CRISIS ADMITTED BY WASHINGTON.
Washington, June 15.—Government officials admitted tonight that there was a crisis in the Mexican mediation conference at Niagara Falls over the selection of men to represent the proposed provisional government. They however still seemed confident that the conditions presented would be met.

Position of United States.
It was stated officially that the United States had been proceeding in its dealings with the mediators at Niagara Falls on the basis that there could be no solution of the Mexican problem unless the warring factions would be brought to terms by mediation in the Mexican internal conflict during the last few months it was pointed out had made it apparent that the Huerta government could not survive in the absence of mediation and that there could be no provisional government worthy of the name which did not recognize the revolutionists. To satisfy the constitutionalists the Washington government was declared to realize that the man to succeed Huerta must be one in whom the Carranzistas would have confidence.

PHOTOGRAPHERS GATHER IN ATLANTA

One of Largest and Most Interesting Conventions in Atlanta's History Opens at the Auditorium.

At last the poor old family album has come into its own. By the token of the exhibit of the Photographers' Association of America at the Auditorium-Armory, it is no longer a mere promoter of matrimony, a shelter for clasped hands and the target of ribald jesters. It has taken a new lease on life and is something really to be looked at.

The picture of Big Sister no longer suggests to her sweetheart the image of a wooden Indian, but her face is full of wonderful shadows and lights, and she is in the act of doing something—playing the piano, gazing pensively through the window, or, perhaps, if she has been good to her, she is giving a charming imitation of a wood-nymph.

JUNE MONEY SHEET PASSED BY COUNCIL

$27,000 Additional Is Provided to Meet the Deficit Caused by Tax Revenues Falling Short.

The June appropriation carrying an additional $27,000 to meet the deficit caused by tax revenues falling short of anticipated increase was approved by council yesterday afternoon after considerable parley.

In order to carry out the Butler and Highland avenue sewer projects, the bond commission, through Chairman Fletcher Quillen, offered a resolution authorizing the commission to place $25,000 of the fourth ward bond money to the credit of Butler and Highland sewers and gave an additional $2,000 from the engineer's contingent fund, making the total for the sewer work $52,000 instead of $50,000, which the fourth ward had a week ago.

Changes were made as follows: Under the provisions of this intended amendment the city and general fund have absolute authority to continue any work, gutters or street pavement or sidewalk. The mayor and council are the sole authority as to whether such improvement is worth out or not.

COUNCIL'S ACTION RAPPED BY MAYOR

I received this amendment as the most vicious piece of legislation presented to me, and despite the fact that council has seen fit to adopt it over my veto I am going before the committee of the legislature and ask for its defeat.

Major Woodward says the amendment will work in favor of contractors and against property owners. He believes that the city should not condemn streets or other improvements except by property owners' petitions.

THE LOCALS are in an ideal position to make a race of it now. They're only one game behind the leaders, and with a flock of home games right in a row, they ought to make it extremely interesting for the game in front of them.

THE PROSPECTS.

THE CHANGES of the locals rest mainly with the pitching staff. The offense is as good if not better than any team in the league.

ANY TEAM that carries five such hitters as McConnell, Kirtner, Long, Welchance and Jennings, who are due to hit 200 or better, and three such hitters as Elbel, Flanagan and Tyree, who save their blows for the pinches, is due to finish high up in the pennant race.

AMERICAN POLOISTS CHANGE LINE-UP

Devereux Milburn Goes to Back and Larry Waterbury Shifts to Number 3 for Today's Game.

Hempstead, N. Y., June 15.—Following the rain of early morning and clearing skies the polo enthusiasts tonight predicted a fast field for the second game of the international cup match tomorrow on the Meadowbrook field. Light practice was indulged in by both the American and British teams when the sun came out late today.

The members of Lord Wimborne's challenging team, who have one leg on the cup as a result of the defeat of the Meadowbrook four last Saturday, were in fine fettle.

The Americans today reconstructed their line-up for tomorrow's game. The personnel of the four remains the same, but Larry Waterbury has been shifted from the No. 2 position to Devereux Milburn from No. 3 to his old position at back.

The Englishmen tonight said they hoped they would win tomorrow, but would make no predictions.

"DIVING VENUS" FILM THRILLS BIG CROWDS

Atlanta Enjoying Sensational "Movie" at Half the Price Charged in New York.

Despite the inclement weather of last night, all moving picture records were smashed at the Grand theater yesterday when "Neptune's Daughter," a big Universal feature drama starring Annette Kellermann, was presented to four capacity audiences.

The remarkable success of the picture, however, came right on the heels of a clash between New York and Atlanta officials that is likely to result in an organization of Atlanta movie managers to prevent increase in prices.

L. Friedberger, manager of "Neptune's Daughter," assisted upon raising the Grand's scale of admission to 50 cents. A protest was made by Manager Hearn. He refused to lift the scale on account of the theater's policy. Friedberger threatened to remove the big feature Lessee Jake Wells was communicated with in New York. Upon threatening to refuse to book the film in any of his chain of theaters, in all of which it is already scheduled, Friedberger compromised upon an admission price of 15 and 25 cents—15 cents matinee, 25 for night performances.

The Universal film concern has already booked a number of big features into the Grand, but, by wire last night, advised the management that last night's difficulty would not interfere with the coming of the other features.

The argument for the proposed raise in prices was the fact that at the Globe theater, in New York, where "Neptune's Daughter" is now running after an uninterrupted run of three months, the admission scale is 50 cents.

"Neptune's Daughter" is the biggest film feature that has ever come south. It created astonishment at the wonderful progress of the moving picture drama. The seven reels are replete with dramatic and scenic beauty. A number of scenes are staged five fathoms beneath the surface of the water.

