

LINES ARE DRAWN FOR HARDEST FIGHT OF WILSON REGIME

Struggle Begins in House Today for Repeal of Tolls Exemption Clause of the Panama Canal Act.

ALL THE HOUSE LEADERS ARE FIGHTING WILSON

Personal Convictions on the Question Have Smashed Party Lines—Close Vote Expected to Follow Bitter Debate.

Washington, March 25—Lines were sharply drawn tonight for the opening of the most bitterly contested legislative struggle that has confronted President Wilson's administration—the fight to repeal the law giving American coastwise ships free passage through the Panama canal.

For the first time since the democratic administration took charge of the government administration leaders found a strong, resourceful and determined element in a party opposed to a policy which President Wilson personally had espoused.

This political situation, with the international character of the question involved, and the stress the president has put on his position, is necessary to the successful conduct of the administration's foreign policy.

House Leaders Oppose Wilson. The president's supporters tonight declared they were gaining ground in the house, and one enthusiastic administration leader predicted the passage of the repeal bill by a majority of nearly one hundred.

Aligned against the president's demand for the repeal are the three leaders of the parties in the house—Representative Underwood, of the democrats; Representative Mann, of the republicans; and Representative Marquand, of the progressives.

Wings of all three parties are behind these leaders. On the other hand, Chairman Adamson, of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee; Representative Henry, chairman of the rules committee; Representative Stevens, of Minnesota, and many other representatives of all three parties have accepted the president's position.

Majority Leader Underwood and other democrats, while speaking against the bill and voting against it, would not attempt any extended opposition.

First Test Vote Likely Today. At noon tomorrow Chairman Henry will report a special order providing for a repeal bill and a debate on the repeal bill, and allowing no opportunity for amending the measure.

Supporters of the president are prepared to argue that the exemption of American ships from tolls is a violation of the Hay-Paun-foote treaty; that it is a form of subsidy to special interests, and the repeal is essential that the president may carry out his foreign policy.

Opponents will declare that American shipping needs the free use of the canal, that transcontinental railroads fear the competition of free American ships, and that to repeal the tolls would be "trucking to Great Britain without exhausting diplomatic negotiations."

An effort will be made, if the rule is adopted, to bring the debate to a conclusion and reach a vote on the bill late Saturday. If debate is prolonged, however, the final vote may go over until next week.

Bitter Feeling in Senate. In the senate today, the feeling over the proposed repeal was demonstrated in debate precipitated by Senator Chamberlain, who called up his resolution requesting the secretary of war for information as to the expense of maintaining improved waterways and canals within the United States.

Senator Chamberlain assailed Andrew Carnegie and the Carnegie endowment for international peace, declaring that under Carnegie's friendship for Great Britain was "treasonable."

"If Andrew Carnegie, who continually asserts the cause of Great Britain, were the president of any other nation, he would be charged with treason," declared Senator Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain's attack on Mr. Carnegie came as the climax to an hour of hot argument, during which Senator Jones, who also opposed a repeal of the tolls exemption, had read, under protest, several letters attacking the contention of President Wilson.

Senator Jones, one of those opposing repeal, read a letter from William B. Larkin, of Boston, assailing President Wilson's contention and urging the president should be recalled to the classic shades of Princeton instead of being permitted to continue to bulldoze accredited representatives of the American people in congress.

Senator Hoke Smith, Senator Lewis and other democratic leaders failed by various parliamentary tactics to prevent the reading of the letter.

Believes Wilson is Honest. "I believe the president to be acting Continued on Page Twelve.

Suspect In Bank Robbery Attempt and His Pretty Wife

Edward Rhynta, of Denver, who is held by police on charge of trying to loot negro bank on Auburn avenue, and his bride of a year

MAGICIAN HELD ON CHARGE OF BOLD ATTEMPT TO LOOT BANK IN HEART OF ATLANTA

Edward Rhynta, of Denver, Colo., Arrested by Call Officer James Palmer, on a Charge of Suspicion, After Howling Crowd Pursues the Would-Be Robber Who Held Up Negro Bank in Auburn Avenue, Shot at Clerk, Hit Him Over Head With Bludgeon, and Then Made Bolt for Safety.

BANDIT STEALS BUGGY AND ELUDES BIG MOB AFTER A WILD CHASE

Keeps Back Many of His Pursuers by Rain of Pistol Balls—Rhynta Denies Guilt, but Has Been Positively Identified by a Number of Blacks—His Wife, Bride of Year, Visits Him at Police Station—Couple Say They Have Worked in Local Theaters.

Poised in a wildly desperate attempt to loot the safety vaults of the Atlanta State Savings Bank, a negro institution, in Auburn avenue, which contained upwards of $2,500 in gold and silver, a white would-be bandit, late Monday, bludgeoned a negro clerk, fled into Houston street, seized a horse and buggy, raced through the downtown streets, pursued by police officers and a howling mob, fired some five shots at his pursuers, and finally eluded searchers in the block bounded by Harris and Cain streets.

A short time later a man claiming to be an actor, and giving his name as Edward Rhynta, of Denver, Colo., was arrested by Call Officer James Palmer, in a room at Cain and Williams streets. The suspect was taken to the banking rooms. He was identified by six negroes as the man seen earlier in the day at the Odd Fellows' building, in which the bank is located.

MAGICIAN SUSPECT DENIES GUILT.

Rhynta, at police barracks, denied any connection with the attempted hold-up and subsequent assault. The suspect is married, and for the past week has been living at Cain and Williams streets.

The attempted robbery of the savings institution, which is officered by J. O. Ross, W. F. Penn and C. C. Cater, reputable negro citizens, was in itself one of the most sensational circumstances ever occurring in the annals of Atlanta's criminal history.

The bank, situated on the ground floor of the Odd Fellows' building, 200 Auburn avenue, has three entrances. One opens on the avenue, one opens into the hall of the building, and one opens into an alley. A grill of iron work surrounds the banking counters, which have three wickets. One of these is in front, one is on the side, at the center, and the third is near a door which leads into the president's office, and also admits the clerks to the counting room.

