THOUSANDS JAM BIG AUDITORIUM FOR PEACE MEET

Great Throng Turned Away After Every Available Bit of Space in Great Building Was Occupied.

TWO BISHOPS TAKE PART IN BEAUTIFUL SERVICE

Choirs From 12 Churches Participate in the Program. President's Peace Proclamation Is Read by Robert Wessels.

Approximately 15,000 people went to the Auditorium-Armory Sunday afternoon to attend and participate in the great peace meeting. Of this number more than 5,000 were turned away. The largest crowd that ever surged through the doors of the vast auditorium was inside. Every seat in the arena, balcony and gallery was taken. The gallery and balcony steps were pressed into service as seats. The aisles and entrances were a mass of standing people. The crowd overflowed to the gallery seats over the wings of the stage, the existence of which but few people know. Those were filled and chairs were placed on the floor of the stage in double wings. The audience even crowded in upon the steps of the stand which the great chorus of the combined choirs of the city occupied.

Thousands Turned Away.
The services were scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock. At 3:45 the main doors of the auditorium were closed and the crowds were turned back. Until twenty minutes after the services began there was a continuous stream of people going to the Auditorium-Armory and being turned back. Many of those turned back spread the news upon the streets and the result was that thousands who had started to the Auditorium-Armory never arrived. While there was not the slightest trace of disorder after the services, police was called out to assist the ushers in handling the crowds. Chief of Police Beavers and Assistant Chief Jett were there to assist in the suggestion of President Woodrow Wilson and under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival association, were impressive and solemn. A realization of the vast import of the European struggle and the sincere desire for peace was written upon the serious faces of the assembled multitude.

Reads Peace Petition.
Robert M. Wessels, a director of the Atlanta Music Festival association, presided over the meeting and read the peace petition to the president and the president's proclamation. He then called for the acquiescence of the audience to be indicated by singing. An impressive sight to see the thousands assembled in the auditorium standing with uncovered heads in a mute appeal for peace.

Union the Stage.
The combined choirs of the following churches, Saint Luke's, All Saints', Trinity, Saint Mark's, the Baptist Tabernacle, West End Baptist, Central Congregational, North Avenue Presbyterian, Martha Brown Memorial, First Presbyterian, St. Philip's cathedral and the Atlanta Music Festival chorus.

Two Striking Features.
Perhaps the two most impressive numbers of the program were the reading of the litany of the Episcopal church by the united choirs and the audience. Bishop C. K. Nelson leading and Dr. Kraft's rendition of Chopin's "Funeral March."

Dead Found in Piles on Mons Battlefield

REMOVING THE DEAD ON MONS BATTLEFIELD. This picture, made on the battlefield of Mons, shows how the dead were found in piles and were loaded on wagons to be hauled to trenches hurriedly prepared. Actual figures of the losses have not been made public, but there is no doubt that the slaughter in the present war is greater than in any previous battles.

WILSON AND HARVEY BURY THE HATCHET

President and Editor of the North American Review Celebrate "Peace Sunday" by Harmony Meeting.

Washington, October 4.—President Wilson and George Harvey, formerly editor of Harper's Weekly, but now of The North American Review, whose controversy over the support of Harper's Weekly furnished one of the chief incidents of Mr. Wilson's campaign for the presidency, celebrated "Peace Sunday" today by a harmony meeting at the white house. It was their first meeting since their talk in 1911 in the presence of Henry Watterson, editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal, which gave rise to Mr. Wilson's later attacks on Mr. Wilson and led Mr. Harvey to support Speaker Champ Clark for the presidential nomination.

Harvey Invited by Wilson.
Mr. Harvey called at the white house at the invitation of Mr. Wilson to discuss the European situation and the fall campaign. In the last issue of his magazine Mr. Harvey praised the president's attitude since the outbreak of war in Europe, and suggested that he wait patiently for the psychological moment to urge peace.

BROKEN COLLAR BONE FOR MRS. T. W. HARDWICK

Congressman, His Wife and Her Two Sisters in an Automobile Accident.

Washington, October 4.—(Special)—Representative and Mrs. T. W. Hardwick, of Georgia, narrowly escaped terrible injuries this afternoon, when their electric Coupe ran down an embankment in Rook Creek Park and turned over twice. Mrs. Hardwick suffered a broken collar bone and the beautiful car was demolished. In the electric at the time were the Misses Perkins, of Georgia, sisters of Mrs. Hardwick. They escaped with only few bruises as did Representative Hardwick, who was driving. Drizzling rain made the Park Roads slippery and at a bad turn the car skidded and got beyond the control of Mr. Hardwick. The injured occupants were all taken to their apartments in the Wyoming, and it was said tonight they were only suffering slightly from shock. Representative Hardwick was recently victorious in the state convention held at Macon and was chosen United States senator to succeed Senator West for the unexpired term of Senator Bacon.

FRANCE GETS RELIGION AS RESULT OF THE WAR

No Feature of Conflict More Striking Than the Religious Feeling It Has Evoked.

London, October 4.—"One result of the war has been a distinct religious revival in France," says the Paris correspondent of The Times. His dispatch continues: "The so-called 'clerical peril' has disappeared from popular imagination. Everywhere priests have been distinguished for their heroism and patriotic devotion. Several have died on the field of battle and others are showing great devotion as chaplains and attending the wounded." The Times today says: "No feature of the war has been more striking than the religious feeling it has evoked. We shall be surprised if the war and the pro-spiritual emotions it has kindled are not attended by a quickening and deepening of the religious feeling in England as well as in France."

FRENCHMAN ESCAPES CHARGE OF DESERTION

Paris, October 4.—Lieutenant Andre Meaurio has been acquitted by a court-martial of a charge of desertion. One of the principal witnesses for Meaurio was Major Aubert, who was taken to the courtroom from the hospital of Val de Grace, where he lay with four bullets in his body and a broken jaw. Meaurio's case has attracted much attention. After the battle of Dinant, on August 23, in which he received his baptism of fire, he left for Paris, where he was arrested. When taken into custody he declared he had received leave of absence on account of the state of his health. The court-martial acquitted the lieutenant after Major Aubert and others had pleaded in his behalf. Colonel Doyen, who would have been the most important witness in the case, died of injuries sustained in the battle of Dinant.

SMITH IS WORKING ON "DEATH NOTES"

Former Lawyer for Conley Believes These Messages Will Finally Yield Solution to Great Mystery.

William M. Smith, attorney, who represented the negro factory sweeper, "Jim" Conley, during the investigation of the Mary Phagan murder, and whose statement that he believes his erstwhile client, and not Leo M. Frank, to be the murderer of little Mary Phagan, has brought this mystery into the limelight again, is today working to show Frank's innocence by demonstrating that the "death notes" found in the basement beside the body of the girl were written by the negro victim, and not outside assistance. Attorney Leonard Haas, one of Frank's attorneys, declared Sunday that in the event any new evidence in favor of Frank is developed through Attorney Smith's investigation, it will probably be used before the governor and pardoning board.

