Charter for Railroad Line Paralleling State Road Will Not Be Asked Until After Legislature Meets

Promise to This Effect Is Made to Governor John M. Slaton by Attorneys Representing the North Georgia Mineral Railway.

LEGISLATURE OF STATE WILL BE GIVEN CHANCE TO PROTECT W. & A.

Action Was Taken After the Attorney General Had Concurred With Secretary of State That the Law Would Force Him to Grant Charter.

At the instance of Governor John M. Slaton, who has been working quietly to that end for several weeks, the attorneys for the North Georgia Mineral railway, which recently applied to Secretary of State Phil Cook for a charter to build a road paralleling the Western and Atlantic into Atlanta, have agreed not to demand the charter until the next regular session of the legislature convenes, in the summer of 1915, at which time it will have opportunity to take whatever steps it may deem proper for the protection of the state's railroad property. Meanwhile, the petition will be held under advisement by Secretary Cook.

Immediately after the North Georgia Mineral railway, through its attorneys, King & Spaulding, of Atlanta, filed with the secretary of state its petition for a charter, Secretary Cook called upon Attorney General Grice for a ruling as to his discretion in granting this charter, the execution of the rights of which, it is feared, may result in the violation of the state constitution. Attorney General Grice concurred with Secretary Cook in his position that he had no other discretion than to grant the charter, inasmuch as the petition had met all the mandates of the law.

Secretary of State Powerless. The secretary of state was then powerless to do otherwise than grant the charter, as soon as he had completed his consideration of it.

Some sort of action was brought to bear upon the governor to have him call a special session of the legislature, the only remaining medium through which the state could protect its interests. The Slaton declined persistently to commit himself upon the matter, and for two weeks the question of whether or not the governor would call the legislature into special session has been foremost in the minds of everybody who guessed that the governor had something up his sleeve, no one could ascertain just what angle he was really working from.

Some sort of action was deemed imperative, but to call an extra session of the legislature would entail an expense to the state of some $75,000. Moreover, there is no limit to the time during which the legislature may remain in special session, save the expiration of the terms of the members of that body.

Governor Slaton opened negotiations with Messrs. King & Spaulding with a view to gaining their consent to withhold any demand for the charter until the regular session of the legislature next summer.

Governor Slaton, however, declared to the attorneys that should they deem it their duty to demand the charter at once, he would immediately call the legislature into special session, for he felt that no vital interest of the state should not be involved without the general assembly having the opportunity for due consideration of the question, regardless of the expense.

Messrs. King & Spaulding declared in their reply to the governor, agreeing to withhold demand for the charter until the legislature meets, that the interests which they represent have every confidence in the spirit of justice which abides in the state of Georgia, and that they do not, above all things, desire to be placed in the position of attempting to take advantage of the state in any particular.

Governor Slaton's negotiations with the attorneys of the petitioning railroad were by means of personal interviews, the nature of which are set forth in the following letter to the governor, which letter expresses also the willingness of the railroad to wait upon the legislature:

Letter to the Governor. Hon. John M. Slaton, Executive Office, State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: We have had under consideration the request made by you, in the personal interview with a member of our firm, that we would not insist on the issuance of a certificate of incorporation of the North Georgia Mineral railway until after the general assembly of Georgia had met in regular session in the summer of 1915.

In this connection we have also had under consideration your statement that you were being asked to call an extra session of the legislature to deal with the question, on the ground that

Detroit, Mich., October 14.—Setting the old-time hymns to tunes that favor of the modern music hall, or of "Yankee Doodle," was deplored by Bishop Edward W. ### GRAND JURY PROBE OF VICE IS SOUGHT

Chief Beavers Will Ask That Mayor's Charges of Police Graft Be Thoroughly Investigated.

That an insistent demand will be made by city and county officials upon the Fulton grand jury to investigate the charges of Mayor James G. Woodward that graft and corruption exists in the police department as a result of Chief Beavers' sweeping vice crusade, is the report in city hall and courthouse circles.

