

10,067 Votes Needed Today To Secure a City Hospital Worthy of Atlanta's Size

Every Man Who Fails to Cast Vote Will Be Voting Against the Bonds—Indifference the Only Enemy of Greater Institution.

SUCCESS AT THE POLLS PREDICTED BY VOTERS

Bond Boxes Will Be Placed as Near the County Election Boxes as Is Possible. Law Prevents Them Being in Same Room.

HERE ARE FACTS ABOUT GRADY BOND ISSUE.

The Grady bond issue provides for $750,000 to enlarge and improve the city hospital of Atlanta. It is not a large bond issue for this purpose. Louisville, which is about the same size as Atlanta, recently spent one million dollars for a similar institution.

The interest and the principal on the Grady bonds will not come out of the city treasury. It will be met by the income of the pay wards of the hospital.

Atlanta has spent less per capita on her city hospital during the last five years than any other city of her size in the United States.

The present Grady hospital is too small to take care of the sick and injured of a city one-half Atlanta's population.

The Grady bond issue is to remedy this, once and for all. It is to give Atlanta a hospital of which the city can be proud.

For several years the Grady hospital—Atlanta's only institution for sick people who cannot afford hospital expenses—has been turning away each day from five to twenty human beings in more or less desperate need of medical attention.

The bonds for a greater Grady require two-thirds of the entire registered vote. The registration this year is 13,000. For the bond to pass, 10,067 of these votes must be for a greater Grady.

Every man who fails to vote will be voting against the bonds. The big enemy of a bond issue is not the voters which are cast but the votes which are not cast.

Victory Is Predicted. It was predicted last night at greater Grady headquarters that the bonds would carry by a good majority.

It is now about three weeks since the campaign for a greater Grady began in earnest. Never have the workers for a public improvement relied so much on the general knowledge of its need, and so little on the ordinary campaign methods.

Here are some of the points which have been brought out. That whites and blacks are treated together in the same outdoor clinic.

That the arrangement of the building and the nature of the structure, make the hospital the worst kind of a fire trap.

BITTER BATTLES TO BE DECIDED AT POLLS TODAY

Sheriff, Tax Collector, Tax Receiver and Three County Commissioners Will Be Named.

THREE CANDIDATES SEEK TO BE FULTON SHERIFF

City Clerk Walter Taylor and Secretary Cochran Have Completed All Arrangements for Election.

Following a campaign of more than three months—a campaign in which crept no little amount of bitterness among certain of the candidates—democrats of Fulton county today for a sheriff, tax collector, tax receiver and three county commissioners.

More interest is centered on the county election this year than in many years past. Lively contests are being waged for Sheriff C. Wheeler Mangum, incumbent, Captain W. M. Mayo, of the police department, and L. O. Wright, deputy city marshal.

It is expected that there will be a heavy vote on account of the interest. The total registration for the county is 13,000. For the bond to pass, 10,067 of these votes must be for a greater Grady.

For sheriff there are three candidates. C. Wheeler Mangum is running for re-election and is opposed by Captain W. M. Mayo, of the Atlanta police department, and L. O. Wright, deputy city marshal of Atlanta.

For tax collector there are two candidates. E. Stewart is running for re-election and is opposed by Charles I. Branham and C. Robert Maddox. T. M. Armistead is running for re-election and is opposed by W. H. E. Jones.

For clerk of the superior court, coroner and surveyor there are no competitors. For the judges of the superior court, the candidates are J. C. Wright, J. C. Wright, Jr., and Charles G. Turner.

For the two places on the board of county commissioners from the county at large, the candidates are George B. Findlay, Dr. A. L. Gilbert, and J. C. Wright, Jr.

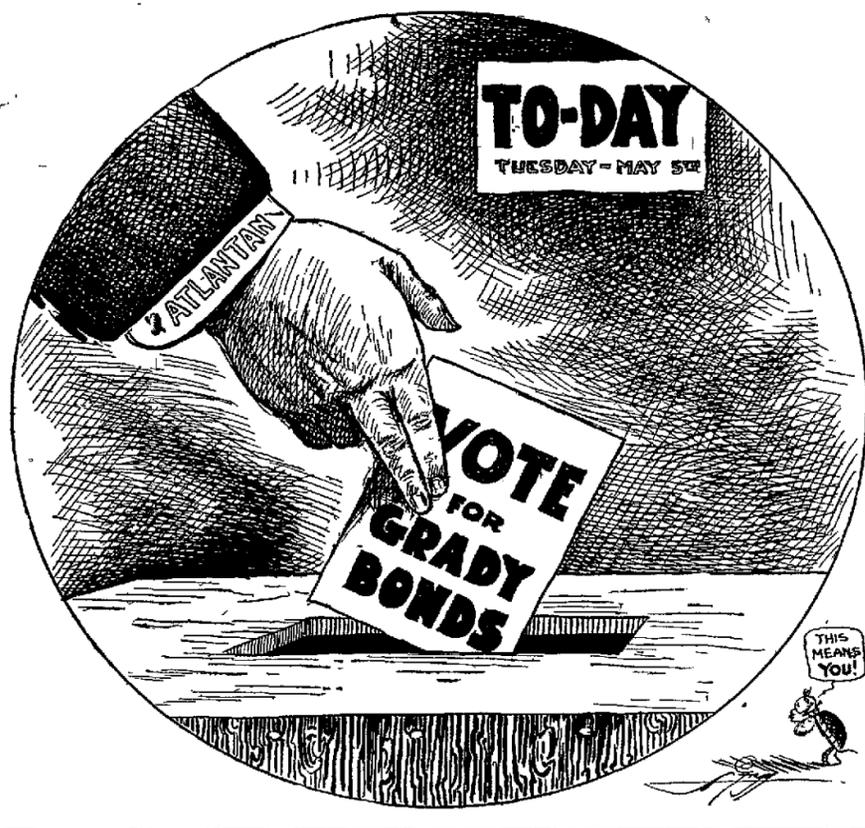

For the places on the county board for the county districts, there are two candidates. Tull C. Waters, who is now a county commissioner from the county at large, is running for the county place, and is opposed by Oscar Mills.

For the places on the county board for the various wards and country precincts, the candidates are as follows: First ward, Precinct B, 149 East Hunter street.

For the places on the county board for the various wards and country precincts, the candidates are as follows: Second ward, Precinct B, 149 East Hunter street.

For the places on the county board for the various wards and country precincts, the candidates are as follows: Third ward, Precinct B, 149 East Hunter street.

UNKNOWN STEAMER SWEEPED BY FLAMES; NO SIGNS OF LIFE

The Steamer Seydlitz Sighted Vessel Blazing From Stern to Stern 300 Miles South of Cape Race.

Halifax, N. S., May 4.—An unknown steamer, on fire from stern to stern and with no signs of life on board, was discovered 300 miles south of Cape Race.

The Seydlitz immediately called by wireless for assistance and response came from the Franconia, 50 miles to the eastward, bound for Boston, and the Olympic 200 miles to the west, headed for New York.

The weather on the Grand Banks today was moderate and it was thought that any transshipment could have been accomplished easily.

So far as learned tonight no steamer equipped with wireless reported heretofore near to Cape Race than to Sable Island, but the radio-station at Sable Island was the first to pick up the message.

COLE BLEASE DEFEATED IN COUNTY CONVENTIONS

Governor Loses in First Test of Strength With United States Senator Smith.

Columbia, S. C., May 4.—Supporters of D. D. Smith, United States senator from South Carolina, asserted tonight that the results in democratic conventions in the four counties of south Carolina today indicated that the senator had won the first test of strength with Cole L. Blease, governor of South Carolina, who is opposing Senator Smith for re-election.

The county conventions today were for the purpose of selecting delegates to the democratic state convention here on May 29. The convention will formulate rules to govern the state-wide primary for the nomination of democratic candidates for the state offices and a candidate for United States senator.

Governor Blease failed of election as a delegate from Newberry county, his home Senator Smith was elected a delegate from his home county, Lee. The exact strength of the supporters of Governor Blease and Senator Smith in the coming state convention could not be computed tonight.

Primary reform was discussed in many of the county conventions and action is expected at the state meeting. Resolutions indorsing the administration of President Wilson, both as it concerns domestic and foreign affairs, were passed by many of the county conventions.

WILSON SELECTS BANKING BOARD

Olney Named for Governor. Other Selections Are Warburg, Wheeler, Harding and Miller.

BELIEVED THAT OLNEY WILL REFUSE THE POST. Boston, May 4.—No statement was forthcoming from Richard Olney tonight regarding his appointment as governor of the federal reserve board, but an intimate friend stated that Olney would decline.

Washington, May 4.—President Wilson tonight had selected the five men who, together with the secretary of the treasury, G. McAdoo, and the controller of the currency, John Skelton Williams, are to compose the federal reserve board.

All of those selected had not yet accepted, so formal announcement will not be made for another day or two. Of the five men to whom the president has offered places are: Richard Olney, of Boston, Mass., former secretary of state under President Cleveland, and former president of the board.

Paul Moritz Warburg, of New York, member of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

W. P. G. Harding, of Birmingham, Ala., president of the First National Bank of Birmingham, and one of the leading bankers of the south.

Dr. Miller's selection was not commented until late tonight, although the names of the other four were known throughout the day. Dr. Miller is 48 years old, holds a professorship in finance in the University of California, and has degrees from Harvard and the Universities of Paris and Munich.

The president is very anxious that Mr. Olney accept, and had a personal representative in Boston today urging him to do so. The impression among persons close to the president was that Mr. Olney would decline, as he did the ambassadorship to Great Britain, on account of his age.

Should Mr. Olney decline, it is believed Mr. Harding or Mr. Warburg will be chosen to head the board, but this will not be determined until definite word comes from the first choice.

Persons close to the president confirmed the names of the first four men above mentioned and discussed freely the principles which had guided the

RETURN OF NEGRESS ORDERED BY JUDGE MONDAY MORNING

If Anna Maud Carter Is Not in Atlanta Within Five Days Her Evidence Will Not Be Considered.

Charges of bribery, perjury and coercion of witnesses will be thoroughly investigated by Solicitor Dorsey and then a number of prosecutions will follow, according to a statement by the solicitor on Monday night.

"Prosecutions will certainly follow later on," he said. "It will be my duty as a prosecuting officer to see that justice is done. Outside of that, I can say nothing else, except that the scope of my prosecutions will include all who have been guilty of crookedness—even the men higher up."

Judge Ben Hill demanded of Leo Frank's defense yesterday afternoon that Anna Maud Carter, the negro witness, be returned to the jurisdiction of the court within five days.

He declared that if she were not brought back to Atlanta within that time he would decline to consider her evidence or any evidence in which she was involved.

"Detective Burns admitted before me," said Judge Hill, that he had sent Anna Maud Carter from the jurisdiction of the court. I want an order drawn commanding Anna Maud Carter to be returned to Atlanta in five days or I will not consider any of the evidence in which she is concerned."

A few minutes later Judge Hill supplemented his statement with these words: "In making this demand I do not mean to reflect on the counsel for Frank. It was testified before me that Detective Burns had removed the Carter woman."

It is said that immediate efforts will be made to bring the missing woman back to Atlanta. She is now in New Orleans, where, according to a letter she recently wrote relatives in this city, she is working with the William J. Burns Detective Agency. This letter was read to Judge Hill by Solicitor Dorsey Monday afternoon.

Anna Maud Carter is the negro who accuses Jim Conley of having confessed to her the murder of Mary Phagan. A literal mountain of evidence was introduced by the solicitor Monday to show that she had conspired with George and Jimmy Wrenn in Fulton jail, to frame up on Conley. Other testimony was adduced to show that she had told friends and relatives upon being released from jail that she had tried to "pick" Conley and that he had firmly maintained that Leo Frank was the murderer.

Regarding the Carter woman, Attorney Arnold was asked by a reporter whether she had been released from jail. Frank or the Burns agents would seek to bring the woman back to the city. Mr. Arnold smiled in reply, saying that he did not know as yet.

Gen. Velasco Declares He Will Never Again Lead Troops Against the Rebels. Refugees at Vera Cruz.

HUERTA AND BLANQUET ARE DOOMED TO DEATH

Vera Cruz, May 4.—A proclamation, dated May 1, and signed by Zapata, published today in the local Mexican papers announces that the southern rebels on May 5 will attack Mexico City. It also condemns General Huerta and General Aureliano Blanquet to death.

Vera Cruz, May 4.—The outbreak of another military revolt in Mexico headed by General Jose Refugio Velasco, who recently was driven out of Torreon by Francisco Villa, would not cause any great surprise in the federal capital, according to conservative observers among the refugees who arrived here today.

General Velasco is said to be grievously disappointed because of the failure of the government in Mexico City to support him properly in the defense of Torreon, and he is declared to have stated that he would never again lead a column of troops against the rebels.

The fall of Torreon and the subsequent disaster to the federal troops are asserted by General Velasco to have been entirely due to the failure of the war department to heed his request for small arm ammunition at a time when he said it was perfectly feasible for it to reach him.

This Decision Because of the Refusal of Carranza to Agree to an Armistice With the Dictator.

HUERTA NAMES AGENTS TO MEET MEDIATORS

United States Has Not Yet Named Representative. Reported That the Mediators Will Deal Only With the Tampico Incident.

Washington, May 4.—General Carranza and the constitutionalists today were practically eliminated from the proceedings of the three South American envoys who have undertaken to solve the Mexican problem by diplomacy.

In a telegram to General Carranza, the mediators announced that, in view of his refusal to agree to an armistice with General Huerta, they withdrew their invitation to him to send a personal representative to participate in the mediation negotiations.

The mediators told the constitutionalist leader that as long as he maintained his present attitude they must decline to treat with him. General Carranza had inquired in a note to the envoys what subjects a special representative might be required to discuss, pointing out that if the general problem of pacifying Mexico were to be approached he could not authorize any one to participate in the negotiations.

He reiterated that he would consent to mediation only on the incidents which had brought on a controversy "between the United States and Mexico," holding that he was the constitutional leader chosen, to whom complaint about the insult at Tampico and other offenses originally should have been made.

In their telegram tonight the mediators quoted Carranza's last note to them, adding that as long as he maintained that attitude they must decline to receive a representative from him as they could not separate the incidents at Tampico and elsewhere which had brought about friction between Mexico and the United States from the general subject of pacifying Mexico.

Earlier in the day it became known that, in view of the unwilling attitude of the constitutionalists' mediation virtually would be limited to the arrest of American marines at Tampico and other offenses which had brought about friction between Mexico and the United States to the verge of war.

Suggestions that General Carranza might change his attitude after he took Saultillo brought no comment from local representatives of the constitutionalists.

The language of the telegram sent by the mediators leaves open to Carranza, however, the privilege of sending a special representative to participate in peace negotiations whenever he is willing to arrange an armistice with Huerta.

This new turn in events ended, in the view of many officials, the chance of solving the entire Mexican problem immediately, though it did not lessen the enthusiasm of the mediators who will continue their efforts to solve the differences between Huerta and the United States which directly brought about the present crisis.

SITUATION SOMEWHAT TENSE. Mexican developments moved rapidly here today with an evident tenor.

In the diplomatic and the military situations. The South American mediators held three lengthy sessions during the night, stating through Secretary Bryan that General Huerta had named de Millio Rabasa, an eminent Mexican jurist, and Augustine Garza, under-secretary of justice, as two of his delegates to confer with the mediators. Mr. Bryan did not reply to the mediators as to the appointment of American delegates.

The length of the envoys' conference with Secretary Bryan led to the belief that something more was discussed than the mere matter of names of delegates, and that some of the crucial questions were being approached. Reports of the desperate condition of Huerta at Mexico City continued to circulate, and with such circumstantial detail from authentic sources as to leave no doubt of his critical condition.

At the same time the military aspect of the situation again became increasingly prominent. General Funston reported renewed demands by the federal outposts for the surrender of the waterworks supplying Vera Cruz. No shots were fired, and the Mexicans fell back, but General Funston voiced the prevailing spirit in military quarters in inquiring as to what steps the United States contemplated in view of the threatening situation.

Secretary Garrison conferred with his military chiefs, but said no further orders had been given for the movement of troops and none are contemplated during the mediation.

The Fourth of Sixth brigade of the Second division of the army with headquarters at Texas City, is ready and could board the four transports due back at Galveston today if more troops are needed.

HUERTA'S SITUATION GROWS DESPERATE.

Word that Huerta is in desperate straits came from many quarters. One dispatch from a foreign minister at Mexico City said briefly of Huerta: "Position desperate, but have no details."

Another, through diplomatic channels reported Mexico City outwardly quiet today. Still another referred to the doubtful attitude of the troops heretofore loyal to Huerta.

Information also came that the quarrels between General Blanquet, minister of war, and Huerta, might bring quiet to the front in case of Huerta's fall, much as Huerta rose after the collapse of the Madero regime and the Felix Diaz movement.

The British minister at Mexico City notified the state department that Americans there were in no way harassed or in danger, but that he advised them to remain in close quarters and avoid demonstrations until they could leave.

This situation at Mexico gave added importance to the summoning of Joaquin D. Casasus from Carlsbad. It was believed that his real post was to be minister of foreign affairs at Mexico City, to take the place of Rojas. The minister of foreign affairs in direct line for the president under the Mexican constitution, so that this would bring the succession of a man regarded as particularly strong in case Huerta disappeared from the scene. Casasus was formerly Mexican ambassador at Washington, and those who know him well, including some of the mediators, spoke in high terms of his fitness for the foreign ministry and the presidential succession at this juncture.

Perkerson and Frank Reeves Lied, Asserts George Wrenn

Dr. George Wrenn, the young medical student and former inmate of the Fulton jail, who has been accused by affidavit-makers on the Frank case, telephoned The Constitution office last night and branded as a "damnable liar" the charge of Frank Reeves and Fred Perkerson that he had conspired against Jim Conley.

"This Perkerson and Frank Reeves have lied. They apparently are doing it to shield themselves. It was Reeves and Perkerson who carried the notes from Jim Conley to Maud Carter. They were the most popular note carriers of the prison."

"I seldom thought of Jim Conley, much less sought to 'frame-up' on him. I went to Frank's cell, it is true, but I went there in the capacity of hospital interne and to borrow papers from him. I also carried him papers numerous times, and carried him other things."

Jim Conley never interested me. Certainly, if I had conspired against him, I'd have been foolish to take two ignorant negroes into my confidence. And as to the affidavit, I tried to get Reeves to sign, I merely wanted him to put in writing the statement that he made to me that he had carried the notes from Conley to the Carter woman."

"I told me Reeves and Perkerson that he had signed the notes and offered to sign the paper. He would have signed if I had been sure that he would not be exposed by Detective Bass Rosser at the time. Rosser must have prevailed on him to sign, and he did not sign them, as he never would after Rosser's appearance."

"I was asked by a reporter if he had been employed by Frank's defense to assist in gathering newly discovered evidence, as it was reported before Judge Ben Hill that he had been connected with his brother, Jimmie Wrenn, in certain angles of the evidence in the retrial motion."

NIGHTLY DEATH THREAT FOR AMERICAN CONSUL

Vera Cruz, May 4.—News reached here today that John R. Sullivan, acting American consul at San Luis Potosi, has been a prisoner in the hands of General Joaquin Maas, the federal commander, for eleven days and has been threatened every night with execution.

The information about Mr. Sullivan's predicament was brought here by two newspaper correspondents who had come to Mexico City at the invitation of Provisional President Huerta. They went to the north to watch the field operations of the federals and after they witnessed the defeat of the federals at San Pedro were taken back to San Luis Potosi and imprisoned, but afterwards were released.

MEXICAN WOMAN ARRESTED FOR "SNIPING" JACKIES

Vera Cruz, May 4.—A woman said to have killed eight bluejackets and marines by sniping them in the streets during the first days of the American occupation, tonight was given into the hands of military authorities. A Mexican had informed army officials of her whereabouts, upon which her house was searched and a quantity of arms found. She will be tried by a court tomorrow on charges of murder.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

It is an unalloyed pleasure to be able to fall back on the Keith Vaudeville show without one word of criticism—not even a little "if" or "but" to mar the enjoyment of the whole.

This is the case with the show offered Atlanta vaudeville patrons by Manager Frank H. Fox at the Forsyth this week. It's a winner from start to finish—one of those performances which make you feel that it's good to be living; one that makes you forget all your troubles and your worries for the time being. It is a sure tonic for the ill of the flesh than all the medicine doctors could offer.

It has been Atlanta vaudeville that the big acts failed to give proportionate satisfaction. This is not true this week. The biggest act is probably the best. In "The Trained Nurse" lovers of variety are offered everything that their hearts could crave.

There are pretty girls, almost a plot, clever people and at least three good singers. It would be mighty hard to find a girl and a boy who could give more satisfaction in popular songs than Henry Bergman and Sammy Sloan, "The Patient," and Gladys Clark as Susan Gray, "the new nurse" whose business it is to make all the rich patients fall in love with her. The songs are tuneful and catchy.

Certainly next in merit to this act and perhaps on an equality—folks differ in opinion, you know—is the line of chatter presented by Mill Collins, well as "The Speaker of the House." When he gets through telling you about Mexico and Theodore Roosevelt and race suicide, and mixed juries, and other things, you feel that you have used up all the laughs that were ever in your life.

The three Renards, in their original scenic production, held the attention of the crowd throughout. McCrea and Burns have a neat sharp-shooting act. Warren and Effie Conley won friends in their number. Jimmie Lucius was a scream in a clever lot of nonsense. The Five Musical Germans have a classy musical offering.

ROBERT MORAN.

"Look Who's Here."
(At the Grand.)

That's a good show they've got up at the Grand this week—one of those girly-musical comedies with situations, complications and more or less music and singing and a good female impersonator. They call it "Look Who's Here!"

There are two good situations in it. In the first act there are only two—William Fricker's sister-in-law, who is in the undesirable neighborhood of 35 or 40 and unmarried (you can guess the horrible rest), tries her brother's tough tonic, which is an undisclosed Scotch highball of undisputed strength. Being a spinster—or, bachelor girl, as most 'em like to call it—and opposed to drink to the extent of never having taken one before, she naturally becomes hilarious. The ingenious moves of the sundry and varied objects of her devotion to escape them prove quite laughable material.

In the second act the female impersonator, Hat Johnson, by the way, who is the star of the cast, impersonates a popular actress who comes to the summer resort, and about to be caught by the p. m. dicks. Being a broken mirror, where he is forced to pose as the actress, she hides herself in the broken space that was once a mirror. The stunt is not a new one, by any means, but it evidently was second-handed to last night's house, as the audience verged on hysterics.

Miss Jackie Tellman, as Sally Gray, is refreshing. She is the principal note of the outfit, and her singing and dancing made an instantaneous hit. She is supported by a small but clever chorus which has been well trained and which can sing more than usually good for small choruses of its class.

"Look Who's Here" will be at the Grand until Thursday. Three shows a day, at 10 and 20 cents.

BRIT CRAIG.

"Heir to the Hoarah."
(At the Lyric.)

Rough in spots, but with every indication that the wrinkles will be smoothed over, "The Heir to the Hoarah" was given an admirable first night presentation at the Lyric last night.

Much of the play depends entirely on the rich vein of comedy which flows through the four acts, and a great deal upon the character portrayals. In the latter respect, Miss LeVern's players arose to lofty heights, particularly Forbes Aymer, who with a broken mirror, where he is forced to pose as the actress, she hides herself in the broken space that was once a mirror. The stunt is not a new one, by any means, but it evidently was second-handed to last night's house, as the audience verged on hysterics.

Another masterful interpretation was furnished by James A. Marcus, as the rough mine owner, Dave Lacey. Robert Middlemas did not seem to grasp his part which, that same dash and dash over his lines, friends and several others in the cast fell into the same error.

In the play was splendid, as usual. She displayed the same careful treatment of her rather difficult role. Miss Chase was very good in fact her work as Mrs. Lacey will long be remembered. Miss Hankell simply revivified in her part as the haughty Mrs. Kent. The other members of the company were very good.

"Heir to the Hoarah" is elaborate staged, and when the rough spots are referred to are smoothed over, it will prove a treat to theatergoers.

usual small Monday night crowd really and truly enjoyed the play.

We placed before him four different methods

Nearly a year ago the secretary of a Title and Guarantee Company in a big southern city called at our New York salesroom. He wanted to find the method best adapted to the filing of card records.

We placed before him four different methods, not all of them our own. He tested them for speed, simplicity and practicability. With this result: He found that the Automatic Index was quickest, simplest, freest from error. He also found—and this is the feature that should appeal to you—that in a few minutes time the finding of a card becomes almost mechanical.

Naturally, we got the order.

Nothing would please us more than to have you do what the Title man did—investigate, compare, decide. Count motions, use a stop watch, make any test you please.

Hundreds of business houses have adopted the "Automatic Index." Tell your names? Ask us. We'll be glad to tell you.

2 KILLED, 1 SHOT BY PISTOL-TOTERS

After Agreeing to Settle Difficulty With Fists, the Worst Man Kills Friend With Revolver.

Pistol toters played prominent parts in three Georgia tragedies reported yesterday.

Two men living near Moultrie agreed to settle a difficulty with their fists, but one of them being worsted, it is stated, rushed for his revolver and shot dead his neighbor and former friend.

Following a cousin who was killed a year ago in a feud, Will Teal, a prominent citizen of Harris county, died after being shot down on the highway. Before dying he accused two brothers of another family of doing the shooting.

In Grady county a prominent farmer named William Spence was shot by his companion in a buggy. He escaped with his life, as bystanders prevented further shooting.

DEATH ENDS FIGHT OVER 30 CENTS.

Moultrie, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—A sad tragedy was enacted 15 miles west of this city yesterday afternoon, when Brantley Timmons was shot to death by Jesse Holland, his neighbor and lifelong friend.

The two men fell out Saturday over 30 cents' worth of shingles and were prevented from fighting then by mutual friends.

Reports says that Holland went to the home of Timmons Sunday about noon and endeavored to renew the difficulty, but was finally persuaded to leave. In the afternoon he was driving along the road in a buggy with two friends and met Timmons riding a bicycle, and jumping from his buggy, stopped Timmons and told him he proposed to have it out with him. Timmons told him he did not want any trouble, but if he had to scrap he would fight him a fair fight and have it over with.

They engaged in a fist fight and Holland got the worst of it and after being separated, the two men fought again with the same result.

When they got up from the ground Timmons proposed that they shake hands and be friends, and they did. Holland then went to his buggy, and getting in, he met Timmons riding a bicycle, and immediately opened fire. Timmons fell to the ground and Holland stooping over him, emptied his pistol into the prostrate body of his friend. Timmons died a few hours later.

Both were married men with families and both belonged to well-to-do and prosperous families.

Holland has not been captured, though Sheriff Boyd and his deputies have scoured the country for him.

SHOT ON HIGHWAY, HARRIS MAN DIES.

Columbus, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Will Spence, a prominent farmer living in the edge of Grady county, was shot while on the public highway 8 miles west of Chipley yesterday at noon and died last night from the wounds. A report from Chipley says that before he died he stated that he was shot by two brothers.

No warrants have been issued and arrests had been made late this afternoon. Teal was shot in six places and his horse was also wounded by a bullet. It is reported that his shooting is the result of a feud. Last year his cousin, Mans Teal, was also shot and killed.

INVITED TO RIDE, SHOT BY COMPANION.

Felham, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—Mack McCoy, a prominent farmer living in the edge of Grady county about 5 miles west of Felham, had a narrow escape late yesterday afternoon, when Mack McCoy, a former half cropper, hauled a pistol and fired on him. McCoy went to the home of Spence, it is said, and asked him to get in his buggy with him and ride to a place where they would have a fair fight. Spence refused to do so and when they reached the churchyard McCoy got out of the buggy and fired his gun and fired the shot, narrowly missing Spence. He was removed from firing again by bystanders.

A warrant has been sworn out for McCoy, but it is not known whether he has yet been apprehended or not.

MERCHANTS OFFER $500 FOR SLAYER

Storekeepers Determined to Secure Arrest and Conviction of the Slayer of Harry Wolfe.

The sum of $500 has been pledged by Atlanta merchants leading to the capture and conviction of the negro highwayman who entered the store of Harry Wolfe, at 276 Chapel street, Saturday night and shot him to death, when he refused to hand over his money.

The sum was given by merchants and personal friends of Wolfe, who declare that an end must be put to the continuous burglaries and hold-ups of storekeepers by negro highwaymen in the city. Morris Litchenstein was named treasurer.

The police have secured a few clues as to the identity of the masked bandit who killed Wolfe, and are working on the case day and night in hope of locating the murderer.

27 AUTOS ARE ENTERED FOR ANNUAL HILL CLIMB

Number of Entrants Will Make Event Greatest in This Section.

At the meeting of the Atlanta Automobile committee of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory association, held yesterday, it was shown that when entries closed for the third annual hill climb, to be held May 9, on Stewart avenue, there were twenty-seven bona fide entrants paid in. This in itself will make this the greatest hill climb ever pulled off in this section of the country, if not in the entire United States.

Entries are as follows:

- Event No. 1—189 cu. in. piston displacement and under: Studebaker "20," E. H. Odum; Studebaker "20," C. C. Rooney; Oakland, George W. Hanson.
 - Event No. 2—161 to 230 cu. in.: Metz "22," R. W. Billups, Wadleyville, Ga.; Buick "18," A. H. Hark, Knoxville, Tenn.; Ford "17," R. S. Abbott; Studebaker "20," M. B. Frost; Studebaker "20," Studebaker Corp., Chairman; "20," E. H. Odum, H. S. Moss.
 - Event No. 3—230 to 300 cu. in.: Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane, Overland, W. S. Becker; Starna, C. F. McKinstry; Yellie, Yellie Motor Vehicle company.
 - Event No. 4—301 to 400 cu. in.: Studebaker "30," National, Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane; National, Bruce McKerrall.
 - Event No. 5—401 to 450 cu. in.: Studebaker "30," Marmon, Dr. Frank Edmondson; Buick "24," R. S. Abbott; Studebaker "30," George M. Ruddy; Studebaker, E. H. Odum; Ford, R. S. Abbott; Pope-Hartford, L. S. Crane; Studebaker "30," National, Bruce McKerrall; Chalmers, H. E. and H. S. Moss.
- Most of the above were out on Stewart avenue Monday morning practicing, as the road is open for practice every morning this week from 8 until 11 o'clock. And this is not all. There are still some post entries that will be in before the day of the climb, May 9, and their paying double entry fees will not keep them out. The people of Atlanta hardly realize that this city is one of the only three cities in the United States that holds hill climbs regularly each year, and there has never been a better hill climb list that could boast of such a long list of entries as the above.

HOUSE DETECTIVE AT ANSLEY HOTEL RECOVERS DIAMOND

Harry Sapphorin, special house detective of the Hotel Ansley, aided by Sada Wilson, a maid, who plays the role of a detective, recover a valuable diamond that had been stolen from a guest's room at the hotel about two weeks ago. The diamond belonged to E. F. Giesman, a salesman for the John Deere Plow company, of St. Louis. It was recovered Saturday, being found at 22 Carnegie way.

As a result, Miss Dorothea Roth, 29 years old, of 22 Carnegie way, was bound over Monday afternoon by Judge Preston, at police court, under a $500 bond for larceny and for a statutory charge. A sweetheart of the young lady, named Thomas B. Equire, 28, of 87 Hendrix avenue, was implicated in the charges, and he was bound over under $200 bond for a statutory offense. Miss Roth has been a maid at the Ansley and she claimed that she found the diamond in some trash.

MOCKINGBIRDS PREVENT STORE FROM BURNING UP

Columbus, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—The chirping of mockingbirds probably prevented a heavy fire loss at the Methuen hardware store at an early morning hour.

A policeman's attention was attracted by the unusual cries of the birds some time before daybreak, and going up an alley to investigate, found himself in a heavy smoke, which had disturbed the birds.

The fire was in a storage house in the rear of the store. The fire department arrived quickly, but considerable damage to the stock was done by smoke and water.

Do the people of Fulton county want to turn the county jail over to the police department? Well, hardly.

My record as written on the minutes of the county commission proves that I have advocated more real reforms in the convict system than any other member of the board. Don't let ring politicians, in the guise of reformers, prevent your VOTING FOR TULL C. WATERS.

CASE AGAINST WATSON WILL AGAIN BE HEARD

Witnesses Summoned to Appear Before Federal Grand Jury in Augusta.

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—United States District Attorney Alexander Akerman has issued subpoenas for the witnesses who testified at a former United States grand jury hearing when Thomas E. Watson, the editor and politician of McDuffie county, was indicted on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails in connection with his fight on the Catholic church, summoning them to appear again at Augusta on May 12.

The district attorney will bring the matter before the grand jury again and endeavor to have Mr. Watson indicted again. The previous indictment was quashed because it was defective. Mr. Watson conducted his own defense at that time.

The objectionable matter which it is alleged Mr. Watson circulated was what he claimed to be a reprint of questions charged by him that Catholic priests asked of women in the confessional. The questions were printed in Latin but were translated for District Attorney Akerman by a professor at Mercer university.

Should an indictment be found the case would not be heard at the coming term of court in Augusta.

ATLANTA NEW YORK PARIS

A Merry May Sale of Muslin Underwear

The Exact Meaning of Which Is Savings

Savings for all women planning their wardrobes for the long summer. Savings on exquisite trousseaux for June brides. A clearaway of many odd lots of garments slightly soiled from counter display and handling.

So, all in all, it's a sale to read of and then to attend. Its meaning is clean-cut and positive; it carries a message of savings to practically every woman.

We have just unpacked big cases of new undermuslins that we bought to your advantage. They show the new treatment of laces and embroideries, the new uses of nets in gowns, the new corset covers, with semi-fitting backs and Princess slips that open in front, slashed petticoats—many novelties—and they are all marked at substantial savings on what they are actually worth, what they would cost at any other time. With these goes every odd lot, broken assortment we have in stock, and the merry May Sale is on!

Interesting Features of the White Sale

- Gowns. At 48c, some twelve styles of cambric, nainsook and muslin, trimmed with embroideries and linen laces. Slip-over styles, and high-neck and long-sleeve styles.
- At 69c, $1.00 gowns that are a bit mussed. Besides the nainsook there are many of crepe that need no ironing. Charming styles, particularly those with the low, round neck edged with cluny and ribbon run.
- At 89c, wonderfully fine $1.25 and $1.50 styles that are marked for clearance. Slip-over styles, and high-neck and long-sleeve styles.
- At 98c, exquisitely dainty nainsooks and laces and embroideries made into styles you are sure to marvel at; more than twenty-five styles to choose from, featuring the net and the Swiss trimmings that are so popular right now. Empire and bishop styles among these new ones. Also at this price are slightly soiled gowns that were $1.50 and $1.65.
- Drawers. At 19c, 25c values, and unusual at that, since they are of sturdy muslin and neatly trimmed with linen laces, with embroidery edges; then the plain styles with cluster tucks. Buy as many pairs as you want.
- At 39c, 75c drawers that are mussed somewhat; nainsook, bloomers, knickerbockers and flat legs, edged with laces and embroideries. They will go very quickly!
- At 48c—A woman's eyes will tell her the value—nainsook and crepe; the new collette drawers, semi-flat, knickerbockers and bloomers; the trimmings (when used) are dainty to a fine degree.
- Petticoats. At 49c, a muslin petticoat with scalloped flounce, machine embroidered.
- At 50c, a muslin fitted petticoat with hemstitched hem.
- At 59c, a heavy cambric petticoat with double panel.
- At 98c, featuring the light dotted Swiss flounces.
- At $1.25, dainty, narrow petticoats, with flat flounces of laces and embroideries.
- Princess Slips. At 79c, were $1.25 to $1.75—now 79c because they have become mussed from handling. Many styles, lace and embroidery trimmed.
- At 98c, new values certainly—flounces, yokes and arms trimmed with Baby Irish laces.
- At $1.25, the new open-front princess slips, fitting loose from shoulders and full at waist; embroidery and lace trimmed, slashed skirt.
- Corset Covers. At 39c, styles we sell regularly at 50c. Neat embroideries and linen laces, ribbon run, on sheer nainsooks, styled as is right—low yokes.
- At 48c, of the moment's style. Full fronts and semi-fitting backs, camisole effects with Swiss and lace trimmings.
- Camisoles. At 89c, $1.25 camisoles of lace and crepe de chine and ribbons; small sizes only; pink, light blue and white.
- Bridal Sets. At half price, French sets and American made sets, two and three pieces. A rare opportunity for June brides.

VOTE TODAY FOR ATLANTA.

Atlanta has the right to demand today that every registered voter shall do his duty at the polls with regard to Greater Grady hospital.

On the surface, the question is, Shall Atlanta authorize the issuance of $750,000 bonds for the standardizing of her one municipal hospital?

The real question is—Shall Atlanta vote for or against the disease and death rates?

A vote for Greater Grady is a vote against the disease and the death rate!

A vote against Greater Grady, or the apathy that keeps you away from the polls is a vote on the side of the disease and death rates.

That is the naked significance of today's election.

The doctors, your family doctor, who safeguard life and health, are for Greater Grady.

Real estate men, large property owners, who would theoretically be most affected by a bond issue, are for Greater Grady.

Organized labor is for Greater Grady.

The mothers, the wives, the women generally of Atlanta, represented by the City Federation of Women's clubs, are for Greater Grady.

Your minister, of whatever creed, is for Greater Grady.

Civic organizations, to whose support you subscribe that they may scientifically and economically administer your philanthropies, are for Greater Grady.

Representative negroes, realizing that the germ knows no color line, are for Greater Grady.

The $750,000 bond issue will be taken care of by income from the pay wards of the enlarged institution. A commission of citizens is to supervise expenditure.

In a crisis in the city's welfare Atlanta expects that every citizen with a penny's stake in this town and its health shall vote for Greater Grady!

PRESIDENT WORSHAM.

The election of E. Lee Worsham, Georgia's state entomologist, as ad interim president of the National Conservation congress is a remarkable tribute to Mr. Worsham personally as well as to Georgia and the south.
Mr. Worsham succeeds Charles Lathrop Pack, who was elected at the recent annual meeting in November, but who recently tendered his resignation to the executive committee because of business reasons. Mr.
Worsham was at once elected by the committee. His election is not surprising, since at the November meeting numbers of delegates had begged him to authorize the use of his name as a candidate for president.

pressure and intelligent sweep to the preliminary campaigns against the boll weevil.
The election of Mr. Worsham heightens Atlanta's chances for securing the annual convention next fall of the National Conservation congress. The executive committee, of which he long has been a member, will now be more than ever inclined to honor the city of its president by designating it as the place for the convention, which is already scheduled to be held this year in the south.

BUSINESS IN THE PILLORY.

No sound-thinking American is anxious to believe that the interstate commerce commission has deliberate intention to throttle business in this country.

Yet that is fast becoming the actual effect of its unnecessary procrastination in handing down a verdict in the rate cases.

H. N. McKhiney, an expert in economics, puts the case strongly in a recent article in The Chicago News, perhaps the greatest of the independent newspapers of the country.
We publish elsewhere an extract from his study.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific every business man who thinks knows the one thing needed to give prosperity an unexpected impulse is certainty as to just where business stands.

For nearly a year the interstate commerce commission has had the rate cases under preliminary and actual review. From all indications it is no nearer a decision now than when it started.

In the meantime, business is marking time. It is languishing from uncertainty.

The paramount need is for a decision of some sort. Adverse or favorable, the verdict should be forthcoming. If the railroads of the country are to be allowed to borrow and spend a million dollars in imperative betterments they and the business of the whole country of which they are most liberal patrons should know it. If the existing status is to continue, the railroads and business should know that, also, that they may adjust themselves accordingly. They have already adjusted themselves to stagnation and increasing idleness, and it is time to get out of the rut!

The railroads are not alone involved in the uncertainty. Every man that handles a dollar in the finance of this country, every man that swings a pick or shovel is directly or indirectly affected.

These enormous massed agencies have the right to make the reasonable demand for a verdict from the commission.

The foundries that sell rails; the shops that sell locomotives and equipment; the factories that sell clothing, the grocers who sell food; the men who rent and sell houses—every member of the economic fabric, from top to bottom, has the right to know whether it is to adjust itself to the present status, or plan on a scale of reopening prosperity.

Is there no way for this rising demand to penetrate the conscience of the commission?

Is there no way to impress the commission, piddling while business burns, with the urgency of action, one way or the other?

Is the commission forever to listen to the academic theories of Brandeis—a balder and a trouble-maker who has cornered the brain market of America, and that he is divinely called to squeeze the life out of the railroads?

From a party standpoint, the situation menaces. The fall elections approach. If when they come business is still on the anxious bench, the people are going to find some concrete object upon which to wreak their indignation over a needless dallying with prosperity.

As a democratic newspaper, The Constitution feels impelled to protest against the

Let it be thumbs up or thumbs down, and that quickly. Uncertainty keeps business in the pillory, prosperity on the leash.

End the uncertainty!

BETWEEN THE ACTS.

No particular play of imagination is required to see the benevolent intervention of Providence in the conditions of the refreshing visitation of the rain of Sunday and yesterday.

Sunday began the between-the-acts week between the two most spectacular events on Atlanta's gala calendar for 1914.

The day before marked the close of the grand opera season, which had reached a new record over the four preceding seasons.

During that entire week, with thousands of visitors thronging Atlanta from all over the east and the south, the weather was as though made to order.

Jupiter Pluvius held himself, in check.
There was neither downpour nor torrid sun to upset plans nor to mar the joy of the horde of pleasure-seekers.

The spectacle was that of Nature cooperating with the "Atlanta spirit."

Then began the intermission on Sunday, and with it an energetic rain that cleansed
the streets, flushed the gutters, made more green the verdancy of the spring trees, gave new vitality and beauty to flower and shrub and set every kitchen-garden in and around the city vibrant with life.

All this, in preparation for Shrine's week, the preliminaries to which get under way next Saturday.

The opening of this new drama, on as great or grander a scale than grand opera week, will find Atlanta made indeed into a "Spotless Town," her decks scrubbed, the city's face washed and shining for her new set of visitors.

This week, between the acts.

And Nature, having been kind to grand opera and Atlanta, is already setting out to be kind to Atlanta and the Shriners.

The Muskiet Ridge Philosopher writes of the simple country life he is enjoying at present.

"I went to bed most every night at from 8 to 9 o'clock and was awakened about 5 in the morning by the music of the jackasses, the chickens, the hogs, etc., and the scent of good, country ham would come floating into the room. And then directly the farm bell would ring. This was a warning that breakfast would soon be ready. Then I would hear the noise of the coffee mill. How I enjoyed the red ham gravy and the humped-back biscuits, and the fresh eggs and the coffee! For dinner we would have and pone-cornbread, greens and a buttermilk from the moss-covered springhouse."

A Word From Mister Sun.

Said Mister Sun "You asked me
To climb a little higher,
And how you raise a racket,
Cause I'm keepin' up the fire!
But where would you be—
On the land, or on the sea,
If it wasn't for the fire
That ticklers down from me?"

"When I'm sorter restin' up,
In the winter days,
You ask my weary firemen
To stir me to a blaze,
And they're all in a haze
I don't get any praise,
You're growlin' at the fire
That is lengthenin' 'er days."

"But still I shine my brightest
The fields—they bring you bread,
I glance along the gardens
And burn the rose to red,
And Eagan's, overseen,
How and bend the knee,
They only have a kindly word
And thank their gods for me!"

And Not Meant to Be Humorous?

The Kansas City Star says the following are answers at a recent school examination in Baltimore.

"Lester is concerned in the oyster fight
Ulster is a great artist,
General Villa is a summer home,
A fleet is a group of fish
And a planet don't do a planet doesn't.

Disarmament is the process of disarming
Franklin's autobiography was written by George Washington
Good examples of martyrs—Wilson and Roosevelt"

Literary Microbes.

Is it possible the Sweet Singer of Whitsett and his brother-bard, of Billville, are writing for The Exclusive Atlantic Monthly?

The following is a rhyme of our every-day troubles is credited to that magazine.

"Microbes, microbes every where
In the water, in the air!
Kicking up a deadly row
In the product of the cow
You can almost hear them mutter
In the milk and in the butter"

And Then He Went Forward.

"I never got anywhere at all in the world until I got rid of the idea that I know just how it should be run," says a Georgia philosopher—until I was willing to admit that Providence had beat me to it and was doing the best things possible under the circumstances. I am now a humble traveler in the great life-procession, with no hankering to join the rush for the job of general-in-chief."

The Blessing.

Hear, on the journey,
Ye travelers in distress
Sure to be blessing
When you make the bread to bless,
Till while the light shines,
Toward the harvest press,
There will come a blessing
When you make the bread to bless

KILLING BUSINESS.
(From The Chicago Daily News.)

Business men everywhere are asking what is the real condition of business, and what are the prospects for the near future.
Statistics recently issued concerning result of new banking laws, on the one hand, and continual threats on the part of congress and the administration to further investigate, and legislate, have frightened and paralyzed business progress. But most of all has the action of the interstate commerce commission in the question of increase of freight rates unsettled business and destroyed confidence.

Importance of
prompt action, nearly a year has passed since application was made, and it is still uncertain when decision will be rendered.
In June, 1913, an order was made permitting the interstate commerce commission to investigate the matter. November 24, 1913—five months after the hearing was granted—the first session of the commission was held, and in December the commission submitted seventy-eight new questions, many of which have not yet been answered.

Moreover, the adding expense to the twenty-five years the interstate commerce commission has been in existence, and the answers to which could not be read by the commission in years if nothing else was done during that time, adding expense to the railroads and still further delaying action.

The interstate commerce commission is supposed to be a judicial body whose business it is to secure facts and from these facts to render its decision. It is to be absolutely impartial and as anxious to care for the railroads as for the public. Instead of this, however, one of the first acts of the commission was to employ Mr. Brandeis, who has since rendered a decision long and absolutely antagonistic to the railroads, as its counsel, and as the hearings have proceeded Mr. Brandeis has in fact acted in behalf of the railroads, prosecuting counsel against the railroads.

Decision Overdue.

Every business man knows that had the members of the interstate commerce commission appreciated the effect of their procrastination on the business of the country, they would have rendered a decision long ago. When the supreme court sits to hear a case every justice is present and it is a significant fact that the full board of the interstate commerce commission has been present at only a few of the hearings of the railroad case, and customarily every commissioner has been absent and the hearing held before an examiner.

DAILY GRIST
STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

ADAMS, IF ELECTED, WOULD FAVOR
BILL ESTABLISHING ELECTRIC CHAIR
Gainesville, Ga., May 4.—(Special).—The political bug to state officers is sprouting properly in Hall county in the past few days.
J. V. Stover, a prominent man in Hall's politics, has announced for the legislature, while William F. Conner is winning among friends with a view to getting into the field, and Dr. Clifton Newton, a prominent figure in Gainesville politics, is being urged by his friends to make the race.

Colonel J. O. Adams has made several speeches in the interest of his candidacy for the state senate. Mr. Adams, it is understood, will support a bill for the establishment of an electric chair to be placed in Fulton county jail, and that every mur-derer sentenced to death shall be carried there for execution.

This bill would be heartily indorsed by the entire county, and it is hoped here that its passage will go through at the next sitting of the legislature.

MONTGOMERY WINS ALL-ROUND TITLE

Tenth Annual Field Day of Local Grammar Schools Proves to Be Most Successful Event.

The tenth annual field day of the local grammar schools which was continued from Saturday morning, came to a successful close Monday afternoon with the awarding of prizes to various winners.

Ben Montgomery from Oakland school, was awarded the gold medal for the best all-round athlete in the class A boys. Edward Adams of Fraser school, took this honor in class B. The medal for the best all-round girl in class A was awarded to Hattie Burnett, of Peoples. Esther Elmore of Furwall, won the medal in class B.

By far the most pleasing events of the afternoon were the dumb-bell drill by selected pupils of the eighth grade, and the folk dances by pupils of the fifth grade.

The dumb-bell drill, in which more than 200 girls and boys participated, was very beautiful, and the children are to be highly commended for the way they went through the different movements, keeping perfect time with the music.

The folk dances were also very beautiful, and the small pupils of the fifth grades went through their intricate steps to music in fine style.

The last event on the program was the marching of the schools. The schools marched out in perfect order, and one of the most successful field days in the history of the grammar schools came to a close.

The individual winners in the different classes were: First place winners—Hattie Burnett (Peoples), second—Nora Ellison (Lee), third—Ola Huff (English).

Class B Boys:
First, Elbert Adams (Davis), second, Roy Chestnut (Forrest Avenue), third, Alfred Brady (North Avenue).

Class B Girls:
First, Esthella Formwalt, second, Julia Chapman (Forrest Avenue), third, Hazel Meister (Luckie).

DOORKEEPERS PRAISED FOR HANDLING THROGS

Among the many details of management and arrangements for the Auditorium Armory, the grand opera which brought forth comments of praise from the visitors was the manner in which W. Sands, chief door keeper, and his assistants handled the throngs at the doors at each performance.

One group of New Yorkers expressed it as a fine example of "Atlanta spirit." "Billy" Sands kept the crowd from getting into the building in a rapid and orderly manner figured out to the very last.

Besides his door keeper he had three men at the entrance directing the people as they arrived and seeing that they had their tickets ready.

It was a masterful piece of work.

Gems Worth $10,000 Stolen.

New York, May 4.—The police today were asked to recover jewelry valued at $10,000 belonging to Mrs. Henry Hutt, formerly wife of Henry Hutt, the artist, which was stolen from her apartment by a burglar last Thursday. The theft was committed while Mrs. Hutt and her son were at dinner.

"Crap-Shooters" Pay Penalty of the Law In Recorder's Court

Recorder Pro Tom Preston, in police court Monday afternoon, found himself trying several crap shooting and gambling charges. Twenty-five cases were booked against crap shooters and gamblers, and all were fined by the judge, except one case against James Crons who was arrested in a raid on an alleged gambling house Sunday afternoon at 712 North Broad street. The case against Crons was dismissed, as the arresting officers stated that they did not actually see him gambling when they made the raid.

The first case was a crap shooting charge against four young boys for indulging in the game on Sunday afternoon. Their names were George White, John Underwood, Henry Turner and Harvey Dicks.

Next a round dozen of negro crap shooters were lined up before Judge Preston.

"How about shooting craps, boys?" asked the judge.

"Yes, your honor, night, ledge."

"Ten seventy-five each, boys?"

Then nine white men were arraigned before the court who were arrested at 712 North Broad street in a raid Sunday afternoon by Plain Clothes Police Officer Carter and Forger. Each was fined $15.75 except James Crons. These fine were Jim Poulos, George Poulos, Jim Poulos, George Diamond, Nick Backus, John Smith, Pete Gallace. The case against Nick Caccans, proprietor was postponed until Wednesday afternoon, as further investigation of his place is being made to see if he has been running a gaming house.

Wheeler Mangum will have been sheriff for six years; some say this is long enough in a public office. Let's see: Mayo has been on the taxpayers' payroll for SEVENTEEN years, while Wright was bred and born in public office.

MAYOR IN CLASH WITH JESSE LEE

Council Overrides Vetoes of Woodward in Every Case But One—Mayor Criticises Resolutions.

Menacing war clouds hovered over the session of council when Mayor James G. Woodward and Councilman Jesse B. Lee, of the fifth ward, faced each other to engage in a hot debate yesterday afternoon after the mayor had vetoed Lee's plans for sidewalk walks.

Councilman Lee, arising to what he claimed a point of personal privilege, entered into a tirade against the mayor, bringing forth protests from Alderman Jesse Armstrong.

"The mayor makes a personal attack on me in his veto message," Councilman Lee said. "But I want this council to know that it is no more right for Mayor Woodward to represent the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad."

Here, Mayor Woodward rushed into the council chamber and climbed board the rostrum. With his cigar tilted at a forty-five degree angle, and using his left hand as a sort of sound conductor for his left ear, the mayor listened to the remarks.

Then the mayor stepped down from the rostrum. His eyes were flashing and he vigorously punished the stem of the cigar, which now reposed at an angle of about forty-seven degrees when Councilman Lee crossed the railroad property. He criticized Lee for passing up so many tile sidewalk resolutions in view of the fact that Lee is in the tile sidewalk contracting business.

"And furthermore, I want to say that I have been reliably informed that Councilman Lee carried blank resolutions in his pocket and that he fills them out whenever he runs across a piece of property like this," said the mayor.

He then resumed his place as president of council and the rules were suspended to allow the mayor to proceed with the election of various officers. He left the council chamber before Councilman Lee resumed his remarks against the veto message of the mayor.

Denies He Is Stockholder.
Mayor Woodward denied that he was interested in the A & A railroad as a stockholder, and declared that his veto was not inspired by reason of the fact that the sidewalk planned by Councilman Lee crossed the railroad property. He criticized Lee for passing up so many tile sidewalk resolutions in view of the fact that Lee is in the tile sidewalk contracting business.

PROMINENT BANKERS PAY VISIT TO ATLANTA

Will Spend Today Inspecting Property of Railway and Power Company.

A party of thirty-eight capitalists, representing the largest banking houses of the United States, headed by Arthur E. Newbold, of Philadelphia, arrived in Atlanta over the Southern railway at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Last night they were the guests of H. M. Atkinson at dinner. Today will be spent in an inspection of the property of the Georgia Railway and Power company and a trip to various parts of the city at midnight they will leave on a special train for Tallulah Falls, where they will make an inspection of the gigantic power plant recently erected by the Georgia Railway and Power company.

The purpose of the trip is twofold. The gentlemen comprising the party represent the banking houses which recently purchased the $10,000,000 issue of bonds of the Georgia Railway and Power company, which is subject to the authority of the railroad commission. These bonds will be sold for the purpose of paying for work done at Tallulah Falls in the party are several engineers, representing companies which are interested in the project, and it is possible several manufacturing concerns may be brought to Atlanta as a result of the trip.

In round figures the $10,000,000 in the party represent several hundred million dollars.

It was the first trip to this part of the country that many of the party had made.

I am simply amazed at the size and evident prosperity of your city," said Mr. Newbold.

Those in the party are: Henry W. Harrison Philadelphia, Stephen Fugate Philadelphia, Robert L. Brown New York, T. Johnson Ward Philadelphia, Edward Bondart Baltimore, T. Philadelphia, D. H. MANGUM'S ELECTION CONCEDED

ORDINANCE WILL END "DEADLOCKS"

Charter Amendment Offered by Alderman Nutting Giving Added Authority to City Council.

If the charter amendment drafted by Alderman James R. Nutting and offered at the meeting of council yesterday afternoon is adopted by the general assembly, Atlanta's general council will have the authority to break "deadlocks" and elect a chairman of any board or commission within sixty days after the date set for such elections.

Alderman Nutting's resolution was inspired by the situation which confronts the city in the tie on the police board. Commissioners Robert Pace and William Fain are the only two candidates for the place, and although the police board, on three separate occasions, have tried to elect a chairman, efforts were met with failure because neither of the candidates could muster the sufficient number of votes to elect.

The Nutting resolution will solve the problem. It provides that if, after sixty days from the date fixed by law for the election of a chairman of a board or commission the board or commission failed to elect a chairman, council can do so at a special meeting called for the purpose.

The resolution will require a change in the charter, and necessarily it was passed up to the charter amendment committee for action. It will be referred to the legislature, along with a batch of amendments which have been prepared and which are still being considered in council.

Society

Children's Party.

Little Misses Eugenia and Elizabeth Buchanan, the young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buchanan, will entertain about seventy-five guests at a dancing party this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Segado's.

For Pioneer Society.

Mr. A. R. Keen will entertain Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Georgian Terrace in compliment to the members of the Pioneer society. Many novel features have been planned for the entertainment of the guests, among them a Maypole dance.

Third Ward Civic Club.

On Friday, May 1, was held the monthly meeting of the Third Ward Civic Club, which was largely attended. Mrs. Justice presided, and presented several matters of interest. Mrs. Burman read an interesting paper on "Greater Grady Hospital," which was followed by a discussion in which all took part. The old war engine Texas was also discussed, and plans are being made to take better care of this old relic, which should receive a warm welcome to the third ward where its home will be in the future. The nominating committee reported the following ticket which was unanimously elected: President—Dr. Florence T. Truax; First Vice President—Mrs. F. V. L. Smith; Second Vice President—Mrs. E. P. Burns; Secretary—Mrs. A. S. Wilson; Treasurer—Mrs. J. B. Crossland. The June meeting will be held in the bandstand in Grant park, on the first Friday in June.

Memorial Services.

Mrs. Elijah Williams will entertain the "Butterflies" Thursday afternoon, at her home in Ansley Park at 3:30 o'clock, at which time there will be a memorial service for three members of the church: Mrs. W. A. Moore and Mrs. John Ryan, who have recently died.

Presbyterial Union.

The delegates appointed to attend the Woman's Presbyterial union will meet at the Terminal station this morning and leave at 9 o'clock for Carrollton.

Gov. and Mrs. Slaton Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Winship, of Macon, and Miss Casey, who have spent the last few days with Governor and Mrs. Slaton, returned home today. Governor and Mrs. Slaton entertained for them informally at dinner Sunday, in the party being Mrs. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Murchison, Mrs. Burman, Mrs. DeLoe Blodgett, Miss Blodgett, Colonel Ragan.

For Mrs. Gettys.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Meador entertained at a box party at the Forsyth and supper afterwards at the Ansley for Mrs. Richard Gettys, of Knoxville, the guest of Mrs. H. T. Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Northern and Miss Van Dyke completed the party.

For Miss Whitley.

Miss Feroi Humphries will entertain about fifty guests at an informal dance tonight at the Ponce de Leon in company with her guests, Miss Louise Whitley, of Anniston, Ala.

Informal Dance.

Miss Rebecca Ryley will give an informal dancing party this evening at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Jacob Patterson, on West Peachtree street, in honor of Miss Woodford, of Cambridge, Mass., who is the guest of Mrs. Guy Woolford.

For Miss Ella Powell.

Miss Ella Powell, of Gainesville, who, with her mother, is the guest of Mrs. Lawrence Everhart, in Decatur, was delightfully entertained Sunday afternoon at an informal tea by her mother, the occasion being her birthday. The house was attractive with a profusion of flowers and the tea table was decorated with a basket of white roses. The handle of the basket was tied with blue tulle and the birthday cake was wreathed with white roses and had sixteen blue candles. There was an interesting program of music during the afternoon. Sixty guests were entertained.

Reception Committee.

John M. Slaton has called a meeting of the ladies' reception committee for the Shriners, to be held at the executive mansion Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Final discussion will be held then of the committee's plans for welcoming and entertaining the ladies who will accompany the Shriners to Atlanta next week. Slaton is chairman of the committee.

Fifth District Meeting.

The meeting of the Fifth District Woman's club will be held at Clarkston today. The Stone Mountain car leaves from the corner of Alabama and Pryor streets at 9:30 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, president of the State Federation; Mrs. Charles J. Haden, Mrs. H. G. Hastings, Mrs. A. R. Colcord, Mrs. Nellie Peirce Black, Mrs. Lazarus, Mrs. Hugh Willet and others. Mayor G. L. Wagoner, of Clarkston, will make an address of welcome and Mrs. D. W. Webb will contribute the music.

Matinee Party.

Miss Dorothy Hebert, of New Orleans, was the honor guest at a matinee party yesterday at the Forsyth, given by Miss Clifford Went.

For Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Broyles entertained eight guests at a box party last night at the Forsyth in honor of Mrs. William J. Bailey and Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, of Clinton, S. C., who are the guests of Mrs. H. T. Inman.

Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R.

An enthusiastic class assembled at Craigie house Monday morning at 10 o'clock to learn the art of cooking from Mrs. S. R. Inman.

The making of tomato soup, with mayonnaise, and apples of eggs consisted of the lesson. The following menu will be prepared Tuesday morning: Apple Cake, Fancy Iceing, Layer Cake.

WILSON IS WORKING UNDER LARGE TENT

Washington, May 4.—The nation's business was moved into the open today when the president left the stuffy executive offices for the cool shade of a large tent in the white house grounds. Majority Leader Underwood was the first visitor to be shown to the open air office. He and the president sat about in the sunny shade and considered a legislative program that would permit congress to adjourn by July 1. Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, also talked over the legislative situation in the open air office.

VERY LIGHT SHOWERS PROBABLE ON TUESDAY

The forecast for today follows: Very light showers are probable on Tuesday. The day will be more or less cloudy and the rainfall light and at long intervals. Southerly winds are indicated with a considerable rise in temperature during the early morning, but clearing during the middle of the day will prevent a very high maximum temperature, which will not exceed 80 degrees.

PLANS TO CELEBRATE QUARTO CENTENNIAL

Elaborate Celebration Will Be Held by Agnes Scott College.

The quarto-centennial of Agnes Scott college, beginning on Monday, May 25, will be celebrated by a great historical pageant with elaborate and beautiful costumes on the college campus, in which the alumnae and girls of the college will take part. There will be folk dances, orchestra music and songs.

The pageant will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday with a series of special gatherings, in which speakers of nation-wide fame will take part. The quarto-centennial celebration proper will take place on Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock at the college. One hundred universities and colleges have been invited to send representatives.

The historical address of the day will be delivered by Hon. Murphy Cantler, railroad commissioner of Georgia. The address of greeting will be delivered by Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia.

Dr. F. W. Martin, vice president of Randolph-Macon college, will speak on behalf of the Southern Colleges for Women and Dr. May C. Kellum, of Goucher college, Baltimore, will deliver an address as spokesman for the Southern Association of College Women.

The Agnes Scott alumnae address will be delivered by the president of the Alumnae association, Mrs. John Scott. There will also be alumnae songs, chancelor Kirkland, of Vanderbilt university, will bring the greetings of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States. Dr. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, has consented to be present and deliver an address at this quarto-centennial celebration.

On Tuesday night at the Atlanta theater Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, will be the principal speaker. He will be introduced by United States Senator Robert Smith, of New York. Kellum will preside at this gathering. The faculty and students of Agnes Scott will march to the theater in academic procession and in full academic costume.

Wednesday morning, May 27, the graduation and commencement exercises proper will take place at the college. The program for which is still to be announced. "Preparations are already well under way for the greatest pageant on the campus," said Dr. F. H. Gaines, president of Agnes Scott, Monday morning.

Before leaving for New York, Edward Siro, recently director of the Metropolitan Opera company, congratulated the Music Festival association on the splendid way in which the intricate details of the stage machinery behind the scenes had been handled this year.

Cecil Mayer, of Atlanta, assistant treasurer of the Atlanta Music Festival association, will be in direct supervision of all this work, and managed all the preparations prior to Mr. Siro's arrival. The first opera, "Manon," was completed here ready for the arrival of the Metropolitan in Atlanta.

One of the things that has made possible the bringing of Metropolitan grand opera to Atlanta is the magnificent arch is 52 feet in width—only 4 feet less than that of the big stage at the Metropolitan opera house in New York. The electrical apparatus which the Music Festival association now has in operation and which will be the stage of the Auditorium, is finer and more elaborate than that of any theater in this part of the south.

All the magnificent details of the opera this year were carried out with an efficiency and dispatch that have won for Mr. Meyer the congratulations of the Music Festival directors and his friends.

More states were represented in the audiences at Metropolitan grand opera this year in Atlanta than ever before in the five years of its production in the south, according to the records in the office of Cecil Mayer, business manager of grand opera at the Atlanta Music Festival association.

Ever since opera was first brought to Atlanta by patronage has extended over the southeastern states, and this year, as usual, the states which have never before been included in the Atlanta opera territory, says Mr. Johnson, and the number of visitors from Louisiana was materially increased.

EVERYTHING NOW READY FOR RIVER BOAT LINE

$100,000 Subscribed—Work Will Begin as Soon as the Charter Is Granted.

Macon, Ga., May 4.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the subscribers to the stock of the company to operate a boat line on the Altamaha system of rivers from Macon to Brunswick, Ga., the name of "The Macon-Atlantic Navigation company" was agreed on, a petition for a charter from the state was adopted, and an organization committee of ten was selected, the latter committee being instructed to proceed with the collection of 15 per cent of the subscriptions to the stock and get things in readiness for the actual operation of the line as soon as the application for a charter is approved.

W. T. Anderson, chairman of the stockholder's meeting, reported that $100,000 had been subscribed in full and that the city had appropriated $5,000 a year for five years which would more than make up the $100,000 needed. As soon as the charter is received a president, vice president and secretary and treasurer will be elected. The company will operate 720 bottom motor driven barges of three hundred tons capacity.

MUST NOTIFY CITY WHEN STOCK DIES

In response to numerous demands from residents in parts of the city not easily reached by the sanitary department, Alderman James W. Maddox, of the fifth ward, introduced an ordinance in council yesterday, which requires persons to immediately notify the sanitary department when stock dies on their property or on the streets.

According to Alderman Maddox, a number of complaints have been made to him about cows and horses being allowed to remain on premises after having been dead as long as three or four days. "In many cases it was neglect on the part of the property owners, and in other cases it was someone else's fault," said Alderman Maddox. "However, the practice is dangerous and discomfiting and should be stopped."

The ordinance provides a penalty of not more than $200 and thirty days' imprisonment for failure of persons to notify the sanitary department.

Wheeler Mangum will have been sheriff for six years; some say this is long enough in a public office. Let's see: Mayo has been on the taxpayers' payroll for SEVENTEEN years, while Wright was bred and born in public office.

CYCLONE CUTS SWATH THROUGH TEXAS TOWNS

Several Persons Killed and Many Injured—Property Loss Is Heavy.

Mount Pleasant, Texas, May 4.—Two persons were killed at Maud, Texas, near here, today and half of the house in the little town destroyed, according to information received here late today. The cyclone also did severe damage at Redwater and at Pittsburg, Texas, injuring some fourteen people in the three towns.

At Maud, Mrs. Pearl White and her small child were killed, and at Redwater six persons were injured, and near Pittsburg four persons were hurt, one probably fatally. This information was received by railroad officials here over the only wire not wrecked by the storm.

It was stated that practically all the dwelling houses at Redwater, a town of about 200 inhabitants, were destroyed. The Cotton Belt railroad station at Redwater and several business buildings also were wrecked. Near Pittsburg eight houses were blown down.

Mississippi Town Hit.
Greenville, Miss., May 4.—Several dwelling houses were wrecked, others were damaged, half a dozen buildings in the business district were unroofed and the electric lights and power plant was put out of commission by a storm which swept Greenville late today. No one was seriously injured. Dispatches from several small towns in the vicinity of Greenville report minor property damages.

CHAPIN TO IMPERSONATE LINCOLN FRIDAY NIGHT

Benjamin Chapin, the only man ever known to have given a successful impersonation of President Lincoln, has been secured for the closing lecture of the Alhambra Lyceum course. The lecture will take place Friday, May 8, at the Tabernacle auditorium.

Mr. Chapin's impersonation has been pronounced by many authorities to be a bit of genuine dramatic art. The lecturer has devoted ten years to the study of the single impersonation. He does not depend on high heels, a pair of false whiskers, and a nasal tone to make it a success. He has studied Lincoln the man, from every conceivable angle. He has even written a play on the subject.

The result is that people who know Lincoln in life declare Mr. Chapin's impersonation to be almost perfect both from a personal and dramatic standpoint.

Mr. Chapin will interpret his own play "Lincoln" which closed some months ago after a highly successful run.

MRS. E. E. LOWE LOSES LARGE DIAMOND RING

Mrs. E. E. Lowe on Monday reported the loss of a large cluster diamond ring, valued at $800, at the Wirecuff.

Mrs. Lowe is very anxious to recover the ring and offers a handsome reward and no questions asked if it is returned to her at the Wirecuff.

My record as written on the minutes of the county commission proves that I have advocated more real reforms in the convict system than any other member of the board. Don't let ring politicians, in the guise of reformers, prevent your VOTING FOR TULL C. WATERS.

Do the people of Fulton county want to turn the county jail over to the police department? Well, hardly.

CASEY LEFT $1,000 SO HIS FUNERAL MIGHT BE VERY GAY

San Francisco, May 4.—William S. Casey, a bartender widely known in the California cattle country, had a funeral yesterday which he paid for himself. Casey died by his own hand last Friday. His health shattered, he told his friends that he did not want to live if he could not be happy. He had $1,000 in a bank at Salinas and he arranged that the sum be used for his last rites.

"My passing out is not a signal for sorrow," Casey had said. "I want the friends that attend my funeral to enjoy themselves just as if I were among them in reality, as I will be in spirit."

A special car brought Casey's body from Salinas to San Francisco, where it was cremated. With the ashes in an urn, a score of Casey's friends, of which was an old friend of Casey's, proceeded to a hotel, the proprietor of which was an old friend of Casey's.

Before the party sat down to dinner, the urn was taken into the bar-room and placed behind the bar. Then everyone ordered his favorite drink and this toast was drunk:

"Casey, who is still behind the bar!"

The party, carrying out Casey's instructions, then sat down to dinner and later went to a theater.

Yesterday Casey's ashes were taken back to Salinas and sprinkled on the Salinas river.

TWO HURLED INTO WATER WHEN CAR JUMPS BRIDGE

Harlem, Ga., May 4.—(Special)—Deputy Sheriff Anderson, of Screven county and a Mr. Jackson, bookkeeper at the stockade of Richmond county, had a narrow escape this afternoon, when their auto became unmanageable and leaped off the bridge at McCormick's pond, a few miles south of Harlem, throwing them 20 feet below into the pond. They sustained very painful injuries on account of some heavy timbers in the pond at this place.

Mr. Jackson's fall was broken on the way by some planks and he was not seriously hurt, while Mr. Anderson landed with full force on his chest on the timbers which knocked him unconscious. While the timbers sustained him on the surface of the water, his head and face was submerged and he would have drowned but for Mr. Jackson being able to lend him assistance.

Three autos full of men, with Dr. F. H. Phillips among them, rushed to the scene of the wreck and gave such assistance as was needed. Both parties were taken to Augusta for further medical attention.

Studebaker
SIX
$1575
Completely Equipped, Including Electric Lights and Starter

The preponderance of Studebaker sales in the field of "Sixes" is perfectly logical. The public may be trusted to find the greatest value for its dollars. It's simply a matter of comparison, and a majority of buyers evidently know what constitutes real value in axles, bearings, power and capacity, as well as what is best in lighting and starting systems, and other mechanical details. To superiority in these essentials, based both on quality and price, Studebaker—through its Detroit Branch—adds a service to its owners that is without an equal in this city.

PHENOMENAL HARVEST PROMISE HERE WAS OFFSET BY FAIRLY BULLISH CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT REST OF WORLD.

Chicago, May 4.—Foreign buying here had an important bullish influence today on wheat. The entire market was easy, but the price of wheat was not particularly active, but offerings were comparatively light and the price was steady.

In wheat trade it virtually was conceded that the supply of wheat for export was a case of phenomenal harvest promise in this country for 1914.

Throughout the rest of the world, considerable significance, therefore, was attached to the fact that purchases for foreign account, especially in September option, attained large proportions.

STOCKS CONTINUE UPWARD MOVEMENT

Strength of Market Unmistakable—Street Is Pleased With Wilson's Selection for Reserve Board.

New York, May 4.—The forward movement in the stock market, which was in progress all of last week, was resumed today. The upturn was temporary, with no attempt at aggressive operations on the buying side, but the strength of the market's position was unmistakable.

Quotations advanced steadily until the leading stocks were 1 to 2 points higher, although the gains were cut down by a reaction in the last hour.

ROCKEFELLER'S MONEY COVERED WITH BLOOD

Sen. Lane So Charges—Fight to Prevent Government Accepting Oil King's Cash.

Washington, May 3.—A determined fight was launched in the senate today to prevent the government from accepting the money of John D. Rockefeller.

The debate was on an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill, which was pending when the senate adjourned last day.

This amendment, reported by the agricultural committee called for $500,000 double the amount provided in the bill for farm demonstration.

The bill would allow the government to give millions of dollars, pay a portion of the salaries of 500 government employees engaged in the work.

Georgia asks $5,000 from the fund for work in aid of birds' poultry and game clubs and an additional $2,000 for farm demonstration.

Senator Vardaman of Mississippi, who introduced the provision, said that the bill would allow the government to give millions of dollars, pay a portion of the salaries of 500 government employees engaged in the work.

Senator Keaton insisted that the federal government had no right to give money to a private corporation.
