

BURNS TO RETURN BY NEXT FRIDAY AND MAKE REPORT

World's Greatest Detective Is Making Investigation of Frank Case in Several Northern Cities.

HE VISITS OSBORNE, HANDWRITING EXPERT

Burns Wires The Constitution That He Is at Work on the Case, But Declines to Discuss Any of Details.

Detective William J. Burns, America's greatest sleuth, is at present engaged in investigating the Leo Frank case in New York and other cities. He will return to Atlanta either Friday or Saturday.

The noted detective is said to be probing the case from angles that have only recently developed. Mystery surrounds whatever connections he hopes to establish between the Frank case and other cities, however.

Burns has been in New York for the past five or six days after a short visit to Atlanta during which he conferred with friends of the convicted man and with officials of his Atlanta office.

It is rumored that he is also inquiring into the association of William Osborne, the handwriting expert of New York, who was employed by the prosecution, but whose testimony was never used.

It is not known what other cities besides New York are included in Burns' investigation. He would give no information to this effect. Neither will he disclose the progress that has thus far been made in his probe.

Frank's Counsel Silent.

Frank's counsel in Atlanta would have nothing to say regarding the investigation Burns is making in other cities. All members of the defense were silent in that respect. Neither would intimate friends of the prisoner have anything to say. Solicitor Dorsey and other associates in the prosecution declared they were unable to conceive of any phase of the famous case that has developed in other cities.

Following the knowledge that Burns was sending his investigation to other cities, The Constitution communicated with him by wire Tuesday afternoon. He was reached at the headquarters of his national agency in the Woolworth building, New York.

The following answer was received: "The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.: I am at present engaged on the Frank case. Have one or two points to visit in connection with same, which will possibly take a day or two. Will then reach Atlanta. I cannot now discuss progress under any circumstances until my final report is made.

"WILLIAM J. BURNS,"
Hans Returns.

Attorney Herbert Haas, associate counsel for the defense, who has been in New York for the past several days, has returned. While in the metropolis he is said to have conferred with Nina Formby, who accuses detectives of having forced her into swearing to a scandalous story against the prisoner. He is also said to have conferred with William Osborne, the prosecution's handwriting expert, whose testimony was never used in the trial.

The solicitor general is known to be making thorough investigations of certain phases of new evidence to be submitted by the convicted man's defense, and he is in daily conference with private investigators of his own staff and with detectives from police headquarters.

Solicitor Dorsey will have nothing to say on the present status of the case. He was away from his office throughout Tuesday afternoon on some secret mission, said to be in interest of the Frank prosecution. For a part of the time he was accompanied by Detectives John Starves and Pat Campbell, who were named as prosecutors of Frank in the bill of indictment.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY BADLY HURT BY SPEEDING AUTO

Ethel Adams, a 7-year-old boy, while trying to dodge two automobiles last night on Marietta street and Bellview avenue, was struck by another car and thrown 10 feet across the street. The child turned a complete somersault, his head striking against the street car rail and breaking open the scalp behind the right ear. The negro chauffeur and the owner of the car, with the boy's father, L. L. Adams, who conducts a restaurant in the vicinity and witnessed the accident, rushed the youth to the Grady hospital, where he was reported not seriously hurt.

Witnesses of the accident were at a point of demonstration against the chauffeur. However, the owner of the car, J. T. Tucker, claims that the negro was not driving recklessly. No case was made against the chauffeur by the father, but the boy's mother called up police headquarters and made a case shortly afterwards, and the negro was given a copy of charges to appear today before Judge Broyles and say whether or not he was driving at unlawful speed.

British Aviator Killed.

Salisbury, England, March 10.—Captain Cyril R. Downer of the Northamptonshire Infantry regiment, was killed today by a fall with his aeroplane while flying over the military aerodrome on Salisbury plain. He had only recently been detailed for service with the army flying corps.

BELIEVED DROWNED, HE SWINDLED BANKS FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 10.—C. S. Cooper, under arrest in San Antonio, Texas, as a forger, is wanted here for illegal check and draft operations which netted him several thousand dollars, according to the manager of a bank detective agency. Cooper, who was believed to have been drowned in the Hudson river two years ago, has been operating for fifteen years in many states, the detective says. Banks in various parts of the country, it was said, have paid him close to $50,000. Cooper was arrested at San Antonio on a charge of forgery alleged to have been committed at Cordell, Okla. Banks in New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, North and South Dakota, Arizona, Texas and California also are said to have suffered. He is said to have operated extensively against California banks, and those of Tucson, Ariz., and El Paso, Texas.

Cooper was arrested once in San Diego, Cal., but left after his wife had posted $4,500 bail for him. Afterward he was placed in an insane asylum in New York and Mrs. Cooper obtained a divorce. A body, later found in the Hudson river, was identified as that of Cooper and interred under his name.

A THOROUGH PROBE HAS BEEN ORDERED

Secretary of War Garrison Orders a Complete Investigation of the Charges That Atlanta Merchants Are Discriminated Against

Following the fight of The Constitution based on the claims of Atlanta merchants that they are being discriminated against in bidding upon supplies for the commissary department at Fort McPherson, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has also taken up the fight aggressively, and Secretary of War Garrison has ordered Major Martin, commanding the fort, to make a thorough investigation into the charges of the Atlanta merchants and forward his report to him.

To this end Major Martin has asked Mel R. Wilkinson, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, for a conference on the matter. Mr. Wilkinson has referred the matter of investigation of the claims of the Atlanta merchants to the chamber of commerce committee on wholesale trade, of which Lynn Fort is chairman, and will hold a conference with Mr. Fort and members of this committee to find out the exact status of the case, after which he will take up the matter with Major Martin and other members of the chamber of commerce.

Will Present Figures.

Atlanta merchants, who have complained of being discriminated against in favor of merchants in New York and eastern markets, will present figures and market quotations to the wholesale trade committee showing the amount of business which the post has done with them in the past and the relative prices of supplies in Atlanta and New York, plus the freight to Atlanta.

It has been claimed at the fort that such supplies as can be purchased in New York and shipped to Atlanta cheaper than they can be bought in Atlanta will be bought in New York.

The merchants, on the other hand, state that whereas the post formerly did as much as $35,000 worth of business per month with them, they now do about $5,000 worth, and that they can produce quotations showing that purchases, plus the freight, cannot be made in New York cheaper than in Atlanta.

Dispatches from Washington indicate that the probe ordered by Secretary Garrison will be one of the most thoroughgoing that the federal government has instituted in Atlanta federal institutions in many years.

The Atlanta merchants of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce were taken to the war department by Congressman William Schley Howard, who made vigorous representations in the premises. As a result of Congressman Howard's showing, the secretary of war ordered the commandant of the fort to make an exhaustive inquiry.

The complaints of the Atlanta merchants, as well as the showings of Congressman Howard, would indicate undoubtedly that the Atlanta merchants have not had a square deal.

The merchant and the chamber of commerce will marshal their best evidence to make out their case to the secretary of war and bring the trade of the local post back home.

MASON IS PRESENTED WITH A LOVING CUP

Retiring Chairman of the Police Commission Honored by Members of Force.

"Atlanta is the finest police department in the United States. It is composed of temperate, Christian gentlemen, and the department should be held up as a shining example to every metropolis in the nation."

These words were spoken by Solicitor Lowry Arnold, of Fulton city court, last night before the board of police commissioners, when he presented a handsome loving cup to Carlos H. Mason, retiring chairman of the board.

The cup was donated by the members of the police department. Mr. Mason was ill and could not be present at the meeting, but the token was received by his brother, Claud Mason. A fitting tribute was paid the retiring chairman by Mr. Arnold, which received wide applause from both the commission and spectators.

A motion was made and adopted to draw up a set of resolutions expressing regret at the retirement of Mr. Mason, who has been attached to the board for six years, five of which he was chairman.

Italy's Cabinet Resigns.

Rome, March 10.—Resignation of the Italian cabinet was officially announced today by Premier Giovanni Giolitti, in the chamber of deputies, and the senate.

KNIGHT ARRESTED ON WIFE'S ACCOUNT

Physicians Declare Mrs. Knight's Stomach Contained No Traces of Carbolic Acid.

Lying on her bed at the Grady hospital, crying out in anguish that her eyes were killing her, Mrs. Rosa Knight, of Mason, the victim of carbolic acid at the Piedmont hotel Monday night, vigorously attacked the story told by her husband, DeWitt Knight, who told the police that he slanted the bottle of carbolic acid from her lips as she was trying to swallow it, branding his tale as false.

During her semi-conscious state throughout Monday night, as she was being treated by Doctors Welehel and Pitman of the Grady hospital, it is stated that the woman repeatedly cried out: "Why don't you tell them who did it?"

"There is some chance that the woman's eyesight will be saved," declared Dr. Pitman last night. "Her burns are not as bad as was thought at first. Her left eye is considerably damaged by the acid, but it may be saved."

Husband Is Arrested.

The husband, when Rosa Knight was able to tell her tale about the carbolic acid burns, which cover her face, arms and neck, was arrested by the police and is being held at the station house, as he is unable to give a bond of $2,000.

Knight sticks to his story which he told Monday night, that when he entered Mrs. Knight's room at the Piedmont hotel, shortly after she had registered, that when she saw him, she took the bottle of acid from her handbag and put the mouth of it to her lips, and that he slapped it from her hands, struggling with her to keep her from committing suicide, and that the burns he received are proof that he did not throw the acid on her, but that he placed his arm around her neck, and proceeded to kiss her, and then, before I knew what had happened, he had thrown the acid in my eyes, blinding me completely."

No Traces Internally.

The doctors who attended the wounds of Mrs. Knight declared that they found absolutely no traces of carbolic acid having been taken internally. The examination of the stomach disclosed nothing that would indicate that she had taken it internally. There were no burns on her tongue, nor in her throat. Her lips were slightly burned by the acid, but the doctors believe that this happened when the acid was thrown in her face.

DeWitt Knight will be tried as soon as his wife's condition will permit her appearance in court. The doctors do not believe that she will be able to leave the hospital for some days yet. Her entire face is covered with bandages with only small openings at the mouth and nose for breathing and nourishment.

Knight states that he came to Atlanta from Mason to see his wife, believing that she would come here to see her little daughter, Thelma, who has been taken to the Grady hospital, ever since last December when the courts took the little girl away from its mother. Knight states that he was the prosecutor in the case, and that he did not want his wife, whom he has been separated from for some time, to again see the little girl.

Mother Visits Knight.

The aged mother of Knight, accompanied by her married daughter, Mrs. W. R. Jackson, came up to Atlanta from Mason last night to see her son and try to get him out of trouble. Mrs. Jackson, a daughter of the accused man, accompanied by an officer, after calling on Knight at his cell at the police station, went to the Grady hospital.

In a conversation with her sister-in-law, described by those who heard it as "very sisterly," it is reported that Mrs. Jackson secured the admission from the accused's wife that she had slanted the bottle of carbolic acid in Mason, Ga., and had bought it in Atlanta with her, but no satisfactory explanation of how Knight secured the bottle from her to throw it in her face could be obtained.

Mrs. Jackson told the police that her brother was the fourth husband of Rosa Knight, and that when a girl 16 years old she (Rosa Knight) had run away from her home with a man 50 years of age to marry him.

Knight stated last night that he would do anything for his wife in his power. He accused his wife of seeking revenge on him for having her 10-year-old daughter, by a former husband, taken away from her through the courts and put in the Home for the Friendless for raising.

NEW YORK BANKERS GET NASHVILLE BONDS

Nashville, Tenn., March 10.—Over the protest of bankers from Baltimore, Cincinnati and Atlanta, Nashville's $895,000 of serial street improvement bonds were awarded this afternoon to Estabrook & Co., bankers of New York, on a bid of $71,888.50 and accrued interest of $2,250, to be delivered March 24. This includes a premium of $16,888.50 and accrued interest.

Seventeen bids were received, the second highest being from a combination of bankers composed of the Fifth Third National Bank, The Cincinnati National Bank, The Bank of Atlanta, and Baker, Watts & Co., of Baltimore, their bid being $71,164.35 and accrued interest. The latter's protest against the award was not complied with the specifications, but this contention was overruled.

Tennessee Banker For the Atlanta Pen

Nashville, Tenn., March 10.—After pleading guilty to misappropriation of funds of the First National Bank of Knoxville, Tenn., and making false entries on the bank's books, John R. Osborne, aged 22, prominent socially, a bookkeeper, was sentenced to five years in the Atlanta penitentiary by Judge Sanford in the United States district court here today. The misappropriation of $2,512 was attributed by him to trying to keep the pace set by those who had larger incomes and so assisting his family in financial difficulties.

SEEKING OPIUM CURE, DR. SEIDLER FALLS VICTIM TO THE DRUG

New York, March 10.—While laboring to discover a cure for the opium smoking habit, Dr. Herman Seidler fell a victim to the persuasion of the drug, according to his testimony today in his trial on charges of having manufactured smoking opium without a license. Dr. Seidler thus explained the finding of crude opium and pipes in his possession.

Most of his acquaintances were opium smokers, he said, and to cure them of the habit he had experimented, acquiring a liking for the drug himself. Last October he had decided to discontinue the experiments, because he had not been able to find a cure, and had then made up his mind to break himself of the habit, sending his stock of opium and pipes to a warehouse. Later the craving overcame him, and he then took a single smoking set from his trunk, which was found when he was in his sanitarium was made last November. Many of Dr. Seidler's patrons are said to be prominent.

FUTURE CONTRACTS HELD TO BE LEGAL

New York Cotton Brokers Win Their Suit for $16,000 Against D. W. James, of Blakely, Ga.

New Orleans, March 10.—(Special.)—The United States court of appeals at New Orleans today handed down a decision in the case of Haven & Clement, brokers on the New York cotton exchange, against D. W. James, of Blakely, Ga.

This suit was brought by the New York brokers in the United States district court at Columbus, Ga., some ten years ago, and has ever since been stubbornly litigated through the various United States courts, ending, finally, the circuit court of appeals in New Orleans.

The opinion is of general interest for the reason that it sustains, in effect, the validity of the New York cotton exchange contract system. The plaintiffs obtained a verdict for $16,000 in the court below, which was taken up to the higher court for reversal by the defendant, Mr. James, on the proposition chiefly that it was a New York futures deal transaction, and therefore void. The decision in favor of the plaintiff, therefore, in effect, sustains the validity of the future contract system of the New York cotton exchange.

The plaintiff was represented by H. N. Randolph, of the firm of Brown & Randolph, of Atlanta, and the defendant by Smith, Hammond & Smith, of Atlanta.

Millions Awarded to Rev. Goodwin After His Death

New York, March 10.—A decision upholding the patent claim of the Rev. Hannibal B. Goodwin against the Eastman Kodak company, of Rochester, involving millions of dollars in royalties, was handed down by the United States court of appeals here today confirming the opinion recently handed down by Judge John R. Hazel, of Buffalo. The decision says Mr. Goodwin undoubtedly was the inventor and entitled to all the benefits of the basic on photographic films.

Goodwin died more than thirteen years ago, a poor man. The profits of the Eastman Kodak company on the patented patent have been estimated to run into the millions.

DUEL TO THE DEATH ON CROWDED TRAIN

One Man Is Killed, Another Fatally Wounded and Two Others Less Seriously Shot.

Welch, W. Va., March 10.—R. L. Taylor, a deputy sheriff, of Lex, McDowell county, is dead; A. D. Beavers, a former United States deputy marshal of Bartley, is in the Welch hospital in a dying condition, with a pistol wound in the abdomen; D. W. Beavers, a deputy sheriff and brother of A. D. Beavers, was shot through the leg, and T. E. Hickey, a non-combatant, was shot through the thigh, in a pistol battle on a crowded Norfolk and Western passenger train about 7 o'clock this morning, between Iaeger and Berwind.

The tragedy is said to be due to a quarrel which began at Welch, the Beavers and Taylor, according to official reports of the conductor of the train to headquarters of the road at Roanoke, having been drinking when they left Welch an hour earlier to the shooting.

Taylor was shot five times and was killed instantly.

After Taylor had fallen dead, in the aisle of the car, Bob Evans took up the shooting and opened fire, according to the report, on A. D. Beavers, inflicting a probably mortal wound. Evans was arrested and lodged in jail here.

All the parties to the battle are prominent and well known as officials in the coal fields.

The car in which the shooting occurred was crowded with passengers, but the duels shot true to their aim generally, only one non-combatant being hurt.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON IS DUE AT MIDNIGHT

More Than Nine-tenths of the Moon Due to Be in Shadow.

There will be an almost total eclipse of the moon tonight, visible from all points in western Europe, North and South America, and western Africa. Astronomers at the naval observatory in Washington have prepared to take advantage of the opportunity for special observations. It was pointed out that the fainter stars are more easily seen during an eclipse, and that they are of great importance in correcting lunar tables. As yet, astronomers have found it impossible to compute, from theory, tables which agree exactly with the positions observed in the sky.

The shadow of the earth will not cover entirely the moon, but at the middle of the eclipse more than nine-tenths of the moon's diameter will be in the shadow.

The moon is due to enter the shadow, according to precise reckoning, at 8:41 8-10 o'clock tomorrow night, eastern standard time; should reach the middle of the eclipse at 11:22 5-10 o'clock, and leave the shadow at 12:44 a. m. Thursday.

North Carolina Democrats

Raleigh, N. C., March 10.—Thomas D. Warren, of Newbern, was tonight elected chairman of the democratic state executive committee to succeed Charles A. Webb, of Asheville, who resigned because of his appointment as United States marshal of the western district of North Carolina. The state committee, which met here tonight, selected June 17, in Raleigh, for the state democratic convention, with county conventions three weeks prior, county primaries a week before the conventions.

Jane Addams Arrives Today To Deliver Woman Suffrage Message From Other States

JANE ADDAMS.

Jane Addams, one of the most distinguished women in the world, and one of the leaders in the cause of woman's suffrage, accompanied by a party of women allied with the cause, arrives from Birmingham this morning and will make her headquarters at the Georgian Terrace hotel.

From 4 until 5 o'clock, Miss Addams will be the guest of honor at a reception in the lounge of the hotel, this given by the Eighth Ward Suffrage League, of which Mrs. Emily MacDonough is the leader. Under the auspices of the same organization, Miss Addams will speak at the Atlanta theater tonight at 8 o'clock, her address to be one bearing upon the suffrage question in its relation to national prosperity. On the platform with Miss Addams and the officers of the Eighth Ward league will be officers of the state and national organizations making for suffrage, and individual men and women endorsing the cause.

Miss Addams has spoken in Atlanta before; her addresses, always vitally interesting, will be markedly so in the message she brings tonight, when Atlanta, for the first time, will greet the national leaders of the woman's suffrage cause.

There are three woman's suffrage organizations in Atlanta at present, and many throughout Georgia. Unity of these is one of the purposes of tonight's meeting. Prominent women from all sections of the state are in the city to hear the addresses, and to hear the story of woman's suffrage in the United States as told by its most convincing exponents.

MILLIONS AWARDED TO REV. GOODWIN AFTER HIS DEATH

New York, March 10.—A decision upholding the patent claim of the Rev. Hannibal B. Goodwin against the Eastman Kodak company, of Rochester, involving millions of dollars in royalties, was handed down by the United States court of appeals here today confirming the opinion recently handed down by Judge John R. NO FIRE TORTURE USED ON VERGARA

Examination of Body of Ranchman, Murdered by Mexicans, Shows Torture Stories Untrue.

Laredo, Texas, March 10.—Reports that Clemente Vergara had been tortured were exploded today when an examination of his body by state officials disclosed that his left hand was not burned, as had been officially reported by Captain J. J. Sanders, of the state rangers.

The examination was made by State Adjutant General Henry Hutchings in the presence of American Consul A. E. Garrett, Captain Sanders and others.