Courts Must Act First.
"Nothing can be done until the supreme court passes," says the Paris correspondent of The Times. His dispatch continues: "The so-called 'clerical peril' has disappeared from popular imagination. Everywhere priests have been distinguished for their heroism and patriotic devotion. Several have died on the field of battle and others are showing great devotion as chaplains and attending the wounded." The Times today says: "No feature of the war has been more striking than the religious feeling it has evoked. COUNCIL TO PASS ON FINANCE SHEET AT MEETING TODAY

Little Opposition Expected to Appropriation for Purpose of Ending "Double Session" Evil.

COMMITTEE REPORTS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Captain Clayton Will Be Elected Consulting Engineer—New Near Beer Ordinance Proposed.

Atlanta's general council will meet today to consider the October appropriation sheet, which carries a total of $30,812, of which $3,000 represents a deficit carried over from the June sheet and an additional $1,812 put in the sheet for the use of the school board for forty-three additional grammar school teachers and five high school instructors.

Indications are that the sheet will be approved by the general council without very much opposition, and it there are any protesting voices it will come from members who believe, as does Mayor Woodward, that the finance committee reached too far when it added the enormous sum of the sheet $7,000 anticipated tax receipts and $6,200 which, it is anticipated, will be collected by the city marshal before the end of the year.

Will Wage Hard Fight.
Friends of the school system in council are prepared to wage a hard fight to prevent the sheet being held up, for the reason that the $11,812 provided for the schools is for the purpose of adding additional teachers in order to break up the "double session" evil which has caused teachers, parents and children to raise their voices in indignant protest. Some members of council say that they would rather have the standing appropriations made for special sessions of the school system than take the money from the school board and thereby set at naught the plans which have already been formulated for putting the school system back on a sensible basis by doing away with the "double sessions."

Aside from consideration of the October appropriation sheet, council will consider a number of important committee reports.

The committee on ordinance will report favorably on the resolution authorizing the creation of the office of consulting engineer for the city, at a salary which, it is understood, will be fixed at $2,500 or $3,000 per annum.

Place for Captain Clayton.
The place, when created, will be given to Captain R. M. Clayton, who has served the city in the capacity of chief of construction for nearly a quarter of a century, during which time he has acquired a knowledge of the city and its needs which members of council consider to be of vast benefit. Captain Clayton will retire as chief of construction at the expiration of the year, and Nym Hart, who has been his assistant for a number of years, will assume the duties of chief of the department.

Under the new ordinance Captain Clayton will be in a position where he can give his knowledge and his engineering ability to the construction department, thus doing away with the necessity of the city spending large sums of money annually to employ engineers on the outside to aid the construction department in working out plans for new projects.

The ordinance will not be opposed and will be framed to become effective next year.

The ordinance committee will also report favorably on the ordinance to create the position of moving inspector as recommended by the tax committee and the city marshal. With the limited help he has City Marshal Fuller cannot keep track of taxpayers who move at frequent intervals, and the city loses money every year in tax money. The ordinance proposing the new position was offered recently in council, and was referred to the finance committee for a report. The committee was favorably impressed with the measure, but changed it so as to give the marshal the authority to make the appointment.

With the one above amendment, the ordinance will be reported favorably and will be adopted.

Police Committee Will Report Favorably on Ordinance to Require Applicants for Near Beer Permits to Place a Sign over the Door of the Proposed Place of Advertising in the Application in the Newspapers. The ordinance is the result of complaints and petitions which have been filed with the police committee by persons who charge almost invariably that they had no knowledge of the establishing of saloons until after the permits were passed up by council, and were, therefore, deprived of an opportunity to protest.

The above ordinance will also be approved. The police committee will have long reports to submit.

Allied Claws Reach For a Deadly Clutch On the German Flank

British and French Take Several German Trenches and Resume Their Operations to Envelop the Right Wing of the Invaders. Hard Fighting Faces the Allies, But They Are Confident That the Germans Will Be Forced to Retreat—Reports Indicate Russians Are Whipping Germans on the East Prussian Frontier—Kaiser William, Czar Nicholas, King Albert and President Poincare on the Battle Fronts.

London, October 4.—Having repulsed the German attacks, presumably in the vicinity of Roye, the French, according to an official communication issued late today at Paris, have resumed the offensive at several points, while other positions on their left have been maintained.

The great effort of the allies to envelop the German right may be said to be in operation again, and it is believed the whole French column from Roye northward to Arras is moving eastward against the German positions.

It is the same operation that has been tried repeatedly for the last three weeks in an attempt to reach the German lines of communication, and either encircle the German army forming the right wing or force it to fall back to Belgium and Luxembourg.

WARRING NATIONS BEATING SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES

Secretary Bryan and Oscar Straus Believe That European Conflict Is Prelude to a Lasting Peace.

MAY BE WORLD NEEDED AWFUL OBJECT LESSON

No Nation Lives to Itself, and None Dies to Itself. Straus Hopes That Mediation Will End the War.

New York, October 4.—Hope that the European war will be the last object lesson of the horrors of strife and that after it the efforts of man will be devoted to production rather than destruction, was expressed today by Secretary of State Bryan and Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, at a special Peace day service at Carnegie Hall. The meeting was one of many held in this city in accordance with President Wilson's recent proclamation designating today as a day of prayer for peace.

"Today, when a number of nations, all our friends, have been drawn into the vortex of war," said Secretary Bryan, "our first duty is to use such influence as we may have to hasten the return of peace. There will be ample time afterward to discuss ways and means for preventing future appeals to arms."

HARD FIGHTING FACES ALLIES.

The Germans have had a long time in which to make their position secure, so there is a lot of hard fighting ahead for both the attacking forces and the defenses. The defensive role is apparently being assumed by the invaders.

In the center, from the Oise to the Argonne, the two well entrenched armies are still watching each other, ready at a moment's notice to meet attacks, or, on the advice of aerial observers, to move to some point where the line is threatened. While there have been many of these movements, there is little, according to the French report, to record. In other words, the situation remains virtually as it was.

In the Argonne district, where the crown prince's army attempted an advance a few days ago, there has been additional fighting and the Germans have been pushed back northward. In southern France the French are "making progress but slowly" against the Germans who crossed the Meuse at St. Mihiel, but later were forced back over that river.

In Lorraine and Vosges there is no change in the positions of the opposing armies. This probably is accounted for by the fact that the Germans have not sufficient forces to attack the almost impregnable line of fortifications, while the French are too busy elsewhere to attempt an invasion of the lost provinces. They have set themselves the task of getting the Germans out of northeastern France, and if this can be accomplished they are faced with the necessity of attacking the German positions in Alsace-Lorraine.

MYSTERY COVERS ANTWERP FORTS.

Of the result of the operations around the line of fortifications of Antwerp there is considerable mystery. Last night the Belgian legation at London announced that the Belgians had been compelled, before a violent artillery attack, to fall back east of the river Somme toward the Nethe. This was works, and that the Germans had entered the line of forts through the breaches. Later the Belgian minister, on authority of a telegram from Antwerp, declared that the forts had not been captured although Waelhem was damaged. These forts, although important, are only the first line of defense of the city, and, besides two more powerful lines the besiegers will have to contend with a large inundated area. This extends along the rivers Scheidt, Ruppel and Nethe, as far as Duffel, as well as to the north and the east of the town. Heretofore fortresses have not stood long after the big German siege guns have been brought up. But Antwerp is in a different category as in addition to being stronger than any fortress yet attacked, there is a considerable space in which the field army can operate against the besieging forces. The Germans also have been active in two widely separated parts of Belgium. They visited Journal Saturday and announced that they were an advance guard of 10,000 men proceeding to Lille while last night and this morning fighting another declared it was a near by village that was burning. A number of fugitives have arrived at Maastricht as well as some Belgian soldiers who had been interned.