DAMS—WITH AN N.

The Associated Press breaks to an exasperated and perspiring country the news that congress may indefinitely prolong its sessions because of "a general dam bill and five conservation bills. Opposition to the dam bill" is crystallizing, the report explains and the gleeful windjammers may require many weeks to ventilate their views.

Yes, it is d—n with a vengeance and d—n with an "n," with the wornout business men of the country, and with every other class of citizenry that understands the situation and knows where to place the responsibility. If the little expletive is translated into a political hurricane next fall these precious faddists who are delaying adjournment with measures that could just as well be considered next winter will have to shoulder the blame.

Ever since the first year of the Taft administration congress has kept business on the grill. With the incoming of the Wilson administration, the pressure has been redoubled. Tariff and currency reform and the repeat of the canal subsidy typify splendid legislative achievement. But—the country is ready to stop now, at least for awhile.

It is impossible for business to swing back to normal, when a congress as vacillating and erratic as a bucking broncho persists in radiating uncertainty and alarms from the national capital. The basis of prosperity, the promise of the crops, is sound and buoyant. But no one will take a step forward or plan for business expansion as long as the pall of uncertainty hangs over the nation.

The 'dam bill attitude of congress is typical. It piddles away all summer while business stagnates. There are a few clear heads—but taken as a whole, congress seems to have served notice that so far as it is concerned "business may be d—ned."

THE SPIEL EMBARGO

Representative Britten, republican, of Illinois would put an embargo upon the spilling of pay proclivities of cabinet officers and congressmen at least while congress is in session. He is the author of a bill which makes it a penal offense for any government employee to take money for lectures so long as his duties demand his attention.

It is the measure had not been so obviously and viciously aimed at Bryan, it would be possible to commend its principle as admirable. The Constitution is on record as doubting the propriety of the Nebraskan's course. His energetic statesmanship of recent months has entitled him to a cessation of the baiting and nagging rather generally directed toward him. Almost the entire speech of Britten was hung upon the alleged transgressions of the secretary of state.

Members of the house and senate, and of the cabinet, are altogether too prone to take money from the government and money from lecture promoters, while congress is in session or important departmental business is pending. None of them go into office unless they are familiar with its compensations, and whether or not they can afford the luxury of being a public servant. If it is beyond their means, no one is begging them to display patriotism at a sacrifice. But when the people pay a salary, they are entitled to as full services as the corporation that does so. As a business principle, it is difficult to evade that fact. Congress is glutted with politicians who not only lecture on the "public time," but who also neglect the public business while they come home and campaign for re-election. The principle is wrong. The Britten measure will not be complete, unless it carries a proviso to the effect that a congressman's pay automatically stops the moment he absents himself, unless from sickness or some cause unavoidable in Providence. If a man in private life campaigned on "company time" the "pink slip" would come his way in a hurry.

WHO'S ASLEEP HERE?

George W Taylor of the Tenth Ward Improvement club thanks The Constitution for breaking the slumbers of the authorities with regard to the Whitehall street paving and in a communication published today, requests the same service with regard to Stewart avenue.

Mr Taylor says that within the city limits Stewart avenue is well impassable and has been in that condition for two years.

Who's asleep with regard to Stewart avenue?

This is among the distinctly important thoroughfares in the city.

It is a feeder of traffic to Whitehall street and it collects traffic from Whitehall to prominent city outposts to the south.

It has developed rapidly during recent years and is now lined with residences almost to the corporate limits.

These taxpayers have paid for, deserve and demand transportation facilities they are not receiving.

Local traffic is only a part of the burden on Stewart avenue.

The rural traffic from three counties pours in over this road into Whitehall and on into the city.

The avenue is a favorite drive with auto motorists, since it leads out toward Hapeville and College Park by a very attractive route.

The surface of the avenue is a success sun of ruts holes and gullies.

In dry weather traffic grinds the surface to fine powder and menaces health the entire length of the avenue.

Who's asleep with regard to Stewart avenue?

Does it require a constant prod back of the municipal authorities to lead them to the tasks that are plainly their duty?

If the abuse were of recent origin there might be some excuse.

Two years have passed and, according to Taylor there is no apparent effort at remedy.

This is inexcusable.

Who's asleep with regard to Stewart avenue?

IF THEY QUARRELED

Both Carranza and Villa have been busily engaged of late in denying the ever recurrent rumor that they have had a violent quarrel with results that threaten the constitutional cause. Reports of this nature are so persistent that the unbiased mind is inclined to attach at least partial credence to them.

It is not inconceivable that the two Mexicans should come to loggerheads in all that is authentically known of them they are men of extreme types. Carranza is a diplomatist and a strategist. Villa is a fighter pure and simple, impulsive and hot headed. It is very possible that the wine of dramatic success has gone to his head and that he should chafe under restrictions imposed by the cooler Carranza or irk under demands which argue an ignorance of the military situation.

Should the two men part company the situation would be intense to put things mildly. Complications would ensue so far as the United States is concerned. For then it is reasonably certain that Carranza would practically be eliminated and that Villa would be the main factor with which future negotiations would have to reckon. Villa has shown himself sullen and reasonable by turns. If he saw an opportunity to project himself as president, an undesirable eventuality despite his strong individuality, he would be capable of making an appreciable amount of trouble.

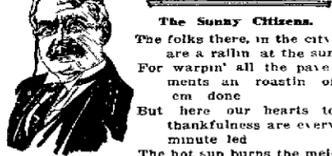

This deals more or less in speculation but it is well to remember that there are plenty of obstacles in the road before we can see our way to permanent peace in Mexico. Even should Carranza and Villa remain friends and the mediators select a satisfactory man as provisional president, pitfalls would abound for many months to come.