Widow Paid for Body.

It was Mrs. Clemente Vergara, widow of the American lured to Mexico and assassinated by alleged federalists, who paid the $400 for recovery of her husband's body from its unmarked grave in Hidalgo Sunday morning. J. S. Hill, Vergara's brother-in-law, employed the men who comprised the expedition, acting, it is said, as the widow's agent. These facts were admitted here today upon receipt of news that official dispatches had reached Washington and that Hill's connection with the affair had been made public there.

Hill's participation in organizing the expedition was reported here Sunday, but dissemination of the report was suppressed at the request of Consul Garrett, of Nuevo Laredo, that no mention of names be made until he should hear from the state department.

Names of Men Kept Secret.

The names of the men comprising the party which crossed the river and brought the body of Vergara back to Texas are being kept secret for fear some of them might be killed if their names became public in connection with the case. Some of the members of the party live in Mexico and others close to the boundary line.

Identify any one of them, or make the names of the men public. He said they all left the city immediately after receiving pay for their work.

Consul Garrett said he didn't know the names of the men and couldn't identify any one of them.

That the man, a Mexican, who led the party which recovered the body of Clemente Vergara to the grave in the Hidalgo, Mexico, cemetery in which the body was found, had told a circumstantial story of witnessing the execution of the American ranchman to state investigators, was learned tonight.

Reports from Washington that the state department has given assurance that demands would be made for the punishment of those held to be responsible a week before the conventions.

BOARD DEADLOCKS AFTER LONG FIGHT; FAIN IS IN LEAD

Police Board Adjourns at Midnight, After Having Taken 163 Ballots and Failing to Secure an Election.

On the Seventy-third Ballot Friends of Fain Declare He Was Virtually Elected When George Johnson Changes Vote.

BOARD DEADLOCKS AFTER LONG FIGHT; FAIN IS IN LEAD

Police Board Adjourns at Midnight, After Having Taken 163 Ballots and Failing to Secure an Election.

PACE COMES SECOND; VERNON HAS TWO VOTES

On the Seventy-third Ballot Friends of Fain Declare He Was Virtually Elected When George Johnson Changes Vote.

Fighting stubbornly through 163 ballots, the board of police commissioners remained deadlocked Tuesday in the annual election of chairman and were forced to adjourn at midnight with W. P. Fain in the lead.

Fain possessed six votes. His nearest rival was R. T. Pace, Mayor Woodward's choice, who had four votes. W. A. Vernoy, the third candidate, had only two votes, but was still in the running. Fain and his supporters contend that he was virtually elected in the seventy-third ballot, when George Johnson craftily sought to take advantage of the vote that had been cast for Fain by Commissioner Pace.

Commissioners Haskin, Fain and Smith had voted for Fain. Commissioner Johnson voted non-committally for Commissioner King, not expecting Pace to vote for Fain. When Commissioners King and Dixon voted for Fain, Johnson, realizing his opportunity, instantly shifted his vote to Fain. Secretary Morris, however, had already begun announcing the ballot's result when the transfer was made.

Ballot Declared Void.

A hubbub of excitement spread over the honor Mayor Woodward arose to protest. It was ruled after discussion that the transferred ballot was void because the result had been announced by the secretary at the time the shift was made. During the height of discussion Mayor Woodward steam-rolled the proceedings by commanding the continuance of the voting.

Johnson's shrewd attempt to get his candidate elected a goal of attention. Thereafter, the board was not caught napping. He was watched as carefully as the candidates voting for themselves arose at the opening of the ballots, when the subject was brought to attention by Mr. Colcord. Before the first vote was cast Mr. Colcord asked the board:

"Is it proper for a candidate to vote for himself?"

Not Indecent.

Mayor Woodward answered in reply: "If a man deems himself worthy of the seat of chairman, I do not see that there is anything indecent in the procedure of voting for himself."

Commissioner Johnson, following the may have had this to say:

"I see no cause for voting for myself, and will not do it if the other candidates agree to follow suit."

Whereupon Mr. Vernoy arose, saying: "Inasmuch as there are no candidates in the field, there can be no criticism of voting for oneself. I announce right now that I will vote for myself."

Mr. Vernoy continually voted for himself.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful peevish child. See if tongue is coated, this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative" and mothers can rest easy giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet. Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

was Pace's vote to Paine which came near seating the latter.

Excepting the votes of Candidates Paine and Pace and of Commissioner Johnson, those of the other board members never varied from their original favorites. After the fiftieth ballot, Mr. Johnson changed his tactics, adhering permanently thereafter to Candidate Paine.

SEVEN MEN ARE KILLED BY TOXIC POISONING

Los Angeles, Cal., March 10.—Toxic poisoning caused the death of seven men who were treated for blood disease at the county hospital recently, according to a report post-mortem surgeons submitted today to Coroner H. J. Wells. A death certificate was filed for eight men patients at the county hospital last Saturday. Four died that night and three on Sunday. The eighth was alive today and some hope was held for his recovery. Coroner H. J. Wells said he hoped the county grand jury would begin an investigation and determine if any criminality was involved.

ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY TO KILL COURT OFFICERS

Tense Situation Created by the Prosecution of Men Charged With Election Frauds.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 10.—Bert W. Dickens, a carpenter, today was arrested on an indictment charging conspiracy to kill Judge Charles M. Fortune, of the Vigo county circuit court, Felix Blankenbaker, special judge hearing election fraud cases, and Joseph Roach, special prosecutor in the trials. It is alleged in the indictment that Dickens entered into an agreement with persons not named to kill the three court officials, either by throwing bombs at them or by placing dynamite under their homes. A witness before the grand jury yesterday testified that an attempt to dynamite Judge Fortune's home Sunday night had failed because of the presence of armed guards. At the time the testimony was being given Judge Fortune and Prosecutor Roach were in Indianapolis appealing to Governor Rafton for military protection for witnesses and officials during the trial here next week of Mayor Don M. Roberts, charged with election frauds. Threats against the lives of the officials and witnesses in the fraud cases are alleged to have been made since William Hoffmann, a city official, was convicted here last week and sentenced to from three to ten years in the state penitentiary for the illegal use of election ballots.

RULES FOR LONG LIFE BY SENATOR TILLMAN

Urges Colleagues to Bar Liquor and Tobacco and Eat Moderately.

Washington, March 10.—Senators today were discussing with unusual interest Senator Tillman's declaration in his address on his non-smoking resolution, that he believed he could lengthen the life of every man in the chamber "if I could only get them to believe what I tell them and follow my advice." The South Carolina senator asserted that his colleagues ate too much. "Since I was paralyzed four years ago and read my own obituary," he said, "twenty-one senators, including Vice President Sherman, most of them younger than I have died."

FATHER ARRESTS SON FOR STEALING AUTO

W. H. Brown, of Atlanta, Helps Cincinnati Detectives Apprehend His Son.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 10.—(Special) Sworn in as a deputy sheriff, W. H. Brown, a contracting painter, of Atlanta, Ga., had the painful experience of aiding in the arrest of his 13-year-old son Harry. The latter, together with Walter, 20, and Carl Burdette, 17, brothers, also of Atlanta, were taken into custody on Government square late today by City Detectives Frigg, McDemore, Galloway and Beckman, assisted by Brown and John Roberts, also of Atlanta. The young men are charged with having taken the automobile of John Roberts, an Atlantan. Roberts called Detective Frigg to his home this morning and explained their errand to him. The chief assigned the Cincinnati detectives to aid the search for the search for the trio. They were confident the young men had come to Cincinnati from Atlanta, and they soon struck their trail. After their arrest they are said to have confessed that they took the automobile from Harry's father, W. H. Brown, Miller Bros' livery stable at London, Tenn. The Miller brothers is the sheriff of the county, Walter Burdette of Atlanta, who is the leader of the "Burrhead" party. Roberts said they wanted to get to Knoxville, Tenn. to get work and were in need of funds. Robert Roberts held the warrants but left the train near Covington, Ga., and walked the rest of the way. Burdette said that the boys said that they were out of work and wanted "to get rich quick." Warrants had been issued for them at Atlanta, and Brown and Roberts held the warrants in Atlanta. It is claimed, but the young men deny that they are guilty of the crime. Brown said he would take the prisoners to the Mexican authorities for the holding them, and wired the Atlanta police tonight.

FOUR AUTO ACCIDENTS DURING DAY AT GRIFFIN

Griffin, Ga., March 10.—(Special) Within the past day a series of queer automobile accidents have just happened here. Arthur McRae, North Carolina, was the first victim, when his car turned turtle, caused by a quick turn in the road. Both men were pinned beneath the car, but McRae alone was seriously hurt. Luther Allen was a second car victim, when he lost control of the steering gear of his car, which ran into a tree on West Poplar street, the car being practically demolished. Allen is laid up for a month with the flesh of his leg ripped from knee to ankle. Louis Egan was pinned today against a nearby town, allowed his car to run down a steep embankment, turning turtle, but without damage to him. Jim Cox, to keep up the series of casualties ran his car into a deep ditch in East Griffin, and damaged it to considerable extent, but without mishap to him.

KIMBROUGH SUFFERS STROKE OF PARALYSIS

Councilman From Tenth Ward Is Confined to His Home. Condition Is Improving.

J. T. Kimbrough, member of council from the tenth ward, is at his home on Murphy avenue today suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis. His condition last night, according to his family, was greatly improved but it is believed that it will be several days before he will be able to return to his business. News of Councilman Kimbrough's illness caused considerable apprehension among his friends in the city administration and in business circles. He has been a member of the tenth ward delegation in coming years, and has been a member of council for the past two months. Judge John S. Candler, mayor pro tem of council, and one of the most prominent and beloved members of council has been confined to his home several weeks. News of his illness was so much improved that he was able to leave Atlanta for a trip to Hampton Springs, S. C., where he will spend several weeks. If he needs to rest and recuperate, Judge Candler left the city at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was accompanied by several members of his family.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Stomach Misery, Indigestion in Five Minutes.

If you just ate is souring on your stomach or has like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness heart burn, or a heavy, oppressive taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent boxes of Pape's Diapiesin, then you will understand why the scientific troubles of all kinds must go and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomach or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapiesin" is harmless tastes like candy though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat, besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite, but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation. This city will have many "Pape's Diapiesin" drunks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too if you ever take it for indigestion, gas, heartburn, sourness, diapiesin, or any ailment of the stomach. Get some now this minute and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

The South's Greatest Need

Which the Governors of all the Southern States declare is

MORE MEN MORE MONEY MORE INDUSTRIES

Is being met in the case of the men by one of the most far-seeing and far-reaching movements that the country has ever known. The long arm of enterprise is stretching out to every corner of the earth where there are available and suitable men, beckoning for them to come into the South. People who know the South say there is room for ten times the present population; that there are millions of acres of unoccupied and undeveloped land; that the psychological hour for settlement and development work is at hand, and that to wait will mean to starve Southern enterprise, hold back the great growth of sea ports and permit a prodigious expanse of agricultural land to grow rank with weeds. The business, agricultural, educational and social welfare of the entire South is inextricably bound up with this big problem, which is discussed in the article

CITY MAY PURCHASE HIGH POWER ENGINES

Mayor Authorizes Purchasing Agent to Advertise for Bids at Once.

Following a meeting of the fire board at noon yesterday Mayor James G. Woodward and City Purchasing Agent Chambers discussed plans for two high power auto engines which the city will buy at a cost of approximately $19,000.

One of the engines will be installed in the eighth ward house and the other will be put in operation in the fifth ward. Councilman W. G. Humphrey, of the eighth ward, was at the meeting of the fire board and urged that work be started immediately on plans for the erection of the engine house in his ward.

At the meeting of the board Tuesday morning, Fire Chief Cummings stated that he was anxious to have the eighth ward house completed as early as possible. Councilman Humphrey informed the board that the location of the engine house is in greater need of fire protection than any other section of the city.

Several architects who had received information that the board would meet for the purpose of discussing plans for the fifth and eighth ward engine houses attended the meeting, and they were invited by the board to prepare plans. Tentative plans were discussed before the board adjourned to meet again Wednesday morning.

According to the plans of the city, the eighth ward engine house will cost for the neighborhood of $12,800 and the engine will cost about $3,500. The house will be of bungalow design similar to the house in the tenth ward, which is considered one of the prettiest in the city.

Councilman Humphrey acted on the advice of the citizens of the eighth ward and selected a site on West Peachtree near the fourteenth street for the location of the engine house. Mayor Woodward declared Tuesday that the city was anxious to have the engines for both the fifth and eighth wards in accordance with the city purchasing department. He said he will not tolerate the acceptance of bids unless they are accompanied by a guarantee and a contract.

MRS. JOHN Z. HOKE, JR., DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

Was Formerly Miss Harrie Stockdell—Relatives Arrive Today for Funeral.

While on a short visit here, having arrived Saturday evening, Mrs. John Z. Hoke, Jr. of Athens, Ga., died suddenly yesterday shortly before noon at the Hotel Anley. She was Miss Harrie Stockdell, formerly of Atlanta, but more recently of Athens, her marriage to Mr. Hoke having been a brilliant social event in the latter city in early January.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoke came to Atlanta for the week-end, having many friends here and stayed over at the Grand theater this week. Mrs. Hoke was entertained by friends Monday evening and was not taken ill until Tuesday morning. Dr. G. A. Vinson was quickly summoned and every remedy resorted to with no avail. Mrs. Hoke's dying of heart disease. She is survived by her husband, who was with her when she died; her mother, who arrives from New York this morning; her brother, Clarence Stockdell, of Richmond, Va., and her sister, Mrs. Hugh Foreman, of Atlanta, both of whom will arrive in Atlanta some time today.

Mrs. Stockdell will be with Mr. and Mrs. Hoke here in December, 1913, to attend the funeral. The funeral will be held at the residence of Mrs. Hoke, 1115 Peachtree street, at 10 o'clock. The time not yet decided upon.

The news of Mrs. Hoke's death will be a shock to the social community and to a large contingent of friends in the young society set. She was the second daughter of the late Harry Stockdell, one of the most prominent figures in the insurance world of the state.

SEARCHING FOR CHILD TAKEN IN AUTOMOBILE

Captain Massey Says Hunt for Little Grandson Will Lead Them to Macon.

Eufaula, Ala., March 10.—The disappearance here today of a 2-year-old child, Charles Jones, son of Dr. F. E. Jones of Macon, Ga., started his grandfather, Captain C. F. Massey, on a search, which Captain Massey said would lead to Macon. It was said the child was taken from the Massey home in an automobile and Captain Massey said he followed the car to Georgetown, where the trail was lost. He then caught a train, saying he would go to Macon. The child has been living with his grandparents here. It was said, with Dr. Jones' consent.

ROSIER CASE IS ON AS COURT TAKES A RECESS

The criminal division of the superior court recessed on Tuesday with the trial of Tom Bowen, negro backman, charged with robbing in the present case, but who will later face a charge of assault with intent to murder, upon the person of J. A. Rosier, a downtown grocery store owner.

MORE POLICE NEEDED ON FORSYTH STREET

When the police committee of council holds its next meeting, Councilman C. Knight, of the second ward, will urge that the committee recommend to Chief Beavers that he station one or two patrolmen on Forsyth street between Luckie and Jackson, to regulate traffic and pedestrians in that neighborhood. Councilman Knight stated Tuesday that, while he fully realizes that the police department is hampered for the time being, he is in favor of having policemen stationed during the busiest part of the day—one at Luckie and the other at the James streets—will relieve conditions.

SOLDIER MUST FACE CHARGE OF FORGERY

Upon a requisition from the governor of Colorado, Floyd Wilson, a soldier at Fort McPherson, left Tuesday in charge of a western official for Greeley, Colo., where he will face a charge of forgery. Tipton enlisted in the army some time ago under the name of Robert Graham and was assigned to Fort McPherson. His whereabouts and assumed name were discovered through a letter written in the name of his father in Colorado when the latter was arrested upon a charge of counterfeiting.

Columbus, Ga., March 10.—(Special.) The Muscogee county commissioners today voted $20,000 for a hospital construction purposes and the new hospital soon to be erected will be used jointly by the city and county. The city voted $60,000 of hospital bonds and the new building and site will cost $75,000. The city architect is now preparing plans for the building.

GLASCOCK BARRETT DIES SUDDENLY IN AUGUSTA

Prominent Georgian Suffered Stroke of Apoplexy Early Tuesday Morning.

Augusta, Ga., March 10.—(Special.)—Glascok Barrett, among the most prominent of Georgians, died suddenly at an early hour this morning. Mr. Barrett suffered a stroke of apoplexy shortly after midnight. The forepart of Monday night he was mingling with his friends, apparently in his usual state of health.

He was a member of one of the most prominent families in this section, and was 51 years of age. For some years he was state oil inspector, after which he became manager of the Round Bale Cotton company, with headquarters in Atlanta. In 1902 he was selected to assume the duties of oil inspector at the St. Louis exposition, which position he filled with credit to himself and to his country.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY HAS A BUSY SESSION

The federal grand jury, Frank Hawkins, foreman, yesterday returned a dozen indictments for violations of internal revenue laws; also three true bills charging violations of the federal penal code. A true bill of two counts charging internal revenue law was returned against E. B. Inge, arrested ten days ago and held under bond by Commissioner W. C. Collett. In the sum of $1,000, which he was unable to make at the time. After passing a day or two in the Fulton county jail, he was released in making the requisite bond Saturday last. The indictment alleges that Inge used a post office inspector's badge to enable him to cash worthless checks at hotels and other places.

HUNGER FORCES BOYS TO YIELD TO SHERIFF

Aurora, Ill., March 10.—Three boy fugitives from the state home for boys, Aurora, Ill., who eluded a posse of farmers near Elk Rock, Ill., all day, surrendered to Sheriff Charles McCann, of Aurora, this morning. The boys, French, Chicago; George Fairchild and William Bookman, Jacksonville, Ill., had eaten nothing, they said, since leaving St. Charles last night. Hunger forced them to surrender.

EAT MORE SALMON TO CUT LIVING COST

Washington, March 10.—To reduce the cost of living, eat more salmon, especially of the cheaper grades, and less meat. That is the advice of Dr. H. H. Smith, federal commissioner of fisheries, in a statement today. He asserts that not only is salmon cheaper than other meats, but it is more nutritious if unopened, while the latter spoil quickly in the home.

MRS. M. F. SHUMATE SUES HUSBAND FOR DIVORCE

It is just for my "vo little girls" she says, that I am asking to divorce my suit against my husband.

Mrs. M. F. Shumate, a 35-year-old woman, filed suit for divorce against her husband, J. F. Shumate, of the Atlanta Commercial company, has filed suit for divorce against her husband. The petition accompanying the suit names a vaudeville actress as co-respondent. William Forrest Shumate was, on Tuesday, found guilty in the city criminal court on charges of abandonment and sentenced to pay to the city $200 or go to the chairing for twelve months. The court read a lecture on the duties of a father towards his offspring, and the jury had announced their verdict.

Mrs. Shumate's petition alleges that she has been deserted by her husband for several years. The husband, it is alleged, deserted his wife and two little girls, on several occasions. Each time, the wife says, she took the husband back. When the husband went to San Francisco, she went to his home in Chicago, where the wife finally located him and went to him. The wife declares her husband had sent her money to get back home.

FLAMES LAY WASTE CITY IN HONDURAS

New Orleans, March 10.—Advices received here today from Ceiba, Honduras were to the effect that the city of Ceiba had been swept away by a fire which had caused a loss that had been estimated at $1,000,000. It was estimated that twenty-three city blocks had been destroyed. Among the losses are two buildings of the Citizens Fruit company, one bank and several stores and dwellings. The actual extent of the fire could not be ascertained, but Ceiba is a city of 7,000 inhabitants.

