

GEORGIA SHAKEN BY EARTH TREMOR, NOT EARTHQUAKE

That Is the Explanation of Great Shaking to Which Atlanta Was Subject Late Thursday Afternoon.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE AT KIRKWOOD REPORTED

Reports of Shocks Received From Many Cities in Georgia by Constitution Last Night.

Atlanta and, in fact, nearly all of Georgia and part of Tennessee, which lies in the mountains, "felt" late Thursday, that the second had passed through an "earthquake." All the usual details of falling tableware, broken windows, "heavy thunder," shattered chimneys, accompanied the reports that soon filtered in to the telegraph and newspaper offices.

People in downtown Atlanta office buildings as soon as they had "been told" that an "earthquake" had passed the city, began to remember that the telephones jangled, that desks danced and that skyscrapers trembled.

Reports were received also from Macon, Athens, Winder, Jackson, Griffin, Lithonia, Social Circle and many other points, stating that their territory had been shaken by the tremor. All of these reports showed that an actual tremor had occurred, and that the "shake," if it could be so called, had been severe.

DOOMED BY VILLA UNLESS HE PAYS $500,000 RANSOM

El Paso, Texas, March 5.—General Luis Terrazas this afternoon appealed to Maxton Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, now in this city awaiting instructions, to have his son, Luis, whose life has been made the forfeit of $500,000 ransom money is not paid over to a general Francisco Villa, the rebel leader.

Consul Letcher declared himself deeply moved by the appeal of the octogenarian head of the great Mexican family, whose wide possessions have been confiscated by the constitutionalists, but he had to reply that he was helpless in the matter.

"I am 80 years old and neither life nor money mean much to me," said General Terrazas with a tremor in his voice. "My son, Luis, has thirteen children and they need him. I would gladly return to Chihuahua and Villa could kill me instead of my son."

While General Terrazas did not say as much, the interview left the inference that he is not now in possession of the sum demanded. Luis, the son, is about 50 years old and for several months has been held prisoner by the rebels.

He Has Been Tortured. At the time of his arrest the rebels demanded $50,000 gold as the price of his life. This sum was slow in being paid, and Luis was taken out and a noose adjusted about his neck. Then he was gently hoisted from his feet. The tortures were repeated until he stated that he would pay the sum demanded—all that he had in the Chihuahua bank.

After this incident he was removed from the palace where he had been confined and allowed to live under guard with his family in one of his father's houses. Women relatives some time later appeared to Villa to release him, but Villa was adamant.

"If the centurions had Pancho Villa a prisoner in the same circumstances, do you think he would be restrained in a palace and treated with the consideration I have shown Don Luis?" Villa replied.

"No, Pancho Villa's head would have been placed on a pike and paraded about the city. The Terrazas family

OVERCOME BY FEAR, HE HAS FORGOTTEN HIS NATIVE TONGUE

San Bernardino, Cal., March 5.—Although German is his native tongue, Michael Hartsch, who is supposed to have been thrown into a mental paralysis by fright or the tortures of kidnapers, demonstrated today that he had forgotten all about it.

A letter came from Hartsch's sister, Mrs. Martha Kunsch, who is in Connecticut. It contained a photograph of Hartsch, which positively identified the man. The text of the letter was in German and Hartsch, who has been in a hospital here for several weeks, relearning to walk and to talk, indicated that he did not know such a language existed.

Hartsch was found here last month a few days after the police of Los Angeles received notice from Mrs. Kunsch that kidnapers had demanded $200 ransom for her brother. Hospital surgeons say Hartsch presents one of the rare cases of real aphasia, or loss of memory. This condition, they declare, was induced by fright or torture undergone by Hartsch. The man now is learning to speak English, but he remembers nothing of his life before he was found staggering in the postoffice of this city.

ATLANTA WILL HAVE HOSPITAL TO FIGHT CONTAGION IN CITY

Mayor Woodward Agrees on Part of City to Provide Building and Rotarians Will Furnish It.

INSTITUTION NECESSARY, ASSERT CITY OFFICIALS

Dr. Summerrall Stresses the Present Deplorable Conditions, and Dr. Kennedy Tells of High Death Rate.

Victims of all contagious diseases will find a medicinal haven this afternoon in a public contagious hospital which will be provided by Mayor Woodward and furnished by the Rotary club by noon today.

This move, which has been agitated ever since a campaign for such a hospital launched a considerable while ago by 'The Constitution', was given a big boost last night at an enthusiastic meeting of the Rotary club in the Winecoff hotel.

Three hundred and sixty-five dollars of a required sum of $500 was raised at the meeting. The remainder was assured. It will be collected some time today. It will be put in hands of the city board of health, which organization will have charge of the new hospital.

FATHER OF TERRAZAS TRIES TO RAISE MONEY

Villa Has Held Terrazas Prisoner in Chihuahua for Several Months—Rebel Leader Bitterly Hates Terrazas Family.

El Paso, Texas, March 5.—General Luis Terrazas this afternoon appealed to Maxton Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua, now in this city awaiting instructions, to have his son, Luis, whose life has been made the forfeit of $500,000 ransom money is not paid over to a general Francisco Villa, the rebel leader.

ATLANTA WILL HAVE HOSPITAL TO FIGHT CONTAGION IN CITY

Mayor Woodward Agrees on Part of City to Provide Building and Rotarians Will Furnish It.

INSTITUTION NECESSARY, ASSERT CITY OFFICIALS

Dr. Summerrall Stresses the Present Deplorable Conditions, and Dr. Kennedy Tells of High Death Rate.

Victims of all contagious diseases will find a medicinal haven this afternoon in a public contagious hospital which will be provided by Mayor Woodward and furnished by the Rotary club by noon today.

This move, which has been agitated ever since a campaign for such a hospital launched a considerable while ago by 'The Constitution', was given a big boost last night at an enthusiastic meeting of the Rotary club in the Winecoff hotel.

Three hundred and sixty-five dollars of a required sum of $500 was raised at the meeting. The remainder was assured. It will be collected some time today. It will be put in hands of the city board of health, which organization will have charge of the new hospital.

Will Present Building.