A HISTORIC ARMADA

President Wilson's decision to accompany the great international armada next spring, when it marks the opening of the Panama canal by sailing through that great waterway, will insure one of the most dramatic spectacles in our history. The plans now are to have the president lead the way on the biggest battleship in the navy, negotiate the canal and proceed up the Pacific to San Francisco there to participate in fitting ceremonies at the Pacific Panama exposition.

Naval authorities estimate that the ships taking part in this pageant will comprise the greatest fleet ever assembled in history. Most of the powers of consequence have signified intention to participate. The vessels will begin mobilizing at Hampton Roads next January. In March, the start will be made. The president is right in deciding to undertake the voyage. It speaks well for his recognition of historic values.

Glints at Life From Many Angles

At Shakespeare's Birthplace.

(From The London Telegraph.)
The annual meeting of the trustees and guardians of Shakespeare's birthplace was held recently at Stratford on Avon. Sir Sidney Lee presiding. The executive reported that the accessions to their property included the purchase of a copy of John Goss's New Shreds of the Old Snare a very rare book containing important and little known allusion to Shakespeare's plays.

Sir Sidney Lee remarked that their visit was during the past year they were drawn from all quarters of the globe, from different states ranging between China and Peru between Cuba and Japan. During the past year 48,450 persons visited Shakespeare's birthplace. 2,314 Anne Hathaway's cottage and 1,722 New Place.

He said that there was one direction in which they thought to be more active than they were and that was in the acquisition of early books connected with Shakespeare. Owing to the present high prices of all Elizabethan literature they can do very little with the means at their disposal. They included the purchase of a copy of John Goss's New Shreds of the Old Snare a very rare book containing important and little known allusion to Shakespeare's plays.

The First Dead.

Boy in your strand of blue.
We are so proud of you—
Slain in your splendid years.
There in the foreign street.
Slain while the years were sweet—
See all our eyes have tears!

Now rolls the muffled drum.
Mourning the martyrdom.
Boy in the strand of blue.
Smiling and unafraid.
Still in the youth attained.
We are so sad for you!

Roll toll the bitter bell.
Hearts have a grief to tell.
Dead is the boy in blue.
Dead with his dream denied.
Yet that he laughed and died.
Give him his honor due.

Give him the loud salute.
Give him the homage mute.
Boy that was brave and true.
Now while our eyes have tears.
Give him the deathless years.
Give him the glory due.

Land in Egypt $1,000 an Acre.

(From The Wall Street Journal.)
The presence in this country of Sir William Willcocks of Assouan Dam fame, and Texas Furrier rises in an event of more than ordinary significance because of its bearing upon the question of the control of flood waters. The Nile Valley irrigation works according to Sir William are to be a great benefit to the people to live on 5,000,000 acres. Land, he says in the vicinity of the Assouan Dam is worth from $50 to $1,000 an acre and they raise 500 weight of cotton on it which is worth $100. His view of our method of controlling the Mississippi is of much value because of his experience in Asia and Africa. No foreigner has more studiously read the reports of our river and harbor engineers. His main suggestions are that the levees be raised and that relief channels be provided to mitigate the strain when waters at their maximum might be carried off as a means of safety.

The Land Beyond the Gate.

We seek to look beyond the Veil.
We seek to see the Tombs.
And wonder if the passing Souls.
Dwell there in joy or gloom.

No answering pressure comes to us.
From the cold and lifeless land.
And wonder if beyond the Gate.
Of the Undiscovered Land.

Death comes not like a Monster.
Of grossly hideous men.
Nor like an Angel glorious.
With wings of silvery sheen.

But to the Soul devoid of fear.
He comes with outstretched hand,
And says: We take a journey.
To the Undiscovered Land.

And where they go we do not know—
As a only wonder where.
Do they go to the Beautiful Land of Dreams.
Do they remember there?

No message comes from the Silent Ones.
We can never hear their voices.
We only hope their lives are blest.
In the Land Beyond the Gate.

Two Disturbances Only.

A piece of fine writing as refreshing as a walk in the country is this report of the marriage of an Iowa couple.

At 7 o'clock of the wedding march scintilla of through the house like tired waves laving the shores. A mighty lake solemn it ever has such a scene been witnessed in our town. The smell of spring flowers was everywhere coming to all nostrils.

Recently there was a slight disturbance at the right hand entrance and the bride entered on the arm of her father a well known merchant.

Immediately at the opposite door was another disturbance and the bridegroom entered attended by the best man.

Then the two parties proceeded down the middle aisle meeting under a beautiful ball where two hearts were beautifully made one.

Surely a raise in pay must be coming to the society scribe who covered the event. Nowhere in literature do we recall having run across a bit of descriptive work less imitative or more unconventional.

ACHING BONES.

By GEORGE MATHEW ADAMS.
Unto the tired is immense comfort. Rewards, wealth, fame, applause, migrate the way of the human bones. Hence know how to ache. Bone ache is something to be proud of. For it means effort put forth thought physically performed. The bones of idlers never ache except through disuse.

The woeless workers there from the Aching Bones. The Mother after the day at her tub and in her home soothing the aches with a lap of boy or girl the Sall Tiller after his long day in the field the Shop Man the Errand Boy oh this is no end to the list of Aching Bones. They are the Salt and Sinew of the Earth.

But one of the greatest rewards that follow in the wake of Aching Bones is not alone the feeling that work has been well wrought but that then there is time to think and meditate.