Among the known losses, according to later dispatches, are American Consulate and American hotel, P. De Vaux & Co., $75,000; La Fitta, Alvarez & Co., $50,000; La Fitta, Alvarez & Co., $20,000; B. S. Sikoff, $10,000; C. O. Nini, $12,000; Louis A. Fee & Co., $21,000; and several other stores and dwellings. Wholesalers at Ceiba carried heavy losses. The interior of Honduras and the town was regarded as the principal industrial center of that country.

MRS. M. A. SHEPPARD DIES AT GRADY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Martha A. Sheppard, one of the most prominent and beloved women of Atlanta, died at Grady hospital Tuesday morning after an operation. She had been sick only a short while, but her illness was very severe. Mrs. Sheppard was born in Georgia and belonged to the famous Lamar family of Georgia. She resided at 478 North Jackson street, and was closely affiliated with the First Presbyterian church. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Hugh K. Walker officiating. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

GETTING AT THE TRUTH.

Responding to the complaint of Atlanta merchants touching discrimination in the purchase of supplies at Fort McPherson and carried to the war department by Congressman William Schley Howard, the secretary of war has communicated with the commandant at the post, Major D W Martin, requesting a full investigation and report.

It would be difficult to find a man better qualified by experience temperament and equipment to conduct the inquiry in such manner as will do justice to all concerned. The fact that the probe will be under his direction is assurance that the exact truth will be found and that is all anyone could ask.

Undoubtedly in the past, supplies have been bought from a distance when they could have been bought just as cheaply in Atlanta. This is obviously wrong. The Atlanta merchants do not ask that the cards be stacked in their favor. All they ask is that they be allowed to bid in the open market with no penalty or handicap, and that where their goods equal in specification and price goods offered from distant sources that they be given the preference.

At bottom, the matter is one purely of business and of a business "square deal," which is all that Atlanta wants. It is now up to the chamber of commerce to see that the wholesale merchants, having most at stake, present their case properly and fully to Major Martin. The issue is an important one, has been nibbled at several times and should now be settled for good and all. The precedent now about to be established is an important one. Upon the showing the merchants make will depend much of their dealings with the post in the future. And they may rest assured that in the person of Major Martin they are assured of an impartial hearing.

EDWARD H. BUTLER.

The death of Edward H. Butler, editor and proprietor of The Buffalo (N. Y.), Evening News and The Sunday News, brings a real loss to the profession of journalism in America and to the realm of higher ideals in the public service. In Atlanta, Mr Butler's death will be the occasion of especial grief, since he has many times visited and been entertained here, and since his son, Edward H Butler, married in this city.

The peculiarity of Mr Butler's journalistic record was that he invariably placed patriotism before partisanship. He believed in organization, but he believed more largely in effective service and in the truth, under whatever banner he found it. He made The Buffalo News one of the great newspaper properties of the country—a power in city, state and nation.

As sad as is his death and as deep as will be the grief of a nation wide circle of friends, there is a note of consolation in that he leaves a son, Edward H. Butler, broken to harness sympathetic with his ideals and already having demonstrated his father's unusual genius for business ability, clean journalism and public service. The Constitution could wish for this bereaved young man, whose sorrow we share, no future more fortunate than that he shall fully measure to his father's splendid stature in all phases of life. And he gives full promise of doing that very thing.

FOR A GREATER WESLEY.

With $10,000 already to their credit, the ladies who are in charge of the campaign for meeting the remarkable offer of Asa G. Candler for broadening the scope of Wesley Memorial hospital, expect to secure pledges to the requisite amount of $25,000 by next Sunday. Mr. Candler has offered for every one dollar raised by the ladies to contribute three dollars. The final sum sought is $100,000, of which Mr. Candler expects to supply $75,000. But he does not wait until the entire $25,000 is secured to begin his donation. The moment a dollar is pledged from the outside he covers it with three, and the total amount goes on interest-bearing deposit. The terms of this practical philanthropist are not less than remarkable in an age wherein practical philanthropists are inclined to conduct their benefactions upon a decidedly one-sided scientific scale.

There should be no need to detail to the people of Atlanta, or of Georgia or the south, the actual need of enlarging the facilities of Wesley Memorial. The institution has grown wonderfully since its founding, a tribute to the excellence of its management and to the size of the field it so admirably fills. Its doors are open to all, irrespective of denomination. It has done much charity work, a fact which explains the difficulty it has annually in meeting its growing budgets.

The sum of $100,000 will well supplement the equipment and space of the hospital, and enable it to serve with better advantage the people of Atlanta and Georgia and the south, for its patronage is south-wide. The sum these devoted women are asking is negligible by the side of the importance of the cause. And surely, if one man can generously give three dollars for each one contributed by the public, the movement ought to make such a popular appeal as to assure its completion in record time.

A LONG-DISTANCE WARRIOR.

We regret to see partisan jingoism again rear its head in congress, this time in the person of United States Senator Fall, republican, of New Mexico.

Coming from a state that borders on Mexico, with its turbulent conditions, it is not difficult to understand the gyrations of the senator from New Mexico.

No one, of course, underestimates the discomfort visited upon the commonwealths that have the misfortune to be near the scene of conflict. But that offers no valid reason why one or two border states should, following the rampant lead of California, pursue a reckless course calculated to impair the whole nation in war and expenditure.

And war is practically what colored the remarks of our fire eating friend from New Mexico when, for three solid hours on the senate floor, he related personally-underwritten stories of "atrocities" upon Americans in Mexico, and plead for intervention to save this country from a war with Europe.

In all likelihood, the senator was "talking for buncombe," in other words, for home consumption. This sort of talk will not force the hand of the president nor swerve him from his reiterated policy. For Senator Fall's denunciation to the contrary notwithstanding, Mr Wilson has at every turn shown an intimate familiarity with the intricacies of the Mexican situation. He does not mix his knowledge with brimstone nor qualify it with high geared adjectives, like the senator from New Mexico. But he goes his course in a plodding, conscientious way, prepared to intervene if that is inevitable, but mindful ever of the cost of intervention to the whole country.

A PHENOMENAL RECORD.

The upset guarantee fund for Atlanta's season of grand opera this year was $50,000.

The first day's sale only, of season tickets only, ran over forty-one thousand dollars. That astounding fact is typical of Atlanta, which does spectacular things in a practical way and does them constantly.

But not in the history of grand opera in Atlanta, in itself sufficiently phenomenal, has a record of this nature been approximated.

It is true that patronage from all the south helped swell the total.

But it was an Atlanta enterprise that was patronized, an enterprise that Atlanta initiative made possible.

Another significant indication is the prosperity thus demonstrated to exist throughout the south, running strongly in Atlanta and Georgia and bearing out the reiterated forecasts of The Constitution last fall. For no city, or state or section not abundantly prosperous, could afford thus to make so startling a contribution to the luxury of art.

It is well, meanwhile, to bear in mind that the phenomenal first day's sale foreshadows a record demand for season and single seats.

The prospective patron desiring a choice location had best lose no time getting in on the ground floor.

Prosperity needs no press agent.

This certainly is a "forward looking" March.

The president tells the country "Come clean" in the matter of Panama canal tolls and, almost literally, the "world is ours."

Villa promises to be good "The devil is sick, the devil a monk would be."

Bought that season ticket to grand opera yet?

The report is from Alabama that Underwood is to be elected. At this distance, it looks to be a question of majority only.

It remains now for Mr Wilson to take a fall out of Senator Fall.

A Story of the Moment

By WALTER HAZEN,
The Famous Prose Poet.

Not for Him.

"We're going to have a musical entertainment at the schoolhouse this evening," announced Traphagen, "and we all want you to be there, Rumbelow. You don't take a proper interest in such things, and the people are talking about it."

"Let them talk and be hanged," replied Rumbelow. "If the people of this neighborhood didn't do anything worse than talk about me, I'd be as good as dead."

"The last time the conspirators got my goat was about six weeks ago, when Zediker came over here wearing an open-face smile just like yours. He said there was going to be an entertainment at the church, to raise funds for the relief of several poor families and he considered it my duty as a man and citizen to attend and spend a quarter."

"I hadn't been there five minutes before Zediker got up on the platform with that blamed sanctity smile of his, and said that Professor Slammer, the great musician, had consented to play a few pieces on the pipe organ. Unfortunately, Zediker said the functionary who usually pumped wind into the organ was absent, and he would have to appoint a committee of one to attend to that important work."

"Of all the low down tricks ever played on me that was the worst, and nothing ever hurt my feelings more, not even my experience when Pessenden persuaded me to go to the schoolhouse one evening and see some of the remarkable exhibits by the world famous electrician. He told me that the world famous electrician had sent word to me that he wanted me at the delongas as a special favor to himself. I learned afterwards that he didn't send any such message and had never heard of me."

"I went to the schoolhouse and about a million giggling girls were there. I always feel silly and embarrassed when there are girls around, and I tried to take a seat back near the door, but Pessenden piloted me up in front, where everybody could see all that happened. After a while the electrician said that he wanted to explain the old-fashioned galvanic battery, and in order to make his remarks plain he would ask the gentleman in front to grasp a couple of handles which were attached to cords. I was the gentleman in front and I couldn't back down before a crowd so I grabbed the handles, not knowing what was coming and the blamed idiot shot about ten thousand volts of chain lightning into me."

"I never had such a shock in my life. I couldn't let go of the blamed handles and I jumped so high my head knocked plaster from the ceiling and some of the yells I let out are traveling yet. And those fool girls just doubled up with joy. You can't work me again that way, Traphagen so just chase yourself."

"Permit me to express through your paper a few thoughts upon the passing of the ante-bellum whites. It is often our pleasure to read words of praise from various persons of the ante-bellum negroes and usually it is upon the passing of this type that prompts the comment of this sort."

"Permit me to refer to the passing of the ante bellum whites. Realizing as I do the merited amount of praise bestowed upon your clear people, I hesitate to offer a humble but sincere share yet I feel that it will be received in the same spirit in which it is here offered."

"Whenever I read words of praise of the faithful fathers and mothers of my race a picture of the ante bellum whites with extended hands of succor, presents itself."

"With the passing of this true type of southern men and women there passes a part of the south itself which can never be replaced. Time has drawn heavily upon both races and soon the sight of master greeting slave will have passed into history, and then—what? The two types have long understood each other and have stood as a bulwark, often keeping back the rushing waters of misunderstanding between the younger generations."

"If the white race loses more than a servant in the passing of the old slave surely the black race loses more than a master in the passing of the ante bellum whites."

"In this whirling of life affairs we pause to praise the people while yet some are left to us to receive our homage."

Help to Ocmulgee

Editor Constitution: Please permit me to thank you for your very kind night letter relative to our undertaking to raise $100,000 for the purpose of navigating the Ocmulgee. We feel as we are about to enter the work with encouragement that we have already received from our business men that we shall succeed in this most important matter."

I desire also to express my own appreciation and that of the commercial organization I have the honor to serve as president, for your editing of The Constitution today. These very forceful remarks will help to enlighten our people and set them to action of greater determination than ever."

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF EUGENE MARIE CHANTRELLE.

One of the most conspicuous trials of wife poisoning in the annals of Scottish criminal Jurisprudence was that of Eugene Marie Chantrelle. The convicted prisoner was a Frenchman by birth, who on August 11, 1868, married Elizabeth Cullen Dyer in Edinburgh, one of his pupils in a fashionable boarding school in which he was a teacher of the languages."

Before going to Scotland, Chantrelle had spent several years in America, although of his movements and occupations in this country nothing definitely is known. Almost from the first the marriage was an unhappy one. Again and again the wife was compelled to take refuge with her mother. Chantrelle had several times threatened to take her life. Only the wife's deep affection for their four children kept her from a separation."

To poison his wife had been Chantrelle's favorite form of threat. In October 1877, he insured the life of his wife for $5,000, the policy being so framed as to take effect only in the case of her death by accident. Up to the day of her death by accident, Madame Chantrelle had been in good health. She had allowed her servant a holiday on that day, and with her husband and children remained at home."

On the return of the servant she found her mistress in bed with her baby beside her. She complained of being ill, and the servant administered to her and went to her own room. She left the light burning and heard nothing more during the night."

When the servant rose the following morning she heard a moaning sound proceeding from the room of her mistress and went to see the cause, and discovered that Madame Chantrelle was unconscious. The girl at once adjoining room, or apparently so. He came into his wife's bedroom and sent the servant out of the room on a pretext, and when she returned she found that there was a very strong smell of gas, which she had not previously noticed."

The husband went for a physician and also directed that his wife's mother should be brought to the house. The dying woman was sent to the Royal Infirmary, where Professor MacLagen, upon examination, found that the symptoms were not indicative of the disease of narcotic poisoning. Madame Chantrelle died the afternoon without regaining consciousness."

On the following day a post mortem examination was held and subsequent investigations confirmed the general suspicion awakened by the peculiar circumstances at the time of the deceased's illness and death and in the afternoon of Saturday, January 5, 1878, immediately after the wife's funeral, Chantrelle was arrested and taken to the Calton prison."

The preparation of the case for trial took several months, and it was not until April 10th that he was indicted. The trial began on the hearing was Lord Justice Clerk Macleod. The prisoner was attired in mourning, and to his indictment he answered in a clear and steady voice, "Not guilty."

For the prosecution there appeared the Lord Advocate and the Solicitor General Watson and Macdonald, as well as several advocates depute and the accused was defended by Mr Trayner assisted by J. P. E. Robertson and Thomas Shaw. The trial lasted four days of which three were occupied with the evidence, and the fourth with the address of counsel. The judges charge to the jury, and the verdict and the sentence."

It was clearly proven that Chantrelle was acquainted with the uses and effects of poison, that he had had opium in his possession, that he had endeavored to create a false impression as to the cause of his death, his protestations of innocence before he had been accused of any crime were inconsistent with the demeanor of an innocent man etc."

At 4 o'clock, on May 10, the jury retired and went out an hour and ten minutes. The prisoner was found guilty. His counsel did not forsake him. The verdict was received with cheers by the large crowd assembled in parliament square."

The judicial warrant appointing the execution to take place on the morning of Friday, May 31, was delivered to the civic authorities on May 13. A long petition was gotten up containing a great many signatures, and was presented to the home secretary, but with no avail. Almost up to his start for the place of execution the prisoner sued his counsel to request that he be permitted to make a statement to the public in relation to his crime that could be construed into a confession of his guilt and in a letter he wrote the night before he was executed he made the request to his children that he wished them to distinctly understand that he never killed their mother."

WHY AND HOW.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Our little human lives are inspired on their several ways largely through Agencies that, in themselves, are immensely wonderful and awe creating, yet by us mysteriously unknowable—as great Truths, too gigantic for us but to equate at—like even to the Creation of every growing thing, whose source we cannot understand."

And yet there is not a single created thing—save the most minute—but that renders Lessons, that the simplest of humans may not learn, fully understand, and take to heart."

The biggest secrets of the Stars will always remain unknown, no one will ever become wise enough to fully explain the miraculousness of the Giant Tree from the little Seed, or the wonders of the Harvest, or the Why and How of the Storm. But inspiration fairly bursts from each."

DAILY GRIST FROM THE STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

MAY WAIVE ROTATION PLAN TO SEND MILLER BACK TO STATE SENATE

Reports come from the twenty-fourth senatorial district, composed of the counties of Chattahoochee, Marion and Muscogee, to the effect that as a graceful compliment to the splendid work of Senator B. S. Miller, Chattahoochee county will this year not take advantage of the senatorial rotation system, yielding to Senator Miller in the event he should consent to be a candidate to succeed himself."

In this way Chattahoochee would follow the course that has been adopted in the Augusta, Savannah and Macon senatorial districts, all of which have on different occasions yielded the senatorial rotation principle, in deference to some member who had rendered particularly acceptable service."

Muscogee county has, of course, a very much larger population than both of the other two counties of the district, but it is said that Senator Miller would not take advantage of this, and that he would consent to be a candidate again only upon being asked to do so by Chattahoochee county."

On being asked about the matter yesterday, Senator Miller, who was in Atlanta on legal business, said:

"I am not a candidate and have no intention of becoming one. My friends from Chattahoochee have been very kind about the matter, but I am frank to say that my business is pre-occupied to me more than personal political services."

It would not be surprising if the suggestion were not seriously considered this time."

HON. B. S. MILLER, Of Columbus.

by the twenty fourth district to adopt the same plan now pursued in the Atlanta, Savannah and Augusta districts by which Fulton, Chatham and Richmond counties having such a large population and being of such commercial importance take the senatorship two times in succession by the agreement of the other two counties, each of which has the senatorship once each."

It is said that if the matter is put up to Senator Miller in this way he might consent to the use of his name in this connection, and his friends on the district are interested in the matter. Most of the candidates of the legislature have more friends generally over Georgia than Senator Miller. He served three terms in the house representing Muscogee county and has already served two terms in the senate making a record of ten years service during which time he has been prominently identified with some of the most important legislation that has been enacted in the state during that period."

Clark—a good officeholder sticks practically till he resigns or dies or is removed for cause.

All the old county officers are offering for re-election as usual there being so far no opposition except in the case of H. H. Linton, who has been tax collector for thirty-five years and has never had formidable opposition.

The race for the legislature is not yet shaping up. Senator R. T. DuBose will give way to a gentleman from Elbert county, it being the time, in rotation, for that county to furnish the member from the thirtieth district. T. H. Standa, a candidate, and will likely not have opposition.

Representative J. F. Rhodes of Clarke, will be in the race for a return trip, and there has been no utterance from Representative Frank A. Lipscomb. If he does not run there will probably be half a dozen in the running for his place.

FIGHT ALL ALONG THE LINE FOR FLOYD COUNTY OFFICES

Rome, Ga., March 10—(Special)—An interesting campaign for county offices has already opened in Floyd county. The fight in prospect all along the line. The county primary has not yet been set, but will probably be some time in May or the early part of June.

For sheriff, W. G. Dunebo, the incumbent, will be opposed by J. R. Barron, one of his deputies, and Tax Collector J. C. Vandiver will be opposed by Leonard G. Todd. Tax Receiver J. T. Jenkins will seek re-election and will be opposed by Zack Salmson. T. B. Hendricks and possibly others will seek Scott Davis as a candidate to succeed himself as county commissioner for another term. County Commissioner J. M. Yarbrough will not seek re-election and for this place T. C. Miller, of the Chullo district, has announced as a candidate.

NEW EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IS NAMED IN JONES COUNTY

Gray, Ga., March 10—(Special)—The democrats of Jones county met in mass meeting Monday and elected a new executive committee.

Two primaries were agreed upon, one April 17 for county officers, and state primary in August.

SIXTEEN CANDIDATES FOR THESE TWO OFFICES IN BANKS COUNTY

Maysville, Ga., March 10—(Special)—Banks county has ten candidates for county treasurer and six for tax collector.

No date has been set for primary election but some time in May will be probably chosen.

Seldom in the history of politics in this county has there been as many as sixteen candidates in the field seeking two offices and the voters are promised a lively time before the campaign is over.

HANDSHAKING CAMPAIGN BEING CONDUCTED IN BEN HILL COUNTY

Fitzgerald, Ga., March 10—(Special)—The many candidates for county offices at the coming primary on April 1 keep the voters busy shaking hands these days.

SHORTS IN WHEAT CAUGHT NAPPING

They Had to Bid Up Prices Trying to Cover—Market Closed Strong—Corn Is Higher.

Chicago, March 10.—Short sellers overreached themselves today in wheat. On trying to cover they found the market bare of offerings and had to bid up prices to an unexpected extent.

Impetus for the shorts to protect their trades was found in a decided shortage of wheat available supply. The reduction for the week made a noticeable contrast as against the corresponding time a year ago.

REGULATION IS URGED FOR STOCK EXCHANGES

Undermyer Argues for His Measure Before Senate Banking Committee.