Mayor Woodward agrees to present a building for the installation of the contagious haven. In return, the Rotary club will equip it. The city board of health will maintain it. It will accommodate in the neighborhood of fifty patients.

To cope with the alarming spread of measles is the principal idea of the move. At present there is no place in Atlanta where business men can be caught. Physicians stated at last night's meeting that the disease had grown to distressing proportions throughout the city.

The Rotary club, which is a public-spirited organization, composed of prominent business men, scheduled a consideration of the hospital situation for its regular meeting last night. Victor H. Kriegshaber, chairman of a committee to investigate conditions, was invited. Present were Dr. W. B. Summerrall, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, and Dr. W. H. Quillen, chairman of the board of health, and Mayor Woodward.

A tribute was paid to The Constitution by Mr. Kriegshaber for its fight against the disease. In some cases, the Constitution credit for launching the move which, he said, would result in infinite betterment of health conditions throughout Atlanta.

Interesting discussion of conditions ensued. Sixty members of the organization's roll of ninety were present. H. W. Anderson, president of the club, presided.

Following an address by Dr. W. B. Summerrall, in which he described the deplorable lack of facilities and the inability to provide for the contagiously diseased, immediate action was decided upon. Within less than thirty minutes the plan was adopted to erect a building to be furnished by Mayor Woodward—in behalf of the city—and the money raised.

Interesting discussion of the fruits of inability to provide for patients suffering from infectious ailments was related by Dr. Summerrall, who told of two day nurseries, patronized by working women—most of whom were negroes—who had been ravaged by measles and consequently demoralized.

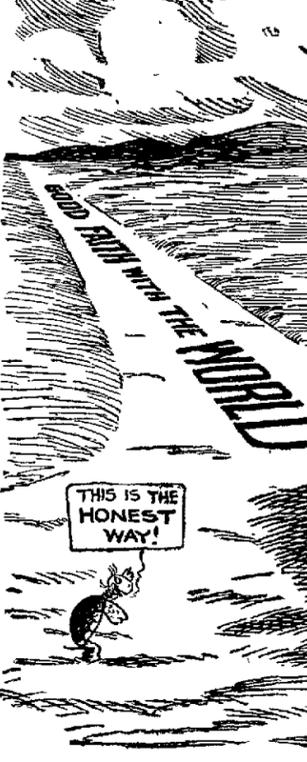

Eight children were infected with the plague in one of these nurseries, but three in the other. In the latter two children were taken to the hospital, but both nurseries were forced to cease operation. The children had become infected, he told, through the mothers, who had brought the disease from elsewhere.

In pointing out the urgent need of a contagious hospital, Dr. Summerrall told of numerous incidents in which negroes who were affected had been taken to the hospital, and sent to the city. The first of these, he said, was an accident which meted the application of the law of the city.

Dr. Summerrall gave numerous other incidents, closing his speech with a call for the public health. He proposed to create a public health department, including Grady the biggest institution of its kind in the south. The funds required would be, at a minimum, he stated, $500,000.

"The matrons caught the infection and were held in the hospital until they were forced to remain at home and who should have been in some quarantined hospital," said the hospital superintendent.

MASKED BANDIT ROBS SOUTHERN MAIL CAR

Robber Entered Car, Pistol in Hand, in the Outskirts of Columbia.

Columbia, S. C., March 5.—Pistol in hand, a bandit tonight robbed the mail car of Southern railway train No. 11, from Charleston to Columbia, just as the train was entering Columbia.

The robber entered as the train slowed up at the city limits and at once covered the mail clerk with a revolver. The bandit, who was masked, then proceeded to remove several sacks containing registered mail. He jumped off the train just before it went into the station.

Special agents of the railway and the Columbia police were put at work on the case, but so far no arrests have been made.

Postal officials late tonight said that it was impossible to estimate the value of the packages taken.

The robber did not take newspapers or letters, going through the mail carefully while he forced the clerk to stand with his face to the wall of the car.

C. E. Thomas, in charge of the mail car, reported the robbery when the train rolled into the union station some thirty minutes later.

The robber, Thomas said, entered the car as the train slowed up at the first street crossing inside the city limits. The clerk was under the impression that the man must have boarded the train when it stopped at Royster, a station about three miles from the Columbia union station, and watched his time carefully, entering the car just in time to make his get-away before the train reached the union station.

The man was masked and the only description the postal clerk could give tonight was that the robber was about 5 feet 8 inches tall.

The bandit seemed very nervous, Thomas said, but went about his work with neatness and dispatch.

Two years ago Southern railway train No. 11 was robbed at the same place, the hour and the circumstances of the robbery being exactly the same as those of tonight's hold-up. The robber who held up the train two years ago made good his escape. His body was not considered.

TAUGHT BY HORNETS HOW TO MAKE PAPER OUT OF WOOD PULP

New York, March 5.—I. Augustus Stanwood, who, watching hornets build their nests half a century ago, conceived the idea of manufacturing paper from wood and thus became, it is said, the first producer of paper from wood pulp, died yesterday in his Brooklyn home.

From old fence rails and dry logs the hornets observed by Mr. Stanwood scraped wood fiber, and with it constructed their homes. In 1862 he built a wood pulp factory, which still stands in Gardiner, Maine. Before his discovery paper was made chiefly from rags. Mr. Stanwood was born in Augusta, Maine, seventy-five years ago.

CONGRESS TO HEED WILSON'S REQUEST TO KILL FREE TOLLS

PHRASES IN MESSAGE CAUSE MUCH COMMENT

Wilson Indicates That Failure to Repeal May Cause Trouble About Other Matters of Greater Delicacy.

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson went to congress today and pleaded for repeal of the provision of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise shipping from tolls. He tersely asserted that his reason for asking the repeal was because every-where except in the United States the tolls exemption was regarded as violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and he further asked it in support of the administration's general foreign policy.

That the president's request will be granted there seemed little doubt tonight despite the fact that there will be vigorous opposition both in the senate and the house. Initiative action will be taken tomorrow when the house interstate and foreign commerce committee will meet to consider the message.

Later in the day the president himself, talking with callers, explained that these phrases had no significance beyond their bearing on the need of rigorous good faith in the Panama tolls question, as an evidence of unwavering good faith on all other questions, and that nothing critical was pending in foreign relations. But the language of the message continued to be commented upon as having an application considerably broader than the Panama question.