For the human Brain has not hours. Its domes are ever open. Its soil is ever fertile. Just as soon as its servants in the body grow tired it rises up for pomp or rigorous task. The story could be written of the achievements the solved problems the battles fought and won while the Aching Bones almost forgot that they were Bones!

Be glad that you have feet. Be glad to Ache. Be glad that real flesh and blood hold this firm and that if you want to be a genuine man you can't hope to have anything else as a result of service.

DAILY GRIST STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

WAY MAY BE PAVED FOR FELDER TO RETIRE IN HARDWICK'S FAVOR

Washington D C June 15—(Special)—Stranger things have happened before and as the result of political complications now on in Georgia a strong effort may be made to force the nomination of Candidate for the Senate T S Felder for the United States district attorneyship for the southern district of Georgia to succeed Alexander Akerman the republican who has been holding on to the place with vice like grip and whose hold has been loosened only by the Constitution's repeated assaults.

Hardwick Wins Favor

Goss has had it that on date for U S Senate Congressman T W Hardwick is being with much favor upon the suggestion that Felder be pulled out of the senatorial race in order that he Hardwick may concentrate the "old slatons strength" as it is agreed here that with the three in the race slatons nomination is inevitable. Hardwick believes that if he can be pulled out of the race slatons will have some chance of winning and his friends here hope that the idea that Felder has any chance at all. They say that Felder is the third man in the race and that his continued and dandy simply interferes with Hardwick's prospects.

Felder Returns to See It

But Felder does not see the matter in that light holding that if anybody retires Hardwick and not he should make the sacrifice. The impression prevails here however that if the district attorneyship deal can be effected Felder would withdraw in Hardwick's favor.

But here's the rub' United States Senator William S West will have to be reckoned with in the confirmation of any deal of this kind and while he is as much as an oyster about it those here who know him are satisfied that he would make one of the fiercest fights ever made in the senate if such a deal should get across the throat.

The hold of the attorney general's office and pass successfully through the white house. The immemorial rule of senatorial courtesy puts Senator West in a position where his protest would be conclusive.

So it goes without saying that if any deal of this sort is on foot it will meet a stormy passage on its way through the United States senate.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA.

By GEORGE L. FITCH.
Author of "At Good Old Slawsk"
Lincoln is one of the few American cities which have been growing steadily but are not as large as they once were. Lincoln now has 45,000 people. But in 1830 when it was a mere village it contained over 50,000 inhabitants. This was because the Nebraska census enumerators of those days counted a man's first middle and last names separately and then added them up.

Lincoln is in the western part of Nebraska and fifty years ago contained a few white men and several thousand buffaloes. Both white men and buffaloes came to the salt licks which were scattered profusely over the country. The latter out and in 1870 with seven houses within its limits Lincoln demanded the state capital. As it was a large city for those days in Nebraska, its demand was granted and it has been the storm center of the struggles between Nebraska legislators and Nebraska railroad attorneys ever since. It has had a fairly peaceable political career however and there are no bullet holes in the statehouse.

Nebraska is a fine modern American city with wide streets a profusion of colleges a vast number of Burlington trains which meet each day from all parts of Nebraska and a secretary of state. Many years ago William J. Brewster chose Lincoln for his home but this was not as has been sometimes stated because Salt creek runs past the outskirts of the city. Bryan made Lincoln famous and in 1896 Lincoln men could be told by copies of The Commoner sticking from their coat pockets.

Lincoln was once peopled by the wild and woolly bad men of the west but is now peaceable except when the football rosters from the University of Nebraska celebrate a victory over Chicago. The farmer boys of Nebraska train for their football team by hustling corn from the age of 10 up and more than once the Nebraska team has thrown a pale scare into the east as far as Michigan. Lincoln would be a richer city today if it had not so faithfully upon its football team in the wrong season.

Lincoln has a state capital built during the scroll saw and hand painted period. great railroad shops, the normal blood saloons which wear halos and close right after supper, large numbers of prominent citizens with ex before their names and the Lincoln hotel in which much of the late history of Nebraska has occurred. It is one of the few cities which have defied a United States judge and have gotten away with it. When the city tried to fire a corrupt police judge in 1887 a federal judge enjoined them. But he didn't know Lincoln.

Seaboard Issues Unique Volume on Its Territory

One of the most unique and valuable in industrial publications of the current year is the 360 page compendium published by the Seaboard Air Line railway and comprising an exhaustive review of the resources and progress of the six states of its territory.

Instrumental in having this information collected and published were C R Cappee vice president and R Y Cheatham assistant freight traffic manager.

Handsome illustrations abound throughout the publication which is printed on heavy book paper and substantially bound. The intelligence shown in projecting and editing the book are tributes to the enterprize of the officials of this big property.

Atlanta Praised.

Liberal space is given to Atlanta with an historic description a clear half-tone of the city's skyline and a concise summary of its commercial importance.

Other Georgia towns and cities are handled with proportionate attention. To glance through the book is to get in touch with the achievements and possibilities of the rich territory through which the Seaboard operates.

An extremely valuable feature is the list of industries along the line enumerated with a precision that leaves nothing to be desired.

A chapter is also devoted to information for shippers covering broad points business men should know but often have difficulty in finding without long and hard search.

An Unusual Book

The publication is almost unique in its particular field. Few southern railroads have done more than to issue casual periodicals or bulletins.

Here at one sweep is a review of six states ample accurate and so interestingly written as to command attention from start to finish.

Impassable Condition of Stewart Avenue Draws An Indignant Protest

Editor Constitution Through the columns of your paper it would appear that you have brought an end to the unnecessary delay in the finishing of the work on Whitehall street and relieving that thoroughfare of the deplorable condition it has been in for several months.

