

17TH WILL LEAVE ATLANTA MONDAY FOR PATROL DUTY

Orders Received for Soldiers to Take Steamer at Savannah for Galveston to Reach Mexican Border.

REGIMENT IS BOOKED FOR FOREIGN SERVICE

Officers and Men Do Not Believe They Will Ever Return to Atlanta—Preparing for Trip to Hawaii.

THE SEVENTEENTH INFANTRY, NOW DETACHED AT FORT McPHERSON, LEAVES MONDAY FOR LAREDO, TEXAS, WHERE IT WILL ACT AS BORDER PATROL ON THE MEXICAN-AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL LINE UNTIL FURTHER ORDERS.

The regiment, 926 strong, will go from Atlanta to Savannah in sixteen cars, starting on a transport at Savannah for Galveston, Texas, and there travel by rail to destination.

According to well founded authority, the Seventeenth regiment is leaving Fort McPHERSON forever. It is the fourth regiment listed on the army orders for foreign duty. Two regiments will shortly be sent to Panama and two will soon be dispatched to Hawaii.

According to Fort McPHERSON, after temporary duty on the Mexican border, will then proceed to Hawaii.

Being out of such information, the regiment officers on Thursday began preparations to pack up all of their household belongings in anticipation of permanent removal from the post. The enlisted men, whose terms also expire within the next year, were instructed to do the same. Laredo all property belonging to them, as it was likely that none of the officers or men would return to Atlanta or Fort McPHERSON again.

Orders Received. Officers' call, sounded at 4 1/2 hours after noon, brought together the officers of the Seventeenth regiment, who were informed that official orders had been received from Adjutant General Simmons of the department of the east, at Governor's island, New York, to the effect that the Seventeenth regiment would "shortly" be moved to Laredo, Texas, and that the regimental headquarters would be at that point.

The officers were told that the stay at Laredo probably preceded foreign service and "that the regiment would probably never come back to Fort McPHERSON."

The Seventeenth regiment will go forward with 926 men in the service. This is exclusive of officers, who will probably number about 25.

Most of the members of the Seventeenth, which came here in 1905, have seen service on the Mexican border and are familiar with the territory and they will probably occupy for the next six months or longer. Among the officers there is slight feeling that the regiment will be called upon to do more than guard the international border line.

Do Not Expect Invasion. "We expect no invasion of Mexico," said one prominent officer of the regiment on Thursday. "In fact, we expect that we will be sent to the east in a month and then be put on foreign service. This sort of thing disrupts domestic conditions frightfully, but we have been expecting such a thing for many months now, that we are not really excited when the real order arrives."

All of Thursday there was an air of expectancy about the barracks and officers' quarters at Fort McPHERSON. The enlisted men early in the day began packing camp kits and overhauling tentage. By noon H. M. G. and C. Companies had all of their permanent camp baggage ready to load.

No official orders were received at the post headquarters until late in the afternoon Thursday. Then a message from the department of the east came to Major Wright, in temporary command of the regiment, which contained the following: "The Seventeenth regiment will proceed 'shortly' to the border under the command of Major Wright, and the general order reads: 'Answering the request of the American territory, the regiment would undoubtedly proceed to Savannah on Monday at the latest and from there to Galveston, en route to Laredo, Texas.'

Just what troops will follow the Mexican department of the east cannot be determined. The Japanese are not yet been established. The regiment, pending the filling of the barracks in northern Mexico, will be under a command of about 20 men. Prisoners now in the confinement cells will be transferred to other posts.

Ready in Savannah. Savannah, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) The regiment from Fort McPHERSON, Ga., that has been ordered to become a part of the military force in Texas, will arrive in Savannah Tuesday morning to go aboard a government transport for Galveston.

The fact that a transport would come to Savannah from Norfolk to receive the regiment, was announced by a general known today. Supplies will be taken on here for the long cruise.

BRYAN TAKING CARE OF JAPS IN MEXICO

Washington, March 12.—Secretary Bryan has promised the Japanese ambassador, Viscount Chinda, to obtain permission for the passage of about 100 Japanese through American territory from El Paso, Texas, to Calexico, on the extreme southwest corner of the Mexican state of California.

The Japanese, reduced to an extremity by lack of food, owing to military operations in northern Mexico, will seek employment as cotton pickers on the west coast. The ambassador's plan to plan no colonization scheme was involved.

Consular reports today gave warning of a threatened general engagement near Terreon, where small preliminary skirmishes already have taken place. On the Gulf coast the threatened battle near Tampico has not materialized. Admiral Roward reports today that all was quiet at Matanzas as well as Guaymas and Tuxtepec.

The Boston commission still remained in status quo at El Paso, apparently without any change in the commission named by General Carranza.

CALL BY DEATH

George Westinghouse

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE.

LAST CALL HEARD BY WESTINGHOUSE

Foremost Figure in Engineering World and Inventor of Air Brake Dead—Began Inventing at Age of 15

New York, March 12.—George Westinghouse, a foremost figure in the engineering world and inventor of the air brake that bears his name, died late today at his residence in this city.

Heart disease manifested itself about fifteen months ago and the end came five hours after it became publicly known that Mr. Westinghouse was seriously ill. He was in his 68th year. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Westinghouse became an inventor at the age of 15, when he produced a rotary engine. Four years later he constructed a device for replacing derailed steam cars. Then, when 21 years old, he sought the financial backing of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt for his now famous air brake, perfected after three years of labor.

