VERDICT IS VOID, DECLARE LAWYERS FOR LEO M. FRANK

John L. Tye Stresses Advantages to the Defendant in Being Present When a Verdict Is Read.

ASSERTS THAT JURORS MIGHT HAVE CHANGED

Peebles Scores Mobs as Cowardly—Says That It Would Have Been Easy for Frank to Be Present.

"We are attacking this verdict as being void," said Attorney John L. Tye yesterday afternoon before Judge Ben Hill in the arguments which followed Solicitor Dorsey's move to demur the motion to set aside the verdict of guilty in the Frank case.

"It is not an irregularity, not a discrepancy," he continued, "it is a void verdict. This is a constitutional issue. The right of a man to be present at the time the verdict is delivered against him is not trifling nor frivolous. It is a constitutional guarantee that must be fully observed if we are to have law and order in our land."

At the opening of the proceedings Friday morning, Solicitor Dorsey moved to demur to the motion to set aside the verdict, which had been filed by John L. Tye, of the law firm of Tye, Peebles & Jordan. His argument occupied all of the morning session, and lasted until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cites Legal Authorities. Mr. Dorsey cited volume after volume of legal authority bearing on his argument. Speaking from behind a barricade of law books, he kept a number of assistants constantly bringing new volumes and carrying others away.

When the hearing adjourned at 5 o'clock in the afternoon two arguments had been heard and a third was in progress. The argument of Henry C. Peebles, of counsel for the defense, will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning. Most of the early part of his speech had been devoted to citations from legal records.

Mr. Dorsey dwelt at length upon the decision in the case of the State of Georgia v. Cawthorne, which he asserted, was similar in numerous respects to the Frank case, Cawthorne having been absent from the court room at the time the verdict was rendered.

He declared that Judge Hill's decision in the Lyons case, which has attracted widespread attention, was the present move to free Frank by setting aside the verdict, did not bear upon the Frank case.

He had been earlier in the morning that Judge Hill would not stand on decisions rendered by him in the appellate court, which had conflicted with verdicts or judgments handed down by the supreme court.

Judge Hill, in the case of Lyons v. the State, wrote explicitly as a judge of the court of appeals that the presence of a prisoner at the trial may not be waived except by his own express authority.

Violation of Pledges Charged. Mr. Dorsey accused Frank's attorneys of violating the pledge of presence to be brought into their fight to free the convicted man. He made capital of the delay in bringing the waiver into issue by the supreme court, that the move was nothing short of a technicality.

"It has been decreed," said Dorsey, "that the defendant may appear in white or black, when Frank stood up on August 26, and Judge Roan asked if he had anything to show why sentence of death should not be passed, he said nothing about it at the motion for a new trial; at the supreme court, or at the other death sentencing day. It doesn't come into the trial, it doesn't come into the trial, it doesn't come into the trial."

"He said nothing about it at the motion for a new trial; at the supreme court, or at the other death sentencing day. It doesn't come into the trial, it doesn't come into the trial, it doesn't come into the trial."

"With these final words, the solicitor resumed his seat. Attorney Tye began his argument with a reply to the remarks upon the delay of the motion to set aside, and an explanation of counsel's action in this respect—likewise, a defense of the issue. The motion is not a technicality, it is a constitutional right guaranteed by the constitution of the state of Georgia and of the United States. It is not an experiment; it is not trifling with the courts. It is merely an attempt to restore the personal rights and privileges that are due every American citizen."

Three Years Allowed. "These cases are the statutory time allowed to file a motion of this character. It is according to the common law and practice. A motion may be properly made at any time within these legal limitations. It is up to you to decide upon the merits in the motion. The delay of time is insignificant. The right is inviolate for an accused man to face the jurors and hear them say whether or no they stick by their verdict. It is based on human nature. There is an element of mental telepathy that enters into it. There is no telling what a juror is likely to do when he gazes fairly and unblinkingly into the eyes of the accused man."

"At least one man—unless he be firm in his decision—is likely to change. I know of a case, recorded by Judge Blakey in the case of the State v. Nolan—where eleven jurors stood pat on their verdict, but one man refused. A second trial was granted, and the prisoner was finally exonerated. "Little did Judge Roan realize that, when he acceded to the waiver of Frank's presence, he was denying Frank one of the most important guarantees of constitutional rights and

PANAMA COLONISTS MAY SOON LOCATE IN SUMTER COUNTY

Americus, Ga., June 5.—(Special).—That the 300 Panama colonists desiring location in Georgia will be brought to Sumter county seems certain in view of the fact that the colonization committee has just purchased options upon the Eugenic plantation, near Americus, containing 5,000 acres. The committee authorized to effect the purchase came here recently accompanied by C. F. Jackson, agricultural representative of the Central railway, and carefully inspected the Eugenic lands. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the price put upon the Sumter plantation now owned by Carolina investors.

YOUTHFUL ADAIR MEETS CHAMPION WHITNEY TODAY

Atlanta Boy Golfer Defeats Texas Champion in Semi-Final Round 4 Up and 3 to Play.

ROTAN WAS THREE UP AT END OF SIX HOLES

Adair Came Back—Nelson Whitney Eliminated Record Maker Jacoby 4 Up and 3 to Play.

Memphis, Tenn., June 5.—Perry Adair, a 19-year-old Atlanta youth, will meet Nelson Whitney, veteran of many a hard fought tournament fight and three times amateur champion of the south, in the final round tomorrow for the 1914 championship of the Southern Golf association.

Adair won his match in the semi-finals today over George V. Rotan, of Waco, state champion of Texas, 4 up and 3 to play; and Whitney, holder of the southern title, disposed of Louis Jacoby, of Dallas, Texas, by the same score.

The playing of the youthful Georgian over Rotan today was sensational. He drove with the accuracy of a veteran, his approach shots were almost perfect and his putting was consistent. On the other hand, Rotan, who towered over his opponent in stature and almost doubled his in years, was plainly out of his element.

In the other match Whitney was forced to extend himself only once when Jacoby showed a flash during the afternoon. The New Orleans man was strong in driving and was just a little off on his work on the greens, but played a cautious game and was seldom in danger. The Dallas man was off on his long-putts, his work with the iron. His approach shots frequently were bad, sometimes falling short and again he overran.

Rotan Gets Early Lead. Large galleries followed both Adair and Whitney in the largest crowd watching the play of Adair and Rotan. When the match ended on the fifteenth hole Adair's father, George W. Adair, took the boy off his shoulders for the plucky youngster, the women leading in the cheering.

In the morning round Rotan and Adair halved the first two holes in par. Rotan taking the lead on the third when Adair overran his approach. The Texas also won the fourth, Adair getting off the tee badly off badly after the turn. He lost the tenth hole when he overran his putt; the eleventh was halved, and Adair scored in the twelfth, 4 to 5, when he sank the 10-foot putt, squaring the match.

The thirteenth gave the Atlanta player one up, taking the hole in a single stroke. Rotan rimmed the cup on his fourth, but the ball falling to sink. The fourteenth and fifteenth were halved and Rotan took the sixth and seventh holes with his next shot, evening the score. Adair won the next and the eighteenth was halved, the round ending in a 4 up.