The bank closes its books and doors at 5 o'clock every day. But one employee remains until that hour, the other two leaving at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

EAST LAKE SUFFERS FROM SECOND BLAZE

Following the big fire of Sunday night which destroyed the East Lake country club, the Atlanta Athletic club, fire broke out in the boat-house last night about 11:30 o'clock in the ladies' locker room from a defective flue, threatening for a time to destroy it. No golf sticks were burned in the fire, as it did not reach them.

The night watchman discovered the fire and gave the alarm B. E. Thrasher, E. H. Matthews, manager of the club, and Mr. Argo, superintendent of the golf links, hurried to be present, and securing axes, they cut an opening in the flooring, and with the assistance of Thomas B. Paine and his wife, who had come to aid the fire fighters, dashed buckets of water into the fire hole in the nick of time, thereby saving further spread of flames.

Chief Cummins, of the fire department, made a ten-minute run to the country club. The auto fire engine, No. 12 fire station, corner of DeKalb and Moreland avenues, arrived on the scene about the same time the chief did and the firemen, with the aid of chemicals, quickly put out the fire.

A small part of the flooring and a few lockers were burned.

GEORGIA TANGERS DANCE LIKE COOKS. DECLARES TEACHER

Rome, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Rome society people are up in arms at caustic criticisms of their manner of dancing the modern dances, voiced by Miss Clara Jennings, of New York, a dancing teacher, who has come here to instruct them in the gentle art of tangoing.

Miss Jennings' criticisms also applied to the people of Atlanta and Columbus, where she has conducted classes, but she exempts Athens, stating that the dancers there are more refined and less vigorous than those of the other cities in Georgia. She declares that the wiggles, squirms and hops which characterize the dances, especially of the younger set, are neither attractive, beautiful nor refined; that this manner of dancing is not in vogue in the north except among cooks and chauffeurs, and that not one person in Rome dances any of the new steps correctly.

DECIDE ON MAY 5 FOR CITY TO PASS ON HOSPITAL BONDS

Atlanta's Most Aggressive Citizens Are Preparing to Wage Vigorous Campaign for Big Civic Improvement.

Atlanta's most aggressive citizens—physicians and laymen—who are behind the movement to float an issue of $750,000 bonds for a "Greater Grady Hospital," placed themselves solidly behind the project yesterday and are today preparing to wage a campaign unprecedented in the history of the city.

Enthusiasm over the widespread interest created in the matter of the hospital within forty-eight hours, the central committee met in the directors' room of the Lowry National bank. There was absolutely no friction, and every suggestion offered was adopted without dissent.

May 5 the date of the county election, was agreed on by the committee as the date for submitting the bond question to the voters of Atlanta. A committee, composed of Robert L. Foreman, Dr. W. S. Elkin and A. R. Colcord, was appointed to make arrangements for a whirlwind campaign of publicity and education, and Colonel Robert Lowry, who presided as chairman of the general committee, was authorized to appoint at his leisure, a committee of three to raise the necessary funds for carrying on the campaign.

The committee authorized Dr. W. S. Elkin, one of the leaders in the campaign to make to the Grady hospital, the greatest institution in the south, to confer with Mayor Woodward. The conference will be for the purpose of urging the mayor to call a special meeting of council to pass on resolutions which will be submitted authorizing the issue.

The central committee will meet again on Saturday. In the meantime, there will be no lost motion. The several subcommittees will get busy with the council representatives and urge them to support the scheme when it is offered at the special meeting.

"We want to get council to give unanimous approval to the project," Colonel Lowry said. "And we want the people of Atlanta to give the project their support."

Vote at Same Place. Councilman A. R. Colcord, who is also working hard in the interest of the project, declared that he is

Routed With Slaughter, Villa and Rebel Forces Are Fleeing Torreon

War Department of Dictator Huerta Announces Complete Victory Has Been Gained in Crucial Battle of the War.

LOSSES OF THE REBELS ESTIMATED AT 2,000 MEN

According to Huerta Reports, Rebels Were Lured Into an Ambush and Shot Down—Rebel Agents at Juarez Say They Have No News of the Battle.

Mexico City, March 25.—The war department makes the claim that the rebels under Villa were routed at Torreon with great slaughter early today.

Eight hundred men, under General Joaquin Maas and General Javier de Moore, it is announced, arrived opportunely from Saltillo in time to add greatly to the federal victory. The rebels are said to be retreating northward with the federals pounding at their rear.

Caught in an Ambush. It is admitted that Villa's men entered Lerdo, a suburb of Torreon, but it is explained that this was a ruse on the part of General Velasco to ambush them. As soon as they were well into that territory, the federal artillery shelled them out, the cavalry charging as the rebels started to retreat.

Generals Maas and De Moore are reported to have made the distance between Hipolito and Torreon in fifty armored automobiles, which they were carrying, the raiding having been cut at Hipolito.

The rebel losses in dead and wounded are reported to be 2,000.

REBELS ARE IN GLOOM OVER NEWS FROM FRONT

El Paso, Texas, March 25.—Negre advices from the front today were mixed in character, but out of the medley schooled observers here said they drew the conclusion that the rebels met at Torreon and Gomez Palacio, an enemy in nowise inferior, and that their attack had been checked at the outset of the battle proper.

Rebel officials at Juarez as well as refugees in this city say they place more reliance on dispatches from legitimate correspondents at the front than on so-called official dispatches. One of the correspondents today wired: "Villa says wires will be open when he reaches Torreon."

In the course of the day no other press dispatch was received, but this one, it was said, plainly carried the inference that the attack on Torreon only had begun.

Rebel advices here today were that Villa was attacking the outskirts of Torreon and that two-thirds of the rebel army, under the direct command of General Benavides, was engaged.

OPPOSE ELECTION OF MANY OFFICERS BY CITY COUNCIL

Proposal to Give Council Right to Name Officials Now Elected by People Will Bring Fight.

Determined opposition to the charter amendments which propose vesting in council the power to elect city officers now voted on by the people, was indicated yesterday following the meeting of council's charter amendment committee.

