

MEXICAN TENSION GREATLY LESSENER BY GREAT BRITAIN

United States Will Not Be Asked to Use Force as a Result of the Killing of Benton.

AMERICAN ATTITUDE TO BE MORE AGGRESSIVE

President Wilson, British Minister and Sir Lionel Carden Go Over Entire Situation.

CARRANZA NAMES BOARD TO PROBE BENTON CASE

Nogales, Sonora, March 3.—A commission was appointed tonight by General Carranza. The decision was taken after a long session of the provisional cabinet. It was said the death at Juarez of the British subject, William S. Benton, had occupied virtually all the attention of Carranza and his advisers.

Washington, March 3.—Great Britain's pronouncement through Sir Edward Grey that the United States was in no way responsible for the recent execution at Juarez of William S. Benton, a British subject, and that the American government would not be asked to resort to force as a result of the incident, was the chief factor in the Mexican situation today.

President Wilson, in a conference tonight with Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, and Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, is understood to have expressed his approval and appreciation of the friendly sentiments uttered by the British foreign secretary in the house of commons, a session which had been held here over the killing of Benton across largely because it was believed that Great Britain might press the United States into taking drastic steps to obtain reparation.

More Aggressive Attitude. The British view that the United States is not obligated to demand reparation for Great Britain relieved the tension to some extent, although it is clear that the Benton incident has developed an intention on the part of the American government to take a more aggressive attitude toward the contending factions in Mexico.

The entire situation was discussed at length tonight in the conference. It was the first time the British ambassador had called on the president since the Benton case. He had his conference with Secretary Bryan. He came primarily to introduce Sir Lionel Carden, whose intimate knowledge of the political and diplomatic situation in Mexico City enabled him to give the president first-hand information on conditions there. White house officials said afterwards the conference was for "mutual information," and that no plans had been suggested by Sir Lionel. The latter, who is en route to London, had been attacked in the American press as unfriendly to the American policy in Mexico. His meeting with the president was most cordial. The president received his visitors in the private parlors of the white house. Later Secretary Bryan attended a dinner in honor of Sir Lionel given at the British embassy.

Confidence with the president, it is understood, was arranged to emphasize the friendliness of Great Britain to the United States in its handling of the Mexican problem. Sir Lionel expects to return to Mexico after his visit in London, and it is believed he assured the president of his own desire to follow the policy of the British government in interposing no obstacle to the handling of the Mexican question by the United States.

In some quarters it was suggested that the interview eventually might have an important result, as Sir Lionel would be able to convey to provisional President Huerta an idea of the unalterable determination of President Wilson never to recognize the Huerta government.

Sir Edward Grey's statement in London was received through the press tonight to be read by the president at today's cabinet meeting. It produced a favorable impression, some of the cabinet officers referring to it as a "high-minded declaration." The day's developments were accepted as showing clearly the close co-operation between the United States and Great Britain in the Mexican situation, a circumstance which it is believed would make a deep impression on the Mexican factions.

Fate of Gustav Bauch. While definite information as to the fate of Gustav Bauch, the American citizen supposed to have been killed by constitutionalists, and Clemente Yergan, another American, reported murdered by Mexican federalists, was lacking, it is certain there will be no let-up in the efforts of the American government to obtain complete investigations.

There were few dispatches of importance to the state department from Mexico today. Word was being awaited from General Carranza as to whether he would persist in his attitude, denying the right of the United States to inquire about a British subject, which halted the expedition of commissioners who were to examine Benton's body.

MENACED BY DEATH, MILLIONAIRE POST RACES TO THE KNIFE

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—C. W. Post, millionaire manufacturer of Battle Creek, Mich., passed through here late today in a special train bound for Rochester, Minn., for an immediate surgical operation. He was accompanied by Mrs. Post and a physician, who attended him at his winter home at Santa Barbara.

Mr. Post arrived at Santa Barbara a month ago, broken in health. His condition grew worse, and today attending physicians said his only hope lay in an immediate operation. Doubt was expressed, however, that he could survive the trip to Rochester.

STEVENSON'S WIDOW IN LAST TESTAMENT SCORES SON'S WIFE

Santa Barbara, Cal., March 3.—Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson's will, disposing of an estate valued at $120,509, was filed for probate here today by Lloyd Osbourne, her son. Under its terms the estate goes to Mrs. Stevenson's daughter, Mrs. Isabel Strong, with instructions to pay Lloyd Osbourne $300 a month for life. Another provision of the will reads: "To Katharine Durham Osbourne, of incredible ferocity, who lived on my property for many years, at the same time pursuing me with malicious slander, I leave $5."

Katharine Durham Osbourne is the wife of Lloyd Osbourne, the son of Mrs. Stevenson.

Edward Salisbury Field, secretary to Mrs. Stevenson, was bequeathed a small piece of property.

DYING MAN ADMITS GUILT OF MURDER LAID TO BROTHER

Albert Davis Confesses He Murdered Wife of V. H. Davis, Now in Jail at Brunswick for Crime.

New Orleans, March 3.—(Special.)—Realizing that he has put up a losing fight against tuberculosis and has not long to live, Albert Davis, of Brunswick, Ga., confessed today to killing his brother's wife near Brunswick, according to a statement of the police. Davis said he believed his brother was charged with the crime. He is in a hospital here and it is believed too weak to be removed.

Davis gave no reason for killing the woman, the police said. According to their statement Davis said he struck her with the butt of his revolver, crushing her skull. Local officers have communicated with the sheriff of Glynn county, Georgia, who requested that Davis be held pending arrival of Georgia officials.

Davis, confined under the name of John Smith, and in the last stages of consumption, cleared his conscience to Senator Captain John P. Boyle. Calling the official in shortly before noon, Davis related that two months ago, while walking along a railroad track with his sister-in-law, wife of the brother now in jail near Tholman, Ga., he drew a revolver out of his pocket and beat her to death. He fled.

Davis said he was willing to go back without requisition papers, but Dr. T. Durel, in charge of his ward, seriously doubts that he is able to stand the journey. Death from consumption is but a few weeks off at most, it is believed.

HUSBAND OF SLAIN WOMAN WILL BE GIVEN NEW TRIAL

Brunswick, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Sheriff Berrie this afternoon received a telegram from New Orleans announcing that A. R. Davis, wanted in this case for the murder of Mrs. W. H. Davis, had been arrested in that city, and had confessed to the murder, which was one of the most heinous crimes ever committed in Glynn county.

Davis, husband of the murdered woman, who has once been tried for the murder, a mistrial resulting, was jubilant when informed that his brother had been captured and had confessed.

The murder was committed on the night of October 30. Two weeks later the dead body of the murdered woman was found in a secreted spot a short distance from the tracks of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. A large iron bolt, a short distance away, told how the crime had been committed. A coroner's jury investigated for several days. The husband surrendered and a warrant was issued for his brother, but he made good his escape.

The trial last month of the husband, the state contended that a conspiracy existed between the husband and the brother to murder Mrs. Davis. Some strong evidence was introduced connecting the husband with the crime, but almost conclusive evidence was brought out against the brother. After deliberating over the case for many hours a mistrial was declared.

A. R. Davis will be brought to Brunswick at once for trial, but his brother will not be released but probably be given another trial. Only a few weeks ago the state offered a reward of $200 for the arrest of A. R. Davis.

BIG STREET CLAIMS PROVING NECESSITY OF A BOND ISSUE

With $184,729 Needed to Complete Big Improvements Started, Only $78,000 Is Available at Present.

WORK OF YEAR PLANNED BY STREET COMMITTEE

Spring Street Committee Asks Indorsement of Plans and Profiles for Grading School Lot Section.

Presentation of claims aggregating $184,729 to carry out Atlanta's most conspicuous street improvements gave impetus to the agitation for a $3,000,000 bond issue for street, sewer and school improvements, following a meeting of council's street committee Tuesday afternoon.

Mayor James G. Woodward admits that the appropriations for street work are meager but he does not favor the issuance of bonds at this time for any purpose. He takes the position that the city should be cleared out of debt and all the bond money spent before the city again burdens itself.

With a mere pittance of $78,000 available to carry out the plans of Chief of Construction Clayton covering street work alone, the street committee began work Tuesday afternoon planning its program for relief of bad conditions of Atlanta's streets.

Must Do Piecemeal Work. "My estimates of improvements on the most important streets called for $184,729," Captain Clayton said. "I haven't half the amount required to complete three big jobs, but there appears to be no relief and the best we can do is to work piecemeal."

The projects which cover the estimate that amount to $184,729 are as follows: West Peachtree got $15,000, will cost $38,800; West Mitchell got $6,000, will cost $47,000; South DeKalb got $15,000, will cost $35,423; Peachtree "bottle neck" got $16,000, will cost $25,625; Spring street got $5,000 for right-of-way, will cost $30,000; Glenn street got $10,000, will cost $20,000, and both DeKalb and Forsyth projects got $11,000.

Tuesday's meeting was the first held by the street committee since the finance sheet was adopted. County Commissioners Walters, Wynn and Smith, composing the improvement committee, asked the city to prepare a program of the work it wishes started first.

County Ready to Start. Commissioner Walters informed the committee that the county is ready to start the machinery in motion on Spring street; in fact, he explained that the county had already ordered a force of men to start work on the right-of-way work prepared by next week to double the force.

The Spring street committee, through Secretary Martin, asked the city to indorse the plans and profiles for the grading of that section of nineteenth street known as the Spring street school lot and its approaches. He said that the work can be started this week, and that it meant the opening of Nineteenth street from Peachtree to Spring street, a street which has been closed for many years.

The president believes there should be no debatable ground on treaties once made. Originally he had not intended to deliver a message on this subject. He had conferred with senators and members of the house and agreed to deliver a message on the subject to him to be strong. Some leaders, however, were of the opinion that international phases of the situation should be emphasized in a communication from the president to congress to impress upon them the necessity of changing their votes regardless of domestic questions involved.

Europe Shows Distrust. Since the tolls question was before congress last the president has told senators that European nations generally were taking the view that the United States had violated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The governments of the world, he made it clear, were beginning to believe the United States was not sincere in construction of treaties.

The message to congress will open the fight in earnest. Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-oceanic canal committee, is expected to oppose the president's view. Lately it has been said a majority of the committee would favor a repeal. The white house is confident the repeal will be passed, republicans joining democrats in making the change.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, discussed the Mexican situation with the president tonight, but white house officials said the canal tolls subject was not mentioned.

OVER NEW BABY GIRL BRYAN IS CHUCKLING

Washington, March 3.—A new baby girl at Secretary Bryan's home today delayed a conference with the British ambassador and also the cabinet meeting.

Mr. Bryan telephoned his office and the white house that he would be late and announced the birth of a girl to his daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Bryan, gravely of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Bryan now has six grandchildren.

WILSON IS PUSHING CANAL TOLL FIGHT

Thursday President Will Personally Address Congress and Urge Repeal of Exemption Clause.

Washington, March 3.—President Wilson will personally address a joint session of congress Thursday, advocating repeal of the clause in the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls.

White house officials tonight arranged for the majority leaders in congress to meet for a joint session at 12:30 p. m. Thursday. The president has prepared a brief address in which he sets forth his opinion that congress should reverse itself and keep the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which he believes were violated by the Panama canal act.

National Honor at Stake. The president holds that national honor is at stake and that European nations should not be allowed to believe treaties made by the American government are not adhered to both in letter and in spirit.

The president believes there should be no debatable ground on treaties once made. Originally he had not intended to deliver a message on this subject. He had conferred with senators and members of the house and agreed to deliver a message on the subject to him to be strong.

WIDOW ASKS LIFE FOR YOUNG BANDIT WHO SLEW SPOUSE

Los Angeles, March 3.—Ralph Farris, the youthful Bakersfield bandit condemned to be hanged next Friday, obtained an advocate of mercy in his behalf today in the person of Mrs. Edna Gerson Montague, widow of Horace Montague, the railroad official whom Farris murdered in a train holdup at El Monte, December 1, last.

Mrs. Montague telegraphed Governor Johnson begging executive clemency. "In the name of my two little girls and of myself and my beloved husband, I beg mercy for Farris," Mrs. Montague's message read.

"I believe crime is a disease, and society should treat it as such and not with vengeance."

MANY AUTO OWNERS ARE FACING ARREST

Fully 14,000 Have Not Paid the State License for 1914.

