroyed by the enemy. These are the official figures reported by the London War Risks Insurance association.

According to these figures the losses for the government at the beginning of the war were 0.72 per cent for vessels and 1.24 per cent for cargoes. That shows a snug margin of profit for underwriters.

SHOT AT SWEETHEART BUT KILLED YOUNG GIRL

Millville, N. J., December 29.—Mystery surrounding the killing of Beatrice Bailey, six years old, who was hit by a bullet that crashed through a window of her grandmother's home, was cleared today when George Hann, 29 years old, was arrested and confessed, according to the police, that he had accidentally shot the child while trying to kill his sweetheart.

The child was seated at the supper table with other members of the family when the bullet struck her down. There was no clue until a young woman member of the family told the police that Hann had been jealous of her. Hann was found at his home, and after he had told the child's death he confessed, the police said, that he had fired at his sweetheart.

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU IS ADVOCATED

Also Proposed That Labor Unions Should Cease to Draw Sharp Lines.

Philadelphia, December 29.—Many suggestions for solving the unemployed problem were offered at today's sessions of the national conference on unemployment. One was that the labor union should be organized and directed by a national employment bureau, with branches in every important city.

John B. Andrews, of New York, secretary of the association, outlined the plan for organizing the labor market under a new branch of the federal department of labor, with headquarters at Washington. The first step toward a solution of the unemployment problem, he said, was the establishment of a network of organized labor exchanges. These exchanges he would have located in every state and every important city in the country.

Frank O'Hara, of the Catholic University of America, declared it was the duty of those charged with the expenditure of public money for labor to study the conditions of the labor market. "Even where the cost of executing public work is slightly higher in industry's dull season," he said, "it would be found that in the end it is true economy to furnish them with intermittent duties of charity."

WILSON NOT TO ALTER STAND ON JONES BILL

Recent Disturbances in Philippines Not Considered of Much Importance.

Washington, December 29.—Neither President Wilson nor congressional leaders consider recent disturbances in the Philippines of sufficient importance to influence action on the pending Jones bill extending the Philippines a greater measure of self-government and hearings on the measure to be resumed tomorrow by the senate. Philippine committee will be hastened with a view to a favorable report by the middle of January.

The committee will look into last week's disorders as far as official reports will permit, but it is understood to be satisfied that the uprising was of only minor significance.

Manuel Quizon, the Philippine resident commissioner, in an address in the house today said the disturbance could in no sense be considered a revolution.

"There is not the least provocation for a revolution in the islands," said Mr. Quizon, "and the Filipinos today would defend the United States if the American troops were removed. As if news of the European war were not sensational enough, recent cables from Manila have put to a severe test the nerves of the people in this area in our country. Some reports gave such a detailed account of the supposed uprising that the senate committee was led to believe that it began to doubt whether there was not some slight foundation, therefore, although I had no doubt that the disturbance there was not the slightest foundation for the statement."

Chairman Hitchcock, of the senate Philippine committee, said emphatically that the disorders would not be permitted to impede progress of the Jones bill. Some amendments may be made to the house bill, but these will have no bearing on recent developments.

Fillingim-Cochran.

One of the prettiest of the mid-winter weddings was that of Miss Veazy Fillingim and Mr. William Daniel Cochran, of Newton, N. C., which took place last night at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. O. Haradge, on Forrest avenue.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room, the bride entering with her uncle, Mr. McWhorter Milner. Miss Julia May Fillingim has a sister, Miss Edith Fillingim, of Greensboro, and Miss Glennie Watkins, of College Park, were bridesmaids, and the ribbon-bearers were the bride's sisters, Misses Lila and Virginia Fillingim, and her cousins, Misses Louis and Max Haradge. Mr. W. S. Cox, president of Cox college, was best man, and Dr. C. Lewis Fowler, also of Cox college, performed the ceremony.

The wedding music was appropriate and beautiful, including a bridal song composed by Mr. George P. Lindner and sung by Mrs. Grace Brown Townsend. Mr. Lindner played the violin obligato and Miss Eugenia Camak the piano accompaniment.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white embroidered crepe de chine, its train of fine white lace embroidered in iridescents. Her tulle veil was adjusted with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of bride roses.

The bridesmaids wore dainty pink crepe gowns, made with short waists, and the skirts ruffled their whole length with lace. Their bouquets were pink roses. The ribbon-bearers, also gowned in pink, stretched ropes of pink tulle and snailax to form an aisle for the entrance of the wedding party. Mrs. Haradge was gowned in black lace.

The bride's mother, Mrs. James T. Fillingim, wore black crepe de chine combined with satin. Mrs. Mary Milner, the grandmother of the bride, wore black brocaded crepe de chine. Mrs. Julia Fillingim wore green chiffon trimmed in silver.

The house had tasteful decoration in palms and white flowers, including narcissi, and a buffet table in the dining room was picturesque in pink and white, the centerpiece a large pink azalea, each bloom tied with a butterfly bow of pink tulle.