Among other amendments to the charter the committee proposed that the chief of construction, the comptroller, city marshal, clerk, treasurer, tax collector, superintendent of waterworks, warden and city recorder be elected by the mayor and council.

The committee also proposed including in the amendment a clause making the minimum salary of the chief of construction $5,000 per annum and the maximum $7,000. The committee was divided on the proposition to permit council to elect the above named officers, and it was recommended that Alderman Thomson, Councilman Boyton and City Attorney Mayson get together and draft an amendment.

Will Oppose Amendment. Strong opposition to the amendment will be offered in council by the city officials who will be effected by the change. Once before the proposition was brought to the attention of city councilmen with a view of having the mode of elections changed, but the opposition and sentiment was so strong against it that no action was ever taken.

Among other proposed changes in the charter discussed by the committee was the advisability of electing women on the school board, parks, library, health and hospital committees.

Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Hamilton Douglas appeared before the committee and urged that at least five women be allowed to sit on boards. Attention of the committee was called to the fact that the petitioners represented more than 4,000 women banded together in club organizations and they emphasized the fact that more than twenty-four cities have given women the right to participate in city affairs.

Increase Membership. The committee favored the proposal to increase the boards to seventeen members instead of twelve, in order to give the women at least five representatives, and will ask City Attorney Mayson to draft a resolution incorporating the change.

Wilmer L. Moore, ex-president of the chamber of commerce, and Robert L. Foreman appeared before the committee and urged that instead of one board of health there be two boards created, one to have charge of the sanitary affairs of the city and the other to supervise the health affairs. Other recommendations made by the expert who surveyed Atlanta's health department for the Russell Sage foundation were urged.

The committee will meet again before council's regular session to take up a number of other matters involving changes in the charter.

SOUTHERN METHODISTS PLAN NEW UNIVERSITY

If Vanderbilt Be Lost, New Institution Will Be Founded, Says Bishop Hoss.

Baltimore, March 25.—Unless there is a possibility of an appeal to the supreme court of the United States in the suit of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, against the trustees of Vanderbilt university, in Nashville, Tenn., a strong effort will be made to found a new university, whose control shall be wholly in the hands of the church, according to Bishop E. E. Hoss, president of the board of education of the Southern Methodist church. This board claimed control of Vanderbilt university until the decision of the supreme court of Tennessee last week stripped the church of all authority or ownership.

Bishop Hoss, who is attending the Baltimore conference, said today: "The general conference surely will take steps to keep up its standards of publicity and education, and Colonel Robert Lowry, who presided as chairman of the general committee, was authorized to appoint at his leisure, a committee of three to raise the necessary funds for carrying on the campaign."

The committee authorized Dr. W. S. Elkin, one of the leaders in the campaign to make to the Grady hospital, the greatest institution in the south, to confer with Mayor Woodward. WILSON IS WARNED COXEY WILL LEAD HIS SECOND ARMY

Cleveland, Ohio, March 25.—President Wilson was warned of the departure for Washington of a second "Coxey's army," which it is said will start April 16 from Massillon, Ohio, the starting point for the first "army" twenty years ago today.

"General J. S. Coxey, of Massillon, the leader tonight mailed the president a letter telling of his plan and enclosing a pamphlet on 'The Coxey Plan of Setting the Idle to Work on Market Roads and Other Public Improvements.'"

The "army" expects to arrive in Washington May 21, Coxey says, to petition the president and congress for measures which will give work to the unemployed.

This will give you forty-five days to inform yourself of the object of this second march," Coxey's letter says, "and to consider the practicability and justice of our demands."

"On the previous march two other leaders and myself were jailed twenty days for our efforts."

THE BOND LEAVEN AT WORK.

Most significant and encouraging of recent civic symptoms is the manner in which the leaven of the idea of a bond issue that shall standardize municipal Atlanta is working through and through public sentiment.

Logically, the first consideration of any city is the public health, and the public health can never be adequately safeguarded without sufficient municipal hospital facilities.

The expenditure of the proceeds of such an issue would standardize the hospital in every detail. It would provide adequate and modern laboratory and clinical equipment, ward space, nurses' quarters, all and sundry of the features that go to make up a hospital in keeping with the demands of medical science today.

The Constitution cannot too strongly commend each phase of the project. The expansion of Grady, as specified, would give Atlanta the largest and best equipped hospital south of Baltimore, one amply able to care for each patient with the right to demand its services.

The plaza plan is also of the greatest importance to the city. For years, Atlanta has wrestled with the unhealthful and unsightly gulch now underling the very heart of the city.

The heartening feature of the whole matter is that the light is breaking upon the greatest problem confronting Atlanta—that of standardizing every municipal facility by the one feasible route, the bond method.

Once the public sees the wisdom of acting with regard to the hospital and the plaza, it will be only a step to crystallize sentiment as to schools, streets, fire-engine houses, sewers and other primary improvements, all of them permanent, all of them the demands of growth. Every other progressive American city finances these needs by use of its credit. No one has yet accused Atlanta of being unprogressive, though in blindness we have heretofore been perpetrating the economic folly of trying to pay for current need out of current income and take care of permanent improvements from the same source.

THE ENGLISH STORM.

Persons who thought the high tide of public excitement in Great Britain had been reached with the agitation to "end or amend the lords," find their error in the current Irish home rule crisis.

The storm center is the liberal proposal to grant home rule, the quest of the decades, to Ireland. The majority of the Irish population hold the Roman Catholic faith. The one province of Ulster is dominated by the Protestants.

Conditions would be bad enough if they were limited to these dimensions. But the partisan foes of the liberals, the conservative element, have dragged the issue into politics, rather selfishly and unpatriotically, one would think, since the settlement of the Irish question is a national and not a partisan one.

Adding fuel to the flames is the refusal of British army officers to participate in measures of coercion against Ulster. An equally distressing element is the fact that apparently King George seems to have interfered, a course upon which his discreet father was very slow to enter.