"Do you mean to tell me you can stop a railroad train by wind?" demanded the commodore. "I can," answered Westinghouse. "Well, yes, inasmuch as air is wind. I suppose you are right," spoke the youth.

"I have no time to waste on fools," said the commodore, and abruptly terminating the interview, Westinghouse sought and found capital elsewhere, manufactured his invention, and made high speed possible on railroads, revolutionizing traffic systems and inaugurating a notable era of railway development.

His Many Inventions. Mr. Westinghouse did not confine his genius to railroading. For half a century he continued to make other contributions of a practical as well as engineering advancement. His inventions and improvements had to do with railway signaling and power devices for safety and for economical conveying of freight over long distances and using it for industrial and domestic fuel, air springs for motor vehicles of all kinds, and a geared turbine system for the propulsion of ships, developed in collaboration with the late Admiral George W. Melville, U. S. N., and John H. MacLipine.

In return for his many achievements, Westinghouse received many medals and honors from the scientific societies and institutions of Europe and America were bestowed upon Mr. Westinghouse. European sovereigns and kings and emperors, and recently as last December he received from the principal engineering society in Germany, the celebrated "cashier gold medal."

Mr. Westinghouse founded many manufacturing concerns in this country and abroad, including great plants at East Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre, and Bradford, Pa., and others in Hamilton, Canada, Manchester and London, England, Havre, France, and Genoa, Italy, and others in Russia, Vienna, Austria, and Buda, Italy. In these industries some of the most important inventions and many companies have a capitalization aggregating $200,000,000.

Merely Alert to Last. Mr. Westinghouse's mental alertness and activity remained unimpaired to the last. The final years of his life were the most brilliant of his career. In 1907, in October of that year the inventor was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage, however, he had limited his activities. It was stated tonight that he was not expected to live and there will be no change of policy in connection with any of the industries which he had founded.

Mr. Westinghouse and his various ventures suffered severely in the panic of 1907. In October of that year the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company went into bankruptcy, from which it was released a year later, after creditors had accepted a plan of reorganization. Following that time the control of the Westinghouse company and some of its subsidiaries rested with a group of New York financiers.

Mr. Westinghouse's health improved in 1909, when he had paid 10 per cent yearly from 1904 to 1907, but he was again stricken by the latter part of 1907 until 1913, when he was returned on a 2 per cent basis. He was again stricken in 1913, according to some of his business associates. Mr. Westinghouse never recovered from the stroke he received when control of his numerous enterprises was taken out of his hands.

Mr. Westinghouse was unexcelled in his kindly, helpful and unassuming manner. In connection with his kind and helpful nature, he is recalled today that thirty or forty years ago, he introduced to this country the Saturday half holiday.

Of the inventor and his work, Lord Kelvin said not long before his own death: "George Westinghouse is in character and achievement one of the great

Story of Alleged "Frame-Up" by Detective Black Told Defense by Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

A further attempt to show a "frame-up" on the part of Detective John Black, of the city detective force, and at least one other detective in obtaining evidence against Leo M. Frank, condemned to die April 17 for the murder of Mary Phagan, was made by the attorneys for the defense on Thursday when they made public the statement of W. S. Jenkins, a bricklayer, of 14 Fourteenth street, and his wife, to the effect that Black and another detective had tried to intimidate and to bribe Mrs. Lulu Belle Brown, their daughter, into swearing that she is the "girl in the red dress," who was said to have accompanied Mary Phagan to the National pencil factory on the day of the murder.

In the face of the stinging charges of the two Detective Black maintained an absolute silence.

"I have nothing at all to say. The defense has tried to pull this sort of stuff before. Wait till 'wash day,' and you will see if it all come out," was Black's only comment.

New Affidavits Expected. It is expected that from now until the day of the filing of the motion extraordinary for a new trial before Judge Ben Hill, of the criminal division, the city court, the attorneys for the defense will keep up a fusillade of revelations of new affidavits, repudiation of old ones and new evidence upon which they will base their motion.

The expected arrival in Atlanta Friday of Detective William J. Burns, to continue his investigation of the Phagan murder, and the probability of his questioning Jim Conley, the negro floor sweeper, who is under sentence as accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder, injects further interest in the case.

FOR HIS DAUGHTER FATHER KILLS YOUTH

Tidwell Claims That His Girl Was Led Astray by Emmett Walker.

Greenville, S. C., March 12.—R. Emmett Walker, aged 20, of good family and social standing, was shot and almost instantly killed at the Carolina mills this morning by G. W. Tidwell, aged 52, a traveling man of Clinton, S. C.

Tidwell claims that the young man contributed to the delinquency of his 19-year-old daughter, and then refused to marry her. The killing occurred six days after Tidwell learned of the alleged relations between his daughter and Walker.

"God knows I tried to avoid this," said Tidwell tonight, "but there was nothing else to be done."

The trouble started when Walker and another young man are alleged to have taken Tidwell's daughter and her stepmother to a house of ill fame in this city last Friday night.

U. S. EXPRESS COMPANY GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Stockholders Will Name a Committee to Liquidate Company's Affairs.

New York, March 12.—Stockholders of the United States Express company at a meeting tomorrow, it is understood, will name a liquidation committee to wind up the company's affairs.

"They should not be pensioned," she continued, "for the simple reason that such a plan would encourage a good many men to leave their wives. Many husbands haven't the heart to leave their wives because they don't know how the wives will live without them."