Perry Takes Lead. Rotan lost the first hole in the afternoon.

AMERICAN VESSEL ALLOWED TO LAND ARMS AT TAMPICO

Schooner Unloads Ammunition for Rebels Without Interference From United States or Huerta.

BLOCKADE BY HUERTA WOULD CAUSE TROUBLE

America Would Maintain That Tampico Is Open Port, It Is Believed—No News From Carranza.

Washington, June 5.—Information reaching Washington late today that the American schooner Sunshine, from Galveston, had landed ammunition at Tampico for the Mexican constitutionalists without interference on the part of the United States or the Huerta government, was received in official quarters here without comment. State and navy department officials declined to verify the report, but from other sources it was learned that the presence of the Sunshine at Tampico with arms aboard had been known to the Washington government for several days.

In view of the fact that there had been considerable apprehension regarding the attitude the United States might take toward the landing of ammunition at this Mexican port the delivery of the munitions without interference was regarded with significance. To Prevent Open Port.

With the Cuban steamer Antilla en route to Tampico with arms consigned to Carranza's forces, there has been much speculation as to what the United States would do if the Huerta government should attempt a blockade of the port. Every indication tonight, however, was that the United States would maintain its previously announced position that Tampico was an open port. Admiral Badger yesterday was ordered to keep watch upon Huerta gunboats at Puerto Mexico and Alvarado. Tonight there had been no report to the navy department that the boats had made any move toward Tampico.

There have been widespread reports that the South American mediators had protested against the United States permitting the delivery of ammunition to the constitutionalists at Tampico. Secretary Bryan tonight declared, however, that the state department had received no report to that effect. He also denied reports that Mr. Eliott, the American ambassador, who represents the interests of General Huerta in the United States, had protested.

Foreign diplomats in Washington today displayed great interest in the situation. Should Huerta decide to attempt to stop the delivery of ammunition aboard the Cuban ship Antilla, international law requires that notice of his action be given to all foreign powers. International law also requires that a blockade to be recognized by foreign powers must be effective.

In diplomatic circles the belief is general that the United States would not permit a blockade to be maintained. It is believed that the United States would result in many complications.

Wants Fines Remitted. Fines imposed by General Funston on the German ships Xpiranga and Bavaria were considered today by Secretary of War Garrison. Carl Buecz, general agent of the Hamburg-American company, called on the secretary and made a statement in justification of the action of the captain of the German ships. Mr. Buecz declared that the Xpiranga was chartered by the German government to convey refugees from southern Mexico. It was only after the expiration of this charter that the Xpiranga's captain undertook to carry out his original orders to deliver his arms and ammunition to the representative of the Huerta government.

While in Vera Cruz, Mr. Buecz maintained the ship captain received instructions from port authorities changing the destination of the cargo to Puerto Mexico.

Secretary Garrison told Mr. Buecz that he would consider his representations carefully, but he addressed a letter to Secretary Bryan asking whether it

YACHTSMAN SMUGGLES ARMS TO ULSTER

(1) DORSET REGIMENT MARCHING THROUGH BELFAST; (2) SIR EDWARD CARSON; (3) ULSTER UNIONIST VOLUNTEERS.

Belfast, June 5.—The army of the Ulster volunteers was strengthened today by the addition of 5000 Manchester rifles, as the result of a daring gun-running feat of an Irish yachtsman. After the final passage of the home rule bill, Belfast at first was ominously quiet. British troops from Irish garrisons were hastened to the city in anticipation of an outbreak. The Ulster nationalist volunteer army had long threatened war in case home rule was forced upon them. A serious outbreak is expected at any moment.

THOMAS WILL NOT RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Gives Out Statement in Which He Says He Can Be of More Service as Judge at Present Time.

Valdosta, Ga., June 5.—(Special).—Judge W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, announced today that he would not be a candidate for governor this year. His decision is based upon the conviction that at present he can be of more service to the people on the bench, and will not enter the race under existing conditions.

Beginning with the first intimation of his possible candidacy, Judge Thomas has received hundreds of letters from prominent men in every section of the state, urging him to make the race, while the press and people thought south Georgia have been almost a unit in the tenders of support. Appreciating in the fullest degree the attitude of his home people, Judge Thomas says in part:

"I am of the opinion that south Georgia is willing now to stand by a Georgia candidate for governor, and under ordinary conditions would support the non-militant section in carrying on constitutional political programs of great annoyance and embarrassment to the government. The National Union of Women's Suffrage societies, whose executive committee embraces many influential persons, has issued a report showing it is spending funds freely at bye-elections in support of labor party candidates and against official liberal candidates.

The policy of the National Union is to do its utmost to overthrow the Asquith government, and at the same time help the labor party, which is supporting the women's cause. OLD CHURCH DESTROYED BY SUFFRAGETTE BOMB

Explosives Placed in Dudhope Castle Also by Arson Squad.

London, June 5.—Militant suffragettes today continued their campaign of arson and attempts to destruction of property by bombs. Breadhall church, a historic edifice near Derby, was burned to the ground in the early morning, and during the day a bomb was found in Dudhope castle, near Dundee, which once was occupied by John Graham, of Claverhouse, a famous Scot soldier. The fuse of the bomb had been extinguished by the wind.

Sylvia Pankhurst, borne to the platform on an invalid chair, made another appearance tonight at a suffrage meeting in Canningtown and repeated her threat that she would lie on the steps of the house of commons without food or water until Premier Asquith consented to receive a deputation of her followers.

While the militant suffragettes are pursuing a campaign, which, in the opinion of most people, only tends to defer the attainment of their wishes, the non-militant section is carrying on constitutional political programs of great annoyance and embarrassment to the government. The National Union of Women's Suffrage societies, whose executive committee embraces many influential persons, has issued a report showing it is spending funds freely at bye-elections in support of labor party candidates and against official liberal candidates.

The policy of the National Union is to do its utmost to overthrow the Asquith government, and at the same time help the labor party, which is supporting the women's cause. FELDER COMES OUT FOR PROHIBITION

Refusal of Griffin Minister to Introduce Him Causes Hasty Conference and Declaration of Present View on Liquor Question.

Griffin, Ga., June 5.—(Special).—Hon. Thomas S. Felder has come out flatly and unequivocally for prohibition, and asserts that if elected to the senate he will vote for and work to secure national legislation to protect dry states from the shipment of whiskey. He states that he will not accept a cent of campaign money from the liquor interests, but he never has in other campaigns.

Mr. Felder's announcement came about thusly: He is to speak in Griffin tomorrow morning, and for some days it was advertised that Rev. Thomas M. Elliott, a well-known Methodist minister, would introduce him. During the past two days Mr. Elliott has been studying Mr. Felder's record. He found that seven years ago Mr. Felder voted against the present prohibition law, and that he took part in the famous filibuster to defeat the bill.