Such is the situation in a nutshell. Obviously, it is laden with dynamite. The solution is, of course, a domestic concern. But in America, where there are plenty of Protestant as well as Roman Catholic Irish, interest and solicitude will be keen.

It was not to have been expected that an issue so many sided and complex could have been adjusted without friction. But that matters should have been permitted to go present lengths is an indication of ineptitude or blundering somewhere.

"THE RIVER OF DOUBT."

As prophesied editorially in The Constitution recently, Colonel Roosevelt has emerged scathless from the disaster that overtook his Brazilian expedition.

Propitious mission and propitious title! Since first his star of destiny showed above the skyline, the colonel has been sailing a river of doubt, specifically so in the minds of his enemies.

A river of doubt! That's the proverbial "Roosevelt luck" in hair-breadth escapes and in picking a picturesquely named adventure at the psychological publicity moment.

Somebody in or around the Mississippi legislature must have left the cage door open. There is hardly any other explanation for the persistent tendency of that distinguished body to indulge in freakish legislation, or rather to get right up to the trough and shy away from it.

We have a mental picture of the legislators responsible for these frivolous permutations of the functions of statesmanship. Their rampages are confined to no one section or party. They flourish alike in the national congress or in Jap-baking California.

The Galled Jade Winces.
We know there would be a protest after a while, and so in the following The Houston Post voices the sentiments of the Texas editors who sigh to see the food going while Uncle Sam acts as waiter at the Mexican table.

"We take five thousand Mexicans just plying to be fed, and we corral them at Fort Bliss and give them board and bed; we give them stuff to eat and drink and let them take their ease and they just roll brown cigarettes and scratch their pesky fleas. The while we have whole leagues of road that we ought to build we keep these Astexes in a bunch and keep their tummys filled, and they need neither toil nor spin, they're guests of Uncle Sam, and if school keeps or it does not they need not give a whoop!"

The Unfalling.

The Great Trials of History
TRIAL OF JOHN PETER ZENGER

The trial of John Peter Zenger in 1735 resulted in the establishing of a free press in America. It was the first trial of this country of a charge of libel against the government. Zenger was one of America's pioneer newspaper editors, and the first issue of his periodical, called the "New York Weekly Journal," appeared on November 5, 1733, and he continued printing and publishing it until the following January, when the chief justice, James de Lancey, charged him with having printed seditious libels.

There was a bitter controversy waged between Governor Cosby and the people of the Province of New York. The legislature and the council had been brought under the influence of the governor, and the higher courts of law were also so modeled as to be instruments in the hands of the government against the people. The only resource of the people was in the press.

The chief justice, at the instigation of the governor, endeavored in vain to prevail upon the grand jury to indict Zenger. The council then pronounced four of Zenger's issues seditious, scandalous, malicious and defamatory libels, and ordered them to be burned by the common hangman. The order was read in the court of quarter sessions, but the magistrates would not suffer it to be entered. The sheriff caused the papers to be taken to the court and destroyed.

Zenger was then arrested by order of the council and thrown into jail. His friends procured a writ of habeas corpus, but the bail was placed so high that he could not procure it. While he was thus lying in jail the papers continued to be published, but without success. The attorney general then charged him by information for a misdemeanor in printing the libels. Two popular leaders, James Alexander and William Smith, undertook the defense of Zenger, but, making exception of the jurisdiction of the court, they were summarily excluded from practicing in the court and their names were stricken from the roles of the attorneys.

This high-handed procedure frightened other New York lawyers, but Zenger's friends had recourse to a remedy which proved effectual. They engaged the services of a Philadelphia lawyer, Andrew Hamilton, who was a celebrated barrister, about eighty years of age. The admirable way in which he handled the case, and his success in having the prisoner acquitted is responsible for the oft-quoted saying, "It takes a Philadelphia lawyer."

When the trial came on Zenger had been in prison many months. The first point to be judged was that he did print and publish libelous papers, and that he did so wilfully. The junior counsel for the defendant proposed to contest the first point, but Hamilton overruled him and, acknowledging the printing and publication, boldly threw himself on the other point, and took the ground that he had printed and published the more than every free-born British subject had a right to print and publish.

Hamilton's was a masterly appeal. He was frequently interrupted by the attorney general and the chief justice endeavored to cut him short, but he pressed forward that he had no other duty to perform than to find the facts of the printing and publishing, which Hamilton had admitted, and that it was for the court to adjudge the libel.

Upon the court's asserting this Hamilton deliberately turned to the jury and addressed his arguments to them, showing it was their right, and privilege and duty, to place themselves between the court and the citizens, and to protect the latter against such a claim as the former. He proved that they were the judges of the law as well as of the facts, that the whole case was in their hands, and that they ought not to relinquish any part of it to the court. In that argument, the sovereign power of the people, of whom the jury were the representatives, first, and the complete responsibility for America, perhaps it might be said, in the world.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the very teeth of an authoritative charge from the chief justice against the defendant. The decision of the jury was received with shouts of applause. The judges threatened to imprison the promoters of such a disorderly proceeding, but the people were too much excited to hear the voice of authority. A son of Admiral Morris rose and called for a renewal of the shouting, which was continued and could not be repressed. Hamilton, who would receive no compensation for his services, was borne in triumph from the court-room. He was carried to a festive entertainment which was repeated by the city authorities before his return to Philadelphia. The common council presented him with the freedom of the city, the certificate of which was enclosed in a splendid gold box purchased by subscription, and as he stepped into a barge on his departure from New York, the people gave him a salute of artillery. Governor Morris asserted that Hamilton's argument, and the result of the trial of Zenger, were "the gems of American freedom, the morning star of our liberty."