There are some 14,000 owners of automobiles in the state of Georgia liable to arrest for misdemeanor at almost any moment. Approximately this number of persons have not yet secured state licenses for 1914 and the longer they delay the greater will be their danger of arrest.

March 1 was the last day under the new law to secure licenses. Within the past five days some 9,000 licenses have been issued, the majority of persons waiting until the last possible moment.

Approximately 24,000 state licenses were issued last year, and it is expected that 25,000 will be issued this year. Secretary of Sta. Cook urges those who have not secured licenses to do so at once, not only in order to avoid possible arrest, but to save his office from the annoyance which late arrivals always entail.

ACQUITTAL VERDICT CAUSES BARRING OF JURY MEMBERS

Shreveport, La., March 3.—Responding to the demands of a mass meeting held here last night and attended by over 3,000 citizens, Judge John R. Land, presiding over the criminal section of the Caddo district court, today had entered upon the records an order forever barring from service as jurors in this parish the twelve men composing the jury which acquitted Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Little, charged with the murder of J. J. Vandeve.

MARTIN IS DEAD; HIS VICTIM DYING

Norcross Man, Suddenly Going Mad, Shoots Up His Family, Turns Gun on Self and Gashes Throat.

Norcross, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Luther Martin, a railway postal clerk, is dead and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert McKinney, will probably die before morning as the result of a tragedy enacted here today, when the young man, becoming suddenly unbalanced, shot at all the members of his family within range and inflicted fatal wounds upon himself.

Martin's wife was also shot, but is not dangerously wounded, while his 8-year-old daughter, Louise, although fired upon, escaped unharmed.

Unhappily by Wreck. The attack of mania, it is believed, was induced by injuries received by Martin in a wreck about a year ago, from which he had never fully recovered, augmented, probably by hard studying he had been doing lately to pass postal service examinations. He had been observed to act strangely at times, but was never supposed to have homicidal tendencies.

Tuesday morning he arose, secured a revolver from an outhouse and returned to bed, falling to get up for breakfast. When his wife entered the room to remonstrate with him he suddenly began firing at her. Mrs. McKinney also rushed in, and the two women began struggling with the man in an endeavor to wrest away the pistol. Martin wounded his wife twice and fired a bullet into Mrs. McKinney as she was kneeling beside his bed, which took effect in her lower jaw and ranged downward, slightly cutting the jugular vein. There is but slight hope for her recovery.

Turns Gun on Self. When Martin's young daughter, Louise, came running into the room, he also took a shot at her, but missed. The maddened man then turned his revolver against himself, sending a bullet through the front of the brain. Not satisfied with this he drew a razor from under his bed and cut his throat, sawing his collarbone in his mad efforts at self-destruction. Thrusting his fingers into the wound he tried to hasten death until restrained.

The affair is deeply deplored here, as both families are well connected on both sides and are well thought of. Shortly after the tragedy Mrs. McKinney expressed herself as anxious for the recovery of her son-in-law and seemed to forgive him for his act.

Medical attention was given as soon as doctors could be rushed to the scene, but despite all they could do, Martin passed away at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night. At a late hour Mrs. McKinney was reported in a desperate condition.

MORE U. S. SOLDIERS TO BE SENT TO HAWAII

San Francisco, March 3.—The United States army forces in Hawaii are to be increased from 8,000 men to 14,000 or 15,000 as soon as the troops can be transferred from the states, according to Major General William H. Carter, who is to sail for Honolulu today to assume command of the division of Hawaii.

With General Carter will go about 1,000 men to augment the present garrison on Oahu. The remainder of the proposed increase, he said, will be transferred as soon as the men can be spared from the Texas border.

LUTHER Z. ROSSER HOLDS CONFERENCE IN NEW YORK OVER LEO FRANK'S CASE

Lawyers for Prisoner Tell New York Newspaper Men Atlanta Was Stirred by Large Number of Un-avenged Murders, and That the Newspapers and People Were Determined on Meting Out Punishment to Slayer of Girl.

FAIR TRIAL POSSIBLE IN ATLANTA NOW, SAYS ROSSER IN INTERVIEW

Harry Latham Returns to Atlanta With New Affidavit, in Which Attack Is Made on Time Element as Presented by Prosecution. It Is Expected That Prisoner Will Be Brought Before Judge Ben Hill Today to Be Sentenced.

New York, March 3.—(Special.)—Luther Z. Rosser, of Atlanta, chief counsel for Leo M. Frank, arrived in New York today and tonight emphasized the contention of his associate, Herbert J. Finas, that their client had not had a fair trial, that such had been impossible in Atlanta last summer because of local conditions and the sensational report that had been spread broadcast concerning the character of the accused.

Mr. Rosser pointed out that the verdict of the Georgia supreme court, in declining a new trial, was not based on the evidence submitted in the lower court but upon whether errors in laying down and following the law had been made by the judge who presided at the trial.

WHY FRANK WAS CONVICTED. "Why was Frank convicted?" was asked Mr. Rosser.

"The reasons are difficult to explain to any one who does not know what the situation was in Atlanta at the time," he said. "My associate, Mr. Finas, pointed out the other day that a large number of murderers had gone unpunished and that the people and the newspapers were determined that this murder of a little white girl should not go unavenged."

"You see, the Jewish population of Atlanta is not large. Frank came to Atlanta a stranger and engaged in a new enterprise."

"He knew few people who were not of his own religion, being closely coupled with his business, and this fact rather counted against him at the time."

"There was the prejudice to be found in the south, of the employee class against the employer and some local prejudice against a stranger. Outrageous statements about the reputation of Frank and about the condition of the body of the girl were printed and given wide circulation. Such was the effect of those statements that were published at the time, many people in Atlanta today still believe them in spite of sworn testimony at the trial that absolutely refuted them."

"The negro, Jim Conley, was the sole witness and asserted Frank was a man of bad character—a pervert."

derer of that little girl there is not a shadow of doubt.

In reference to the statement of Helen Ferguson, printed in the Atlanta papers yesterday and telegraphed up here I may say that Mary Phagan had not worked for two days in the pencil factory where she was employed, and of which Frank was superintendent. The hands were usually paid on Friday. Now Helen Ferguson testified on the witness stand that she was approached by the negro Conley at the same spot on the ground floor of the factory where the detense contends the Phagan girl was killed, also added that at the time she had asked for Mary's wages on the day before the murder and that Frank had told her she could have the money adding that Mary herself was coming for her wages the next day. Such testimony as this was not given by Helen Ferguson in the trial as the records will show.

SAYS NOTES CONVICT CONLEY

To anybody who knows the negro character the notes found near the body absolutely show who committed the crime. It is my opinion that no white man ever could have dictated the notes, whose intention was apparently to fasten the crime upon some body else than the perpetrator.

The prosecution claimed that the word negro in the notes was a white man's word. Now in Georgia white folks call a black man a nigger but negro is the first word the negro learns to spell at school and that is the one word that he always pronounces correctly.

It was really the attitude of the woman Fomby as presented by the police and which the woman declared the other day was total perjury and that the police really put the words into her mouth that started the talk against Frank's moral character.

In our extraordinary motion for a new trial we hope first to show that some of the witnesses in the trial now admit they gave false testimony.

One of the most vital questions at stake in the trial was whether Frank was in the pencil factory between 11 o'clock and 1:30 on Saturday afternoon the day of the murder. We thought we had demonstrated that he was not. We have additional testimony to this effect in our brief claims

WILLIAM KIKER HELD FOR A FAMILY ROW

Architect Claims He Secured Hatchet When His Son Drew a Pistol.

William L. Kiker, Sr., an architect connected with the firm of Morgan & Dillon, who lives at 141 Greenway avenue, was arrested and held at police station, bond being denied, this morning about 2 o'clock on the charge of disorderly conduct. Kiker was arrested on the charge that he attacked his wife, Beattie, and his son, William L. Jr., with a hatchet, running them out of the house into the street.

At the station house he claimed that his son had drawn a pistol on him and that he went down to the basement to get the hatchet for protection and that when he returned the officers were present to arrest him on the charge of his wife that he was attempting to beat her and her son.

that he was with Frank disposing of the body from four minutes before a half past 11. He said Frank left the factory at 1:30. If we show that is not true everything else Conley says falls to the ground and is false.

HELEN KERN'S TESTIMONY

Now Helen Kern, a little girl of 11, a typewriter has an important piece of testimony. She stated on the stand that on the afternoon of the murder she had been making some purchases at a store and was returning from the store at ten minutes past one and so to the parade that was going to take place that afternoon. This was on a corner four blocks from the factory. She looked at a clock on her way to notice the time and between one and two past the hour she saw Frank and Conley. Frank was carrying a gun going in the direction away from the factory. She knew Frank because she had applied for a position in his office.

As the situation stands, do you think Frank could get a fair trial in Atlanta? Mr. Kiker was asked. "I think while there is still a lot of misinformed public opinion, I think people have changed their opinion," he replied. "At any rate there is not a strong prejudice as there was when the trial court got up. We are willing to have the case tried there again, but we believe that the attention to a trial that is a terrible mistake may have been made."

FIGHT FOR ANDERSON MAY PROVE BOOMERANG

The attempt to elect Marcellus Anderson on the police board against the will of the seventh ward delegation by breaking a councilman precedent, is likely to act as a boomerang against the first ward delegation.

Councilman Wardlaw of the first ward, placed Commissioner Anderson in nomination after Alderman Armistead, leader of the seventh ward delegation offered Anderson the choice of the seventh ward delegation. Anderson's action was taken as a challenge to break down precedent.

Shortly the first ward delegation of which Councilman Wardlaw is leader by reason of the death of Alderman Howell must elect an alderman and would run out a candidate against the choice of the first ward and members did not consistently ask council to follow a precedent they tried to break.

While there has been no candidate suggested yet it is not at all unlikely that the first ward will get off without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

"BABIES" IN TROUBLE

When Mrs. Bonnie Talbot, who says she is a married woman from Birmingham and Miss Annie Berkner, both about one year of age, were taken to the police station last night on the charge of jailing and loitering around public places, they were allowed to leave the station and get their "babies" out of trouble. They were allowed to use the street and go home without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

JURY IS LOCKED UP IN THE MELTON CASE

J. J. Melton, a well known young farmer of Harris county, charged with the murder of Mrs. F. C. Lee last December, was brought to Atlanta to stand trial before Judge Ben Hill last night. Melton was held in the city jail and his wife and child were allowed to leave the station and get their "babies" out of trouble. They were allowed to use the street and go home without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

MISSING BOY IS FOUND; SPENT NIGHT IN CAVE

The 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMonagle, who disappeared from his home in the city last night, was found in a cave near his home. The boy had been missing for several days and his parents were very anxious. The boy was found by a neighbor and brought home safely. He had spent the night in the cave and was very tired and hungry. He was given food and rest and is now recovering from his ordeal.

HOME OF MRS. MADDOX DESTROYED BY FLAMES

A fire of unknown origin quickly spread over the entire residence of Mrs. J. J. Maddox at 16 Daley avenue last night, and the building was destroyed. The fire started in the front room when the smoke was discovered. The fire spread to the kitchen and the living room and the house was completely destroyed. The fire department arrived and fought the fire for several hours, but it was too late. The house was a total loss and the family was displaced. The cause of the fire is still unknown.

FRANK TAYLOR HEADS ATLANTA GREETERS

Atlanta Greeters held a luncheon and election of permanent officers last night at the Ansley hotel. Frank Taylor, assistant manager of the Piedmont hotel, was chosen president and Charles England, chief clerk at the Atlanta, was chosen secretary. About twelve new members were elected to the club. The club appointed a committee to provide for the entertainment of the Southeastern Greeters association, which convenes in Atlanta this week. The chairman of this committee is Mr. Taylor. The club will hold its next meeting next Wednesday at the Georgia Terrace.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ADDRESS TURN VEREIN

The Atlanta Turn Verein Society observed its forty first anniversary last night with a Dutch supper and grand ball at their home on Plyor street. Among the speakers of the evening were Governor Hinton, Mayor Woodward, Recorder Broyles, John J. Smith, Dr. Gilbert pastor of the German church, and Dr. J. J. Taylor, president of the society. The Weide member band and orchestra furnished music for the evening. The parlors and auditorium of the hall were attractive with decorations. About 200 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Turners.

FIGHT FOR ANDERSON MAY PROVE BOOMERANG

The attempt to elect Marcellus Anderson on the police board against the will of the seventh ward delegation by breaking a councilman precedent, is likely to act as a boomerang against the first ward delegation.