Thereupon Mr. Elliott announced that he could not and would not introduce Mr. Felder, and so stated to the committee in charge. Excitement Follows. Immediately there was consternation among Mr. Felder's friends. A hurried conference was held, and finally an automobile was sent to Mr. Elliott's residence, with the urgent request that he call on Mr. Felder at once.

Mr. Elliott consented, and he and Mr. Felder, in the presence of witnesses,

ANTI-TRUST BILLS FRAMED BY WILSON PASSED BY HOUSE

Interstate Trade Commission Bill, Omnibus Anti-Trust Bill and Railroad Securities Bill Pass.

LARGE MAJORITIES ARE GIVEN MEASURES

Opposition Melted When Final Test Came and Voting Went Through Quickly and Without Opposition

By John Corliss, Jr. Washington, June 5.—(Special).—Representative Adamson, of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, had charge of two of the three administration anti-trust bills that were put through the house with flourish this afternoon.

The railroad stock and bonds provision was passed by a vote of 325 to 12, and the other unanimously. The trust bill, with provision aimed at interlocking directorates, was in charge of the chairman of the judiciary committee.

Representative Bartlett, of South Carolina, was one of the four democrats to vote against the stock and bonds bill. This measure was attacked because it would give complete control over the big trunk lines to the interstate commerce commission. It was said, and deny the states any power to regulate their securities.

Changes Expected in Senate. These measures will be under consideration for months in the senate. That body is expected to change the bills materially, just as it altered the trust and currency bills which were sent to the senate marked "rush."

Senator Hoke Smith is a member of the judiciary committee which will perfect all the trust bills except the trade commission measure. He has promised to see that the interlocking directorate provision is changed so that men in Georgia who are building up their towns and sections by exercising control over a number of small concerns should not be molested.

The possibility of the disruption of small business concerns as the result of this legislation is bringing protests from all sections of the country. Voting Done Quickly. Opposition melted away when the final test came and the voting went through quickly and without incident. The Covington interstate trade commission bill was passed without a recorded vote. The Clayton omnibus anti-trust measure received 275 votes to 24 against it, and the vote on the Rayburn railroad capitalization bill was 325 to 12.

Action on the trust bills came rather unexpectedly. The three measures had been agreed to in "committee of the whole," the Rayburn bill, as amended by the committee, being completed late today.

When the trade commission bill came before the house for final vote Progressive Leader Murdock moved that it be sent back to the interstate commerce committee with instructions to report the Murdock bill as a substitute. This was the only democratic vote against the Clayton bill and all the progressives voted for it except Representative Chandler, of New York. Forty-three republicans and sixteen democrats joined the majority in supporting the measure. They were:

Atlanta Prices Reasonable And Her People Best Ever, Declare Rexall Delegates

Atlanta will have the Rexall convention back in 1915 or in the year following at the outside, and it is all because of the courteous treatment and the splendid co-operation that Atlanta gave the convention which has just adjourned that this is so. This statement is made on the authority of William C. Nelly, business manager of Rexall conventions. "I have been managing Rexall conventions for the last eight years," said Mr. Nelly to a Constitution reporter, "and I have never seen the city which made visitors so much at home and held their interests so much at heart as does Atlanta. I am beginning to understand the remarkable progress that your city is making and the wonderful reputation that she has in all parts of the country. Generally Higher Prices. "Without disparaging other cities, it is generally recognized by people who attend conventions that there is a tendency to hold convention people up when they hit town. It is a psychological condition; business people figure that they have succeeded in bringing the delegates to their city, and will never see them again, so why not make the most possible out of them while there? "This the Rexall people have not found to be the case in Atlanta, and they are more than pleased over it. "From Mayor Woodward down the people of Atlanta have been not only courteous, but even attentive and solicitous as to our wants and needs. "Mayor Woodward, much as the mayor or any other city, told us we were welcome, but he did not stop at that. He put himself at personal pains to see that we were welcome and had everything we wanted. For instance, when he learned that a local man was staging a prizefight for our entertain-

ATLANTA IS BOOSTED BY REXALL DELEGATES

Continued From Page One. I have never in contact with the managers of many convention bureaus in my experience and I have often found that a manager or secretary of such a bureau considers it his duty only to bring a convention to the city and the delegates may then take care of themselves as best they may.

No Overcharge Here

A very striking characteristic which I found in Atlanta is the lack of an inclination to overcharge for public utilities. The hotels not only did not go up on their prices but nearly all of them offered a better service than they regulate rate which they charge to the general traveling public.

Found Decorators Here

Another of our conventions in Kansas City and Niagara Falls which will be held immediately we are taking a crew of decorators from Boston. But in Atlanta we found decorators entirely capable and for a price extremely reasonable.

FELDER SAYS SLATON THREW THE FIRST MUD

He Charges Governor With Stealing Three Planks From His Platform.

Griffin, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—Addressing some 200 people at a public barbecue near here today, Hon. C. S. Felder, candidate for the United States senate, devoted much time to his opponent in the contest, Governor Slaton, who came in for the greater amount of the criticism of Colonel Felder. In part, Colonel Felder spoke as follows: "In his proclamation from the governor's mansion, as published last Sunday, Governor Slaton slings the first mud that has been cast in this campaign. This is a proclamation pure and simple. He first stated that he would conduct his campaign along dignified lines—no personalities allowed. But look at that proclamation, would you? There's mud for you. 'You all know that Jack Slaton stole three of the planks from my platform, and is now strutting around on them just like they were the children of his own brain. All his talk about peonage, federal judgments and extension of rural credit systems is copied from my literature. I had those very items in my platform a month before Governor Slaton's proclamation, would you? Am I going to be elected? To be sure! You can bet your money on it. People are going to recognize merit in this election, and social prestige and money will cut a mighty small figure. Other addresses at the barbecue were made by Hon. W. H. Connor, candidate for congress, and Hon. J. W. Wise, candidate for congress. Colonel Felder is to address the voters of the county here at Griffin tomorrow evening at 11 o'clock in the Bijou opera house.

R. J. Redding's Funeral Attracts Hundreds; Many Floral Tributes

Griffin, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The funeral services over the mortal remains of Colonel R. J. Redding, whose untimely death occurred early Thursday morning, were conducted in a most impressive manner at the First Methodist church today at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. G. P. Venable, pastor of the First Methodist church, was in charge of the services, and was assisted by the Rev. W. A. Murray, of the First Presbyterian church; the Rev. J. E. Sammons, of the First Baptist church; the Rev. Thomas M. Elliott, of the First Baptist church; Rev. Fletcher Walton, D. D., presiding elder of the Griffin district, who made the leading address of the occasion. Every seat in the large auditorium was filled with sorrowing friends of the deceased when the funeral party entered. As one man the audience stood with bowed heads as the casket was placed near the chancel. The First Methodist choir, consisting of Mrs. J. C. Turnipseed, Mrs. T. H. Deane, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Mrs. M. J. Daniels, Mrs. Lily Mae Helms, Miss Helen Griffin, Professor J. A. Jones, Messrs. A. W. Williams and R. J. Deane, sang "Auld Synnamm" and "The 90th Psalm," and Rev. Thomas M. Elliott read a passage from 1 Corinthians 15th chapter. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. P. Venable. Rev. J. E. Sammons read the 90th Psalm, and Rev. Thomas M. Elliott read a passage from 1 Corinthians 15th chapter. Prayer was offered by Rev. G. P. Venable. The floral offerings at Colonel Redding's funeral were unusually numerous. The handsomest floral tribute observed was that made by The Atlanta Constitution, which sent a large basket covered with Marochal Nell roses, white swansonia and white sweet peas. Colonel Redding's children made an offering of a large cross, covered with roses, lavender sweet peas, orchids, which were placed in the casket. A pillow of roses, lavender sweet peas and white sweet peas, which was given by the First Methodist board of stewards, of which body Colonel Redding had been a member, sent a handsome wreath and beautiful present.