Prizes for Employees' Efficiency Suggestion.
Edwin C. Faber, vice president and general manager of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago railroad, Wheaton, has offered employees of the company cash prizes for the best efficiency suggestions. He writes employees as follows: "The purpose is to ask each one of you to assist the management in the prevention of any waste of material, supplies or property of the company. Items which in themselves seem of little value, but which aggregate amount to a considerable sum. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway has figured that if each one of its employees, who use lead pencils would wear out an additional inch of lead before throwing it away, the saving to the railroad would amount to $4,000 in a year. The Pennsylvania railroad has recently issued a circular letter to the employees of its various offices asking them to close ink wells when they are not in use, because when the covers are left open the ink evaporates, dries, settles in the wells and thickens the ink, and a considerable loss ensues. "On May 1, 1914, the company will distribute $10,000 prizes to those offering the most helpful and most profitable suggestions, divided as follows: Best suggestion, $50; second best, $25; third best, $20; fourth best, $15; fifth best, $10; next six, each $5."

DAILY CRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

McGREGOR TO ENTER RACE FOR HONORARY TERM IN SENATE
Warrenton, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Major C. E. McGregor, of Warrenton, today stated that he will run for the office of senator in 1916, but will make no formal announcement until after the state executive committee meets and decides on the date of the primary.

COOPER MAKES FIRST SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN AT NASHVILLE
Nashville, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Hon. John H. Cooper, of Macon, who recently announced for United States senate, made the first speech of his campaign here yesterday. Colonel J. D. Lovett introduced him. One of the largest audiences that ever greeted a public speaker here was present.

THIS PRIMARY ONLY A MONTH OFF AND BUT ONE CANDIDATE RUNNING
Lexington, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of Oglethorpe county, met Tuesday and called a primary election on April 23. Sheriff T. E. Watkins is the only officer so far announced to succeed himself. There are rumors of various parties coming out for county offices, but no announcements have been made yet. Prospective candidates seem reluctant to show their hands.

NO CANDIDATES ARE SEEKING SENATORSHIP IN 42ND DISTRICT
Lyerly, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Under the law, Chatoosa county elects the representative from the forty-second senatorial district at the general election to be held in October, but so far no candidates have entered the race. Several of the county's most prominent men have been slated for the race, but have made no announcement of their intentions.

DR. PILCHER EXPECTED TO ENTER CONGRESSIONAL RACE IN TENTH
Warrenton, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the democratic executive committee of Warren county April 23 was selected as the date of primary for county officers. Almost every one of the incumbents has strong opposition and lively races are expected. There are twenty-odd candidates in the fight.

MANY CANDIDATES TO SEEK OFFICE NOW HELD BY JUDGE EDWARDS
Rockmart, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Sixteen candidates have so far entered the race for local office in oak county, as follows: For clerk superior court, John W. Branch; for tax receiver, L. T. Jackson, M. E. McCormick; for tax collector, W. A. Calhoun, C. B. Nettles; for sheriff, J. E. Dempsey; for judge of the county court, John L. Tyson, William James, John K. Davis; for county treasurer, William P. West, Walter Hunt, Homer H. Holland, W. J. Herndon, W. P. Campbell, B. P. Bridges, W. A. Chapman, Jesse W. Smith. Judge Price Edwards has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the office of judge of the Tallapoosa circuit, and it is believed that there will be at least seven candidates for his office. So far as Hon. J. M. McBride, of Buchanan, is the only announced candidate, but Polk will furnish perhaps two candidates for this office, Paulding one, Douglas one and Tallapoosa two more.

JUDGE BLACKWELL TO ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY FOR STATE SENATE
Hartwell, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Hon. J. H. Blackwell, for many years judge of the county court of Jasper county, and formerly state senator, Judge Blackwell will probably issue his formal announcement for the senate on his return to Jasper county next week.

WARREN COUNTY FARMERS ARE BUSY IN CLAYTON PRIMARY TODAY
Jonesboro, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—The candidates for the various Clayton county offices in the primary to be held tomorrow are now on the last lap of the race. The races are all close, and while the coming primary is the topic of the day, and the candidates are making their rounds, the agricultural work goes on the same. Leading farmers have planted corn and have land in fine shape to receive the crop.

NOTWITHSTANDING THE CANDIDATES, COWETA COUNTY FARMERS ARE BUSY
Madras, Ga., March 25.—(Special.)—Coweta county farmers are in the midst of their spring farm work, and while the coming primary is the topic of the day, and the candidates are making their rounds, the agricultural work goes on the same. Leading farmers have planted corn and have land in fine shape to receive the crop.

Short and Ugly Word Prevailing In Alabama Politics, With Fists Just Flying in Every Direction

By John Corrigan, Jr. (Special Staff Correspondent.)
Birmingham, Ala., March 25.—(Special.)—Alabama is seething. Fighting blood is up. The retort courteous is being abandoned for the short and ugly word. Campaign managers' fists are flying, and candidates for the governorship draw their knives and announce that if it will only require a little more provocation to induce them to use them.

Forney Johnston, a son of the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston, and the manager of the Underwood campaign, came to blow on the streets of Birmingham Tuesday with Philip Painter, editor of The Advance, a campaign sheet devoted to the interests of Representative Richmond P. Hobson.

After both men had been placed under bond to keep the peace, they fought again. Each claims the other was the aggressor. Mr. Painter insists several Underwood men attacked him during the second melee.

Mr. Johnston's assault was very unprovoked. I asked him his responsibility for a certain publication. While I was holding the paper in front of me he hit me in the face and Ed Crawford grabbed me from behind. I deeply regret the necessity for having to hit Mr. Johnston back. The whole affair was unfortunate.

Further reports from Dadeville, Ala., telling of yesterday's altercation between Braxton Bragg Comer, former governor, and Walter D. Scott, lieutenant governor, say that Mr. Seed charged Mr. Comer with having made misrepresentations.

"Anybody who says that the statements are untrue tells a lie," said Mr. Comer, who is 63. "Seed drew back and uttered a warning that if his opponent did not retract, or laid hands on him he would 'bit him between the eyes.'" "Yes, and I will cut your throat," is the retort which bystanders credit to Governor Comer.

Birmingham is an Underwood stronghold. It is in Mr. Hobson's congressional district, is the home of Senator John H. Bankhead, whom he defeated in congress in 1908, and is the home of William H. Barbee, who is now a candidate to succeed Mr. Hobson. Senator Bankhead is in the position of having been kicked upstairs. His defeat was fortunate, for he is a man who has deserted him the state sent him to the senate.