Every good citizen who travels this street should be very thankful to you for your aid. The public officials certainly are charged with the responsibility of keeping the thoroughfares of the city and county in the best possible condition.

In this connection I want to call your attention to the almost impassable condition of Stewart avenue within the city limits and this condition has existed for the last two years. The city council has appropriated at various times funds with which to repair this street but all that has ever been done within the last two years is that the street car company has filled up a few of the impassable holes between their rails about every six months.

This is one of the most important thoroughfares leading into the city and as you are aware serves the traveling public from three different counties coming into the city. The Tenth Ward Improvement club will appreciate your assistance in getting relief for this important thoroughfare.

JUDGE NAT HARRIS DELIVERS ADDRESS AT CARTERSVILLE

Cartersville Ga. June 15.—(Special) Judge Nat E. Harris, who forty-four years ago went out from this county as an abolitionist, today came before the people here today and in a most eloquent speech asked them to support him for governor of the state. A large crowd gathered in the courtroom at the noon recess hour to hear him.

His address was one of intense interest and the eloquence for which the Macon jurist is noted was used with telling effect upon his hearers. Judge Harris failed to indulge in any criticisms of his rivals. He did create a mild sensation however when he went into the question of a rumor that had been sent from this county as alleged by one of his opponents declaring that he had at one time supported one of General Sherman's opponents against the General.

This statement declared Judge Harris was sent out for the purpose of carrying a split in the ranks of his comrades the Confederate veteran and he denounced it as an absolute falsehood. He further worked himself into the good graces of the people of this county by his stand upon the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Some live wide awake contestants in each district can now get out and win an automobile if he or she will only make the proper effort. This does not mean that all of the other districts have the very strongest candidates and that much has been done in them—it just means that very little has been done in the districts named. Those who may enter the contest now living in other districts can do so with good chances of winning an automobile. It depends altogether on the efforts made by the candidate. Send in your name and make a beginning today while there is yet time. It is worth the attempt. Do not hesitate longer take the field today. It is not crowded and the way seems clear to the very highest award on this prize list.

$25,270 in Prizes

There are thirteen automobiles ranging in value from $1,150 to $2,525 and nine Ludden & Bates self player pianos.

Several times of late this department has been asked to suggest persons about obtaining subscriptions. This is a large order but about the most important advice that can be given is for the candidate to determine to get subscribers and then follow up that determination with personal effort in spite of all obstacles which may arise.

Not Too Late to Enter.

It is by no means too late to enter this contest. In fact, right now is an exceedingly good time to send in your name and began an active campaign.

For every club of 25 worth of new subscriptions turned in or mailed to this office by midnight June 20 a certificate for one hundred thousand additional votes will be issued. These clubs may be composed of new subscriptions for three and six months as well as yearly subscriptions. At this rate one club of 25 worth of new subscriptions will amount to nearly two hundred and fifty (250,000) thousand votes, two clubs of approximately 200,000 votes (three clubs of 25 each) will amount to nearly seven hundred and twenty thousand.

Most any energetic aggressive candidate can get out and secure a million votes a day between now and June 20. Now is the time to begin active work and continue right on until the close of the contest. After the close of this special bonus period no other bonus offer will be made. It is therefore to the advantage of each and every candidate to secure all the new subscriptions possible during this week.

SEX LECTURES IN THE SCHOOLS

Mrs. Young Tells Clubwomen Lectures Have Done Good in Chicago—Mrs. Pennybacker to Be Elected.

Chicago June 15.—Ella Flagg Lounsbery, told delegates to the biennial session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs that sex lectures to the school children was a success.

The girls enlightened left the lecture halls with uplifted chins in consciousness of the womanhood that was in them instead of with the smirks of ignorance declared Mrs. Young who is superintendent of Chicago public schools.

Mrs. Young said that when it became apparent that public sentiment demanded the teaching of personal hygiene—it is not called sex hygiene in the schools here—she was reluctant to take the responsibility but listened to the lectures before they were made public and became convinced of their value.

They teach respect for the body she said and this respect will solve the problem of personal hygiene.

By Mrs. Walter T. Sumner, the next speaker pleaded for a higher standard of morality for the male and drew pictures of the misery brought about by men who have their fling before setting down with some pure woman.

Tonight presidents of state federations or their representatives in three minute talks spoke of the greatest needs of their states.

Nominations were made at the morning session and as no opposing ticket was named from the floor Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker will be re-elected president tomorrow.

The advance of the suffragists was again reflected at today's session when Miss Mary Garrett Hay of New York was nominated as a director. Miss Hay is president of a big suffrage organization in New York and known as a vigorous worker for equality at the polls.

Other Nominations

Other nominations were: First vice president Mrs. Samuel E. Smith, Tiffin, Ohio; Second vice president Miss Georgia A. Bacon, Worcester, Mass.; Recording secretary Mrs. Harry L. Keefe, Waltham, Neb.; Corresponding secretary Mrs. Eugene Reilly, Charlotte, N. C.; Treasurer Mrs. William E. Williams, La Foe, Mich.; Auditor Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Salt Lake City, Utah; Directors Mrs. William E. Andrews, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. William Harper, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Grace J. Clark, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Francis D. Everett, Highland Park, Ill.; Mrs. Frank C. Valley, City, N. D.; and Mrs. W. Brooks Young, Jacksonville, Fla.

Some of the delegations, as their states were recognized in singing the national songs. Several states joined in Dixie but the leader pitched the key so high that some of the tones became squeaks. The delegates laughed unreservedly and Mrs. Pennybacker said:

Dixie had gotten too far north. When nominations from the floor were made for Mrs. Reilly as second vice president by Mrs. Graham of Louisiana but Mrs. Reilly declined saying she preferred to abide by the committee's action.

