The Great White Sale

With Thousands of Dainty Garments Starts This Morning

The Great White Sale is now ready, its success for you and for us is made. It shall be the greatest White Sale in the history of the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. store.

No, we are not prophets; we are, however, readers of the signs of the times! As the day follows the night so does success follow the preparations that we have put forth in the Great White Sale.

VALUES! The keynote of it all.

More remarkable values than we have ever known. And this is said in full memory of the hugest success that any White Sale in Atlanta ever met with—our January Sale of a year ago.

The thousands of garments that fill the tables of the underwear section give testimony of this fact.

That the materials are the whitest and freshest, that the buttons are clear and fine, that stitching in every garment is even and regular, that the finish is neat are matters of course.

But you have not seen such artistic uses of laces, embroideries, dainty tucks—nor such styles.

We wish we could pen-picture the novelty, the daintiness of things, the exquisite and lavish use of laces, ribbons, sheer embroideries; the womanliness, the refined taste that the garments represent, we wish we could acquaint you with the vastness of varieties (new to this store, new to Atlanta and warranted only because the garments are so charming and attractive), then you would know why we do not hesitate to rush to superlatives at the mention of this January's Sale of Muslin Underwear.

It is a superlative sale!

The statistics below are cold, we know. It is not possible for printer's ink to tell the how or why of such a sale.

But let the women bring their eyes with them this morning at 8 o'clock, and their appetites for values!

At 19c

Drawers the usual Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. 25c grade—quantity buying brings down the price. Two clusters of neat tucks; flat leg, of soft domestic.

Corset Covers of nainsook; a fine value at 25c. Embroidery and lace beadings, ribbon run. The laces and embroideries are substantial, washable.

At 25c

Corset Covers some six styles to choose from at this one price. Of nainsook and crepe, fly front, embroidery and Val. and linen laces in three rows, ribbon run.

At 39c

Corset Covers six styles. Sheer nainsook prettied with pointed lace medallions and linen laces, others with neat convent scallops and Swiss embroidery, felled seams and fly front. A new standard of values!

Drawers—plain convent scalloped flat legs, finished with embroidery entre deux. The material is soft nainsook.

At 49c

Corset Covers Here we find the dainty Swiss embroideries, the shadow laces worked together with silk ribbons; corset covers of all-over embroidery; elaborate trimmings and exquisite good taste trimmings. Extra sizes, too.

Gowns—Note, please, that every gown is of full size; of muslin; long sleeves, high neck, with cluster tucked yokes, low neck, short sleeves, lace and embroidery edged (linen laces), V-necks and kimono sleeves. They should melt away before the warm welcome such values deserve.

At 49c

Petticoats—Fitted petticoats at 49c! With buttons instead of the old puckering draw-strings. Also they are fashioned on the straight and narrow lines. Scalloped, plain hemstitched.

At 50c

Drawers—Never such a fine lot. Choose from circular, semi-circular, straight and knickerbocker, and bloomer styles. One of the novelties is the nainsook bloomer drawers with elastic waist and knee bands. Another novelty is the semi-circular lace trimmed drawers that has the flat leg; felled seams in all and pretty laces, embroideries and ribbons.

At 69c

Drawers—Here are the sheerer nainsooks, and the finer laces, more elaborately used—with ribbon bows. Choose from circular, flat and knickerbocker styles.

Corset Covers—More than a dozen styles. Val. and linen laces, Swiss embroideries worked in panels, wide ribbons. We have never quite equaled such values.

Gowns—Choose a dozen without duplicating. Slip-over styles, V, round and square, with elaborate use of laces and sheer, dainty embroideries in neck and sleeves. Some of the most attractive have low, round necks, edged with ecru linen laces.

At 75c

Drawers—straight, circular and knickerbockers, of fine nainsook, on which are used quantities of Val. laces, linen laces, Swiss embroideries, put on in the flat fashion and with dainty ribbon bows.