Miss Alice Robbins, president of the Neighborhood guild, differed with Miss Strachan.

"Grass widows should be pensioned," declared Miss Grace Strachan, president of the Interborough Association of Women Teachers, speaking today before the commission appointed at Albany last year to report a plan for pensioning widowed mothers with dependent children.

"Why should we think of the widows at all?" asked Miss American. "We should think of the children. There is an emotional wave of charity sweeping across the country and in this wave the children are forgotten while the so-called 'deserving' widow is always spoken of."

The hearings will be continued.

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION SOUGHT FOR KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—The Kentucky house of representatives, by a vote of 40 to 10, today passed a bill providing for the submission to the voters at the general election in 1915 of a constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition.

The prohibition bill for medical purposes, which was introduced by Representative H. H. Hays, of the 10th district, was passed by a vote of 40 to 10.

All but nine counties in the state at present are "dry" and the bill enacted earlier in this session of the legislature, will cause local option elections in most of these counties. The "wet" counties contain the larger cities and the big distilleries.

MILLIONS ARE ASKED FOR THE BRITISH NAVY

London, March 12.—The British navy estimates for 1914-15 amount to $251,750,000, an increase of $12,700,000 over last year. The new construction program includes four light cruisers and twelve destroyers.

SPEAKING OF TWINS, THESE TWO PARSONS ARE TITLE HOLDERS

Lancaster, Pa., March 12.—The birth today of twins, in both cases a boy and a girl, in the home of Rev. Nathan B. Yerger, of Robberstown, and Rev. Albert E. Landis, of Lancaster, has called attention to a series of extraordinary life parallels.

Both ministers are Lutherans, and although born in different parts of the state, have been friends from boyhood. They were college roommates for four years, were graduated in the same class and were stationed in Lutheran churches in the same county. They were married on the same day and the wedding trips were taken together.

Their wives were girlhood friends and entered a normal school together. Like their husbands, both were graduates in the same class and both took up the profession of teaching, which they abandoned at the same time to become bachelors.

MISSING FOR YEARS, CORPSE OF LAWYER FOUND IN MORGUE

Chicago, March 12.—Dramatic sequel to the mysterious disappearance of Horace Greely Clarke, prosperous Chicago lawyer and board of trade agent, from a lake boat twelve years ago took place in a morgue at Cudahy, Wis., today when the body of a cadaver, section laborer was identified as that of Clarke's.

The lawless-disappeared from the boat on June 28, 1902. He was traveling with his young bride. A country-wide search for him was unsuccessful and finally it was decided he had fallen from the steamer and drowned. Clarke's sister, a Mrs. Carson, of Iowa City, made the identification. An accidental overdose of a drug had caused the man's death, physicians said.

Mrs. Carson could learn but little about her brother's strange disappearance. Seemingly he had lost his memory. He had been in various parts of Wisconsin for years and was known at Cudahy as "Harry Harris." For years he had been a drug user.

South Bend, Ind., March 12.—Mrs. Edgar A. Ireland, former wife of Horace Greely Clarke, of Chicago, is living in South Bend. She married Ireland seven years after her husband's disappearance.

At the time Clarke was supposed to have been drowned the bride of six months refused to believe he was dead. Later, however, she accepted the theories of the coroner, who said $5,000 was made payable to Clarke's wife.

Los Angeles, March 12.—Mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance of Horace Greely Clarke in Chicago in 1902 was solved by his brother, Earl D. Clarke, who explained that the man known as Harry Harris had planned the "disappearance" because of incurable cancer of the face.

"Much that has been written about the case was entirely untrue," said Mr. Clarke today. "My brother could not bear to have his friends and relatives see the ravages of disease which reputable physicians frankly told him would end in death."

"After a year he informed relatives of his whereabouts and the reason for his having dropped out of sight. Since then we have been in communication with him. I frequently sent him money. We knew he would die of the disease, but were not expecting his death so soon."

600 VOTES BOUGHT AT HOME OF ALDRICH

Providence, R. I., March 12.—The Rev. Rich H. Woffenden, progressive representative from Warwick, who made the charge on the floor of the house yesterday that 600 voters in his ward were "bought" every year, said today he was not yet ready to take any action toward substantiating his assertion.

"I am waiting to get more affidavits," he said. "Then I expect to place them in the hands of the attorney general. There are 3,200 voters in the town and 600 of them sell their votes to the republican organization in after year."

There was no official comment on the speech of active of the senate, in an informal discussion at the white house, however, President Wilson indicated that the Monroe doctrine was as much a part of the American foreign policy today as a hundred years ago. HORNETS STIRRED BY ALLEGED WORDS OF WALTER H. PAGE

Washington, March 12.—Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, was made the target of inquiry today in a resolution adopted by the senate calling on the secretary of state to investigate alleged public assertions by the ambassador relative to the Monroe doctrine and the Panama canal.

Senator Chamberlain, aroused over reports of a speech by Ambassador Page last night in London before the Associated Chambers of Commerce, introduced the resolution and his request for immediate consideration resulted in its adoption without debate.

What Resolution Requests. The resolution requests the secretary of state to procure a copy, for the use of the senate, of Ambassador Page's address, and to call on the ambassador for evidence on which he based the alleged statement that "it added greatly to the pleasure of the people of the United States in the building of the Panama canal to know that the British would profit most by its use."

