Positions on Park, Library, Health and School Bodies Authorized by Amendments Passed by the City Council.

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS TO BE NAMED BY PEOPLE

Resolution to Establish a Board of Charities to Supervise Work of City Warden Tabled at City Council Meeting.

Amendments to the city charter were adopted by council yesterday afternoon and will be submitted to the legislature at its approaching session.

To establish a permanent building fund.

To authorize council to grant salary increases in the same years officials are elected or in preceding years.

To establish a smoke zone extending for a radius of two miles around the city.

Name Construction Chief.

To authorize the mayor and council to elect the chief of construction.

To authorize council to elect women to the park, library, health and school boards.

To authorize council to proceed with the election of a chairman of any board in the event the board does not elect within sixty days after the date fixed by law for such election.

To authorize council to create the office of consulting engineer.

To authorize the city to oil streets and to make assessments against the property owners to pay the cost.

To extend the corporate limits of Atlanta so as to take in certain adjoining property in Kirkwood.

To extend the corporate limits of the city so as to include certain sections beyond the fifth ward known as the "park yards."

To authorize council to regulate the location of fertilizer factories and cemeteries.

Resolution Tabled.

The resolution proposing a charter amendment making all ministerial officers elected by council was tabled.

The amendment proposed taking from the people the right to elect city clerk, marshal and other officers.

The resolution proposing a board of charities to supervise the work of the city warden was also tabled, and so was the resolution to establish zones of quiet in the city.

Alderman Nutting and Councilman Ashley opposed the amendment making the chief of construction elective by the mayor and council.

Alderman Nutting offered an amendment proposing that method of electing the construction chief be referred to the people for an expression by popular vote.

Bainbridge, Ga., May 25.—(Special.) Like a lion at bay, his iron gray locks trembling with emotion, Judge Nat E. Harris, of Macon, candidate for governor, today picked up the "bullet" thrown down to him by Hon. W. J. Harris, director of the census, in his speech at Condon on Saturday.

"Who is he?" exclaimed the gallant old Confederate veteran, "to say that after forty years unblemished service to my beloved state, I am unfit to care for her affairs? I hereby challenge W. J. Harris to meet me face to face and repeat these infamous charges, and I declare to you that unless his blood has stagnated in his veins and his name became a synonym for cowardice, he will come with me before the people of Georgia and thrust out his false charges."

Judge Harris, by intimation, declared the resignation of Mr. Harris as director of the census not bona fide, charging that whereas he had before entering the race for governor resigned in writing all connection with the Southern railroad as attorney or otherwise, he did not doubt that "this man who seeks to discredit my honesty will make a monthly pigmy out of the national capitol in order that he may draw his $600 per month from the United States treasury."

"I had hoped," declared Judge Harris, "to be able to conduct my campaign without a harsh word to any of my opponents. On Dr. Hurdman and Mr. Anderson I have no attack to make. Both are honorable and able gentlemen, and both are fitted for the duties for governor of Georgia. But for the one man who is assailing me I cannot say as much, though I do not know what I would have said had he not gone out of his way to make my candidacy his excuse for running. "I tell you that there is a mighty mystery about his entry into this race. Why should he give up a job worth

IN NIGHT CLOTHES FOUR WOMEN LEAVE BLAZING RESIDENCE

Sam Greenberg Breaks Open Doors in Time to Arouse the Occupants of House on South Pryor.

ALL WERE FAST ASLEEP WHEN HE ENTERED HOME

Friend Had Jokingly Told Miss Chitwood Something Would Happen if She Went to Bed Too Early.

Half an hour after Miss Edna Chitwood, of 463 South Pryor street, had talked over the telephone with one of her friends, who ridiculed her intentions of retiring so early as 10 o'clock last night, jokingly telling her to stay awake or something would surely happen, she was acting someone pushing into her room on the second floor crying that the house was burning up.

Five people, all asleep in the house, narrowly escaped being burned to death. There were four women and one man in the house when S. R. Greenberg, of Greenberg & Bond, undertakers, passing by, noticed that flames had enveloped the entire roof of the house.

Greenberg Plays Hero. He rushed into the front yard of the place and onto the front porch, where he tried to enter the front door. The door was locked. He broke open the door and ran into the house, which, by this time, had filled with smoke. Everyone was fast asleep.

He rushed around to the several bedrooms and aroused the sleeping occupants. On the first floor, which was rented by Mrs. S. H. Ceals, were Miss Ida Ceals, Miss M. Richardson and Mrs. W. Spencer and wife, and Miss Edna Chitwood, his sister-in-law.

Mrs. Spencer was overcome by excitement, and had to be aided out of the house. She revived shortly afterwards.

Into Streets in Bathrobes. The women rushed into the street in bathrobes, and with nothing on their feet but bedroom slippers.

Fire engines from No. 2 and No. 9 went to the scene of the burning house, and in half an hour had the flames under control.

The residence is the old home of the late Dr. Monroe Smith, and is now owned by the Smith estate. It is a handsome residence of about $10,000 value. Fully $2,000 damage was done to the building.

Guilty of Killing Brother.

Romoke, Va., May 25.—Elias Busliman, charged with having killed his brother, Kall Busliman, on March 14 last, was placed on trial this morning in corporate court.

The trial lasted about an hour and a half, after which the jury brought in a verdict of guilty in the second degree. Busliman was sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary.

MARSHALL IS GUEST OF ATLANTA TODAY

Vice President Will Make Address at Atlanta Theater Tonight—Entertainments Are Planned.

Atlanta today enjoys the distinction of being the hostess of Thomas E. Marshall, vice president of the United States, the occasion of whose visit is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Agnes Scott college, in celebration of which he will deliver an address at the Atlanta theater tonight.

Vice President Marshall will arrive at Atlanta over the Southern railroad at the Terminal station this morning at 11 o'clock, and not at the union station at 11:30, as he was at first expected.

Will Meet Vice President. Several reception committees—one from Agnes Scott, another from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and a third from the Indiana Society of Atlanta—will meet the vice president at the Terminal station. Besides these there will be a host of citizens of Atlanta out to greet the vice chief executive of the nation.

The various committees are requested to gather at the Terminal station at 10:45 o'clock.

Chairman Egan, of the board of trustees of Agnes Scott college, whose presence will be necessary at the college during the morning commencement exercises, has delegated J. K. Orr as chairman of his reception committee.

The following is the committee from the chamber of commerce: Mel R. Wilkins, chairman; Robert L. Lantry, J. G. C. Lantry, J. H. Beck, J. K. Orr, Robert F. Maddox, Sam B. Jones, A. A. Candler, F. J. Faxon, Wilmer L. Moore, V. H. Krieger, Brooks Morgan, Albert Howell, Jr., H. G. Hastings, Ivan E. Allen and William T. Newman.

Indiana to be Represented. Vice President Marshall's native state is Indiana, and he will be greeted at the station by George W. Ryan, president and chairman of the ex-

Atlanta's Summer Swimming Season Opened on Monday; Hundreds Rush to Piedmont for Their First Plunge

Top, a score or more of boys ready to enter the water for first swim of the season. Note that the sleeveless suit has given way to a more modest garment. Bottom, a number of girls sliding into the water, and one bold water nymph who prefers the dive to the splash.

Piedmont park presented the appearance of a young but rapidly growing Atlantic beach yesterday morning as early as 5 o'clock, when big and smiling Sam Arrowood, the park policeman, blew an announcement that the bathing season was on.

The sun was climbing over the trees that skirt the southeastern end of the lake and the sky bore the first flush of dawn. True, there was chill in the air and the dew was on the ground, but nobody cared a whoop—not even a single one of the joyously unrestrained whoops the 100 or more bathers gave as they dived into the chilly bosom of Piedmont.

There were a good many more than 100—and that's not counting the spectators. The spectators lined the banks and benches, secure in wraps and coats and plenty of clothing, but obviously envious of the splashing bathers.

And oh, yes! the mermaids were there in charming array, at wet and dripping and smiling and shivery as ever. They had sleeves on their bathing suits, though, and the only silk stuff about their costumes were the stockings, for you know those law-makers who do their swimming in porcelain tubs and don't wear even a scale, have decreed that it's against the law for silk bathing suits and sleeveless ones to appear in the dignified neighborhood of Piedmont.

COUNCIL REVOKES LICENSE OF BURNS

Recommendation of Police Board Adopted—Broyles Tries Cases Against Detective's Agents Today.

Because of alleged failure to cooperate with the local police and for violating his pact with the police commission, C. E. Sears, the right-hand man of Detective William J. Burns, will not, in the future, operate with the sanction of Atlanta's general council.

Acting on the recommendation of the police board, council Monday afternoon approved the revocation of the license under which Detective Sears now operates as the personal representative in Atlanta of the Williams J. Burns Detective agency.

The sentiment in the council was almost unanimous, and a storm of protest arose when it was suggested that the license now held by Sears be allowed to remain in force for thirty days longer, at which time it expires under the law.

Council's action means that if Sears continues to operate under the license issued to him he will subject himself to prosecution. Under the law council has the right to revoke the license of any private detective or agency at any time for failure to abide by the rules of the police department.

Must Appeal to Courts. If Sears has the right to continue to operate, he must first go to the courts and get protection through an injunction or some other process.

Commenting on the action of council, Detective Sears stated that he did not know what would be the attitude of Detective Burns. He would not discuss the probability of Burns continuing his investigation of the Frank case.

While there was a unanimity of opinion that Burns should be prevented from operating in Atlanta, there was also a sentiment in favor of allowing the agency to remain here until the expiration of the license now held by it.

"Atlanta has received some undesirable publicity since this case originated," said Alderman Albert Thomson, "if council kicks Burns and his agency out of Atlanta the truth will not be told, and it will be made to appear that Atlanta has formed itself into a

You Are Offered Your Choice Of Thirteen Splendid Autos In Constitution's Contest

You are offered your choice of thirteen splendid cars, nine self-player pianos and cash prizes free for gathering free votes for a short time. Never a better chance to win an automobile.

Enter the contest now. Few contestants have availed themselves of the offer of three hundred thousand extra votes for each club of $38 in new yearly subscriptions.

The Constitution is offering more than $25,000 worth of the prizes as rewards for energetic action during the short time its circulating contest lasts. A little of your time used in gathering free votes is all that is required of you.

Your Opportunity Here. Your opportunity is right here this time. Take time to consider what may be accomplished during the next few days toward obtaining a splendid new $2,320 seven-passenger Oakland touring car, a $1,560 five-passenger Velle Louden car, a $750 five-passenger Overland touring car, or a $750 Ludden & Bates self-player piano. Should you fail to secure one of the listed prizes you will be guaranteed a prize of not less than $10 in cash for each $100 turned in according to the rules and regulations of the contest.

Send in your name and begin at once. Make a start today. If you have already written all your questions concerning the contest and there is still a doubt, call on the contest department of The Constitution and everything will be explained to you. If you live outside the city, write all your questions concerning information that you desire to the contest department, and you will receive a full reply by return mail.

You will be surprised at the ease and rapidity with which you pile up the ballots. DO NOT WAIT. Do not hesitate longer.

Just how much do you consider your time worth? Stop a moment, get down to figures and see just what an hour or two per day is worth to you. You will be surprised perhaps when you see how significant the sum total is in thirteen automobiles, one of which you may obtain after an hour or two a day is used to gather votes.

Nothing unreasonable is asked of you. See how simple are the requirements. You are asked to register your name, then to secure free votes—just votes, that's all. Every prize in the list is going to be given away for votes. Can you get them? If so, a splendid new automobile is yours. It costs you nothing to try. You have nothing to lose, and the possibilities are so good in this contest that you should not afford to guard. Remember, that every energetic candidate who enters this contest is guaranteed a prize.

We want every nominee to secure at least three $38 clubs of new yearly subscriptions in this contest. You have from now until Saturday midnight, May 30. The three hundred thousand extra bonus vote offer, in addition to votes issued on subscriptions according to the schedule, is positively the largest offer that will be made in this contest. The Constitution guarantees this to be absolutely true. If you will just get out among your friends and tell them you want their subscriptions to The Constitution for twelve months or two years, that it is your determination during the rest of the week to secure at least three clubs which will give you an advance standing in this contest, they will not only favor you with their subscriptions, but many of them will help you get many other subscriptions. At least make the effort.

KIDNAPERS OF PARSON WILL BE ARRESTED

Danville, Ill., May 25.—Arrest of the men said to be concerned in the alleged kidnaping of the local option leader, the Rev. Louis R. Fatmont, who disappeared March 31 from Westville and was found last Saturday bound and gagged in an abandoned farmhouse near Columbia, is expected as a result of the testimony given today by the minister before the grand jury here. He will resume his testimony tomorrow.

SMOOTH PROGRESS BY THE MEDIATORS ON MEXICAN PROBLEM

A. B. C. Envoys State With Emphasis That They Are Moving Toward an Agreement on All Phases of the Situation.

HUERTA TO GIVE WAY TO A NEUTRAL REGIME

Right of United States to Pass on Composition of New Provisional Government Is Recognized by the Mediators.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 25.—Smooth progress toward an agreement on all phases of the Mexican problem is being made by the mediators and the American and Mexican delegates. This was stated with emphasis by the mediators tonight after a day of conferences, principally with the Mexican delegates.

The three South American diplomats made it plain that, while every aspect of the Mexican situation, both internal and international, had been laid before the delegates, no formal basis had been reached for the treatment in any specified order of the issues involved, nor has the relative importance of the main issues been defined.

The discussion thus far has been general. The mediators have taken the position that they are essentially counselors. They will not suggest names for the provisional presidency, nor will they recommend any form of government.

From the Mexican delegates themselves must originate proposals concerning the internal affairs of their country and these suggestions will be transmitted by the mediators to the American delegates.

Right of United States. The theory under which the internal questions are being brought into the discussion is that the United States has a right to act upon whom it recognizes as provisional president of Mexico, and, therefore, can indicate in advance who will be acceptable.

On the agrarian problem, too, suggestions must originate from the Mexican delegates. Thus far the question has been whether Mexico's land problem could properly be discussed in an international tribunal. The Mexican delegates regard it as a purely internal question. The American delegates, on the other hand, have maintained that, as the land question has bred revolution after revolution some program should be considered with a view to influencing a gradual settlement of the question. The purpose of the American delegates, it is said, is to place the problem so conspicuously before the world as an obligation of the future provisional government that no new administration could ignore it.

Other aspects of the Mexican question, however, have not been ignored. The relative importance which should be attached in the parleys to the Tampico incident, the personnel of the new provisional government and kindred questions incident to the transition to another administration have been talked over in detail. No points have been decided, but enough of the viewpoint of the American and Mexican delegates has been revealed to the mediators to warrant them in expressing distinct encouragement over the outlook.

Pledged to Secrecy. The mediators and the American delegates alike pay warm tribute to the Mexican delegates. The latter have approached the work of composing the difficulties besetting their country, from a broad patriotic standpoint.

The conferees have pledged themselves to keep their proceedings secret. The reason for this is the desire of the Mexican delegates that various phases of the discussion, par-with keen interest the military campaign of the constitutionalists, but they do not think it possible to result in the capture of Mexico City for months. They deny flatly the capture of Saltillo. In the meantime it is their hope that a new provisional government will be set up in the Mexican capital which the United States would promptly recognize. This, they expect, would be followed by recognition from the powers generally.

With a government established in Mexico City the Mexican delegates believe the constitutionalists would be compelled to accept it. If they refused the belief prevails that a constituted government, duly recognized and able therefore to secure ammunition freely, would be strong enough to crush revolutions quickly.

Neutral Provisional Regime. Before a final agreement is reached, however, on the character of the new provisional government, it is the intention of the mediators and the American delegates to assist in creating an administration neutral in its relation to Mexican political factions and capable of administering fairly a new

An Apology:

The Postoffice at 8:30 a. m. today delivered to us nine bags of mail, and it was found necessary to assign 35 persons to deal with their contents.

Some of the letters contained inquiries for the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, but many of them contained orders. It was impossible to handle all of this mail during the course of the day, but at the time this notice was written it was evident that today's orders for the new Britannica will reach 1,000.

Owing to this tremendous increase in our business, we cannot in many cases send out receipts, but those who have sent checks and money orders need not worry because they do not get a receipt promptly. Receipts to all subscribers will be mailed as soon as possible, and no check or money order will be deposited until a receipt has been issued.

On page 5 of this newspaper you will find one of our final announcements regarding the end of the opportunity to buy the new Encyclopaedia Britannica at extraordinary low price.

If after reading this advertisement you decide to subscribe, you should cut out the order form now, before you forget, and by mailing it at once, it will be sure that the number of your order will be several thousand ahead of orders sent on Thursday. You will receive your set so much the more quickly than if you wait until Thursday to buy, and you will save yourself the possibility of deferring the matter until it is too late to save the difference between the prices as they stand today and the higher prices which will have to be asked for the work after Thursday next.

election. A government founded on such a principle and taking consideration the platform of the constitutional movement—which has been the elimination of Huerta and the restoration of constitutional authority—would in the opinion of some of the mediators, in the end be approved by the Mexican people and a revolt against it could not reach serious proportions. Certain Mexican delegates suggest that the United States should interpose no objections to General Huerta's becoming a candidate for the presidency at any election called by a provisional government set up as a result of mediation. This they feel would permit him to retire with dignity and would help restore permanent peace. The mediators are pleased with the prospect of negotiation to them by Huerta of his proposed military campaign against the constitutionalists lately landed in the state of Vera Cruz. He telegraphed the American ambassador at Washington as well as the mediators that whatever movement he would take, in opposition to these constitutionalists should not be considered as a violation of the armistice.

Diaz Agent Leaves. Josee Requena, who was a candidate for vice president of the same ticket with General Felix Diaz and Cecilio Leon at home today, left for Mexico in a conference with the Mexican delegates. They preserved secrecy about their mission, but it was learned that they came primarily to express their opinion of the matter. They placed their fortunes in the hands of the Mexican delegates. The latter gave them no promise, but said they were bearing in mind the interests of all Mexicans in the negotiations here. The Diaz representatives did not see the mediators.

There were no conferences with the American delegates during the day. The mediator's most important task was explaining to the Mexicans the views of the Americans as presented to them last night.

REPORTS PLEASE WASHINGTON. Washington, May 25.—Satisfactory reports from the Mexican mediation commission at Washington today increased the hopes of the Washington government that international warfare need be the ultimate peace brought to Mexico.

The interchanges between American commissioners and Mexican representatives not disclosed, but there was a feeling of buoyancy at the white house and state department. A satisfactory basis for working out international disputes had been reached. It was asserted that the prospect of ending the fires of revolution within Mexican borders within a reasonable time is not discouraging.

No assurances have come from General Carranza that he will send representatives to the mediation commission even as listeners and informants. Details were given in official quarters here that the American commissioners are likely to consider any form of mediation proposals, and it even is asserted that some mediation proposals that have been suggested.

Should Mexico City Fall. One point made is that, even should Carranza forces capture Mexico City, such a climax would not pacify Mexico, and there would result in a new revolution. The strong men in the constitutional movement must be established in the military cooperation and that such only could be accomplished through the good offices of the United States.

General Carranza's representatives here had no word from him with regard to the suggestions that he had made to him for participation in the mediation proceedings, nor as to the forward movement of the army from Torreon. State department officials reiterated that thus far there had been no serious hitch in the proceeding, and confirmed information from Niagara Falls that difficulties over the method of introducing the agrarian question had been overcome.

The Huerta foreign office explained that the activity of federalists near Vera Cruz is in preparation for a forward movement of constitutionalists from the east coast. Admiral Badger, in this connection, forwarded reports that constitutionalists are marching southward from Tuxpan to engage the federalists near Vera Cruz.

Need for Any Emergency. The United States also assured anxious that no more American airplanes would sail across Mexican lines during the hostilities here.

This was determined as a consequence of Mexican federalists firing upon one of the navy aeroplanes yesterday when it sailed over a federal outpost. It has been determined by the navy department that the navy will not be involved in a part of the conflict, and that such a course has been contemplated. It was made plain to the department that none of the battleships would be withdrawn until there is absolute assurance that the army will not be forced to a campaign in Mexico.

War officials intend to be prepared for any emergency. It has been from the beginning a part of the plan of campaign, in the event of a forward movement, to have the navy land sufficient forces to hold Vera Cruz.

Eleven torpedo boats have been withdrawn from Mexican waters because these craft are not adapted to prolonged service in the heavy seas of the Mexican Gulf.

An important conference was held today over the oil situation at Tampico.

Wilson had ordered his delegates at Niagara Falls to notify the Mexican representatives that if the peace negotiations failed, the army would be invaded by the American forces and that the army would remain until the country was completely pacified.

ORDER ABOUT SHIPS ISSUED BY CARRANZA

El Paso, Texas, May 25.—All ships landing at Tampico must carry clearance papers signed by constitutionalists. The order has been issued by General Carranza according to the announcement here today. Complaint had been made by Juan Burns, insurgent consul at Tampico, that ships leaving the port had been carrying no papers and that the Huerta representative had left Galveston.

LOOK ON MEDIATION AS HUERTA SCHEME. Petersburg, Va., May 25.—The intelligent business men of Mexico look on mediation as a scheme fostered by the United States and the establishment of a strong protectorate government as the only means of saving Mexico from further bloodshed, said General Carranza, minister of the interior, in a speech here today.

FORCES AT VERA CRUZ ARE FEELING THE HEAT. Vera Cruz, May 25.—An important addition was made to the hydro-aeroplanes and convertible machines for use either on land or water. There are now four flying machines in the arsenal and two additional machines had been with Rear Admiral Badger's squadron off Tampico, where they could be used.

This was the hottest day since the landing of the American forces, the thermometer registering 101 degrees in the shade at 10 o'clock. The intense heat attracted unusual crowds of people to the waterfront. In the winter and hundreds of blue jackets of the fleet overboard.

The German steamer Tyrone, now under orders of the German government to proceed to Vera Cruz, was directed today to proceed to Vera Cruz. The ship was to pick up a party of fugitives from the German minister, and it is understood that the steamer will touch here before clearing for Hamburg.

It is presumed here that she still carries a party of fugitives. The ship was directed to proceed to Vera Cruz today to pick up a party of fugitives from the German minister, and it is understood that the steamer will touch here before clearing for Hamburg.

456 REFUGEES BROUGHT FROM MEXICAN PORTS. New Orleans, May 25.—The Ward Line steamship Monterey, bringing 456 refugees from Vera Cruz, arrived today at quarantine, 30 miles down the river. The vessel will be taken to the Gulf of Mexico today, when she will come up the river and discharge her passengers.

ZAPATA HAS REFUSED TO JOIN WITH HUERTA. El Paso, Texas, May 25.—Emiliano Zapata, long in field as a rebel chief of southern Mexico, has made no alliance with Huerta, according to General Carranza, given out by the constitutionalist department of information here today.

The west coast leaders today divulged details of the capture of Tepec by the federalists. It was reported that the federalists had lost 200 killed, while the constitutionalists lost 120 killed, including 100 of the army and 20 of the brigade. The victors took 500 prisoners. It was said, and captured 1,000 rifles and large quantities of supplies.

CHANGES IN TITLE WON'T BE RECOGNIZED

Washington, May 25.—Acquisitions of oil properties or leases of foreigners in the Tampico district by persons who have taken advantage of the enforced absence of the rightful claimants, will be repudiated by Great Britain, the United States and the Netherlands.

At the instance of Secretary Bryan, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice and Charles Rappard, minister from the Netherlands, met at the state department today to discuss a proposed agreement, declaring that neither country will recognize any change in title brought about as an incident to the military operations about Tampico. It will be signed later.

Admiral Cresswell and the Dutch consul at Tampico were called to give notice of the intention of the three governments.

Americans have been the principal sufferers, as they were among the first to be driven out of the oil fields. But many of the British-owned wells and tanks were operated by American companies, and the law of the United States possession of the wells was taken by others, who undertook to make payments to the owners or to the United States for the continuing operations. It is with the design of protecting possible claims of such companies against such operations that the three-sided agreement is being drawn up.

RASON PUT TO DEATH BY ORDER OF HUERTA

El Paso, Texas, May 25.—Unconfirmed reports were current here last night that General Eugenio Rason had been executed at Mexico City by order of General Huerta. The rumor emanated from Torreon.

THREE ARMIES MOVING AGAINST MEXICO CITY

San Antonio, Texas, May 25.—The landing of about 3,000 constitutionalists on the coast of the Mexican state of Vera Cruz is the beginning of a triple movement against Mexico City, according to Albert Carrillo, constitutionalist consul here, who said today that the three armies are moving toward the city.

The Vera Cruz force included 3,000 men, headed by General Carrillo, and the other two forces were commanded by General Pablo Garcia, who conducted the successful siege of Tlaxiaco. Carrillo's men would proceed eastward to the interior, while General Villa moved from Torreon and Zapata's insurgents came from the west. According to the consul's information, the three armies expected the federalists to surrender and join the constitutionalist movement.

Mr. Carrillo said the constitutionalists reached their landing place near Boca de Cano in a steamship, and were met by the millionaire bull fighter, Vicente Segura, an officer in the constitutionalist army.

LIABILITY IS LIMITED FOR TITANIC DISASTER

Washington, May 25.—Because the Titanic struck an iceberg rather than another British ship, the court will not hold the owners of the Oceanic Steam Navigation company, was entitled to have its liability for loss of life and property limited in accordance with American maritime law. This means that the company will get virtually nothing, the law limiting its liability to the salvage from the wreck and the passenger and freight money collected for the voyage, about $1,000,000.

The court held that where a lone ship struck the iceberg, the law of the country in which suit is brought governs the limitation of liability. In the British case it was stated that the law of the Titanic will be about $3,000,000. It is found that the wreck occurred without the fault or knowledge of the owner, and unlimited if it occurred through its fault or knowledge.

Justice McKenna dissented, holding that British law should apply.

New York, May 25.—A. L. Brougham, attorney for about 200 Titanic claimants, made the following statement regarding the supreme court's decision: "The supreme court's decision, as announced in brief Washington dispatches, does not go further than to hold that the case is to be judged in accordance with the provisions of the American statute. These provisions are to the effect that if the steamship company is not at fault, the disaster occurred without its knowledge or privity, then it will be entitled to a limitation of liability to the amount of the wreck and the passenger and freight money collected for the voyage, about $1,000,000."

"The claimants will still contend that even under the American law the means of the company is not entitled to this limitation, because the accident was due largely to the fault of the steamship company in the design, equipping and outfitting of the ship, especially in the failure to furnish sufficient lifeboats. The English courts have already held that the steamship company was responsible for the disaster."

IRISH HOME RULE FINALLY APPROVED BY THE COMMONS

Measure Is Passed for Last Time and Becomes a Law Despite the Opposition of House of Lords.

END OF LONG STRUGGLE CAME QUITE SUDDENLY

Unionists Refuse to Debate the Bill—Leader of the Unionists Says an Appeal Will Be Taken to People.

London, May 25—By a vote of 351 to 274—a majority of 77—the house of commons this afternoon passed the home rule bill. The end of the hard-fought struggle came quite suddenly, the unionists refusing to debate the bill without further information as to the government's intentions in regard to the proposed amending measure. Premier Asquith lifted a corner of the veil, but though Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, admitted that the premier's words were conciliatory, he hastened to add that Mr. Asquith had not told them anything. To discuss the third reading under the circumstances, would, he said, be futile and ridiculous. He added: "Let the curtain ring down on this contemptible farce. It is only the end of an act and not of the play. The government can carry the bill through parliament, but the concluding act of the drama will be in the country, where an appeal to the people will not end in a farce."

Bill Becomes Law.

Under the provisions of the parliament act, the bill becomes law after this stage, as it had already twice passed through all its stages in the house of commons in two separate sessions.

The house was seething with excitement from the moment the speaker took the chair. Members of the opposition cheered while their respective champions entered the chamber, while at the same time mocking banter was shouted from the opposite benches. The Right Hon. James Lowther appealed to the premier to give the house some information regarding the bill to be introduced after the passage of the Irish home rule bill for the amendment of that measure so as to meet some of the objections of the people of Ulster.

The Amending Bill.

Premier Asquith announced that the amending bill would give effect to any agreement which the government was still hopeful might be reached. He said that if at the time of the introduction of the Irish home rule bill in the house of lords no such agreement had been reached the substance of the proposals outlined by him on March 9 in the hope that after discussion an amendment might be secured.

liamentary electors of each county of Ireland decided whether those counties should be excluded from the provisions of the Irish home rule bill for a period of six years from the first meeting of the new Irish parliament. If the majority of the voters were in favor of the exclusion, the county would automatically be excluded for the prescribed period.

The vote was then taken and the announcement of the figures brought the cheering of all ranks from the nationalists and the liberals.

The divisions were taken strictly of party. The members of the opposition, William O'Brien abstained from voting, Mr. O'Brien expressing the view that dealing either with England or Ireland.

Provisions of the Measure.

The Irish home rule bill, which passed the house of commons for the third time this afternoon, will become law whether the house of lords assents or not, contains the following provisions:

A senate of forty members, a house of commons of 154 members, a court of appeals, a council of education, a council of agriculture, a council of commerce, a council of industry, a council of labor, a council of science, a council of art, a council of music, a council of drama, a council of literature, a council of history, a council of philosophy, a council of medicine, a council of law, a council of theology, a council of natural science, a council of physical science, a council of chemical science, a council of biological science, a council of geological science, a council of astronomical science, a council of mathematical science, a council of mechanical science, a council of electrical science, a council of chemical science, a council of biological science, a council of geological science, a council of astronomical science, a council of mathematical science, a council of mechanical science, a council of electrical science.

Temporary restrictions are placed on legislation on land, insurance, age pensions, national insurance, labor changes, royal Irish constabulary, postal and other savings banks and friendly societies.

Redmond Hopes for Peace.

London, May 25—John E. Redmond, the Irish national leader, said tonight, said the division in the house of commons is equivalent to the passage of the home rule bill, and expresses the earnest hope that the Ulsterites, who are genuinely nervous as to the position of their own unrepresentable demands and enter into a conciliatory discussion with their fellow countrymen regarding the points of the bill upon which they desire further safeguards.

mob to suppress the truth. I am not defending Burns nor his methods. I believe he should be kicked out. But don't let this be the proper time to do it."

Councilman George Boynton said that he favored revoking the license of the Burns agency, and that he was as much as the present license only had thirty days more to run council should allow the agency to run to its end.

Trial Before Recorder Today.

The cases against the six Burns agents, which include Charles E. Sears, manager of the local branch, Dan S. Lehon, superintendent of the southern forces, and W. W. (Boots) Rogers, will be tried before Recorder Broyles this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A strong defense has been prepared by attorneys for the accused men, and the effort will be made to secure a full annul of the action of the police board and council in revoking the operating license of the noted sleuthing agency.

The grand jury will again take up the Frank case this morning. This will be the first time that the grand jury has met since last Saturday, when five indictments were returned as a result of an investigation into the C. E. Ragsdale perjury phase.

Action by Grand Jury.

It is reported that the jury will take up today the charges of subornation against C. W. Boynton and Mrs. Wren, which also involve alleged perjury of a number of witnesses who rendered their trial testimony. The facts that were produced by the defense.

TRUSTEES TO MEET AT MORRIS BROWN

The trustees of the Morris Brown university will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in the chapel of the university to hear and pass upon the report of the work of the college. The Right Rev. J. S. Hipper, bishop of Georgia, will preside.

Rev. W. A. Fountain, chancellor and president, will read the report of Morris Brown university. Rev. A. B. Cooper, president of Payne college, of Cuthbert, and Rev. J. W. Maxwell, president of Savannah Normal industrial institute, Savannah, will read the reports of the schools they head.

Rotarians are enthusiastic over the plans to attend the International Convention of Associated Rotary clubs at Houston, Texas, June 22.

The Atlanta delegation will leave Atlanta Friday, June 19, and will reach New Orleans Saturday morning. They will be joined by the clubs from St. Louis, Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, and other cities. The delegation will leave Saturday night and arrive in Houston Sunday morning.

Dr. W. H. Harris, the president-elect of the Rotary club of Atlanta, has been made chairman of the committee on arrangements for the trip. It is probable that a special car will be given to the Atlanta delegation. The railroads have made special rates to Houston.

BURNED BUILDINGS TO BE REPLACED

$200,000 Damage Is Done When Flames Ravage National Stock Yards—Horses Lost in the Fire.

Isaac Schön, one of the principal owners of the buildings burned by the fire which destroyed the National stock yards early Monday morning, stated that the general owners were arranging to rebuild immediately.

"Just as soon as the debris can be cleared away we will begin work on rebuilding," said Mr. Schön. "The owners are planning to erect the most modern stables known. Practically everything was covered by insurance."

The fire which destroyed several stables of the National Stock Yards, at the end of the Marietta street car line, on Brady avenue, did damage estimated at $200,000.

A tragic feature of the big fire was the roasting alive of fifty fine horses and mules, which were stabled in the Harper & Weathers commission stables, where the fire originated, supposedly, from a spark from a passing engine on the railroad tracks nearby.

Forty head of cattle in the Bettis Packing company were the quickly spreading fire, and burned alive.

In addition to the above 150 carcasses of dressed cattle, hogs and calves were roasted and charred in the Harper & Weathers commission stables, where the fire originated, supposedly, from a spark from a passing engine on the railroad tracks nearby.

The main losses were sustained by the Harper & Weathers Horse and Mule company, owned by F. S. Hall and Jernigan & Walker. This building is said to have been the largest and best equipped stable in the south. There were enough stables to accommodate 1,000 head of stock. It was valued at $60,000, and was a total loss.

Isaac Schön, who owns the Bettis Packing company, in which was located the Atlanta Butchers' abattoir, were big losers. This building was valued at $60,000, and was also a complete loss.

Four fire companies answered the alarm and had great difficulty in coping with the fire. The fire, which started in the Harper & Weathers building, was discovered after the five about 9 o'clock Monday.

AD MEN WILL CARRY 'POSSUMS TO TORONTO

At an enthusiastic meeting of the on-to-Toronto committee of the Ad Men's club, yesterday afternoon definite plans were made for the trip to Toronto June 13.

The main body of the delegation from the city will leave for Toronto Thursday, June 18, on the Seaboard to Norfolk. They will reach Norfolk Friday morning and will then proceed to Toronto, taking a steamer there for New York Friday night. Spending Friday in New York and Saturday in Toronto, they will reach Toronto Sunday morning.

It was proposed Monday that each Ad Man purchase a copy of the Georgia possum for the trip, and take it with him to Toronto to help boost the Georgia possum. Copies have been purchased already, and the Atlanta Convention bureau has presented the Ad Men with 5,000 copies of Atlanta's song book for distribution.

The ball game which will be played tomorrow at the Georgia stadium, between the Atlanta and the Georgia teams, will be a good crowd at the game is assured. J. Regenstein, and a number of other celebrities have promised their presence at the game, and instructions how to get there.

JAMES NORMAN FREED BY CORONER'S VERDICT

Moultrie, Ga., May 25—James E. Norman, who on Saturday night shot and killed Mart Sapp, has been released from custody, the coroner's jury investigating the killing having returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. It was brought out at the hearing that Norman was forced to shoot in self-defense, as Sapp was attacking him with an open knife. Norman fled after the killing, but surrendered to the sheriff yesterday.

ROOSEVELT TO MEET MOOSE CONGRESSMEN

Politicians Interested in Conference at Washington—Colonel to Call on Wilson.

Washington, May 25—Colonel Roosevelt will return to Washington tomorrow on one of the few visits he has made since he left the white house. He will spend nine hours in the capital as the plans made for him give promise that he will put in a full day's work before he leaves at midnight for Oyster Bay.

The primary object of the colonel's trip is to deliver a lecture before the National Geographic society of the South American explorations, but politicians are more interested in the conference which will be held at the National Geographic society. This conference may develop a plan of action by the progressive party in the coming congressional campaign. If it results in nothing more, the party leaders expect Mr. Roosevelt to show the way in which the Wilson administration can be most advantageously attacked by campaign workers and in pre-election literature.

May Call on Wilson.

From the museum the colonel probably will go to the white house to pay his respects to President Wilson. He is expected to take a luncheon there, but was unable to leave Oyster Bay in time to keep a luncheon engagement. Next he will go to the home of Senator Lodge, one of his old friends who is giving a reception in honor of members of the diplomatic corps.

The colonel will take dinner at a downtown hotel with officials of the Geographic society and then will probably be in the city at 8 o'clock. The lecture probably will last nearly two hours, immediately after its conclusion Colonel Roosevelt will be driven to the progressive party headquarters where the conference with other party leaders in congress will be held.

Party Leaders to Report.

No definite plans have been made for the conference at party headquarters. The colonel will be called ever, just what success the party has had in attempting to put through its program at the present time. Each man will outline the steps he thinks are necessary in his district and elsewhere to secure a victory in November. The colonel will be advised also of what his supporters in congress believe and will be asked to devise methods of attack.

Reports that the colonel would might confer while here with leaders of the republican party were not regarded as significant. It was recalled that Senators Root, Gallinger, Smoot and Warren, four of the most powerful members of the republican senate, are members of the Bradley general committee and will not be in town tomorrow. Senator Borah, who is a republican gathering in Detroit tonight and will not return in time to see the colonel.

That Washington outside of political leaders, is greatly interested in the colonel's visit, became apparent today when the general public had its opportunity to obtain seats for the lecture. The line for tickets was long, leading up to the home of the Geographic society. The demand in official circles for seats has been brisk.

Roosevelt to Attack Wilson.

Oyster Bay, May 25—The campaign preparations of Colonel Roosevelt today are in a warlike aspect. Information which the former president has received since his return from South America has caused him to make plans for avoiding early public discussion of politics. It is not improbable that before he does so, he will make a statement of his views on current political subjects. Should he do so, it is said he will himself almost entirely give his time to the criticism of the policies of the Wilson administration.

Since his return home Colonel Roosevelt has talked with progressive leaders from most of the states in which he has been active. Today he will make his best showing. Today he heard from one more state. Joseph Oyster Bay to report on conditions in Connecticut. It was apparent in his manner today that his dip into practical politics had stirred the colonel to a desire for immediate action.

Colonel Roosevelt has received two sets of opinions. Some of his friends wish him to stay in the country until the campaign is well on and reserve his ammunition. Others advise him to prevent the republicans from being the first in attacking the Wilson administration.

After Eastman Company.

Rochester, N. Y., May 25—Trial of the action in equity brought by the United States government against the Eastman Kodak company was one of the early cases on the calendar in the United States court, which opened here today. It is charged by the government that the Eastman company violates the Sherman law provisions against price regulation.

ASHEVILLE COUPLE WED IN GEORGIA BARBER SHOP

Gainesville, Ga., May 25—(Special.) O. E. Bradshaw and Miss Beulah Shockey, two young people of Asheville, N. C. were married here today about 10 o'clock at the barber shop of Tom Little. Owing to objections of the young woman's parents, the groom could not obtain a license in Asheville, consequently it was decided that they should come to Gainesville and wed.

Arriving here on Southern train No. 25, the young people immediately went to a hotel, the groom later visiting the shop to get a shave, made friends with the barber doing the necessary touches to his toilet and made his wishes known to F. E. Glover, who proceeded to get the license.

Rev. J. E. Hampton, pastor of the First Baptist church, was passing the barbershop about the time Glover returned with the license and was called in and the young people were soon leaving the sight of relief that follows the expectation of being walked in upon by irate parents.

NEGRO IS REMOVED FROM DUBLIN OFFICE

Washington, May 25—(Special.)—Representative Dudley M. Hughes has succeeded in securing the removal from the Dublin postoffice of James Piliery, a negro who has been in the postal service for many years.

Charges had been preferred against Piliery, accusing him of incompetency, inefficiency and other failings, and the postoffice department today agreed to his removal. The formal order, it was said, would be issued in a day or two.

There are still two negro mail carriers in Dublin, but Piliery was engaged in inside work, and had become objectionable to his white co-workers and the patrons of the office. Mr. Hughes worked unceasingly until he got Piliery out.

CHURCHES URGED TO SOCIAL SERVICE

More Aggressive Policy for Southern Presbyterians—General Assembly Hits at Political Activities of Roman Church.

Kansas City, May 25.—The report of the joint committee of the four largest Presbyterian bodies in the United States on the relation of Christian faith to social service was adopted by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States (southern) today.

The report recommended that the church take a more active interest in the social, economic and industrial lives of its people. The report of the systematic beneficence committee, which was expected to be discussed, was not ready. It will come up tomorrow or Wednesday.

Care for Bodies as Well as Souls.

The report which was presented by Rev. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, Ky., said in part:

For some years the churches have labored with the souls of men, forgetting that they have bodies, and the fact that the movement in all public institutions to get into a more intimate relation with the lives of people they deal with the churches have rediscovered human nature.

We believe that the church is not only the appointed means of salvation from eternal death, the report says, but that with the state and the family she has a distinctive work in bettering the social relations of men in this world.

The most increase of wealth and its unequal and often unjust distribution, the development of great business corporations, which discharge many of the functions once belonging to the individual, and as the result of this weakening of the sense of individual responsibility for social wrongs the fostering of vice as an instrument of private gain and the submergence of the lower classes in ignorance and poverty—all are reasons why the church should apply those principles and quicken those motives which are essential to a true and lasting reform.

Duty of Christian Citizens.

It is the duty of Christian citizens to observe those principles of our religion which require that every man shall do his full share of the world's work which oppose injustice and tyranny even when they are entrenched in the usages of our civilization. We should endeavor to lead men in a self-respecting God-fearing way, the self-maintenance being understood to include a fair return for labor, sufficient to support the man and his family, conditions of labor that are safe and healthy, opportunity to provide against illness and old age and relief from labor one day in seven.

We believe that inasmuch as many of these evils are rooted in the past and have grown with the development of civilization, they can be cured only by concerted and organized effort on the part of all good citizens.

Our churches therefore, should always encourage voluntary organizations for the betterment of social conditions and urge their members to cooperate in them.

The expected opposition of the woman's council to its provision that their funds be placed under the control of the beneficence committee probably will not develop, members of the council said today.

"We will however, make an attempt to have this recommendation modified by the special committee to which the report was referred," said Mrs. W. C.

Winsborough, superintendent of the auxiliary. "If this is refused we will abide by the decision of the assembly. We believe, however, that the method under which we are working is better than the plan proposed by the systematic beneficence committee.

The women's method of handling the funds was praised by the Rev. Robert W. Smith, in reading the report of the supervisory committee for the woman's auxiliary. He said he would like to see the general assembly change the policy of the auxiliary convention concerning the handling of funds. The report was referred to the committee on church societies.

Thrust at Roman Catholic Church.

The assembly today adopted the following resolution following addresses from a number of speakers attacking the Catholic church:

The general assembly views with serious concern the growth and pernicious activity of that powerful political-religious organization known as the Church of Rome, which is, and always has been, a menace or a blight to civil and religious liberty of every kind wherever it has obtained a foothold; the assembly also views with serious concern the dangerous and pernicious activity of this menace in this country touching this menace.

Those who spoke on the subject before the resolution was adopted included Rev. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, Ky., and Dr. J. Addison Smith, of Mirabeau, Tenn. Dr. Smith charged that an edict from the pope was in the possession of Major Butt, who died on the Titanic, commanding all Catholics to vote for a candidate other than Woodrow Wilson in the presidential election.

Dr. Smith also recently served on a committee which appealed to the Associated Press for wider publication of general Christian news, and the efforts of the committee were unavailing. Dr. Smith declared that, even the Associated Press is controlled by the one hand of the man on the Titanic.

JUDGE NAT HARRIS LIFTS BATTLE GAGE

$7,000 a year, and good for three years. He also asked for another salary of only $5,000, the expense of holding it much greater and its duration much shorter.

And he, chairman of the state committee, leader of the democrats of Georgia, rushes into this contest on the single plank that I, Nat Harris, am not fit to serve you as governor, in that as a railroad attorney, I could not be trusted to lease the Western and Atlantic railroad.

Feature of His Charge.

"Here is the most remarkable feature of this whole charge of his. The lease of the Western and Atlantic road is not up until 1915, and would thus be handed not by the governor and the legislature that are to be elected this summer, but by the one to be their successors.

"And if Mr. Harris should say in reply to this that the lease should be renewed at once, I will tell him that if he did so he would run the state through another year of the same kind of road than the Louisville and Nashville, which now has it, that road in the three or four years of rental of it would pick the Western and Atlantic as good as dead.

"The lease was renewed before without in six months of its expiration, and it should, and no doubt will, be re-leased within the same limit of time in 1915, and that usually, but usually, also, I must be put down and out, according to the gentleman with the fat government job I yield to none in my devotion to this cause, and I will not sit idly and allow myself to be criticised so harshly by one whose entry into the race is so clouded with mystery.

Reply to His Charges.

"I could make reply to his charges, that because I am a railroad lawyer, I am unfitted in this connection by the statement that he, as president of a fire insurance company, would be unfitted, because of the departments under the governor charged with the regulating of fire insurance companies. I will not, because I do not believe it would be true, because it is a question of integrity and I do not think the people of Georgia will put much faith in this uncalculated attack on me as a holder of unblemished service for Georgia.

"Now, Mr. Harris, meet me face to face and repeat your whirlwind of vituperation and abuse or else by your failure to do so prove you are unfitted for the office you seek."

Judge Harris cited a long list of names high in the honor list of Georgia men who had served in the state of Georgia and the nation who were railroad attorneys, among them Joseph R. Lamar, justice of the supreme court of Georgia for years and now on the United States supreme court bench, Andrew J. Cobb of the state supreme court, and Senator Clay, who was many years the representative of Georgia in the roads and whose private secretary Mr. Harris was for many years. The speaker took issue with the stand so often taken by former Governor H. P. Brown in depreciating political action. Judge Harris declared that it was the duty of the voter to judge the man he voted for from the record of his life and not from the discussion of issues. He declared that he was sticking to his guns and would continue doing all he could for the voters in return for their doing all they could for him.

Makes Two Promises.

In discussing his platform Judge Harris said:

"Two things I promise to do if I am elected governor.

"First—I am going to reduce taxation in Georgia. I am going to reduce the rate in Georgia in nearly twice that of either Florida or Tennessee. I am going to reduce the rate in Georgia, in comparison with other states, to the lowest rate in the south.

"Secondly—I am going to see that the revenues of the state are administered economically. I am going to see that his service in the legislature and the establishment of the Georgia School of the Industrial Arts in the south. He cited the fact that more than one hundred acts in the code of Georgia were repealed during his term. Harris address was interspersed with humor which kept the good sized crowd amused and was noted for its eloquent peroration which brought his hearers to their feet in enthusiastic applause.

In commenting upon Mr. Harris' stand against the county unit system Judge Harris said:

"My distinguished friend need not bother himself about my position on this system to be used in this state. Under either the popular vote or county unit plan it will so far overwhelm him that he will not even be an issue. I announced after the rules had been fixed but would say this that no change in the county unit system at this time would be cheerfully received by the smaller counties which are in this way alone enabled to secure an expression of their will."

MISS LEHMAN HONORED BY SALEM ALUMNAE

Winston Salem, N. C., May 25.—A notable incident in connection with the meeting of the alumnae association of Salem Female college this afternoon was the honor conferred upon Miss Emma Lehman, who was a member of the fifth year of continuous service as a teacher in the Salem academy and college.

The honor came in the form of a handsome loving cup filled with gold coin, by contributions of gold coins of the college now residing in many sections of the country. In addition to this was also presented a magnificent bound memorial volume which contained letters from contributors in the book is a combination of leather and native wood and was inscribed in gold. This token of esteem was presented by Miss Louise Strowd of Chapel Hill who was a member of the class of 1911.

Miss Lehman was a member of the public schools before becoming a member of Salem college faculty. It is claimed her record is unequalled by any teacher in America.

Memorial gifts were presented to the memorial fund by Miss Caroline Robinson of New York, for the fund by Miss Olivia Miller of North Carolina for the memorial fund, and Miss Elsie Beth Butler of North Carolina, for the freshmen class.

An interesting fact was presented in the announcement made that one-third of the class of 1878 were in attendance upon the meeting. The speaker at the annual literary address, which will mark the close of the one hundred and twelfth commencement of the college will be delivered tomorrow by Dr. James Burrell of New York. The 22nd concert of the college will be a musical event of commencement week a chorus of fifty voices with orchestra of twenty-five. Twenty-five, Van Bico's cantata, St. Cecilia's Day.

STEAMER ROYAL EDWARD STRIKES A BIG ICEBERG

London, May 25.—The steamer Royal Edward of the Canadian Northern Steamship company collided with an iceberg 110 miles east of Cape Race while on her voyage from Montreal to Avonmouth.

The captain, in a wireless message to the owners today described the iceberg as a very large one and said that the steamer struck it end-on while going dead slow in the fog.

The Royal Edward's stern, the message said, was twisted by the blow. The captain declared that the damage was not serious. A later message says the Royal Edward is making no water but that she has been brought to a stop in the fog.

Neither of the messages is dated.

W. H. LEAHY ELECTED MAJOR OF THE FIFTH

Wins the Place After Vote on Two Occasions Had Resulted in Ties.

After the vote for major of the Second battalion of the Fifth regiment had resulted in ties on two former occasions, Captain W. H. Leahy, of the Grady Cadets, was last night elected major by a majority of one vote.

His opponent for the place was Captain Oscar Falkner, of company A. For weeks the contest between the two popular captains had been warm and there was much excitement among the militiamen over the final outcome of the close races.

Captain Leahy is one of the best-known men in Georgia military circles. He has seen sixteen years of service, including first with the militia in Savannah. He has since seen service in the militia of other cities in Georgia, in Alabama and Florida.

His first commission was that of first lieutenant of the Savannah volunteer guards in 1903. With that company he served in the Spanish-American war as a non-commissioned officer. He left the service in 1905 and in 1911 again entered the militia as captain of company E, of the Fifth regiment.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT FAVORED BY PREACHERS

But Some Northern Presbyterians Object to Killing a Man in Order to Reform Him.

Chicago, May 25.—The report of the special committee on prison reform was submitted to the Presbyterian general assembly today by the Rev. Mr. Farley Irwin, of Louisville, chairman. It did not touch upon the punishment of murderers by death, but several ministers during discussion of its recommendations expressed themselves as being in favor of capital punishment.

Rev. C. G. Sterling, of Eureka, Ill., said that he understood the Bible to justify death sentences for murder.

Charles Irwin, pastor of a church, expressed a personal opinion was that no government or man has the right to take a human life.

"I do not believe in killing a man to reform him," said the Rev. Mr. Irwin. The committee recommended that courts instead of prisons be made instruments for the reformation of criminals.

That incorrigibles be sent to prison for life.

That the prison contract labor system should be condemned without qualification.

Final action on the report was deferred.

MURDER OF THE BIBLE

During the discussion the Rev. James Carter of Lincoln university offered an amendment proclaiming any intention of the assembly to condemn the biblical punishment for murder.

"What is the biblical punishment for murder?" shouted a delegate in the rear. "Can we not execute the murderer of Abel?" The amendment was voted down.

COULD GIVES STATEMENT ABOUT MISSOURI PACIFIC

New York, May 25.—George J. Gould, chairman of the Missouri Pacific Railroad company, today announced after a meeting of the directors that an extension of time had been granted holders of the $25,000,000 three year notes maturing June 1 to deposit their notes and thus signify their willingness to have the notes extended for one year.

Mr. Gould said that nearly 65 per cent of the notes had been deposited with the Union Trust company up to the close of business today and he was hopeful that the remaining 35 per cent would be turned in before May 29.

An official statement on behalf of the company explaining the plan, which was approved by the directors, is expected to come at a time not propitious for financing such a large issue.

The Missouri Pacific is in good physical condition and it is confidently expected that if the extension is assured the company will have ample time to adjust its affairs especially with the prospects of good crops and an improvement of conditions throughout the country.

REMAINS OF BRADLEY TAKEN TO KENTUCKY

Washington, May 25.—The body of the late Senator Bradley of Kentucky was taken to Frankfort tomorrow. Both houses adjourned as a mark of respect for the late senator. The remains were introduced and eulogies spoken.

The funeral party included Senators James G. Thompson, of Hancock, Overman Shively, Root, Kern, Martine, Foxworth, O'Gorman, Tall Smith of Kentucky and Representatives Austin Kahn, of Green, Smith of Michigan, Switzer and Johnson of Washington.

The senate after a session of seven minutes today adjourned as a mark of respect. Senator James (formally) announced the death of his colleague. He briefly eulogized the dead senator. He has the distinguished honor, said he of being the only member of his party who has ever chosen governor and senator by his native state Kentucky. He was one of the most gentle of men but a man of good feeling and a distinguished lawyer and orator. He will be greatly missed here as he will be in Kentucky.

CO-OP ASKS CHARTER

Athens, Ga., May 25.—(Special.)—The Georgia Co-operative association has applied to the superior court for charter to do business on the campus of the University of Georgia. The applicants are members of the faculty and of the student body of the university. It is proposed to sell goods at actual cost plus the very slight expense of conducting a co-operative store.

INDIANS AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, May 25.—Black Eagle, a nephew of Chief Joseph, and a delegation of other Nez Perce Indians from Idaho, were among President Wilson's visitors today. Representative Burton of Idaho accompanied the delegation to the white house. The Indians came to Washington to protest a number of tribal matters to the department of the interior.

MORSE WON'T TESTIFY IN NEW HAVEN PROBE

Washington, May 25.—According to present plans of the interstate commerce commission it is said to be unlikely that Charles W. Morse will testify in the investigation into the New Haven railroad's financial affairs. Mr. Morse had suggested that he be afforded the opportunity. The commission, however, is said to feel that Mr. Morse could throw no important light on the subjects of the investigation. His name was brought into the testimony by Charles Meller, who told of a steamship deal that was never consummated.

An attorney and physician representing Morton F. Plant, one of the New Haven directors, informed the commission today that Mr. Plant was ill at his home in Groton, Conn. Mr. Plant had suggested that his testimony be taken later.

An agent of the commission investigating the physical condition of William Rockefeller whose testimony also is desired, reported today that he had been unable to get to New Haven. Mr. Rockefeller would report as soon as practicable.

Definite arrangements have been made for the hearing to be resumed tomorrow, but Chief Counsel Fokk says he will have witnesses prepared to testify.

CHURCHES GAIN BY BIG REVIVAL

490 Additions to Baptist Congregations Already Made and as Many More Conversions Are Reported.

Four hundred and ninety additions to the church, together with as many more conversions of those who have not yet joined the church, were reported yesterday to the central meeting of the Baptist religious campaign in Atlanta. The total number of the conversions effected in the past two days has equaled the number reported for the entire week before an indication, according to the leaders that the people of Atlanta are just beginning to be waked up and are beginning to take a real interest in the meetings.

Grant Park church has reached the high water mark, with thirty-four additions to the church. At Woodward Avenue there have been twenty-nine, at College Park there have been twenty-seven, at Kirkwood there have been twenty-six, at Gordon Street twenty-five, at Central Baptist there have been twenty-eight, at Ponce de Leon twenty-three and at Capitol Avenue there have been eighteen. At many other churches almost as many have been reported.

At the Sunday school services and among the Sunday school students there have been even more remarkable results. At Emanuel church every member of the Sunday school over 9 years of age confessed Christ, and expressed desire to join the church. Sixty children at the First Baptist church and thirty-four at the Second Baptist church have been converted. The meetings in the church at Inman Yards has overflowed the church building, and it has been necessary to secure a tent in which to hold the meetings. In many of the churches the congregations which have become interested in the meetings have occupied all the available space in the church, and have gathered outside the windows to listen to the preaching.

At Highland Park church there was present Sunday night the largest crowd in the history of the church, and the meeting was productive of great interest.

In the colored churches the results have been no less gratifying. Fifteen hundred persons heard Evangelist Wolfe at the Wheat Street church Sunday evening. At that church there have been 113 additions to the membership, and many other conversions. The total number of additions in the Baptist churches has been one hundred and thirty-eight.

The total figures in white membership of the churches has been three hundred and fifty.

These figures do not by any means cover the number of conversions or the number who will join the church as the result of the meetings. Many have joined churches of other denominations as it has been announced by the Baptists that they are free to do, and many for various reasons have not joined the church yet, but will do so in the near future.

One more church the Brown Memorial has joined in the campaign. Members of that church have been active in the meetings in the other churches, but so far no meetings have been held in the building.

Afternoon meetings will be held in the First church, in addition to the central meetings which are held there in the mornings, and to the evening services which have been held there the past week.

The theater meetings at the Bijou will continue for the remainder of the week. The meetings Tuesday and Wednesday will be led by Evangelist U. S. Thomas. It is probable that some of the meetings there will be held outside the building at the entrance of the theater on Marietta street. Other such meetings will be held at night during the week.

No shop meetings were held Monday, but they will be begun again Tuesday with slight changes in the schedule and will be continued through Friday. The following is a list of the places at which they will be held, and those who will take part.

The New Encyclopaedia Britannica

is the only book in the world in which is gathered the best knowledge of our day, sifted and elucidated by authority on all subjects, concerning which an intelligent man or woman may need information.

It is the only work of general reference that is written at first hand by leaders in every field of practical activity and learning—1,500 specialist contributors from 21 countries. It consists of 28 volumes of text, 44,000,000 words in 41,000 articles (the equivalent of the contents of a large library), and an index volume containing 500,000 separate references, a feature found in this Encyclopaedia only.

By its help the answer to any reasonable question may be found without loss of time. There are 14,689 illustrations, 450 full-page plates in black and white and in color, and 300 maps with 125,000 indexed places, covering all lands. Printed on light, thin, but strong and opaque India paper, the Britannica is the ideal encyclopaedia.

A Positive Book Bargain—Therefore Act at Once

In the first place, you get a work whose contents are guaranteed for authority by the University of Cambridge, England.

In the next place, you pay far less for it than it is worth, judging by ordinary book values, less than previous editions cost, and less than you would have to pay if it were not for the large savings in the cost of its production which have been made possible by extensive printing, paper and binding contracts.

The Book You Need

You must have heard enough about the new Britannica to know it is a book you ought to use, and to give your children a chance to use. And very likely you have for some time had it in your mind that you would buy the book some day. But what a man can do any time, he is pretty likely to put off doing all his life.

The plain fact is that anybody who wants to buy the Encyclopaedia Britannica at the cheapest price, and on the easiest terms of payment, must act at once—signing and sending in now the order form (on the lower corner of this advertisement), with only $5.

Why You Must Hurry

This first sale of the Britannica, which is just ending, is at very low prices, in order to popularize the book as rapidly as possible.

You will realize very quickly how low these prices are, when we tell you that $1,500,000 was paid for contributions and for the eight years of editorial work, before a single sheet of paper was printed. And $2,500,000 was spent in manufacturing the first batch of sets. So that there was $4,000,000 locked up in the Britannica before the publishers began to get any of their money back.

Such a large sum of money cannot be left outstanding indefinitely. And the price is now being raised so that people who buy the book after May 28th will pay for it more in accordance with ordinary prices in the book trade.

In Value Received You Get More Than You Pay For

No bargain in books of which you have ever heard could approach in value received for money paid the offer of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica at the prices which will obtain for only two days more.

To buy a library that should be the equivalent of the 44,000,000 words of the Britannica, merely in amount of reading matter provided, to say nothing of its high intrinsic value, would cost you about Six Times as much as you need to pay for the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, if you order before Thursday next.

The time to act has come—the quicker you act, the sooner you will get your set.

$5.00 Down Brings You the Whole 29 Volumes

The 29 magnificent volumes will be delivered to you at the earliest possible moment after the receipt of your first payment of ONLY $5.00.

It will be quite easy for you to complete the purchase by making a few small monthly payments while you are using the Britannica.

And every day you will be getting out of it direct, practical information that will greatly add to your earning capacity or to the economies that wide knowledge enables a man to make.

No Time Left to Ask Questions

We cannot adequately describe the contents of the new Britannica properly in this small space, but you must already have heard it praised by people who are using it. The facts are all here.

You can pay for your Britannica in almost any way you wish—choosing, for example, the system of 12 or 17 or 20 monthly payments—or paying as little as $5.00 a month.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines!"

is a good saying. If you do not order your set of the Britannica now, at the low price, it is absolutely certain that you will have to pay more, for on Thursday ends the sale at the temporary prices.

"SHOOT THE KING." CRIED SUFFRAGETTES

London, May 25.—Shouts of "shoot the king" filled the hall in which a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization, was held this afternoon. Every mention of King George's name was greeted with derision and prolonged hissing.

Mrs. Mildred Ella Mansel who served a term of imprisonment for breaking windows at the war office presided at the suffrage gathering. She alluded to the scenes at Buckingham Palace on Thursday when fifty seven suffragettes, including Mrs. Mansel, were arrested and declared that both the royal name and the royal office had been disgraced.

The speaker announced that a number of large contributions had been received after the recent activities of the militants. One Glasgow woman sent $5,000.

GEORGIA CONDUCTOR KILLED BY OWN TRAIN

Social Circle, Ga., May 25.—(Special) Conductor Charlie F. Green, who has operated the trains of the Georgia Railroad between this place and Monroe for twelve years was run over and badly mangled by his own train this morning at Blackshear. He was found in a truck up his train for a return trip to Monroe. He died two hours later.

He had apparently stepped out of the way of a passing freight directly in the path of his own train which bore down upon him crushing him beneath the brak's beams dragging him for several yards.

WHITFIELD WOMAN DIES AFTER DRINKING ACID

Dalton, May 25.—(Special)—Suicide was the conclusion reached by the coroner's jury when they inquired into the death of Mrs. John Kettles, a young mother of the town. Valley set off a fire which consumed her house when she returned from a trip to this town.

From the burns on her face and the medical examination it was found that she had drunk sulphuric acid. The acid was found in the stove in the kitchen. Mrs. Kettles was about 25 years of age.

J. R. ANDERSON SPEAKS TO 4TH DISTRICT SCHOOL

Carrollton, Ga., May 25.—(Special)—J. Randolph Anderson, president of the Georgia senate and candidate for governor, spoke today at the graduation exercises of the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical college. Mr. Anderson was accompanied by educational lines bearing especially on the value of an industrial training. Mr. Anderson was in the legislature when the bill was passed creating these district colleges in the state, and for some time has been chairman of the board of directors of the schools of the First district.

Mr. Anderson goes to Newnan and LaGrange tomorrow. On Saturday, June 1, he will open his campaign for governor at Marietta.

Sheldon president of the committee has sent out invitations to all political organizations in Atlanta to attend the session.

SHOT AND KILLED BY MAN HE HAD FERRIED OVER FLINT RIVER

Woodland Ga., May 25.—(Special)—News has just reached here of the killing of James Hammock a white farmer living about 6 miles from here up near Flint river.

It seems from the meager reports that a white man by the name of Bob Townsend who lives near Chatsbate Springs went to Hammock's home Saturday night and got in a row with Hammock, but later they settled their row and Hammock took Townsend in a boat to carry him across the river to the Upson county side. After landing in Upson county and after Hammock had turned his boat to return it is reported Townsend shot him with a shotgun. Hammock's body was recovered about a mile down the river where the boat had run aground on a rock.

Little can be learned about the affair and it has not been learned whether Townsend has been arrested or not.

EDGEWOOD PLANT SOLD FOR $5,000 CASH

The property of the Edgewood plant which was built in 1911 in the north ward was sold today by a court by City Marshal James M. Walker to the Edgewood plant for $5,000 cash. The fee simple company which owned the property through its representative stated that it had an easement on the property for a building which was to be put for the sale of the property to another party some months ago. The court marshal then proceeded with the sale and after making the outcry required by law sold the property as stated.

WILL SHOW GEORGIA IN MOVING PICTURES

Georgia Commission for Panama-Pacific Exposition Arranges to Take 10,000 Feet.

The Georgia commission for the Panama-Pacific exposition met yesterday afternoon at the capitol and arranged with the National Film Company of Washington D. C. to take 10,000 feet of motion pictures illustrating Georgia.

F. S. Hinrichs representing the company said after the meeting that there will be such pressure on the commission to get into the picture that it will be next to impossible to hold the amount down under 20,000 feet.

He left last night for Washington to expect a return the latter part of the week to begin work. The pictures will be made by one of the best men Patho Freres ever had.

The plan is to tell the story of the state in pictures. The camera will start with the cotton story will start with breaking the land showing the different ways the one horse plow the disc and the traction engines the camera will go on to show the plantation and get his pictures now in July or August he will get another picture. In the fall he will return and make a picture of the cotton crop. He will follow the seed cotton to the gin and then the lint to the mill and to the ship side.

aval stores will be illustrated by starting with the iron and steel showing the various processes of box making chipping, scraping, dipping, staining and painting. Pictures of the different grades possibly of herring too and the great jars of oysters.

The story of granite marble farm life good roads schools and colleges will be shown in pictures. The hundreds of industries will all be told in space will permit.

The pictures will show these pictures every day in the Georgia building at San Francisco. The state buildings at the exposition will be in the position and visitors will naturally seek them when they get to San Francisco. It is proposed to start the pictures in the forenoon and keep showing them all day and night so long as there are visitors to the state building.

The members of the commission present at Monday's meeting were: J. H. Underhill, commissioner of agriculture; W. C. Year, state geologist; R. C. Forsyth, state geologist; R. C. Dunlap, Gainesville; H. M. Stanley, state commissioner of labor; and Frank Weldon, chairman who presided.

Walter Andrews who was head of the commission in Europe last winter to interest foreign countries was also present and took a very lively interest in the pictures.

The commission is planning to not only illustrate the state by pictures but we hope to make a very strong display of the actual resources and products of Georgia and the state of Weldon. The members of the commission are deeply interested and expect that the pictures will be a great asset to the state in favor of a big exhibit at San Francisco.

BAPTISTS OF MACON ADOPT DRASTIC RULE

Smoking and "Movies" Put on Black List With Locker Clubs.

Macon Ga. May 25.—(Special)—The Tabernacle Baptist church of Macon, Ga. has adopted a resolution to prohibit members of the church from social or secret orders where intoxicating drinks are served in the clubhouse and unless all members of the church who now be in connection with them at once they will be expelled from the church. This was the text of a resolution unanimously adopted by the congregation yesterday.

In addition any member of the church who uses tobacco in any form attends the theater or moving picture shows will be expelled from the church. The most drastic ever adopted by a local church but it is not anticipated that it will result in any such complications as occurred in Atlanta recently when an indulgent in the play will do so under the disapproval of the church and the resolution calls on them to desist from any such practices.

Macon Ga. May 25.—(Special)—An announcement has been made by the Central of Georgia railway that a modern concrete bridge will be constructed across Walnut street at the city street replacing the present overhead wooden bridge at that point.

GEORGIA SWITCH ENGINE IS ROCKED BY STRIKERS

The first actual demonstration of violence in the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills strike which has been going on for the last week occurred Monday morning about 6 o'clock when about twenty-five of the strikers and strike sympathizers rocked a Georgia rail switch engine which was hauling several freight cars of supplies into the factory lot.

The engine cab on the engine was struck with several large stones and the window glasses smashed. One of the strikers then leaped into the cab and nearly struck the engineer.

Chief Beavers was appealed to for a squad of policemen under his command to be rushed to the scene of the strike demonstration. The strikers hearing the news that the police were about to arrive dispersed quickly and managed to dodge the police by a few minutes at the time of the rock throwing and arrested them. Their names were W. E. Huddler of No. 27 W. J. Street and J. V. Bradley of No. 443 Edgewood street. They were held at the police station under bond of $1,000 each.

Oscar Lewis vice president of the mill strikers said he had been arrested and the strikers whom he states number only a few will be back at work.

FORCED TO EAT CRUSHED ICE

And Was Not Even Allowed Privilege of Sitting Up, But Finally Wins Out.

Kaplan, Ia.—Mrs. Cassimer Burk hart of this town gives out following for publication. I feel that I owe my life to Cardul, the woman's tonic. I was married last April and was in fairly good health. Shortly after marriage my health began to fail and for three long months I was threatened with serious sickness.

I passed most of my time in bed with a nurse at my bedside. At last, I was told an operation was necessary. I was so weak I could retain nothing on my stomach but crushed ice and was not even allowed to sit up in bed.

A friend of mine advised me to use Cardul, the woman's tonic and they got a bottle for me as a last resort. After taking Cardul for one week I was able to be up in my room. After continual use for two months I was in perfect health and could do all of my work without tiring.

I take an occasional dose of Cardul and Black Draught now to keep my system in good condition. Several of my friends are using Cardul with good results. I am never without it in the house.

There's a bottle of Cardul waiting for you at your nearest drugstore. Got it and begin taking today. You will never regret it.

New and Charming White Dresses for Graduating and Close of School Affairs

$15, $20, $25.

We have never had lovelier White Dresses at these prices—a fact which is attested in the scores which have gone out in the few days they have been here.

They are "simply adorable"—women rave over them. Imagine: Sheer, crisp organdie, bodice and double tulle skirt of the finest cobwebby embroidered flouncing, in the daintiest possible designs, with fascinating girdles of soft silk.

If you wish such a frock for graduating, or for Junior Proms—or for any of the affairs of school-closing—choosing at once is necessary—a second order of these lovely dresses is going in a hurry. They are priced at $15, $20 and $25.

MRS. LYON'S ACHEs AND PAINs

Have All Gone Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Terre Hill, Pa.—"Kindly permit me to give you my testimonial in favor of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I first began taking it I was suffering from female troubles for some time and had almost all kinds of aches—pains in lower part of back and in sides, and pressing down pains. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the aches and pains are all gone and I feel like a new woman. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

It is true that nature and a woman's work has produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known. From the roots and herbs of the field, Lydia E. Pinkham, forty years ago, gave to womankind a remedy for their peculiar ills which has proved more efficacious than any other combination of drugs ever compounded, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is recognized from coast to coast as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health—many of them openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in some cases that it has saved them from surgical operations.

Block's Baker and Old Man Lemon assure you there is no cracker quite as flossy as the genuine BLOCK'S Lemon Snaps. They have the flavor—the freshness—the crispness—the goods that's above par. Baked in Atlanta—Always fresh in the air-tight package. —5c— Frank E. Block Co. Atlanta, Ga.

NOBODY KNOWS.

The Constitution publishes today a significant letter from J. W. Hamer, third vice president of the Penn Mutual Insurance company, commending an editorial in which the Constitution urged congress to get through and go home, so as to "give business a chance."

Mr. Hamer is head of the loan department of the Penn Mutual. So long has he held that important position that it is probable he has, personally, passed upon a greater aggregate of loans for industrial development than any other one living American. His experience as a reorganizer of disabled railroad properties is perhaps not equalled by that of any other man in America. He has been a member, and often chairman, of a number of reorganization committees whose function has been to rehabilitate crippled railroads in every part of the country. He stands at the forefront of clean-cut, conservative, constructive American financiers.

When such a man speaks it is, therefore, with the voice of authority. He says that the prosperity of the railroads and the prosperity of the country are terms that are inseparable, that next to agriculture, the nation depends most upon the railroads for prosperity, that it is impossible, under present conditions, for the railroads to prosper, that prosperity with the railroads means a restoration of their credit, now radically impaired and for whatever reason.

The central influence now obstructing a full return of prosperity and an uninterrupted swing of business is the uncertainty that radiates from Washington to the money centers, and to the terminus of the smallest artery of industry in this country. For months the interstate commerce commission has been lumbering and fencing with a problem that should have been solved long ago. The railroads do not know whether they must adjust their plans to present conditions or whether they will be permitted to borrow the money needed to build to a scale of prosperity unequalled in the nation's history. Neither the big nor the little business man knows whether he must plan on the present halting basis or set the gears for an era of unprecedented prosperity. Capital, constitutionally timid, will not stir from its retreat. Congress, with its backing and filling upon the matter of business legislation, its tendency one day to be sensible and one day to be mad, adds to the confusion.

Nobody knows! That is the keynote to a situation that is fast shifting from distress to desperation. Congress and the interstate commerce commission hold prosperity or adversity in the hollow of their hands. What will congress and the commission do about it?

A COMMANDING SUGGESTION.

William H. Terrell, of Atlanta, in a communication published today, puts forward a suggestion regarding Stone Mountain that makes a bold challenge to imagination. He would make the great monolith a fitting monument to the confederacy—to the men who lost their lives for it and the women who sacrificed sons and husbands and fathers and brothers to it. Mr. Terrell says the owners of the mountain would co-operate. Speaking of monuments and Battle Abbeys: "Here is a monument reared by nature herself, upon what was once the top of the world, a monument whose foundation is the earth itself, unchanging and unchangeable by the tooth of time, flinging an eternal challenge to the centuries and the elements, gazing forever across the ages with its story of one of the most remarkable events that ever illumined a people's history.

The "granite highway" now building between the mountain and Atlanta would be a connecting link, and induce visitors from all civilization. The suggestion has all the advantages of noble proportions, of original conception. Certainly no cause, lost or living, or held in the crypts of memory, could have a monument boasting such commanding attributes.

THE VICE PRESIDENT.

Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, will today be the guest of Atlanta. Coming primarily as commencement orator at Agnes Scott College, the opportunity will be utilized to show Mr. Marshall such courtesies as befit the high station he occupies.

Proverbially, the vice president of the nation is somewhat obscured by the more constant prominence that hedges his chief. Few incumbents of recent years have done more than Thomas R. Marshall to lift the office, partially at least, from that status. This he has accomplished by a characteristic geniality and a sound good-fellowship, in no sense touching the offensively aggressive.

If one were asked to typify the vice president it would be as a thoroughly representative American, a democrat in the social no less than in the political meaning. He has the knack of "getting on all fours" with the masses, and of appealing in phrases that comprehend those things in life common to the highest as well as the most humble. These traits he has carried into public life, whether as governor of Indiana or as vice president of the nation. Honest of purpose and firm of principle, his personality is essentially a lovable one.

The Constitution extends Mr. Marshall a hearty welcome to Atlanta and to Georgia.

DR. WILMER MUST STAY.

Every man and woman in Atlanta who has followed even casually the course of civic affairs and organized religion in this community will add sincere indorsement to the resolutions in which the wardens and vestry of St. Luke's Episcopal church seek to prevail upon the Rev. Dr. C. R. Wilmer, the rector, to reject the call recently tendered him by the University of the South at Sewanee. The chair offered Dr. Wilmer is that of systematic theology. Located in the historic institution that supplies ministers to the Episcopal church, the appeal comes with particular force to a man of Dr. Wilmer's temperament. In his statement to his congregation Sunday, he made it clear that while he had not reached a decision, he was giving the matter extremely serious consideration.

The Constitution does not overlook, nor minimize, the inducement to Dr. Wilmer to go to Sewanee. Essentially a student, instinctively a teacher, and, beyond all, militant where the progress and welfare of his church are concerned, it is natural that he should hesitate and be very sure as to where lies the field for greatest service, for service is among his dominant characteristics.

But the Constitution submits on behalf of all Atlanta, of whatever creed or denomination, that this city cannot afford to lose Dr. Wilmer. In the realm of mind he is an intellectual giant. His faculties are keen as a Damascus blade. His learning, sacred and secular, is profound. He is ripe in that knowledge of the world without which the preacher of today is poorly armed to battle with its problems. He is forceful without rant, consecrated without cant. His conquests over human morals and the human conscience are based upon reason, not upon the lash of fear, the crude club of superstition, the ipse dixit of theology, nor upon bitterness, prejudice and ignorance. Persuasion and conviction, not coercion, comprise his method. He is broad, tolerant. He does not read people away from grace simply because they disagree with him. Tactful, he is honest also, and courage and sincerity run as strata through his nature. He is the type of minister who will, eventually, reconcile the clear thinking and inquisitive materialism of our day with the religion of Jesus Christ.

Manifestly, such a man cannot be spared from any community, least of all from Atlanta, into whose every phase of personal and civic endeavor his salubrious personality has projected its influence. The present and the future of this city demand his inspired co-operation. The congregation of St. Luke's will render a community service by prevailing upon him to remain.

And, too, the watchful waiting act is done by the office seekers.

In Mexico the land is so rich that "patrons" grow wild there.

Japan just won't interfere to make Hobson a true war prophet.

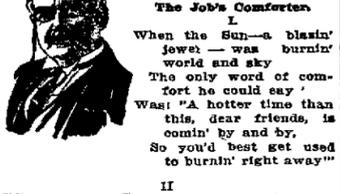

The man with the mint garden, who knows how to mix the julep, has no complaint of torrid weather.

War correspondents in Mexico continue to add to the trouble by getting in jail.

And now George Bailey makes this unkind criticism.

"Some of the poetry written on the dead jackies of Vera Cruz was but the taking of a mean advantage of soldiers who couldn't help themselves."

Aside from agriculture dependent upon our 25,000 miles of railroad constitute our greatest industry. Unless it prospers we can not prosper.
We perhaps need not fear for the Pennsylvania railroad and the Lackawanna, but all the railroads cannot be Lackawanna.
All land values depend upon railroad development, which we cannot afford to stop.

Uncle Sam, Not Villa, Carranza Nor Huerta, Holds Key, Says Yeandle

Here is about the most calm and coherent story of the Mexican situation that has come to Atlanta out of that ravaged country. It is told by William Henry Yeandle, Jr., to The Constitution. Mr. Yeandle ought to know Mexico. He has lived there 16 years. He is a graduate of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He graduated there in 1898. Shortly thereafter he went to Mexico as a mining engineer with ex-Governor A. R. Shepard, of the District of Columbia. He is now in Atlanta visiting his parents. Pillage, graft and too much centralization are the troubles in Mexico, according to Mr. Yeandle. He thinks that in a spirit of humanity and not conquest, a big job lies there for Uncle Sam, Huerta, Villa and Carranza are, he says, alike impossible. He talks in an impersonal way that carries conviction.

Expressing himself to The Constitution, he said:
A Straight Story.
It is perhaps well known that the constitution of Mexico is based on that of the United States, but in strong contrast its laws follow the Roman, with the exception of the French. The constitution is to a large extent disregarded and the laws tend to be adapted to France is entirely out of place in Mexico due to large area and distances. Centralization of the government, especially in the expenditure of income, resulted in the upbuilding during the thirty years of the Diaz regime of magnificent cities, but in many localities no progress has been made in the past fifty years. Roughly, 60 per cent of the country's population is concentrated directly through the administration in Mexico City, 30 per cent through the state administration, and 10 per cent through the municipal administration or in the country districts.

No Change in Country.
There is, therefore, but little chance of any distinct progress being made under the Diaz system of education was based on the same general plan of centralization. There is a certain degree of centralization in the larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts. The larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts. The larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts.

Decades of Pillage.
"Thirty years of upbuilding of this system brought the country to a state of ruin. The Diaz system of education was based on the same general plan of centralization. There is a certain degree of centralization in the larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts. The larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts.

Madero Unit.
"The passing of Madero was essential and the methods chosen for disposing definitely of his government. The Diaz system of education was based on the same general plan of centralization. There is a certain degree of centralization in the larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts. The larger cities, good preparatory and professional schools in Mexico City, and a certain degree of centralization in the country districts.

A Splendid Country.
Mexico is a magnificent country, productive beyond belief and capable, even as a whole are far from being entirely barbarous. Of course, it is none of our business, we ought not to interfere. It is our duty, however, to see that the country is not a whole country can always come home. (We would kick like a Georgia mule on a down grade if the privilege were refused us.) I quote Senator Lodge. It is uncomfortable to live next door to a house on fire. The progress of the world is inevitable. The progress of the world is inevitable. The progress of the world is inevitable.

An Appeal.
I make this brief outline suggestion to you in the hope that you may through your paper induce the Confederate Veterans as well as the Sons of Veterans and Daughters of the Confederacy to take the lead in the movement for this memorial. I am confident that citizens generally will contribute liberally. The south has grown wealthy and is growing richer every day and I believe the idea contained in this article will strike a popular chord.

Editor Constitution: In the opinion of many the time has arrived when the south ought to have some permanent memorial to the confederacy. Its statesmen heroes and heroic women and I believe no more fitting thing could be done than the purchase by the public of Stone Mountain and its dedication as such.

This mountain is peculiarly suitable in many respects for the purpose mentioned. It is near the heart of the confederacy and is only a little way from the scene of one of the great battles of the war between the states. It is easily accessible both by steam and by auto. It will be seen without change except such as may be made by the hand of man so long as the world shall stand.

This mountain is the one time top of the world. There is nothing like it on the earth. Neither the Pyramids nor the Sphinx are in the world. The Pyramids is the equal of Stone Mountain for memorial purposes.

It has upon one side an almost perpendicular face sufficient area to contain the names of all the confederate organizations might desire to place thereon but also for the making of niches in which might be placed almost innumerable statues. Upon its top has been erected a building in the form of a Greek temple which could be made of stone quarried on the spot. This temple should be used for the preservation of such relics as are in their nature more or less perishable. The relics might be reached by steps cut in the rock. In addition the mountain could be dedicated to the perpetual use of the public as a park.

THERE ARE MANY ANGLES TO WHAT LITTLE JOE BROWN WILL DO
The one burning political question of the hour is—
What will the Hon. Joseph M. Brown do? And as a secondary consideration, when will he do it?

There are three separate and distinct, clear cut and emphatic answers to the first of these questions—answers coming from men who of course, should be in a position to know whereof they speak.

The answers are as different as daylight and darkness. However they are equally in forecasting and deserving of consideration.

There are three separate and distinct, clear cut and emphatic answers to the first of these questions—answers coming from men who of course, should be in a position to know whereof they speak.

Several weeks ago Colonel Fred J. Taxon, Governor John M. Slaton's chief of staff and formerly the chief of staff of Joseph M. Brown, who is known to be very close to the Governor, went up to Marietta to have a conference with Little Joe and to ascertain if possible what he intended doing. He came back to Atlanta and himself wrote out a communication to the effect that the Governor had authorized him, Colonel Taxon, to go personally to Governor Slaton and assure him Slaton as strongly as possible that he Brown would not be a candidate against him Slaton. Now Colonel Taxon is a very close friend of Slaton and personally give him this assurance.

The third is—
B. M. Blackburn, who was executive secretary under Governor Brown's first administration, and who is a very close friend of late and he has the following to say:
I would guess and base the guess on Governor Brown's last letter that he will run for governor. You know his father served under Governor Brown, and the son likes to follow the footsteps of the father, as a rule.

So it would seem that somebody is wrong. The public has three propositions to choose from. The Governor, Mr. Brown and Mr. Slaton. The Governor, Mr. Brown and Mr. Slaton. The Governor, Mr. Brown and Mr. Slaton.

That south Georgia will go solidly for Governor Slaton for the senatorship is the opinion of E. S. Mr. Lane travels all over south Georgia and he declares there is a well defined sentiment in favor of Governor Slaton. He says Congressman Thomas W. "Make Atlanta Road Congress The Biggest Ever Held"

(From The Manufacturers Record)
Every county and state official in the south interested in the improvement of the maintenance of roads or streets ought to be making plans to attend the big road congress to be held in Atlanta next November. This ought to be the greatest gathering of such interested in road building in the south. There is no other section of the country more vitally interested in the building and maintenance of roads than the south. There is no other section of the country more vitally interested in the building and maintenance of roads than the south. There is no other section of the country more vitally interested in the building and maintenance of roads than the south.

What kind of material shall be used? Under what conditions shall roads be built or repaired? What is the best material for road making? Will it be brick? Will it be concrete? Will it be macadam? Will it be gravel? Will it be sand? Will it be dirt? Will it be anything else? These are the questions that are being brought to bear to induce the use of this material or that.

What are other counties doing? What has been the effect of road building elsewhere on material, educational and religious progress?

These are a few of the many questions that must confront every man holding any official position in the south. At the Atlanta congress there will be the opportunity of studying these questions in every phase of road building. It will be intelligently presented by experts. Probably every important line of machinery used in road building and every variety of material will be in exhibition. Hundreds of engineers and contractors and machinery makers will be there to study every phase of highway improvements.

In advance of the meeting of the congress all of these subjects should be actively discussed by the people of every county. They should be ready to answer the questions that are prepared to make to these questions and how far they have studied them.

MELLEN EVIDENCE DECLARED UNTRUE J. P. Morgan Defends His Father—Denies the Elder Morgan Interfered Actively in Management of Road.

New York, May 25.—J. P. Morgan tonight characterized as untrue the testimony of Charles S. Mellen, former head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, before the interstate commerce commission in Washington last week that J. P. Morgan had interfered with the management of the road which Mr. Mellen should have known.

Mr. Morgan offered to produce before any proper tribunal at any time the records of J. P. Morgan & Co. and the personal records of his father.

The statement was his first direct reply to Mr. Mellen's Washington testimony which he examined, he said, from a stenographic report. The statement read: "I became a director of the New Haven railroad in April, 1913, and resigned December 31 of the same year. The only reference to me personally in Mr. Mellen's testimony has to do with the fact that I, as a director of the company, called upon him and told him that a change in the presidency was desirable. For that act, either as a director or an individual, I accept full responsibility."

Mr. Mellen, in substance, charges Mr. Morgan with having concealed from him facts which the president of the company should have known. During the last ten years of my father's life he was abroad more than one-third of the time. During the last three years of his life he was abroad one-half of the time. He was actively connected during this whole period with many different affairs. That he would have had the time, even if he had had the management of the New Haven, is impossible.

Believed in the Road. "Mr. Mellen is right in picturing my father's deep interest in New Haven affairs. My father was born in New England and believed in the New Haven railroad. He recognized, that with the shifting of the center of population in this country, and the changing economic conditions, the commercial position of New England was threatened, and that a change in this commercial position would, unless an effort were made to correct it, result in an unfavorable effect upon New England's leading railroad. He undoubtedly believed that a railroad peculiarly situated as is the New Haven, with a growing passenger traffic at very low rates and with expensive improvements required, and along its line, must make every effort to increase its traffic and maintain its position."

He believed, moreover, that the New Haven and the Boston and Maine, which were not, in his opinion, in any sense competing lines, could be operated to the benefit of New England and advantageously together than apart, and that no harm could come to the public from this amalgamation by reason of the full measure of state and national regulation which the laws afforded.

Didn't Control Mellen. "I am quite ready to believe, also, that he agreed with Mr. Mellen that the entrance of the Grand Trunk railway into Providence would have involved the unnecessary duplication of facilities for which the New England public sooner or later would have had to pay. But the imputation that my father in any sense took any part in the affairs of the Grand Trunk, or in any of its members, growing out of transactions of any kind, which were connected with the New Haven lines, for a period of twenty years, those who know the facts are aware that it is a grossly untrue statement. The records of my father and the personal records of my father are intact; they are available and ready for production before any proper tribunal at any time."

Forrest Adair and Helpers In the Great Shrine Week Lauded and Given Presents

Amid splendid decorations and a festive spirit that all but rivaled Shrine week itself, the leaders who were responsible for the wonderful success of the meeting of the Imperial council of the Shrine here were felicitated last night at the Druid Hills Country club by Yaarab temple.

Potentate Forrest Adair, of Yaarab temple, was the honor guest of a dinner.

FORREST ADAIR.

ner and dance. By more than 600 lusty and enthusiastic Shriners the potentate's glory was sung, shouted, smiled, hand-shaken and eloquently spoken. And as a lasting token of the love and esteem in which he is held by his temple he was presented with a beautiful diamond and pearl eckip pin by Past Potentate John A. Hynds in behalf of Yaarab temple.

And Potentate Adair was not the only one who was honored. As a surprise, which left him speechless and with moist eyes, John C. Greenfield was presented with a silver loving cup filled with $1,000 in gold.

Watch for Johnny Peele. Johnny Peele, who organized and perfected the Atlanta drum corps of 165 pieces, which made such a hit in the Shrine parade, was presented with a Swiss gold watch.

The clubhouse and grounds were brilliantly decorated and illuminated in Shrine and national colors and in Shriner emblems. The decorations were the compliments of Irving Greenham, of the Dahl Floral company.

The dinner was held in the reception room of the club. Over 600 Shriners were seated at the tables there and on the piazza outside. Colonel Fred Paxson was the toastmaster.

His table set Potentate Forrest Adair, Senator Hoke Smith, Rabbi Marx, John A. Hynds, Mayor James G. Woodward, John C. Greenfield, Dr. George E. Argard, C. C. McGehee, W. A. Foster, W. S. Byck, Lewis Arnold, Albert S. Adams, W. A. Fuller, Burton Smith, Preston Arkwright, Ivan B. Allen, Dr. A. H. Van Dyke, G. W. Birnie, Major J. O. Seaman and H. M. Atkinson.

Scarcely had the Yaarabites taken their seats when the Ad Men members started things with the familiar Ad Men's strain of "They say old Potentate ain't got no style." From that moment on the evening was one of gayest hilarity, and the hall was continuously ringing with songs and cheers.

Lists Not Yet Closed. It had been expected that Potentate Adair would be presented last night with the gift to be bought with the public subscription fund, but Postmaster Paxson announced that the subscriptions have not yet closed and that this presentation will be made later.

Postmaster Paxson introduced Past Potentate John A. Hynds, who presented the pearl and diamond pin to Potentate Adair in a speech that has not been equalled for eloquence and oratory in Atlanta in many a long day. Schorby he mounted a chair and began his easy flow of language, pausing here for the effect of a well selected word and neatly dashing off a magisterially traced figure of speech, than he was interrupted with tremendous applause and his heavers broke in with cries of "Where did you get it?"

When he led up to the important role that Forrest Adair played in bringing the Shriners to Atlanta the members of Yaarab temple of the three with a shout that raised the roof.

He paid eloquent tribute to the faithfulness and the indomitable enthusiasm with which Mr. Adair carried the imperial council convention to success, although the history of his work from the day of his whirlwind campaign for the entertainment fund to the culmination in Shrine week itself.

Pearl of Great Price. In presenting the pin, he said: "Noble Adair, I am commissioned by Yaarab temple to express to you their esteem and say to you that you, 'Well done good and faithful servant.' This pearl which I present to you in behalf of Yaarab is a pearl of great price—the pearl of love and fellowship."

When Mr. Adair arose to accept it he was not rest from their clamor until he had mounted a chair where all could see and hear.

Mr. Adair in accepting the token declared himself unworthy of so much honor and laid it to the faithful cooperation of all the nobles of the temples in Georgia, the 225,000 citizens of Atlanta, all the good from Jupiter Fluvius down.

"Even the animals," he said, "recognized that it was up to them to make good, and according to the plan for the convention the camel at Grant park dutifully gave birth to another little camel, and that she did not be camels enough to go 'round.'"

Gratified With Results. Mr. Adair declared that it had always been his ambition to make the Shriners of North America and Atlanta fall in love with each other, and having accomplished that ambition, he felt gratified beyond expression.

Upon the Yaarabites he prayed "all the blessing of God that can be sent; when the dark camel comes may you be borne away to tents above and millions of buildings with hands—all this and more."

Major J. O. Paxson expressed the regrets of Governor John M. Slaton, the potentate of the Macon, Savannah, Birmingham, Milledgeville and other temples at not being able to be present.

He introduced Senator Hoke Smith, who read of the glowing reports that the departing Shriners gave of Atlanta as they passed through Washington. When he spoke of the grandeur of Potentate Adair had some years ago bestowed upon him, the mental picture of the senator's grandeur lighted in the antics of a Shrine initiation bore so strongly upon the minds of his hearers that the dignity of the occasion was seriously impaired for several minutes.

Warmly Praised Adair. Senator Smith was warm in his praise of Mr. Adair and the great success of the Shrine convention. He commended the dignity of the citizens of Atlanta who are not Shriners, expressed the pride that all Atlanta felt in the Shrine convention.

Rabbi Marx presented the silver loving cup to Potentate Adair, who presented the watch to Mr. Peele.

Thanks was also given to Major J. O. Seaman and many others for their great work that day.

The hour Mr. Adair led the grand march and dancing continued until late into the night.

AT THE THEATERS.

Keith Vaudeville. (At the Forsyth.) It may be that the two girls who are brunettes, and possibly somewhere there are a few blondes, but this story is about as hot as the red heads, but it would appear that no other kind is worth while of the feeling "Red Heads" at the Forsyth yesterday afternoon.

Acts may come and acts may go—just as surely as the brook—but the memory of this number will live long with those who have seen it, and the founders of the vaudeville house.

Now to begin with, the girls are not the prettiest in the world, so the critic gave the way for superlatives on other features of the show.

Their costumes are the handsomest offered at the Forsyth this year, of course a mere man is not supposed to be able to wear them in detail, but a general thing he has some idea of their cost, and they look like heart failure to the man who has to buy them.

Next, most of the girls are dancers, second next (is there such a thing) Erwin and James Connelly are as clever as one could wish. And when you see them you are glad to see them, and you are glad to see them, and you are glad to see them.

By way of conclusion it might be stated that the first number on the program, and not only kept folks seated throughout in the afternoon, but also in the evening, and called again and again for the curtain to be lifted.

It will be difficult to do much matter, as long as the "Red Heads" are coming at the finish. However, having accomplished that, there are five very good numbers.

The Four Charles in novelty juggling, the dancing of the "Red Heads," the stunts, Erwin and James Connelly are very good in "Sweethearts," Duffy Brown in "The Cat and the Hat," and the song and chatter; Webb and Burns, two singing comedians, so they sing when they dance, and they offer two songs at the same time and to the same music, breaking a tumultuous scene of the "Red Heads" which all over the two comedians who have appeared in the last two weeks.

"Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary." (At the Lyric.) That audience the Lyric last night resembled a stripped deck in a three-handed jack-pot, but the show was a good one, and the Lyric is a very good one.

Miss LaVerne is at her best in "The Cat and the Hat," and she is a very good one. Her acting is good, and she is a very good one. Her acting is good, and she is a very good one.

Miss LaVerne is in the role of Aunt Mary. Aunt Mary, herself, could have been no more than a very good one. You know Aunt Mary's a very good one.

Aunt Mary is a wealthy unmarried specimen of aged feminine with a few wrinkles and a few spots, and she is a very good one.

He is in college. That moon would be inferred by his pyrotechnic career. Aunt Mary's feet are in the city, and she is a very good one.

She is a very good one. She is a very good one. She is a very good one. She is a very good one.

So the stage crew and volunteers went out on a hurry call to find out if they found one prowling somewhere on the street, lassoed him and forced him to be an actor. And never did an actor forced into the star role, make so fine a show.

Photo Plays. (At the Grand.) "Mr. Barnes of New York" came to the Grand yesterday for a three days' engagement. To those not familiar with the picture, it is a very good one.

THIRTEEN CARDINALS CREATED BY THE POPE

Archbishop of Quebec Gets Red Hat—Other Twelve Are European Prelates. Rome, May 25.—At a secret consistory, held at the Vatican this morning, Pope Pius created thirteen new cardinals.

A number of bishops from various countries also were confirmed in their sees. The ceremony, which was accompanied by all the brilliance usual on such occasions at the Vatican, was presided over by a short allocution, after which the names of the new cardinals were announced as follows:

Monsignor Louis Nazaire Begin, archbishop of Quebec, Canada. Monsignor V. Guisanzola Y. Mendez, archbishop of Toledo, Spain. Monsignor Domenico Serafini, assessor of the congregation of the holy office.

Monsignor Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna, Italy. Monsignor John Csernok, archbishop of Esztergom, Hungary. Monsignor Francis von Bettinger, archbishop of Mainz, Bavaria.

Monsignor Felix von Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, Germany. Monsignor P. Piffri, archbishop of Vienna, Austria. Monsignor Philip Guattini, secretary of the congregation of the Sacraments.

Monsignor Michael Lega, dean of the apostolic delegation at the United States. Monsignor Scipio Tschigi, assessor of the consistorial congregation.

Right Rev. Francis Aidan Gasquet, president of the English Benedictines. Monsignor Hector Irene Sevin, archbishop of Lyons, France. Monsignor Joseph Sarto, archbishop of Udine, Italy.

The pope in the course of his allocution, said that the world seemed to lift up the cross of Christ as the sole source of peace and order, and that the people and war may break out as the result of rivalries daily becoming more bitter.

Men of distinction and force are planning for their nations and for the world, and for the people, and the slaughter of war and for ensuring the blessing of peace.

The latter passage generally was interpreted as referring to the late Cardinal Gibbons, who died in 1905, and to the late Cardinal Wilson, and Secretary Bryan's endeavors to preserve peace.

The occasion ended by recalling the 100 years ago Pius VII, triumphantly returned to Rome from captivity in France, and received with the applause of the world.

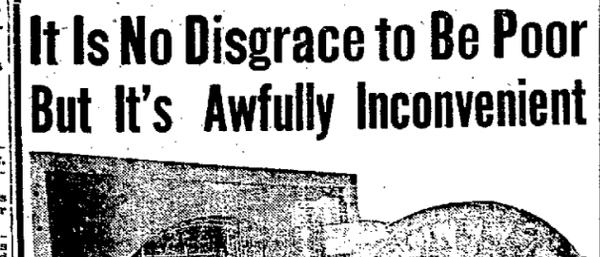

Indeed, a masterpiece, and if it does not prove the best attraction the Grand has had in the motion picture line, the writer is at a loss to say. The picture leads a splendid cast that includes William Humphrey, Mary Charlotte and the grand General Funston and Albert Gallatin and others that are well known to the lovers of motion pictures.

The production is excellent, and the production is put on even to the smallest detail. It is announced as the first of many Vitaphone theater successes to be seen at the Grand. As a special feature, the latest Father's Week is shown, and especially interesting among the many new pictures are "Uncle Sam's Boys on the March" and "General Funston and Army in Vera Cruz," a ten-piece picture, and a talented soprano were their features. Your performances are announced daily.

RIVAL HIGH SCHOOLS CONTEST ON TRACK

Tech High and Boys' High Meet at Grant Field on Wednesday.

What promises to be one of the fiercest contested track meets ever held between two prep schools in Atlanta, will be the one between Boys' High and Tech High which will be held Wednesday afternoon at Grant field.

Both Boys' High and Tech High have excellent track teams this year and some excellent events will be pulled off by the two teams.

Boys' High recently dropped out of the Prep league, along with two other prep schools, and was therefore unable to participate in the annual prep track meet.

However, it was decided to arrange a meet between Boys' High and Tech High, as these two schools are very close rivals in athletic affairs.

Boys' High is captain of the Boys' High team, while Fowler acts in the same capacity at Tech High.

Last year a dual track meet was held between these two schools, and Boys' High won very easily, by over thirty points. However, Tech High has a much better team than represented the school last year, and while Boys' High is not considered as having quite as strong a team as they had last year, they have a good team.

The meet will start promptly at 1:30 and the events usually held at a track meet will be held in regular order.

TECH HIGH WINS PREP SCHOOL RAG

Prep Standing.

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Tech High	9	2	.818
Marist	6	5	.545
G. M.	5	5	.500
Donald Fraser	1	10	.090

By defeating Marist college Monday by the count of 9 to 2, Tech high clinched the pennant in the local prep league. The game, which was staged on the Marist campus, was a hard fought affair, and was won by Tech high in the ninth round.

Tech high assumed the lead in the early part of the game, and led the struggle until the seventh round, when Marist shoved three men across the pan, and led the Tech high bunch by one point. Tech high, however, made two in the eighth and after Marist had tied it up in their half of this span, Tech high won the game in the ninth, making one run, while three Marist men were retired in regular order.

The fielding cessation of the day came in the ninth round and was made by Marist. Tech high had three men on the bags with one down, when Jordan lined out to Brock and Gerlach was doubled off third. A triple play was narrowly missed, and if the fielding had been a trifle faster would have been accomplished.

Jordan, right fielder of the Tech high team, had a good day with the willow, getting two doubles out of four attempts.

Parks, Meyers and Smith played their usual good game for Tech high.

Marist's challenge, the hurling of Brock, their elongated twirler, was the main feature. Brock pitched steady ball throughout the game, and only allowed two high six runs. Nearly all of the Tech high runs were directly traceable to costly errors by his teammates.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Tech High 101 213 93—9 5 3
Marist 010 061 310—3 5 3
Batteries—Gerlach, Smith and Harland; Brock and Liddell.

WIDOW TAKES POISON WHEN KOSSUTH DIES

Son of the Great Hun Patriot Passes in Budapest—Wedded the Widow of Friend.

Budapest, May 25.—Francis Kossuth, son of the great Hungarian patriot, died here today, aged 73. He had been an invalid for many months, and his death did not come as a surprise.

Immediately after Kossuth's death his widow attempted to commit suicide by taking poison. Her condition is considered serious.

In January last, during a crisis in his illness, Kossuth was married on his sick bed to Countess Benyorsky, widow of his life-long friend. Such had been the wish of Count Benyorsky, made on his death bed, and Kossuth and the countess who intended to marry in March, hastened the nuptials when Kossuth's illness took a turn for the worse.

Francis Kossuth took his father's place as leader of the Hungarians soon after Louis Kossuth died in 1844. Up to the time of his illness Francis Kossuth led his countrymen in their political struggles with vigor and much success. He was at one time in the cabinet as minister of commerce of Hungary.

Kossuth was born at Budapest on November 16, 1841, and was the oldest son of Louis Kossuth.

At the age of 8 he was taken prisoner by the Austrians, and was kept for a time at the fortress of Presburg, when he was liberated, but was exiled and sent to Asia Minor, where he joined his father, and together they went to England. Young Kossuth was educated at London University college, and in 1861 he went to Italy as a civil engineer, attaining much prominence in this profession.

When his father died Francis took the body back to Hungary in accordance with the demands of his countrymen. The funeral was accompanied by unprecedented honors accorded by the populace.

It was then that he was invited to take his father's place as the Hungarian's national leader, and he accepted, declaring he would work for Hungarian independence.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in April, 1910, during a spell of Kossuth's illness, visited him at his home.

BODY OF W. F. GARNER UNCLAIMED AT ATHENS

Athens, Ga., May 25.—(Special.)—Mystery surrounds the identity—except for the name—of W. F. Garner, who was killed by a Central of Georgia passenger train near Watkinsville Monday morning. The body is lying at a local undertaking establishment and efforts of the railroad officials, of the undertaking company, and others have failed to locate his home or any of his family or relatives.

He had papers addressed to him at Red Oak; he was on the line of railroad to Round Oak, and there were papers indicating that he might be near High Shoals, in Walton county. He is a middle-aged man.

He was struck by the engine as the machine went around a sharp curve in a cut.

COLONIES OF EPILEPTICS URGED IN EVERY STATE

Baltimore, Md., May 25.—Preliminary to the opening of the American Medico-Psychological association here tomorrow for the National Association for the Study of Epilepsy today held a meeting at which a campaign for the establishment of colonies of epileptics in every state was launched.

The main object of the association is to provide separate care for epileptics by the various states and to promote legislation in establishing the necessary institutions. This point was emphasized in the address of the president, William C. Graves, of Chicago, who said:

"The fact that there is one epileptic to every 400 people, making 230,000 so affected in this country, while we are only caring for 7,000, shows the great need of such a campaign."