Allies Take German Trenches And Go After the Right Wing

Paris, October 4.—The official announcement issued by the French war office tonight reports progress in the region of Soissons where several German trenches have been taken.

The battle on the left wing is in full swing without decisive result. The text of the communication follows: "First—On our left wing the struggle is in full swing in the region of Arras without decision having been reached. The action has been less violent between the upper valleys of the Ancre and the Somme and between the Somme and the Oise. We have made progress in the region of Soissons where some of the enemy's trenches have been captured. On the right wing, Loraine and the Vosges, there is nothing new."

GERMAN SPIES CAUSED DOWNFALL OF NAMUR

Spies Opened Tide Gates of the Meuse and This Enabled the Kaiser's Troops to Cross.

London, October 4.—The fall of the Belgian city of Namur was due largely to the work of German spies, according to a Times correspondent in Belgium.

One of the principal features of Namur's defenses was the river Meuse, which the correspondent says the Germans assisted by spies, managed to open the tide gates of the Meuse, thus lowering its waters. They were then able to cross the river.

When the Namur commander saw that resistance was impossible without reinforcements, he tried to rally all the forces from the outlying forts, to the main points of defense, but owing to the work of spies he found his underground telephone system was destroyed. He thus was unable to direct his campaign or to summon reinforcements.

As the result of the opening of the telephone lines each regiment was compelled to fight its way out of Namur separately, with heavy losses. If the garrison had remained twelve hours longer, not a man or a gun would have been able to join the allies. As a matter of fact, only 12,000 of the garrison of 25,000 escaped.

The German attack on Namur was opened with 17 inch siege guns, which were brought into position under cover of a cavalry screen. The older guns of the forts were powerless even to reply. Forts Maizeret, Marchevotte, Audou and Cognelle were destroyed and burned, with every man of their garrisons.

GERMANS CLAIM THEY ARE WINNING

Allege Three Antwerp Forts Have Fallen—In France They Say Allied Attacks Have Been Repulsed.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—The following official announcement was made today in the siege of Antwerp forts Wavre, St. Catherine and Dorpedale which were taken and Fort Waelhem investigated. The German position at this important point, has been occupied.

On our western wing a new French attempt to encircle our forces has been repulsed. The French have been driven from their positions south of Roye. Sorties from Toul were repulsed with heavy losses.

England is Accused. Other press matter officially given out today says: The Danish paper National Tidende publishes a statement by Gottlieb Von Jagow, the German foreign minister, in which he says that Great Britain had promised France assistance before German troops entered Belgium. England in fact had prepared for war by stirring up feeling in the different countries against Germany.

A pamphlet issued by the German Chamber of Commerce, the economic local consequences of the war indicates that Great Britain's naval policy is detrimental to neutral states exporting raw material and especially detrimental to the United States.

The Daily Chronicle's Bordeaux correspondent reports that General Von Stenger, commander of the German Fifty third infantry brigade, has granted an armistice for his soldiers to kill all the French encountered armed or unarmed in an impudent manner. The French report that the German battery was captured on the Meuse.

No Debts Paid England. The German press praises the action of the bundersrat in prohibiting the payment of liabilities which England has incurred in the war.

The well known British paper Graphic glorifies Belgian women who severely injured German soldiers by boiling water. The paper publishes illustrations showing women firing at Germans, thus honoring the outrages of the Hun.

Count Michael Karolyi, president of the Hungarian independence party, has joined the colors. From Lancashire it is said that Manchester and Liverpool, 15,000 have joined the colors and Dundee 1,000. The mining villages have been largely depleted.

Similar reports come from South Wales, Bristol and the west. Having been in the Irish parliament have been compiled by nationalist party organizers.

AMBUSCADE METHODS ADOPTED BY FRENCH

London, October 4.—The French, taking a leaf out of the German book, are adopting the ambuscading methods used so successfully by the German forces in Champagne province. The French says a Reuters Paris correspondent.

The approach of two German divisions was reported between the Oise and the Somme rivers. French forces occupied a village after exchanging a few shots. The Germans, after them as far as a forest where a heavy force of French infantry had been posted supported by light artillery.

When the Germans were drawn into range the French opened a heavy fire which threw down their arms and sent 800 prisoners.

ATTACKS OF AUSTRIANS REPULSED BY SERVIANS

Paris, October 4.—A Havas agency dispatch from Belgrade says that the Serbians, on the front of the Drina, have repulsed violent attacks and inflicted heavy losses on the Austrians. The Austrians have opened an artillery fire on Sabatz.

CONGRESS POSTPONED FOR THE PAN-AMERICANS

Washington, October 4.—The fifth Pan American conference to be held in Santiago Chile November 29 probably will be postponed because of the outbreak of the Pan American war. The matter will be considered next Wednesday at a meeting here of the governing board of the Pan American union. Action by that body will be final.

Instructions to place the question of postponement before the board were issued today by Mr. Suarez, minister from Chile from his government. Since the suggestion comes at a time among diplomats here that the board will decide upon an indefinite postponement Secretary Bryan is chair man of the board which is composed of the diplomatic representatives of 25 American republics.

In behalf of the American republic was said every American republic was affected by the European war and so much occupied with internal problems by the conflict that adequate attention could not be given to the matter of the Pan American union.

Secretary Bryan announced some time ago that he would attend the conference but it was pointed out tonight that it would be virtually impossible for him to leave the United States under present conditions.

The first conference of the Pan American union was held in this city since when it has met in Mexico City, Rio Janeiro and Buenos Aires in 1910. The last meeting was held in 1910.

DISABLED BRITONS TO GET GOOD PENSION

London, October 4.—Every man permanently disabled in the war, occupation ought to be paid a week during his life in the opinion of George A. Neill, member of the labor cabinet and member of parliament for the Black Friars division of Glasgow.

Neill, who indicated this plan at a mass meeting tonight here, before he was disabled had been allowed to beg for his living. He stated that the government was giving serious consideration to the subject of these unfortunate and a like situation would be met again. He stated that the sum the government would be called upon to pay the dependents of bread winners in the war would not reach $5,000,000. Accordingly, he added the government had not erred on the side of generosity.

EPIROTES BEATEN BY ALBANIANS

POLITE NOTE LEFT BY BROTHER-IN-LAW OF KAISER WILLIAM

Paris, October 4.—Duke Ernest Gunther, of Schleswig-Holstein, brother-in-law of the German emperor, with other Germans recently visited Paris for a French town eight miles southeast of Compiègne, where Clemenceau, a Paris manufacturer has a home. Entering M. Bayard's house the Duke left for the manufacturer an autograph note reading: "I restore your house with its beautiful objects of art in the same state as I found them without breaking or damaging, as the servants can testify. You see the Germans are not barbarians as has been charged."