Particular request was made in the resolution for a verbatim report of that portion of the ambassador's address in which he is reported to have defined the Monroe doctrine as meaning merely that "the United States would prefer that no European governments would gain more land in the new world."

After the resolution had been adopted, senators heard of dispatches from London saying the ambassador's speech was delivered extemporaneously late in the evening and not reported verbatim, and quoting Mr. Page as explaining that his reference to British use of the Panama canal was in a light vein. It was taken for granted at the capitol, however, that the ambassador's speech was delivered at the capitol in response to the department's request, the ambassador would furnish his recollection of just what he had said with the desired explanation.

No attempt to oppose the resolution was made when Senator Chamberlain offered it, the usual custom being to pass such measures as a matter of course. Later in the day a similar resolution was introduced in the house by Representative Murray of Oklahoma, a democrat, but it did not get before the body for discussion or action.

also in the postoffice department in a clerical capacity. He had become convinced, he said, that there was an opportunity for profit in contracting with enlisted men and others to "sell" legislation in which they were interested. His contracts read, he said, that only "right and proper" means should be employed.

De Knight admitted having used franky obtained at the office of Senator McCumber in sending documents to friends and clients. He had obtained them, he said, from the senator's clerk, with whom he was acquainted.

Questioned to bring out relations he might have with present employees of the government, De Knight declared he made payments to none of his friends in various departments, and that they were not interested with him in any business venture.

It was said tonight the committee probably would issue subpoenas for Admiral Bowles and others mentioned by De Knight before its hearing is concluded.

Bowles Refused to Pay.

For his services in behalf of the Fore River Ship Building company before the senate canal committee, when the Panama canal law was under consideration, De Knight testified that he was paid only $1,000, despite the fact that the tolls exemption was included in the bill.

He demanded the $4,000 contingent fee from President Bowles after the bill was passed, but did not receive it. "Did your contract call for a contingency whereby the bill was to include a provision whereby the government would issue subpoenas in case the toll exemption was granted?" asked Senator Reed.

"I don't know," said De Knight. "I don't exactly remember the contingency. I was to get the $4,000 if the bill went through certain ways. Anyhow, that Admiral Bowles' company didn't build the ships. I never threatened to sue and the matter was dropped here, and I am still retained by the company in connection with some cases."

Call for the Contract.

The committee demanded that De Knight produce his contract with Bowles, which the witness said he would do later.

De Knight had been subpoenaed to produce files of his correspondence, but he urged that no attempt be made to produce them until the relations between attorney and client. The committee will insist upon production of the correspondence.

De Knight said he knew of no organized effort now to fight repeal of the toll exemption clause and denied that he had written any letters of warning to ship building companies relating to many letters and other papers which he knew of.

De Knight charged that there was animus behind an effort to discredit him. He added that the suits arose from his discharge of a woman stenographer whose name he coupled with a newspaper man in a further charge.

Senator Overman produced a copy of a contract in which retired volunteer officers and enlisted men of civil war service agreed to pay De Knight 50 per cent of any increases in pay, the mutual reserve should a law which increases now before congress be passed.

De Knight testified that he had drawn such a contract and promised to inform the committee how many of such contracts had been signed by officers now in the government service.

Represented Warrant Officers.

De Knight testified he had represented

chief warrant officers of the navy in a bill to give them a commission grade and in fifteen years had collected $40,000 while representing men of the army and navy who desired increases in pay. Senator Overman asked if De Knight had threatened to expose any letters for making such contracts with him when they refused to pay commissions. De Knight said he only had sent them "ordinary collection letters."

It was developed that the list of civil war veterans who were benefited by a pending bill had been held secret by the war department. Senator Reed asked De Knight if he had introduced it from Congressman Barchfield of Pennsylvania, said De Knight. He wrote to Secretary Stimson stating that they might be valuable for campaign purposes. Then I got the list from him.

"Then when you got the list," continued Senator Reed, "you conceived the idea of this bill, had Barchfield introduce it, and then started to work writing letters to these old men to interest them in your contract?"

"Yes, Mr. Barchfield introduced the bill and I wrote to the men."

The bill has not passed the house, but did pass the senate.

Bowles Makes Denial.

Boston, Mass., 12.—Rear Admiral Bowles, president of the Fore River Ship Building company, today denied he had employed Clarence W. De Knight to work for toll exemptions on American coastwise ships in the Panama canal act as testified by De Knight before the senate canal committee at Washington.

The committee in connection with section 11 of the Panama canal act, which has to do with the construction of the inter-state commerce commission over the shipping industry, today by Representative Humphrey, of Washington, republican, with favoring, as chief forester, a government land exchange transaction with the Santa Fe railroad that was "the greatest and most outrageous looting of the public domain in our history."

"I challenge any man to show," declared the Washington member, "that Mr. Pinchot ever protested against the deal under which the Santa Fe railroad received 1,200,000 acres of the best public land in exchange for a like number of acres of untimbered and unimproved land, which was estimated by the railroad to be worth 15 to 18 cents an acre. Mr. Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the forest reserve of the Santa Fe railroad getting 1,200,000 acres at one time."

Representative Humphrey also charged that when Mr. Pinchot was forest ranger in Montana included 40,000 acres of "practically treeless land" belonging to the Northern Pacific.

"For this land of little value," he added, "the Northern Pacific obtained 240,000 acres of heavily timbered land in exchange and Pinchot favored the transaction at that time."