Home economics and public health were the subjects of the day's sessions as outlined in the program. Eugenic sanitation, pure food legislation, tuberculosis and compulsory vaccination were among the leading topics.

For Birth Registration

Miss Julia Lathrop, head of children's bureau, of the department of labor made a strong plea for compulsory registration of every birth.

Legal record of birth is the only means of preserving the lives and rights of children and no American baby should be deprived of that right. She said. Only by prompt registration can nurses and doctors discover the children who most need care. It is only thus that we can stamp out blindness of the newly born.

Some live wide awake contestants in each district can now get out and win an automobile if he or she will only make the proper effort. This does not mean that all of the other districts have the very strongest candidates and that much has been done in them—it just means that very little has been done in the districts named. Those who may enter the contest now living in other districts can do so with good chances of winning an automobile. It depends altogether on the efforts made by the candidate. Send in your name and make a beginning today while there is yet time. It is worth the attempt. Do not hesitate longer take the field today. It is not crowded and the way seems clear to the very highest award on this prize list.

Science in the Home

A plea for the utilization of scientific knowledge acquired in ten years and its direct application to household affairs was made today by Miss Helen Louise Johnson of Cincinnati, chairman of the home economics committee in her report.

The mighty strides which have been made by women their achievements as leaders in the world and the part they have played and must play in civilization were reviewed by Miss Johnson who declared:

There is too much static learning too little dynamic utilization of all we have learned in the lives of world workers.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Oscar McGinty Is Shot Dead From Behind—Escaped Convict Suspected.

Columbus Ga. June 15.—(Special)—Oscar McGinty, a young white farmer while driving along a country road three miles east of the city this morning was shot dead from behind through the head by someone unknown and instantly killed. The 27 caliber bullet hit the back of his head. Two negroes and a white man have been arrested in connection with this case but no confession have been made and it is believed now that the white man had nothing to do with it.

An escaped negro convict from Tallapoosa county is believed to have been the one who fired the fatal shot. The negro escaped Sunday and late in the afternoon he was seen at the town of Springs stealing at least three 25 cent coins and a lot of ammunition. This man was charged at the time for some distance toward Columbus and the posse fired at him just on the edge of swamp. The white man was shot to lose from his belt by one of the posse. He escaped into the swamp.

The Tuskegee county grand jury meets this morning and will probably make an investigation of the murders.

Mr. Hamlin now assistant secretary of the treasury was chosen to be the president of the National Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association. Mr. Hamlin is now assistant secretary of the treasury.

The nominations of the members of the reserve board to the banking and currency committee. Although there may be some opposition to the men proposed there is little doubt that they will be confirmed. It is said that night Assistant Secretary W. P. Malburn, who now has charge of customs in the treasury department probably would be advanced to succeed Mr. Hamlin.

Hamlin Expert in Finance

Mr. Hamlin is an expert in finance who served as assistant secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland and returned to the treasury department soon after President Wilson took office as the assistant secretary in charge of customs. The appointment of John Skelton Williams to be comptroller of the currency left Mr. Hamlin in charge of the treasury fiscal affairs and Mr. Hamlin was appointed to that place which put him logically in line for promotion to the secretary's office itself.

President Wilson it is said has been reluctant to appoint Mr. Hamlin to the treasury board because he is a lawyer and Mr. Miller an economist now assistant secretary of the interior.

WRITES OBITUARY, THEN SEEKS DEATH Capt. Ernest West, Soldier and Scholar, Sends Bullet Into Forehead in Hotel at Chattanooga.

Captain Ernest E. West, soldier and officer, well known in Atlanta, naval instructor at Georgia Tech and Boys' High school, was discovered shortly before 2 o'clock Monday morning at the station at Chattanooga, Tenn., lying in a pool of blood from a bullet wound in his forehead.

Close by was a revolver from which three cartridges had been discharged, only one of which had been taken effect, and there later reported to be in a perilous condition.

Shortly after the arrival at the Chattanooga station, the news of his sensational attempt to suicide, the mail brought a letter from Captain West, dated June 12, 1914, and written from Chattanooga, Tenn., in which he stated that he had written an obituary for himself.

It set forth the details of his varied and checkered career. An accompanying note read: "Editor Atlanta Constitution: I enclose herewith an obituary for myself which I request you to retain on file for such use as may WEST."

In the obituary the author tacitly seeks to explain his state of mind, declaring that he had been a nervous wreck for two years. He carefully conceals any hint of his intention to end his life, but forecasts an explanation of his suicidal death when it would take place.

In the Atlanta newspapers the life history of Captain West has been aired time and time again. The final culmination of his troubles is remembered in this city in his divorce suit, which shocked the Atlanta society.

Mrs. West is an Atlanta woman, the daughter of Mrs. John H. Jones, 416 Courtland street. In her suit Mrs. West alleged even that her husband had attempted to kidnap their 9-year-old son, Ernest Red West.

On West's last visit to Atlanta he engaged in a lively fight with his in-law, who accused him of entering her home for the purpose of again kidnaping his son, and said that he beat her mercilessly when she frustrated with attempts. Police cases of assault and disorderly conduct were docketed against him.

To preserve the peace West was placed under bond of $2,500, awaiting trial, and the cases are still pending. Here is an obituary notice:

Captain West's obituary follows: Captain Ernest E. West was born in Rome, Ga., in 1867, where he was educated in private schools. In a seventh congressional district competitive examination in the fall of 1888, with the appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, from which he was graduated at the middle of his class in 1888.

A year afterwards he resigned. He took up the profession of teaching and meanwhile studied law and was admitted to practice in the courts of Georgia.