A chateau in the same town, however, according to the Matin, was burned by German troops. M. Bayard, during a visit to Germany shortly before the war was reported to have been charged with this called out a protest from the French government.

MEN OF OLD IRELAND GO TO FIGHT GERMANS

Thousands of Irishmen Have Volunteered—Redmond Calls the Irish to Arms.

Dublin, October 4.—(Via London)—The number of new recruits for the British army obtained in Ireland is about 26,000. More than 8,000 of these are from the Dublin district, 4,000 from Cork district and the remainder from Belfast.

Not all the Belfast recruits are unionists, nor are all the southern recruits nationalists. The Belfast nationalists claim to have furnished 5,000 of the Belfast recruits, a number relative to their total population is larger than the proportion supplied by the unionists.

Many southern recruits belong to football and athletic club classes. There is not such a rush to join the colors from the agricultural districts as was anticipated, as there is a lack of men of available age. Emigration has been a great factor in this respect.

POINCARÉ GOES TO BATTLE FRONT

French President Accompanied by Premier and War Minister—Rumors of Great Allied Victory Denied.

Bordeaux, October 4.—President Poincaré accompanied by Premier Viviani and Minister of War Alexandre Millerand, left at noon today for the battle front. The president goes to the battle line not to "take part in the strategy but to congratulate the troops personally upon the bravery they have displayed in the long and stubborn fighting.

Rumors of Great Victory Denied. News of the president's departure has given rise to rumors that the allies have gained a great victory the news of which is withheld and that M. Poincaré has gone to witness the final consummation of the German.

The correctness of this deduction is officially denied and it is repeated that the situation in the fighting zone is as described by the afternoon statement of the war office. It is noted that the president's sole motive is to convey the nation's appreciation and encouragement to the troops.

The president first will visit the headquarters of General Joseph Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French army.

Interest in the allied every movement as revealed in official announcements of the war office continues intense. Despite the rumoring of reinforcements to the German, their attacks, as viewed here seem to have little effect.

The battle talks of a siege and more the form of a siege. Additional German forces sent to the lines of the Aisne and Oise. It is noted that the coming from Lorraine, Belgium or Germany but are being drawn from the front operating in Champagne province.

The withdrawal of German forces from the center has caused considerable surprise in view of the extraordinary precaution taken to stop the French advance in this region, especially as the center is regarded as an important element in the German defense.

Lieutenant Colonel Leonce Rousset, military writer for La Liberté reviewing the situation, says: "It is not so constant in view of their extreme effort, but it is a little more to the south. More interesting however is the action taking place in the region of Roye. There the German general staff hopes to find the point of least resistance and has not hesitated to strip their center, being unable to obtain reinforcement from other sources."

NO NOSES OF GERMANS CUT OFF BY FRENCH

Washington, October 4.—The following statement was issued at the French embassy here today: "In an attempt to explain away the ruthless destruction of Orches a statement has been published, according to which twenty German wounded found in a field hospital, which had been moved forth by the Bavarians, then abandoned by them, then recovered, had had their noses and ears cut off by French Francis-tireurs.

German Defeat Complete According to the Russians

Kaiser's Forces Are Reported to Be in a Disordered Retreat Towards the Frontier of East Prussia.

RETREAT OF GERMANS APPROACHING A FLIGHT

Bayonet Charges by the Russians Proved Too Much for the Germans and They Took to Their Heels.

Petrograd, October 4.—The official statement from general staff headquarters issued tonight, reads: "The battle of Augustow ended yesterday, October 3, in a victory for the Russian arms. The German defeat is complete.

"The enemy is in a disordered retreat toward the east Prussian frontier. The valiant Russian troops are in close pursuit, the Germans abandoning in their desperate march trains, cannon and munitions, not having even time to gather up their wounded.

"It is already known that the battle of Augustow began September 29 with a bombardment by the German heavy artillery in the region of Sopotakin, on the left bank of the river Niemen, followed by an offensive movement by the enemy against the same fortified town.

"On September 26 the Germans also began an attack on the fortresses of Ossowetz, but everywhere met with fierce resistance and were compelled to retreat. Not satisfied with counter attacks, our troops took the offensive vigorously and pursued the enemy, notwithstanding the energetic resistance offered by the Germans, they could not check the onward rush of our troops, who captured the enemy's positions, one after another.

"Routed by this irresistible engagement, the Germans weakened and are in full retreat. At certain points this retreat is degenerating into a flight. RUSSIAN BAYONETS DROVE THE GERMANS.

London, October 4.—In a dispatch dealing with fighting in the Russian provinces which border on East Prussia, Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says: "The recent German operations were particularly vigorous along the railway line between Suwalki and Orlita. The enemy's intention was to reach Wilna by a turning movement around Yovon. The Russians began to fall back and then made a fierce counter-attack. The shock was terrible. The Russians made frequent bayonet charges and drove back the Germans, on whom they inflicted enormous losses.

"A regiment of Cossacks made a dashing raid on Petrofok, salaried 200 Germans in the streets and disappeared.

RUSSIANS DEALING WITH SIX ARMIES

Petrograd, October 4.—The military governor of Warsaw has posted the following notice: "For some time past the population has been agitated by absurd reports of the probability of a hostile occupation. By order of the commander of the army, I inform the public that Warsaw and its vicinity are beyond all danger from the enemy. I beg the inhabitants to be calm and peacefully carry on their occupations."

The military critic of Russky Slovo says the German army assembled in Silesia includes the Bavarian corps and that the army is commanded by the King of Bavaria.

"The Russian now have to deal with a total of six armies," he says. "Two of these are in East Prussia, and constitute the left flank; two in West Poland form the center, and two others are concentrating on the right wing in West Galicia.

"The Polish peasants in Galicia, Russian Poland, are carrying on a guerrilla warfare in which the Germans and the peasants hunt each other in the forest with the aid of snares and entanglements. No mercy is shown on either side."

ROUT OF GERMANS CLAIMED BY RUSSIANS.

Paris, October 4.—A Havas dispatch from Petrograd gives the following details of the combat between Germans and Russians at the Ossowetz fortress in Russian Poland:

"The Germans approached the forts by the Grajewo (southeast of Augustow) route. Nine miles from the forts the artillery was stopped by the marshy ground and from there began a heavy fire. Infantry with machine guns was sent on and approached to within four miles of the forts.

"The Russians then made a sortie, probing by routes unknown to the Germans, and enveloped two wings, which it was supposed had occupied all the routes. When this movement was disclosed a furious engagement ensued under conditions unfavorable to the enemy.

"The forts' artillery caused large casualties among the Germans on the roads, while the infantry badly battered their flanks.

"The fight lasted thirty-six hours and ended in the rout of the Germans. The Russians captured all their ar-

GERMANS MOWED BY RUSSIAN GUNS

Graphic Account of Defeat of Kaiser's Forces at River Niemen—Unseen Russian Guns Belched Death.

London, October 5.—(2:15 a. m.)—A graphic account of the frustration of an attempt by the Germans to cross the Niemen river, in the evening, Daily Telegraph's Petrograd correspondent.