Three points in particular were noted: First, the president's statement that

SHE ADMITTED SHAME UNDER POLICE TORTURE

Norfolk, Va., March 5.—Dora Plotkin, an 18-year-old girl of New York, today gave sensational testimony before the aldermanic committee investigating the Norfolk police department. She declared she was arrested eighteen months ago by a former police inspector or on a charge that she was proven innocent of, but which she admitted was true while hysterical from treatment she received while at police headquarters.

She said she was told that unless she did admit the charge she would be kept in jail. She declared while in the matron's department she was subjected to indignities, and when she appeared in court the next morning she admitted the charges but did not know what she was doing. She was sentenced to the reformatory for five years but was permitted to go home with her parents.

When her father came to her assistance she declared the charges were false and submitted to an examination by three physicians. Each of these gave a certificate showing the girl was innocent.

The girl's case reopened in Norfolk and that he would appeal to Governor Glynn to take it up with the governor of Virginia.

40 COOKS IN A YEAR SHATTERED NERVES OF MARYLAND DAME

Annapolis, Md., March 5.—Employment of forty cooks within a year caused a matron of Baltimore to succumb to nervous prostration after vainly trying to cope with the servant problem, according to a member of a delegation from the Daughters of the American Revolution, which appeared today before the senate judiciary committee to urge the passage of a bill compelling domestic servants to register and enter into enforceable contracts with housekeepers.

Colonel C. G. Mills Stricken. Griffin, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Colonel C. G. Mills, Sr., 75 years of age, a leading citizen of this place, was stricken suddenly with paralysis early this morning at his room in the Griffin hotel. His condition is considered serious.

FRANK'S TIME ALIBI GETS NEW SUPPORT IN TWO AFFIDAVITS GIVEN THE DEFENSE

Mrs. Ethel Miller Swears That She Saw Frank on Street at Time Jim Conley Says He and the Prisoner Were Taking Phagan's Body to Basement.

HER STORY IS SIMILAR TO ONE TOLD ON STAND AT TRIAL BY MISS KERN

Solicitor Hugh Dorsey, Detective John Black and the Father of George Epps Hold a Long Conference, But Refuse to Tell What Action Was Decided Upon in Reference to the Boy's Affidavit.

An interesting development in the Leo Frank case yesterday was the disclosure of two affidavits, now in the hands of the defense, one of which was made by Mrs. Ethel Miller, who swears she saw the convicted man at Whitehall and Alabama streets at an hour at which Jim Conley testified he and Frank were carrying Mary Phagan's body into the pencil factory basement.

The other document was made by Maier Lerkoff, who says he was with Mrs. Miller at the time she passed Frank and spoke to him on the day of the tragedy. Each affidavit was issued in September of last year, but were not revealed until Thursday afternoon, when they were given to a reporter for The Constitution.

Epps and Dorsey Confer. Another development was a secret conference of two affidavits, now in the hands of the defense, one of which was made by Mrs. Ethel Miller, who swears she saw the convicted man at Whitehall and Alabama streets at an hour at which Jim Conley testified he and Frank were carrying Mary Phagan's body into the pencil factory basement.

Immediately following the publication of the Epps affidavit, his father, who is night superintendent of the Candler Annex building, on North Pryor street, branded the youth's story as a fabrication of the whole cloth. Epps accused Detective Black of having concocted the story that was told on the witness stand. The father declared that this was impossible, as the boy had told him the same story two days or more before he had ever seen the detective.

Corroborates Kern's Story. The affidavit of Mrs. Miller strongly corroborates the testimony of pretty Almine Kern, which was a link in the alibi presented by Frank's defense at his trial. Miss Kern's story of having seen Frank uptown at 1:10 o'clock was unsupported, and therefore the object of a vigorous attack by the prosecution.

Mr. Miller swears in the affidavit that she saw Frank at almost identically the same time the Kern girl stated she saw him, and at the same spot—the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets—at 1:10 o'clock, at which time Conley testified he and Frank were lowering the murdered girl's body into the basement darkness.

Although Mr. Dorsey has nothing to say on this subject, many local conferences with investigators of his own staff and with detectives from

BOLD HOLD-UP STORY A FAKE, SAY POLICE

Detectives Do Not Believe Report That Lone Robber Entered Offices of Jefferson Loan Society.

The story that a lone robber entered the Jefferson Loan Society's office at 53 North Forsyth street Thursday morning about 10 o'clock and threw a gun on I Steinberg, the cashier, who states he was alone in the office, counting the cash, robbing him of $45 and then hurriedly running out, is branded by the police as a fake.

A thorough investigation of the alleged robbery was made by the police and detectives who were assigned to look into the robbery. Steinberg tells a story of a handsomely dressed young man entering the place and informing him that he was a representative of Bradstreet's and wished to look over the books of the company and secure a rating for it. Steinberg told the police that he was counting the money, and that the robber opened the wicket gate and threw a gun on him, commanding him to give up the money.

Robber Gets $45.

He states that he gave him about $45 and that the robber told him to open the safe but that he told him he would rather die than touch the money in the safe. At this the robber then quickly withdrew before Steinberg had an opportunity to use his pistol, and ran across the street in the direction of the Piedmont Hotel. Steinberg called the police immediately.

The police take the belief that the story of the robbery is a fake on what Steinberg himself told them and what another young man said who was sitting in a chair in an adjoining office which was partitioned off from the loan company by a plate glass window. This young man told the captain of the police that he had seen no man enter the office nor had he seen anyone run out of the office and that he was sitting in full view of everything. In fact, when he entered the wicket gate to question him, he was surprised that anything had happened.

Had Two Guns.

Further the police state that Steinberg tells them that the robber threw two pistols into his face, and later told the officers that he only had covered him with one pistol. In the direction in which Steinberg stated the robber ran toward the Piedmont Hotel are always a number of automobile chauffeurs, who are accustomed to parking their machines there. Diligent inquiry was made of all these chauffeurs if a man running toward the Piedmont Hotel of the description given by Steinberg had seen anyone hurrying out of the loan society's office.

The detectives who were placed on the case turned in a report to the chief of police stating that they did not believe the story of the robbery. The chief takes the same view of the case.