"BABIES" IN TROUBLE

When Mrs. Bonnie Talbot, who says she is a married woman from Birmingham and Miss Annie Berkner, both about one year of age, were taken to the police station last night on the charge of jailing and loitering around public places, they were allowed to leave the station and get their "babies" out of trouble. They were allowed to use the street and go home without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

DETECTIVE FAILS TO COME TO THEIR AID

When Mrs. Bonnie Talbot, who says she is a married woman from Birmingham and Miss Annie Berkner, both about one year of age, were taken to the police station last night on the charge of jailing and loitering around public places, they were allowed to leave the station and get their "babies" out of trouble. They were allowed to use the street and go home without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

JURY IS LOCKED UP IN THE MELTON CASE

J. J. Melton, a well known young farmer of Harris county, charged with the murder of Mrs. F. C. Lee last December, was brought to Atlanta to stand trial before Judge Ben Hill last night. Melton was held in the city jail and his wife and child were allowed to leave the station and get their "babies" out of trouble. They were allowed to use the street and go home without a bad scare if not an actual fight on their hands.

MISSING BOY IS FOUND; SPENT NIGHT IN CAVE

The 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMonagle, who disappeared from his home in the city last night, was found in a cave near his home. The boy had been missing for several days and his parents were very anxious. The boy was found by a neighbor and brought home safely. He had spent the night in the cave and was very tired and hungry. He was given food and rest and is now recovering from his ordeal.

HOME OF MRS. MADDOX DESTROYED BY FLAMES

A fire of unknown origin quickly spread over the entire residence of Mrs. J. J. Maddox at 16 Daley avenue last night, and the building was destroyed. The fire started in the front room when the smoke was discovered. The fire spread to the kitchen and the living room and the house was completely destroyed. The fire department arrived and fought the fire for several hours, but it was too late. The house was a total loss and the family was displaced. The cause of the fire is still unknown.

FRANK TAYLOR HEADS ATLANTA GREETERS

Atlanta Greeters held a luncheon and election of permanent officers last night at the Ansley hotel. Frank Taylor, assistant manager of the Piedmont hotel, was chosen president and Charles England, chief clerk at the Atlanta, was chosen secretary. About twelve new members were elected to the club. The club appointed a committee to provide for the entertainment of the Southeastern Greeters association, which convenes in Atlanta this week. The chairman of this committee is Mr. Taylor. If You Don't Like Your Hair Why Buy Some Other Color

Darling I am growing new Purple threads among the blue Cover up the spreading gray. Youth is coming back my way What's more, darling, you may see, It may see, I think they're horrid. Looks of pink or green on me

Now that they're here, who has the nerve to wear one of the things Rainbow wigs we mean, and rainbow is good, for they can be changed—are of every color. They came Tuesday and conquered when four coquetish wags strolled with superior air in a Whitehall street show window all day and showed just how enchantingly up-to-date Whitehall street can be if she wants to.

There were shades of pink and shades of green and shades of blue and silver and black and white and, oh, shades that all else! And they looked like too perfectly fascinating, said one quite charming lady with auburn hair and too much reluctance on the tip of her nose. Awfully enthralling, exclaimed another who didn't have a wash-like wash nor too much powder but ought to have had. "Oh! My! cried a blithe little thing of French extraction. Just think, my country see responsible! "I wouldn't be proud of it," retorted her companion. "I think they're horrid!"

"But zey would hide zey gray hair, m'lie!"

Women and girls crowded the window all day, exclaiming and sighing and saying all those giddy things women say when they run up against something extremely novel. A lot of them had suggestions. One woman thought that they blended charmingly with the complexion. Her companion replied that she wished colored wigs were in fashion for the men, too. She thought a crimson one would harmonize with her husband's nose.

"I ought to get a green one for the wife," remarked a man in passing. It would match her eyes so perfectly when I speak to a wif friend.

Stylish arbiters of Atlanta say the rainbow wig has come to stay. The women will show a reluctance in wearing them but when a few

HELL BAR LIQUOR TO BE DECLARED COMPETENT MAN

San Francisco, March 3.—If Walter McCree's clubman pal, player and millionaire is restored to competency—and Judge Graham strongly indicated today in the superior court that such was his intention—he promises the court never to "take another drink. He has not touched liquor," he said for two years.

McCree's troubles began in May 1909 when he was confined in an English sanitarium after a series of eccentric actions. They continued progressively until they reached a climax in August 1911, when he was declared incompetent by Judge Graham and H. H. McKeen, an attorney, was appointed his guardian.

In October 1912, McCree escaped from Los Muertos ranch near Hollister, Cal., where his guardian had sequestered him, and returned to San Francisco armed with the depositions of prominent English alibis that he was sane. Two San Francisco alibis appointed by Judge Graham reported today that they had kept McCree under examination on daily to periods of from one to four hours during the year and were satisfied that he is sane.

The defense claims that the shooting was in self defense and that Teel had been shot in the back and that Teel was to be shot until late last night on the case.

CAPT. WALTER HOWARD DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Walter Heston Howard known as Captain Howard because of his for many years in military affairs, and his former home in Louisville and Owensboro, Kentucky, being moving to Atlanta most recent years ago died last night.

He was reared in Louisville and the boys will be carried there later in the week.

He was a Shiner Knight Templar Knight of Pythias and an Elk, all of which were dear to his heart and in which he took keen interest.

Captain Howard was a man of sterling qualities and noble impulses. He was a member of the First Methodist church and when in health took an active interest in its work.

Tuesday he went to his office as usual but returned about noon and rested all afternoon retiring early and at 7:35 passed away with heart trouble. Captain Howard was a descendant of General O. Howard on his father's side and Oliver Wendell Holmes on his mother's side. He leaves a wife one child, Miss Mary P. Howard who resides at 527 North Jackson street. His sister, Mrs. W. J. Conner, near Gainesville also survives him.

ESTABLISHING PERMANENT GRADES.

Council is to be congratulated upon the enactment of a finance sheet which makes provision for continuing and assuring the completion of the new and permanent grade and extension work on several important city thoroughfares.

The development of the city is hampered so long as the grades of its main thoroughfares are steep, tortuous and the widths constricted and unfavorable to the free flow of traffic.

Council has taken cognizance of this principle. The Whitehall street improvement, one of the most important on the list, is cared for. With the ultimate completion of the project Whitehall will be an evenly graded north and south boulevard. This is not to speak of the enormous advantage that accrues to outlying districts on the south side in enjoying quicker and easier access to the city via Whitehall.

The other improvements are all of a part in their relative bearing upon the welfare and evolution of the city. Spring street, which is absolutely indispensable to providing facilities for lightening the dangerous load on Peachtree, and for giving a city and county air-line from Five Points to Buckhead, will become a thoroughfare of county-wide importance. Along with Spring goes logically the widening of the Peachtree "bottle neck," giving to traffic at a strategic point a wide and straight entry into the most heavily laden streets of the city.

The other south and north side street improvements rank proportionately with Whitehall, Spring and Peachtree, not forgetting the important continuation of the work on West Peachtree.

The most significant feature of the sheet is that it lays down the precedent that as fast and far as possible the city will remodel its streets to conform to permanently established grades. There should be no more piddling dabs at improvement, wasting money, but every dollar spent hereafter should be toward substantial and permanent grades and contours, so that every lick will count in a definite finished scheme.

There will, and should be, no more expenditure as in the past for work that may have to be done all over again, and there should be no patchwork compromise of big jobs the permanent completion of which may cost double the amount if postponed.

All these reasons combine to endorse the principles back of the present finance sheet with an importance almost epochal.

A MATTER OF ECONOMICS.

The Richmond Virginian comments vigorously upon the statements of William A. Marble, president of the Merchants' Association of New York, to the effect that there is an effort on part of some congressmen to widen the scope of the parcel post far beyond its legitimate field, the sole idea being to bait the express companies irrespective of whether or not that demagogic end is accomplished at the expense of good service and the public treasury. The Virginian indorses the views of Mr. Marble. Had these views emanated from an avowed proponent of the express companies they would be discounted. But considering the obvious disinterestedness of Mr. Marble, they are receiving unusual consideration.

Mr. Marble believes that the parcel post and the express companies have distinct fields, and that if left undisturbed by ignorant interference these fields will, quickly develop into their natural functions. The Constitution took this position before the parcel post was inaugurated. This paper was the first in the south to advocate a parcel post. It fought for that institution when many regarded it as only a vagrant tad. Our position has been eminently justified by developments.

With the establishment of the parcel post we are getting better service today from the parcel post than if the express companies were not in the field; and the express service is both cheaper and better than ever in its history. Competition does it.

It is argued by some that the postal service should not have competition, and that no government activity really offers elastic and effective competition. But the fact remains that since the establishment of the parcel post the customers of this class of transportation have been getting better service than at any time in the history of this country.

If a package sent by parcel post is not delivered as promptly as it should be the complaint very promptly goes to headquarters. Uncle Sam does not tolerate carelessness and the man responsible will lose his job.

Likewise the management of the express companies are naturally more alert than ever in assuring prompt delivery, for they know they are in active competition with the government's parcel post. Carelessness is promptly located and an irresponsible official is supplanted by someone who is on the job every minute of the day.

The very fact that each of these two great package delivery institutions know they have a record to make that will be compared with the other keeps both ever on the alert, and the man who sends a package is the beneficiary.

The effort in some quarters to engineer parcel post legislation with the single object in view of exterminating the express companies is both unjust and impolitic, and it is no wonder that the New York City Merchants' association protests.

A REMARKABLE WOMAN.

A rarely lovable woman and a very remarkable character has passed in the death of Mrs. Emma E. Bell, of Atlanta.

The mission of making a home for homeless men is assumed to be a cheerless one—one devoid of the human touch—of those little human intimacies that take life out of the commonplace and give it a vital meaning.

Mrs. Bell loved and glorified that mission. For years her home has been a Mecca for young men who, coming to Atlanta as strangers, have grown to prominent citizenship.

If a promising youngster came from the country, unused to city ways and still yearning for the domestic atmosphere—he found it at Mrs. Bell's.

Man after man of this type she has "mothered," surrounding with the gentle influences of the home, later to see them blossom into leaders of thought and action. Years ago she could have laid aside the exigency of wrestling with the business side of life to retire to peaceful seclusion. But she had come to love this molding of young lives, the safeguarding of careers just started, the making comfortable and "homey" of men who, without her, would have lacked both comfort and home or had to accept poor substitutes. She had a mission—and she loved the work.

A woman of this caliber stands out as unique, as the "shadow of a great rock in a weary land." That is why some of the most prominent citizens of Atlanta are deeply touched today at her death. They were near and dear to her in the tender relations that give life a softer and a vital meaning.

KISSING AND DIVORCE.

Vice President Marshall has broken loose again. Here he is advising an audience in New York that a cure for divorce is for a man to "kiss his wife each day as an act of good faith."

Now, no man with normal instincts objects to osculation, even after the honeymoon has waned into a harvest moon.

But if kisses between husband and wife are to be tendered as so much coin as "an act of faith," we wax rather dubious regarding their remedial effect upon the divorce evil.

When incompatibility creeps in and becomes chronic and incorrigible, no amount of artificial aid will rekindle the chilling embers.

The good and talkative vice president must look farther for a specific. Divorce may best be combated by careful selection in marriages. And that comes back to the proper training of boys and girls, from the very first day they learn the real meaning of the more vital things and life.

Daily we are more impressed with the suspicion that many of the social ills of which we so loudly complain date back to a relaxation of the old-fashioned parental discipline, firm but kindly. We have progressed marvelously over the days of our fathers in many directions. In some respects we understand better how to conserve child life. But when it comes to the matter of training that is different. Our rushing and crowded civilization gives father and mother less opportunity than formerly to watch the growing boy and girl as they should be watched.

Absence of that gentle shepherdship is largely back of the divorce problem.

A money sheet is a good thing for the city fathers to draw up over them this cold weather.

It needs just two letters added to Villa's name to make a first-class definition.

Vice President Marshall would cure the divorce evil by kissing. More divorces are caused by the wrong than the right sort of kissing.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT HASON,
The Famous Prose Poet.

GOOD SENSE.