Washington, March 10.—Samuel Undermyer's motives in pressing for favorable action on the stock exchange regulation was questioned today by Senator Hitchcock, democrat of Nebraska.

Undermyer said he believed the matter was being up in the obscure issues involved in the pending bill, but declared that the charges that either himself or his clients had been involved in an improper transaction in the stock market had been inspired by the publicity department of the New York stock exchange.

Undermyer explained that the Kansas and Michigan transaction occurred about ten years ago when he represented the Kansas stock exchange.

After a strong opening, the return was checked temporarily by renewed attacks on Chesapeake and Ohio and Utah Valley, which for a time proved sensitive to pressure.

Undermyer said that the power and momentum of the press are increasing at such a rate that the danger is that the public will be misled by the people.

"ROKEY VENUS" CUT BY A MILITANT WOMAN

Notorious May Richardson Uses Knife on Famous Picture by Velasquez.

London, March 10.—A militant suffragette inflicted severe damage today on the famous Velasquez picture known as the "Rokeby Venus," which is hung in the National gallery, Trafalgar square. The picture was purchased for $225,000 in 1906, and presented to the nation by the National gallery.

The woman entered the gallery and attacked the picture with a sharp knife, making six or seven deep cuts across the canvas. She was arrested.

The perpetrator of the outrage was the notorious militant suffragette, May Richardson, who has been sentenced to several terms of imprisonment since the beginning of the militant movement. She was arrested at Bristol on July 1 last year for dropping a scroll of paper on the knees of King George as he was driving through the city.

The keeper of the National gallery told the magistrate that the selling price of the picture had been depreciated by the outrage by $75,000.

The prisoner harangued the court, saying: "Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, has turned the criminal code into a farce. This is the tenth time I have been brought before a court since this year. He cannot coerce me and cannot compel me to serve a sentence. He can only repeat the farce of releasing me."

Six or seven of the slashes made by Miss Richardson are sharp, clean cuts on the most important portion of the canvas—the nude shoulders and back of Venus. The seventh injury is a ragged bruise a couple of inches in diameter and will be more difficult to repair.

Miss Richardson, who made no attempt to escape after the outrage, carried a sort of miniature hatchet in her hand and today she was at the bar, stated. She is already under sentence of four months' imprisonment, but was released because she was suffering from appendicitis.

TRUST PRACTICES LAID TO A TOBACCO COMPANY

Attorney General McReynolds to Sue the Metropolitan of New York.

Washington, March 10.—Attorney General McReynolds tonight decided to prepare suit against the Metropolitan Tobacco company, of New York, under the Sherman anti-trust act. The action was based on evidence of alleged restraints of trade, laid before Mr. McReynolds today by H. Snowden Marshall, United States district attorney at New York, and his assistant, C. A. Thompson, who has investigated the case.

The principal complaint against the Metropolitan company is alleged discrimination against independent dealers. The Metropolitan acts as distributing agent for producing companies that made up the old tobacco trust, and while it would be principal defendant, producing companies necessarily would be parties to the suit.

The Metropolitan company has been under investigation for several months. Independent dealers have charged that the Metropolitan company is selling tobacco at the same rates to its own retailers as to independent Metropolitan dealers.

Officials of the disintegrated company, which the Metropolitan company is distributing agent, have talked with department officials about the alleged character of the company's relations, and as a result the understanding here is that a conspiracy in restraint of trade is not being sought in the government suit, though action would be based on the allegation that there is restraint of trade.

Charges of independence. The fact that there have been negotiations between officials of the tobacco companies and directors of the Metropolitan company was pointed out tonight as a reason for believing the entire matter might be settled out of court. Independent dealers, however, have charged that nothing but the elimination of the Metropolitan would be a satisfactory solution of the problem.

Attorney General McReynolds has been particularly interested in the Metropolitan case because it is a precedent for the government in the suit against the old tobacco trust. He was greatly displeased in evidence produced today, and unless the Metropolitan is willing to conform to the department's requirements, government proceedings will be pressed.

RAIL OUTLOOK GLOOMY, SAYS PRESIDENT REA

Philadelphia, March 10.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company stockholders, at their annual meeting today, authorized the board of directors to create a mortgage under which bonds may be issued in such amounts and at such times as may be required properly to finance the company.

President Samuel Rea, who presided, read a statement in which he denied rumors that the Pennsylvania Railroad had manipulated their accounts to show increased costs of operation. He also referred to the question of increased freight rates, stating that the interstate commerce commission and state courts are exercising jurisdiction to appropriate the consequence of legislative enactments and regulation, dealing with every phase of railroad operation.

"No serious public consideration is being given to the investors who have furnished the capital for all the railroads and thereby provided the most substantial foundation for the past and present progress of the country."

"If large numbers of railroad men and others depending on the industry for every character of supplies and work are out of employment and a general loss of confidence and suspicion has been engendered, no attempt must be made to place this responsibility upon the railroad management. The time has come when all-minded men and investors must individually and collectively impress on their state and federal representatives that they are a part of the nation entitled to at least fair consideration."

"This statement is not made to predict calamity, but it is made to prevent calamity."

WEST POINT IS BARRED TO JAMES W. M'CLURE

Washington, March 10.—Unless specifically directed by President Wilson, the war department will not receive the case of James W. McClure, of Paris, Ky., who was excluded from appointment as a cadet at the West Point Military Academy, thereby leading his father to prefer charges against Major General Thomas H. Barry, former superintendent of the academy. Fred W. Slayden, commandant of cadets, of making false official statements in the matter.

Senator Paynter, who had interested himself in the case, has been informed that the war department has the academic board reported that McClure had resigned his cadetship to escape trial, which fact had been regarded sufficient to warrant the disapproval of his application for a new appointment.

LABOR LEADERS WILL MAKE THORO' CANVASS

Concerted Effort to Bring Out Full Strength of Vote for Labor Candidates.

Believing that concerted action on the part of labor is essential to the success of its candidates in the Labor Legislative league, at its meeting last night, appointed a committee to canvass the ranks of organized labor and urge support for its candidates in the coming elections.

The league at its recent meeting selected W. S. Wier, a member of the Typographical union, as its candidate for county commissioner, and S. A. Albright, of the Musicians, for a place in the general assembly.

Members of the league expect to finance the campaigns of the candidates with the dues and initiation fees of the league. The executive committee will act as a canvassing committee to devise the method of raising funds and supporting the campaign.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN BRAZILIAN STATE

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, March 10.—Martial law was proclaimed today throughout the state of Ceara. Federal troops have been placed on guard at the principal commercial and private houses in Fortaleza, the state capital, owing to the outbreak of a strike in that city several days ago.

The commander of the troops at Fortaleza telegraphed to the minister of war today that there was a standstill and the strikers were parading the streets threatening the populace and breaking into private dwellings.

The local authorities of the state of Ceara are powerless to enforce order and the federal commander reports that a force of rebels is encamped at about 15 miles from Fortaleza.

OLD ICE CO. PLANT BURNS TO GROUND

For a Time Entire Block at Bell and Decatur Streets Was Threatened.

The old Atlanta Ice and Coal plant, situated on Decatur street, near the corner of Bell street, was burned practically to the ground last night in a fire that was first discovered about 10:40 o'clock and raged stubbornly until 12 o'clock.

Three firemen from No. 10 station house risked their lives in order to put out the flames which threatened to envelop the entire neighborhood for a while by running their hose to the side of the building from the sidewalk while overhead telephone wires were melting from the heat of the flames and falling across highly-charged electrical power lines to the wet ground. The insulation of the power lines burned through in several places and at any moment it looked as though they would melt and fall to the pavement.

Sparks from the burning plant set fire to two other houses on the opposite side of the street, causing great fear among the women inhabitants of the places who ran into streets and ran frantically. These fires were put out by special detailed firemen and one woman shouted loud her thanks to the Lord for saving her house.

A throng of 5,000 spectators were attracted to the scene by the flames.

SPRING GOWNS LIMP AND LOVELY

Diaphanous Fabrics and Lithesome Carriage Make American Women Appear Clinging and Dependent.

Whether the new pose of the figure, so universally adopted by the woman of fashion—easy, drooping, swaying, is reasonable or the vestiges of the present modes, or whether recent styles have permitted, then demanded this lithesome carriage, it is difficult to say. But it has served to provide the motif of spring and summer styles, which are designed first of all to emphasize the natural lines of the figure. The high-waisted front effects, prevalent in both suits and costumes. In suit jackets this is attained by means of a cleverly arranged arrangement of belts and the cut of the bottom of the jacket, which is made to slope gradually from the front to the back, and then across. The strictly tailored models are very short, reaching barely to the curve of the hip line. Long sleeves, of course, set in with attachments to the front and back. The skirts of these models are simple and scant at the bottom, though with a decided fullness at the top, achieved by means of loosely set tucks starting at the waist line, or else by a draping of the fabric. The under-skirt—much used—is the Eton style, is good with a slightly elongated back. Position backs are also seen, although the preference is for the front. The length reaches just to the waist line or a few inches below. Kinimo skirts in seven-eighths lengths are well liked on suits designed for wear on semi-dress occasions. The one requisite of fabric for the spring suit of gown is suppleness. Worned crepes that lend themselves well to draping are particularly favored. They are in high favor and draped effects in a variety of colorings, as well as plaids in soft, dull colorings, will be much worn. Crepe points are especially suitable for the dress suit and capable effects in light shades. The new styles of Coats—Have Decided Flare.

The most noticeable characteristic of the new coats is the decided flare which the designers are following. The lines of the new gowns with their fullness about the hips. They are cut in a variety of lengths, however, as to length and few extremely short. They set in sleeves and the loose mantle sleeves in elaborate fashion.

Yoke effects, sometimes in the front or back, often both, are fashionable. Utility coats are being favored in the front only, as a rule, and standing collars distinguish several chic models.

Large buttons, of the original trimming notes, though on the dressier models drop ornaments are used to good effect, such as tassels, passementerie or cord drops.

To suggest the emphasis of a bygone time with all the fluff and demure of the past, at the same time retain the clinging modes so highly favored, was the task set themselves by the designers. How well they have succeeded is demonstrated by their charming creations for spring and summer.

Adopting only the softest fabrics they have been able to swirl flounces—three users of them—drapes, tunic and ruffles about the hips and still preserve the slim and graceful silhouette.

On the silk frocks especially, one sees rows of scant flounces at the lower edge of a tunic, or springing from a draped hip girdle.

The tunic in various forms is prominent, on foundations that continue down at the bottom. When drapery is used it is brought to the back in such a way as to suggest the old bustle backs.

Peg-top styles remain in good taste for the simpler frocks, while modified square necks are in favor.

The bodies of these new costumes show up very radical innovations. Kinimo or pagliolo sleeves—draped, swayed, vest and surplice effects are shown in novel variations, always with the low neck, and usually three-quarter sleeves. The buleto is also adopted as well as the simple peasant draped waist.

Medici Collar Featured.

The Medici collar is pretty and becoming when carefully made, is a feature of many of the more elaborate costumes. The draped necks predominate, and quite a few of the models are with sheer vests of net or lace are used. The preference is for collars of chiffon or batiste very delicately hand-embroidered.

The combination of contrasting materials is especially noted in many of the informal frocks. A serge model, for example, may have a panther strap effect on the waist of taffeta. Georgette crepe, a leading fabric of the season, is most attractive combined with silk nets and taffetas.

In the wash frocks this thought is strikingly developed by the use of plaids and the checked fabrics which have appeared in great variety in the cotton goods. Especially chic was a model designed for street wear having a tunic of checked crepe over an under-skirt of white ratine.

Silks of various weaves, so long as they are supple, hold first place in the season list of fabrics. Less attractive, though, are crepe, indeed satin-faced silk of all descriptions, are in high favor because of their particular adaptability to the draped and clinging modes of today. Chiffon taffeta has been employed in the making of so many of the most attractive spring costumes that great popularity is predicted for it. Printed silk and batiste of many suggested by Chinese and Japanese embroideries, are expected likewise to score a success.

Crepe de chine continues on the crest of popularity, both in the plain fabric and ornamented with Jacquard figures, Canton crepes and a new variety, Tusnah, which lends itself readily to the production of a rippling surface are extensively used.

Essentially a Crepe Season.

It is pre-eminently a season of crepe in wash goods also, with voiles and ratines the latter in many new weaves, exceptionally strong.

The vogue for plaids and printed effects extends to the wash fabrics as well and some delightful novelties have been brought out that permit clever usage in combination with plain materials.

Colors for spring show a decided reaction against the vivid hues of the past season. Pastel shades are much in evidence. Faint blue, plum, fuchsia, pale green and the new fango shades—a peculiar brownish color—are well liked. Dull Russian green must be included as well as leaf green, a striking model of satin in this leaf green so well reflects present style tendencies as to warrant description.

FOR THE WELL-PLANNED HOME DINING TABLE

Iced tea sets are a novelty that promise great popularity during the summer months. The cups are very high, much like elongated chocolate cups with coaster-like saucers, shallow and small.

Four o'clock tea sets are shown in many striking patterns. Often the design of the china is carried out accurately in the same colors on embroidered tea or luncheon cloths. One such set in the Copenhagen ware was shown with the cloth embroidered in the same conventionalized fern design in matching colors.

Crystal sandwich plates of beautifully engraved glass, with cut centers and sterling mounted rims are attractive for summer use. Sugar holders and biscuit holders will be found also in the engraved and cut crystal.

The fashionable china for state occasions is the ivory or white banded with smooth or engraved gold designs and initialed. With this is used the rock crystal glassware or the beautiful Austrian glass, which is gold decorated with delicate pink roses and leaves interwoven in the pattern, and a wide gold rim at the top of the glasses.

Desert sets consisting of plates and compute for fruit or nuts are being introduced with a view to their use in the drawing room, following the charming English custom.

length, others the short three-quarter. In effect the new waists are rather plain, depending for trimming upon ingenious combinations of materials.

Tunic waists showing the cutaway and pleated extension below the waist are in good style when worn with the plainer types of skirts. This outside finish of the silk waists, achieved by girdles and sashes often supplemented with corsetties, or peplums, has been well received by the woman of fashion.

Worn with a carefully selected separate skirt these blouses may carry out the effect of a whole costume. The vogue for combinations of materials and colors makes possible many clever blouse and skirt costumes of real distinction.

The separate skirt this season has been developed in an unlimited variety of styles and fabrics. Tunic effects, peg-tops, and ruffled models lead in popularity. Fancy materials, particularly plaids and checks, are much used. Crepe effects, serges and gabardines are also most successfully employed.

Some very good looking black taffeta skirts are being shown, made up in the double tulle and three tier styles. A favorite finish for the tunics of these models is the edge in the form of pointed, round or square scallops.

present, especially in watch pendants and brooches.

The new bracelets are broader than formerly, perhaps a half an inch at the widest point, from which they taper gradually toward the ends. The flexible styles have the preference, and many novel designs in these are shown.

Most unusual is a bracelet of diamonds in which a more effect is obtained by the use of a waving line of saaphron. And, as usual, diamonds will reign supreme.

Fashion's Fads in Jewelry and Vanities

Oriental tendencies, so conspicuous in the apparel modes of the past season and showing no signs of diminishing favor, are responsible for many attractive novelties in jewelry.

Necklaces especially show this influence, and though some of them may be bought as low as $10, they look as though they might once have been worn by some dark-skinned eastern princess. Antique designs have been copied faithfully, and some beautiful effects obtained with imitation stones.

Combinations of jade and white coral, mounted on dull silver, or jade and moonstones; imitation aqua marines with an antique setting; rose finished gold La Vallieres with ornaments of engraved crystal and pearls, and any number of other artistic necklaces may be found that range in price from $5 to $50.

Among the newest offerings in fancy colored bead necklaces, of which there is a bewildering array, are those having a silk tassel ornament that hangs from a cluster of the beads in the front. The necklaces are formed of various combinations of beads—jade with gilt, galalith with jet, crystal with amber—with the tassel matching one or the other of the colorings.

Enamel lockets, in delicate shades, with chains to match, will add a dainty touch of color to the white lingerie dress or blouse.

Onyx Lockets and Pearls.

In particular keeping with the quaint fachu effects so much worn this season are the old-fashioned onyx lockets set with tiny pearls and suspended from heavy onyx chains. Indeed, the woman who is the fortunate possessor of a few pieces of old jewelry would do well to have them remodeled and reset, as the vogue for these lovely old things is apt to be long lived.

Cameos are much in evidence, both in necklaces and brooches. Combined with imitation pearls, many of the pink cameos make most beautiful necklaces and defy detection.

Breastpins and bracelets of carved ivory have also been revived. The plus, large and round and finely carved, cost from $20 to $40.

Waist sets are in demand just now for wear with the various filmy fichu and vest effects so popular. The long bar pin is used at the throat and the two smaller ones to pin together the frills that are used so extensively. Particularly dainty and attractive was a white enamel set, noted in one of the shops, that was set with rows of tiny pearls.

Ribands With Brilliants.

For wear also with the collarless blouses or frocks are black velvet ribands, of various widths, with slides of pearls or brilliants. For evening wear the tulle bands with jeweled slides will be much worn.

Hatpins have taken on most modest proportions. The simple, small, gold pins, round or pear-shaped, take the lead. When set with stones at all they are usually set with a view to carrying out the color scheme of the hat.

Crystal jewelry, usually in the ground rock crystal and variously engraved, is having a decided vogue at

Spring Gowns

The most noticeable characteristic of the new coats is the decided flare which the designers are following. The lines of the new gowns with their fullness about the hips. They are cut in a variety of lengths, however, as to length and few extremely short. They set in sleeves and the loose mantle sleeves in elaborate fashion.

Yoke effects, sometimes in the front or back, often both, are fashionable. Utility coats are being favored in the front only, as a rule, and standing collars distinguish several chic models.

Large buttons, of the original trimming notes, though on the dressier models drop ornaments are used to good effect, such as tassels, passementerie or cord drops.

To suggest the emphasis of a bygone time with all the fluff and demure of the past, at the same time retain the clinging modes so highly favored, was the task set themselves by the designers. How well they have succeeded is demonstrated by their charming creations for spring and summer.

Adopting only the softest fabrics they have been able to swirl flounces—three users of them—drapes, tunic and ruffles about the hips and still preserve the slim and graceful silhouette.

On the silk frocks especially, one sees rows of scant flounces at the lower edge of a tunic, or springing from a draped hip girdle.

The tunic in various forms is prominent, on foundations that continue down at the bottom. When drapery is used it is brought to the back in such a way as to suggest the old bustle backs.

Peg-top styles remain in good taste for the simpler frocks, while modified square necks are in favor.

The bodies of these new costumes show up very radical innovations. Kinimo or pagliolo sleeves—draped, swayed, vest and surplice effects are shown in novel variations, always with the low neck, and usually three-quarter sleeves. The buleto is also adopted as well as the simple peasant draped waist.

Medici Collar Featured.

The Medici collar is pretty and becoming when carefully made, is a feature of many of the more elaborate costumes. The draped necks predominate, and quite a few of the models are with sheer vests of net or lace are used. The preference is for collars of chiffon or batiste very delicately hand-embroidered.

The combination of contrasting materials is especially noted in many of the informal frocks. A serge model, for example, may have a panther strap effect on the waist of taffeta. Georgette crepe, a leading fabric of the season, is most attractive combined with silk nets and taffetas.

In the wash frocks this thought is strikingly developed by the use of plaids and the checked fabrics which have appeared in great variety in the cotton goods. Especially chic was a model designed for street wear having a tunic of checked crepe over an under-skirt of white ratine.