WILL TRY MRS. STOE ON "SLAVERY" CHARGE

The March term of the United States district court Judge Newman presiding will open Monday, March 2 with the criminal calendar one of the largest in years.

The case against Mrs. Stoe charged with white slavery, whose husband is now under a two years sentence in the federal penitentiary because of conviction before Judge Newman on the same charge is the first on the docket and will be called Monday afternoon. Mrs. Stoe is now in custody at the county jail. She is charged with having conspired with a man to kidnap a young girl and sell her into slavery. The case is expected to be tried in the afternoon.

L. J. M. BELL DIES AT 102; HEARD'S OLDEST CITIZEN

Franklin Ga. March 5.—(Special)—L. J. M. Bell heard county's oldest citizen died at his home 3 miles west of Franklin, Tuesday night. He was 102 years old last August. He had seen three wars.

The deceased moved to this county from Coweta in 1876. The county at that time was covered with virgin forest and many deer and turkey were to be found in these woods. After the war, as he was commonly known was a respected citizen.

Married Man Is Fined On Charge of Selling Liquor to Mrs. Backus

James Lee Ramsey, a married man with two little children, who runs a wine and wood yard on Bellwood avenue, was fined $100 by Judge Broyles Thursday afternoon for selling liquor to Mrs. Annie Backus the woman arrested Monday night on the charge of being drunk and allowing a man to kidnap her the chop suey restaurant on Alabama street having confessed to the recorder that she purchased her liquor from Ramsey.

PARKER GOES ON TRIAL ON SEDUCTION CHARGE

The trial of C. B. Parker, who was brought back from Omaha, Neb., Wednesday on the charge of seducing the daughter of a prominent DeKalb county family six years ago will be held next Thursday at Decatur in the Stone Mountain circuit of the superior court. Judge Charles Reed, of that circuit is disqualified to hear the case, having tried it twice a mistrial resulting each time, and it has not yet been decided who will sit on the case. Parker is now incarcerated in the county jail at Decatur. William Sohley Howard will prosecute the case and Colonel John E. McClelland of Atlanta, will represent the defense.

ROME CLUB WOMEN GIVEN GAVEL BY MRS. WILSON

Rome Ga., March 5.—(Special)—The Women's club, of Rome, yesterday accepted a club gavel from Mrs. Woodrow Wilson who formerly resided in Rome. The gavel is a beautiful piece of workmanship, made under the direction of Mrs. Wilson from the historical presidential elm on the white house grounds. The gavel was appropriately decorated with red white and blue ribbons, and was accompanied by a letter of assurance of ability and interest in her old home. The gavel was presented to the club by its president, Mrs. John C. Printup.

CLAIMS NEW COURT WILL SUPPORT SELF

Chief Justice Eugene Thomas Says This Will Be the Case Within Three Months' Time.

Attacking the published stories claiming to show that the new municipal court is not now nor will ever be a paying proposition and criticizing the declarations that they ever predicted that the tribunal would be a paying adjunct of the county organization, Chief Justice Eugene D. Thomas said these figures only show what cash we have taken in. They do not show how we have saved a week out of each two months for the superior court which operates at a cost of $500 per week. Nor do these figures show that we have taken from the superior court all cases involving certiorari and appeals which cannot be financially estimated, although they save the time of that tribunal and time in that court which would otherwise be required.

Revenues of Court.

The figures compiled from authentic sources showing the court revenues since its inception were given out by Chief Clerk Miller, late Thursday. In detail they follow:

Millinery Store Fire Draws Great Audience, But No Damage Is Done

A fire broke out in the rear of the S. S. Pyne millinery store at 38 West Mitchell street last night, drawing a great crowd of people to the scene. The fire department was put out without any damage. A newsboy saw the smoke coming out of the back window of the store and saw a loss of only $200 in the contents of the fire department was put out without any damage.

LUTHER MARTIN BURIED; MRS. M'KINNEY WORSE

Norcross, Ga., March 5.—(Special)—Little Martin who shot and killed himself Tuesday, was buried in the family cemetery lot at Mount Carmel today. A large number of friends attended his funeral and two of his brothers-in-law, I. W. McKinney, of Atlanta, and W. H. McKinney, of Cincinnati, Ohio, acted as pallbearers. Quite a number of his fellow postal employees, including W. H. McKinney, and other points. His wife is prostrated with excitement and grief. Mr. McKinney's case was covered with flowers sent by sorrowing friends.

INNOCENT YOUNG GIRL HANDCUFFED FOR HOURS

Cordelo, Ga., March 5.—(Special)—Being handcuffed for several hours, a young girl was released today by Miss Willie Miller than it would have been for any other refined and modest young girl who had been so treated. And the worst part of it is that she had done nothing for which to be handcuffed. She was ever violated a law she does not know it.

All Great Lawyers Are Actors Hackett Tells Law Students

"All great lawyers are actors," was one of the statements of Norman Hackett in the course of an interesting address he delivered Thursday afternoon before the students of the Atlanta law school. The lecture, which was on the general subject of "The Art of Expression," was in the nature of a "farewell speech" of Mr. Hackett, as he closes his engagement at the Lyric this week and will leave in a few days for New York.

In the course of his address he complimented the people of Atlanta for the artistic spirit which he has found here, and declared that he is looking forward with much pleasure to returning to Atlanta next spring for a similar kind of engagement of several months.

RAIN IS PREDICTED FOR ATLANTA TODAY

It is raining today in New Orleans, Chattanooga, Knoxville and "other points, north and south." It is predicted that Atlanta will have rain. It may be raining here this morning, but nothing like the weather bureau, following a run upon its patience late Thursday in the matter of "earthquake scares," Robinson, Mr. United States patent commissioner, making an address at that time.

ISAAC WRIGHT, WOODSTOCK, TO FIGHT FIRE THROUGHOUT IN WEE SMA' HOURS

The 17-year-old girl who after her arrest ten days ago on North Broad street late at night when she called to the police to protect her from some young men in an automobile, refused to give her right name, was again arrested by Sergeant Bullard and Shaw, of the vice squad in a chop suey restaurant on Alabama street during the early morning hours Thursday. She was fined by Judge Broyles Thursday afternoon $100, or the alternative of 30 days hard work in the city stockade, for idling and loitering around public places.