"The Germans appear to have fallen into a Russian trap," the correspondent says. "On September 23 the rear guard of the German army, the Russian army was transferred to the right bank of the Niemen river and, the following evening the Germans approached the stream. The next day, seeing no sign of opposition, the German constructed pontoon bridges and completed this work without molestation.

Like the Roll of Thunder

"It was only when the troops were pouring across in fancied security that a sound like the roll of thunder was heard and dozens of Russian guns, cleverly screened, opened their concentrated fire on the crowded bridges.

"Before the blast of shrapnel and machine gun projectiles the Germans were swept into the river by hundreds. Speedily, however, the charge of the Russian guns was taken up by the German artillery and for a long time the duel continued.

"At last the Germans, thinking they had the better of the Russian gunners, made another attempt to throw their troops across. But this time also they had no better luck and not one of the soldiers who stepped upon the bridges either reached the opposite shore or the river.

"The bodies of the slain floated down the yellow flood. Still the Germans vigorously maintained their bombardment and about 6 o'clock in the evening they made a desperate effort to utilize the bridges on which they had spent such pains.

Every Man Mowed Down.

"Columns in close formation were sent forward to the crossings, but once again every man was mowed down by the murderous fire of the Russian machine guns.

"With the fall of evening the German batteries were silenced one after the other by the steady and well-directed fire of the Russian artillery. The enemy then fell back 8 miles, pursued and harassed by Cossacks, who had crossed the river on the German bridges.

"According to one account no fewer than 20,000 German corpses were carried down the Niemen after this awful carnage.

"In the fight at Sredniki on the Niemen, September 15, the German casualties were 8,000 men, and the bodies of 1,000 Germans were lying unburied for some days afterwards."

Invitation, which became mired in the mud, INVASION OF HUNGARY VERY DIFFICULT TASK.

Venice, October 4.—(Via Paris)—Austrian military experts say Russia's attempts to invade Hungary through the Carpathians are not likely to meet with much success.

"There are only four mountain passes which would admit of the passage of troops, it is said, and only a few routes, which would be proceeded through these at one time. As the march would require at least six days, the question of supplies would be serious. Possibly later small detachments of Russians may attempt to cross the mountains, experts say, but the Austrian troops should repulse them easily.

It is assumed that Russia desires to invade Hungary, first, in order to secure the left wing of her army which is proceeding toward the river San and Strychny; secondly, to find a new field of action for her superior force of cavalry in the plains of Hungary, where this body could insert itself with the training of recruits, which is proceeding there and hamper railway transportation of these troops, besides obtaining large supplies of provisions.

VICTORY CLAIMED FOR THE GERMANS.

London, October 4.—A dispatch from Amsterdam to Reuter's Telegram company says: "The German commander at Koelngher, East Prussia, has announced officially that the Russian army, in the battles of October 1 and 2 lost 2,000 prisoners, eighteen big guns, many machine guns and much transport material.

DUTCH STEAMER SUNK BY MINE IN NORTH SEA

London, October 4.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says the Dutch steamer Nieuwland, from Coole, England, to Rotterdam, struck a mine in the North sea and sank. Her crew of seventeen men escaped.

Available shipping records do not contain the steamer Nieuwland.

The Uhlan and Others.

(From The Detroit Tribune.) To persons who know that the Uhlans are but one of the German cavalry service and who come upon this name in so many dispatches telling of exploits and heroism, it seems that the Uhlan rides a horse shod with seven-league boots. Everything done on horseback by a German soldier appears to be done by one of the Uhlans. It is not playing fair with a vast number of other German cavalrymen. Some of the deeds of this and other Uhlans stirred the blood of the reader have been performed by hussars, cuirassiers, dragons and others.

The explanation is the lance and the now prevalence of it in the German cavalry service. The Uhlan is the original lance. This was prominently in the Franco-Prussian war, when a cavalry troop equipped throughout with the lances could be nothing but a troop of Uhlans. But from the Uhlans the lance has spread to all arms of the German cavalry service. This, we have it from a practical military authority, is one of the new things about the German army called to world attention by the present war.

In addition to the lance, the German cavalrymen now carry the sword, but verbal usage, combined with lack of complete information, fixes, in popular report, the lance on every German army cavalryman.

The Uhlan may not be entitled to the credit for all the daring performances of the cavalry, but he is the type, and it may be said with some historical justification, the pacemaker of them all. The details of the Uhlan's uniform and equipment, including the uniform, is Polish. The Polish lancer was the model, and the dash and vim of the arm of military service. The Uhlan has added the steadfast intrepidity which makes the Uhlan one of the most efficient fighting men anywhere in the world.

GERMANS BEG TIME TO BURY THEIR DEAD

Belgians Refuse Request and Continue to Fight. German Attack on Antwerp Forts Reported Repulsed.

London, October 5.—(2:30 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Central News from Antwerp, dated Sunday night, says: "The Germans have been repulsed. They asked for a two-hour armistice to bury their dead, but the Belgians refused to comply.

"The Belgians have destroyed all the bridges over the river Nethe. The Germans attempted unsuccessfully to rebuild the bridges."

SITUATION UNCHANGED ASSERT THE BELGIANS.

Antwerp, October 4.—(Via London.)—It was officially announced this afternoon that the situation in regard to the fortifications of Antwerp was unchanged.

ANTWERP FORTS HAVE NOT FALLEN.

London, October 4.—The Belgian minister today received dispatches from Antwerp denying a report that three forts defending the city had fallen. He stated that Fort Waerhem was badly damaged by the Germans, but that none of the fortifications surrendered and that the Belgians have strong positions which they are holding successfully.

FORT DESTROYS GERMAN REGIMENT.

London, October 4.—Fort Waerhem, one of the defending strongholds outside Antwerp, destroyed an entire regiment of the besieging Germans on Saturday afternoon. The Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News has forwarded this statement which he says was received in a dispatch from Antwerp.

VILLAGE BOMBARDED BY THE GERMANS.

London, October 4.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Amsterdam says: "The Germans bombarded the village of Briegten, near Lanaken (in the Belgian province of Limbourg on the Meuse, three miles northwest of Maestricht). The village is now burning fiercely."

Lanaken, a town of 2,000 in the province of Limbourg, Belgium, lies 3 miles northwest of Maestricht. It is a frontier customs town.

BELGIANS CHECK GERMAN ADVANCE.

London, October 4.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from The Hague says: "Refugees arriving here tonight from Antwerp say the position of the Belgian forces is excellent and that the German advance has been steadily checked. The forts are resisting the heavy German artillery."

"In the city of Antwerp there is not the slightest panic. King Albert is in the trenches, personally conducting operations."

JAPAN DISREGARDS PROTESTS OF CHINA

Mikado's Troops Are Marching Against German Colony by Most Available Route.

Peking, October 5.—(2:15 a. m.)—Without further diplomatic controversy, the Japanese are proceeding along the railway to Tsinan. Their troops at Wei-Halen, who occupied the station there, have been reinforced. The Chinese have not withdrawn from the line, but are not opposing the Japanese march westward.

One Chinese was killed by the Japanese when they took over the Wei-Halen station. Further similar incidents are feared, though the Chinese government has not withdrawn its instructions to the commanders not to oppose the Japanese.

The Chinese foreign office proposed to Japan that China assume control of the railway line, which is owned by Germans, expell all German employees from the district and guarantee that there would be no transfer of the road until the war was ended.