The concert starts at 8 o'clock and the tango at 8:30 o'clock. The object of the occasion is to boost along the campaign now being waged for funds to give public concerts in the city's parks during the summer months. For dancing purposes a large floor space has been cleared away on the first floor of the store.

CITIZENS' BANK WILL BE REORGANIZED AND OFFICERS ELECTED

Athens, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the shareholders of the Citizens' Bank and Trust company, which some weeks ago was turned over to the state bank examiner for liquidation, the institution was reorganized, and it was announced that it will open its doors for business June 24. The meeting was obtained for today, but reset for yesterday to avoid meeting on Friday, by request of one of the stockholders. The directors are Andrew C. Erwin, Blanton E. Fortson, Elmer J. Crawford, J. H. Griffin, B. F. Hardeman, Hugh H. Gordon, Jr., and Dr. Ed S. Lydon. Officers will be chosen, probably next week. It is reported that likely A. C. Erwin will be elected president, and B. W. Fortson vice president. The cashier and other banking force will be selected. The depositors of the old organization will be paid dollar for dollar. Nearly all the new directors are young men, and they have means and determination to make the reorganization the basis for permanent success.

HER NAME COPYRIGHTED BY MRS. J. A. APPELBAUM

Beaumont, La., June 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Appelbaum, but you know, a name is worth a fortune, and every woman is necessary to a new story. Anyway, it shouldn't hurt, as it ought to be a valuable bit of publicity for that story of your life that you're planning to publish. Callie Scott Appelbaum has copyrighted her name, her face and every picture she can put hands on. She is going to write a story of her life, which will revolve around the sensational death of her husband, Jerry A. Appelbaum, who was mysteriously slain at the Delta hotel last March, and for whose death Mrs. Appelbaum was tried and acquitted. One of her principal reasons is to prevent the newspapers from writing things about her she says she would like to live down the horror of the mystery in which she figured. However, she has been working for months on the story of her life. The Standard insurance company, which was published in Friday morning's Constitution, it was erroneously stated that the suit had been filed against the Standard insurance company.

ROBERTSON MAY RUN FOR SHERIFF OF BIBB

Macon, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—There is some talk here of George Robertson, former sheriff of Bibb county, setting into the race again this year in opposition to J. C. Moore. Mr. Robertson has authorized no official statement in regard to the matter. He has conferred with him about the matter. Should Mr. Robertson decide not to enter the race, Mr. Hicks will probably be unopposed. The late sheriff of Bibb county has ever had and he will be a hard man to beat, no matter who runs against him. So far no opposition has been announced against any of the other county officers. The board of supervisors, though it is said Judge Augustin Daly, of the municipal court, may have opposition in the person of attorney Hugh Chambers. It is not thought Lloyd Moore, who ran against Judge Daly a year ago, will make another try for the office.

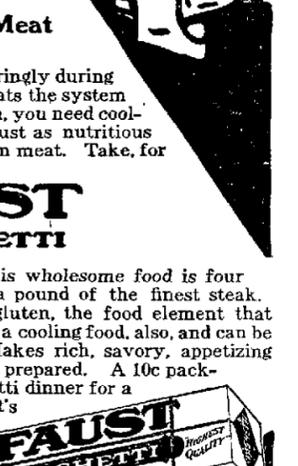

Don't Eat Much Meat in Summer You should eat meat very sparingly during hot weather, because meat heats the system and when the mercury is high, you need cooling foods. There are foods just as nutritious and some more nutritious than meat. Take, for example,

FAUST SPAGHETTI

One single 10c package of this wholesome food is four times more nutritious than a pound of the finest steak. Faust Spaghetti is rich in gluten, the food element that makes bone and muscle. It is a cooling food, also, and can be prepared in many ways. Makes rich, savory, appetizing dishes that can be very easily prepared. A 10c package will make a Faust Spaghetti dinner for a family of seven. Surely, that's economical. Send for free recipe book.

TO BUILD STEEL BRIDGE ACROSS FLINT RIVER

Americus, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Sumter county adjourned this afternoon, following an active session. The grand jury heartily recommended the proposition that Sumter county join with Crisp county in building a steel bridge across the Flint river, the bridge to be built in two sections. The Americus Chamber of Commerce, together with the Cordele chamber and the Crisp county grand jury had already indicated their interest in the proposition, the building of which now seems assured. The structure would cost probably $15,000 to $20,000 and would open a magnificent highway across the Georgia from the Chattahoochee to the Ocmulgee river at Abbeville, a distance of 125 miles.

DRUID HILLS CHURCH ORGANIZED ON SUNDAY

The Druid Hills Baptist church will be organized Sunday, June 7, at 11 a. m. The pastor of the Highland Park Baptist church, Rev. N. B. Okley, will conduct the devotional service. About two hundred persons have already signified their intention of going to the new church. The church will be full grown from the first.

CORDELE FAVORS PLAN FOR MARKET BUREAU

Cordele, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The establishment of a market bureau for Georgia is being strongly advocated by the Cordele Chamber of Commerce, which organization is heartily in accord with the efforts being made by the Atlanta chamber of commerce for the establishment of such an enterprise. While it is proposed that headquarters for such a bureau be established in Atlanta, Secretary Daniel of the local chamber of commerce, makes the assertion that in headquarters established there he will make efforts to bring them to Cordele.

ATLANTA GIRLS WIN MEDALS AT MACON

Macon, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The thirty-seventh annual commencement exercises of Mt. de Sales academy, a Catholic institution which draws students from several states, were held here this morning, eight young women receiving diplomas. Bishop Kenney, of Savannah, has been expected to deliver the commencement address, but was prevented from being present on account of illness. A number of people from out of the city, friends of the graduates and students, were present at the exercises. Miss Madeline Palmer and Miss Harriett Askam, of Atlanta, won several medals.

MUCH NEEDED RAIN FALLS AT BAINBRIDGE

Bainbridge, Ga., June 5.—(Special.)—The first rain since May 7 and second since March 1 fell here this morning. Since Sunday showers have somewhat relieved the situation all over the county, except the extreme northern section. Brinson, Climax, Donaldsonville and the tobacco belt in the southeast have all had some rain. The effect will not be to help the crops much, as a soaking rain of twenty-four hours duration, which is the coming of the showers indicate the drouth is broken, and the farmer feels more cheerful.