Silks of various weaves, so long as they are supple, hold first place in the season list of fabrics. Less attractive, though, are crepe, indeed satin-faced silk of all descriptions, are in high favor because of their particular

When the new pose of the figure, so universally adopted by the woman of fashion—easy, drooping, swaying, is reasonable or the vestiges of the present modes, or whether recent styles have permitted, then demanded this lithesome carriage, it is difficult to say. But it has served to provide the motif of spring and summer styles, which are designed first of all to emphasize the natural lines of the figure. The high-waisted front effects, prevalent in both suits and costumes. In suit jackets this is attained by means of a cleverly arranged arrangement of belts and the cut of the bottom of the jacket, which is made to slope gradually from the front to the back, and then across. The strictly tailored models are very short, reaching barely to the curve of the hip line. Long sleeves, of course, set in with attachments to the front and back. The skirts of these models are simple and scant at the bottom, though with a decided fullness at the top, achieved by means of loosely set tucks starting at the waist line, or else by a draping of the fabric. The under-skirt—much used—is the Eton style, is good with a slightly elongated back. Position backs are also seen, although the preference is for the front. The length reaches just to the waist line or a few inches below. Kinimo skirts in seven-eighths lengths are well liked on suits designed for wear on semi-dress occasions. The one requisite of fabric for the spring suit of gown is suppleness. Worned crepes that lend themselves well to draping are particularly favored. They are in high favor and draped effects in a variety of colorings, as well as plaids in soft, dull colorings, will be much worn. Crepe points are especially suitable for the dress suit and capable effects in light shades. The new styles of Coats—Have Decided Flare.

The most noticeable characteristic of the new coats is the decided flare which the designers are following. The lines of the new gowns with their fullness about the hips. They are cut in a variety of lengths, however, as to length and few extremely short. They set in sleeves and the loose mantle sleeves in elaborate fashion.

For Miss Garrison.

Miss Marion and Tommie Perdue entertained at a large tea yesterday afternoon at their home in Inman Park in compliment to their guest, Miss Paula Garrison, of Texas. Quantities of jossinis decorated the apartments and a basket of jossinis was in the center of the tea table in the dining room. The candle shades and other details of the pretty table were yellow. Mrs. John Beckin and George Yundt poured tea, and assisting in entertaining were Misses Margaret Beckin, Ruth Corvaz, Catherine Vivv, Mainer Lee Hardin and Luis Johnson.

Miss Garrison wore a gown of white satin charmeuse with lace draperies. Miss Marion Perdue wore pink crepe de chine and Miss Tommie Perdue wore white charmeuse. Mrs. John A. Perdue, who assisted her daughters, wore lavender crepe. Dancing was enjoyed and the guests included both young ladies and young men.

CHIEFS OF HUNGARY ARMY ARE BEING PROSECUTED

Rank and File of Kelley's Host Isolated Across Sacramento River.

Sacramento, Cal., March 10.—With the "army" of unemployed en route to Washington, D. C., isolated across the Sacramento river in Yolo county, while Sacramento and Yolo counties settle their dispute as to the former's right to occupy the bridge, the ranks of leaders was begun late today with the arraignment of nineteen men arrested yesterday as vagrants.

The "army" occupies a peculiar position occupying Yolo county officials. With flood water shutting off a march to the south, west or north, they have put one direction to take and that is eastward across the bridge into Sacramento. The "army" late today voted to march peacefully through the city on its way eastward if the city would permit, but the Sacramento authorities refused the proposal.

Yolo county officials insist that the Sacramento guards be removed from the bridge and the "army" be allowed to cross. This request also was refused. The Yolo officials then threatened to start legal proceedings to enjoin Sacramento from guarding the bridge and there the situation rests. Similar protests will be called for a night vigil. William A. Horn, former chief of police, was put in charge of the "army" who will establish a patrol system.

At the preliminary hearing "General" James A. Kelly, who is charged with a charge of vagrancy before a township justice and detained in jail trial; Edward E. Feedack, John Randolph and John McLennan, his lieutenants, made similar pleas. Their cases will be called before jury Thursday. John Lynch, Michael Murphy and Charles Edgar, other lieutenants, also pleaded guilty.

Harris Weinstein, a member of the United States national relations committee, interviewed Kelly in jail today and obtained his views on labor law. He said that the "army" of Washington would be futile and Kelly would have to be allowed to go.

The discovery that "Major" W. A. Thorne, a member of the "army" who was in the police dragnet yesterday caused a change in the plan of the "army" which has disappeared. The man arrested for him proved to be a private.

Other news items that are provided by the citizens' committee of Sacramento from day to day is in sight for the unemployed.

Mrs. Porter Langston entertained at a small luncheon yesterday at her home for Mrs. Russell Porter, who is the guest of Mrs. Russell Porter.

Miss Mary Howry, of Washington, D. C., arrives in Atlanta Wednesday morning to visit her cousin, Mrs. John K. Otley, for a few days. She comes from Jacksonville, where she has been visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, of Athens, were in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Rhoda R. Pearce has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Leapsley, in Eufaula, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hightower have returned from Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phinizy, of Athens, spent yesterday in the city.

Mrs. Forrest Adair, Jr., entertained the members of her bridge club yesterday at her home.

Mrs. Lauris Davis Anderson will leave this week for New York, where she will join a party of friends for a trip abroad.

Miss Elizabeth Morgan has returned from a visit to Miss Dorothy Herbert in New Orleans.

Mrs. E. H. Hyde, of Valdosta, is the guest of Mrs. George Forrester.

Mrs. Andrew Lloyd has returned from Atlanta where she attended the funeral of her brother, who died last Thursday.

Mrs. M. H. Strickland, of Newnan, spent yesterday in the city.

Miss Marion Hodgson, who has been the guest of Miss Laura Cowles for some time, will return today to her home in Athens.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stallings, of Newnan, are in the city.

Mrs. Samuel T. Weyman is the guest of Mrs. Dozier Pott, in Columbus.

TEN CHARRED CORPSES RECOVERED FROM RUINS

Twenty Bodies Still in Debris at St. Louis—Fire Not Yet Explained.

St. Louis, Mo., March 10.—Ten bodies had been recovered late today from the ruins of the seven-story building occupied by the Missouri Athletic club, which was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. Of those three were recovered after the firemen entered the ruins today. The other seven were recovered yesterday.

Twenty bodies are thought to be in the ruins, making the total death thirty. Of the ten bodies recovered, eight have been identified.

The identified dead: MARSHALL BIER, 38, bachelor, head of Marshall Bier & Co., fur dealers, St. Louis.

LUCIUS RUFF, 34, department head Simmons Hardware company, bachelor, son of Dr. L. Ruff, of Cape Girardeau, Mo.; lived with mother in Dallas, Texas (identification doubtful).

WILLIAM J. KINSER, treasurer Kinser Construction company, engaged in construction of the new St. Louis terminal, 56, single, member contracting firm of Ware & Reilly, St. Louis.

JOHN N. RICKY, 40, Chicago, treasurer Ford Manufacturing company, leaves wife and child in Chicago.

WILLIAM F. ERD, lawyer and real estate dealer, East St. Louis, Ill. EDWARD W. BEACH, 37, cashier Ludlow Saylor Wire company, killed in jumping from sixth floor.

WILLIAMS, bank promoter, Sauter, Ga.

MAY NEVER RECOVER SOME BODIES.

Days probably will elapse before the ruins, which fill the basement up to the third floor, are explored completely, and it is feared many of the bodies never will be recovered.

The vaults of the Edgerton's bank, which occupied part of the building, were opened today and found intact. Nearly $100,000 in bonds and currency was removed under heavy police guard to the vaults of the St. Louis Union Trust company, where the money will be kept until a place can be provided for the temporary storage of the vault's contents. No satisfactory explanation of the fire has been found. Excavation during the day was attributed by the chief of the fire department to a gas that escaped when the meters melted under the intense heat.

Harry Davidson, night watchman for the club, was on duty on the third floor of the building, where the fire was supposed to have started, only fifteen minutes before the blaze was discovered. He found nothing there, he said, that indicated fire danger.

MILLIONAIRE SPEEDER SENT TO THE ROCK FILE

Portland, Ore., March 10.—Five days of hard labor on the city rock pile was the sentence for speeding pronounced by W. C. Barker, millionaire clubman in the municipal court here today.

Barker was to be fined with a fine. Barker pleaded guilty to running his automobile 50 miles an hour within the city limits.

DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE ESCAPES CENSURE VOTE

London, March 10.—The house of commons tonight, by a vote of 301 to 240, refused to pass what virtually was a vote of censure of David Lloyd-George, chief of the coalition government. The resolution was proposed by Sir John S. Rendles, unionist, who moved that the house of commons do hereby reprove the repeated insincerity of the chancellor and his gross and unfounded attacks on the opposition.

As brought out in debate, the individuals chiefly concerned in the resolution are listed as follows: Lloyd-George, with whom Lloyd-George got into controversy in land campaign speeches.

NEW ORLEANS CHOSEN BY COTTON CRUSHERS

Memphis, Tenn., March 10.—Announcement was made here today by N. E. DISTRIBUTION OF SEED KEPT BY CONGRESSMEN

Washington, March 10.—Congressional distribution of seed for the farmers of the country was successfully attacked in the house today during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. An amendment by Representative Sumner, of Texas, to place seed distribution in the hands of the department of agriculture was voted down 96 to 86 after a lively debate in which members from agricultural districts resented characterizations of seed distribution as "graft."

KENTUCKY SHUNNED BY FIRE COMPANIES

Springfield, Mass., March 10.—The Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Co. has refused to issue policies to 107 agents in Kentucky to suspend the transaction of business for the company immediately. The refusal is based on indemnities where there is no increase in hazard. This action follows the signing of the agreement by Governor McCreary, which authorizes the fixing of rates by a state board, the effect of which would make it impossible to do business further in the state, the company claims.

The Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance company has been established in Kentucky since 1855.

PEARL EYTINGE DEAD; HER COSTUME STARTLED

New York, March 10.—Pearl Eyttinge, whose daring costume and her "The cleanness case" brought her into fame in the late 80's, died March 10 in Atlantic City. Her death became known here today when her body was brought to New York for burial.

She played in the "The Cheaters" of this country and England for years. After her conversion by Dwight L. Moody she acted as a temperance lecturer throughout the United States. She had lived in retirement for years.

COBB SCHOOL BOARD NAMED BY GRAND JURY

Marietta, Ga., March 10.—(Special.)—The grand jury, now in session, elected today three members of the county board of education, W. T. Chastain and A. N. Mayes succeeding themselves, and Joseph M. Bishop, who is elected as successor of J. W. Allgood. Mr. Bishop was for several years a member of the board, and was retired four years ago. All the new members are good men, and have had experience in this important position.

U. S. TO FIX OWNERSHIP OF BRIDGES IN ROME

Rome, Ga., March 10.—(Special.)—The United States government may become a factor in determining the ownership of the bridges across the river in Rome. It is a question as to whether the bridges are the property of the city of Rome or the county of Rome, and to what extent the responsibility of upkeep and repair, and rebuilding. Major E. I. Brown, of the United States engineers, has issued an order requiring the bridges across the Oostanilla to be so arranged that the draws can be operated and steamboats allowed to pass up the river. Similar instructions have been given the Central Georgia Railway in regard to its bridges across the Oostanilla.

June 30 was set as the date before which the drawbridges should be put into operation. If the orders of the engineers are not complied with, the question will doubtless be taken into the federal courts to fix the responsibility for failure to comply with the instructions, and thus the ownership will be fixed by high authority.

CIGAR TIP LICKING MUST BE STOPPED

Harrisburg, Pa., March 10.—Notice was given today by Commissioner Jackson of the department of labor and industry, that cigar makers must stop placing tips of cigars in their mouths during practice. The practice of licking or wetting the end of the cigar seems to be a more or less universal practice, and which is not only unsafe to the operatives, but certainly undesirable for the smoker, said Dr. Jackson.

The Easy Way to Banish Those Ugly, Hairly Growths

(Toilet Talks)

Every well regulated toilet table should have a tin of Black-Draught delatone to be used for banishing hairy growths. To remove objectionable hair from the face, mix a little delatone and water and spread on hairy surface for about 2 minutes. The hair will fall out and a simple treatment is harmless and seldom requires a second application to remove the growth. Any drug-gist can supply the delatone in an original package.—(adv.)

OLD CONFEDERATE VET'S INTERESTING NARRATIVE

Sixty-Seven Years of Age, Still Hale and Hearty and Can Swing 14-inch Plow All Day Long

Frost, Texas.—"I am an old Confederate Veteran, 67 years of age," says Mr. Wesley French, of this place, "and have been living and farming in Navarro County since 1847. Have raised quite a large family.

I am hale and hearty, and can swing a 14-inch plow all day long. Haven't had fever or chills in 44 years, in fact, I don't allow myself or family to get sick. We always take a few doses of Theodore's Black-Draught before we get sick.

When I get up in the morning and have a bitter taste in my mouth, or a dull headache, I take a dose of Black-Draught after eating a little breakfast, another dose at noon and another at night, and it has never failed to cleanse my stomach and liver. It never gripes, but makes me want to eat, instead of making me sick.

We have used Theodore's Black-Draught for 40 years, (since 1873), and feel that we couldn't get along without it."

For over 70 years, long before the war, Theodore's Black-Draught has been regulating irregularities of the liver, stomach and bowels, such as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, sour stomach, etc.

Purely vegetable. Good for young or old. Twenty-five cents a package. One cent a dose. Try it for yourself. Begin today.

New Ways TO DRESS THE HAIR

NEW WAYS TO DRESS THE HAIR

Fashion Decrees That Higher-Coiffure Be Worn by Her Devotees in the Evening.

Although originality remains the secret of the successful coiffure, new tendencies are noticeable that promise radical and delightful changes. By degrees the hair is being brought higher and higher, ears are once more permitted to peep forth, after long banishment, and the contour of the head is preserved by the close, soft arrangement of the hair that predominates. The newest coiffure being worn in Paris has the hair evenly waved in a large loose wave and then drawn smoothly, heavily, over the crown, out the least tendency to a pompadour. The hair is drawn straight back from the forehead, and the crown of the head is held, where it is coiled, quite high, in an invisible chignon, leaving the nape of the neck exposed. Soft little ringlets fringe the temples and there is a flat curl in front of the ears. In old daguerrotypes, are permitted to fall in front of the ears. A carved comb, thrust at a daring angle, adds an effective touch.

Curls in High Favor. Curls are coming into high favor, some of the coiffures having the back hair entirely converted into soft, loose ringlets that are simply aimed in a knot at the crown of the head. This style is especially becoming to young girls in a simple fillet is worn about the head.

Those who have found the casque and hairdresser suited to them may wear their hair thus arranged with the assurance that it continues to be modish. Tortoise shell pins for time wear—the jeweled ones that come in such variety for the evening coiffure—may also be used to place the strands that swathe the head.

With the low style of hair dressing, no means by force, is particularly becoming, the "burnside" arrangement of the hair brought well over onto the cheek continues popular. One may buy by the pair specially made and designed to burnside to burnside, try out this effect. Indeed, the variety of forms in which hair is made up nowadays makes possible the conversion of the most unmanageable head into a charming coiffure. There are separate curls of all lengths, from the saucy "beau catcher," pinned to fall over the forehead, to the long colonial hair that is drawn up into a high knot, there are thick braids with both ends finished by curls, and there are coils and fringes galore.

Novel Part of Hair. Somewhat novel is the coiffure which makes the natural parting of the hair slant from the left eye to the right side of the crown. The hair is brought low over the brow and the hair is drawn up to the crown into a "psychic knot." The head-dresses that have been so popular during the winter season are assuming daintier characteristics. Tulle, flowers and agrettes will be seen in many novel forms for wear with evening gowns. Tortoise combs, pins and bars are always in good taste for daytime wear.

RUGS MAY BE DYED TO MATCH ANY COLOR

A very light rug is never as satisfactory as a rug with a subdued background. The plain Wilton and chenille rugs can be obtained in every wanted shade and may also be dyed to order to match any color scheme. These come in seamless widths up to 16 feet. Some have two-toned bands, and three-shade bands, bordered with conventional designs or small figured borders.

The Axminster rug is noted for its weaving qualities and makes an excellent rug for good, steady use. The patterns shown this season are a great improvement on those previously shown. One does not tire of a small patterned rug as quickly as of a large design. There is a growing demand for rug rugs, which are woven in many new shades and designs. Rug rugs are especially appropriate for bedrooms.

WASHABLE, FADELESS RUGS FOR SUMMER

An interesting feature of the rugs for summer use are those that are washable and fadeless. Nearly all these rugs are made reversible, some are plain on both sides, while others have one side patterned and the other plain. There is such a large assortment of designs and colors at moderate prices for furnishing the summer home that the variety is almost limitless. A popular wool and fiber rug is especially designed for the dining room and living room. These come in two-toned bungalow effects and all-over designs, which will harmonize with the most select surroundings. The Japanese cotton rugs come in a better coloring than hitherto.

Have Your New Gown Fitted Over

R&G CORSETS

The slimmest of youth is in the long, sweeping, slender lines of these famous corsets.

Hints For the Home Dressmaker

Suits for the girls from 10 to 16 years show all the newest style features of the present season, which have had to be modified very little to suit the youthful figure.

Fancy cuts prevail in the jackets. Some of these little coats are cut quite long in the back, giving the effect of a cape. The collar of the head is preserved by the close, soft arrangement of the hair that predominates. The newest coiffure being worn in Paris has the hair evenly waved in a large loose wave and then drawn smoothly, heavily, over the crown, out the least tendency to a pompadour.

The skirts mirror all the favored modes in women's skirts. There are cunning peg-top affairs, tulle arrangements and ten suggestions of the miniature styles.

Gabardine has been used extensively in making up these models, with serge holding its own—nothing is more practical for daily wear—and plaid materials utilized in many jaunty styles. High colors are preferred, especially red and rose and the new tango shade has freely been used, in both suits and dresses.

The wash dresses are delightful this season in their soft simplicity. The dressier models are of sheer white organdy, delicately embroidered, while voile, sponge, ratine and plaid gingham form the every-day little frocks. One of these adorable organdies, white, scattered over with tiny sprigs of flowers—was held in at the shoulders and high waist line by a Victorian fichu of white mull that gave it the quaint old-time look. The ends of the fichu were caught up on to the waist with bunches of small pink satin roses. From one of these bunches hung a little bag of the same material as the frock, in which to carry the tiny tot's handkerchief.

Floated skirts are seen on many of the wash frocks, as well as odd little peplum effects and the peg-top cut. The waist line is kept normal for the most part, only occasionally being lengthened to the hips.

Illustrating a smart use of the vast effect, which shares honors with variations of the bolero in favored waist designs, was a plaid dress in soft, dull shades of blue. The long, square vest, reaching midway to the low belt, was of white linen, finely tucked, with a row of white linen buttons down each side. Collars and cuffs were of white linen, very simply embroidered.

Dresses in shoulder strap style with lingerie blouses will be much worn a little later on, particularly in the plaids and checked materials. Dotted chalis, accordion pleated and hanging from shallow yokes, are attractive and practical little dresses to have for the cool days that will come now and then. A serge dress of this order also, was buttoned straight up and down the front with large satin buttons and bound button holes. A high waist line was indicated, but not held in by a heavy smocking done in silk to match the fabric. Detachable muslin ruffles at the neck and elbow added a touch of grown-up modishness.

Another frock that is sure to delight the small wearer herself because of the two big pockets that are slipped into the front width of the skirt at the hip level, is of dark blue linen. It has kimono sleeves and is hung from the shoulders by pleats set into a shallow yoke. The neck is finished with a broad Byron collar and a bride of heavy cord hangs from under the collar in front, outlining also the two pockets of the quaint little dress.

The Easter bride of 1914 shatters hallowed traditions. She wears pink tinted satin instead of ivory. Her wedding gown has no train. Her bridal veil does not veil her. Her bridesmaids' gowns are not alike, but all different.

ANTIQUÉ RUGS OF RICH COLORS

Antique rugs are admired for their mellow colorings glowing with life and luster.