Just as he quit teaching, the Spanish-American war broke out and he volunteered. His services were accepted and, during the war he was navigator of one of the United States gunboats, and saw service in Cuba and Porto Rico.

For his efficiency in his assignment he was during the war, twice recommended for promotion. After the war he entered the United States marine corps and during his service in that corps, he served three terms in the Philippines and was promoted to the rank of fleet marine officer of the Asiatic fleet.

In July, 1913, he was recommended for retirement for diseases contracted in line of duty, but the secretary of the navy, by the new policy, kept him on the active list and granted him sick leave. He has been in hospital for over two years with nervous prostration, due to dysentery contracted at Guam, overwork and tropical service.

While teaching, he wrote "The Twentieth Century Aristocrat," a work highly praised and adopted in many schools. During his military service he specialized in court-martial work and initiated numerous needed reforms in court-martial procedure and in naval prison maintenance.

In the Philippines he was a provost judge during the capture of Manila and was specially commended for the conduct of his court by Major General Elwell Otis, S. A. At Guam he drew up the Criminal Code which is now in force on that island, and was also a judge while on duty there.

He was a deep thinker and an omnivorous reader, especially of philosophical works, his favorite philosopher being Herbert Spencer. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and in Atlanta he studied theology for one year under Rev. G. B. Strickler. He was an athletic athlete, his specialty being tennis. At the Naval Academy and in Atlanta he took part in many athletic and other exhibitions. While a professor at the Georgia School of Technology he organized the first football team of the south and was its captain and halfback.

DR. MADDOX, DYING, ABSOLVED AVENGER OF BROTHER'S DEATH

Miller, Ga., June 15.—(Special.)—The dying request of Dr. T. H. Maddox, killed here yesterday by Robert Berry after the physician had killed an elderly brother, Henry Berry, will have much to do to mitigate the case against Robert Berry, who was jailed at Zebulon.

"Tell him I am his friend and he is mine," the doctor is reported to have said just before he died, referring to the younger Berry. "He could not have done less under the circumstances."

Young Berry is heartbroken over the double tragedy which all arose over a trivial quarrel about paying for a banana which the doctor picked up and ate in the brother's grocery store.

CURRENTS OF BLOOD REVERSED BY SURGEONS

Richmond, Va., June 15.—Surgeons here are watching closely the effect of a rare operation performed upon F. D. Luck, age 38, a railroad man. The arteries of his right leg becoming choked by an overgrowth of their walls, and amputation because of gangrene being advised, the surgeons opened the patient's thigh and reversed the blood currents by turning the arterial blood into the veins, and vice versa. The dying low leg seems to be coming very slowly back to normal.

CROPS BADLY DAMAGED BY WIND AND HAILSTORM

Savannah Auto Tourists Declare They Saw Trees Skipping Like Goats.

Dublin, Ga., June 15.—(Special.)—Two severe hailstorms visited this section this afternoon, causing much damage to crops. In the neighborhood of Eagle, Laurens county, cotton and corn were damaged badly, a path 2 miles wide was swept clean. Trees blown down across the railroad track delayed a Western and Atlantic train until the obstruction could be removed.

A hail and windstorm at Adrian, in Emanuel county, did much damage to crops, cotton especially. A high wind blew down trees and fences. The auto party on a run from Savannah to Columbus was caught just out of Adrian and got a good wetting, while the lightning played on trees near them and the trees skipped around like goats, they say. No one was hurt.

Rich's Good Morning!

There's Money in Pocket for you for the rest of June

ABOUT the first of June New York wholesalers and importers clear their shelves to get ready for fall business.

—With the largest May business in our history behind us, we were free to go into open market and buy with ready cash wherever qualities and prices justified. The result is this splendid lot of values before you—with more to come.

—If more merchants would profit by market conditions to get

ROOSEVELT ATTACKED BY PARKER AND TAFT

Parker Practically Calls the Colonel a Traitor—Taft Scores Judicial Recall.

New Haven, Conn., June 15.—Seathing criticism of Theodore Roosevelt's attitude in the Pennsylvania coal strike, as outlined recently by the ex-president, was made by Judge Alton B. Parker, once a candidate for the presidency, in addressing the graduating class at the Yale law school today.

"Something is radically wrong in the mental processes of the electorate," said Judge Parker, "or else patriotism is at its last gasp when, with hardly a whisper of protest, a retired chief executive may brag to representatives of the people of his reasonable scheme to intrude upon state rights, and violate otherwise the fundamental law, by establishing a military receivership over coal mines pending a strike, and without a suspicion of decent shame that he had well considered this his offense might be impeachable if committed—impeachable, of course, only because the acts planned would have been unconstitutional and lawless.

"Our forbears, clear of head and far of sight, anticipated just such vicious attacks by those in power and sought to insure to us a government of laws, and not of men, and through their wisdom such a government is ours. For a little vigilance.

"The duty and opportunity of vigilance rests not alone upon federal and state officials," said the speaker, "not alone upon the courts, but primarily and most fully upon the men with the ballots, and most heavily upon the legal profession, because lawyers are well qualified to appreciate the necessity for law, and understand how imperative it is that the necessary law be respected and obeyed.

"The duty and opportunity to stand ever ready to do battle against every enemy of constitutional law and constitutional liberty, because you are young, because the country needs such service from you, and because, as lawyers, you will have a special honor to faithfully serve in the constitutional army."

ROOSEVELT POLICIES ATTACKED BY TAFT.

Cambridge, Mass., June 15.—The unabridged exercise of limitations upon the action of a majority of the electorate, now interposed by vested prerogatives of the supreme court and by the machinery of judicial review, was denounced by former President William Howard Taft before members of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity of Harvard university today. The subject of the oration was "The supreme court of the United States and popular self-government."