Tango for Corns Roots Out Corns Painlessly

Don't Pick and Gouge and Torture Your Toes—Use TANGO

No wonder everybody is enthusiastic about it. One touch of TANGO on a corn ends your suffering. Applied in second and it's done. No plaster or salve to fuss with; nothing to stick to the hose and be jerked from the sore toe with excruciating agony; no swelling and tenderness. Never use a point or blade, because the risk is too great. A slip of the instrument and a drop of blood have caused many cases of blood poison. It softens this kernel and brings it out. The root, core and the corn are gone forever, 25c.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at the following places: Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway, and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

PARTY TO THE DEATH RATE.

The Constitution publishes today a New York dispatch which significantly tells of the almost incalculable value of registration of preventable diseases in the lessening of disease and the lowering of the death rate. The article is in the form of a report made to the Association of Life Insurance Presidents by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, a prominent life insurance statistician. He cites reasons innumerable why all effort to minimize preventable disease will be futile, until medical science has at its disposal accurate information bearing on the subject.

It is useless for The Constitution to indorse the views of Dr. Dublin. Their best witness is their obvious common sense. It remains to say as regards Georgia that this is the one state in the union that, by failing to provide any system whatever for the registration of vital statistics, violates every canon laid down by this expert and approved by physicians of all schools.

As long as this attitude of indifference persists the sovereign state of Georgia is particeps criminis to the death rate. There is no way around that ugly fact. Last summer a bill creating a system for registration of vital statistics failed of passage in the general assembly because of the pressure of matters allegedly more important. That omission must not be repeated at the coming session. The number of lives that can be saved to Georgia, the misery, the count less millions of dollars in conserved efficiency—all depending upon an adequate system of disease registration and vital statistics generally—cannot be estimated.

The first duty of any state is the protection and fostering of human life. Georgia's general assembly cannot afford to indict its own patriotism by ignoring that first principle.

WILSON'S HIGH TRUMP

It is not strange that Carranza should be gradually insinuating his way into the Niagara conferences despite his justified declaration that the constitutionalists will not submit to any course which recognizes Huerta as the main object of mediation, since already they have beaten Huerta to his knees.

It is being borne in upon Carranza that President Wilson holds the high trump card and that is the power to make or mar any government set up in Mexico City by the simple expedient of recognition or non-recognition.

Had the United States recognized Huerta the latter would in all probability now have been in supreme control in Mexico, whether for better or worse is open to debate. Had the United States withheld from the constitutionalists the quasi-recognition of lifting the embargo on arms, the decisive victories at Saltillo and elsewhere would have been either impossible or indefinitely postponed.

In the power of recognition, therefore, the president possesses a trenchant club to induce the belligerents to listen to reason. Certainly Carranza, despite his gift for diplomacy and the military gifts of Villa, could not long thrive if the hand of the United States was turned against him.

Knowledge of this source is sustaining the president in the unwavering insistence that some equitable program for the settlement of the trouble in Mexico must be the basis of any recognition.

The followers of both Huerta and Carranza naturally resent the tendency of our government to interfere in Mexico's internal affairs. But the president finds his justification in the fact that unless Mexico's house is set permanently in order, we shall have to undergo the tension, expense and uncertainty of recent months all over again. That ordeal is as unwelcome as it should be unnecessary, and it is unnecessary so long as Mr. Wilson holds a card that will trump any trick on the boards.

FOLK OF MISSOURI.

One of the most useful Americans now in the public eye is Joseph W. Folk, Folk of Missouri, who is conducting the New Haven probe for the interstate commerce commission. Those who until a few months ago thought Folk was politically, as well as professionally, on the shelf, have been busily engaged in revising that estimate. About the liveliest wire around Washington since Sam Untermyer ran the money trust to its lair is that same Joe Folk—Folk of Missouri.

Folk began asking leading questions several years ago in St. Louis, as prosecuting attorney. The town as everybody knows was under the thumbs of the hoodlums. Then Folk came on the scene and things began to happen. Several of the grafters he landed in the penitentiary. Others sold out and went to Egypt. Still others retired to private life, having been forced to disgorge and with a dark brown taste in their mouths.

The people of Missouri thought so much of Folk that they made him governor. He made a good governor, too, winning further laurels for his vigor and fearlessness. From time to time he has been touted as presidential timber, though the mysterious intricacies of politics balked him at this stage of his career.

With the interstate commerce probe, he has made good phenomenally. His campaign has been systematically planned. He knows his ground thoroughly. He still is asking questions and they are sharp as a stiletto. He has uncovered much of the labyrinthine crookedness of the past management of the New Haven and he has aroused the nation that we are apt to see fewer such practices in the future.

Folk is like Francis J. Heney without Heney's bumptiousness and cocksureness. He is like Jerome, without Jerome's eccentricities. He is like Brandeis without Brandeis's insufferable egotism and willingness to relieve the Almighty from the administration of the universe.

He is an efficient public servant—this same Joe Folk of Missouri.

TECH AND THE FUTURE.

Here is the keynote of the appeal of the Georgia School of Technology to the industrial interests of the state for aid in expanding the school's facilities as expressed by George J. Baldwin, president of the Savannah Electric company.

All the individuals and business organizations in the state engaged in lines of engineering, manufacturing, construction, operation, transportation or any other class of business directly or indirectly needing trained technical expert service must combine their forces and invest an adequate sum of money to build up the Georgia School of Technology upon which they must rely for a supply of young men to carry on their work.

The man who knows anything at all about the possibilities of Georgia knows that beginning with the immediate future industrial development is to be one of the state's greatest sources of wealth.

We have the raw material, of almost every conceivable nature. We have the strategic location. We have abundant hydro-electric resources. We are in close touch with the iron and coal fields of the Birmingham district. We have excellent port facilities. Our railroad facilities are being improved monthly.

This splendid combination is futile unless we can supply the technically trained men to perform the work. Tech supplies that type of men. Tech supplies also the rudimentary laboratory facilities for the tests and experiments that will increasingly be demanded in the working out of methods to keep industry here abreast of the times.

These reasons confirm Mr. Baldwin's statements that the industrial interests of Georgia must view contribution to Tech in the nature of an investment and not a benefaction. From some direction they will need help in rising ratio with the future. It is much better to equip a plant near at hand to render that help than to import it at extra expense from outside the state.

His Song of Life.
I
Life is mostly wish—
Fighting hard against Fate
If you're fond o' fishin',
Got to dig for bait.
II
Pleasure's soul inspired
To coax you from the Dance until you're tired
The fiddler is to pay
III
But keep the road my honey
An never heed the night
If just one hour is sunny
Thank God for its light

What He'd Rather
The poet and philosopher Tom Bodine writes:
I'd rather play life's summer through with a blue eyed brown legged boy of three chigger ridden from bare neck to gluteus maximus scratching determinedly at every step kicking against nothing except unseen splinters and being washed than dance at tendons on tinsel strings I'd rather spend alotted years along an old street lined with crimson roses silent save for children's voices and the bark of a flea bitten happy hearted brown spotted pup than burn out my days and murder happiness in pursuit of the bitter illusions of power and place. Here where dusk shadows and sunbeams play down a dusty roadway I would rather have the love of a little child than to be a slave to millions. There is no wealth save love now and forever.