The vegetable dyes used in coloring these rugs are not only rich in color, but also preserve the wool, giving it a silky appearance the more the rug is used. The secret of dyeing the different rugs is handed down from father to son. Different families make a study of producing a certain color in different shades. The family skillful in producing a good blue dye may not be able to produce a good red or green dye.

Larger sized rugs are asked for continually owing to the fashion of covering most of the floor. The moderate priced rugs are some cheaper on account of the tariff, but the more expensive ones remain about the same. Antique Chinese rugs in blue and gold are truly works of art, but modern reproductions made in Turkey are really a good investment and show wonderful designs.

Spring Unfolds Her Fairest Fashions

New, new, NEW! Women's and Misses' outer apparel and millinery in a galaxy of charming styles. What are they? Come and see; no poor words of ours can convey their wondrous beauty.

Only by seeing the new fashions, by trying on a new coat, suit or hat can you perceive how suitable to you are the present styles.

A five-minute actual acquaintance with the new styles will tell you more about them than any page word-picture ever penned. Welcome.

Paquin Shows Her Paris Models

AT New York's most fashionable hotel—the Ritz-Carlton—Paquin, the great Paris dressmaker, has made the most notable exhibit of Paris fashions ever shown in America. Paquin used her own mannequins from Paris to stage the performance, all of them garbed in Paquin costumes. Many of these costumes, by reason of their beauty and smart lines, will set the fashions for spring.

Mrs. L. Davenport, Now in Charge of Our Dressmaking Salon, Attended these Paquin performances. Having taken copious notes and purchased materials similar to these Paquin costumes, Mrs. Davenport is now ready to reproduce or adapt them for Atlanta women.

In addition, Mrs. Davenport saw the models of Poiret, Drecol, Cheruit, Callot, etc., from which she gathered ideas to help her in designing Spring wraps, suits and gowns. Exclusive materials specially purchased insure each customer an individual selection, not to be duplicated. (Dressmaking Salon, Main Floor, Left Annex.)

Before You Try on Your New Spring Suit or Gown, Have

Miss Jackson Fit You With a Bon Ton Corset

BELTS are two inches larger, making it more imperative than ever that Milady be corseted before she chooses the rest of her wardrobe. For the new skirts have taken for granted that the waistline has disappeared—and to alter that would be to spoil their "architecture" entirely.

Women will be corseted from the waistline to the knees—or as far as is necessary to conceal the corset line and give the "uncorseted" appearance.

The Bon Ton Corsets

not only give this natural figure effect, but they also give bodily support and poise, permitting plenty of freedom for deep breathing.

Miss Jackson Is Here to Explain and demonstrate these truths by actual fittings.

Bon Ton Corsets are $3 to $25.

Catalog: Our corset catalog, illustrating and describing America's best corsets, will be ready in a few days. Send for a copy.

Pantalettes Take the Place of Petticoats

Tight skirts have brought about this new fashion. The pantalettes are like long bloomers, each leg finished with an accordion pleated flounce. They permit more freedom than petticoats, and when one steps on or off a car nothing shows but the flounce. Developed of high-grade crepe de chimes and jerseys in black and colors, $5 to $10.

Klosfit Petticoats:

Fit Without a Wrinkle

In cottons at $1 and $1.50. Messaline or Jersey silk, $5. Black, white and colors. (Second Floor.)

Taffetas & Moires

—Dame Fashion is not unreasonable and capricious. She doesn't pounce upon a fabric and say, "This shall be the style." There must be a reason. The reason for the

is because it is supple enough to drape easily, yet with body enough to stay "put." Our assortment of chiffon taffetas embraces solid colors, changeables and black. All 36 inches wide at $1.50. Also yard-wide black taffetas up to $2.50 and flowered and striped taffetas at $1.50 and $2.50.

Moires Are in High Favor

because they make the smartest of suits and wraps. The rich watered surface is a trimming in itself; the fabric proper has body enough to tailor easily. Deep, rich black; 36 inches wide. $1.50 and $1.75. (Silk Salon—Main Floor, Left.)

Spring Cottons Have Blossomed

Novelty Dress Fabrics Have Unfolded In An Enchanting Garden of Beauty

MANY of the beautiful fabrics, which left Europe later than the others, have fluttered into the garden of Wash Cottons like apple-blossom petals. They make still more bewitching a gathering that has already attracted the attention of Atlanta women generally by its rich variety, and by daring originality and exclusiveness of the designs it includes. Fabrics can be classified in four groups:

The Charming Crepes

—Make a brave show. 40-inch white crepes at $1 are embroidered in colors; solid colors have raised plaids or stripes; others have plaids or stripes of variegated colors. At $1.50 to $3 are flower designs of bewitching delicacy, exquisite embroidered effects and exclusive Paris patterns. All the other end at 25c up are solid color crepes, floret and striped patterns.

Linens Are Favored

—for suits and dresses. All weaves and textures—plaid, ruffle and crepe. France, Ireland and Germany contribute their best. 25c to $2.50; the latter for a linen ratine.

Silk & Cotton Fabrics

are entrancing. There are solid colors in crepe de chimes at $1.50; eponges at $1; floret crepes at $1. A self striped crepe is delightful for draperies; an embroidered crepe is stunning for exclusive gowns. Brocaded designs in solid colors are fetching, floral effects from Switzerland fairly captivate. It's a showing that is good to see.

Ratines Run the Gamut

—of plain colors with nubs and stripes; black and white checks and stripes; rich Scotch plaids and all sorts of novelty weaves 39c to $2.50.

Carter's Spring Needle Underwear

Carter's Spring Needle Underwear represents the highest type of domestic knit underwear made. Union suits are low neck and sleeveless, with choice of shell or tight knee. $1 and $1.50. (Main Floor, Right.)

Washanew Gloves

the white kid gloves that wash like a linen. $1.50 and $3.50.

Atlanta New York Paris

This Is the Season of the Dainty Hat

It was clearly shown yesterday, the first of the three days given over to the presenting of the new fashions. Nor do we speak as of our own authority.

Hats from Paris, Hats from Estelle Merion, 20 E. 46th St., New York, bear us witness—indeed, these are the hats we invite you to see; the very styles that stand out so boldly and beautifully that they are the styles that women want, and, therefore, the fashion. Shall we tell of them—of what ELEMENTS they are composed?

No. This is the time when descriptions give place to the real.

Yours to see today and Thursday.

Suits for girls from 10 to 16 years show all the newest style features of the present season, which have had to be modified very little to suit the youthful figure.

Fancy collars prevail in the jackets, with the Eton effects particularly favored. Some of these little coats are quite long in the back giving the smart cutaway lines so well liked.

Fancy collars of silk or of the same material are seen on many of the suits. Not a few pompadour crepe linings are used.

The skirts mirror all the favored modes in women's skirts. There are cunning peg-top affairs, tunic arrangements and even suggestion of the minaret styles.

Gabardine has been used extensively in making up these models, with serge holding its own—nothing is more practical for daily wear—and plaid materials utilized in many jaunty styles. High colors are preferred, especially for the little tots of 8 and 7. Red and rose and the new tango shade have been freely used, in both suits and dresses.

Subcommittee Named By Eugene D. Thomas For County Primary

The subcommittee which will handle the details of the county primary, which has been set for May 8, has been named by Eugene D. Thomas, chairman of the Fulton county democratic executive committee.

The members of this committee are Albert D. Thomson, chairman; J. O. Cochran, secretary; Albert Howell, Jr., George M. Hope and Frank West. This committee has already met and on Tuesday fixed the entry fees for the various candidates who will make the forthcoming county race as follows.

For candidates for sheriff, tax collector, tax receiver and clerk of the superior court, $150 each.
For candidates for coroner, county commissioner and county treasurer, $50 each.

It was announced by the secretary of the committee on Tuesday that this year's entry fees are smaller than they have been for some years past.

"The subcommittee reduced expenses as far as it could," said Secretary Cochran, "without hampering the convenience of the voters."

The Story of Women's Spring Suits Is a Changing One Newcomers Each Day

The Suits are fascinating! Femininity is the keynote. We have turned from Russia and the Orient and become inspired by the old costumes dear to our mothers; the quaint be-ruffled garments, lovely in color, which possess much sentiment and such charming femininity.

Just ruffles and puffs and flares—or trimmed with yards of ruching or footing—and made to look as frilly as possible.

The Suits have every color of the rainbow, and some the rainbow hasn't. A green like sea water in a deep pool, a yellow like ripe corn, a color neither violet nor blue, but some of both. In plain cloths they might look garish, but the wool crepes, the gabardines, the waffle cloths and other new materials have too soft a surface for that.

Within the past few days we have unpacked scores of such suits—some actual copies of Paris models; many more inspired by Paris. Very rich indeed are this season's suits; carried out in luxurious silks—faillies, moires, poplins and brocades; besides a host of finest wool fabrics.

But we particularly want you to see these—

Little Women's Suits at $18.50

13 to 17-Year Sizes.

Elegant little suits of wool novelty materials in tango, wistaria, Copenhagen and Hague blue and mode; jaunty little short-front coats with embroidered crepe collar; tunic skirt; suits that young women may put on right now and wear late into the summer, and of value seldom to be had at this price—$18.50.

Wonderful Suits for Women at $25.00

There are so many women who want to pay just this amount for a suit that we make it a point to provide the very best to be had at that price.

And there are styles almost without number to select from. There are novelty coats with ruffled or flared-tunic skirts; dressy—and thoroughly practical.

And for those who wish strict simplicity, there are elegant, plain tailored models, smart and very stylish. The materials, too, are beautiful; silk poplins and moire silks in all the new colors; peau de soie in black only; wool crepes and poplins in all the fashionable hues. Many of the suits have novelty collars.

These and many others will be displayed here today. We want you to see them.

15c Percales at 10c yard; these are in particularly good patterns—light colored stripes on white ground, for making boys' waists or men's shirts.

Here Are Wonderful Wash Dresses for Girls, at 50c.

We consider them the very best we have ever had at this price—which is indeed extremely small, when you have examined their good materials, the making and their good styles. Made of gingham or percales in many styles, all fresh, pretty colors; 2 to 14-year sizes.

A Sale of Little Tots' Wash Dresses at 19c.

Cunning little short-waisted Dresses with high neck, long sleeves; made of percale in light and dark colors; 1 to 4-year sizes.

Boys' Wash Suits at 50c.

Sturdy boys that play need many Wash Suits. Here are good ones at little cost. They are made of good wash materials; 2 to 5-year sizes—priced at 50c each.

More of Those Good Brasieres Have Come to Sell at 25c.

We can hardly supply the demand for these garments—they are such good value at 25c. Women buy them, a dozen at a time. Some are prettily trimmed with embroidery, others are made of net; open-front and back styles. All sizes.

Bungalow Aprons at 39c.

Extra good they are, too, at 39c, which is a special price; they sell here regularly at 49c. Made of percale in figured or striped effects.

Women's Wash Petticoats at 39c.

Good, serviceable, colored Petticoats, made of percale or chambray, in blues, grays or mixed colors.

DIAPHANOUS BEST DESCRIBES THE LATEST LINGERIE

Lingerie of New Spring
More Cobwebs of Laces

Undermuslins aren't undermuslins any more; they are mere cobwebs of lace held together by bits of ribbon. Chiffon, that most perishable of all fabrics, forms many of the more elaborate garments, while net is extensively used for every article of lingerie, and in the less expensive grades as well. Combinations and princess slips are often entirely of net or point d'esprit and trimmed with lace about the neck and bottom. Crepe de chine, so well adapted to the present clinging modes, has been utilized in many styles. The novel dancing trousseau have been developed in the greatest variety of materials. These garments are fashioned like scant Turkish trousers drawn into a ribbon or elastic at the waist and ankles. Frills of lace fall about the ankles caught here and there with a tiny ribbon or chiffon flower. The shorter trouser is also a direct result of the season's immense vogue for dancing. From round elastic, ribbon-covered and trimmed, fall ruffles that may be of chiffon, crepe de chine, shadow lace, or nainsook with deep inserts of lace. These provide the charming froly about the feet so necessary with the close, transparent skirts in vogue, yet add no bulk to the upper figure. Many new styles have appeared recently, designed especially for the co-suetous figure. A tiny exception to the rule of lace-decked garments is a combination of batiste consisting of the new tango closed drawers and a sort of scant chemise that slips on over the head and has a wide belt that runs through slides and is placed high to support the bust. Featherstitching in delicate colors forms the only trimming of this unique garment. These are made up also in crepe de chine, China silk and the sheerest nainsook, trimmed very simply with narrow insertion. Novelty Without Corsets. The suspender drawers are another novelty that will be appreciated by the woman who has discarded corsets. They are made with a high waistline to which, on either side, are attached straps that are carried over the shoulder, closely simulating suspenders, even to the little buckle by which they may be adjusted to the proper length. Even the most practical of garments nowadays have decided claims to beauty. Night gowns of cotton crepe or soft flannel have daintily embroidered collar and cuffs, and the many warm gowns designed for sleeping out of doors may be found in pretty colors and attractive styles. The negligee is fast becoming as much a part of a woman's wardrobe as her evening gown or tailor-made. It may be an elaborate affair of chiffon through slides and is placed high to support the bust. Featherstitching in delicate colors forms the only trimming of this unique garment. These are made up also in crepe de chine, China silk and the sheerest nainsook, trimmed very simply with narrow insertion. Correct Modes in Corsets. It is impossible to deny that the new pose of the figure, so generally adopted, is graceful and charming, but it must be supple and elastic, not limp or dejected, and to assume its natural, the correct corset is imperative. The newest models feature the extremely low bust and free hips. Although a few have small gussets set in below the waist line in front, permitting the figure to take the slightly outward curve, now considered perfectly natural, the majority show a tendency to return to the flat, straight line. Many of these models can scarcely be called corsets at all in the sense of enclosing the upper figure—rather are they more aptly called hip sheaths. They are laced to give flat back lines and the straight hip lines, supporting the waist only so far as is essential to give perfect pose to the upper figure. This conforming of the natural upper lines of the form to the highest effect gives an easy, graceful carriage to full figures and to medium and slender figures, that freedom and suppleness that make for the youthful uncorseted effect so much in vogue in the present modes. Materials used are the softest that it is possible to employ and still retain the shape and resist the strain. The extremely low bust of the new corsets has brought out in greater variety than ever before brassieres of many fabrics. Cotton, tricot, of fine quality, in white or in flesh color.

forms one of the newest models, which is quite boneless and so cut it gives contour to the bust and at the same time attains the natural figure effect so much desired. The panel front brassiere has been especially designed to take care of the blouse effect of the transparent waist. It has a soft, loose front panel of fine lace and embroidery that falls over the regulation brassiere which fits snugly and holds the bust in restriction. His Safe Plan. (From Judge.) My second cousin, Wesley Pridd, used to boast that he was the boss of his own household," related J. Fuller Gloom, the pessimistic person; "but he invariably left the house and penetrated far, far into the umbrageous dingles before he did so." Buy seats for "ZIEGFELD FOLLIES"—greatest show on earth. This Store May Be Likened to a Big Fashion Book—Wherein Are Pictured the Authentic and Authoritative Styles for Spring

And this we would have you take as an invitation to come and turn the pages with us, to see in reality and not through the pen of a writer the genuine beauty of the fashions as they have been interpreted by those high in authority in matters of style. You who have read your fashion books, who are finding many interesting things in this paper about the new things, may turn now, this morning, to the real, where form and color and becomingness lend their appeal.

It is a wonderful picture book, this store right now. We have made every preparation that you may enjoy it. Suppose we turn some of its pages, merely to give you a glimpse of what it contains.

The Suit Page
It is a picture of many colors, of gay colors, of new forms. You will see this one has the shortest little Eton coat, that one a most wonderfully ruffled skirt. Here is a new blue, there a striking green, again a soft wistaria. And always you will recognize that the suits embody the marks of distinction that the printed fashion books have told of. And the charm of it all is that here you may choose the one you would have as your own!

The Wrap Page
Light affairs of taffeta as often lined with Dresden silks as unlined, shirred and ruffled, many of them little Etons. You see at once what a delight they will be for wear with the cotton crepe dresses—these in black and green and shades of blue. The heavier coats are oftenest of ratine, or wool faille. They are fashioned rather full and "easy"—they are colorful, as becomes the season.

The Corset Page
A very important one this year, more important than in many years. It requires the utmost skill to fit corsets to make the figure look uncorseted. Right now Mrs. Marvin is with us demonstrating the splendid La Vida models, models that really effect the new uncorseted look.

The Lace and Embroidery Page
In a season of frillings and rufflings, laces loom large. Shadow laces, net laces of exquisitely fine texture and daintily traced patterns, new two-tone laces of silk, the pattern usually in relief in a lighter shade; these are the kinds you will see in variety—as is the fashion. The embroidered crepe dress patterns will take much of your sight-seeing time—never such beautiful and intricate designs! With these are the flouncings and the allover to match that presage prettiest spring frocks.

The Dress Page
In many instances it is like a page from a book of years ago. Dress fashions are quaint and therefore new. The ruffles and frills of other years grace the favored fashions of this good season. You will like them! One thing you will note at once is the splendid variety—not simply numbers, any store could gather as many dresses—but where could one find so many dresses that emphasize so many style points? We speak of the pussy willow taffetas, the two-toned taffetas, the glaze taffetas, the crepes de chine for street, for afternoon and evening wear.

The Waist Page
Perhaps the word blouse would be more becoming this season—waists are more blouse-y than heretofore. The new silhouette requires them so. Fabrics help the cause. Soft crepes, crepes over net, and frills and frills, in collars, in cuffs, in overhanging yokes. We hear it on all sides that it is to be a big waist season. It is already, in this waist store!
Were they so minded, it could hardly be expected that women should resist such styles.

The Silk Page
Here is color! Artists have dipped their brushes in the rainbow and have designed patterns of rarest beauty. Weavers have woven them into crepes that crinkle under the finger, taffetas that are anything but the crackling taffetas we knew in other years, the pussy willow, plain and flowered, the glaze and the two-toned.

The Children's Page
A delight to both mothers and children. A relief to mothers that here they will find it so easy to complete the young folks' wardrobe—and to the children—a new suit, a new dress, a new hat, a new coat, that has been selected because it was prettier.

The Dress Cottons Page
Again it is crepes and a world of them, plain crepes, ratine crepes, voile crepes, brocaded crepes, walrus crepes—we call them cottons—often they are as much silk as cotton. Many are flowered in the dainty Dresden designs. It is calculated that this page will be most helpful to those now starting their spring sewing.

HATS FOR STREET EASIER ON MALES

Women Strike Note of Moderation in Contrast to Protruding Feathers of the Past Season.