MAYOR PIRKLE NAMED.

Buckhead Ga., March 5.—(Special)—R. N. Pirkle mayor of Buckhead has been named by the grand jury, now in session at Madison, to fill the vacancy on the county board of education caused by the resignation of E. P. Ingram who moved his family to Florida last January.

TERRELL TRADE BOARD ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS

Dawson Ga., March 5.—(Special)—Despite inclement weather, a large number of representative citizens from all sections of this county attended the monthly meeting of the Terrell County Chamber of Commerce held in the courtroom this afternoon. Vice Chairman Dean presiding, T. M. Morgan, of the State Chamber of Commerce, addressed the meeting and reviewed the work of other similar bodies with which he had been connected during the past year. The meeting was a most successful one and accomplished its purpose in a most instructive, enjoyable and interesting manner. The following prominent citizens were elected to the board of directors: M. J. Yeomans, Dr. J. G. Crawford, E. H. Stanton, E. E. Pinkston, W. S. Davidson, W. K. Mathis, Dr. J. G. Dean, J. D. Morris, J. M. Clifton, H. A. Petty and A. J. Hill.

Campbell Farmers' Union.

Union City, Ga., March 5.—(Special)—The quarterly meeting of the Campbell County Farmers Union was held today with Bethlehem local. The meeting was a most successful one. Business was transacted. State Secretary McDaniel was instructed to secure the best price obtainable for a campaign of the various locals of this county in the next few weeks.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour gas or an out-of-order stomach entirely within five minutes. If your meals don't sit comfortably or if you feel a sour, flatulent, or what you call a "stomach" or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There is no gas or indigestion, no flatulence, no heartburn, no sour stomach, no sea-sickness, no dizziness, no intestinal griping. This will all go and besides there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach was there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

The Spring Hat As It Is

"As it is" is interpreted as "it should be," when you see it at MUSE'S.

And here it is, the spring soft hat. Little is needed to be said of it when the above "live model" is the pictured hat. Crowns are high and are worn Alpine or diamond telescope.

Much might be said of the spring shades. A bigger word is to ask you to come here and see them all. You'll really enjoy the inspection, you'll thoroughly appreciate the hats. Selecting yours is of chief importance—you can't miss your choice. Everything good the spring has put forth is here.

UNDER WHICH FLAG?

President Wilson, in his admirable message to congress with regard to the Panama canal tolls issue, said:

"I shall not know how to deal with matters of even greater delicacy and nearer continuity if you do not grant it (authority to repeal the free tolls discrimination) in unshrinking measure."

No doubt the president referred to the Mexican question, today more formidable than at any previous time and by coincidence nearly affecting Great Britain, which is also the chief protestant in the tolls dispute.

It is inconceivable that congress will reject the president's plea. He tells congress plainly that to retain the discriminating exemption to coastwise tolls would be national dishonor.

His calm and dispassionate statement leaves the advocates of repudiation and stultification not one leg upon which to stand.

Under the solemn obligations of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, we promised to open the canal to "all nations" upon terms of absolute equality.

It now is held by some that "all nations" meant all nations except the United States; that on that plea we should exempt our coastwise trade from tolls.

The contention is a quibble, threatening to the honor and the good faith of the whole nation.

It is not a question of what we gain or what we lose in money.

Our coastwise shipping is already superabundantly protected against the world—but it now asks for the subsidy of free tolls.

The Associated Press said of Chairman Adamson's talk with the president on this subject:

"The attitude of Representative Adamson is that the tolls exemption is a plain ship subsidy, which he characterizes as plain stealing, and which he holds is immoral and undemocratic."

That is true, but it is only half of the real argument against the infamy.

It was put in the bill against the protest of Chairman Adamson and in the heat of debate, without serious thought of its humiliating consequences.

Today we know better.

The flag of honor?

The flag of dishonor?

The answer and the responsibility is with congress.

The president has done his duty.

DO STATES GO CRAZY?

His task and the nation's business have profited by the transaction. The legislative and executive branches have come closer together in a truly constructive sense.

A few worthy, but superstitious, people in this country have found their misgiving that we are drifting toward a monarchy wholly groundless. Wilson is justified.

But Bleese, of South Carolina, has established an entirely new precedent in the way of official appearance.

He would not only appear in person to deliver his messages, but he is ready to lick any member who disagrees with or criticizes him. And he will do it right on the floor, or in the lobby of the house.

Some keen old philosopher once averred that states as well as individuals go crazy.

Talk persists that South Carolina may send Bleese to the United States senate.

The thought startles—and sickens! Is South Carolina going crazy?

Is the country going to be forced to provide straightjackets and padded cells for states temporarily deranged?

THE MEXICAN DILEMMA.

So often have "crises" in the Mexican situation blown in like a lion and blown out like a lamb that we were skeptical whenever new tales of tension are served to our anxious notice. But the latest dispatches from Washington intimate that a climax of some sort at last is brewing.

The ponderous senate and even the obedient cabinet have taken up the problem, and there is discussion of bringing matters to a focus as yet unbroached.

In this connection we are tempted to recall the epigram of the inimitable Goldbergs, "Now that you've got it, what are you going to do with it?"

That sentiment would really be the ruling spirit if we crossed the Rio Grande river.

And that is precisely why we have no uncontrollable yearning to see the stars and stripes make the trip.

We had a pretty hard and costly tussle in the Philippines, and as yet the end is not in sight.

Our experience with the "little brown brothers" would be an al fresco party compared to an attempt to reduce anarchy to order in Mexico.

Happily, Great Britain seems disposed to be reasonable regarding the Benton incident, and we have to thank England for her sympathetic breadth.

But any man with half an eye in his head sees that matters cannot continue indefinitely in their present status.

Remembering our long pension list and the value of peace at home and the value of an American life, let us all hope the president's poise will find an amicable way out of the present bewildering situation.

THE ROAD CONGRESS.

The American Road congress, with its many allied associations, will meet in Atlanta on November 9. Secretary Pennypacker has advised Fred House to that effect.