The Japanese have claimed that it was necessary for them to occupy the railway, as otherwise it would be used by the Germans for the transportation of war supplies to Tsing-Tau. The Japanese, however, rejected the proposal.

The American state department, upon the advice of the American minister to China, Dr. Paul Samuel Reisch, who arrived in Peking last Wednesday, has instructed Willis R. Peak, the American consul at Tsing-Tau to withdraw from the Kiao-Chow district. The Japanese sent a message to this effect to Mr. Peak by wireless. Mr. Peak earlier had expressed a wish to remain at his post during the Japanese attack on the German leased possession.

They are the commissioners on uniform state laws, meeting October 12 to 14, to be followed by meetings of the American Bar association, of which Mr. Taft is president, the American Institute of Criminal Law, and concluding with the meeting of the Maritime Law association.

President in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., October 4.—President William Howard Taft here today and visited the cousins of the late Mrs. Wilson, the Misses Mary and Florence Holt, with whom he had dinner. The president was unaccompanied save for an escort of secret service men.

WOUNDED CROWDING HOSPITALS OF VIENNA

Venice, October 4.—(Via Paris)—Vienna hospitals and all temporary asylums for sick and wounded soldiers are fearfully crowded. The city council has decided to build additional wooden barracks hospitals, which will be furnished with 10,000 beds. Buildings of the University of Vienna have been given over to wounded soldiers.

The army of destitute and unemployed in the Austrian capital is increasing daily. Thousands are threatened with starvation.

The authorities estimate that it will be necessary to provide free meals for 100,000 persons daily.

Owing to the rapid advance in the price of meat, the city council has asked the government to permit the importation of 1,000 tons of Argentine beef.

DENOUNCING FOES, CARRANZA OFFERS TO LEAVE HIS POST

"First Chief" Declares That Rebellion in North Mexico Has Been Instigated by "Conquered Enemies."

DELAYS TO USE FORCE FOR HE WANTS PEACE

But if Villa Persists, Carranza Says He Has 100,000 Armed Men—Peace Conference Will Meet Today.

Mexico City, October 4.—Charging that the rebellion in northern Mexico was instigated "by the so-called enemies" (Germans and our conquered enemies), General Carranza today issued a statement to the convention of constitutionalist leaders here yesterday, offered to resign as "First Chief" if a majority of the military chiefs so decided, but declared that he would never submit to a group of chiefs who have forgotten the fulfillment of their duty and to a group of civilians to whom the nation owes nothing.

"I have not tried to conquer this rebel force by force of arms, it has been on account of prudence which the circumstances demanded, but the nation must know that if we reach a stage where it is impossible to obtain the fulfillment of their duty, we have 100,000 men well armed, artillery and machine guns, and also we have right and justice, which are invincible, on our side," declared the First Chief.

General Carranza said that it was his duty to "fix the responsibility of the prepared rebellion of General Villa, which is nothing but a plot instigated by so-called Cientificos and by all of our conquered enemies, who have not received public office on account of incompetence and cowardice."

In his statement General Carranza outlined the reforms for which he said the party was working, reviewed at length recent internal troubles in Sonora and Durango, which preceded the break with Villa, and declared the convention which he was addressing was the fulfillment of the plan of Guadalupe and that all the constitutionalist chiefs, including the division of the north, had agreed that this convention should name the time of election.

Representatives of Venustiano Carranza and Francisco Villa will meet in a general conference at Aguas Calientes October 10. This decision was reached tonight at a session of the chamber of deputies. The vote came after a long debate on the right of civilians to participate in the conference. No decision was reached on this point. A conference will be held tomorrow to fix the date of the departure of the peace delegates for Aguas Calientes and also decide the matter of civilian participation.

PEACE CONFERENCE WILL BEGIN TODAY

Washington, October 4.—The conference which will open tomorrow at Aguas Calientes between Carranza and Villa representatives must decide whether or not peace is to be restored to Mexico in the opinion of officials here. Administration officials tonight believed an agreement would be reached providing for the selection of Fernando Iglesias Calderon as provisional president, and setting at rest other pending questions.

In the absence of official reports today information as to developments in Mexico City was lacking. Neither administration officials nor constitutionalist representatives, however, attached much significance to the action of the conference of southern chiefs in Mexico City yesterday refusing the resignation of General Carranza as first chief. It was pointed out that had the resignation been adopted, it would have left the government without any official head and seriously complicated the situation.

That Fernando Iglesias Calderon, despite his refusal to accept the "provisional government" in the manner in which the division of the north offered it to him, would assume that office was firmly believed. It was predicted that the peace convention, scheduled for Washington, October 10, in all probability would reconsider Carranza's resignation and select Calderon as provisional president. Carranza has agreed to accept the post if offered by representatives of both factions.

Commenting on the arrival of John R. Silliman at St. Louis today, state department officials tonight said his trip to Washington was not at the direction of the department. They did not know why he was coming. Last week Mr. Silliman telegraphed from San Antonio asking if he should come to Washington on his way to St. Louis. He was advised to use his own discretion.

No official of the state department could be found who had any information of the name of Richard H. Cole, who also was in St. Louis en route to Washington. SILLIMAN HURRIES TO WASHINGTON.

St. Louis, October 4.—John R. Silliman, President Wilson's personal representative with the Carranza Mexican government, and Richard H. Cole, personal friend of General Carranza, passed through here today, each en route to Washington on his way to St. Louis. Mr. Silliman declined to comment on the situation in northern Mexico, but when relations between Mexico and the United States became normal again, he said, he would be glad to have almost 100 per cent of the southern republic's trade.

Addressing his mission to Washington, said: "I am going to seek recognition for the Carranza government and to negotiate no trouble in getting it. With Carranza head of the civil government and with Villa head of the military government there would be permanent peace in Mexico. Villa and Carranza never intended to blow, but they have a strong mutual admiration between them."

American capital is ready to recognize Carranza. To my knowledge he has been promised a loan of $100,000,000 by American bankers who are waiting only for action by the Washington government."

GUSTAVO MADERO AT LAST AVENGED

San Antonio, Texas, October 4.—Jose B. Sandoval, who was captured, tried and executed at Jimenez, Mexico, several days ago, was put to death because of his alleged part in the killing of Gustavo Madero in Mexico City and not because he appeared at the Jimenez headquarters of the Carranza army as the emissary of Felix Diaz, according to information received today by prominent political leaders here.

This announcement was made at the headquarters of the faction which supports former President Diaz and the recent revolution. Sandoval left St. Paso early last week to confer with Diaz, presumably as the emissary of Felix Diaz. Nothing was heard from him until dispatches told of his execution because it was believed that his representations in behalf of Diaz.

Gustavo Madero was shot to death several days before his brother, President Madero, was taken prisoner and killed. Sandoval was always regarded as a close friend of the Madero family.

INEFFECTIVE FIRING IN SONORA BATTLE

Naco, Sonora, Mexico, October 4.—Ineffective fire from both sides marked Governor Maytorena's attack today on Naco, where General Hill's forces has been entrenched for a week awaiting the assault. Hill's casualties were one killed and three wounded. The Mexicans were struck by ill-directed shots from Hill's own ranks.