Gowns—Nets, linen laces, ribbons, embroidery, on fine nainsooks make them splendid values. Full sizes; low, round necks with short sleeves.

Petticoats—of soft, crinkly crepe, fitted skirts; very plain and most serviceable. That they are 75c is one of the wonders of the sale.

At 89c

Gowns—of Dresden figured and plain crepe, in white, pink and blue; others of white nainsook; slip-over styles, Empire style, V yokes.

Corset Covers—One of the novelties is a corset cover with a lace trimmed peplum run with ribbons; the bodice shows medallions of lace. And there are others and others.

Petticoats—A new note is struck by the dainty embroidered flounce with embroidery insertion let in—narrow, fitted.

At 98c

Gowns—Two dozen different styles at this price. Soisettes, crepes, nainsooks; trimmings of simple beadings, elaborate Val. laces, linen laces, shadow lace points; and then the bishop gown with the fullness confined to the narrow tucks over the shoulders.

Drawers—Flat knickerbocker and bloomers, circular. The word dainty expresses the beauty of the laces, the ribbons and the embroideries, Nainsooks and very fine, silky mull.

Corset Covers—Twelve styles, trimmed back and front with Val. and linen laces and the new net bands.

Combination Suits—Some six styles, one as attractive as another, with laces and Swiss embroideries.

Teddy Bears—with convent scallops and Val. laces and flat embroidery trimmings.

Princess Slips—Lace edged, with embroidery insertions, lace trimmed flounces, double panel front and back; new this season.

Petticoats—of nainsook, double panel front and back, flat flounces with trimmings of embroidery, shadow, Val. and linen laces.

At $1.25 & $1.49

Gowns, Petticoats, Combinations, Drawers, Corset Covers, Teddy Bears

At these prices are garments to delight the feminine fancy!

We have wondered how makers could produce such garments at these prices—first, the nainsooks are as soft as down, the laces and embroideries are of daintiest fineness, and they are all used lavishly. Teddy bears, with ribbon straps and lace trimmings—but every garment merits special notice.

See!

At $1.69 to $3.98

Gowns, Petticoats, Combinations, Drawers, Corset Covers, Teddy Bears

Gowns with front and back trimming; empire, round and V-neck. Petticoats, princess slips, elaborate with lace points and embroidery medallions and wide, rich ribbons, all with the double panel front and back. Teddy Bears that are as lacy as can be and as dainty. Drawers and corset covers up to $1.98 that are exquisitely beautiful. We have never made such an elaborate and fine display of muslin underwear at these prices—of garments so evidently worth more than marked prices.

Extra Sizes

Plenty of extra sizes in—

Drawers 49c to $1.75

Princess Slips 98c to $1.98

Gowns 98c to $1.98

No one has been forgotten.

BABIES AND CERTIFIED MILK.

Mothers and fathers in Atlanta who intelligently value the lives of their infants are to be congratulated that Atlanta has at last succeeded in its long campaign to secure certified milk for the city.

Certified milk is nothing in the world but guaranteed clean milk carried to its last possible power. Every cow must be tested for tuberculosis. The dairy plant, in its smallest detail, must correspond to directions laid down by the foremost specialists on children in Atlanta.

It should be needless to dwell upon the meaning of this development from the economic standpoint. Most infantile diseases have their start in germ-infested milk. Certified milk, certified as in Atlanta, is a case by its foremost physicians, means that you are building up your child's system in the first year for the traditionally fatal 'second year'.

ALASKA ASKS JUSTICE.

The substance of the annual report of Governor Strong of Alaska, just made public by Secretary of the Interior Lane, is an eloquent and a well-founded plea for justice to that territory on part of congress.

The ignorance of the average American regarding Alaska is abysmal. The view is prevalent that the territory is sort of an understudy for the north pole, frozen the year round and fit for occupancy only by Eskimos and adventurous explorers.

large part of the year weather that we appreciate in the temperate zone. It is of record that residents of Sitka coming to Georgia have felt the rigors of winter more here than in their homes. As to resources, the agricultural possibilities of the territory would support an empire.