Mr. Humphrey's speech was part of a running fire of attack upon the forest service that held up progress on the agriculture appropriation bill.

FEARS FOR THE FATE OF A MEXICAN OFFICER

Laredo, Texas, March 12.—The fate of Juan Garcia, a young federal Mexican officer, caused uneasiness among his acquaintances here today. He came here last night in an automobile with two other Mexican officers from San Ignacio, Mexico. All three were reported to be deserters.

Mexicans, said to be federal emissaries, separated Garcia from his friends, entertaining him until he was in a helpless condition and then carrying him to Mexico, where he was handed over to the federal authorities. He is said to face a capital court-martial.

ON BENTON'S SLAYER CARRANZA IS CLOSING

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—Information that evidence gathered by the Carranza commission indicates that Mar Gonzalo Fierro was the slayer of William S. Benton, assumed importance tonight with the arrival of American passengers from Chihuahua with reports not confirmed that Fierro had been arrested, charged with the murder of two Mexican railroad men.

That the railroad men were murdered is known, but it is said the slaying was done in cold blood.

Whether Fierro really has been arrested in connection with the case is only report, but the information is regarded as probably correct, but those who were with Fierro at the time the Carranza commission started work with the information that Fierro killed the Englishman.

It is said also that the commission has several emissaries working in the Carranza commission, commanding the garrison at Juarez, ordered the execution of the Carranza emissary, an American, who was tried as a spy, but in whose case no verdict was rendered. He was shot at Juarez by Carranza's men, who repeatedly have denied that he was killed.

UNITED STATES NEGRO KILLED BY MEXICANS

Douglas, Ariz., March 12.—Charles Howard, an American negro, was killed recently by Yaqui Indians on the ranch of Charles Anthony, in the Yaqui river valley, where constitutionalist soldiers, encamped a few hundred yards away, refused to go out to his assistance, according to a special to the Dispatch from Nogales tonight.

Howard is said to be a deserter from the Ninth United States cavalry at Douglas. He was caretaker at the ranch and had been shot by assassins before he himself was riddled with bullets, according to the report.

FREE LABOR BUREAU FOR NEW YORK STATE

New York, March 12.—Hundreds of men and a few women crowded today into a free labor bureau to take advantage of Governor Clegg's new plan to help the city's unemployed by finding them work in the country.

Telling of Spring Suit Styles

Increasing in English lines, broadening and lengthening of lapels, broader collars and patch pockets—these are the fashion points of the new spring suit.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole Advertising Manager for all territory outside Atlanta.

The address of the Washington Bureau is No. 1727 S. Street, N. W., Mr. John Corrigan, Jr., staff correspondent, in charge.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had by calling the Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street, Times building.

GIVE THE PATIENT A CHANCE! The Constitution hopes that the estimate of our Washington correspondent, published elsewhere, as to the president's attitude toward further extreme legislation at this time is accurate.

Mr. Wilson's position is unequivocally sound, from a business and patriotic no less than a political standpoint. There is no complaint against the legislation already recorded.

Two major operations have already been performed. We have amputated the high protection leg of the patient. We have taken off his withered currency system arm.

WHAT MILITARISM COSTS. Just what the military mania and the burden of armed preparedness cost the average citizen is disclosed by a protest against the new German war tax, made by Americans resident in the land of the kaiser.

All the nations are, of course, joining in America's protest and their case seems impregnable. How the German, whose mind works logically as a rule, can get his nerve to the point of "holding up" other countries to help defray expenses for a war which may, hypothetically, be directed against themselves, is not short of amazing.

and wholesale murder may flourish. For if Germany's military ambitions cost her friendly visitors good money, what do they not cost her natives, who have no recourse, save the slender one of their courts?

MRS. W. A. MOORE. The death of Mrs. W. A. Moore, of Atlanta, mother of Wilmer L. Moore, of Mrs. Hugh L. McKee and Mrs. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, removes an Atlanta pioneer whose contributions to the religious and charitable activities of the community cover a period of half a century.

This notable "mother in Israel" had for years been associated with the First Presbyterian church of Atlanta, and in addition to its many calls upon her energies, she found time to labor in behalf of the mountain boys and girls and their educational problems, and also to lend a helping hand to many other charities.

Her life was a benediction to all with whom she came in contact. Her death will be a deep sorrow to a wide circle of friends.

MEDIEVALISM IN MEDICINE. Dr. John A. Wyeth, one of the most distinguished members of the medical profession, former president of the New York Academy of Medicine, and president of the Polyclinic hospital of New York city, may shortly be placed on trial for his professional life because of the sheer and indefensible medievalism that still impedes the progress of the medical profession here as in Europe.

The thing is so farcical as to exhaust the patience of the public. It is refreshing, on the other hand, to note that the council on health and public instruction of the American Medical Association, the most powerful and representative medical body in the United States, at a recent meeting at Chicago, decided to recommend that the ethical embargo regarding publicity be lightened.

The abundance and contradiction of this situation must appeal to the common sense physician himself, once he analyzes conditions with the eyes of the average man and not the man obsessed by an effete code of ethics. Publicity of the right sort means a great deal for the profession and for humanity at large.

THE KIND GEORGIA NEEDS. A colony of German farmers with their families have just settled in Crisp county. The German makes a splendid citizen. He is equally a fine artisan or an intelligent farmer.

The supreme court denies that a woman is overshadowed by her husband. The supreme court is composed of an overwhelming majority of married men. Next! It is denied that British politicians, beset by suffragettes, believe in forcible running.