In this connection The Constitution offers as a worthwhile suggestion to the road-building authorities in Georgia that they make every effort to be well represented personally at the sessions of the congress.

The convention will bring to Atlanta the foremost road-making authorities in America.

Demonstrations of road-working machinery and exhibits of model roads will be numbered by the score.

Georgia already is a banner good roads state. That fact had a bearing on the decision of the congress to hold its conventions here.

But we yet have much to learn. We shall have larger responsibilities and possibilities on our hands when federal aid becomes available, and that seems in the near prospect, the hitch about the convict labor clause to the contrary notwithstanding.

The ordinaries, the county commissions and the road engineers of Georgia can learn volumes from these experts.

Mistakes of long standing and of possible future development can, the one be corrected, the other avoided.

A GREAT MAN'S WIDOW.

The death of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, widow of the novelist and essayist, will be in a way a matter of world-wide interest, or at least in those parts of the world where English is spoken and its literary productions freely translated.

A curious romance linked Mrs. Stevenson with the author of "Treasure Island," "The Master of Ballantrae" and other works that vie with those of Kipling in their sheer force of hypnotism.

She originally was the wife of Osbourne, who discovered that both his wife and Stevenson had formed a genuine, but an innocent attachment. He reflected sagely that it were folly to hold to him legally a woman who cared for another man.

So the Osbournes quietly divorced, and at the wedding of Mrs. Osbourne and Stevenson, mirabile dicta, Osbourne was one of the calm and interested spectators.

The thing might not duplicate itself in all particulars in another century. And the self-effacement of Osbourne was not without its compensating features. Shortly after Stevenson's marriage he developed tuberculosis, and was a sufferer from it until his death. The woman who had dared convention nursed him tenderly. To her intelligent care we are indebted for the subtle and strong masterpieces that slowly wove themselves from Stevenson's brain on to the printed page. He worked to the end, cheerful always, contented always in the companionship of the woman whose path had so peculiarly crossed his own.

If the memory of Stevenson shall live, and his writings reach forward to the future, much credit is due the patient and loving woman who went with him to Vallonia, in the South Seas, and there quieted the restless spirit that so often beat against the bars of the cage of disease and human weakness.

There may be heat, but no dead heat in Alabama's senatorial primary.

It is easy enough to cut out tobacco when a man has never formed the habit.

A Story of the Moment

Helps for Housewives.

"I really think I ought to have a modern carpet sweeper," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "No home is complete without one nowadays, and yet I have to use a broom for all purposes."

"It's really too bad," admitted Jamesworthy, "that your face is being ground beneath the heel of the ruthless tyrant. It's a trying shame that you have to use a broom, which is a relic of the dark ages. You also need an adding machine, Mrs. Jamesworthy. It is an abominable imposition that you must use your head to discover how much eighteen eggs will cost when henfruit is selling at forty-five cents a dozen. It is such mental strain that it makes you old before your time. With a $500 adding machine you could grow a few keys and pull the lever and have the cost of those eggs right in front of you."

"Nowadays a woman can't keep house unless she has enough machinery to equip a little machine shop," said Mrs. Jamesworthy. "The fool inventors all over the country spend their entire time getting up new labor saving devices for the benefit of women. Every implement that requires a little masculine effort is ready for sale. TRIAL OF JOSHUA H. SMITH.

It will be remembered that when Benedict Arnold was about to accomplish his treason for the delivery of West Point to the enemy during the revolutionary war, with Major Andre acting in behalf of the British commander, the meeting of the two officers was held at the house of Joshua H. Smith.

Andre soon after leaving the Smith house, was captured by American soldiers and was executed by escaping to the British lines, and afterwards making his home in a foreign land.

As soon as the reason of Arnold became known, the commander-in-chief of the American army took decisive and energetic measures to ascertain how far the defection extended, and to punish all who had been in any manner cognizant of the traitor's designs. It was not long until it was satisfactorily ascertained that no just ground of suspicion could be entertained against any of the American officers.

There was one person, however, who had been one of his professions in favor of the cause of liberty, against whom there were violent suspicions, and this was Joshua H. Smith, who had not only harbored the spy at his house, but had gone on board the "Vulture," the command ship of the American army, to ascertain how far the defection extended, and to punish all who had been in any manner cognizant of the traitor's designs.

DAILY GRIST FROM THE STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

All Georgia Is Watching Attitude of South Georgia

Newspapers generally throughout south Georgia are declaring that the question of whether or not south Georgia has been the subject of unjust discrimination by other parts of the state is on trial now as never before, and that if south Georgia, by its own indifference, loses its opportunity now to keep a United States senator it will make itself ridiculous if it ever talks about discrimination again.

The Albany Herald, Thomasville Times-Enterprise, both of the Brunswick and Waycross papers, the Savannah papers and the weekly press practically throughout the southern belt, have spoken most approvingly of the governor's recognition of south Georgia in the appointment of a south Georgia man to the senate.

Not that all these papers, by any means, supported Senator West, because many of them had their own south Georgia preferences. But with striking unanimity the papers in that part of the state have taken the position that the governor did right in recognizing south Georgia's claim and are very cordial in their comment on West's appointment.

The Uppermost Question. Of course, the question now uppermost in the minds of the state and particularly of south Georgia is—will Senator West be a candidate to succeed himself as appointee for the full unexpired term of Senator Bacon?

It must be remembered that this will go four years beyond the time of Senator West's temporary appointment, hence the question of whom will fill the balance of Senator Bacon's term becomes a most important one.

As the matter now stands it seems apparent that if Senator West can succeed himself, Governor Slaton will be more than pleased to have things shape up that way. If West runs for Senator Bacon's unexpired term, Slaton will, of course, not be a candidate against him, and the question of his candidacy at all will in all probability depend upon developments. Undoubtedly there is a strong effort being made to get him into the race against Senator Smith, with the idea that West will make the race to succeed himself.

It is believed that if the governor can be convinced that his appointee from south Georgia would have no opposition for the unexpired term he would be entirely content to offer for the governorship again.

The main point in the equation is the attitude of south Georgia itself.

All the leading influences in that part of the state take the position openly that south Georgia has never had a fair showing and that it has been discriminated against by the balance of the state. Now, that south Georgia is confronted with an opportunity of uniting upon a south Georgia man for the senate, the question arises—will it do so?