The long and eccentric feathers of the winter's vogue have been modified into a shallow point in front, the width being considerably greater from side to side than from back to front. The mushroom styles are good, and lend themselves well to the vogue for silk-covered crowns. One demure model, the crown covered with accordion-pleated mesh in gendarme blue, toward the face, that gave the effect of the droop of the mushroom brim. Upturned brims that widen and flare toward the back are numerous, with either ribbon or feather trimming. A charming, airy grace was imparted to a clever shape of this description by the poisoning of two pairs of small, navy-colored wings, one at the edge of the brim at its greatest height, the other toward the front of the brim on the low side. While the eccentric—often ridiculous—placing of feather ornaments that prevailed during the winter has been brought within reasonable bounds perhaps just in time to avoid legislation against them, one noticed still certain roguish tendencies among designers. Here is a simple enough flat shape, with the brim slightly rolled to the side, the entire top covered with a soft, figured crepe in quiet colors, and perched perilously on the very edge of the crown a feather stick-up, small to be sure, but wired to an unexpected angle. And there is a perfectly round sailor shape, the crown covered with blue changeable silk with four small, rounded double wings of green and black placed about it at right angles and equi-distant. For the most part, however, the spring offerings are simple in line and trimming. Colors tend to the darker shades, although a fuchsia shade and a brilliant electric blue may be numbered among the favorites. Purple, gendarme blue, fawn and much, as well as the lustrous, taupe shades, are prominent in both braids and trimmings. Except in the extremely tailored models, the softer braids predominate. Milan, supple and adaptable, is much applied to the superbly-lined, new braid called Aigo—in reality the revival of a braid that was popular several years ago—for many of the smartest hats. A few Panamas appear, also indications of midsummer's trappings. Knitted caps, with a sole trimming of many of these. Quills are seen on several of the stiff-brimmed models, which, in the hands of the Gaura continue to hold their own in spite of a long season of popularity. Much fancy, however, is being put on becoming, trim many of the dressier models. Silk crepe, in both Dresden and Oriental designs, covering the crown and entire upper brim promises to be a marked characteristic of spring modes. Printed ratine, in the lighter weights, is also used in this way. A novel touch on a small hat of black Aigo braid was a scarlet poppy, in headed passerette, so cleverly applied to the upturned brim at the side front as to look as if it were beaded directly onto the braid. Two single-ply ostrich feathers were placed at the back of this Frenchy model. A beautiful shade of rose satin was used to form the crown of a black hem, straight brim hat of good black A. narrow piping of the satin was carried around the upper brim, about an inch back from the edge, and the middle, caught half way to the tip with a narrow band of the same, was placed directly in the front.

High Colors Effective. This piping with a bright colored silk is employed to good advantage on any of the superbly-lined models. Orange combined with taupe, green with black, fuchsia with midnight blue are most effective. Moire ribbon, which seems eminently more suited to spring than winter millinery, continues in high favor. One of the exclusive shops features a bonnet shaped creation, the crown completely swathed with moire ribbon in the exquisite fuchsia shade, and having a bow of moderate dimensions upstanding at the back. Flowers are little used as yet. Occasionally one sees a little bunch of French blouses tucked close on the upper brim to carry out a color note; but aside from that, feathers and ribbons hold full sway. Vellings will not share a lot in popularity for spring. Many of the novelties that appeared late in the season will be carried over, but developed in the lighter and more open meshes. Shadow lace effects, too becoming to be soon forgotten, show new designs more filmy and fascinating than ever before. Beauty spot designs show the butterfly, the dragon, the sunburst, the large velvet dot and any number of odd floral designs. Plain mesh, veils, particularly the hexagon meshes, are well liked, and in the bordered French veils will be found many novel designs. The vogue of the long sleeve is assured for spring and summer wear. From the viewpoint of attractiveness every woman will welcome the news because the hand and arm are never so attractively dressed as when soft wrinkles above the wrist make the hand appear smaller and more shapely. For the woman of limited purse, however, it is not an unneeded blessing. Lengths will run from eight button to sixteen, with not a few twenty button lengths for formal wear. Champagne shades will vie with blacks and whites for favor. Heavy black stitching on the whites and champagnes are very smart. Silk gloves, particularly with contrasting stitching, will be much worn while chamois and doeskin, for shopping and outing wear are both stylish and practical.

How to Clean Gloves. A hint from a glove manufacturer about the washing of leather gloves, such as chamois and doeskin, will be appreciated by the woman who has had her gloves stiffen up after a few washes. It is very simple: add a teaspoonful of sweet or olive oil to the first water and to the soapy rinsing water. It is absorbed by the leather, and tends to keep the gloves soft and pliant, adding greatly to their wearing qualities.

FILMY FURBELOWS FOR MILADY'S NECK

Transparency and a certain charming picturesqueness is demanded of the newest feminine neckwear. The universal acceptance of the low, soft, surplice bodice which has received added impetus with the approach of warmer days, makes a delightful necessity of many and varied neck accessories. Pictus of finest silk tulle, ruffled, trimmed, gimped, with and without gloves, usually trimmed with net pleating; Medici collars of shadow lace; collar and cut sets of hand-embroidered batiste edged with tiny pleated ruffles of wash tulle; vests of pleated chiffon, and collars in the Byron style of taffeta or satin, with attached vests of lace—these are but a few of the charming concoctions for the neck to be found in the shops.

Fashions in Decorations Are as Distinctive as Fashions in Dress

WHAT ordinary painting contractor can be entrusted with the decoration of your artistic home? Friddell artists not only know the styles decreed by leaders of thought in the world's art centers, but know human nature as developed in refined and cultured families.

We know how to produce an atmosphere of rest and quiet attuned to your character and taste.

The distinctive style of the CANTERBURY room is one of the latest schemes—presented in good "homey" colors. Rich in greens and browns and set off with mahogany trims. Narrow paneled walls in harmony with door draperies, window scrims and chair coverings make this room livable and lovable.

The Vernon sleeping room—a distinctive style, a Friddell production—is a room of restful, pleasing tone. It has a beauty of fresh white woodwork, soft oyster-gray paper and a harmonizing border. The hanging designed to soften the light according to the degree of exposure. This is a design of exquisite and lasting charm.

Leave the decorative work of your home to us, and its atmosphere will be that of perfect hospitality, restful dignity and artistic charm.

Smart Footwear for Spring

However dashing her spring costume may be, her footwear is destined to assume the genuine charm of Puritan days gone by. For "Colonials" is the edict of the shoe-makers.

Patent leather will form the majority of these—indeed, it will dominate all the spring boots and slippers—and they will have for the most part turned soles and Cuban Louis heels. Buckles are either oval or square. In leather like the slipper or in metal. A new style dancing pump in the colonial effect is of mat kid, with gummetal buckle and a low covered wood heel. What is called the leather "spool heel" has been seen on many of the colonials that have the welted sole.

For afternoon wear they show many new combinations of leathers, such as gray with white kid, finished with a kid covered buckle. Strap slippers are being revived, a natural consequence of the vogue of the ribbon-laced sandal. A smart pair of patent leather slippers noticed recently had quarters and straps of gray checked matelasse and were trimmed with small cut steel buttons. The tango pumps with their pretty ankle lacing, continue in favor for evening and house wear.

Wear High Button Boot.

The high, buttoned boot will be much worn this spring. Patent leather vamps, with tops of cloth, kid or suede, and French or Spanish heels predominate. Spat effects in colors to match the costume will be affected by the chief follower of fashion. An exclusive boot-shop is showing a boot with an extra high cut gray matelasse top, patent leather vamp, and two-inch Louis heel, that should have many admirers.

Tan leathers, except in the darker shades, are not in such high favor as in the past seasons. Bronze, however, has been utilized to a considerable extent in both high and low shoes.

With the first breath of summer it is predicted that white shoes will claim feminine allegiance as widely as ever before. Canvas and buckskin are preferred for commoner wear, with kid, for both high and low shoes, in the dressy styles.

Novelties in Hosiery.

Colors are coming into their own again in the newest hosiery. The preference is for shades to match the costume.

In white, black, blue or gray may be found fine English silk stockings with plain tops and Derby ribs below the knee. The spider pattern, hand-embroided in any color on a pure thread silk stocking may be bought for $2.99.

The latest Parisian novelty shows two colors combined, the lighter forming a sort of panel effect down the front, that is sometimes in the shape of two V's whose points meet just above the instep.

Another attractive style has the foot of black, shading up into a flesh tint. A white silk cord laces up the side and ties in a tiny bow with tasseled ends.

The embroidered anklet forms the sole decoration of the silk hosiery in practically every shade.

Open work and drop-stitch cloths are seen on many of the late designs. White silk stockings, having the cloths outlined with black chain stitch are popular.

THREE HELD AS YEGGS BY POLICE OF MACON

Officers Think They Have Solved Mystery of Many Safe Blowings.

Macon, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—With the arrest of Flem Jordan and Louie Jenkins, two young white men, together with Jim Lee Walter, another young man now in the hospital suffering from gunshot wounds inflicted recently by the night watchman of the Massee & Felton lumber plant, the police believe they have solved the mystery of the blowing of the safe at E. H. Middlebrooks' store a couple of weeks ago, and have also rounded up a gang of professional yeggmen who have been operating extensively throughout this section of the state during the last few months.

Jordan has been in jail several days, being arrested on information furnished by an acquaintance of his to whom Jordan is alleged to have told of his part in the robbery. Jenkins was arrested today, but told the police that they could never convict him, unless they got a third party, who was still at large.

From Jordan the police say they have secured complete details of several robberies, including the names of all those who participated, and they expect to have other members of the gang in custody before long.

It was learned today that Jenkins is an escaped convict from the Troupe county gang.

ALLEGED YEGGS NABBED Two Held in Milledgeville. Other Arrests to Follow.

Milledgeville, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—By order of Detective C. P. Moore, the sheriff and city police today arrested and placed in jail John Braxley, a local white man, and John Purdy, a negro employed by him. They are charged with being members of the gang of yeggmen who blew open the safe of C. H. Bonner here a month ago, getting away with a large sum of money.

They are implicated by an alleged confession of Jack Lynch, alias Mack Lunsford, who was arrested in Atlanta Saturday charged with being leader of the robbers. He is confined in Macon jail.

Braxley has been allowed bond in the sum of $1,500, which has not been given at this hour. It is rumored that other arrests will be made here, as Lynch said five of the gang live here.

BROTHER'S CONFESSION DOESN'T FREE V. H. DAVIS

Brunswick, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—Sheriff W. H. Berrie returned to the city yesterday from New Orleans, where he went for A. R. Davis, the self-confessed murderer of Mrs. Mary Davis, and who died just an hour before the sheriff reached the hospital in which he was confined.

It was hoped that the sheriff would be able to secure the New Orleans some additional facts which would throw some new light on the murder mystery, but he learned nothing further. He said Davis had made a full confession of the crime, but that he never had stated what the motive was. Davis, the return of the sheriff, therefore, does not throw any new light on the case. Davis is the husband of the murdered woman, is concerned, and he will be held for another trial in the superior court in May.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED WHILE MOTHER IS AWAY

Gainesville, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—Theina Mayfield, the little 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mayfield, was burned to death a few miles out from this city this morning about 10 o'clock. The mother, who said the girl had left the house only a few moments when she heard the screams of the little one. She ran into the house immediately, but the child was burned so badly that death occurred a few hours later.

PEACH CROP AFFECTED, BUT ONLY IN SPOTS

Port Valley, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—The recent cold spells have affected the peach crop of this section only in spots, some orchards seeming considerably hurt, while others are not in the least affected. The reason for this being the difference in the manner of cultivation on some of the farms, to which the nature of the soil is due. However, there will be a most favorable crop for the 1914 season. In many orchards the buds are quite plump and will soon be in full blossom.

TWO CENTRAL TRAINS MEET WITH ACCIDENTS

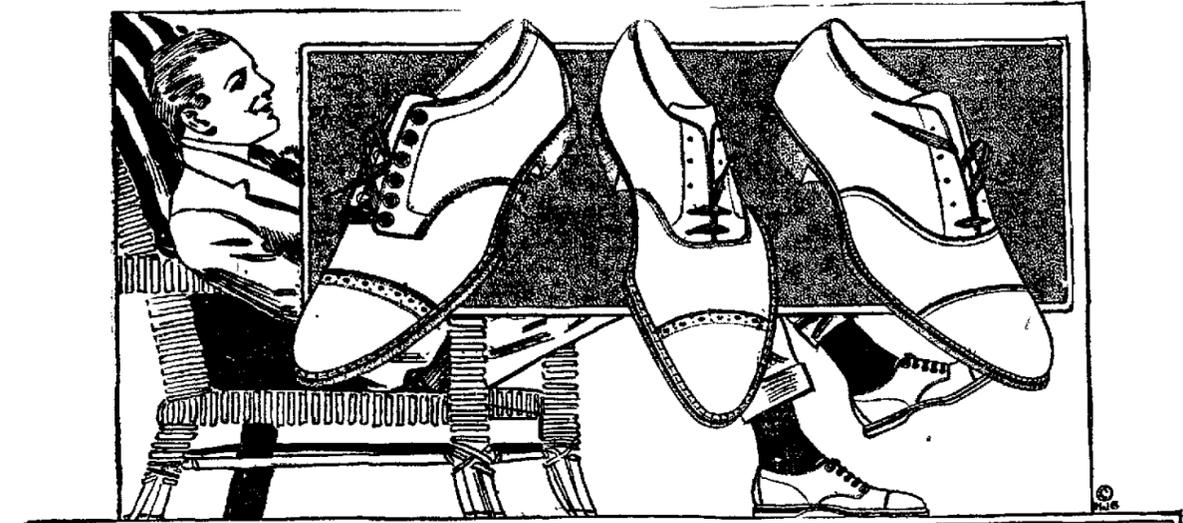

Griffin, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—Two Central of Georgia passenger trains running into this place had their schedules completely deranged yesterday on account of a derailing of the engine of one and the derailing of the other. The passenger train from Chattanooga was delayed several hours, when the engine turned over at Banning, near Cedartown. Train from here to Cedartown was delayed at Experiment, a suburb of this place. Spreading of tracks is given as the cause of both accidents. No injuries to men are reported.

To Observe Peace Day.

Athens, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—"Peace day" will be celebrated by the public schools of Athens, pursuant to a special request made by the Laura Rutherford chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, which met yesterday evening and asked the school authorities to appropriately observe this anniversary of the end of the war.

Wacochee Bridge Burns.

Columbus, Ga., March 10.—(Special).—The bridge over Wacochee creek at Wacochee, Ala., four and one-half miles from Columbus, burned last night. It was 100 feet long.

NEW THINGS IN SHOES

By Charles W. Galloway.

Styles in shoes, is a phrase that will have more significance when used in referring to the spring showing, than is usually implied by the expression. The elements of real style have been entering more and more into the construction of shoes for some seasons and now that there is a tendency on the part of the wearer to take kindly to novelties in shoes, makers have given more attention to the production of novelties. I shoes, makers have given the spring showing.

First of all, it may be said that cloth tops are expected to be a very important factor in the spring demand. Cloth tops were introduced, or rather re-introduced for fall, and the discriminating dresser took to them at once.

Their introduction was in the nature of an experiment, and was limited to a very small number of combinations. The forthcoming season will bring out many more, among them, gray uppers over either black or tan, gray over tan, white over gray or black—these and variations from these fundamental colors. White over patent and gray over patent will, it is thought, be the popular combinations for such semi-dress affairs which usually occur at the country club or for lawn functions. All of these combinations will appear in Oxford shoes for spring.

Fiat Heel Shoe Proper.

The custom of English last is easily the favorite. Flat or seven-eighths heels lead, and a tendency favoring the long vamp is apparent. It is said that we are getting away from the short lumps. The long forequarter styles are expected to lead by a wide margin. This is a move in the right direction of greater comfort.

The business man, it is thought, will call for black or dark tans. In fact, there is a strong disposition to favor the darker shades of tan in both the regular and the Oxford shoes. While there may be some pumps worn on the streets, this is not expected to be an authoritative vogue. The Oxfords of general use will be the regular heights. Button shoes lead strongly, although provisions have been made for the man who favors the lace or the blucher, the latter being favored by many who take to comfort, or who may have trouble in getting shoes that will give the least degree of discomfort to tender feet.

Another feature which is incorporated in the spring styles is the rubber sole and another, the Elkskin sole. These have hitherto been used mainly in shoes for outdoor purposes, and for that matter will continue to be a feature of the construction of outing shoes, but they will become more and more a feature of shoes for general rubber and street wear.

Slipper or Elkskin soles have never been surpassed for walking comfort, and it is this that makes them favorites. They may be had with either tan or black uppers, and either in flat heel or with a separate heel. It is thought that the separate heel will be in the lead owing to the natural desire to require a heel support. They come mostly in the straight last.

It is commended in the stores that there has been a distinct tendency toward the higher priced shoes.

White Shoes Stylish.

White cloth shoes and white buck will, it is thought, also be favorites mainly for semi-outing wear. Buttons will also offer another novel feature, in that they will be of various shades harmonizing with the leather of the lower part of the shoe or with the cloth of the upper. For the man with the highly developed idea of color harmonizing with the color scheme that may be worked out in a man's attire by the use of footwear effects harmonizing with the color scheme, hat or some other, indeed all other articles of apparel offer wonderful possibilities. The same conditions may hold some danger of error for the man who is ill-versed or used to combining colors. Here the advice of the salesman may be deemed necessary. The conventional black or the conservative brown or tan which appear to be the leading colors are always available and harmonize with almost any other color, shade or combination.

SPRING STYLES TYPICALLY ENGLISH

Styles for Forthcoming Spring and Summer Told

Since the events, often cast their shadows before them. Indications of what may be expected in styles always appear a season or two in advance, either in a moderate form, or it may be in an extreme form, though confined in use to a few of the ultra-fashionable.

This, though, is not the birth of a vogue which often sees the first light of day abroad. There is no style dictator in America; neither is there abroad, whose recognition is universal. Nevertheless we look to London for the fashions and it is undeniable that London still exerts an influence in this respect. It may be said that all the principal style features of the last century had their birth in London.

English designing, modified with American ideas and tailoring, is the way one prominent in the tailoring field, and it might be added that the modifications often eliminate such and in other instances leave but a vestige of the original idea. American styles, this constituted are, however, internationally known and talked of because of their grace of line and contour, their style and their elegance.

Modified English Styles.

English styles, modified with American ideas, describes better than any other words for this forthcoming spring and summer. First of all, it may be said that less cloth will go into suits than ever before. The athletic suit, as it will become popularly called, the "box" suit, is without doubt the leading model. The characteristic of this suit is, as its name implies, the absence of any superfluous trimmings. Coats will be tighter and trousers likewise, though this is not intended to convey the impression that the skin-tight trousers of a few years ago will come back, that is, not just now, though there is no means of knowing what this tendency might bring us to. The peg-top and semi-peg, even the conservative width, seems to be due for a change to the narrower legs, and speaking of the tendency toward the smaller clothing, and with reference to trousers in particular, for the younger element these must be tight at the waist and tight around the seat as well, so that while a belt may be worn, it will not be a necessity. Three-piece suits will be worn by all who have due regard to the dictates of fashion; two-piece suits, which saw a decline in demand last summer, will pass this forthcoming season, except in suits of tropical weight English worsted cloth, a fabric which has come into high favor recently for hot weather wear.

The lightweight wool fabrics which will be used will be made up with an almost total absence of trimmings, or it may be said a total lack of superfluous trimmings, so that any one of the garments which compose the suit can be crumpled up into a very small bundle. The lightweight suits are made largely with patch pockets and in sim-

English style stiffening or padding of any sort will be notable because of its entire absence.

Half Lining in Cool Climate.

For those who might regard the unlined coats as being a little too close to nature, especially in localities where the weather is varying, suits made along the same general lines, though with half lining, have been provided.

Gray, blue and green, the latter more on the order of an olive shade and also a myrtle green, will be among the popular spring colors. Brown in the lighter shades will be had, but this, it is thought, will not be a large factor. Both the lightweight suits and those which are made in other fabrics will be made up according to this model.

For early spring, it is thought that the lined models will be favored, and many business men will continue to favor these latter models for the season, except possibly for outing. These latter depart slightly more from the tightness that will be carried out in the construction of models for summer wear and for the younger element. Sharpness will characterize all the models, however, for the forthcoming season.

Much has been said about the probability that English productions have a tremendous influence upon the future of clothing in the matter of style and fabric. With the English vogue now of long standing in this country, during which time it has been adapted to the American wear, little can be expected in the nature of radical departures, at least, for the next season. Coats for spring will be just a trifle shorter, the waistcoats a trifle lower at the neck opening, and the trousers tighter as commented herein.

Poor Cloth Eliminated.

Sharp colors will be popular. Blue and gray, black and white, blue and white, and other combinations and sharp contrasts lead.