The low, crooning noise you hear is the premonitory echo of the home-run. That loud noise you hear comes from the orchardmen celebrating the salvation of the peach crop. Say what you will about Felix Diaz, he seems to have no fear at all of the gunner of New York.

N. O. NELSON WRITES OF RURAL CREDIT ADVANTAGES

(The Constitution is indebted to E. W. Hunt, of Eatonton, former president of the Georgia State Bankers' association and chairman of the rural credit committee of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, for a keen analysis of rural credits from N. O. Nelson, an expert.)

Who N. O. Nelson is. Editor Constitution: I ask space in your paper to reach the people of Georgia with a message on rural credits from a man who, I fully believe, has done more to benefit the laboring farmer and increase the income of other citizen of the United States. A man who, starting life poor and years ago amassed more property than he thinks right to use in the indulgences allowed to themselves by the average citizen of the middle class.

Under his altruistic, co-operative and profit-sharing program, the laborers, instead of being degraded to a social caste below those more prosperous, enjoy and profit by the most uplifting influences at work in society. That the rapid reader may realize the contributor toward the evolution of better business ways is one whose every word is worthy of consideration, is why I have added this sketch of the acts of N. O. Nelson without his knowledge or consent.

Editor Constitution: What Georgia and the south needs is not more money, but more sense, not government aid, but more work and self-reliance. To get cheaper money, they need to raise better crops and pay better, repeal or amend some bad law, and stop making new ones. When the farm and the mortgage are both taxed, the farmer must pay both, and the mortgagee must add it to the interest. When the crop loan or other loan is risky, the risk must be included in the note. When the farmer buys his living and feed and mule on credit, instead of raising them, he is out the whole amount of the debt at once.

Thirty years ago Kansas farmers were bankrupt; grasshoppers, politics and money-lenders had done it. Then they pulled off Wisconsin by a twenty-year credit process. Now the state is full of big houses, stoves, hogs, houses, barns, school-houses, automobiles and bank deposits. Kansas banks are big buyers of manufactured goods. The denuded pine lands of Wisconsin have been turned into rich farms. Wisconsin land is more hilly and not as rich as the red hills of Georgia, the new settlers had little besides an ox team, they had no banker and no government aid, yet Wisconsin is now the most prosperous and educated state in the union.

Georgians' great poet, Sidney Lanier, tells the whole story in "Thar's More in the Man Than Thar Is in the Land": "It was Jones, who lived in the county of Jones, and he lived pretty much by gettin' of loans. And he would be a nuthin' but skin and bones. And his pigs was flat as his cornbread pone, and he had a hundred credit process. He sold his farm to Brown for $1,500 an acre and went to Texas.

There is no object in importing farmers except for land owners to unload on. There is no object in government aid, whether federal or state. Georgia farmers are abled-bodied, and plenty of them; they can earn credit and get it, and they can get it in a hundred ways. They can get it in the south and west. When they earn money they can borrow money; when they are sure and prompt pay, and no double tax and titles go by the state's guarantee without expensive examination, they can get cheap money. Manufacturers and merchants of known reliability for character-earning capacity and realizable assets now get all the money they want at 4 1/2 per cent, but mortgage or collateral, and much of their notes are bought by western, some by southern, banks. No bank buys such paper if it can find safe loans at home at 8 per cent.

The European rural credit system is not so much a plan for "gittin' of loans" as to increase farm production. It makes two bushels or pounds or heads grow where only one grew before. The money is obtained for specified purposes and production purposes only. The association which borrows the money in a lump lays it out to its members for a purpose approved by the committee, and only to members of known honesty and industry guaranteed by two fellow members. This system is what has made Danish and German farmers rich, and now doing it in Ireland and other countries. This has created the co-operative creameries, pork packing, poultry and egg enterprises and a variety of factories for farmers' needs.

Life is a book of strange reading. The days are the pages we've passed; Hard are some words, and the spelling More difficult grows to the last. Let truth be our lamp, and the meaning Her light on the "nuthin'" shall cast. Atlanta, March 11.—ERNEST NEAL.

DAILY GIST from the STATES' POLITICAL GROUND

There is considerable gossip around the state capitol and the corridors of the hotel where the state executive committee is meeting of the state democratic committee, of which William J. Harris, director of the census, is chairman. The general impression is that the meeting will be called for approximately April 1, as this date is in accord with precedents for some years past. The meeting has little to do this year, for the general primary laws of the state control the details of the state-wide primary. Under the law the primary cannot be called earlier than August 8, and as the matter of registration is provided for and all counties must vote on the same day, this year's meeting of the state executive committee is not of as much importance as in the old days when the committee was supreme in the matter of registration, dates, etc.

At the coming primary a governor, state house officials, members of the general assembly, a senator for the full term to succeed Hoke Smith, and a short-term senator to succeed the late A. O. Bacon, whose place does not yet appear to be nominated. The unexpired term of Senator Bacon has five years to run. Senator Hoke Smith will be a candidate to succeed himself. His decision to run to succeed himself awaits development. It is generally understood that Senator West will not oppose him, but will give him his full support.

There is strong pressure being brought to bear to get Governor Slaton to run against Senator Hoke Smith for the gubernatorial office for the governorship, and there will be a merry old time of it in Georgia politics. In the meantime, Governor Slaton is maintaining a sphinx-like attitude. He stands aloof from the political maneuvering that there is no use in hurrying forward to a decision until after the meeting of the state executive committee. Until that time it is generally believed he will say nothing.