"Captain" Hobson is not regarded at home as a hero. He has lived down that reputation, although The Advance is now reprinting from The Century magazine his story on sinking the Merrimac. He now recalls his oscillatory performances, either.

The sixth congressional district regards Mr. Hobson as a real constructive statesman, who has done practical things for his district, is right on nation-wide prohibition and other issues, and is a model for the nation's youth.

L. Breck Musgrove, of Jasper, state manager of the Hobson campaign, is one of the leading business men of Alabama. He told The Constitution reporter that Mr. Hobson had accomplished wonders since leaving the United States navy.

"He is only seven years old politically," said Mr. Musgrove, "yet he has caused the district to develop amazingly along agricultural and educational lines. He is everlasting right on prohibition." In the county Judge W. H. Moore said: "Hobson has done more for the sixth district in his six years of public service than any former congressman in twenty-five years. He has gotten his agricultural soil surveys, more rural free delivery, more cotton-wood corn clubs, helped the farmers eradicate the cattle tick, improved health conditions through government drainage projects, and encouraged education."

Advocate Ship Subsidy. "Hobson stood up in the Jasper county courthouse when there was no occasion for it and advocated a ship subsidy," he said. "That is about the most unpopular thing you could suggest to democrats in this county. He also told why he voted to renege the twenty-fifth negro regiment. He said they were mean and ought to be treated justly. The guilty should be punished, but not the innocent as well. President Roosevelt fired the whole lot of them." Mr. Hobson claims eight of the nine counties in his own congressional district. The fight will be close in Tuscaloosa county. It will be a close race in Walker county, where the fight will be between the Underwoodville theater in Birmingham pulled the audience. Hobson's name called forth a few hisses. Underwood was greeted with applause by 1,500 persons.

FORMER ATLANTAN HEADS IMPORTANT COMMISSION WORK

News has been received in Atlanta of the appointment of B. C. Miller, who for many years lived in this city, and who is widely known as a former railroad man and civil engineer to the position of senior civil engineer of the southern valuation district in the work of making valuations of railroads...

Mr. Miller formerly was with the operating department of the Southern railway as division superintendent and with the engineering department as resident engineer. He received his technical education at the University of Georgia, receiving his first experience in the building of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road in 1883. He turned to coal mine engineering in 1884 and spent two years as an engineer in the Birmingham district. In 1885 he returned to railroad work serving with the Covington and Macon and Georgia Southern and Florida railroads until 1891. In 1893 and 1894 he was connected with the planning of the Cotton States and International exposition in Atlanta which was held in 1895. In the latter part of 1896 he became connected with the Georgia railway, and in 1907 when he resigned to take a position with the Cumberland railroad in the second Florida district the Kentucky division of the Southern he recently left the Cumberland, and has been engaged in the general contracting business in Louisville.

Mr. Miller has many friends in Atlanta who will be glad to hear of his appointment to the important position he now holds. He was prominent in the life of the city during his residence here. His wife is a daughter of the late Major John C. Whitner of Atlanta.

Delicious soup our hearts are hurt And tears overflow our eyes, That we can't have you for dessert Instead of cakes and pies. They want it often. The youngsters don't grow tired of Campbell's Tomato Soup. On the contrary they seem to like it better and better all the time. The taste for it becomes a wholesome habit, which is all to their benefit and yours; because it helps you to provide something they like which at the same time does them good. And it is equally acceptable and nourishing for every member of the family. Your money back if not satisfied. 21 kinds 10c a can. Campbell's Soups. LOOK FOR THE RED-AND-WHITE LABEL.

The Growth of a Reputation. Have you ever watched children rolling a snowball on the ground? Do you remember how it grew larger and larger every time it turned over? Well, E. G. Willingham's Sons reputation for lumber and interior trim is like that. Every year that rolls around brings in increase in our production. 542 Whitehall Street.

U. S. GOOD ROAD SCOUTS EN ROUTE TO ATLANTA

Reach City Tonight—Shortest Route Sought From Washington to Atlanta.

Augusta, Ga., March 25.—(Special).—The federal good roads scouting party, consisting of engineers from the government roads department and representatives of the National Highway Association, arrived here from Columbia this afternoon at 6 o'clock and were kept busy until after midnight listening to contentions from two delegations representing proposed routes between here and Atlanta.

to Atlanta by way of Athens and the other from Thomson to Atlanta by way of Warrenton and the towns along the Georgia railroad. Purpose of the Tour. The purpose of the tour is to find the shortest route from Washington, D. C., to Atlanta, Ga., taking into consideration the roads best and most easily maintained for automobile travel. The government will assign engineers to the work of co-operating in the maintenance of the roads selected and these will be kept open as the official route to Atlanta. To approximate each 300 miles of the highway an engineer will be assigned and, with the authorities of the various counties, will go over the roads once every ten days. The scheme is one of maintenance and not of construction. The counties must construct the roads and the engineers will take care of maintenance. Advocates of the Two Routes. Tonight fully a hundred representatives of the two desired routes, by Athens and by and through Warrenton, were here to urge their claims on the federal roads engineers. The counties represented were Talbot, Greene, Clarke, Morgan, Warren, Wilkes and McDuffie. State Geologist McCallie was here representing the route which included in the official party are

The Spring Term Enrollment Begins At The South's Most Popular Commercial School, The Southern Business University

Several Students Sent to Good Positions During the Past Week—One Goes With the Government in Washington.

The Spring Term of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, 10 West Mitchell street, opens next week, and already pupils are enrolling for that session. The management requests those intending to enter in April to call or write as early as possible. Those living out of Atlanta are requested to come to the city and call upon the prominent merchants, bankers, doctors, lawyers and well-known citizens, and ask them to recommend the leading business school of this section. Invariably when this method of investigation is pursued, the applicant enrolls at the Southern Shorthand and Business University is more than double that of any other business college in this city, and is four times as large as the attendance of some of the Atlanta colleges.