By and large Alaska can, under intelligent legislation become one of the richest portions of America's domain. It can be made, as Governor Strong suggests, the 'home of the poor man' but a home where he can eventually become independent.

Fortunately for the territory, Secretary Lane is a strong friend and a firm believer in constructive legislation. If congress lists to him, a region heretofore treated like a step-child by America will become one of its most remunerative possessions.

MUNICIPAL ORGAN RECITALS.

The value to Atlanta abroad as well as at home of the municipal organ recitals which have become a regular part of the city's life is indicated in a recent editorial in The Newark (N. J.) News, copied as embodying sound ideas by The Dallas (Texas) News.

It would be difficult to estimate the pleasure and the indirect profit that have come to Atlantans by means of the free organ recitals given under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival association.

Next to the conservation of health and the proper financial administration of a city comes the duty of elevating its standards of ethics and of aestheticism. That is where the practicability and the foresight of the directors of the music festival association, and the Atlantans who have supported their efforts, is abundantly justified.

It is gratifying that under plans of the association now virtually completed Atlanta is to enjoy an even wider range of musical enjoyment the coming year through the use of the Auditorium than before.

The man with that wild look is Father—as he figures the holiday currency bill.

Cheer up! Currency isn't such a problem after all—if you hit hard luck for it.

Christmas trees make fine fires (if all with the coal trust!)

Why shouldn't a vice president tax, since he was nothing else to do?

When anyone wishes Huerta a happy New Year he orders out the firing squad.

Even when they ask him 'What'll you take?' John Lind answers in the sign language.

The outlook is gloomier than ever when Huerta reflects that it may be another year of ultimatum.

Now that the president has a chance to refer the reporters to Johnny Lind they'll probably close their notebooks and retire.

This sudden goodness of the trusts would place them under suspicion but for the fact that 'There's a reason'.

To frame a New Year resolution looks like putting good intentions on dress parade.

England will try for the South Pole again. She doesn't believe that Amundsen got away with it.

The French author who kissed Bernard Shaw must have 'had em,' and felt desperate.

Don't notice that the world is any happier because Motta Lisa is making vaudeville eyes at it.

Just From Georgia

And a Feller Feels Young Ag'in. With the New Year sun a-shinin on the new times comin in, 'Hip-hooray' is what I say, for a feller feels young ag'in.

He takes in all the freshness of the elevatin' air. Love an' joy in a world o' life an' the good times everywhere.

'Forward-march' is the watch word of the country east an' west. Love o' the soil where the day brings toil an' the stars yer well-earned rest.

And it the joyful country. That's why I say today. We e' feelin' fine all down the line—eady with Hip-hooray!

Lin one with the joy of livin. Even when yer hair is white. An' yer work is o'er—when you toil no more you can dream in the blessed light!

An' new time or old time, I'm never wantin' to go. To manna high in the round blue sky from a world in lovin' so.

It is but a little thing I would say to you. If you'd make the availing. Let your stroke fall true. Wisdom from a dusty shelf. All the wealth is in yourself.

Some of the reasons why more men do not attend church as advanced by an Iowa editor. The Sunday newspaper, the automobile, the motion picture, the collection box.

Dunno what a-waitin. Up the road for me. I'm only knowin that today. I'm just as happy on the way. As the Lord would have us be.

The surest way. A Kansas paper says a man in that state bought his wife a revolver with which to defend herself but after a bullet had been dug out of his leg, and the cow had been buried he decided she had better do her defencing with an ax.

Marching to life's music. With New Year flags unfurled. I'm proud of you my children. Said the gray old world.

Says Bertr Williams. Some folks don't keep a New Year resolution long enough to get good acquainted with it.

The Great Trials of History

THE TRIAL OF SOCRATES.

In many respects Socrates is the most familiar figure in ancient Greek history. No one else stands out before us with so individual and distinct a personality of his own.