It is an old story in Georgia that it is a most difficult matter for the counties of south Georgia to unite among themselves, but it seems that they may be put to the test this time.

In all probability if they do not take advantage of this opportunity it will be many years before anybody else in south Georgia ever raises the cry of discrimination against that section of the state.

It is practically universally conceded by the newspapers in all parts of the state that if the whole of south Georgia unites on the new senator who comes from that part of the state the balance of the state will fall in line.

Everything is going to depend, however, upon the attitude of south Georgia.

It has been the case in the past, it splits its strength, the senator who will succeed to Bacon's unexpired term will undoubtedly come from another part of the state.

It seems that events are putting squarely up to south Georgia the question of whether or not it would prefer to have a south Georgia senator to come from another part of the state and on the answer to this question will depend the conclusion reached in the naming of Bacon's successor.

The south Georgia newspapers particularly are taking the matter up quite actively and the balance of the state is waiting to see what south Georgia is going to do.

West Uncommunicative. While Senator West, in passing through Atlanta yesterday, made no comment on the situation it is understood that his attitude in the matter of being a candidate to succeed himself will be controlled entirely by the wishes of his section of the state. If south Georgia unites on him and wants him to stand for re-election, he will probably do so, but he must be assured of its whole-hearted support.

It is on the other hand, south Georgia is ready to take a candidate from some other part of the state, and West does not run to succeed himself, then it may be that events would favor Governor Slaton in the situation,

How Any Woman Can Remove Fuzzy Growth

(The Modern Beauty) Many beauty shops use a delatone paste for removing hair from the face, neck or arms, as it is more satisfactory in every way than the electric needle. Enough of the powdered delatone and water is mixed into a paste, and spread on the hairy surface for 2 minutes, then removed and with it comes every bit of hair. After the skin is washed it will be firm and free from blemish. To insure best results, buy the delatone from your druggist in an original package—(adv.)

DRAWN UP IN A KNOT WALKING

Peculiar Way in Which Lady Had to Walk and How Easily She Was Straightened Out.

Laurel Hill, Fla.—The following advice from this town tell in detail of Mrs. Nellie Moore's peculiar condition. "About three months ago, I was taken down with terrible cramps. I didn't pay much attention to it at first, but slowly and surely I got worse until I could hardly walk, and I had to go drawn up in a knot, when I did walk.

My husband got me some medicine, but it did me no good. I suffered that way for a week. Finally, a motherly old lady told me to get a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I knew it was a good medicine from the start. I took it according to directions, and in a short while I felt like a new person.

Cardui is like a dear friend to come and take hold and do women's tiresome work. Now, when I have heavy work, such as washing, ironing, sweeping, or sewing, I take a dose of Cardui and it seems to go to all my aching places and relieves me almost instantly.

I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a trial. It will do wonders for them."

Give Cardui a trial for your troubles. It has helped over a million women in the past 50 years. Why not you?

At your druggists.

PRETTY MISS PRICHER IS LOST IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Mystery deep and inexplicable surrounds the disappearance of Miss Pricher, a 15-year-old girl, of Pritchardsville, S. C., who came to Savannah yesterday with her father on a shopping trip. The Savannah Police admitted today they were puzzled by the mysterious disappearance. Miss Pricher, who is pretty, was on her way with her father, A. M. Pricher, to take the ferry across the Savannah river to the South Carolina side. When he reached the dock he found his daughter was not with him. The missing girl is a brunette, a little over five feet tall and weighs about 125 pounds. The police in other cities have been asked to assist in the search. The father and mother of the girl are crazed with grief. They believe she has been kidnaped.

STOUT DEFENSE MADE OF GRAIN EXCHANGES

Denied That They Are Tools of a Combination—Power of Congress Questioned.

Washington, March 5.—Defense of the Chicago Board of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce against charges that they are tools of a combination arbitrarily controlling the price of wheat in the United States began today before the house rules committee.

Henry S. Robbins, counsel for the Chicago board, told the committee that the organizations were not and could not be involved in any grain monopoly, because they were not engaged as organizations in commercial enterprises. He declared the exchanges merely provided places and means of trading, but took no part in the deals.

Mr. Robbins argued that congress had no power to conduct the investigation proposed in Representative Manahan's pending resolution to gather information on which prosecutions under the Sherman law by the department of justice might be based. The department, he said, already was "efficient enough" and "state laws covered any points in the complaint of farmers' organizations not to be reached by the Sherman act."

The committee expects to close hearings on the Manahan resolution Saturday. It has been suggested that the proposed investigation be extended to include the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges, but only the Chicago and Duluth organizations were represented at the hearings and they will divide the two and a half days allotted for reply to the charges of wheat growers. C. H. Canby, president of the Chicago board, will be the chief witness tomorrow.

Jurisdiction Is Denied. In his opening statement today Mr. Robbins contended strongly that the federal government had no jurisdiction over trading in grain. He argued, also, because they were not engaged in interstate business, prohibition of future trading in grain, he argued, also was beyond the constitutional powers of congress. He declared that the future dealings were intrastate and cited opinions of the supreme court to support the contention. Brokers' wires were not common carriers, he said, and in certain cases the courts had held cotton contracts made between Alabama and New York brokers not to be interstate commerce.

It would be impossible, Mr. Robbins added, for an exchange to eliminate from its future trades those that were purely gambling. Future dealings must be prohibited, he said, or the subject let alone. He insisted that the whole matter of controlling farm products was necessarily a speculative one and the present method had persisted because it was the best one yet found.

MOSE STEEDLEY FREED IN DIXON MURDER CASE

Waycross, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Following a lengthy hearing before Judge Harry M. Wilson this afternoon, Mose Steedley, of Bristol, arrested and held as an accomplice in the murder of Denny Dixon here during last Saturday night, was released and the warrant dismissed.

Numerous witnesses testified to the conduct of Steedley, C. G. Powell and Dixon at Offerman, one witness, Henry Williamson, creating a sensation in court when he swore he overheard Steedley tell Powell a 25-calibre pistol was not the thing to use, and exchanged his 38 with Powell. It was alleged that when this was done, Steedley said: "We want to make sure of this job."