Consolation
Don't let old Satan
Hide you from so hope
When you flounder in de swim
Holler Fling de rope
An of de rope ain't comin
Take comfort in de sorrow
Please God if I drown today
I'll never drown tomorrow

BI AIR WRITES TO HEFLIN, ENTERING PROTEST ON FRANKING
By John Corrigan
Washington June 5 (Special)—Hon. J. Blair writes to Hon. J. Hefflin, congressman from Alabama, has received quite a number of letters from Georgia protesting against his use of the government frank in the Georgia campaign for governor.
Several congressmen Hefflin sent to all parts of Georgia an address extolling the good work of Hon. William J. Harris director of the census the same going out under Mr. Hefflin's frank as a member of congress. He received at once a prompt rebuke from E. H. Mason a prominent man of Brunswick which was published in the Georgia papers and since that time he has received numerous other letters of protest.

Among the last is a letter from Hon. D. W. Groover, who serves himself as a member of our census director's democratic executive committee. He is a prominent lawyer of Brunswick and former law partner of the late Senator Clay. Mr. Blair wants to know why it is that Uncle Sam is carrying all this campaign literature for Groover.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OF GEORGIA STILL ASKING PERTINENT QUESTIONS

Ask him, seems to be the motto of the Georgia Anti-Saloon league. In the past few days the league has addressed to candidates for congress for the United States senate and for governor asking them to stand for government regulation of the liquor traffic. A number of candidates for congress replied—most of them more or less evasively. The league's candidates Representative Hutchens has replied but others have not answered. Of the gubernatorial candidates Dr. J. C. Harner and Judge Nat. D. Harris are known to be prohibitionists but the Anti-Saloon league suggests that they too be asked. Other gubernatorial candidates have not been asked.

The Georgia Anti-Saloon league suggests that the direct question be put to all candidates recommending on the situation has the following to say:
United States Senatorial Race
One of the most important and interesting campaigns for the United States senate in recent years is now in progress in the state. It is peculiar in that it has been fought on old issues abandoned former enemies are fighting side by side for the same goal.

Some of the issues of importance and those few are largely disregarded. Most of the arguments for one man or against another are evaded. The league suggests that the direct question be put to all candidates recommending on the situation has the following to say:

THE STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND
FROM THE Y GRASS

SUBCOMMITTEE NOT NAMED; AWAITING CHANGE IN CHAIRMANSHIP

On the time of the acceptance by Vice Chairman W. S. West, of the state democratic committee of the duties of the chairmanship of the committee following Chairman Harris' resignation will perhaps depend the make up of the committee of seven which will have charge of the administration of the state committee's work from now until the time of the state primary August 19.

It will be recalled that the state committee at its April meeting in Atlanta authorized the appointment of such a subcommittee in view of the fact that the chairman Hon. William J. Harris as director of the census and the vice chairman, Hon. W. S. West as United States senator would necessarily be officially absent from the state most of the time before the primary. This committee will have full charge of arranging the formal details of the primary and attending to any business that might require official action pending the primary.

When Chairman Harris left Washington to enter the campaign for the governorship he announced that being a candidate he would place his resignation on the table. West has not as yet taken over the functions of the chairmanship nor indeed has he received the formal resignation.

In the meantime the subcommittee has not as yet been officially named and probably will not be until the chairman formally resigns to the vice chairman and the latter becomes the acting chairman of the committee.

How Disease Registration Prunes the Death Rate and Increases Efficiency

New York June 5 (Special)—Plans for a nation wide campaign to reduce the 3,000,000 cases of serious illness said by experts to exist at any one time in this country were set on foot in a recommendation made to the Association of Life Insurance Presidents this afternoon by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, a life insurance statistician of this city.

Dr. Dublin said that a ton on the part of the life insurance companies would be justified in the interest of their own best interest through improved health among the millions of policy holders in this country.

No important aspect of our state health work shows up so clearly as the efficiency of the registration of the preventable diseases, stated Dr. Dublin.

The life saving campaigns of the last few decades have borne fruit. The death rate has been lowered and the average span of life correspondingly lengthened. But from certain causes especially from typhoid fever, smallpox, the infectious diseases of childhood, and the diseases of the lungs, the amount of sickness on the other hand has not been controlled to any extent and the burden of disease and sickness among us. Indeed there are those who with some authority

PLAN TO IMPROVE A., B. & A. RAILROAD

Extensive Changes Will Follow Purchase of Road by Bondholders at Auction Friday Afternoon.

With the sale Friday, by court order of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, with the exception of the Birmingham terminal properties, which will be sold today the bondholders being the purchasers, extensive plans were announced for the improvement of the road.

These plans have not yet been fully formulated but include the paying off of receivers certificates and a reorganization with the election of a number of prominent Atlantans as directors. Special attention will be laid upon holding down fixed charges and the operation of the road in the interest of the territory which it serves.

E. T. Lamb, receiver for the road, will remain in charge of the road's operation under the reorganization. Mr. Lamb's handling of the road since he has been acting as receiver was highly praised by the attorneys representing the purchasers and receiver's ticket holders.

The figures at which the road was bought are only nominal and do not in any way indicate the value of the road.

The Atlanta terminal property of the road was sold at the freight depot Friday morning to the bondholders for $123,500. The road itself was sold at Ben Hill, a way station about ten miles below Atlanta, shortly after noon, to the same purchasers for $3,641,000. There was but the single bid at either sale.

The Birmingham terminal property will be sold Saturday and will be purchased by the bondholders also.

The sale was conducted by Victor Lamar Smith, the Atlanta attorney, acting as master commissioner under court appointment.

The bondholders were represented by Attorneys Bradley W. Palmer, of Boston, and William Lloyd Kitchel, of New York. The holders of receiver's certificates were represented by Attorneys George S. Franklin, of New York, and S. H. Pillsbury, of Boston. Mr. Pillsbury represented also the Old Colony Trust company of Boston which is the trustee under the mortgage on the road and which was the complainant in the court action resulting in the sale.

Upon reorganization of the road the name of the road will probably be changed. It has been suggested that the name of the road be made "The Georgia, Alabama and Western Railroad company." It has also been suggested that the word Atlanta be retained in the name making it "The Atlanta, Birmingham and Western railroad company."

HARDWICK SIDESTEPS DEBATE WITH COOPER

"I Don't Think He Wants to Meet Me," He Asserts.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 5.—(Special)—Representative T. W. Hardwick has been disappointed that his challenge to joint debate have not been accepted. He says there is only one political party in Georgia and that the talk of not stirring up party strife has no force.