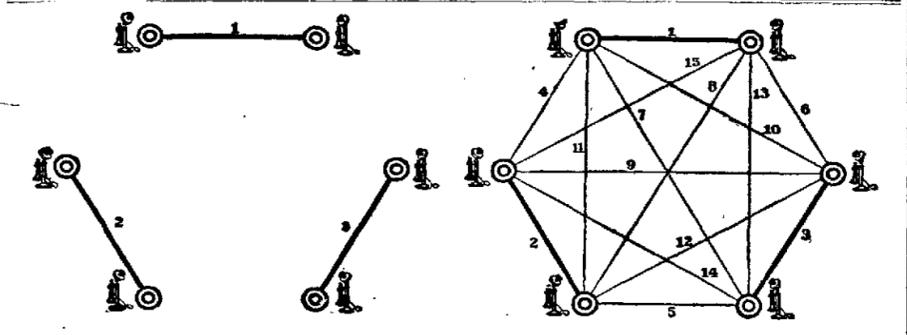

WM. NORTON FRENCH, A Graduate of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, Now Holding an Important Position in Chicago.

An interesting letter has just been received by the Southern from Mr. William Norton French, who now holds a responsible position with the Conon Specialty Company, of Chicago, Ill. Mr. French was one of the Southern's best students, and, as a natural consequence, he has risen rapidly in the business world. Among other things, he writes: "Since leaving the Southern, my experience in office work has been general, including bookkeeping, correspondence, shipping, buying raw material and selling finished product. Fulfilled Many Positions. "During my attendance at your college you furnished many students with excellent positions. Your institution is a straightforward, honest concern that does what it advertises."

The following letter, written by a prominent Atlanta attorney, was handed to the managers of the Southern yesterday. "This will introduce Mr. French, an old friend of mine, who is desirous of learning the old reliable Graham-Trent system as well as to make my own word-signs since leaving school, and I want to learn a system that has word-signs and a system that can be read," he stated. The National Shorthand Reporters' Association of America has adopted the Graham-Trent system as the standard system of the world. The Briscoe Revised Chart is the best method in existence for teaching the Graham system. The Southern's pupils are taught this famous system by this improved method. Don't get systems confused. The Southern does not teach trashy systems such as are condemned by the business men, as shown in the following advertisement, which appeared in the Atlanta papers. WANTED—Lady stenographer; work light; intelligent beginner will answer. No Charter writers need apply.

Union Increases Service

TWO connected telephones make the simplest form of telephone communication. Three segregated pairs give three lines for telephone talk. Unite the three pairs by means of a central office and an intercommunicating exchange system is formed, giving fifteen talk tracks. Five pairs thus connected give forty-five lines of communication, and so on, in regular mathematical rule.

Millions of such groups are thus connected in the Bell System.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

DIVIDEND IS REDUCED BY PENNSYLVANIA LINES

Philadelphia, March 25.—The directors of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company, southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, today reduced the dividend on the common stock from 5 per cent a year to 3 per cent and on the preferred stock from 5 per cent to 4 per cent. In connection with the announcement, President Rea, of the Pennsylvania, made the following statement: "The directors of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company at their meeting today considered and approved the annual report for 1913. The results of which have already appeared in the annual report of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. This report showed an increase of $4,600,000 in operating and maintenance expenses, which includes the extraordinary repairs for replacements and repairing tracks, bridges and other facilities destroyed or damaged by the recent floods of March, 1913. That after paying its fixed charges and appropriations to sinking and other reserves, the company declared a dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock, and 4 per cent on the preferred stock, aggregating $3,232,542, but in order to meet the same had to utilize in large part its surplus income from previous years. In view of the decline in the gross and net rev. of the company in the latter part of 1913 and so far in the present year, it is deemed prudent to reduce the dividend and, therefore, declared 1 per cent on the preferred stock for this first quarter of the fiscal year, or at the rate of 4 per cent on the common stock, and 3 per cent on the preferred stock, aggregating $3,232,542, but in order to meet the same had to utilize in large part its surplus income from previous years."

Up to the present time it appears that this year will be one of the best in the history of the city for the construction of apartment houses. Already plans have been announced and started on several handsome structures. It was learned on Wednesday that plans are being made for the construction of several more. It is expected that before the end of the present week the details of at least a half dozen of the new ones developed far enough to be made public. The need for more apartment houses in Atlanta is readily apparent from the increasing demand that renting agents are having for apartment house living space. The steady increase in Atlanta's population is another sure guarantee of the success of apartment houses as paying investments. In fact, a large number of realty investors in recent years have preferred to build apartment houses rather than stores and other forms of buildings. This desire to own apartment houses is also reflected in the trading of the last few weeks, during which several large apartment buildings have been purchased.

WILLIAM F. SHUMATE SOUGHT BY ALABAMA

William F. Shumate, who was recently indicted in the Georgia court of deserting his minor children, and was later sued for divorce by his wife, who is the daughter of Judge Fear, 39 Bedford place, is now wanted in Birmingham upon charges in connection with the divorce case. Mrs. Shumate named as co-respondent in her case, and Governor Sloan will decide this morning whether or not he will honor the requisition from Alabama. Shumate's general cases against him in Atlanta, and for this reason the governor does not yet have a decision. The hearing was held on Wednesday afternoon, and Attorney Federal was called in for the governor's consultation.

ATLANTA AD MEN GIVE MOVIE LUNCHEON TODAY

The Ad Men's club will hold a "movie luncheon" at the Hotel Ansley at 1 o'clock at the Hotel Ansley. The feature of the luncheon will be a lecture given by the author of the book, "The Art of Advertising," delivered by Frank W. Redfield, southern manager of the General Film company. The movie shown will be the Simplex projector and will be operated by D. J. McLeod, chief engineer of the Precision Machine company. Mr. Redfield is said to be one of the best and most successful lecturers in the "movie" business, having spent fifteen years in that line.