"Mrs. Spellbinder was here this afternoon," said Mrs. Jamesworth, and she told of a bargain sale of ready mixed paints at the drugstore, and said that she noticed our house needs paint. I didn't deny that, but I told her that we couldn't afford to spend money painting the house this year. "It is gratifying to know that you took the safe and sane view of the matter," Mrs. Jamesworth said, "and you are right. When you began your remarks I thought you intended to urge me to flee to the bargain sale and blow in the few counter-terrestrials I have salted down for my old age. But for once you shed a new lustre upon the proverbial Jamesworth, and our executioner remains unharmed."

"It is possible that our house needs paint, as Mrs. Spellbinder truthfully observed, and it is going to keep on needing paint, and good times come again and the paint will look around you. Mrs. Jamesworth, you will see that all the houses in the neighborhood are needing paint, and if we went ahead and decorated our abode with two coats of red and yellow mixed colors, it would seem like vulgar ostentation. People who can't afford to paint their houses would see us piling on the agony, and they would be embittered. They'd lift up their voices and speak one to another, saying: 'Have you noticed how those presumptuous Jamesworths are blowing their noses at the paint display?'"

"I don't know how our house would stir up hatred and jealousy and other evil passions, and the neighbors would poison our dog or throw bricks through the windows, and other misfortunes would befall us. As the house now stands, the agents and oily-tongued strangers give us a wide berth. I haven't seen a book agent here in six months, and so there's some pleasure in spending my spare time a homing and carrying eighteen sample volumes of the Encyclopedia, sees our house all shabby and unadorned, and he reasons that there is no use coming to our door. 'The man who lives in such a shack as that,' he says to himself, 'wouldn't buy any of our writings of Congress if they were offered at the price of a last year's almanac.'"

"And the stranger with the hallowed smile, who is collecting money to establish a home for indigent grandmothers, will look at our door at the best of times. The proprietor probably would overpower me and rob me of the few pieces of eight I have collected."

"Thus we see, Mrs. Jamesworth, that the house in its present condition is a safe and sound investment. Only the other day the assessor was here, and when I told him that we had nothing worth jotting down in his printed blanks, he didn't question my assertion. In fact he looked sympathetic, as though in half a mind to offer to lend me half a dollar. Now, if he should know me for a New York advertiser, to the world the prosperity of its inmates, the assessor would have laughed my statement to scorn, and would have rummaged through the shank from garret to basement, expecting to uncover ingots of gold and silver."

"I don't know how our house would stir up hatred and jealousy and other evil passions, and the neighbors would poison our dog or throw bricks through the windows, and other misfortunes would befall us. As the house now stands, the agents and oily-tongued strangers give us a wide berth. I haven't seen a book agent here in six months, and so there's some pleasure in spending my spare time a homing and carrying eighteen sample volumes of the Encyclopedia, sees our house all shabby and unadorned, and he reasons that there is no use coming to our door. BILL FOR REGULATING COTTON EXCHANGES IS STRONGLY APPROVED

Editor Constitution: I am glad to see in today's Constitution that the Smith bill to regulate the differences in the grades of cotton in cotton contracts on cotton exchanges has been favorably reported by the committee. This bill seems to be in line with your editorial of yesterday and if the Constitution will get behind it there is no reason why the democratic congress should not pass it. It is not by any means a bill that will benefit any particular section of the country, but will benefit the whole American people. At least 65 per cent of our cotton is exported and the cotton crop is the only thing that causes the balance of trade between nations to be in our favor. But for the cotton business of the south, the trade balance would be on the other side of the ledger.

To depress the price of cotton, therefore, is an injury to the whole people. To raise the price of cotton and maintain it is a benefit to the whole country. For instance, the question of potash in Germany is a good example of the principle. Instead of injuring the whole people by the reduction in the export value of potash, benefited their country by preventing undue competition and allowing a combination to maintain prices. If it is a wise policy on the part of the United States government to maintain fair prices for cotton, 65 per cent of which is exported. Under the Sherman law as it now stands it is a crime to "bull" cotton, and no offense at all for cotton exchanges, by manipulation, under contracts which permit the delivery of dog tail cotton, that is not spinable, to run the price down below the cost of production.

There is such a great difference in the contracts of the Sherman act. President Wilson was eminently correct in recommending the passage of an act definitely prescribing what acts were intended to be prohibited by the Sherman law.

Legislation on the line suggested, on account of the fact that 65 per cent of the cotton crop is exported, will save to the nation, annually, great sums of money in excess of $100,000,000.

Under the present status recently I notice that members of the New York cotton exchange dealers are buying and selling cotton more than 100 points more for the actual cotton in Monroe, than the actual cotton was bringing in New York. This was because under the New York contracts they could manipulate the market and sell down to more than 100 points below spot cotton even in New York, and 200 points below spot cotton in the south. If the Smith bill becomes the law this cannot be done because they will then have to deliver the grade of cotton they contract for.

If the Constitution will continue this good work in the interest of the south and the whole nation, the whole country will be under obligations to it.

Schoepenhauer, the German pessimist, was asked one day to dinner by a gentleman who had also invited a number of other officers. "Why do you put a coin under your plate?" The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF THOMAS DORR

It was the charter rights, granted by a king, which regarded as a political institution in Rhode Island for nearly two hundred years, that brought on the rebellion in Rhode Island in 1842, in which Thomas W. Dorr figured as leader. In 1842 the Rhode Island legislature was petitioned for an extension of the rights of suffrage. The petition was called in October of that year and the instrument called the People's Constitution was the result of their deliberation.

When this constitution was submitted to the people for ratification it received thirteen thousand votes. The original constitution of 1790 and the result declared in January, 1842, and the landholders' constitution having been defeated, there was now presented the single issue of the old charter of 1663 on the one hand, and the suffrage constitution, just adopted, as claimed, by the popular vote on the other. The great enthusiasm was manifested by the triumph which the suffrage constitutionalists and their cause had achieved, and meetings and processions, with music, badges, bonfires, etc., everywhere proclaimed the event.

Chief among the leaders in this remarkable revolution, as it was termed, was Thomas Wilson Dorr, of Providence, a graduate of Harvard college. Governor King's proclamation, pronouncing the legal election of the suffrage party, and warning of all of the consequences which a continuance in such acts would bring upon them. Undismayed, however, by these threats, the suffrage party, presuming on its strength and popularity, went into an election of state officers April 18, 1842, resulting in the elevation of Mr. Dorr to the governorship, together with the other officers constituting the government of the state.

The seal of the state was copied, and a facsimile engraving procured. Orders, in the form of requests, were issued to the military in Providence and elsewhere, which advised in the name of the governor, to appear in the city on the 4th of May to perform escort duty on the occasion of organizing the new government.

The Rhode Island legislature undertook to suppress agitation by declaring that any person who should preside over a legal meeting should be subject to arrest and imprisonment. On May 17, 1842, Dorr's followers, by command of their leader, seized some pieces of artillery, and on that same day, about midnight, these same followers set out to take possession of the arsenal on Cranston street.

Dorr succeeded in organizing his government in Providence while Governor King at Newport was helpless. Martial law was declared on June 26. Arrests were freely, even indiscriminately, made. All persons were filled, and as Dorr fled to the mountains, he was offered for his apprehension. Nobody came forward to claim it. For more than a year Dorr kept out of Rhode Island, but at length, on October 31, 1843, he went to Providence and was immediately arrested and held in imprisonment for high treason and under an indictment for high treason and treason against the state of Rhode Island, before the state supreme court, with Chief Justice Durfee presiding.

Dorr's trial was held at Newport—a place other than that where the crime was committed—before a jury of six men, who had been selected by the court. The jury was composed of five men and one woman. The principal attorney for the prisoner, but at the time of the trial he was ill, and Dorr, although assisted by other counsel, conducted in the main his own case. His chief reliance was upon the plea of insanity, but this could not be committed against an individual state of the union. This point was more novel than it would appear today. It had not been illustrated by the acts of John Brown, of Virginia.

The ruling of the Rhode Island court was that treason against a state was an offense, although the act was done under instructions alleged to have been given by the court. The jury found Dorr guilty, and he was sentenced by the court to imprisonment for the term of his natural life at hard labor and in separate confinement.

A reaction of sentiment soon set in, and in January, 1844, Dorr was offered his freedom on condition of subscribing to the oath of allegiance to the state of Rhode Island. This offer he promptly declined to accept. In June, 1845, he was unconditionally liberated by an act of general assembly, and in May, 1851, his civil and political rights were again restored to him. On December 27, 1854, Dorr died at the age of forty-five years.

HOO KWORM MAKING GLOBE CONQUEST

Georgians may receive some consolation in the news that the famous hookworm not only pervades the sandy regions of the Empire state, but is carrying his conquest around the globe. Dr. A. G. Fort, field sanitation director of the Georgia Board of Health, and an expert in hookworm war, says:

"The fight in Georgia against the hookworm is only one of many around this part of the globe. The campaign is being waged actively in the Windward Islands off the coast of Florida and in the British empire. Asia Minor is fiercely besieged with the pestilence, but I don't think any fight against it is being carried on there; but there are campaigns being inaugurated from as high up as 36 degrees above the equator (northern Virginia) to 30 degrees south of it."

Swiss Rent Payers Rebel.

(From The London Chronicle.)
Revolt has broken out among the middle and poorer classes in Switzerland against the tyranny of house owners and their agents. Syndicates have been formed to obtain reasonable rights, accommodation and rents.

For several years there has been a building fever, especially among get-rich-quick speculators, and by means of a "ring" rents have been forced up by them nearly 30 per cent, in spite of the fact that the supply of houses is greater than the demand. Tenants in old houses and flats have their rents increased and at the same time are offered slightly cheaper accommodation in new buildings for a year only. Then the rent is increased as much as 30 and 40 per cent, the family generally staying on.

COUNTIES VIOLATING STATE PRIMARY LAW

It is noticed that several of the counties which have so far called spring primaries for the nomination of county officers have included in the list of those who are to be voted for candidates for the senate and house of representatives.

Most of the counties, however, have conformed with the state law on the subject, postponing the vote for senator and representatives until the regular state primary in August.

The law on the subject is as follows:

(Acts 1908, p. 55.)
Code 1908. Whenever any political party, etc., shall hold primary elections for nomination of candidates for office, such party, etc., shall cause to be printed and distributed to the voters of the county, by the county clerk, a list of the names of the candidates for senator, statehouse officers, members of congress, United States senators, judges of supreme and supreme courts and court of appeals, solicitors general and members of general assembly, to be voted for on and the same day throughout the state at such rate as may be fixed by the executive committee of such party, etc., provided that said executive committee shall not fix any rate of sale of such primary earlier than sixty days before the date of the general state election in October. The names of the candidates for senator and county officers and for senators in their counties as the authorities of the party may direct.

Thus it will be seen that wherein any spring primary called especially for the purpose of naming county officers, the covering of the primary for any senator, county representative, judge or solicitor is in strict violation of the law.

NEW SENATOR'S SILENCE WORRIES APPLICANTS

Valdosta, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Rumors and speculation are rife in this city as to the appointment of postmaster to succeed Major J. O. Varndoe, the incumbent, whose term expires in May. Major Varndoe, J. F. Starnes and J. P. Coffey, the applicants most prominently mentioned in connection with the appointment, though there are a number of others who may be considered in the running. It was generally considered that the appointment would rest entirely on the recommendation of Hon. J. R. Walker, congressman from the eleventh district, but dispatches from Washington, printed in some of the state papers on Saturday last, indicated that the death of Senator Bacon had complicated matters somewhat. What effect the recommendation for the appointment might be put up to Senator W. S. West as soon as he takes the oath of office.

Whether Senator West will care to take up the matter of recommending a postmaster is not known, but it is known that though persistent rumors have it that the appointment is to be made within the next few days.

It seems that the appointment of Colonel West to succeed Senator Bacon is likely to have a decided effect on the pending appointments that are pending. One report states that the appointment of Mr. Adams as district attorney for the southern district of Georgia is being held up awaiting Senator West's arrival in Washington. So far Senator West has declined to say which action will be in any of these matters. The new senator returned last night from Ocala, Fla., where he spent Monday attending to important business matters. He leaves tonight for Washington, and will probably take the oath as senator on Thursday.

STATE SENATOR SWEAT DECLARES FOR WEST

Waycross, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Judge J. E. Sweat, the present senator from the fifth district, in an interview says:

"While from a legal aspect senators are not selected to represent geographical sections, but the whole state, yet, in matters affecting local interests and the selection of government officials, such considerations are entitled to great weight, especially in these days of practical politics. As Senator Smith is a resident of north Georgia, the appointment of William S. West, south Georgia, by Governor Slaton as successor to the lamented Bacon was not only right and proper, but Colonel West should be elected by the people to fill out the remainder of the unexpired term, thus giving him a tenure of about five years, during which time south Georgia will get the benefit of the senators, and sufficient with his energy, ability and devotion to her interests within which to accomplish something."