Naco, Ariz., situated on the border, is almost as much of a sufferer as this place. Bad marksmanship has made the American great loss. The Mexicans have been stopped a mile outside the town. The United States cavalry under Hill is keeping a close watch on the enemy's movements and also striving to prevent curious Americans from running into danger.

Maytorena has deployed, on the east of Naco, a cavalry detachment which arrived from Carranza late yesterday. On the west of the town Yaqui Indians have kept up a desultory fire, their bullets striking in the hills and often as in Hill's lines. Hill expected reinforcement from Agua Prieta late tonight and planned a cavalry sortie.

Several small guns were in action on both sides. Hill said his fire had silenced two of the enemy's guns. Closing in on Maytorena's troops is taken to mean that he will make a serious assault soon.

WARNING GIVEN MEXICAN REFUGEES

San Antonio, Texas, October 4.—Acting upon instructions from Washington, federal officials today warned fifteen members of the Mexican refugee colony here that unless they returned to the States at once they would be subjected to prosecution as violators of the neutrality laws or understood that no action was taken as a result, it is declared, of information secured by secret service agents that the Mexican revolutionary plots are being organized in this city.

More than fifty former officers in the Mexican army and men of prominence are refugees here. The members ordered to leave were not made public.

WARRING NATIONS BEATING SWORDS

contrary. Most of the errors in international affairs arise from a failure to understand the fundamental truth that moral principles are as binding on nations as on individuals.

One Encouragement.

"One encouragement to be drawn from the present European conflict is found in the fact that the governments involved with each other in refusing to admit they began it. We have taken a long step in advance when a civilized nation either will admit a desire for war or declares an intention to inaugurate it."

Referring to the peace policy of the United States toward Mexico, and the acceptance of the mediation offered by Argentina, Brazil and Chile, Secretary Bryan said:

"President Wilson not only secured a peaceful solution of a situation that threatened war, but he gave a strong impetus to the cause of conciliation. It will be easier than before to preserve peace in the western hemisphere, and more difficult to excite war."

The subject of the war in Europe is devoted all his efforts to production. There is as much inspiration in a noble life as in a heroic death."

Oscar Straus Hopes for Mediation.

Oscar Straus expressed hope that mediation eventually would settle the European struggle. Secretary Bryan, under the direction of the president, encouraged by a statement by the secretary of state, he said, he communicated informally with the other powers as to whether they were ready to accept one of the proposals of good offices. While the time is not yet ripe for the definite discussion of the subject, he said, he believes in hoping that these communications already have had the good result of lifting the clouds of war from the world.

HOPE FOR PROHIBITION AS RESULT OF WAR.

Boston, Mass., October 4.—Lemuel H. Marble, president of Boston university, speaking here today at one of several peace gatherings, declared that in the European war, he saw hope for the spread of prohibition. He had just returned from Petrograd and expressed the belief that the present prohibition of the sale of vodka in Russia would be continued after the war was over. Large congregations attended the peace services.

PRAYERS ASCEND ON PACIFIC COAST

San Francisco, October 4.—President Wilson's call for peace prayers was observed generally on the Pacific coast and in the northwest.

Special services were held by nearly all denominations in cities from Seattle and Spokane to San Diego. In the church more than 100 persons attended services at the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN MOUNTAIN STATES.

Denver, Colo., October 4.—Special services in denominations of creed marked the observance of peace Sunday throughout the Rocky mountain states today.

THROUGHS CROWD BALTIMORE CHURCHES.

Baltimore, Md., October 4.—Thousands crowded Baltimore churches today in response to President Wilson's appeal for peace prayers. In many churches day and prayed for peace. At a public meeting a "down-town" hall, at which Governor Dunne, Bishops Fallows and Anderson and Miss Jane Addams were speakers, Madison Avenue, Heink, who escaped from Europe with difficulty after the beginning of the war, the "Let Us Have Peace" slogan, and "Let Us Have Peace."

Governor Dunne after praising the Americanized descendants of the warring nations for abstaining from prejudiced discussion of the war, said all Americans had come to hope and pray that the carnage must cease.

"What can we do further," he said, "that causes underlying this terrible conflict in our opinion were not noble nor right."

"Just for power and race hatred or jealousy have been its genesis. None of you have been preparing for it for nearly half a century. You have been dragging your feet, and making subjects of citizens into immense armies and navies and flaunting your military power and preparedness before each other's faces year after year.

"If this republic, with one hundred million of souls, and in possession of more financial resources than any other country on earth, can live in peace and prosperity with Europe, and with all the mightiest nations on earth, it involves no sacrifice of either dignity or pride for you to do the same. This is the last great war. Its immensity is the best argument for peace."

PRESIDENT WILSON AT PEACE SERVICE.

Washington, October 4.—Prayers for peace in Europe arose from all parts of the United States today. Clergymen of all denominations read President Wilson's proclamation, itself a fervent peace prayer, and congregations gathered to sing peace hymns and take part in peace services.

The president attended the Central Presbyterian church here and heard Rev. James H. Taylor pray that the United States might be instrumental in bringing peace to Europe. He said that Wilson might be given wisdom and strength in his meditation proposals for peace.

We will buy a pound of Cotton for every pound of Tobacco we sell We realize, with all the residents of the South, the present financial stringency due to the cotton situation. We realize that the South must sell its cotton, and we will help in the most practical way we know—by buying cotton. For every pound purchased of all of these famous, popular brands of tobacco and cigarettes (counting 1,000 cigarettes equal to five pounds of tobacco) we will buy from our dealers a pound of cotton at 10c, in accordance with our circular to dealers dated Sept. 28. We have faith in cotton. We know that when the war clouds roll away, the demand of the manufacturers for cotton throughout the world will be greater than ever before, and the South will enjoy unprecedented prosperity. CHURCH CELEBRATES TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Splendid Record Has Been Made by Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist Church.

"He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth. He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder"

While the services in other churches in the city Sunday morning were given up to prayers for universal peace, the services at the Ponce de Leon Baptist church were devoted to "prayers for peace," and to "prayers for a continuance of the Lord's blessings on the church," it being the tenth anniversary of the church, which has met with a remarkable spiritual growth during its short existence.

Interesting exercises were held in the Sunday school and the church choir sang a beautiful song festival. The choir sang "Gounod's Love's Appeal" and a tenor solo was rendered by Dr. Wilhelm Owens. Peace I Leave With You" by Finlay. Mrs. Sibyl Owen Artley, soprano soloist, sang "The Highway shall Be There, by Patton.

The sermon of the pastor, Rev. Arthur Gordon, was filled with the inspiration of a holy prayer, and his conclusion was a benediction to his congregation to lay hold anew to his mission, so that the will of God the Father be fulfilled. Proceed in the steps you have followed during the last ten years, letting the gospel stir your hearts with a triumphant hope that you may come into the glory of God.

But, remember it is useless to try alone to get into the Kingdom. For as we become sons of men we become sons of God. The riches of Heaven cannot be inherited until we have become something to the Kingdom. Then we enter gloriously into the Kingdom of God.