Of course, there will be the usual amount of gossip going the rounds, but no one will be able to get any news from the race for the governorship or for the gubernatorial office. Permanent Registration. There seems to be more or less misinformation throughout the state regarding the provisions of the permanent registration act passed at the last session of the general assembly. Many persons seem to think they do not have to register this year; that the passage of the law relieved them of this obligation. This is not true. Unless a person has registered for this year he must do so. There are about twenty days in which to register. After this year all persons who were registered for 1914 will be relieved of registration, provided they are not disqualified by removal of residence or failure to pay taxes.

PROHIBITION ISSUE ENTERS INTO FLOYD COUNTY CAMPAIGN. Rome, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Although the election of representatives from Floyd county will take place before the regular state primary, in August, a heated campaign is already in progress for the three places. Of the present delegation, only Barry Wright will seek re-election. W. J. Nunally will become a candidate for judge of the county office, and John C. Foster will return to private life. The Local Option v. Prohibition issue will probably be sharply drawn in this fight. John W. Eals, former solicitor general of the Rome circuit, is actively in the race, and an avowed local option man. Mr. Eals and L. Dean, former representatives, are expected to run. John H. Reynolds, president of the First National bank, and one of the prohibition leaders, has signified his willingness to become a candidate if the prohibition issue is made. The State Mutual Life Insurance company, is one of the local optionists who will make the race. Other prospective candidates include Judge Harper Hamilton, E. C. Johnson, T. J. Waters, Dr. A. W. Findley, of Cave Spring, Peter R. Roser and Paul H. Dial.

CHANGES IN ALIGNMENTS ARE PREDICTED IN PUTNAM COUNTY. Eatonton, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Political activity, presaging a hustling time in Putnam for 1914, has already begun in campaigns for county offices. That the state campaign when it opens up in earnest will be furnished some surprises in the county's alignments, as compared with past political affiliations, is not at all doubtful. These local alignments during the past have been many and varied. The past few months in the views and political friendships of some of the county's most prominent men. It is stated on the best political authority that the settlement of the Eatonton postmastership appointment is unfavorable in the interest of the present incumbent over the state. What effect it will have in the future will be watched with interest, and predictions are already being freely made, with strong substantiations for the political prophets. The governorship and the senatorial unexpired term are already daily live topics that have assumed even the ground hog's veracity in hitting the weather this year.

Captain Clarke Davis, a prominent Confederate veteran, who has been county treasurer for many years, is being opposed this year in the recent announcement of Editor Howell Reid Hearn, of the Eatonton Messenger. Tax Receiver Sam Dance is being opposed after serving his first term by Henry L. Leonard, who was a candidate in a former campaign, and lost by one of those scratches, which are common in the Putnam county fair between Valentine and Desse Wilkes, both home-raised horses, enthusiastically slapped a Putnam farmer on the back, and said "Blessed would have you if she had had a wart on her nose." Other announcements are being forecast, with political bees buzzing in many bonnets, and undoubted opposition for other county candidates already cut and dried and forthcoming within a few weeks.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS IN TALLAHASSEE TODAY. Tallahassee, Fla., March 12.—(Special.)—Politics in Tallahassee are very quiet just now. The present executive committee of candidates for the different county offices, though no public announcements have yet been made. W. R. Reid will be a candidate for the senate from the nineteenth senatorial district, as he has done in the past. He represented the county two terms in the house and this district one term in the senate. It is understood that J. E. Kendrick, who represented this county in the house two terms, will also be in the race. C. H. Stone, the present representative in the house, will probably offer for re-election. The executive committee will meet Friday to name a day for the primary.

LONG AND CLOSELY CONTESTED CAMPAIGN PREDICTED IN THOMAS. Thomasville, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—So far Judge H. W. Hopkins, of this city, who is a candidate for re-election, is the only man in the county whose positive statement in regard to his intention of running for representative from Thomas county, E. C. Reese, of Pavo, the other member of the house, has said nothing definite, so far as known here, as to whether or not he will make the race again. In case he does not, it is said by J. D. Gardner, of Pavo, may run. There has been some talk of Louis Moore, a well-known young lawyer of this city, as a candidate, and Pleckatt Leak, of Boston, is also spoken of as a legislative possibility. If Hugh MacIntyre will have no opposition for solicitor of the city court of Thomasville, and as it is getting rather late for any one to announce against him, he will probably have a walkover. As Thomas county has no separate primary precincts for county offices, there are plenty of times to electioneer and the candidates for sheriff seem to be doing a lot of it. So far there are four out for this office, A. S. Milton, W. A. Rieberger and Ben Nazareth, of the city, and the Hon. H. C. Hight, of Boston, who has been a candidate for re-election, has decided to withdraw. Candidates for the other county offices are cropping up, and it is more than probable that there will be some hot fighting for several of them.

VANDALISM OF WOMEN ALARMS GREAT BRITAIN

Many Public Buildings Closed. Slander of the Venus Gets Six Months.

London, March 12.—The vandalism of the militant suffragettes caused the closing today of a great many public buildings in addition to those which locked their doors yesterday.

Popular excitement in connection with suffragette outrages were reflected again today in parliament. A number of members urged Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, not to release such a dangerous character as May Richardson, who was sentenced to six months imprisonment for damaging the "Roses of Venice" in the Asquith announced that he was making an inquiry into the question of the best way of protecting the nation's art treasures.