Since Mr. Slaton and Mr. Felder have declined an encounter on the stump Mr. Hardwick was asked if he would meet J. R. Cooper. Mr. Hardwick replied: "I don't think he wants to meet me. He replied Mr. Cooper stated at Dublin that he would not seek a joint debate with me."

"In my letter to Mr. Slaton I stated that for five candidates to attempt a joint dispute from the same platform would make the meeting too long for anybody to want to remain to the end. In the second place Governor Slaton in his card did not assent to the records of either Cooper or Hutchens or their campaign methods therefore I thought the issues were not plainly drawn between Mr. Slaton, Mr. Felder and myself."

Representative Hardwick expects to issue a formal statement within a day or two replying to his opponents. He has an engagement to speak at Jefferson Monday morning and at Commerce that night.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO STOP BUSINESS LEGISLATION

Tennessee Manufacturers' Association Wants Early Adjournment of Congress.

Nashville Tenn., June 5.—(Special)—The Tennessee Manufacturers' association representing hundreds of the industries of the state, has taken the lead in a movement to have Congress adjourn without going further with laws affecting business interests and in this movement it is expected that every industrial commercial and mercantile organization in Tennessee will early join in the work to have Tennessee representatives in Congress use their utmost endeavor to bring the present session to a close without delay.

The members of the Tennessee Manufacturers' association through the secretary of the association have had their attention called to the Senate trade commission bill and have been asked to write their conclusions to their representatives at Washington. In view of the fact that there has already been enacted such great reform legislation as the currency bill and the tariff reduction and income tax measure it is suggested that continued legislative activity would result in keeping business depressed and withholding the revival of trade that is confidently expected under the work already accomplished.

While the movement of the manufacturers is in no sense a political affair it found something of a re-echo in the great democratic state convention that met in Nashville when the expressed views of hundreds of prominent men from over the state was that Congress should let up on further business legislation and allow the good work already done to have a chance.

Already the great industrial concerns of Tennessee are suffering greatly and this is true of the big lumber and coal companies. The latter are in no instance operating for more than two days in each week and the coal mines operated under the present tariff system is having practically no demand for its output. The big lumber concerns are many of them on the verge of suspending operations.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 119

Let Us Have Justice

"I hate, I despise your feasts—
"Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.
"But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."
---Amos 5:21-23-24.

A hotel room.
A man dead by his own hand.
Without friends in the city, he was drinking.
Beneath the windows of another hotel.
A huddled heap—a spreading stain upon the sidewalk. He, too, is dead; crushed by his fall.
He had been drinking.

THESE TWO MORE MEN HAVE THIS WEEK DIED ON THE ALTAR OF ALCOHOL AND GREED IN ATLANTA.

Their search for happiness here is over. Their bodies cry out for justice for those who live.

Who next?
This quiet crowd moving through our city's streets is also in search of happiness. Policemen are at the column's head, where walks a man bearing the American flag. They are strikers.

Look to the East! There on the city's edge, three smokestacks tower above massive buildings; a great wall surrounds them; glass and barbed wire run along its top. Above it one sees a gaunt black bridge; over it goes a group of children as the warning whistle blows; a little girl not over twelve, her pink dress fluttering against the grime, runs through a forbidding door to work.

SHE AND THEY SHOULD BE AT PLAY.

Just over the way are those who neither work nor play; they sleep in Oakland Cemetery. Graves of the living are between it and the mill—dreary, drab, monotonously the same, row after row of houses. Behind them, sanitary conditions which are a menace to the city's health.

Laborers live here. They have a grievance; underlying it are many complaints. They struck.

They say, "The Fulton Bag & Cotton Mill discharged 78 of us for joining the Union."

This the mill owners deny. But why do they refuse to have an impartial board investigate and dispose of these complaints? The strikers are willing.

YESTERDAY, MARSHALS OF OUR COURTS WERE PUTTING HOUSEHOLD GOODS INTO THE STREETS; THE STRIKERS MUST MOVE ON; THE MILLS MUST HAVE THEIR HOUSES. GOD PITY AND PROTECT THEM AND THEIR KIND!

With regard to the recent horrors in the mines of Colorado, Current Opinion says, "This, THE NEW YORK TIMES THINKS, is the lesson the coal operators in Colorado are learning. The employers, it says, are right in their stand for the 'open shop'; but in an important sense, they, too, as well as the unions, have stood for the 'closed shop,' closed against the unions. While they have employed union men, they have discouraged the unions and refused to hear the union's representatives."

"THE TIMES points to the plan under which 7,566 grievances have been settled in New York City in the garment industries since 'the Protocol of Peace' was signed in March, 1911, by which the union was recognized, but by which the right of men to contract individually as well as collectively was also recognized."

OUR AGE CALLS FOR JUSTICE TO ALL.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT REPORT upon conditions in cotton mills states that a man, having a wife and three children of 10 to 4, must earn $600.74 a year to maintain a fair standard of living. This standard does not allow savings to meet the contingency of any unusual event, such as lack of employment, or an accident to the father. It makes no provision for old age.

The report states that the minimum for such a family is $408.26. Below this for such a family is actual suffering.

Think of these figures! WHAT DOES YOUR FAMILY REQUIRE? The Fulton Bag & Cotton Mill states that its average wage is $8.00 per week. If this be true, among 1,400 employees, what of those who receive less than the average, which, providing the worker loses not a week of the 52 must amount to $416.00 per annum, providing that it is not reduced by any fines or penalties?

Mark you—the Government's figures are for a family consisting of a father and mother and three little children of 4 to 10. As these grow their demands must increase.

Think! And you will see that the presence of children, who should be in school and at play, working their lives away in mills, is not wholly due to shiftless fathers who will not work, but to the grave necessity for supporting the family life—THE LACK OF A LIVING WAGE.

THERE ARE NO PROBLEMS IN THE GRAVEYARD OVER WHICH THE THREE STACKS BELCH THEIR SMOKE, BUT THERE ARE QUESTIONS BENEATH THEIR MOVING SHADOWS WHICH GOD WILL HAVE YOU ANSWER.

The liquor problem, the question of brothels, the handling of prisoners and the living wage are all but part of the same great question. The spirit of God is abroad in the world. And men are crying for justice. In the end they will have it.

OLD DENTAL OFFICERS SERVE ANOTHER YEAR

Dr. E. A. Tigner Re-elected President of the Georgia Dental Society.

All the old officers of the Georgia Dental Society, which has been meeting at the Hotel Anscomb, were re-elected yesterday.

The officers are: Dr. E. A. Tigner, president of Milledgeville; M. D. Huff, first vice president, of Atlanta; A. A. Williams, second vice president, of Columbus; W. M. Zirkle, treasurer, of Atlanta; M. M. Forbes, secretary, of Atlanta. Executive committee, G. M. Woodbury, chairman, of Augusta; A. P. Gordy, of Columbus, and C. M. Barnwell, Jr., of Atlanta, and H. M. Johnson, journal editor, of Macon.

Dr. Henry W. Morgan, dean of the department of dentistry, at Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., delivered an instructive lecture on "Dental Education and Literature," in which he declared that a college course is not an education, but a mere beginning.