Witnesses told conflicting stories, and one, Bub Walker, of Offerman, declared the men could not have made an exchange of weapons. Attorney John Walker endeavored to break down the testimony of Williamson, but he stuck to his story. In his argument for Steedley, former Judge Parker referred to the state witnesses as the best pair of prevaricators he had ever heard of.

Powell's hearing has not been arranged.

TRIAL OF YOUNG SMOAK, ALLEGED SLAYER, TODAY

Savannah, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Following a hearing before the United States Commissioner J. C. Morcott this afternoon, Raymond Smoak, the 20-year-old youth who is charged with bringing Estelle McCluney, 13-year-old school girl of Jacksonville, into this state on the morning of her death, released on his recognizance. The hearing will be continued tomorrow afternoon. Smoak stoutly denies his guilt.

The girl he is alleged to have enticed from Jacksonville has not been located. Her mother has enlisted the aid of the police in Savannah and surrounding counties in the search for her.

Smoak's bride of five months visited him at the jail before he was released and assured him she believed him guiltless.

POPULATION OF 55,000 IS CLAIMED BY MACON

Macon, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—According to Macon's new city directory, this city now has a population of 55,000, more than 15,000 over the figures of the census of 1910, which showed 40,000. The new directory has just been issued, and contains 27,176 names. On the basis of the multiple of 2.14, the population is shown to be 55,469.

PRICES OF COTTON HIGHER AT CLOSE

Active Months Generally Four to Eight Points Higher—The Market Closed Steady.

New York, March 5.—The steadier tone which developed in the cotton market yesterday was in evidence again during today's trading. Demand was not general or particularly active, but there appeared to be comparative new sales and the market advanced and prices worked higher on firmer cables, favorable India trade advices, reports of a steady New York market and indications of rather bullish week-end figures tomorrow. The close was steady, next unchanged, with a slight advance in active months being generally 4 to 8 points above yesterday's close. March 2nd May were relatively firm, March holding a premium over May of about 24 points, while May sold 2 points above the July.

FEATURE IN STOCKS

Small Advance in the Early Trading Was Checked by the Baltimore and Ohio Selling.

New York, March 5.—Closing stock quotations today showed general losses, largest among railroad stocks. The market made a small advance in early trading, under the stimulus of active speculative buying. Steel stocks, yesterday's rise, today were favored. While the buying appeared largely to be in the nature of short covering, there were evidences of increased speculative dealings on the long side.

FLORIDA VEGETABLES DAMAGED BY FREEZE

Jacksonville, Fla., March 5.—Mail reports from south Florida indicate that the vegetable crop was injured from 30 to 75 per cent by the recent frost. Around Port Lauderdale ice formed on the lakes and the damage is great. At Dania most of the beans, okra, peas, tomatoes and lettuce was frozen, but little will be fit to market. It is said that the people in the north may expect to pay much higher prices for all green goods from Florida.

AMBERGRIS IS FOUND ON MISSISSIPPI COAST

Block, Miss., March 5.—Ben Bailey, reported that he had found a quantity of ambergris valued at $2,300. The substance was found by local druggist Mrs. William Waters, a resident of Horn Island, reported that she had thrown away a quantity of ambergris worth $3,000 because she thought it was of no value. A portion has been sent to the U. S. government laboratory at Washington for analysis.

JUDGE AND EX-JUDGE ARE UNDER INDICTMENT

Kansas City, Mo., March 5.—Hugh C. Gilbert, retired judge of the Jackson county court, and E. E. Axline, a former judge, were indicted today on charges of receiving stolen goods. The indictments were based on the payment in 1911 of $23,000 to a contractor for the construction of a new home. Both judges declared they approved of the payment, and the state attorney's arbitration had fixed the amount.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Rather than delay the improvement of Lucille a train from Holderness to the Louisville and Nashville railroad, the Walton Realty company, through B. M. Grant, has agreed to pay the city the cost of the paving provided that the work is passed up immediately and pushed to completion.

View of Senator Kern. "I voted for toll exemption," said Senator Kern, democratic leader in the Senate, in a speech yesterday. "I do not believe that toll exemption is a fair thing to do. It is a privilege that should be given to the foreigner, not to the citizen."

Building Permits Active. It begins to look as though the month of March will be a record month for building permits in Atlanta. Figures compiled by Louis Marquardt, chief clerk in the building department, show that the number of permits issued during the first three days of the month exceeds the total for the entire month of February.

West End Park Sales. Sales in West End park have been very brisk and the outlook more than bright. The building department has developed that magnificent tract, yet there is a number of notable improvements being made in the park. The park is being developed in a very brick business during the spring and summer months.

CONGRESS TO HEED WILSON'S REQUEST

Continued From Page One. no communication he had addressed to congress carried graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the United States than the language of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was given but one interpretation and third, the concluding statement as to 'other matters' which had been so delicately and wisely phrased.

United States Must Keep Promises. The president further told his callers that while he never had received any formal communications on the subject, he had understood that the European nations generally had been given the view of Great Britain that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was violated by the Panama canal act. He pointed out that in dealing with foreign affairs, nations are bound to keep their promises and that the United States must keep a promise on no important a treaty as the Hay-Pauncefote convention would not be likely to expect sincerity on other matters.

Foreign Foreign Problems. Senator Shively, acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, commended the president's statement and President Wilson's reference to 'other matters' which had been so delicately and wisely phrased. The administration has inherited many foreign problems and it is necessary that our foreign relations be reorganized. That is what I think the president has done.

Dispute for Two Years. The Panama tolls question has been a subject of dispute for nearly two years. Diplomatic correspondence between Great Britain and the United States found the question unsettled when President Taft left office. It was not until the question was settled by the regular session of congress, President Wilson has never directed any official communication to England on the tolls question. The president recently told callers he had never discussed the matter with the British ambassador here, except for an advance to James Bryce, who had been in the United States to repeal the exemption clause which would reduce tolls to zero.

LODGE NOTICES

An Opportunity

When a bargain in real estate is offered there are always certain conditions that are brought to bear upon the present owner making it essential that a disposal be made of the property at once. If these conditions were not of a pressing nature the property would never be offered at anything like the present price.