Mr. Taft's defense of the limitations had immediate reference to changes made by certain policies of the government, which he said, "are not to qualify existing personal and property rights and increase governmental control of the individual, but to attack the recall of judicial decisions.

"Basing his argument that the constitutional and judicial restrictions to impulsive action of the polls were not inconsistent with popular government, upon English governmental development, Mr. Taft said:

"The enduring character of the English government and of the governments that have been derived from it, is to be traced in this training of the minority to be good losers, and the quality of being good losers will not persist in minorities, unless majorities exercise their majority powers."

Mr. Taft attacked the trades unions for their championing of the Clayton bill pending before congress, extending them from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and for their support of the strikers in Colorado.

"The fund," he said, "many labor organizations insisting that the arm of the courts be weakened so that lawless violence on their part may be an effective instrumentality to gain their industrial ends. Indeed, we find actual rebellion by certain trades unions and supported by contributions openly solicited from their sympathizers in the country over."

CARRANZA GUARDS FOREIGN PROPERTY

Saltitillo, Mexico, June 15.—(Via Laredo, Texas.) In answer to representations made by the Spanish ambassador through the American state department, that six carloads of hidden contraband at Juarez had been seized and the property of foreigners be confiscated for any reason whatever. He also ordered the seizure of all contraband belonging to Americans south of the Rio Grande.

Colonel Emilio Salinas, that minor leader who takes goods without paying duties, has been ordered to answer to a request made by the German ambassador through the American state department, given at Guadalajara in the event of a battle, which is expected, General Carranza has instructed the legion to protect all foreigners to the utmost.

AMERICANS ACCUSED BY HUERTA GENERALS

Mexico City, June 15.—General Ignacio Morelos Zaragoza, who commanded the federal garrison which evacuated Tampico, said in an interview here today:

"All the foreign colonies at Tampico but the American were friendly to the federal troops. From the Victoria hotel, where a large number of Americans resided, some shots were fired on our soldiers. A search of the building brought eight rifles and a large quantity of cartridges.

"I have proof that the rebels intended to fire on the American colonies, but was not accomplished because some American gave the word to the rebels that they were not to fire, and were exhausted.

"When General Pablo Gonzales attacked Tampico he used two dead pieces that I know belonged to the American warships anchored in the harbor."

SOLDIERS OF HUERTA DERIDE U. S. TROOPS

Vera Cruz, June 15.—The arrival of a thousand reinforcements for the command of General Rubio Navarrete, at San Francisco, 20 miles from Vera Cruz, and the reports of the aggressiveness on the part of Mexican scouting parties have increased the vigilance of the outpost garrison of the American lines. For several days Mexicans have been riding ahead of their lines in some cases coming within a hundred yards of the American posts and indulging in gestures of derision.

The best estimates that can be obtained by Brigadier General Funston places the total number of Huertistas at not less than 3,000. The Mexicans continue to fortify their positions around San Francisco.

SHAW LAUDS AMERICANS FOR VERA CRUZ WORK

Charlottesville, Va., June 15.—Speaking at the commencement celebration of the Washington and Lee University societies of the University of Virginia tonight, Dr. Albert Shaw, of New York, praised the courage and heroism of the Americans since their occupation of Vera Cruz.

"Whatever might be felt or said here, the American people are to be congratulated as if by magic under the direction of our trained officials. And this would seem to live to the credit of the American future mission we might have in the troubled country to the southwest of us. Hence, our wise institutions of health and education can, in due time, bring Mexico into some fulness of life.

"The conditions would seem to point not to annexation, but to a more or less temporary relationship of protection and oversight by means which we could help the Mexicans to find peace, order and justice, while also aiding them to apply the intensive forms of domestic statesmanship which are resulting in Porto Rico and the Philippines and which we have exemplified for the moment at Vera Cruz."

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forrest.) Rich or poor you really can't afford—provided that you are a married man—to miss the clever plotter headliner in the bill this week, entitled "Wives of the Rich."

It tells the story of the man who neglects his wife and suffers the dread consequence. It brings to mind the words of the old song "You will miss me just too late, when my love has turned to hate."

And the lesson is there for every man to learn—yes, even for the bachelor, for some day he may get the error of his ways—that he who fails to give his helpmate that kind and loving care he bestowed upon her before marriage, may some time find that where he was negligent, some other man was very attentive.

And if there ever was the role of a wife portrayed upon the stage (I will worth the loving as Miss Lulu Lytle, Atlanta, seemed to me to have been aware of it, judging from the whistles and comments of both men and women on Monday afternoon. In the part of the husband, George Gillinger, the man who neglected his wife, had a good through a dream was warned in time of his folly was superb. In serious as well as in tragic lines he starred.

There are some good acts on the bill well in with considerable attention, and as much or more space. For instance there are the old favorites Genaro and Lino, and O'Donnell, peers of all numbers and bumps, close the bill. It is a great act. The show opens with a fair number entitled "The Dragon and the Owl," a contortion novelty, and next comes "Those Three Virginia Girls," the songs they offer have been favorites for many a year, but the number fails to get over the footlights as a success.

Then, and it would be well to put every letter of these names in capitals, the Bowman Brothers. They are the laugh scream of the entire bill. When you get through laughing with them, you feel a thousand times better than when you entered the theater. Lano and O'Donnell, peers of all numbers and bumps, close the bill. It is a great act. The show opens with a fair number entitled "The Dragon and the Owl," a contortion novelty, and next comes "Those Three Virginia Girls," the songs they offer have been favorites for many a year, but the number fails to get over the footlights as a success.