One hundred guests were entertained at a fitting reception. Mr. and Mrs. Cochran, after their wedding trip, will make their home in Newton, where Mr. Cochran is successfully engaged in business. # Mary Quit School

Yes, Mary is hunting work--her father was laid off at the mill last month, and can't find another job.

Why did he lose out? Because the Mill is running only half time.

WHY?

Because we are thoughtless--we buy things with foreign labels when we could get better goods made right here at home, and keep our factories and mills running night and day and our laboring people happy and contented in the thought that they are earning a decent living.

It is time we Georgians were pulling together to keep our money in Georgia and helping ourselves by helping our neighbors.

PICKARD-KARSTEN WEDDING IN MACON

Bride's Sister at One Time Engaged to the Bridegroom's Brother.

Macon, Ga., December 29.—(Special.) Miss Elizabeth Belle Pickard, daughter of President W. L. Pickard, of Mercer university, and Mrs. Pickard, was united in marriage here tonight to Mr. Paul Daggett Karsten, the wedding being one of the principal society events of the Christmas season in Macon.

Peculiar interest attaches to this marriage by reason of the fact that Miss Pickard's sister, now Mrs. Levrette R. Harrison, of New York, was engaged to be married to Mr. Karsten's brother several months ago, but while the latter was on his way across the Atlantic to claim his intended bride, she eloped with Mr. Harrison. The younger sister had come to Savannah to attend the wedding of his brother, and while there, a guest at the Pickard home, fell in love with Miss Elizabeth Pickard and they were soon engaged, their wedding here tonight being the culmination.

Mrs. Harrison was matron of honor at her sister's wedding tonight. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Pickard, father of the bride, at the First Baptist church, after which a reception and luncheon were given at the Hotel Denney.

Mrs. Karsten is the youngest daughter of President and Mrs. Pickard. From her childhood she has had every advantage of fine books and travel and of a cultured and refined education. She has been widely popular in the younger set of Georgia, especially in Savannah, Macon and Atlanta.

Prof. Gustav Karsten, for years affiliated with the University of Chicago and Cornell. His maternal grandfather was president of Yale and his father, Dr. Karsten, of the University of Michigan. He has recently come to Macon and is connected with a local bank. There were many out-of-town guests at the wedding tonight.

Feminist Colony Would Help Atlanta, Believes New Yorker

A manfully clad young woman, who would organize a feminist colony in Atlanta, like the famous Greenwich village of New York, set in the lobby of the Ansley hotel last night and told a reporter for The Constitution why she temporarily adopted this unusual attire.

She is Miss Regina Lustgarten, erstwhile girl detective, lawyer, process server and ardent feminist advocate of New York, who is visiting her relative, State Fire Inspector W. F. Durkin, at that time she had earned her way in college by doing secret service and investigating work for a big New York law firm.

She likes this city so well she would like to make her home here. And, speaking of Atlanta, she says one of the first things she would do if she ever became located here would be to start a feminist colony. New York is, perhaps, the only city on the globe with such a community.

She would gather together all the progressive dressmakers, artists, writers, painters, lecturers, business women, suffragettes (providing they weren't militantly extreme) and every class of first and professional women, wise the men who believed in women being professionals. They would band together in this community, according to her idea, and help one another.

She is stopping at the Ansley, and expects to spend a week or more in the city.

WILL NOT CHANGE FOOTBALL RULES

This Is Indicated at Meeting in Chicago at Ninth Annual Convention of the C. A. A.

Chicago, December 29.—There is little likelihood of any important change in the football rules for next season, according to indications today at the ninth annual convention of the Chicago Athletic Association. The football committee's report, presented by Dr. H. L. The recommendation of the committee that it be discharged from the work of the committee is being considered by the executive committee. The committee is empowered to consider extending the work of the committee to include deaths from all forms of sports, so that a definite defense might be made against the charge that football is a brutal sport. The convention decided to publish a book of regulations for swimming and football fatalities for swimming.

WAR WILL BE COSTLY TO SOUTH GEORGIANS

Haden Discusses Results of Placing Resinous Products on Contraband List.

Should Great Britain's action in placing resinous products and turpentine in the list of absolute contraband of war be maintained, the result will be disastrous to the resinous products of Georgia and, in fact, of all Georgia, according to Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

South Georgia, a point which is greatly interested in the production of turpentine and rosin, or naval stores. The latest census figures show that $52,823,000 worth of turpentine and rosin were produced in a single year, at a value of $3,566,965, and 994,103 barrels of rosin, valued at $3,371,676. It is the dominant industry in at least fifteen or sixteen counties. Should the embargo of England be maintained, Mr. Haden says, the small merchant of this district would also be involved in the ruin. Practically all of Georgia's crop of naval stores, as well as that of the rest of the south, is exported to Europe," he says, "the largest consumers being Great Britain, Germany and Belgium. South Georgia exports to Great Britain of rosin and 25,576 casks of spirits of turpentine, is one of the most important naval stores ports in the world. It is the largest and most important exporter of naval stores."

The bankers seek to hold the railroad liable for $2,445,000. The review is sought because of the amount involved on the claim that the credit abroad of American bills of lading is at stake.