EXPERT ON SANITATION TO SPEAK IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., March 25.—(Special).—At a special meeting of a committee of the Columbus board of trade and a committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, with the "brightening up" campaign in Columbus in charge, it was decided to extend an invitation to Hon. Walter B. Braswell, city commissioner of Montgomery, one of the best authorities on sanitation in the south, to deliver a mass meeting of the citizens of Columbus on the night of Tuesday, March 31.

OLD HOME OF DURAND DAMAGED BY FLAMES

The old home of Henry Durand, the well-known restaurant proprietor of Atlanta at 247 North Peachtree street, was partially destroyed last night by fire, the roof falling in and the second floor being damaged considerably. The damage will approximate $5,000. J. Straus, a retired merchant, had lived in the house until recently, when he moved to 351 Washington street to live with his son, O. R. Straus. A small amount of furniture which had not been removed, was destroyed.

ALL KINDS OF DANCES AT THE GOBBLE'S BALL

The Ancient Order of Gobbles' tango ball at the Kimball house last night was a success. The Argentine tango, the Maxie glide and other modern dances were enjoyed by over 300 terpsichorean artists among the Gobbles.

NEW LAWS URGED BY SUFFRAGISTS

Want Compulsory Education, Bill to Allow Women to Practice Law, and Higher Age of Consent.

Plans were formulated at a business meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association Wednesday at the Ansley to carry on an aggressive campaign in the interest of several bills to be brought before the coming session of the legislature.

Upon recommendation of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage association, of which Mrs. M. L. McLendon is president, the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association will support a bill to allow women to practice law in Georgia; a bill to provide for compulsory education and a bill to raise the age of protection of girls from 10 to 18 years.

The resolution adopted by the Federation of Labor and the Federation of Women's Clubs, making May 31 Child Labor day, was endorsed by the association.

A resolution was passed endorsing the "clean-up crusade" being carried on by various organizations of the city to have Atlanta clean and sanitary for the coming convention of the Shriners.

W. T. GLOWER IS DEAD AT FAYETTEVILLE HOME

Fayetteville, Ga., March 25.—Lieutenant W. T. Glower, a prominent Confederate veteran of this city, died tonight at 10 o'clock at his residence.

Mr. Glower was county school commissioner for sixteen years, and was also for a number of years a member of the county board of commissioners.

So many people use S. S. S. every Spring that it is really a message of health to those who wonder why they feel so utterly worn out when the trees begin to bud.

OUR WINTER INACTIVITY. During the confined months of the winter season there are many of us who are less active. The liver is sluggish, the skin is dormant, the kidneys are overworked, the lungs are not called upon to breathe with sufficient depth and energy to satisfy the demands of the tissues for their needed amount of oxygen.

RETAINS ITS INDIVIDUALITY. The wonderful tonic influence of this splendid blood purifier is traced to its ability to retain its individuality. It is acceptable to the weakest stomach, and yet it is not changed or converted, or excreted until it has exercised its medicinal dominance throughout the blood circulation.

$1.50 Bed Spreads $1

Full double-bed size, heavy crochet quilts with deep hems. Neat patterns. 70x80 inches. $2 all-linen hemmed sheets. 72x90. $1.

Girls' New $1.50 & $1.25 Dresses $1

LINES ARE DRAWN FOR HARDEST FIGHT

Simply reading these letters to show the feeling and indignation among the ordinary people of the south.

Senator Thomas protested against the reading of letters impugning the motives of the president. He declared senators should make such charges directly.

Senator Thornton contended that the Laikin letter was improper and would have been received by the senate. The incident ended with Senator Chamberlain taking up his resolution to repeal the provisions of the rivers and harbors bill of 1884, which forbids the levying of tolls on inland waterways.

Smith after Chamberlain. Senator Charles Smith, of Georgia, offered an amendment to the resolution introduced by Senator Chamberlain.

FIND NITROGLYCERIN A HOME OF SUSPECT

Detectives Dig It Up in Yard of Alleged Train Bandit Fields.

Plain Clothes Sergeant George Bullard, Harry Scott of the Pinkertons, and Plain Clothes Sergeant E. Shaw Wednesday afternoon found buried in the back yard at 89 Brookline avenue a quart of nitroglycerin.

Greenview, S. C., March 25.—John Radliff was arrested by detectives near here today in connection with the robbery of a Queen and Crescent express on February 13. He denies knowledge of the crime.

Bank books showing deposits of $2,000 to Radliff's credit in Greenville and Columbia, S. C., were found among the prisoner's effects according to the detectives who arrested him.

The Atlanta police have received no official notice of the arrest of John Radliff, and for this reason attach no importance to the report that he was with the Queen and Crescent train robbery.

SENT THE LAST SIGNAL MESSAGE OF CIVIL WAR. Pierre Foyal Hurbut, who sent the last signal message in the civil war, died Wednesday morning at the residence of his son, Harry D. Hurbut, at 42 Grand place, West End.

Indifference Only Fee. V. H. Kriegerhaber, discussing this very point before the committee, said that the only opposition the bonds would have would be in the nature of an ordinary election.

Will Raise Funds. Upon the amount of money that will be raised by the finance committee will depend, in a large measure, the scope of the campaign.

DECIDE ON MAY 5 TO PASS ON BONDS

By Saturday noon it is expected that all the details will be worked out perfectly, and that the only campaigning to be done between that time and May 5 will rest with the finance and the publicity committees.

Wednesday's meeting was primarily for the purpose of placing with the general committee the report of the committee appointed to confer with the finance committee and the publicity committee.

He said that the mayor promised to call a special meeting of the council to pass on the proposition whenever asked to do so by the hospital committee.

Ruling by Maxson. City Attorney Maxson was consulted over the telephone when the point was raised that it would be illegal under the Australian ballot system, to establish the county election places in the voting places, the booths at which the voters will cast their ballots for the hospital bonds.

Indifference Only Fee. V. H. Kriegerhaber, discussing this very point before the committee, said that the only opposition the bonds would have would be in the nature of an ordinary election.

Will Raise Funds. Upon the amount of money that will be raised by the finance committee will depend, in a large measure, the scope of the campaign.