HAVANA.

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "At Good Old Sivas"

Havana is the capital of Cuba and the middle name of all good cigars.

Nowadays Havana does not overbalance the globe by its size and importance, but a hundred years ago it was as big as anything on this hemisphere. Havana people put on airs when they visited New York and Rio Janeiro and said "Nice little city you have here" with impudence, as the harbor of the city was filled with ships from all the world. Havana has grown ever since, but has gotten off the main line. It now has 300,000 people, and tourists visit it for its quaintness, not to see its skyscrapers.

Havana is situated on the north side of Cuba, within 100 miles of freedom and progress until 1898, when both the above mentioned things were scooped it in. It is situated on a rocky city, decorated with tropical plants, colored stone and plaster homes and bright costumes. It has drives and alamedas around its harbor instead of wooden wharves, and its cathedrals, palaces and castles are large enough to strike the tourist from the globe. It was the most prominent resident of Havana was Christopher Columbus, whose remains lay in the cathedral, but he recently succeeded in getting home to Spain after almost 400 years of exile.

Havana was founded just 400 years ago by the Spanish and has had as much excitement as a rabbit in hunting season. For two centuries the favorite amusement of warlike parties was to come over and shoot at French and threatened by Drake. In 1589 Spain built Morro Castle and these amusements ceased for a while. In 1898 the United States battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor by a mysterious explosion. This was the greatest thing that ever happened to Havana. It was taken by Spain at the time and consisted of four parts dirt, five parts tyranny and

PICKENS POLITICS ARE GETTING LIVELY

Jasper, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—The political pot in Pickens county is beginning to boil a little. This is Pickens' time to name a senator for the forty-first senatorial district. Colonel L. E. Tate, of Tate, is being frequently mentioned for the place. Colonel Tate is well known and has a host of friends in the district.

There is no candidate so far for representative. It is understood the present member, Rev. J. B. Allen, will not offer for re-election.

Tom Ed Johnson, of Talking Rock, is being very prominently mentioned as a candidate for sheriff and will doubtless be in the running. He is very strong in the county. His father was sheriff of this county some twenty-four years ago for four years. Ed Leming will be a candidate for re-election as county treasurer. He is now serving his first term.

As Pickens is divided politically no primaries about county officers. Everybody runs that feels like it. The man that gets the most votes gets the office. Very little is being said about the congressional and United States senatorial races. Governor Slaton has many strong friends in this county. He carried Pickens county in the last election for governor by about 900 majority. There were not over 1,300 votes polled.

CLAYTON POLITICAL POT BOILING HARD

Jonesboro, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—The changing of the date for holding the primary for Clayton county offices from May 7 to March 23 has set the political pot to boiling.

There are three candidates for sheriff C. H. Dickson, present sheriff; E. L. Dorse, a retired farmer; West Clayton, and H. E. Pearson, a prominent Jonesboro citizen. This promises to be a close race with very little room for guessing. The clerk's race will also be a lively one, as four of the county's citizens have expressed their willingness to serve in that capacity: John W. Mundy, the present clerk; B. H. Coleman of Rex, at present tax receiver; L. J. Brown a farmer and business man, of Jonesboro, and A. S. Martin, also a farmer and livery man, of Jonesboro.

Five of the county's citizens would act as trustees: H. P. Strickland, of Jonesboro, J. W. Adams, the present treasurer; L. E. Sparks, S. P. Crane, all three of near Morrow, and O. A. Mayo, of Riverdale.

Four offer for tax receiver: J. E. Smith, J. W. Davis, W. C. Kirkland and J. H. Hill. The present tax collector collected the taxes of the county. T. M. Brown, the present collector; J. J. Hartsfield, G. H. Roberts and O. L. Ragsdale, all farmers.

P. H. Camp, the present coroner, will again be in the race.

No one has yet offered to be surveyor, but it is generally understood that the present surveyor, W. J. Lee, of upper Clayton, will be re-elected.

WALKER HAS EYE ON ATTORNEY GENERALSHIP

Clifton M. Walker, of Walker county, and former solicitor of the northeastern circuit, whose name is being prominently mentioned for attorney general, for whose office Attorney General Slaton announced he will not be a candidate for re-election to the United States senate instead, was in Atlanta Tuesday.

Mr. Walker admits that he is in communication with friends throughout the state and, while not having definitely announced his name, thinks it probable that he will do so soon.

ANDERSON WILL RUN FOR GOVERNORSHIP, IF—

Hon. J. Randolph Anderson may be counted on to run for the governorship in the event that Governor Slaton decides to enter the senatorial contest and does not offer for re-election as the chief executive of the state.

Mr. Anderson, who is president of the state senate and would succeed temporarily to the governorship in the event Governor Slaton went to the senate, was in Atlanta Tuesday and, while he declined to talk politics at any length, let it be known that he could be counted on for gubernatorial contest provided Governor Slaton did not offer.

(From "Alaska—A Future Empire," by Ed H. Thomas, in the American Review of Reviews for January.)

Discovery of a new and apparently rich placer-gold region, the Shushanna, an extreme source of the Tanana, emphasizes the fact that Alaska is still in a physical formative period. It is an empire in the making, for all the forces which have made the earth habitable are still at work in the northern territories.

THOUSANDS LISTEN TO LONDON DIVINE

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan Makes Powerful Appeal to Women to Help Their Fallen Sisters.

With great emotion, Dr. Morgan continued. "The greatest trouble I find is to get women who will kiss these women and be kind to them and help them back to the church and back to the sort of life they ought to have."

"You women who are not willing to receive these women in your company and help them—he would have harsh words for you."

"Christ wants friends," he said. "How well do you know I measure my friends by the number of those who are with me."

After tracing the origin of the word "home" back to its original source, showing that in its correct meaning it is older than Christianity itself, Dr. Morgan entered upon a pertinent discussion of the ideals which should govern the home.

Dr. George Stuart, of Nashville, Tenn., was the first speaker, and he ably assisted in the carrying out of the platform. Fully 2,000 persons heard his address and pronounced it one of the best they ever heard.

Thursday night, when Dr. G. Campbell Morgan delivered his address, the auditorium will be unable to accommodate the crowd. Much interest is centered about the coming of Dr. Morgan, generally recognized as one of England's most noted ministers.

POLICE HOD HOTEL MAN WHEN GIRL DISAPPEARS

F. E. Hellen Says He Sent Her and His Aged Mother to Spartanburg.

F. E. Hellen, a retired hotel proprietor of Trion, N. C., reported to be worth a quarter of a million dollars, was held at police station yesterday, being denied bond, while the detectives made investigation into the sudden and mysterious disappearance of young Bertha Whitehouse and Hellen's aged mother on Monday, following a dispute between the girl and Hellen in a boarding house at 273 Washington street on Monday morning, in which it is reported Hellen threatened to take the girl's life.

Hellen told Chief of Detectives Lanford Tuesday afternoon that when the police came to make the arrest he had hurried his mother and the young girl attendant out of the back door of the boarding house, with instructions to leave the city of Atlanta and go to Spartanburg, S. C. The detectives at first suspected foul play connected with the strange disappearance of the girl, but late Tuesday afternoon Chief of Detectives Lanford received a telegram from the chief of police at Spartanburg stating that the girl and mother were there, having arrived there at 9 o'clock Monday night.

Hellen is a man about 45 years of age, tall and slender, with hair which is graying at the temples. He is a bachelor. He was stopped by the police in Atlanta with his mother and the young girl attendant, whom he states he was going to Florida to spend a few months.

Barton Smith has been employed as counsel for the defendant, who is now held on a charge of disorderly conduct, and will be tried by Judge Broyles this morning at 10 o'clock. At the police court matinee session Tuesday Judge Broyles released Hellen on a $500 bond.

The modification order reads that the defendant be imprisoned for four months and that he pay a fine of $100 and costs of prosecution, the sentence to date October 9, 1913.

HIGH HONOR PAID TO COLONEL GOETHALS

President Wilson Presents Special Gold Medal to Col. Goethals—Wilson Styles Goethals World's Greatest Engineer.

Washington, March 2.—Washington tonight paid tribute to Colonel George Washington Goethals, builder of the Panama canal. The president presented the annual banquet of the National Geographic society, with Colonel Goethals present as the guest of honor, and to receive from the hand of President Wilson a special gold medal which was presented to him by the society in recognition of his wonderful achievement.

Secretary Bryan was toastmaster and gathered about the banquet table with distinguished scientists, the society were President Wilson and his cabinet, justices of the supreme court, members of the diplomatic corps, high officers of the army and navy, leaders in both houses of congress and other notable figures in the life of the national capital.

During the evening Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador, and dean of the diplomatic corps, was formally inducted into the society by membership in a striking scene. The banquet hall presented a striking scene. At one end, raised high above the table, the words "Atlantic Goethals-Pacific" blazed in brilliant electric letters as all other lights were extinguished.

Wilson to Goethals. Presenting the medal, President Wilson said: "I am here to do what I suppose is an unusual thing for a society of this kind. It generally confers its honors upon those who have distinguished themselves in their own profession rather than upon those who have distinguished themselves in the service of the world."

Goethals Greatest Engineer. "We have, therefore, to honor tonight the greatest living representative of this extraordinary profession. It seems to me to be natural that I should wish to honor a man who has done so much for the world, and who has done so much for the United States. The United States is not one of the nations of the world. It is a nation of the world."

The Helpers of Goethals. "I take it for granted that we do not tonight honor a man who is a member of a group of men who have been associated with Colonel Goethals—that gallant and devoted soldier who gave his very life to see that the Panama canal was built at Culebra cut, that man who made so much of this work possible, Surgeon General Gorgas, by knowing how to hold disease off at arm's length while these men were given leave to work on the canal. It was built the walls of Gatun dam and dammed Gatun lake, making it look to the eye of the beholder as if nature had done the work which was actually done by the men who worked on the canal."

No Thought of Private Profit. "I am glad this thing was not done by private enterprise and that there is no thought of private profit where in it, but that a government put itself at the service of the world and sent a great man to do the work. That is the ideal of the modern world, that the services to mankind shall be commonly shared."

Leaves for Nebraska to Bring Back Parker. Decatur, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—Charles Lindsey, balliff of the Decatur justice of peace court, left Monday for Omaha, Neb., to bring back Parker, who is under a $10,000 supersedeas bond, charged with seducing a girl of a prominent DeKalb county family about six years ago. The case has been tried several times, but resulted each time in an appeal or material. The bond was furnished by five citizens of DeKalb county.

Suffragists Threaten Revenge at Polls if There's Adverse Action on Suffrage Amendment.

Washington, March 3.—All phases of the woman suffrage question were presented to the house judiciary committee today, accompanied by cheers, jeers, and applause. Deserving sentimental phases of the suffrage argument Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict and Mrs. Mary Beard, New York lawyer, threw down the gauntlet to the pro-suffrage party in the committee, claiming the committee that the political worth of the 4,000,000 women in suffrage states would be visited upon the party, unless favorable consideration were given the constitutional amendment for woman suffrage.

At the conclusion of the hearings, Dr. Walker, trousered and silk hatted, presiding, asked the committee what she represented the National Woman Suffrage association, urged that, if the committee would not report the proposed amendment, it report an amendment to all of the suffrage question to make the referendum in the suffrage states, instead of by the legislatures. Mrs. Benedict, Mrs. Beard, Mrs. Giendower Evans, of Boston, and Dr. Cora Smith Knox, for the Congressional Union, declared that the time had come when the referendum question one of political expediency.

It is because I have the interests of this administration at heart," said Mrs. Evans, "that I expect the democratic majority in the house will see its way clear to reconsider what report all was unconsidered action of the democratic caucus."

Democracy Are Warned. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Benedict warned the democrats not to dodge this issue and declare in the political suffrage question must be taken at this session of congress.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS. Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from their play to get their bowels moving, become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

During the debate in the senate Senator Clapp declared that all the sinister influences of the country were lined up against woman suffrage. He said California had no more right to say whether the negro woman of Florida should vote than Florida had to say that the Japanese should vote in California.