The cutaway frock coat is replacing the Prince Albert for professional men, and many business men of more mature years favor this model, while as a semi-dress occasion coat, made of black or oxford, either with or without bound edges, it is exceedingly popular. Fancy striped or small checked trousers are worn with this coat.

An invisible herringbone pattern, made in cutaway frock style, is an innovation that is expected to prove popular. Such suits with bound edges will continue to be favored by many.

Of overcoats for early spring, it may be said that these, too, are made without lining. Coverts will be popular with many, though it is not thought that they will lead.

Fancy patterns in soft worsted, together with black and gray plain colored materials. The Eubank model, popular this winter in heavyweight coats, will be divided between two models in spring overcoats, and these two may be said to be remote from each other in cut. One is a coat which follows closely the lines of the body, waisted and moderately tight. The other, an extremely loose model. In the latter the fancy patterns will lead, while the first mentioned will be largely in the plainer and more conservative fabrics.

The new fashioned wicker furniture is used quite so much in rooms as on porches. Don't hesitate to occasionally buy an odd piece of well designed furniture, for it will give a distinctive touch to the entire room. The old high-boy with its chest of drawers is a valuable acquisition. The low-boy may be used as a writing table in the library, as a serving table in the dining room, or as a dressing table in the bedroom. The Winger fire-side chairs are wonderfully comfortable and are found in excellent reproductions. Color in furniture covering is an important factor in making or marring a pleasant interior.

FURNITURE BUYING MADE EASY THIS YEAR

There never was a time when there were so many good examples of every kind of furniture—really honest furniture—to choose from! If you have learned the lessons of suitability and sincerity, and have a knowledge of artistic harmony, you will be able to select the right pieces for the right places.

A great many Chinese lacquer pieces are seen in connection with the craze for Chinese decorative schemes. The most favored wood used now is antique mahogany for fine pieces, though a great deal of white and tinted enameled furniture is used, and even the less valuable pieces show a combination of cane and wood.

Silk Shirts of Solid Colors Prevail; Haberdashers Offer Spring Novelties

HABERDASHERY FOR SPRING

Spring will be a season of novelties in furnishings. In almost every article of haberdashery there are many novelties to be had. This may not be so apparent early in the spring because of a disposition on the part of the furnisher to avoid novelties in a large measure. Many of them are afraid to introduce novelties because of the precarious nature of demand for that kind of articles. However, as the season advances and the call for novelties of the various kinds becomes more pronounced, it will become more in demand. After all, it is the demand of the man who wishes to dress "just a little different" than the other one which determines largely what will be the style. The manufacturer is constantly creating novelties which the retailer has first opportunity to accept or reject. Their ultimate popularity depends upon whether the consumer takes to them or not, and in doing so the conservative retailer is compelled to buy them. Some, however, never get beyond the manufacturer's or the retailer's shelves. What to wear, then, is an all-important question which we will try to aid in solving. Of the more important articles of haberdashery shirts probably rank first. The importance of this article is more than ever due to its importance of apparel than an article of adornment this forthcoming season, because it seems evident now that little of the shirt will be in evidence. The waistcoat will be more generally worn in the spring than ever. Except with Palm Beach suits or when one is engaged in the more violent sports, the waistcoat will be worn, thus permitting very little of the shirt to be visible. However, there are reasons to believe that no less care will be given to the selection of this article of apparel.

Reign of Silk Continues.

The reign of silks continues despite several conditions which have arisen affecting this line of goods. The demand for silks has given rise to the production of inferior grades which have been used in the manufacture of shirts and which have not given satisfaction. The result has been that silk shirts will not take a place in front rank of demand, though it is evident that the better grades, those that retail at about and above $5 will continue to be called for by many who favor this class of exquisite apparel. In this variety it seems certain that the louder patterns—wide stripes of strong and contrasting colors—will be called for. Crepe silks will also be much in evidence.

In crepe silks solid high colors are more preferable than stripes. Another novelty, though not unheard of before, expected to meet with considerable favor, will be the cross stripes and cross plaits. Starched turned back cuffs are popular with the soft cuffs. Of the cotton materials, woven madras will lead, with woven percales and printed madras following in the order named. The long point collars, of which the supply up to recently has been inadequate, will be the popular summer collar, both in plain white and in madras. The latter will be called for more this forthcoming season than in the past. As predicted, the soft collar will not be a large factor in spring and summer apparel, though it is thought to have a certain legitimate field, that when actually engaged in the more violent sports, at the country club or deer field, though better taste demands discrimination even then.

Speaking of the country club, another article of apparel which is said to be gaining in popularity for use on the golf course or for the tennis court is the combination outing shirt and knee-length drawers. The adoption of this garment by the leading makers, who advertise extensively, will bring to the attention of many to whom it will appeal for outing purposes. A new one will be brought out for spring, the chief advantage being that it is so constructed as to not make it necessary to entirely undress in order to change it. For the man who wished to make a hurried change at his club, in order to be ready for a golf or for return to his business or his home, this necessity to remove all his clothes to don a street suit or to change into the new contrivance will overcome.

Buying Better Neckwear.

It is commented by those who are in a position to know, that men are ever and better neckwear than ever and this characteristic it is believed will continue into the spring. Increasingly, makers and retailers of neckwear are preparing their lines with this in view and the result is a beautiful array of scarfs in all retail emporiums. Scarfs at a dollar and over are being sold in the most attractive and priced varieties, except where staples are concerned. Plain colors, however, are not expected to be strong factors in this in the introduction of many new weaves and colorings. Regimental stripes are prominent in designs, as are also wide stripes in contrasting colors. Blue and gray for background colors with lacquard patterns, particularly in stripes, will be popular. Small floral designs, variety will rule the neckwear field, in which a certain tendency to imitate many other articles of apparel. Contrasts will be the keynote of scarf selection. Fancy crepe and wools, designs and scroll effects as well as numerous bordered ends will appeal for the popular favor though this will be somewhat divided.

In underwear, union suits will be farther in the lead than ever before, prominent in the features of which will be the close-crotch. Little will be favored for the early spring, giving way, as the hot weather approaches, to the strictly athletic union suit of cut nainsook, crepe, and kindred fabrics, which makes typical summer underwear. In jewelry, men are buying these latter with half sleeves, maintaining that half sleeves are a sanitary measure that should be insisted upon. In jewelry, the combinations in scarf pins and cuff links to match or to harmonize with the prevailing rule. Lightweight and light colored malacca cases with crook handles are a popular article. Chamois and washable chamoisette gloves will be worn, and in this connection it might be added that gloves will be worn in the most forthcoming spring. Of course, for warm weather, the lighter gloves are the thing, their function being to keep the hands unsoiled.

White Socks Fashionable.

Socks are an important part of a man's attire. They are constantly engaging the attention of the discerning dresser. There is no doubt but that white socks will reach a high point in the introduction of clocks. These had gotten into disuse and for one thing which some maintain, men are now getting tired of, and a probable return to clocks is the result. The return to white socks is expected to be called for to quite an extent. The return to white socks is expected to be called for to quite an extent. ALASKA RAIL MEASURE READY FOR PRESIDENT

Conference Report Adopted by Both Houses—Wilson Will Sign at Once.

Washington, March 10.—The Alaska railway bill, providing for the construction of a thousand miles of government railroad and the expenditure of $35,000,000 was ready for the president's signature late today when the senate adopted the conference report already adopted by the house.

President Wilson has indicated his intention of signing the bill as soon as he receives the white house and tentative plans for constructing the first government railroad already have been considered by the interior department. Secretary Lane, long an advocate of the project, is prepared to go ahead with it as soon as the president gives the word.

Action After Long Debate.

Final action in congress on the bill came after a long debate in the senate. The report of the conference committee appointed to settle differences between the two houses being adopted, 42 to 27. The measure authorizes the construction of not more than one thousand miles of railroad to connect Alaska's coal fields with the coast, the route to be selected by the president, to whom also are left many other important details. He is to decide whether or not railroad lines already constructed in the territory shall be purchased as a part of the government system, and whether the road is to be operated by the government itself or leased after it is built.

The discussion today was principally on a suggestion by Senator Cummins that the senate conference be instructed to reason the language of the bill as passed by the senate and stricken out by the house, providing that the president be authorized to construct the Alaska line to be bought and used as a part of the system, buy or arrange for the purchase of the line before construction of extensions is begun.

Cummins Voices Objections.

Senator Cummins declared that leaving the discretionary with the president whether the government should begin erecting lines into the interior at the northern terminus of existing private railroads from the Alaskan seaboard, might so enhance the value of existing roads that syndicates could demand a prohibitive price from the government.

Senator Pittman replied that such a thing would be so obviously outrageous that no president would yield to any influence which could bring out such a result. The bill as perfected, he said, directed the president to construct a continuous line from the seaboard to the interior and that, obviously, if first a road is built or the main line should be built by the government or purchased outright or by condemnation from existing corporations before any extensions were erected in the Alaskan interior.

There was also extended debate on Senator Norris' contention that the language of the bill placed on the president the obligation to make an effort to lease the railroad after it is built before the government undertakes to operate it itself. Other senators insisted, however, that the language already made this optional.

WILLIAM J. CUMMINS TAKEN TO SING SING

New York, March 10.—William J. Cummins, one-time head of the defunct Carnegie Trust company, who was convicted three years ago on a charge of larceny of $140,000, was taken to Sing Sing prison from the Tombs today to serve a sentence of at least four years and not more than eight years and eight months. By reason of appeals and other methods for Cummins kept him out of Sing Sing for nearly 900 days after his conviction. He is now appealing to Governor Glynn for a pardon, on the ground that he rendered assistance to the state in the hearings regarding the trust company.

ANOTHER HUNGER STRIKE FOR MRS. PANKHURST

Militant Suffragette Lodged in Jail—Police Eluded Her Followers.

London, March 10.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst once more is a hunger striking prisoner in Holloway jail, but she is confident she will secure her release in a few days under the "cat and mouse" law.

By stopping the Scotch Express, on which Mrs. Pankhurst was brought from Glasgow after her arrest in that city last night, and compelling the militant leader to alight at a small way station outside of London, the police today succeeded in eluding swarms of militant suffragettes who were awaiting her arrival in the city railroad station.

From the suburban station Mrs. Pankhurst was driven in a motor car to Holloway jail. A large crowd of suffragettes was assembled about the jail, but as a strong detachment of police was on hand no attempt was made to rescue the militant leader.

SUMMER BUNGALOWS A FASCINATING SUBJECT

At this season of the year the furnishings for the all-year-round house, or summer bungalow form an extremely fascinating subject. Though there may be constant discussion between the house owner and the apartment dweller of the comparative advantages of the different manners of living, it seems that once again people are yearning for their own homes and a bit of garden to care for and enjoy.

Architects have responded to the call for small houses so that these small places have been perfected with all the new comforts and conveniences. Fortunately the American people are giving more thought to real comfort and less to pretense and show.

Headwear For Men

Hats for spring present some novel features, although it cannot be said that there are any radical changes from a season or two ago. Nevertheless, they are distinctly different, and of such a nature that the man who cares about his apparel cannot disregard them.

Probably the most distinct feature of spring hats is known as the puggere band. This is a taffeta band gathered into tufts, somewhat loosely and extending lengthwise around the hat. This will appear in top hats and upon Bowlers and Panamas.

A draped taffeta band is another novelty that will, it is believed, meet with considerable approval. This band consists of a wide piece of taffeta ribbon draped around the hat something on the order of that style in which milliner might drape a piece of silk around a lady's hat. Of course the draping is not as wide as that in which the milliner might do, but the idea is the same. Men are less fearful of wearing things that are unusual than of the ordinary than they have ever been, and it is expected that the draped or puggere band hats will be well-received. Higher crowns and narrow brims will be one characteristic of all spring hats. Pencil curl brims will prevail.

Derby Only in Black.

Stiff hats for early spring will have dimensions of a soft hat. The hat of straw will have the same general character. As usual, black is the only color for derby hats. Even in stiff hats have regularly faded. There is no call for other than blacks.

It is another fact worthy of comment that soft hats for spring will favor the darker shades. Grays will be the leading color in fact, though even more closely defines the leading color, but this must not be taken to mean that there will be a lack of variety in coloring. It is really a revelation to note the numerous mixtures in gray, each while being generalized as gray, displays distinct differences from grays. Mixtures are expected to be strong in hats, and while there has probably not been a definite move toward these mixtures match any other article of apparel, the fact that mixtures prevail in spring hats is a revelation in itself. It is predicted that possibly there will be a tendency on the part of the wearer to match the suit after a manner. The facility in matching the suit was the one thing that helped to make the cloth hat popular with many, and if a harmonious effect can be obtained between the color scheme of the suit and the felt hat, it would not be surprising if that were quite a fair criterion. It is said that blue hats will be worn quite extensively, with brown also a favorite.

"Raisin" a New Shade.

The new shade of the season will be known as "Raisin." If one can see in his mind's eye the color of the dried raisins, he will have a fair conception of the color. To what extent this will be taken to is problematical, but it is predicted that the color of the spring hat. It is predicted that the Panamas and the Panama will be the most popular hats of the season. These will have about the same shape as the soft felt hats, even to the broken crown, but the crown will point to back, broken, at the center by being pressed apart. This will be incorporated in the Panamas and Bowlers which are noted, will be in high crown and narrow brim shapes.

For outing or traveling there is no hat as serviceable as the knitted silk hat made with a scull crown and turned-up brim. They are light and strong, and they are made in a small space. Last season the demand for these exceeded the supply.

DAINTY MORNING BONNETS IN VOGUE

The instinctive feminine love for becoming clothes and pretty things finds its expression in a hundred different ways, and a good looking woman in a care that her morning dress shall be becomingly set off at all times.

Nothing is so fatal to a woman's power of attraction as to contract the habit of neglecting her appearance, even at times when a certain "negligence" is desirable.

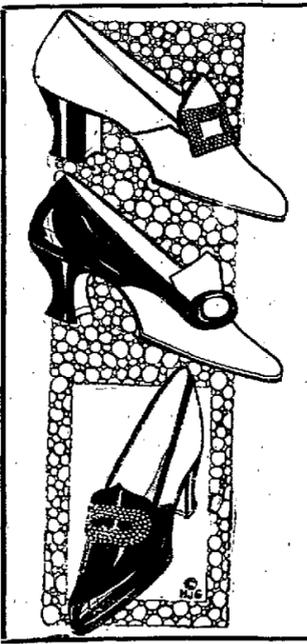

Nor, indeed, is there any reason for this, for never was such ingenuity displayed as at present in the creation of pretty and becoming things for wear in the informal intimacy of the home.

Among these must be mentioned the fascinating little "morning caps" which are fashionable just now and which recall the "morning caps" of the eighteenth century. Worn with "saut-de-lit," a dressing gown, or even while taking the morning chocolate, or while pursuing the morning paper in bed, they form a delightful frame for a pretty face. These little caps may be made in all sorts of ways and many women take a pleasure in designing their own according to individual taste.

Season of Capes Ahead.

We are to have a season of cape fashions, as well as of wraps that are extremely capacious. The capes are both long and short, full enough to godet more or less at the lower edge.

Spring Styles in New York As a Passerby Viewed Them

By Joan Ohi

Spring is with us in New York! You may doubt the truth of this when you see the headlines of "an other blizzard" which we have been having for the last month, but overhead the sky is often blue and straw hats defy the snow, even if the rest of woman's costume must be covered by a fur coat and unbecomingly so.

That is New York's mad passion for rushing the season. I spent last summer in Venice and England, having no opportunity to wear my dainty dresses made in Paris for the coming season. On my return in September I found New York so delightfully hot that I unpacked and donned the coolest things only to find myself conspicuous every woman in town was wearing a heavy dark suit, hideous black velvet, hat pulled over her ears and fur.

Herald of Spring.
Fifth avenue at this season is the herald of spring. The flower buds are a triumph of the far southland, with their myriads of daffodils, hyacinths, tulips and azaleas, and oh, the wonderful colors! The flower gardens for the dainty frocks displayed are poems to this first season and hats might be a fitter's pride.

Yesterday Fifth avenue blossomed forth never have I seen more pretty dresses in one season. There were suits gowns and cunning hats on every side behind plateglass windows while a few women in the streets were spring headgear, but chose the severely tailored models in black or blue tulle and silk with a tiny hat or quill stuck at random as a frenzied poet might put his old quill pen.

Another night I saw a dress of white tulle and lace with a tiny hat or quill stuck at random as a frenzied poet might put his old quill pen.

Violets Are Popular.
Violets are one of fashion's stand-bys and a French toque made of the big single bloom really has little violet wings on either side. There is a round muff entirely of violets too the whole outfit led to wear a new and novel than ordinary accessories to one's costume.

Fairy Frocks in Green.
A fairy frock in palest green had a tulle or tulle-trimmed bodice above the knees in three scalloped ruffles piped in green. The bodice drapery was embroidered in tiny flowers or rose geraniums while a deep belt of geranium pink completed the costume.

Fashion Notes of Interest to Women

Year when actually fitted our simply coiffed heads but fantastic little shepherds effects with great bandoliers which tip them far up on one side or high in the back and over our noses. Few of them are really pretty, for they are sprinkled with a quantity of small flowers having no apparent relation to each other save that they are in season a definite color scheme, or purpose in life. But did a Watteau shepherds ever have either?

Up to the present, but one big hat has been displayed, a leghorn whose crown was covered with gray-blue satin and the brim by a flat wreath of ostrich feathers in the same tone. Along the edge were scattered three tiny bunches of flowers, giving an effect more English than French.

Some people are already wearing little silk hats which live up to the dulcet scene, as they are most often in brilliant red, rose or yellow. These small satins are also made in plaid silk with perhaps a tiny black or gold dot at one side, and I saw in the most summerlike window of all, a white sailor whose crown and upper brim were covered with tiny blue like blue Turkish toweling with tiny white polka dots.

Things you ought to know about the New Fashions

Spring Millinery Exhibit

Women's Hats for Spring Are a New Story

Hardly a trace of the former styles or wearing of hats can be found in the models of the coming season. The styles of long ago and the paintings of the early eighteenth century artist Watteau, have had a great influence on the styles of Milliner his season. Flowers easily take the precedence in trimmings. The art of the milliner in the ability to blend and harmonize colors of brilliant hues first with the hat, then with the ribbons, small fruit, and then with the flowers, prove these hats creations.

The pageant of styles on view this week is the most interesting demonstration of changing fashions this store has ever shown. Third Floor.

"Newness"

That is the keynote of this announcement of "Fashion Styles" for the Spring Season. Wearing apparel for Ladies and Young Ladies never has been shown at High's Store in such gloriously lavish manner. The life blood of the Fashion World is "Newness" and "Change." What a dreary world it would be if everybody, all the time, all the year around, wore the same sort of garments, made of the same material, of the same color and all fashioned in the same way. The very idea is unthinkable!

So the styles change each season, one style or one fabric will not please everybody. There will be, as always, a variety, so fascinating that all may find something in our vast showing which will meet their individual liking and requirements. Fashion is based on a conception of what is fit and proper, and the idea of what is fit and proper gets its origin from the great centers where Fashions are originated in Europe and America. The Fashion stamp of American clothes will now, as always, be on American women. We are ready to show them to you today.

The One That Most Dainty Women Prefer

The finest and purest talc exquisitely scented with the true extract of the fresh cut Victorian Violets. It is refreshing and soothing and so palpably fine that it clings to the skin, thus prolonging its soft comfort and satiny appearance. We sincerely believe you will find the most altogether satisfactory and delightful you have ever used. Those who now use it say it is superior in so many ways to most other talcums that they now can't be satisfied with any other.

Violet Dulce Talcum Powder is designed not only to fill all the ordinary requirements for which talcum powder is used, but also to really benefit the skin—to help relieve it from irritation and excessive tenderness—to promote both the health and beauty of the skin.

Tinted either flesh or white 25 cents

Other Violet Dulce toilet preparations are:
