LEHON CONTEMPT TRIAL UP TODAY

Judge Hill Flays Detective Burns in His Charge Before Grand Jury—Calls for Indictments Against Perjurors.

Following an indirect but unmistakable denunciation of Detective William J. Burns by Judge Ben Hill, it was announced yesterday that the contempt proceedings against Dan S. Lehon, of the Burns organization, would be held before Judge Hill this morning at 10 o'clock.

The occasion of the judge's attack upon the nationally famous sleuth was his charge to the grand jury Monday morning when that body organized in their offices in the Thresher building.

Referring to the charges of perjury in the Frank situation, Judge Hill ordered that the jury make a complete and thorough investigation and return bills of indictment wherever there existed prima facie evidence.

What Judge Said. "Last year," he stated, "a terrible murder was committed in the community. A man was indicted, tried and convicted for the crime. A motion for a new trial was overruled, the decision of the trial judge was affirmed by the supreme court, and the supreme court decided that no error had been committed by the lower court."

Then followed a motion for a new trial on the ground of newly-discovered evidence. Affidavits were produced by witnesses who swore that their testimony at the trial was false and that they had been induced to make the trial testimony by detectives.

Later, however, these witnesses recanted, and swore that they had been induced to recant their testimony by bribery, coercion or misrepresentation by agents employed by the defense.

U. S. Troops Remain on the Mexican Job Till Mexico Behaves

FLED FROM HUERTA AND RAN INTO MOB

Fire-Eater Urrutia Takes Refuge at Vera Cruz and Is Menaced by Mexicans. Protected by Gen. Funston.

Vera Cruz, May 18.—(Hooted by a mob of Mexicans and called an assassin by one who alleged that his brother had been killed by order of the ex-minister of the interior, Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, who held that office and was once Huerta's most trusted counsellor, was arrested for the second time late today since his arrival here a few hours earlier among refugees from the capital.

Dr. Urrutia had fled from Mexico City to escape the wrath of the president, and had the appearance of an ordinary laboring man when he disclosed his identity on board the American train this side of the gap.

He was again taken into custody because of the demonstration made against him, but was released for the second time and sent to his room.

Called Assassin and Coward. Antonio Rivara, a lawyer, editor of El Dictamen, was the leader of the demonstration against the former minister. He appeared in the street beneath the window of the room occupied by Dr. Urrutia at the Diocesan hotel and began an impassioned speech.

De La Torre was arrested and taken to police headquarters, and a few minutes later Dr. Urrutia also was taken to police headquarters, but as there was no evidence warranting his detention he was led back through a great crowd to the hotel.

The ex-minister of the interior was one of the coolest men in the crowd. As he was being taken to his room a correspondent said to him: "Dr. Urrutia accuses you of killing his brother."

"As to that," replied Dr. Urrutia smiling, "do not think that he will be able to prove it."

When Dr. Urrutia was Huerta's minister of the interior he was popularly believed to have been the author of the political changes which Huerta dissolved. He cried out that Urrutia feared to walk the streets like an honest man, and challenged him to appear before the small crowd of his countrymen who had already gathered.

Dr. Urrutia appeared totally unlike the somewhat pompous individual who had been approved one night at a cabinet meeting after the mission of John Lind to Mexico had begun.

He was determined to blow up the national palace and other public buildings in Mexico City before yielding. Dr. Urrutia professed to have no accurate knowledge, but his opinion was that it was not improbable General Huerta would do so.

Dr. Urrutia is the man who wrote the ultimatum giving the United States twenty-four hours to recognize General Huerta and as an alternative declaring that Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, would be given his passports and a car declared that he was approved one night at a cabinet meeting after the mission of John Lind to Mexico had begun.

Urrutia, after a perfunctory examination by the American military authorities, was allowed to go.

So President Wilson Tells the American Delegates on the Eve of Their Departure for the Mediation Conference to Be Held at Niagara Falls.

GEN. HUERTA MUST GO AND FAIR GOVERNMENT MUST BE ESTABLISHED

United States to Insist on Settlement That Will Satisfy Zapata and Carranza and Conserve Interests of People in Territory Controlled by Huerta—Settlement of Land Problem to Be Urged—Huerta Ready to Resign.

Washington, May 18.—President Wilson today told the American commissioners who leave tomorrow for the mediation conference at Niagara Falls, Ontario, that the United States government regards the settlement of the Mexican problem in a definite form as a pre-requisite to the withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz.

The president gave the American commissioners—Justice Lamar, of the supreme court of the United States; Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general and diplomatic secretary, and E. Percival Dodge—no specific instructions: He told them to place themselves in a receptive mood and await proposals from the three South American mediators.

HUERTA MUST GO TO GET PEACE

But at the same time he outlined to his representatives that peace in Mexico seemed to him to be conditioned on the elimination of the Huerta administration, and the establishment in its place of a strong provisional government which would conduct an election giving fair treatment to all factions and parties and guaranteeing, moreover, a solution of the agrarian problem and other internal difficulties which have bred revolution in the southern republic during the last three years.

The president wishes the Mexican question settled on comprehensive lines that will take into account the economic principles for which Zapata in the south as well as Carranza in the north have been fighting, and at the same time will conserve the rightful interests of the people in the territory now controlled by the Huerta government.

HUERTA WILLING TO RESIGN.

During the day a dispatch came to one of the foreign diplomats here from a diplomatic source in Mexico City, stating that General Huerta was ready to resign and would permit his representatives at the mediation conference to eliminate him if it should become absolutely necessary. Intimations that have come from the three Huerta delegates since their visit to this country showed that they had realized Huerta's elimination was regarded as essential to a settlement and knew from the outset that unless they came prepared to deal with this phase of the problem their efforts would be fruitless.

PROBLEM OF CHIEF CONCERN. The problem causing chief concern of the American government is that of the form of administration to be established during the interim before a constitutionally elected president could assume office. No intimations concerning the name of a possible successor to Huerta were contained in the dispatch this subject being one in which it would be necessary to consider the constitutionalist and other leaders in Mexico.

WILSON TOUCHES ON LAND QUESTION. In his talk with the commissioners the president touched briefly on the land question speaking of it as a perennial cause of discontent and dissatisfaction which had made it comparatively easy to raise a revolutionary army in Mexico.

THE MEXICAN IMPASSE.

Dispatches from Washington indicate that the prospects for successful mediation and peace in Mexico have gotten down to that most unstable and inscrutable of all elements—the human equation. Upon the ambitions and obstinacy of three men—Huerta, Carranza and Villa—the fabric of hope built up by the three South American mediators, and by President Wilson, appears to depend.

Huerta's representatives at the Niagara Falls conference, speaking, of course, for him, have intimated broadly that Huerta understands he has lost; that he is ready to step down and out. But they also intimate that he will not consent that Carranza and Villa, who have brought him to bay, shall supersede him in Mexico.

Here we are brought square up against an impasse. Carranza and Villa have won more than half of Mexico from Huerta.
Their capture of Tampico gives them an outlet on the gulf and probably unrestricted command of munitions. In a few weeks, or days, Villa will perhaps be thundering at the gates of Huerta's capital, with the men and the arms to make his demands effectual.

So, will Villa and Carranza, knowing that Mexico is virtually ready to drop into their laps, accept anything short of entire capitulation from Huerta, and the extension of constitutional rule over the entire country? That development, with Carranza as provisional president, would seem the natural and sensible solution. Backed by the moral influence of the United States government, it would restore at least for the time a stable probationary government.

Obviously, the mediators are faced by an intricate task. They cannot yield unqualifiedly to the demands of Huerta, since to do so would be to alienate the constitutionalists and prolong the revolution indefinitely. And certainly, they cannot ignore Carranza and Villa, who have done more actual fighting than Mexico has seen since Porfirio Diaz, and who have already won their cause.

Villa as president is, of course, an impossibility. But he must be, in sense and justice, consulted and reckoned with. For Villa, the one big warrior of the revolution, typifies the Mexican peon, and the Mexican peon, comprising nine-tenths of the population, is the class behind historic disaffection in Mexico.

The best the optimist can hope is that Huerta, recognizing the inevitable, will develop the patriotism to control his perverted pride and step down and out. That would solve the situation. Certain it is that if the mediation is to be successful one of the recalcitrant elements must yield. And the yielding will not be done by Carranza or Villa.

PRESS AND PULPIT.

Dr. Washington Gladden, of Columbus, Ohio, told a gathering of journalists in Lawrence, Kan., recently that the newspaper profession is as sacred a calling as the ministry.

The statement will be startling to the lay reader, but it has many elements of truth.
More especially does it hold in our twentieth century civilization, with the vast ramifications and influence of the newspaper.

When America was carved out of the wilderness, the clergyman and the politician
were the main formative and constructive influences.

Then we began the development of our public school and university systems, that have yet to record their greatest progress.

Then came the tremendous influence of the press, made possible by the development of telegraphic facilities, the perfection of the rotary press and the increasing wealth of the country.

Today the newspaper speaks to virtually every man, woman and child in America.

Even those who are illiterate are indirectly affected by its widening circles.

The minister gets in touch with his people at intervals. The pastoral side of the ministry has suffered much since the evolution of great American cities, and our diversity of interests makes it difficult to maintain the old-fashioned home, life and house-
to-house visiting.

These contrasts mean that whatever the press says, by way of news handling or editorial comment, strikes the great American mind with the effect of continual impact.
Men may stay away from church. They do not forget their newspapers.

These obvious facts put a greater obligation upon men who follow the newspaper as a profession, and who view it as more than a source of livelihood. That obligation is to advance truth, to spread sound doctrines, to combat the mischievous and meretricious—
in a nutshell, to stand for better citizenship.

To this special newspaper creed The Constitution has ever subscribed. That is one of the reasons why one of the great national periodicals of America recently classified The Constitution as among the country's "six best newspapers."

WE STILL LOVE JOE.

Of course it's none of our business,
but we would like to know just why
The Constitution did not publish Joe Brown's last card. The presumption is that Joe is fixing to hatch out something distasteful to his erstwhile allies—Lavonia Times.

The same thing happened again last Sunday. Joe Brown's letter was in The Journal, but not in The Constitution. Has The Constitution "peacefully" parted company with Little Joe? And has The Journal and Little Joe buried the hatchet, and gone to bed together? What's the matter, any how? What's dead up the branch?—Commerce News.

Of course The Constitution holds "Little Joe" in as high regard as ever.

The Constitution did not publish the communications referred to simply because they were sent to us with the specific injunction to "use in full" or "not at all."

Within the life of The Constitution no communication has ever been accepted subject to any other condition than that it will be handled according to its news merits.

This rule applies with most newspapers the country over, and with The Constitution to everything from the president's message down.

If in the opinion of The Constitution a news item is worth a page or more, space will be given accordingly, but it often happens that the public is better served by presents in concrete and comprehensive form an article which, if presented in its original shape, would have required far more space.

At any rate, The Constitution must be the judge of the space value of any item intended for its columns.

So we beg to assure our contemporaries
that we are far from having "peacefully" parted company with Little Joe. We "always have and we always will love him."
Not even he could drive us against him.

THE CALL OF THE LAND.

An interesting and practical analysis of the "back to the land" movement is contributed to a recent issue of The Sunday
New York Herald by F. J. Merriam, of Atlanta, publisher of The Southern Ruralist.

Mr. Merriam deals with the subject from the angle of the city man to whom farm life appeals, but who has little capital save brain and none-too-strong muscles with which to work out his salvation. Citing a number of successes of this class that have come under his personal observation, he sums up:

Take the average city man who goes to the farm with an open mind and a natural love for the soil and plant life, and who is not afraid of work, and he will succeed three times out of four. In any business he succeeds far better than in business in the city, and his cares and worries will not be one-half as great as they grow rich at farming, it is true, but hundreds live in comfort and independence. There are thousands of men who have good farm land over the country, both north and south, where one can have health and where conditions are just what one needs with the use of ordinary intelligence.

Mr. Merriam is correct in saying that for a great many men the percentage of chances for success are greater in the country than the city. Great fortunes do not lie in wait for the farmer of average ability and capital, despite the vast aids
science and a modern civilization give him today. Neither do great fortunes await this type of man in the city.

Mr. Merriam's conclusions are that given the same amount of application to farming
as to any other business, and given the acceptance of scientific aid, the city man's prospects on the farm are excellent. He speaks with authority, since he himself laid the foundation for his success truck farming near Atlanta. There are plenty of similar opportunities in Georgia and other southern states for men of the Merriam brand of energy and resourcefulness.

Was The Constitution
Not The Constellation?

Let's see. The Constitution you Sunday issue in referring to the Baltimore celebration of the "National Star Spangled Banner," September 6 to 13, alludes to the Frigate Constellation—this should be the Frigate Constitution.

My uncle, Nathaniel Sheafe Waldron was in command of the Frigate for many years, and I have now many of his logs kept at sea during trips around the world, along with some bird-a-brac he brought home from foreign shores.

The Constitution is the Frigate Admiral Hull commanded in 1812 while orders were on the way from Washington, warning him
not to leave Boston, that the English Frigate "Guiteron" was outside awaiting his capture. The Constitution, adding the Constitution was unable to cope with the Guiteron.
Before the order reached Admiral Hull he put to sea, and on August 19, 1812, he met the Guiteron. After a desperate battle, with the ships side by side, he captured the Guiteron, taking her captain back to Boston and presenting him with a new chaplain, an agreement the two commanders had agreed upon several years before in event either one captured the other.

Yours truly,
W. W. WALDRON

JUST FROM GEORGIA
By FRANK L. STANTON
The Hoped One.

I just don't mind how the wild wind blows
Over the land or foam-
ing sea.
I know, somewhere, there's a bright, sweet rose
That blooms in the light
for me.

And the dark may creep,
And the skies may weep,
But I think the Lord as I sow and reap.

I just don't mind how the world rolls on,
For the birds sing far and free,
And I know, somewhere, there's a rosy dawn
In a round, blue sky for me!
Let light be gone—
Let the deep dark creep,
I'll thank the Lord as I sow and reap.

His Rushing Time.
Professing that he had met the devil on the highway, an old darkey was asked how he looked? Whereupon he replied:
"Bliss God, I didn't have time to notice
him."

The Signal.
Forevermore flash signals
In the shadows of the night
The harbor-bells ring welcome,
The green shores are in sight!
And soon the clouds will vanish,
And the stars of our dreams cease,
And the sails be furled forever
In the port of Love and Peace!

Helping Him Out.
A Georgia county boasted of a moonshiner
who was only 15 years old. The government helped him out and gave him two years more.

Summer.
Soon you'll hear the thunder roll
'Neath a cloudy curtain,
There'll be glory in your soul!
Summer's come, for certain!

The Way Love Works.
We have this from our friend, The Beat-
town Bard:
"Love works when none suppose
At inner work the rose,
The building of its delicate glow,
Molding the petals' form—and lo,
Our mighty lot that takes our sleep,
And bids us of our dreams cease,
How little beside this mastery it seems
Of delicate art and patient skill, Expressing the Masters will
In the exquisite perfume
And mold of bloom."

One Word From Dr. Williams.
De best thing you kin do when you is trey'n ter de Promised Land is ter git dar.
Trey'n ter de midgitts is de worst.

The Scholar.
He walks the calm and thoughtful way
In lands of time left hazy,
His dearest friends his books, and they Too truthful to deceive him.

There are his lovers—old and new
In lands of time left hazy,
Far gleams of sunlight and the dew
That dropped on some dead daisy.

Let Life be false to tenderat ties
And all his friendships sever,
His books shall note all his sighs—
Friends to his soul forever.

Exhibits of Proposed Plaza.

Editor Constitution: Why not erect at the Whitehall viaduct, and at Broad and Forsyth streets, stands with a glass covered drawing or plan of the proposed civic center improvement? The viaducts are not at present things of ornament and might be made to serve a further practical use by advertising
the plaza plan.

Mr. Harrison Ebleck, no doubt, would furnish the drawings or large detail plans which could be placed somewhere on the viaduct and while in no way serving as an excuse for these bridges, it might offer a promise to visitors that some day we will do what should have been done long ago.

You may develop something from this and it is offered with the hope that you may bring it before the proper heads of one of our many, many departments for action.

Anyway, the viaduct could be used as good advertising stands to picture a promised abatement of the now existing nuisance.

Atlanta Praised for Welcome to Shriners

"Atlanta Got There All Right."
(From The Macon Telegraph.)
The Telegraph has yet to hear a single complaint against the big show which the Shriners pulled off in Atlanta this week.
Everybody was there—the crowds were good-humored and the Shriners' parade was the greatest ever.

Of course, Atlanta does not claim the credit for the fine showing which the different caravans made, but Atlanta "seen her duty and done it" just the same.

The Atlanta Constitution says that the visitors dropped about $3,000,000 in that city, and, as Atlantans usually measure success by dollars and cents, the Shriners' convention was a great success from the Atlanta viewpoint, as well as when viewed from the Shrine.

So the affair was a success in every way.
The visitors were pleased, Atlanta was pleased and good results and nation-wide fellowship and boosting for Atlanta and Georgia will be permanent.

"We Are Proud of Atlanta."
(From The Macon News.)
Is there another city in the United States, only seventy-five years old, who could have taken care of the immense Shriners' convention as well as Atlanta?

The News doubts it.
In 1839, just three-quarters of a century ago, in this very month, a little settlement was established in Henry county. Soon it attained the dignity of a name, being called Marthasville by some and Terminus by others. Not until 1847 was it given the name of Atlanta.

By the time Sherman marched into Georgia Atlanta had grown and prospered and was practically in the city class. However, it was laid waste and desolated by the flames
of war, but, like the fabled Phoenix, it rose anew from the ashes. Ever since then it has grown and prospered without a let-up. Now it is a city of 130,000 people.

Any state in the union might well be proud,
in time Atlanta is going to be the New York,
the Paris and the London of the South.

Macon visitors to Atlanta and the Shriners themselves declare that the great convention was a great success. Despite the enormous crowds, every visitor was taken care of in an admirable manner. Eating and sleeping facilities were provided for all,
although there must have been over 100,000
new faces in the city at one time.

Atlanta has lived up to the reputation of the Empire State of the South, and has done it in a way that has made the friends of the News in pleased to felicitate Atlanta on its achievement.

A Splendid Edition.
(From The Athens Banner.)
The Atlanta Constitution's special edition in honor of the visit of the Shriners was a beauty and reflected great credit on the Gate City as well as on The Constitution.

A Reflex of Georgia.
(From The Lavonia Times.)
The Constitution came out Tuesday with its special edition in compliment to the Shriners' convention in Atlanta. The paper was a reflex of Georgia and the south and was a credit to the hands and brains that planned and executed it. The paper is a complete paper and The Constitution has our congratulations in this best effort.

Universal Peace Not Delayed.

The vestal Peace, now stands before the gates
Of Janus, and would fasten tight the bars;
But lo! the tramping of the war-god,
Is heard throughout the land yet there she waits
And hopes against all hope, propitious Fates
May turn his course. Alas! the fateful hour has come, the hands and brains that Shine beneficently the solid earth now jars
With warlike movements of conflicting states!

The people to the south of us are crazed
For war so that, we may be forced to wage
A "war for peace" hence, Universal Peace
O people of this land (in freedom raised),
Much may be done in this enlightened age:

Curious nicknames are applied to vessels of the British navy. The Ariadne is known as the "Early Anne" or "Hazy"; Agony as the "Narcissus"; "Nasty Sister," the Cressy as the "Gresser"; the Inconstant as the "Inkstand"; the Impregna as the "Billy

the Hecla as the "He Cat" or "The Tom";
and the Neptune as the "Jew's Harp." In the American navy similar nicknames have been used to some extent. The bassacrauc was as "My Aunt Deed," the Wisconsin as the "Wildow Higgins," the Winnebago or perhaps the Wyalusing as "We Know She

JUDGE N. E. HARRIS TO OPEN
CAMPAIGN ABOUT JUNE 1

Judge N. E. Harris, of Macon, who has been in attendance at the convention of the Methodist church, at Oklahoma City, is expected home shortly and will make his first speech in the gubernatorial campaign about June 1. Judge Harris is a convincing speaker, thoroughly at home on the stump,
and he is going to wage an aggressive campaign.

June 1, by the way, seems to be the date
that many things are scheduled to happen.
It is intimated that Joseph M. Brown will break his long silence about that time; Hugh M. Dorsey has stated that he will make a statement on June 1, while W. H. Burwell, of Sparta, speaker of the house, has told his friends that he will also be heard from along about June 1.

Speaking of Joseph M. Brown, if ever a man possessed friends who claim to know a dead moral certainty, just what he is going to do, Little Joe Brown is that self-same man. And yet, it is extremely doubtful if he has confided in a single person a single syllable regarding his intentions.

Friends of the "inside"
And to be absolutely in his confidence run up to Marietta every once in a while and return with some cocksure story to the effect that he is going to run for governor, or that or the other thing. They KNOW it.
But when you pin them down you find they have precious little to base their knowledge on. The truth of the matter is that these conditions are based on the fact that the "inside" wants Governor Brown to do, without any close study of the situation or the man himself. There are just three pos-

SHRINE WEEK CAUSES SHORT COUNCIL MEET

Few Committees Met, So There Was Little Work for the City Fathers.

Echoes of the Shrine convulse were heard when Atlanta's general council met yesterday morning. Because there was so much to be done within the walls of the city hall during the week, only a few of the committees met and as a consequence all city business was transacted within the brief space of forty-five minutes. The most important matter taken up was the appointment of a conference committee to endeavor to adjust a difference of opinion between the aldermanic board and the common council. At the previous meeting council adopted a resolution authorizing the transfer of $1,000 from the "auto repair fund" of the board of health to the "auto purchase" fund. The resolution was offered by Councilman Claude L. Ashley with the sanction of the health board, and was for the purpose of buying two new autos for City Physicians Hall and Wilkins. Aldermen Sustained. When the aldermanic board met it disapproved council's action, and sent the resolution back, together with the resolution authorizing the placing of tile sidewalk and curbing on Glennwood avenue. The conference committee appointed by Mayor Pro. Tem. Candler sustained the action of the aldermanic board. The police committee, through Chairman Colecord, advised the application of the Gate City Dancing academy to open a dancing school at No. 52 1/2 Houston street. The sewer committee awarded the contract for two groups of sewers, of about three and a half miles, to F. D. Harvey & Co. of Memphis, on bids of $13,910 for the entire group, estimates on quantities to be laid. The contract will include sewers on about sixty miles of street. Councilman Claude Mason and Alderman James W. Wood offered a resolution thanking Potentate Forrest Adair and the committee working under his direction for the magnificent entertainment during Shrine week. The resolution was adopted. Councilman James W. Wood offered a resolution, which was passed, complimenting Chief John Jensen of the sanitary department for the efficient manner in which he handled the street-cleaning forces during the week. Alderman Armistead offered an ordinance which seeks to regulate the sale of newspapers and magazines, a misdemeanor to practice fraud and deception in sales other than judicial sales. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee. On motion of Alderman Thomson, council adjourned to meet again at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon. The charter amendment committee will submit a report.

PAWNBROKER LOSES BECAUSE HIS WATCH WAS A CHEAPER ONE

A question of correctness in time as shown by the hands of a $10 watch and a $1 watch, caused B. Cohen, proprietor of the Star Loan office, at 174 Decatur street, to pay $10.75 as a fine in police court Monday morning upon the testimony of Call Officer O. R. Jones. Officer Jones testified that he loaned Cohen a window at police station shortly before 7 o'clock Monday morning and noticed that Cohen was taking down the shutters to his pawnshop. There is a city ordinance prohibiting pawnshops from opening before 7 o'clock in the morning. Officer Jones took out his trusty watch and saw that the hands pointed to 7 1/2 minutes to 7 o'clock. Cohen, in police court, remonstrated against the fine, saying that the hands of his watch showed that the correct time was 7 o'clock, and that he ought not to be fined for not opening before 7 o'clock. The judge then asked the price of the two watches. Cohen admitted his watch cost $10. The judge decided that the higher-priced watch was right, and fined Cohen.

MANY SMALL THEFTS REPORTED TO POLICE

Many small robberies were reported to the police yesterday, indicating that petty crime is again breaking forth in the city. H. J. Beall, 410 Oakland avenue, reported that his pockets were ransacked of seven five-dollar bills and four one-dollar bills, while going home on a Woodward street car. A. L. Womack, of Doraville, Ga., reported that at the corner of Decatur and Butler streets, almost under the shadow of police station, two negroes had stolen from him a $15 watch, a 15-jewel watch. He described the highwaymen as being a tall yellow negro, wearing a light suit of clothes, and a black top hat. Dr. E. F. Hope, living on Piedmont avenue, reported that $95 had been stolen from him some time during Sunday. The money consisted of two twenty-dollar bills, two twenty-dollar gold pieces and three five-dollar gold pieces. A negro is named as a suspect.

Operation Necessary To Remove Plum Seed From Throat of Boy

Pelham, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—While eating plums yesterday morning Robert, the 10-year-old son of W. B. Cox, of Hinsonton, got a seed lodged in his throat and an operation was necessary today to remove it. The plum seed was larger, and physicians here and at Thomasville made unsuccessful probes for it several times yesterday and today. He was carried to the Walker sanitarium at Columbus this morning, where an operation was necessary before the seed could be removed. He will recover from the operation in a few days and will be able to swallow food or even water.

JUDGE VINSON SPEAKS AT LOUISVILLE COURT

Louisville, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—Judge Toll Vinson, candidate for congress from the tenth district, spoke here today at the noon hour of the city court. His speech was necessarily short on account of the limited time he only touched upon the main issues of the campaign, promising to return here later to discuss in detail the more important political questions. Today he took up the line of discussion that he has been following in his past speeches covering other things. He advocated the elimination of gambling from the state, for the better exchange, the segregation of the races in the department at Washington and the further advancement of our army and navy. He dealt humorously with his opponents, and paid his respects to each of them. Judge Vinson spoke this morning in Gibson, and will speak Wednesday afternoon at Bartow.

T. W. HARDWICK SPEAKS IN DECATUR COUNTY

Bainbridge, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—Hon. T. W. Hardwick spoke here this afternoon to a crowd that filled the courthouse. His speech was devoid of sensationalism. He asked votes on his record and his birth in the south and residence in middle Georgia. Mr. Slator's record was ridiculed as consistent only in favoring one side or the other in the legislature and privately working against it. He spoke of Mr. Slator's desire of being considered a good fellow, giving picnics and barbecues and speaking at county fairs. He said it was wrong for Atlanta to have two senators.

HONOR PAID DR. DOWMAN BY GAINESVILLE CHURCH

Gainesville, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—The First Methodist church here held memorial services for the late Dr. C. E. Dowman, of Emory college, Oxford, Ga., whose death occurred Sunday evening at that place. The First Methodist church at this place was the last pastorate held by Dr. Dowman, he being elected dean of the theological department of Emory college upon his leaving Gainesville. The committee on the part of the church and church jointly sent a beautiful floral design for the funeral, which occurred Monday morning at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

CENTRAL ROAD TIED UP BY BURNING OF TRESTLE

Macon, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—The Athens division of the Central of Georgia railway will be tied up for several hours by the burning of a trestle of a 150-foot trestle near Godfrey, 60 miles above Macon. The fire occurred late last afternoon. Relief trains were sent from Athens and Macon to rebuild the trestle and the road will be open for traffic by noon today. Meantime trains are being detoured by the way of Covington and the Georgia railroad.

SISTER COMES TO AID OF BROTHER IN JAIL

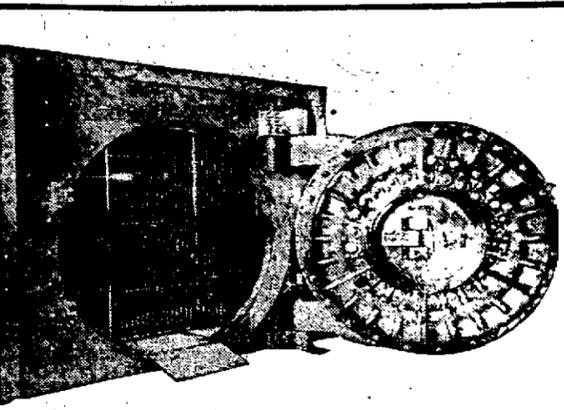

Former Baseball Star Has Alleged Impersonator Put Under Arrest.

Paul Bartlett, captain of the University of Georgia championship baseball team of 1911, and a well-known young attorney-at-law, connected with Moore & Branch, caused the arrest of Fred C. McManus, 20 years old, of 37 Dodd avenue, Monday afternoon on the charge of going into several law offices in the city and borrowing law books from stenographers in the absence of the lawyer, by representing that he was Mr. Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett charges that McManus has been selling these law books to the Harrison Law Book Supply company and has received as payment for them checks made payable in his name. The other day, charges Mr. Bartlett, McManus forged an order in his name upon the law book supply company for two law books, valued at $7.50 each. James Slaton, of the firm of Rosser, Brandon, Slaton & Phillips, who was a classmate of Mr. Bartlett's and who was one of the victims, Monday afternoon began an investigation. When he discovered the truth, he and Bartlett shook hands and had a good laugh. Bartlett told McManus at police station that if he would settle for the damages he has done he would not prosecute him. The young sister of McManus was at police station pleading for her brother. She was willing to settle the matter. The young girl is making every effort possible in behalf of her brother to settle the matter out of court.

PLEAS WILLIAMSON, WHO SLEW MARSHAL, GIVES HIMSELF UP

Butler, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—Pleas Williamson, who killed Town Marshal Jack Burke on the streets of Butler on May 9 by shooting him in the right breast, and for whose arrest a reward of $400 has been offered, surrendered to the sheriff of this county at his home, 6 miles south of Butler, today at noon. He was immediately brought to Butler and occupies a cell in the county jail. He has waived commitment trial, and will await the action of the next grand jury, which will not be in session until October. F. W. Williamson, brother of Pleas Williamson, charged with being an accessory to the killing of the officer, was given a preliminary hearing Saturday. The evidence produced at the trial warranted his commitment to jail without being allowed to make bail to await further action of the grand jury. Excitement that was at boiling heat a week ago has simmered down to normal conditions. Much relief has been afforded by Pleas Williamson's coming out of the swamp of White Water creek, near his home, and giving up to the officers of the law. Self-defense will be the plea entered by Pleas Williamson.

THE SERVANT QUESTION SOLVED

So Far as This Lady Is Concerned—She Doesn't Seem to Need One.

Pollock, La.—Mrs. T. S. Blair, of this town, has the following to say, which should be of interest to women generally: "For months my health was very bad, and the medicines I took did not seem to do me any good.

I was very weak and nervous, and some days I could not be up. I asked my husband to get me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, to try, and before I had taken one bottle I was up and doing my work. Before I commenced taking Cardui I had such spells I was not able to do anything. Now I have only taken three bottles of Cardui in all, and I feel fine.

A few months ago I weighed 135 pounds. Now I weigh 158, and I do all my own work, cook, wash and milk—and feel like I did when I was 'sweet sixteen'.

Taking Cardui has cured me."

As a relief from the distressing symptoms of womanly ailments, nothing has been found during the past 50 years that would take the place of Cardui.

Its superiority is still unquestioned as a mild, building tonic for cases of womanly weakness where tired nature needs help. Made from purely vegetable ingredients, Cardui has no bad after effects and can do you nothing but good.

Try Cardui.

THIS TIGER WAS READY FOR MANY CUSTOMERS

Detectives Arrowood and Boyce found, Saturday night, 103 pints of whisky and 42 pint bottles of "old gin," concealed in a blind drawer, underneath the leaves of the dining room table in the home of an alleged blind tiger. As the result of the discovery, J. W. Stephens, a crippled negro, of 108 Lardin street, was fined $50.75 in police court Monday afternoon by Recorder F. W. Cox. Preston for running a blind tiger.

EXCITEMENT IS CAUSED BY BLAZE NEAR ARAGON

Considerable excitement was created by a blaze on the roof of the one-story buildings from 161 to 163 Peachtree street, in the Aragon hotel, Monday morning about 9:30 o'clock. Half a dozen fire calls were turned in by occupants of the buildings, and the whole downtown fire equipment answered the alarms. The fire was extinguished in short time with the aid of a chemical stream. It is supposed to have started from a stove on a chimney of the Aragon hotel.

Spotting Pitcher.

THE CRACKERS deserve criticism on one point more than anything else. They are spotting opposing pitchers one strike. Townsend, in the game Monday, slipped across the first base on every batter up but two during the game. Elbel hitting the first base pitched in the eighth and Munch in the ninth. Aside from this, Townsend had one strike on every batter during the game. If the locals would mix it up and take a crack at the first one now and then, the opposing twirlers would be a little more careful how they groove it.

Must Strengthen.

IF PLAYERS can be purchased, Bill Smith must strengthen, if he hopes to stay in the running. We are not going to pick out any particular weak spot and critics today, pointing to the Manager Smith and the fans know what the weak spots of the team are without anyone showing them. The Peds have a bugaboo in getting any man from the big tent. The players that we have had offered to us are not as good as those we already have.

Slight Hope.

THE ELIMINATION of Jerome Travers, the American amateur golf champion, from the British amateur golf championship in the first round, just about kills all hopes of the Americans for bringing back the trophy. Chick Evans is of too nervous a temperament and too much responsibility will rest on the youngest showing them. To play his best, Travers was the best match player of the American contingent, and as luck would have it, he was the toughest match player of the lot in the first round, losing the match on the last two holes.

Right on Heels.

THE PENNANT races in the two big leagues are beginning to shake down to something normal. The lead of the Detroit Tigers and the Pittsburgh Pirates is being rapidly cut down, and you will glance at the standings you will see that the Athletics and Giants, who make a specialty of pennant winning, are right on their heels.

Due Thanks.

THE ATHLETIC authorities at Georgia Tech are due the thanks of the sport-loving public of Georgia for the interest that they are taking in field and track athletics. The promotion of the coming state prep school track meet on Saturday is a step in the right direction. Georgia has not given its proper attention to this branch of sports, and the move of Tech in developing the highest caliber of athletes in the college age is the right one. The Constitution beat them to it, however, by encouraging this work among grammar school boys, and the Tech project follows behind very nicely.

Present Trips.

THE INTERSECTION series in the National, American and Southern leagues, which are now in progress, will at their conclusion next week furnish the fans with an idea of the relative strength of the east, west in the majors, and the north, south in the Southern. The east appears to be generally stronger in the majors, and the north in the Southern.

Due Patronage.

THE LOCAL Motorrome is due the patronage of lovers of speed contests. They are staging wonderful races at every meet, and the average time at each event is better than any and to be met over held anywhere. The best riders and the fastest machines in the business are at the local track, and they are riding fine races, but the attendance has not been in keeping with the class of performances that have been staged.

Give Him Credit.

AMBY MCCONNELL, the Crackers' little second baseman, is playing a grand game for the locals in every department. Those who were prone to knock the little fellow during the training season had better stay off of him in the future. Ambey is playing as good baseball as he ever played in his career, and there are several big league teams that he might mention that could use him to advantage on their keystones. Ambey's useful playing days are far from being all over.

INMAN TOURNEY PLAY WELL UNDER WAY

Good Matches Being Played in First Tournament of the Season.

Play in the first golf tournament of the year over the links at Brookhaven has gotten well under way in all three flights, and some very close matches have been struck. Townsend, in the game Monday, slipped across the first base on every batter up but two during the game. Elbel hitting the first base pitched in the eighth and Munch in the ninth. Aside from this, Townsend had one strike on every batter during the game. If the locals would mix it up and take a crack at the first one now and then, the opposing twirlers would be a little more careful how they groove it.

Four Americans Remain In British Title Play

Sandwich, Eng., May 18.—Four Americans, Francis Ouimet, of the Woodland Golf club, Massachusetts, open golf champion of the United States; Frederick Herreshoff, New York; Charles W. ### Defeat of Travers.

The defeat of Jerome D. Travers caused an even greater sensation, if possible, than his victory in the final would have done, for he was regarded as the most dangerous of the American competitors. He made no excuse for his defeat, however, saying: "I am chiefly disappointed because I played such poor golf."

GEORGIA JUBILEE STARTS IN MACON

Prince Prosperity to Hold Sway in the Central City During Three Days of Festivities.

Macon, Ga., May 18—(Special)—With hotel accommodations practically all reserved days in advance and an unprecedented demand on the boarding housekeepers, Macon tomorrow takes up the role of host to one of the largest crowds that the city has known since Confederate reunion was held here three years ago. It is the occasion of the first annual Georgia Jubilee, which in time bids fair to equal in many ways the famous Mardi Gras celebration each spring in New Orleans. Prince Prosperity, the most popular ruler who ever sat upon a throne, is to have full sway here for the next three days, and every indication is that his reign will be a pleasant and profitable one for the city. He will be accompanied tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. He will come on horseback, arrayed in royal robes of many hues, his garments being made in France especially for this occasion. He will be accompanied by twelve out-riders and a court jester. The royal party will be met by officers of the Jubilee association, an escort of police and the Macon Drum and Band, and thence to the city hall, where the prince will state his mission to Mayor Bridges Smith, the latter turning over the keys of the city to Emory at 11 o'clock. The president of the Jubilee association, who will formally accept them on behalf of Prince Prosperity, and other visitors to the city during the celebration.

Good News Rally.

Immediately several hundred Good Roads advocates from various portions of the state will convene at the city auditorium and plans will be formulated for the three-day rally. The rally is being given under the auspices of the Good Roads committee of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and has as its object the building of better highways throughout Georgia. One of the principal projects to be discussed will be the building of a link of the National Highway between Augusta and Macon, giving a shorter route than the present one, which runs from Augusta to Atlanta and thence to Macon.

At 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the auto floral parade with 130 decorated automobiles participating will be held. A decorating company has had representatives on the ground for several days and many cars have already been handsomely decorated, there being a keen rivalry among several of the entrants for the $500 in prizes which have been offered for the best decorated cars.

General Walter A. Harris will be chief marshal of the parade, which will form on the street and traverse the principal streets of the city. The parade will be more than 4 miles long. The first day will be a close with a ball, given by the German American club at the Volunteers' armory.

Better Babies Contest.

The better babies contest, in which 400 lusty youngsters from all over the state have been entered, will be in progress all during the jubilee, under the direction of Dr. Anna Steese Richardson, of New York city. The contest is to determine the most perfect baby in the state, and good looks will cut no figure. This is a contest in which the street sweeper's son may prove a winner over the millionaire's lordly. Six judges will be selected to conduct the examinations, a score being kept for each baby and prizes are to be awarded to the most perfect.

Wednesday will be marked by the convening of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias, which is paraded by the Dokeys in the afternoon. The Dokeys are members of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorasan, the lighter side of Pythianism. Motorcycle races, with some of the best riders in the south participating, will also be held during the afternoon at Central City park.

Secret Order Parade.

Wednesday night the secret order parade, participated in by representatives of practically every secret order in the state, will be given. The nature of the parade will be 100 women suffrage workers, mounted on horseback. There will be a large number of decorated floats, entered by merchants and manufacturers.

Immediately after the parade a suffrage rally will be held at the city auditorium with Mrs. Antoinette Funke of Chicago, as the speaker. Mrs. Funke is a lawyer and recently appeared before the United States senate and spoke in behalf of woman suffrage. Other speakers will be Mrs. Deana Brockbridge, of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Mary McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman's suffrage association; and Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, one of the pioneer suffrage workers of Georgia.

At the same hour that the suffrage rally opens, the jubilee ball will start at the Volunteers' armory. Thursday will be marked by a continuation of the good roads rally and the better babies contest, with a historical pageant depicting the attack and defense of Fort Hawkins, on Coleman's hill.

A reproduction of old Fort Hawkins has been erected on Coleman's hill, showing the fort as it stood in the Macon of one hundred years ago. Several hundred persons will participate, costumes having been secured from a Philadelphia theatrical company. Following the historical pageant a playground festival will be held on the Mulberry street park, and the jubilee will come to a close Thursday night with a masquerade ball and tango party on Cherry street.

Savannah, Ga., May 18—Peter F. Dewberry, night watchman for the American Agricultural Chemical company, was brutally murdered here Saturday night, and his body was found. A search was started for him Sunday. This morning his body was found in a trunk hidden under a platform of one of the warehouses. He was known to have carried on his person a considerable sum of money, as much as $700, and he is supposed to have had a large amount with him at the time of his murder. Dewberry is advanced as the motive. Dewberry came here several years ago from the county of Columbus, Ga. He has no known relatives in this city. No arrests have been made.

DR. CHAS. DOWMAN LAID IN LAST RESTING PLACE

Memorial Exercises at Oxford Today—Many Attend the Funeral Services.

Oxford, Ga., May 18—(Special)—With a great crowd of sorrowing friends from all over the state attending, the funeral of Dr. Charles Edward Dowman, dean of the theological department of Emory college, was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The services were conducted in Allen Memorial church by Dr. J. W. Quillian and Rev. O. L. Kelly.

Memorial exercises will be held in the Emory college chapel Tuesday morning, at which Dr. Bennett will speak. Dr. Dowman from the standpoint of a fellow student, Professor M. T. Peed, as a member of Dr. Dowman's faculty, Professor Douglas Rumble, as one of his pupils, and Judge J. W. Branham, as a neighbor and fellow citizen. Large masses of floral offerings attested the esteem in which Dr. Dowman was held. Among the organizations sending tributes were the College Alumni association, the board of trustees of the faculty, student body, Pan-Hellenic association, Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, ministerial association, Wesley Female college, Phi Nu sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, Oxford Woman's club, First Methodist church of Gainesville and the North Covington Methodist church.

Jerries, Asa Warren, Canby Harold Henz, Dr. Montague Boyd, Robert Hemphill, Mrs. Warren Candler and Mrs. Jessie Keyes.

PEACE SOCIETIES HAVE AVERTED WAR, SAYS DR. H. C. WHITE

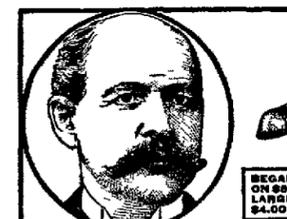

Athens, Ga., May 18—(Special)—Monday afternoon in the chapel of the University of Georgia Peace day was observed. Dr. Harry C. White, member of the various national peace organizations, active participants in the several Lank Mohonk conference on international conciliation, and president of the Georgia Peace society, was the speaker of the hour. "Though it may not be capable of definite, absolute proof," said Dr. White, "it is quite certain that the United States would have been at war with Mexico, and probably in a war-ruinous entanglement with other nations before this time, had it not been for the sentimentality of the various organizations for the settlement of international disputes in some other manner than by war. Dr. White gave a brief outline of the movement for international peace he plainly spoke of the reason why peaceful settlement of national differences is better in many ways than war. Dr. White stressed the importance of creating sentiment among the students of the schools and colleges for some other way than war to settle disputes—and based the exhortation not so much upon sentiment as upon cool appeal to intellectual phases of the question.

Shops for S. & S. Road.

Statesboro, Ga., May 18—(Special)—Permanent improvements are now being made by the Statesboro and Statesboro railway at the junction point of that road and the Savannah, Augusta and Western, which is operated by the former road. The shops of the road have been too small to meet the demands and superintendent S. T. Grimshaw decided to erect the new shops at that point instead of the present location near the passenger depot.

LABOR FIGHTING TRUST MEASURES

Proposals to "Exempt" the Unions from Operation of Sherman Law Not Liked. Labor Men Want Broader Exemption.

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington May 18.—(Special)—The American Federation of Labor today declared war on President Wilson's trust program. The proposals to exempt labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law is the cause of the friction it is attacked as too narrow.

Relations have been strained between the administration and representatives of the federation. The latter will now attempt to organize the friends of organized labor in the house against the Clayton anti-trust bill.

Threats Are Made. Mr. Gompers has charged that the democratic party has broken its platform pledge. Democratic leaders say that Mr. Gompers and members of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor have broken faith with the president and with them during the last national campaign.

The bill opens with a fair skating act by the Blounts, and then comes the bill really gets its start with Lydell Rogers and Lydell two men and a line of patter and some very clever dancing.

Money and Ann Norman in what is booked as a lot of nonsense or something very near that title keep the audience in a state of suspense. The time they are on the stage. The man part of this act strongly resembles a higher standard of comedy.

When Pitt Defended Becker. After recess late today the defense read to the jury a copy of the testimony of the witness. In this record Pitt swore Becker was innocent and had been framed by the government.

Measures Up Today. Trust legislation will be taken into the house tomorrow for consideration under a special rule. The committee will report early in the day.

Becker Accused By Press Agent. The scene is laid in the governor's office and the only players are the secretary and an old veteran of Dixie's fattered legions who followed Chancellorsville and Lee to the surrender at Appomattox.

Becker's Secret Man Killed. A sensational news item murdered Pitt swore, he met Becker who was indignant at the way the killing had been accounted for.

REPORT SON IS HURT ALARMS PHIL COOK

Secretary of State Asks Aid of Police to Locate Charles Cook.
When Phil Cook, secretary of the state of Georgia, returned to his home at 310 East Linden late Monday afternoon a house servant delivered a telephone message to him telling that his son Charles age 15 had been hurt about 5 o'clock in an automobile accident and requesting that he come to his son at once, the message not stating where his son was.

The servant remembered that it was Mrs. W. W. Rogers, wife of an ex-county policeman who had telephoned the message.

Mr. Cook telephoned the place where his son and his wife live on Courtland street and neither had been there since noon. He then tried to telephone Mrs. Rogers, but she and her husband had left to go to his son.

At neither place could he obtain any information about the condition of his boy nor could he find any one else who knew of the accident.

The missing son reported seriously injured. Mr. Cook has telephoned every hospital in the city of Atlanta to find his boy.

He telephoned police station and they knew nothing of an accident of the kind. He then telephoned the mysterious report that his son was seriously injured and requested as many officers as possible to keep him on the lookout for his boy.

Up to a late hour last night he had not been located.