Which one do you think is describing a great big hearty meal? The easy way, the pleasant way, is to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets that quickly restore appetite and build up the worn-out body by the perfect assimilation of food matter.

These little digestors are powerful, pleasant, and produce almost immediate relief of any distress. If you will use them occasionally you will quickly learn what a joy food really is. One cannot hope to help nature by eating food from which a weakened digestion cannot take the ingredients it needs.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the very essences most demanded and desired by the body to do its work of taking nutrition from food. It is enabled to soon perform its proper and perfect functions.

Mrs. Fletcher's Lecture.

Following a number of requests, Mrs. Anne Fletcher has kindly consented to give one more address in Atlanta before returning to her home in Oldham, England. Mrs. Fletcher will speak at a meeting of the Atlanta Social Welfare association to be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lyric. Other interesting features of the program will be an address on "The Justice of Woman Suffrage" by Mrs. Julia S. Rodgers and a "Vote for Women" lecture by little Miss Helen McClure. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to every one.

Makes Unsightly Hairs Quickly Disappear

(Beauty Culture)
A smooth, hairless skin is possible for every woman if she uses a delicate paste to remove the ugly hairs. This simple treatment quickly banishes all hair of face and leaves the skin firm and smooth. The results are made by mixing water with powdered delatone. It is applied to the skin for 2 or 3 minutes, then rinsed off and the skin washed. No hair results from this treatment, but care should be used to see that you get delatone in an original package.—(adv.)

Mrs. Harry Osgood, head of the drawing department of our schools, will lecture on "The History of Art." Mrs. Curtis Arnold North, of Cox college, will give a reading. The pupils of the eighth grade will be guests of the association. All members and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

Tuesday Evening "42" Club

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hadley entertained the members of their Evening Domino club and a few other guests in a delightful way the past week. Quantities of red carnations were used for decorations, and a delicious luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Dowman will entertain the club at the next meeting.

For Wedding Party.

Miss Marion Goldstein entertained eight guests at dinner party last night at the Driving club for Miss Ruth Stallings and Mr. Preston Witherspoon of New York, whose wedding will be an event of this evening. The table was placed in the green room of the club and decorated with Killarney roses. All of the pretty details were in pink.

Bridge Tea.

Mrs. William W. Roberts was hostess at a pretty bridge tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

The apartments were spring-like with bowls of jonquils, narcissi and violets, and the centerpiece of the table was a basket of the same flowers. The prizes were silk stockings and a piece of lingerie. The guests were Mrs. J. W. Morrow, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Mrs. D. G. Gorman, Mrs. Mattie Dunbar, Mrs. Sam Osborne, Mrs. Arthur Reid, Mrs. William Owens, Mrs. O. Foster, George Adair, Mrs. Harry Tolbert, Mrs. W. L. Plane, Mrs. E. M. Pearce, Mrs. H. C. ## Myrtle Elvyn's Art.

A typical comment on the work of Myrtle Elvyn, the celebrated American pianist, will be the soloist with the philharmonic orchestra of the Atlanta Musical association Thursday night at the Atlanta theater. She is contained in the following clipping from the Minneapolis Tribune after her appearance there with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra: "The assisting soloist was Myrtle Elvyn, one of the most beautiful and artistically accomplished of America's younger generation of pianists. Miss Elvyn played, with the orchestra, the tremendously difficult and complicated Tchaikowsky concerto for piano and orchestra in B flat minor, giving it an interpretation of profound beauty, psychological grasp and technical perfection beyond her apparent years. In respect to an enthusiastic encore she played, with endearing tenderness and eloquence, the well-known and always welcome G major Nocturne of Chopin."

For the Thursday concert members of the association are offered the privilege of an extra ticket for fifty cents, this in addition to their free membership tickets. For others the price is one dollar, seventy-five, fifty and twenty-five cents.

ARE REBELS IN MEXICO SEEKING INTERVENTION?

Rev. J. P. Lancaster Believes That is Why They Are Holding Benton's Body.

That the Mexican rebel leaders, Carranza and Villa, are trying to force intervention on the part of the United States by holding the body of Benton, the executed Englishman, is the opinion of Rev. J. P. Lancaster, late of Torreon, Mexico, but now of Savannah, Ga., who is attending the Atlanta Bible conference. Mr. Lancaster left Torreon last September 25, and was more than a month making his way with his family to LaGrange, Ga. "Before I left Mexico," said Mr. Lancaster to a Constitution reporter on Tuesday, "there was a persistent rumor that when it appeared that either of the contending factions in Mexico had reached a point where it felt that it could not longer survive, the United States would be forced to intervention before the weaker faction would allow itself to go down in defeat. It looks very much now as if this were the very thing that Carranza and Villa are trying to do."

1914 Convention Program Tri-State Water and Light Association Is Completed

The program of the annual convention of the Tri-State Water and Light association, which will be held in Atlanta April 10 and 11, was fixed at a meeting of the local entertainment committee in the offices of the Atlanta convention bureau Tuesday afternoon. The headquarters of the convention will be at the Piedmont hotel, and all meetings of the association will be held in the assembly hall of that building. The opening session of the convention will be held Tuesday morning, April 10, at 10 o'clock, when Mayor Woodward will welcome the water and light men, and a response to his welcome will be made by J. Sproule, of Greenwood, S. C., president of the association. The afternoon session will consist of a "round table" discussion. There will be a theater party for the visitors that night, followed by a Dutch supper at the Piedmont.

The election of officers will be held Friday morning and on Friday afternoon the visitors will make an automobile tour of the city, visiting the new disposal plant and winding up at the city waterworks with a Brunswick stew lunch and an inspection of the plant.

About 250 visitors will attend the convention. Frank Erwin is chairman of the local entertainment committee, and Fred Houser is secretary. The other members are Peter Peterson, C. M. House, L. J. Leary, W. Z. Smith and J. W. Nash.

Police Are Puzzled Over Disappearance Of Money in Safe

Without a single broken door lock or window through which the supposed burglars could have entered and without the safe being blown, $120 was found missing Tuesday morning from the safe of the Walton Discount company at 47 1/2 Decatur street, according to the police report. Detectives on investigating the mysterious disappearance of the money discovered black powder marks on the safe and on the floor, but it was felt, they claim, that the safe had not been blown, but had been opened in some way by means of working the combination lock. Further investigation is being made by Manager Jordan and the detectives.

STOE NEW TRIAL MOTION IS SET FOR MARCH 7

The motion for a new trial by R. A. Stoe, recently convicted in the United States court on a true bill charging white slavery, which was to have been argued before Judge Newnam last week, was postponed for two years in the federal court today, has been postponed until Saturday next, March 7, as Judge Newnam leaves the city this morning for Savannah to hear argument in a bankruptcy case. The case against Mrs. Stoe, indicted together with her husband, has been set for trial in the local federal court for Monday, March 9. Mrs. Stoe is now under bond.

ALLEGED CAR THIEF HELD IN $500 BOND

F. C. Mathews, the alleged car thief, who was arrested by Special Agent Harmon in the yards at Atlanta, joint terminals last Sunday night, was bound over to the higher court on a $500 bond at Tuesday morning in the police court by Recorder Nash Broyles. The judge deemed the evidence in the case sufficient to bind him over.

JOYNER INVESTIGATES 52 SUSPICIOUS FIRES

State Fire Inspector Secures Two Convictions for Arson and Five True Bills.

W. P. Joyner, state fire inspector, has submitted his annual report to Insurance Commissioner Wright. The report is an interesting one, and shows that Mr. Joyner has done some good work in running down the perpetrators of incendiary fires. In speaking of his work, Mr. Joyner said: "Each suspicious fire reported or that I heard of in the state was investigated by me. During the year 1913 I investigated fifty-two suspicious fires. I had two trials for arson during the year, and secured convictions in both cases. One man got a sentence of twelve and one-half years, and the other five years. I have secured five true bills against other persons, whose trials will come up at the spring term of court. Six other cases are being investigated by sheriffs, solicitors general and myself. "In many instances I have discovered over-insurance where incendiary has been proved. Local agents are too anxious to get business and the property insured is not properly inspected. "I would like to call attention to the fact that if any suspicious fire is reported to me, whether there is insurance or not, I will give it my prompt attention. Unless I am notified promptly, the chances of securing convictions are minimized."

Mrs. Emma Bell Will Be Laid to Rest at West View Today

The funeral of Mrs. Emma E. Bell, whose death occurred at an early hour Tuesday morning, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bell house. Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. The interment will be at West View cemetery.

The pallbearers will be: C. E. Currier, Dr. W. S. Ilkin, Myron E. Freeman, Thomas B. Paine, Captain J. C. Haskell, Percy H. Adams and Dr. John P. Denton, all active or honorary members of the Bell house club. The death of Mrs. Bell caused great sorrow in Atlanta Tuesday and hundreds of "her boys" called at the home to pay their last respects to her memory. The funeral this afternoon will be one of the largest ever held in Atlanta and will be attended by hundreds of former boarders. Active boarders will attend in a body.

This Negro Charged With Trying to Steal Everything in Sight

John Henry Mangum, alias J. H. Kendall, the negro who it is alleged tried to steal everything in sight that he could lay hands upon Monday night on South Broad street, first driving off with one of the new grocery delivery wagons of the J. M. High company, with an $18 paragon rug in the load, and has wagon with flour and meal which he took from the sidewalk in front of one of the wholesale grocery stores on South Broad street, was bound over to the higher court on bond of $500 for larceny by Judge Broyles Tuesday afternoon.

History Club Entertained.

Mrs. W. F. Anderson was hostess for the Twentieth Century Cotette last week. After a most interesting program dainty refreshments were served from a prettily appointed table, which had for its centerpiece a vase of daisies. The sandwiches, mints and cakes carried out the color scheme of yellow. Besides the members, a few intimate friends were invited for 8 o'clock. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. A. Crowe on Lee street.

Mrs. Griffin Entertains.

After a meeting of the state press committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution on yesterday, Mrs. Ella Griffin entertained the members of the committee at a beautiful luncheon at the home of Mrs. Shepherd W. Foster. The table was decorated to represent a Japanese scene. Pink carnations were in the center of the table and trays of amilia were over the table. Japanese figures, jinrikishaws and American boats were features in the scene. The Japanese place cards and souvenirs were brought by the hostess from Japan. The lights were under Japanese shades, and placed about the room were vases filled with roses and carnations. The guests were Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Francis H. Orme, Mrs. John M. Graham, Mrs. Marietta, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, Mrs. Josephine Earnest, Mrs. Purse, Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. Roswell H. Drake of Griffin, Miss Mabel Cortelyou of Marietta, Mrs. Herbert Franklin of Tennille, Mrs. P. C. Parker of Macon, and Mrs. W. H. Devoe of Brunswick.

The guests were Miss Stallings, Mr. Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes, Miss Marion Goldsmith, Mr. Hal Hentz and Mr. and Mrs. Meador.

Memorable Events Described In Mrs. Mims' Diary Sunday

The sixth installment of the remarkable diary of Mrs. Livingston Mims, which is being published serially in The Sunday Constitution, continues to reveal with exquisite delicacy the inner life as well as the social life of that beautiful and charming woman, who was one of the first to establish a salon in the stirring days of the new south.

In the early part of the year 1833, she visited New Orleans and saw one of the first productions of the opera "Aida." At the same time she saw, and commented upon charmingly, Mrs. Langtry, then a world famed beauty.

Returning to Atlanta, she, with Henry W. Grady, Judge Bleckley and others, organized the Shakespeare club, the first dramatic club organized in Atlanta. The first meetings of the club are described by Mrs. Mims, and in a brief report written by Mr. Grady for The Constitution. The visit to Atlanta of Vice President and Mrs. David Davis is noted, and the funeral of Alexander Stephens, is described. Daniel Barnett, the noted scholar, Judge Bleckley, Senator Joseph Emerson Brown, Bishop Beckwith, and men of similar distinction in the professions are referred to in this installment of the diary to be published Sunday.

Story of Henrik Ibsen Told Before the Drama League

Those who went to the lecture given yesterday afternoon by Dr. Jenkins Loyd Jones before the Drama League who expected to be thrilled by dramatic climaxes; who expected to be charmed by tricks of speech; by what the fair ones call sometimes a "fascinating delivery" were disappointed, for the scholar who presented the subject of Henrik Ibsen felt too much the depth and loftiness of his subject to descend to a play on the incidental qualities of a lecture.