Socrates appeared like the rest of his countrymen in the field of battle he fought with boldness and intrepidity but the character of Socrates appears more conspicuous and dignified as a philosopher and moralist than as a warrior.

The time assigned to the trial was divided into three lengths. In the first the three accusers made their speech. The second was occupied by the speeches of the accused (and sometimes of his friends).

The trial ended with the sentence to death but Socrates insisted on addressing some last words to those who had condemned him and to those who would have acquitted him.

Compensation.

The little leaves lie scattered in meadows and in leas. In valleys and in woodlands. While roughly winter breeze runs not through the grasses. And strips the smitten trees. But of perpetual springtime. Of glorious mist and shine. Or of perpetual summer. With blossoms e'er a-blow. And sigh for changeful winter. And swirling flakes of snow.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT WASON. The Famous Prose Poet. Bad Habits. 'Mrs. Average, our new neighbor said Mrs. Jamesworth, brought me two quarts of the loveliest buttermilk this morning.

'I have no doubt that she's a whiter sepulchre' replied Jamesworth. The fact that she comes purloining over here to give away her buttermilk shows that she has some sense.

'If I meet a woman who never looks toward me with a green smile, I find cordial for any good use. I call it one she is selling tickets to an extra supper to raise money to pay the hall rent.

The whole neighborhood saw that glittering washing machine come to the house and every woman within five miles knows that you can sit in a rocking chair and read The Custom of the Country and to a week's washing at the same time.

She has figured it out that she will be able to buy a washing machine if she has her plus right. When she has given you three or four cast-aways of her old buttermilk she'll come over here with a face saying, 'I was washing machine as out of order and although she has a new borrow she is obliged to ask for the loan of yours.

Freddie Welsh Is Favored To Defeat Frank Whitney; Three Other Good Scraps

Tuesday's Card
Freddie Welsh vs Frank Whitney, 10 rounds
Kid Young vs Jack Livan, 8 rounds
Mary Payner vs Soldier Hoe, 6 rounds
Kid Superior vs Kid Brooks, 4 rounds

This is the complete card of boxing that Count Leo Castro, ball player and promoter, has arranged for the Auditorium Armory tomorrow night.

The show will mark the return of several months after an absence of several months. The time was just ripe for a good fight and Whitney was in a receptive mood and promoter Castro has arranged an excellent show to please them in their demands.

From the nice advance sale at the 75 at Shepherd's Segar Store under the management of the best crowd of fans at this

Welsh Is Favorite
The main bout Freddie Welsh, world champion of Great Britain and Australia, will meet Frank Whitney, the Fighting Carpenter of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Welsh is the holder of the Lord Louis d'Albe belt emblem of the English championship and he has several other trophies emblematic of his favor in the Englishman's rules as the favorite with the majority of the fans. It is only logical that he will be the one to whom the followers of pugilistic who believe that he is going to have an easy time with Whitney are due to get a surprise.

If Whitney should win he will have needed a great deal of time in the boxing season. But stranger things have happened. Whitney is in excellent shape, in the opinion of his career and those who have seen him box here before are free to admit that he gives the best of them as good a battle as they would care to tackle. Whitney is sure to fight Welsh hard and the first crack at a champion and endeavor to make the most of it.

Defensive Man
Whitney is better on the defense than on the offense, but those close to the Fighting Carpenter say that he is going to carry the fight to Welsh and by so doing open the eyes of some of the local boys who believe that he can hit.

Charlie White, Bathing Nelson, Jake Abel and other boys who Whitney has fought are a unit in declaring that he is the best defensive fighter they have ever met and that he is the hardest man to hit in the ring today.

"I think White says that a slight left is the only punch that Whitney can be hit with and this has to be shown in the ring," said White.

But Welsh says that all of Whitney's strong points and also his weak ones. The little Englishman is a wonderful fighting machine and he will on his side of the house he can be depended on to send as good as it sent him.