The anniversary rally of the Bible school will be held tonight at 7 o'clock. A reception to the charter members of the church, of whom there are 100 out of the original 115, will be tendered Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock which will be followed by the tenth annual meeting and collation of the church.

Mrs. J. J. Barnes, Jr., Died Sunday Morning At Local Sanitarium

After a lingering illness of several months Mrs. J. J. Barnes Jr., one of the most beloved of Atlanta's younger residents, died at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in a private sanitarium. The end came peacefully following an operation which effected the only hope of relief. Medical skill was exhausted in an effort to prolong her life, but in vain. Just a few short months ago she lost an only child a great and of seven years whose laughter in the home was music. Whose presence was sunshine and joy. With the death of this promising lad her own life began slowly to ebb.

Mrs. Barnes was in her thirty-sixth year. She was a native of Macon, Ga., and a daughter of the Collins, a prominent resident of the Central City. Her grandfather, Stephen Collins was Macon's war mayor. On the maternal side, she was the granddaughter of Colonel J. L. Jones of Macon, a gallant veteran of the civil war, the survivor by her husband, Mr. J. Barnes Jr. of Atlanta, an only sister, Mrs. William A. Hampton, of 22 North Avenue, Atlanta, a brother, W. W. Collins of Washington state and three aunts, Mrs. William Cox, Mrs. Claud Estes and Miss Eva Jones, all of Macon. The funeral will occur Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of Captain J. J. Barnes, 324 North Jackson street. The interment will be at Oakland. Mrs. Barnes was a consistent member of the Druid Hills Methodist church and the last rites will be conducted by her pastor.

When the southern food products conference convenes at 10 o'clock this morning in the hall of representatives at the state capitol, the cotton problem in the southern states will be discussed in detail and steps will be taken to relieve the situation, the men behind the movement feeling that no aid can be expected from congress.

CHARLES J. HADEN

The conference will assemble a class of men from throughout the south of higher average caliber than any meeting has ever convened in Atlanta. President Wilson will be requested to issue a proclamation, asking the people of both business men and farmers, organize themselves to adjust the matter of diversified crops so that there will be sufficient food crops produced to meet the needs of the country.

Plan for Relief.

The plan follows in full: First—That it is the sense of this conference that no further relief can be reasonably expected from state or national legislation.

Second—That this is not a farmer's problem or wholly a farmer's burden. Every business interest in the south is equally affected in a proper sense.

SICK MISSIONARY STARTS BIG MOVE

As Result of His Suggestion Disciples of Christ Are Now Engaged in Raising $6,300,000 Fund.

A number of delegates arrived in Atlanta last night as the vanguard of the several thousand who are expected, here from various parts of the world to attend the international convention of the Disciples of Christ which opens Wednesday evening, October 7, and will continue through October 14. In addition to the general convention of the Church of Christ, annual meetings will be held during the week by a number of organizations affiliated with that church, including the American and Foreign Christian Missionary societies.

One of the most interesting features of the convention will be the report of the work accomplished by the Men and Millions club. The movement had its origin in the United States in 1907. It is a movement for the relief of the Chinese famine which has been crying for aid for several years.

At last they were stirred to consider this question. Just at the time when they were realizing what should be done, Miss Mary Myrtle Warren, of the Bible college in China, this gave the vision to plan for larger things for God. They decided to ask the extension committee to raise $6,000,000 in five years. In addition to the regular missionary appropriations for China, only about $8,000 a year had been allowed for additional equipment.

Then Secretary F. M. Rains, of the foreign board, went to China. The matter was presented to him at first the proposition seemed to him too tremendous to undertake. Then there came the vision of not only making the call for China, but for all the mission fields. A. E. Cory, one of the men who came to America to come home and lead this movement, it was decided to ask for a sum of not more than half a million dollars for all the fields. This was to cover the expenses of the mission fields, and to include the necessary missionary and native workers.

When the matter was presented to leading business men they instantly decided to undertake the plan. The church should undertake a million-dollar business proposition, and just go out for a million dollars for God. This slogan was decided upon, and a team of men were organized to raise the various fields, raised this money $10,000 a Year Each.

When the million dollars was in sight, at a banquet at Pomona, Cal., W. F. Holt, of Redlands, Cal., proposed to raise $10,000 a year for ten years, thus raising a second million for the work abroad. Mrs. M. E. Harlan, secretary of the Woman's Board of Christian Missions, and the Foreign Christian Missionary society, joined in raising this $10,000 a year, and that it was decided upon.

At the Louisville convention in 1912, in a prayer-meeting, Mrs. Harlan proposed to raise $10,000 a year for ten years. She said she would be glad to help from this side, if I will be helping from the other side. Mr. Long, president of the Long-Bell Lumber company, of Kansas City, Mo., offered to give $100,000 to the movement. After a conference with the other members of the executive committee, Mr. Long offered to give $100,000, making a total of $6,300,000, two million and a half to go to the cause of the extension, and $4,300,000 to cover any possible deficit.

Every Member Canvass. In addition to the ideal of the $6,300,000 and the men mentioned above, it is expected that every member of the executive committee are Mrs. Anna R. Sawyer, R. Warren J. H. Mohr, G. W. McClure, Miner Lee Estes and R. H. Crossfield.

Milledgeville, Ga., October 4.—(Special)—Dr. George D. Case, of this city,

85 PER CENT OF DEATHS ARE PREVENTABLE

It is now an accepted fact that 85 per cent of deaths in the United States are from preventable disease. The great question, therefore, is to find preventive remedies.

Disease, both acute and chronic, is invariably preceded by a generally run-down condition of vitality, such as indigestion, nervousness or anemia. Since this is the case, it stands to reason that much disease could be prevented if some restorative tonic were administered. Tona Vita is the ideal tonic for this purpose. It should be in every household and whenever any of the family no matter how old or how young begin to feel out of sorts they should be put on a course of this great tonic and in this way much sickness will be avoided.

Among the commoner symptoms of approaching sickness are a morbid impression, loss of vitality, loss of appetite and restlessness, poor circulation, pale complexion, sudden attacks of indigestion and a general feeling of being run down. Tona Vita is an excellent preparation and is largely advocated by the medical profession. It can be obtained in Atlanta at all of the leading drug stores.—(Adv.)

REGULATION BY LAW.
Should Its Extension by Government Continue?

This is an age of regulation. The growth of National and State regulation has been tremendous, and if the present rate continues, what is to be the result?

Whether this change from individualism to paternalism is desirable to the American people is a great question. From the very beginning of our country, America has been the land of free men and free institutions as a perpetual guarantee for our welfare. Under this influence we have grown and founded our wonderful industrial institutions, believing in those principles and working under them with great progress and prosperity.

It is with a certain alarm, therefore, that investors view the present tendency toward over-regulation by government. Regulation seems to have become a mania—a profession which is being carried on as if it were more than a fair percentage of quacks and shysters, who are forcing the statute books with unnecessary and arbitrary laws, and drawing in salaries under the mask of reform. The result of this sort is fatal to all prosperity, and prevents industrial advancement.

Perhaps it is time to stop and take an inventory of what is going on. Before we are regulated out of business, let us see if we can eliminate the cranks who are making a graft out of regulation and reform, and let us see if we can get along along sensible well informed lines and then enforce them to the great benefit of the entire population.