Dr. Jones proved to be a great teacher, one who had a serious and useful lesson to impart—that lesson having as textbook dramas of Ibsen, whom he proclaimed as the prophet, philosopher and poet of the modern age and made those who thought they knew Ibsen realize his greatness was yet to be realized by them and encouraged all to go on in pursuit of their knowledge of the greatest Norwegian of whom the world has taken note.

Sympathy first Dr. Jones aroused in his subject when he presented Ibsen as the student misunderstood, struggling through his university course in Christiania, Norway; struggling then to be understood in his earlier writings, and finally giving up the struggle at home to accept the pension given by Norway to young men encouraging in them the creative genius in literature, going out to broaden his view of life by study in other countries. This study of life brought fourth the first works of Ibsen, appreciated by the world and yielding him compensation.

His address reflected his views of life, his growth in spirit and knowledge; his study of his country; his knowledge of his weakness; the politics of it, and these as related to the politics of the world at the moment. Then came from his pen the group of wonderful dramas dealing with the problems of society, not as the world would see them always in radiant lights, but as they are in life—life as lived in all the reality of truth, whether truth in the glory of light or the hopelessness of darkness. Each of the dramas and the lesson it teaches was touched upon in turn by Dr. Jones. He brought the lesson home in brief analysis of the drama. He read beautifully certain poems of Ibsen, one great in thought and tenderness written after the death of Abraham Lincoln, this one sounding the note of death triumphant as clearly as that poem about the same subject by America's poet and philosopher, Walt Whitman. The lecture of Dr. Jones will lead readers of Ibsen to become students of him, believers in him and followers of truth in literature and the drama.

Work of Free Kindergarten

By Mrs. F. G. Hodgson. Once a month the executive committee of the Atlanta Free Kindergarten association meets to read reports from the five kindergartens under their care, and to dispose of any business that may come up in connection with the association.

The report from the teachers have been encouraging this year that we feel the public should understand the real value of our kindergartens to the neighborhoods in which they are established.

The mothers' meetings continue to be a source of inspiration to teacher and to mothers. In one kindergarten they have planned a program for the rest of the year, taking up matters of historical interest; they also plan a reception to the neighborhood, which will mean a great deal in interesting their friends in the kindergarten. In another kindergarten the mothers are interested in study of child life and home training. In another they have taken up child labor—the teacher wisely trying to impress on these mothers the reasons why young children should not be sent out into the world too early.

Perhaps it will astonish you that some of these mothers have signed a petition not to give their children intoxicating liquors for the rest of the year. Does not this reveal an uplift, an awakening of the moral sense in the souls of these women to whom life has been a hard struggle under bitter privations? As we all know and love this work could tell so many things in regard to the actual improvement of whole neighborhoods. Let every one could visit our free kindergartens and join us in this effort to start these babies out with some vision of the ideal in their little lives.

Arthur Schwind Reports, Other Players Delayed; Public Is Invited Out

Arthur Schwind, the young short stop secured by the Crackers from San Antonio, Texas, via the Boston Braves, and the small squad of players that have reported to practice on Tuesday morning and was out on the field with Manager Smith, O'Flaherty, Nixon and infielders, Neusch and several semi pros Tuesday afternoon.

Schwind evidently reported in good condition, ready to go right to work for the cut loose a little during the afternoon as he had not just been through a long winter, but had been playing for some time.

Looks Like Tommie.

In the 1913 season Schwind and acts as a set back in his own mind. Tommie M. M. has the new shortstop is fast coverer, a world of ground and from first impressions is one of the better little infielders that has ever stepped up to the plate.

Just what he can do with the stick is problematical. He has been hitting left handed and hit that way on last season. He switched to the right side of the bat Tuesday and struck the ball hard and far.

Manager Smith was impressed with the new pitcher. He has been going to it so that he bat right handed. If he can hit at a little better clip than he has been hitting, he is going to give some one a mighty battle for the shortfield berth.

The general public is invited out to see the practices every day. Manager Smith makes only one proviso when they do come.

"Please tell them for me," he said yesterday afternoon "that I am glad to have them come out and see us stop, but I insist that they stay on the field. They are welcome just as long as they are in the stands. When they are in the field they not only get to see the game, but they are likely to get a little practice.

The field looked splendid Tuesday afternoon when the first practice was held. The ground is a trifle soft yet from the heavy snow of last week and the thawing out of the freeze that followed.

Carpenters were at work repairing the fence that was blown down by the wind storm of Sunday and in the next couple of days the field will look splendid.

Where Are the Rest?

More players are expected to report today than did last week. Several players due and now they are making their way to the city.

Today's rains should bring a large quota of the team and the field will be covered with ball players during the afternoon weather permitting.

Dillott, Dent, the Walsh Brothers, Nealon, Lynch, Harry Vaichance and Hen Reynolds are all overdue.

The time is now short. Manager Smith instructed all the players to report by 10 o'clock Tuesday. They have today all the time to go to keep up with their returns.

The two K's are a little every day until morning and afternoon work outs will be in order of the day.

The first exhibition game is less than two weeks away so extra steam will have to be crowded on to whip a team in shape to battle with the Louisville Colonels on March 18.

KID YOUNG BOXES AT THE COLUMBIA

Meets Jack Gold in the Main Bout—Two Other Good Scraps.

An all star boxing treat will be headed local fans at the Columbia this evening tomorrow night. Twenty rounds of boxing will be offered the fans one ten-round bout, one six round affair and a four-round go being on the bill.

Kid Young, one of the greatest 122 pounders in the south, will be seen in action against Jack Gold, and this scrap should be a bumper. Young will be forced to give away several pounds in weight, but his great fighting ability should more than offset this disadvantage.

The ten round go will bring together Liddle Collins and Jack McMahon. These boys have been rivals for some time and the fun should certainly be when they mix matters. The winner of this go will get Happy Joe Trent next week.

Joe Turner, the promising youngster who beat Bobby LaRoux last week will meet Kid Wonder in the four round go.

A Cracker a Day for Fans

24. HARRY HEDGEPTH.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the twenty-fourth of a series of articles that will be carried by The Constitution, introducing to Atlanta fans the men who will try for positions on the 1914 Crackers. The complete record and history of each of the thirty candidates will be printed in this form.

Petersburg, Va., March 3.—(Special)—Harry Hedgepath, who established a world's pitching record here October 13, 1913 when he pitched a double play and allowed but one safe hit in 23 years old.

His first real experience on the mound was when he twirled for an amateur team at his home, Fayetteville, C. He played two summers with the amateurs after which he made the team of Elon college where he pitched one season going from Elon to the University of North Carolina where he twirled two seasons.

During the 1911 season of the Virginia State league he pitched and is signed with the Petersburg team, where he showed coming ability. He played with the Petersburg team through 1913, which accomplished anything spectacular, but steadily showed improvement.

It was in the latter part of the 1912 season that Hedgepath made his mark and demonstrated to the world that he was worthy of going up higher. The latter part of July he pitched several two and three hit games, and on the 13th of August faced the fast team representing the city of Richmond in a double header allowing only one safe hit throughout the eighteen innings thereby establishing a world's pitch record.

Hedgepath's record last season was:

Won	10	Lost	2	P. C.	687
AB	122	R	78	P. C.	795
PC	1	A	376	P. C.	376

Hedgepath is a fourth year student in the Medical College of Virginia, at Richmond. He was sold to the Washington Americans last season. He is called Doc by the fans.

HARRY HEDGEPTH

Corbett's Place Raided.

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—The police raided an alleged pool room conducted by Tom Corbett, brother of James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist, late today and arrested nearly 100 men. Edward Kagan was charged with being the keeper and the others with frequenting a gambling house.

Poor Matchmaking Results In Joke Fights at Staten's

Poor matchmaking resulted in three joke fights at Harry Staten's club on the Madison place Tuesday night. The bouts would have been extremely humorous but for the fact that the fans paid real money to see these tumbles.

The first of the bouts were the men well matched. Two resulted in knock outs and the third was won on a foul in the opener. Bill Hooper stopped Dixie Kid in four rounds. The latter was entirely too small to cope with Hooper though he was game Jack Monahan fouled Bill Hooper in the fourth round of the wind up hitting him when he was down. Monahan admitted that he lost his head.

Young Jackson knocked out Gus Sharkey in the second round. Hooper ought to have stopped him in the first. Jackson weighed about 170 while Sharkey was nothing but skin and bones.

MARIST COLLEGE LEADS THE PREPS

By Defeating Tech High School Tuesday by Score of 37 to 20 in Very Fast Game.

Marist college gained the leadership of the local prep league Tuesday afternoon when they won a great game from Tech high school, 37 to 20. The game was played on the Marist court and was a beautiful through-out.

Both teams started things off with a rush, and neither one seemed to have any advantage over the other until the last few minutes of play, when Marist forced into the lead and held it until the whistle blew. In this half the playing of both the teams was good and both of them seemed confident of the outcome. The team work of Marist was good and consistent throughout this period and they had some hard luck in throwing goals. The score at the end of the first half was Tech high 16, Marist 20, Marist leading by a four-point margin.

Four Marist college, the playing of McCall at guard was undoubtedly the best. McCall is one of the best guards in the prep league and improves with every game that he plays. In the game Tuesday he was the shining light and was up numerous passes of the Tech high team. Cooke at center also played well for Marist, making twelve of his points and doing some excellent guarding and passing.

NAPS SIGN BLANDING.

Had Previously Signed With the Federals.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 3.—President C. W. Souers of the Cleveland Americans, said today he had signed Pitcher Fred Blanding, and that he is on his way out to the Naps at Athens. Blanding previously had signed a Federal League contract.

Feds Warn Organized Ball; Baseball War Seems Likely

Chicago, March 3.—The greatest war of baseball history was threatened by President Gilmore of the Federal league, today as the result of reports that the American and National leagues were proselyting among the Federal's players.

News that Pitcher Blanding had rejoined the Cleveland Americans after signing a Federal contract made President Gilmore decide to take action. Besides Blanding, Kullfers, Williams and Baumgardner are players who the Federals claimed, have violated contracts with the new league.

"If our contracts are so good, their contracts are no good, and they can disregard a contract with a club in organized ball as easily as we can ours," Gilmore said. "Therefore, if the National and American league clubs are trying to take our signed men away from us, we will take theirs away from them."

"We have unlimited cash and the united support of all our club owners and players," Gilmore said. "We are as high for the players as anybody."

Up to this time we have played fair and honest. We have not been having signed with the Chicago club, when we believed the courts would have given him to us. We signed Kill-

DRAW OF SIX NATIONS FOR THE DAVIS MATCH

New York, March 3.—The draw of the six nations challenging the United States for the Davis international lawn tennis match was made today by G. D. Wrenn, chairman of the American committee, assisted by G. T. Adee. Germany and France drew in the first round. Australia and Canada were coupled on the brackets of the first round. Australasia and Canada British Isles and England were drawn against each other in the lower half. Germany will meet the winner of the Australasia-Canada match and France will meet the successful nation of the British Isles-England series.

At the close of the drawing Wrenn said that he regarded the manner in which the names had been picked blindly from a hat as an admirable arrangement. He expressed the belief that at least four of the nations would be engaged in the cup competitions on the courts of this country. Canada and Australasia are certain to meet here and the winner of this match will play the Germans here also. Probably all the nations in the lower half of the draw will visit this country for the final which would decide the challengers.

Wrenn and Adee, at the completion of the draw, at once began negotiations by telegraph and telephone with Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia, to decide upon the dates for these matches, which probably will be announced tomorrow.

Goodwin to Feds.

Kansas City, March 3.—Claire Goodwin, third baseman last season for the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, is reported to Manager George Stovall of the Kansas City Federal League club, today. Goodwin signed a contract with the Federals recently.

CLOSE GAME PLAYED ON G. M. A.'S COURT

Donald Fraser Wins Over the Georgia Military Academy 23 to 20.

Donald Fraser won a good game of basketball from the Georgia Military academy yesterday afternoon by the score of 23 to 20. The game, which was played on the G. M. A. court, was bitterly contested from start to finish.

In the first half Fraser did not get the hang of the G. M. A. court, and were a little off in their goal shooting. Consequently, at the end of the first half he led by a point margin. The score at the end of this period was G. M. A. 9, Donald Fraser 8.

In the second half Donald Fraser came back strong, and played G. M. A. a great ball Tuesday afternoon. Both teams were playing a great ball when the whistle blew for the final ending, and the lead that Donald Fraser obtained at the beginning of this period was enough to win for them.