Welsh is sure to outbox Whitney. No one who has seen Whitney has accused him of being a scruffy, clever boxer. In this Welsh is sure to do more than box says Whitney.

Goldberg in Ring
Rube Goldberg, the famous cartoonist who will appear at the Fourth theater, will be in the ring with the best card of the night. He will be in the ring with the best card of the night. He will be in the ring with the best card of the night.

CIVIL COURTS UNDER THE TROOPS

West Virginia Authorities Arraigned for Conduct During Strike in Report Drawn by Senator Borah

Washington, January 4.—A severe arraignment of the authorities who administered martial law in West Virginia from September, 1919, to June, 1921, when the Cabin Creek and Paint Creek coal mine strike troubles were in progress, is contained in a subcommittee report made public tonight by Senator Borah, member of the senate committee that conducted an investigation into all phases of the West Virginia disturbances.

Overrode All Courts

Senator Borah's statement holds that the military authorities, acting under the direction of the governor, superseded all constitutional courts in West Virginia, imposed sentences not authorized by any laws, and took over all the duties of the civil courts of the district; and that at the time such martial law was being enforced there was no evidence that the civil courts had been intimidated or that they would be prevented from performing their duties faithfully.

Purely Military Rule

"That these parties were arrested upon orders issued by the military authorities, and not by virtue of any warrant issued by the civil authorities or from the established courts of the state, and were put upon trial, without the finding of any indictment, and that they were tried by a military court created by the order of the commander-in-chief and composed of individuals selected by him.

No Chance for "Open Town" So Long As I Am the Chief, Declares James L. Beavers

Chief James L. Beavers, by outlining to a Constitution reporter last night the remarks which will accompany his annual report to the board of police commissioners, paid high tribute to the city's progress in coping with crime and vice during 1917.

"We have had less crime and fewer arrests in 1917," he said, "than in any year since the city was organized. It was a successful year in the department's history. We have succeeded in perfecting a police organization which cannot be excelled in the entire south."

Chief Beavers was not at all gloomy in his report of the various departments during the year. Throughout Sunday and until late last night, clerks and attaches of his office were busy to compile and complete the finished report by this afternoon.

"That in rendering judgment and assessing punishment the parties were punished by terms of imprisonment unknown in the state and the punishment provided for such offenses under the state laws."

"That in some instances arrests were made outside the military zone and at night, when martial law did not prevail, and when such arrests were made the parties were turned over by the military to the civil authorities for trial for detention, trial and punishment."

PLANT ONLY THE BEST SEEDS

By Col. R. J. Redding, Editor Farms and Farmers' Department

It is not easy to overestimate the importance of planting seeds of only the best type in the field and in the garden. Of course, field crops take precedence over ordinary domestic garden crops.

Without knowing what the farmer plants in the field and in the garden, we cannot say what the results will be. The seed is the key to the success of the crop.

What Should Every Farmer Do? A farmer who has paid no attention to varieties, or has planted seeds of the same variety year after year, is not exercising good judgment.

During the last thirty or forty years a great change has come over us in the matter of varieties of a field crop. The larger fields of corn, wheat, and other crops are very largely, if not chiefly, due to improved and more productive varieties.

Compare These Figures. "During the last 100 years—only 100—were bound over for immoral conduct. One hundred and five were bound over for immoral conduct in 1917. That is the net result of vice activity."

On the other hand, however, 226 gunners were bound over for immoral conduct in 1917. That is the net result of vice activity."

Official Tests of Varieties of Corn

At the Georgia experiment station, of which I was director for seventeen years (1890 to 1907) very careful tests of current, advertised varieties of corn were made every year, especially with reference to yield of shelled corn.

It should be borne in mind that the best variety of corn for a farmer to plant is not the one that is advertised, but the one that is best adapted to his soil and climate.

Very little, if any, explanation of the table is needed. It will be seen at once that the average difference between the yields of the best and poorest varieties of corn is 20 to 30 percent.