Miss Richardson has been on a "hunger strike" since her arrest. Addressing Judge Robert Wallace, who presided over the court, Miss Richardson said: "I am an art student, but I care more for justice than for art. I firmly believe that when the nation has shut its eyes to justice and has allowed women who are fighting for justice to be mistreated and tortured, such an action as mine should be understandable."

The slow and premeditated murder of Mrs. Empress Parkhurst is the ultimate crime which has made necessary the nation's attention. The nation has women have knocked vainly at the doors of ministers, hedges and archbishops for the king's pardon.

"I know that you will sentence me to a term of years, but I will not be in a century in which Mrs. Parkhurst lived and because in a slight measure have tried to carry out what I believe in."

The charge against the prisoner was "malicious damage to a picture."

DROPPING OF MURPHY SCORED BY LITTLETON

New York, March 12.—The action of the board of governors of the National Democratic club in dropping Charles F. Murphy and other Tammany men from membership was severely criticized today by ex-Congressman Martin W. Littleton, in a letter to the president of the club.

Mr. Littleton is himself a democrat. In answer to his letter and others from the sixty-five who were dropped from membership, Judge Edward R. O'Dwyer, president of the club, replied that any member who is delinquent in his dues is dropped automatically from membership, and that reinstatement is at the discretion of the board of governors.

HE GOES TO GALLOWS AT HIGH NOON TODAY

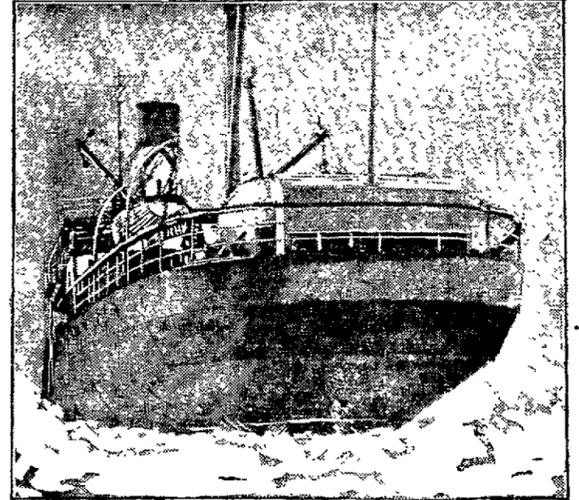

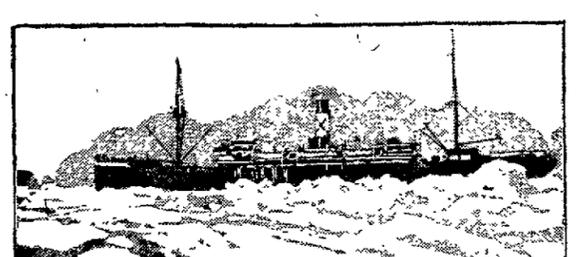

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—Deserted by his attorney, Bennie Henson, convicted of the murder of his wife in the city of St. Petersburg, has given up hope of escaping the gallows between 6 o'clock and noon. During his trial Henson was discovered on Henson's person following an alleged threat he had made that he proposed to kill prosecuting attorney George E. H. Henson. His attorney, accused to have anything more to do with his case following his conviction.

HE'S HELD PRISONER ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—Joseph S. Embarger, ticket-taker at local theaters, who was arrested Wednesday, March 4, by Miss Carlotta Welkenberg, of Savannah, was arrested tonight in Miami and held at police station on the charge of bigamy.

This first wife and child are living with her mother at No. 135 North Fourth street, Newark, N. J.

Steamers Caught in Ice Packs

United States was "English-led and English-ruled, and that the obligation of government and civilization rest with the people who speak the language of Shakespeare."

Ambassador Page Surprised. London, March 12.—Walter Hines Page, United States ambassador, was much surprised when told today of the Senate resolution in connection with his speech last night.

He put the question to the interviewer. "The speech was innocent enough, wasn't it?"

Asked whether objection might be taken to the last sentence of his speech, referring to the Panama canal, Mr. Page replied that that was a pleasantry.

The ambassador's remarks were extemporaneous, and no verbatim reports were made. The London newspapers differ slightly in the wording of the ambassador's remarks regarding Panama and Central American investments.

Ambassador Page said the most accurate report of his speech was contained in The Daily Telegraph, from which the essential parts are quoted verbatim as follows:

"The people of the United States regard the British empire as the guardian of freedom in all parts of the world and as a promoter of trade."

"I hope in the future, the United States had constructed the Panama canal for the British people, but it added greatly to the pleasure of building it that the British people would make the most profit out of it."

AT THE THEATERS.

"A Modern Eve." (At the Atlanta.) Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the engagement of "A Modern Eve," the Berlin opera which made such a wonderful hit at the Garrick in Chicago last year. This play has more pretty numbers and more good dancing than any musical play in recent years.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Fourth.) The Forgy's unusually attractive bill of quality and merit is attracting enormous attendances. The headline feature is the famous Lottie Chis, the Cleveland English comedy on the vaudeville stage.

"Two Lucky Tramps." (At the Columbia.) "Two Lucky Tramps," with George Milton, Jennie Delmar, Frank Beaumont and a galaxy of burlesque stars, has proven to be the most attractive offering of the season at the Columbia theater.