For G. M. A., the playing of Rodriguez was the best. This player has improved wonderfully recently, and played a great ball Tuesday. During the contest he scored 14 of his team's 20 points. Porter and Coburn also played well. Rodriguez was the best. Phillips played his usual good game, making the field goals.

TINKER ANNOUNCES LINE-UP OF CHICAGO

Chicago, March 3.—The line-up of the Chicago Federals was announced today by Manager Tinker, who declared himself satisfied that the team would play a great ball Tuesday night. He said its speed will make up for other deficiencies. The line-up with the regulars in parentheses is as follows:

Pitchers: Ad Brennan, Philadelphia National; Claude Hendrix, Philadelphia National; Chicago Federals; Fred Lewis, local semi-professional; C. J. Stinson, Milwaukee; Henry Schmidt, Milwaukee; John Giesler, Chicago semi-professional; Dave Black, Chicago semi-professional; and Leo Prendergast, Philadelphia.

Catchers: Art Wilson, New York Nationals; Jim Block, Milwaukee; Bill Killifer, Philadelphia National; Jim McDonough, Chicago Federals; and George Mulvaney, Cincinnati semi-professional.

First basemen: W. R. Jackson, Spokane; John Kading, Chicago Federals; Fred Beck, Buffalo; and Bill Zwilling, St. Joseph.

Second basemen: John Farrell, Chicago Federals; John Granun, Lake Forest; and Leo Kavanagh, Chicago semi-professional.

Third basemen: Rollie Zeider, New York Nationals; James Stanley, Chicago Federals.

Shortstops: Joe Tinker, Cincinnati; Bill Winters, Philadelphia National; Cal Cole, Baltimore; and John Muncie, University of Minnesota, and Max Flack, Peoria.

AT THE THEATERS

"Everywoman."

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the new play, "Everywoman," which will be given in a matinee and night only Friday. This is the only play in the city which has a wonderful spectacle, and patrons of the Atlanta Theatre will be sure to enjoy the play set by Mr. Seaver's company. Here only for a matinee and night because of the company's bookings. It is a play that those who miss it will be missing one of the wonder shows of the past few years. "Everywoman" has been a great success in the streets and an enthusiastic in declaring it the greatest show in many seasons.

Paulova.

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now being sold for the engagement of Paulova and her band of noted artists in the grand opera, "The Rose Maid," which will be given in a matinee and night only Monday and Tuesday of next week. Paulova is the world's greatest dancer and a complete symphony orchestra furnishes the music for the divinity of the dance, while the production is of the highest class.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

A great many of the negroes and a great many folks who will not read theatergoers, but who have been attracted to the Keith Vaudeville company, agree that the bill in one of the best that has been seen at the Forsyth theatre. The company is headed by Howard Short's recent team's game, and the bill is headed by "The Rose Maid," which is a new play. The company is serving to introduce a sextette of really pretty girls, and a most capable singing and dancing actor. The opportunity of Ethel Green contributes a lot to the attendance. There has never been a more popular little play in the city than the one which is being presented in four years, she is decidedly more popular than any other play which has been presented in the city. "The Rose Maid" is a play that is a real gem. It is a play that is a real gem. It is a play that is a real gem. It is a play that is a real gem.

Norman Hackett.

(At the Lyric.)

This is the final week of dramatic stock at the Lyric. A splendid variety of plays, each a perfect production, recently and admirably cast, was the program of the campaign. The performances, but there has not been enough patronage to sustain the Lyric. The opportunity of Ethel Green is to close its engagement, there was a show of interest in holding the organization. The opportunity of Ethel Green is to close its engagement, there was a show of interest in holding the organization.

CUTTING DOWN TREES SUSTAINED BY BOARD

Commissioner Belcher Criticized General Manager Carey for Action.

The meeting of the park board yesterday was featured by two attacks on General Manager Carey by Park Commissioner James L. Belcher.

Commissioner Belcher started both rows by criticizing General Manager Carey and the park board improvement committee for cutting down some of the trees in Grant Park, and by raising the question of the right of the board to employ white men as laborers in Grant Park at $2.35 a day and negroes in Piedmont Park at $1.25 a day.

Commissioner Belcher's contention in the first instance was that the wages of the laborers, as indicated over the removal of some of the old trees, and on the other matter he took the position that the laborers should be put on a parity in both parks.

In the midst of the discussion and the wages of the laborers, Commissioner Young made the charge that "politics and unionism are responsible for keeping up the high price of labor in Grant Park." Commissioner Van Houten took umbrage at the charge, and demanding that Commissioner Young withdraw it. The latter refused.

On the question of placing the laborers in Grant and Piedmont Parks on a parity, the board referred the matter to the finance committee of the board and the general manager, giving the committee authority to act as it decided to be in the interest of the city.

Opposition to the employment of negro laborers in Grant Park was indicated by the fact that Carey had forced the city to resort to the hiring of only white men. In making up the finance sheet in years past, the committee included in the Piedmont pay roll funds for the employment of negro laborers at $1.25 per day, and a separate fund for white laborers in Grant Park at $2.35 per day. Recently the finance committee increased the white laborers' pay from $2.25 to $2.35 a day.

The reason given for the employment of only white laborers in Grant Park was that the frequenters of the park have caused considerable trouble because of the presence of the blacks. It was reported to the board that on several occasions there had been white visitors to Grant Park and the negro laborers were narrowly averted.

Commissioner Belcher then scored the improvement committee and General Manager Carey for cutting down the shade trees in Grant Park. He said that he has been worried almost frantic by enraged citizens who are opposed to the removal of the trees.

On the question of the board before, in fact, every time the improvement committee and Manager Carey decided to make improvements and make trees in the course of the work objection has been raised. Ten years ago the park department paid Olmstead Bros., of Brooklyn, Mass., a big fee to design and to plan of the parks. Four years afterwards the plans were resurrected from the controller's department and the board decided to carry them out. Olmstead Bros. were paid $125,000 for the plan, and the board decided to carry them out.

Manager Carey was sustained by the board in cutting down the trees and no action was taken to interfere with him. On the contrary, the board encouraged him to proceed with the improvements in accordance with the plans.

Manager Carey informed the board that he purchased an auto with his personal funds, and requested that the board purchase a new car for him for carfare be transferred to another fund for the upkeep of the machine and for oil and supplies.

Commissioner Green precipitated a spirited argument when he declared that it was an outrage for the city to purchase a new car for a manager to purchase his own machine. He wanted the board to take $500 from the appropriation for general management and to purchase a new car for the manager.

PAVILION IS BURNED AT WILDWOOD PARK

Columbus, Ga., March 3.—(Special.) Wildwood park pavilion and moving picture theater at the latter was destroyed tonight. The loss is $10,000, covered by insurance. The pavilion and theater were the property of the Columbus Railroad company. This is the only amusement park in the city and a great resort during the summer months.

The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. A motorist who discovered the blaze, called the fire department, which was passing within about two blocks of it, saw a flash and a man running away from the burning pavilion. The man was seen to throw a small object into the fire. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Snodgrass Signs With Giants.

New York, March 3.—The New York National League club received word today that Fred Snodgrass, centerfielder of the club, had signed a three-year contract with the Giants. Snodgrass was dissatisfied with the first contract the New York club sent him and was considering a Federal League offer.

Steamer Floated at Last.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—The British steamer Riversdale, which went ashore near Little Island February 20, was floated at Norfolk today. The steamer was stuck in the mud. The steamer had on board 1,000,000 feet of lumber, much of which was thrown overboard as the steamer was unable to get out.

J. N. TALLEY APPOINTED REFEREE IN BANKRUPTCY

Former Secretary to Judge Speer Named by Judge Shepherd.

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—J. N. Talley, for sixteen years private secretary to Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, has been appointed referee in bankruptcy for the Macon division by Judge W. B. Shepherd, of Florida, who is presiding in the case of Alexander Speer, who died a few months ago. During the vacancy in the office R. J. Bacon, referee at Albany, has been filling the Macon office.

The appointment came as a surprise to Mr. Talley. He immediately was sworn in by Judge Shepherd and has already begun his new duties.

After Mr. Talley resigned as Judge Speer's secretary he went into partnership with the judge's son-in-law, A. H. Hayward, Jr., though that firm was dissolved five months ago. For some time Mr. Talley has been standing master of Judge Speer's court.

His appointment as referee is expected to give general satisfaction among members of the local bar, with whom Mr. Talley stands high. He has had much experience with bankruptcy matters.

No Increase for Bailiff.

Macon, Ga., March 3.—(Special.)—The board of county commissioners today turned down the request of Solicitor N. D. Rose for an increase in the pay for his bailiff, who now receives $100 a month. The solicitor notified the board that he had been appointed P. H. Lamb, formerly in the city marshal's office, as his assistant and requested that the salary of the office be advanced to $125 a month. The commissioners took the position that the salary provided by the county is law and that the solicitor should want to pay more he can do so out of his own pocket. They point to the solicitor's earnings for the past year as evidence that he is well able to do so. The solicitor's fees for 1913 amounted to $16,000.

GEORGE IS DENOUNCED FOR CONDUCT TO GIRLS

New York, March 3.—William R. George, founder and former head of the George Junior Republic at Freeville, N. Y., is further scored by a report made public here today. The present investigation was conducted under the joint auspices of committees representing the Freeville institution and the National Association of George Junior Republics. It concerned itself with three charges, two of which the judges sustained. On a third charge the George was the father of a girl's child—a foster child of "not proven" was returned. The charges sustained were that George had made improper overtures to a girl citizen and that he went to another girl's room at night, where he made an examination of her person. The judges who passed on the charges were Joseph Choate, Jr., Samuel Seabury, state supreme court justice, and Miss Lillian Ward, a social worker.

REFRIGERATORS CHEAPER

When Not Needed Badly 20% TO 25% DISCOUNT

Now is the time for wise home-owners to buy refrigerators. New housekeepers, take notice—if this is your first spring in Atlanta, buy a refrigerator NOW! You will need one in a hurry if you don't, and when the rush is on it will be hard to supply you.

We hope to supply our trade before the rush begins by offering our entire 1914 stock of refrigerators to you at a discount of 20 to 25 percent. Furthermore, all refrigerators bought now may be paid for May 10. This extension of time is another effort to prevent last year's tremendous overflow demand during hot weather for immediate delivery of ice-chests. Thus you use the refrigerators two months free and get a special discount in addition.

We list below a few sizes of boxes, giving ice capacity, regular price and special price:

Stock No.	Ice Capacity.	Regular Price.	Special
No. 330	75 lbs.	$ 50.00	$37.50
No. 540	100 lbs.	55.00	44.00
No. 541	150 lbs.	65.00	52.00
No. 555	200 lbs.	75.00	60.00

DO YOU KNOW ANY OF THESE PEOPLE?

Here are the names, with addresses, of some of your friends and neighbors who have been cured or greatly benefited after using the Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm a few days or weeks. Bear in mind that some of these people have been suffering for years and have spent thousands of dollars for different treatments, and without getting even the slightest relief, and today are enjoying perfect health, and let the world know how they got it.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

That immediate action will be taken in regard to the widening of "the neck of the bottle," at Peachtree and Fulton streets, was indicated on Tuesday by the appointment of Councilman E. L. Daniel as a member with the property owners, whose property will be affected by this improvement. It is expected that he will confer with them on Wednesday.

It further became known in this connection on Tuesday that the widening of the street here may result in substantial building improvements in the property fronting here.

Hugh Richardson, who owns 30 feet of frontage known in this block, stated Tuesday that it is probable that when this work is done he will tear the present building away and rebuild upon the site, instead of attempting to move the building back.

Any considerable period of good weather, too, promises a reawakening of the building activity.

A permit for a $2,000 apartment house, to be built by Mrs. L. H. Daniel, on Peachtree avenue, was taken out on Tuesday. There is also the prospect of the announcement of plans for another north side apartment house within the next few days. It is known that these plans are ready on Tuesday that it would be a day or so yet before they will be in a shape for any publicity.

Real Estate Sales. E. L. Harding sold for L. P. Skeen, of Tifton, to a customer, No. 643 Edgewood avenue, which consists of a two-story, ten room house on a lot 50x200.

Building Permits. 112-900—Mrs. J. O. Daniel, 11 Bonaventure, two-story brick veneer apartment, Day labor, $200. Mrs. J. O. Daniel, Chestnut, repairs, J. F. Gore, contractor.