He declared that he did not believe that a student who earns his way through school could get the best out of it. A few do, he said, but they are not the leaders.

Dr. B. Holly Smith, of Baltimore, spoke on "The responsibility of members of the dental profession to those who are without opportunity for dental treatment."

The Georgia State Dental society held a business meeting previous to these addresses, and voted unanimously that the society should in the future be known as the Georgia State Dental association and that it should accept the invitation to become a competent part of the national association. The Georgia association will be lowered three delegates at the national convention, which holds next month in Rochester, N. Y., and will send the following as representatives: Dr. DeLos Hill and Dr. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, and Mr. S. B. Rambo, of Marietta.

The Georgia association endorsed the public health bill introduced by Representative Ellis from Pitt county, now pending before the Georgia legislature, to create a new health board of fifteen physicians, and recommended that at least two of the fifteen members of the board be dental surgeons.

An impressive eulogy to the late Dr. George S. Tigner, of Atlanta, was given by Dr. N. A. Tongue, of Augusta. The degree of honorarium fellowship was conferred upon Dr. M. S. Colding, of Savannah, which degree is given to those who have been members of the Georgia organization for twenty-five years. Forty new members were enrolled on the books of the state association.

The following clinics were held Friday afternoon:

"Different Forms of Attachments in Plate Work"—Dr. W. E. Lambright, Atlanta, Ga.

"Diagnosis and Treatment of Periodontal Inflammation"—Dr. W. W. Chisholm, Anderson, S. C.

"Non-Cobalt Gold Filling Using Woodruff's Foli"—Dr. B. Holly Smith, Baltimore, Md.

"Impression Taking"—Dr. D. D. Atkinson, Brunswick, Ga.

"The Callahan Method of Root Canal Filling"—Dr. C. N. Hurdick, Atlanta, Ga.

"The Callahan Method of Making Gold Inlays"—Dr. Thomas F. Hinman, Atlanta, Ga.

"Crown and Bridge Work"—Dr. H. H. Johnson, Macon, Ga.

"X-Ray Radiograph Exposed and Developed Before Each Section"—Dr. Gillespie, Elco.

At the night session Dr. T. E. Chambers, of Montezuma, Ga., delivered an interesting address on "Artistic Building of Art Dentures for Laboratory Work." Several prominent Atlanta dental surgeons will address the delegates this morning, and the convention will adjourn tonight.

The man who has to part his coat tails and wear a hat when he sits down has no business laughing at what the women wear.

SAYS HUNGER CAUSED FLIGHT FROM HOME

Pretty Girl Hurt in Escape From Martha's Home.

Cora Bolton, a pretty blonde girl 18 years old, of 721 East Fair street, is lying on a cot in a ward at the Grady hospital suffering from a wrenching back, the result of a leap from a second story window at the Martha's home, on Adamsville road, Atlanta's haven for wayward girls.

Miss Bolton sobbed a pitiful story to a Constitution reporter Friday afternoon as to why she and two girl inmates were led to escape from the home.

May Pleas and Zurella Pittman were her two companions, and the three girls made their escape from a second story window about 9 o'clock last Tuesday night.

Miss Bolton said that the three planned to escape Tuesday night shortly after supper had been served to them. She stated that two other girls were in the plot, but that they failed to make their escape.

She stated that the reason they wanted to get away from the Martha's home was because they were being fed on "rules and hot air."

Not Enough to Eat.

Miss Bolton declared that for supper

Tuesday night there were only four loaves of bread for twenty-three girls and five cans of salmon and ice water. There was toast for three teachers, but she said she and her four companions were forced to eat bread crumbs that had been laid aside for several days to feed the chickens.

After supper they were so hungry, she said, that they formulated the plot to escape.

The girls made good their escape, but Miss Bolton, on account of injuring her back, was forced to go to the home of her mother on East Fair street, near the hospital.

Serving Two Weeks' Sentence.

She declared that she would not under any conditions return to the Martha's home, where she had been sent to serve a two weeks' sentence in place of the stockade.

The other two girls have made good their escape, but their names and descriptions of the flight that is being furnished the Atlanta police, who are searching for the runaway girls.

SHOWS THE VALUE OF GREATER TECH OF J. B. McCrary Declares That State Will Profit Greatly by Giving Institution Proper Assistance.

J. B. McCrary, of the J. B. McCrary company, in a speech made yesterday at the luncheon meeting at the Piedmont hotel, not only explained why the business men of Atlanta and of Georgia should and will support the greater Tech movement, but gave concrete examples to prove his case.

"The idea of combining a school for experimental research appeals to me, for the reason that it is the only way to take advantage of the opportunities that lie in the state for us. And it is simply a debt that we owe to Georgia Tech to support the movement."

"I recently attended a meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science. There it was pointed out that Georgia is the richest of the states in bauxite, from which alum is made, and that the process for its manufacture is extremely simple. The only other product used is sulphuric acid and at Ducktown we have the cheapest acid in the world, yet we send our bauxite out of the state for the manufacture of alum."

"An example of the value of research work is the history of the discovery of carborundum and artificial graphite. A man named Acheson went into the Edison laboratory as an employee, and there in his spare moments made experiments. Almost by accident he produced a substance by his experiments which would scratch glass. Later he found that it would set and be a diamond. His experiments gave us carborundum."

"Later he formed a company for its manufacture, but lost his control of it. Remembering a certain feature of the experiment as an employee, he went back and there in his spare moments made experiments and produced artificial graphite."

"In Germany this work of experimental research is being carried on extensively. The result is a matter of common knowledge. The carrying out of this idea at Tech will be the greatest thing imaginable for the state, and I believe that after this year the state will be able to endow this institution."

J. B. McCrary company, it has been announced, will be one of the large contributors to the Tech fund. McCrary has been further into his experiments and produced artificial graphite."

"From eight of the nine men visited they secured donations, and Mr. McCrary has been further into his experiments and produced artificial graphite."

"The attendance at the luncheon meeting was almost double that of the dinner. The meeting was interesting, and Saturday's meeting promises to be the most successful yet. It is important that the public be made aware of the value of the institution, and a full attendance, not only of the chairmen of the committees, but of the committee men is urged."

OLD CHURCH DESTROYED BY SUFFRAGETTE BOMB

Continued From Page One. she threw herself on her knees before King George and Queen Mary. Officials of the palace today were on the verge of nervous prostration as the result of last night's scene, and Lord Chamberlain's department has taken every precaution to circumvent any attempt to repeat it tonight when another function will take place at Buckingham palace.

Persons in the immediate vicinity at the time declare that the whole scene lasted less than ten seconds, and that the woman had only time to ejaculate audibly "Your Majesties—for God's sake!" when she was hustled out of the throne room, finishing the sentence as she went.

It is understood no further action will be taken against Miss Blomfield except to bar her from future court functions.

Discussions shown by militants to the King and the burning of many churches have inflamed public opinion to a remarkable degree. People have been still further incensed by the behavior of the woman who was present at the time. Her conduct has been a disgrace to the cause of the women's social and political union.