The grand jury, of which W. Woods White is foreman, is now in session, although under adjournment at present. Chief Beavers has stated that he will welcome a probe of the jury or any other investigating body, intimating in an interview yesterday afternoon that he would urge such action in order to clear his department of the mayor's accusation. The agitation created in the executive session of the board of police commissioners Tuesday night, which practically reopened the vice question that had lain dormant so long, has created a furore. It was rumored around police headquarters that Chief Beavers, as a result, was planning to reinforce the historical plain clothes "vice squads" with which weapon he waged such a relentless war in his campaign two years ago, and again

GEORGIA BANKERS WILL HELP RAISE $150,000,000 FUND

At Meeting of Bankers Held Yesterday Cotton Loan Fund Is Approved and Immediate Action Is Recommended.

COMMITTEE PLANS TO RAISE $10,000,000

Meeting Is Attended by Nearly 100 of the Most Prominent Bankers of the State, All of Whom Approve.

Georgia has joined the $150,000,000 cotton loan fund, and is among the first of the eleven cotton states to express her approval of it.

The Atlanta Clearing House association, the Georgia Bankers' association, the Georgia branch of the National Currency association, at their joint meeting yesterday, unanimously expressed their approval of the $150,000,000 cotton loan fund to be loaned in the south on cotton. They recommended immediate action on the same, and appointed a joint committee from the Atlanta Clearing House association and the Georgia Bankers' association to formulate a plan for raising subscriptions, to the syndicate in Georgia, Georgia's quota $9,850,000 and Atlanta's quota $2,500,000.

This important committee, headed by A. P. Cole, of the Central Bank and Trust corporation, includes J. W. English, Fourth National bank; W. L. Peel, American National bank; Joseph McCord, Third National bank; Benjamin Sizer, Fulton National bank; and G. R. Donovan, Atlanta National bank, representing the Atlanta clearing house, and the executive council of the Georgia Bankers' association representing that organization, I. G. Council chairman.

The Plan Agreed Upon.

According to the plan formulated by the committee, meeting yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Georgia's quota of the syndicate will be raised through each bank in the state subscribing an amount in proportion to its capital, surplus and deposits, and the Georgia Bankers' association will use its machinery to perfect necessary arrangements.

The resolutions endorsing the cotton loan fund followed due consideration of the proposition. There were seventy-three bankers present, these representing the leading banks in every section of the state, coming in response to the call made upon them by the Georgia Bankers' association, the Georgia Currency association and the Atlanta Clearing House association, after representatives of the three organizations had met in Atlanta last Saturday to consider the plan.

L. G. Council, president of the Georgia Bankers' association, presided over the meeting yesterday. The purpose of the meeting was set forth by Joseph McCord, vice president of the Third National bank. The cotton loan fund, as formulated by Festus Wade, of St. Louis, approved by the secretary of the Georgia Bankers' association and acted upon by a group of the leading bankers of the country, appointed by Secretary McCord, was explained by A. P. Cole.

Mr. Cole, while recommending the plan, believed that there were certain details which should be clearly understood before the underwriting of the Georgia loan should be undertaken by Georgia, and he called upon Edward Robertson, of Columbia, S. C., a member of the committee appointed by Mr. McCord to confer with Mr. Wade, the originator of the plan, to give the information.

Mr. Robertson suggested rather than reiterate the statements already made by Mr. Cole, which covered the purposes of the plan and its meaning, that questions be asked and the details thus explained in full.

Detail Information.

To Mr. Cole's questions the following detail information was given: 1. The Georgia quota of the syndicate of $9,850,000, she will be entitled to loanable funds from the syndicate of approximately $30,000,000.

2. The subscribing banks in Georgia have the right to the loanable funds. 3. In case subscribing bank does not desire its entire quota from the loanable fund, the subscribing bank may have the right to indicate to whom its quota could be loaned.

4. In the loans made to banks the syndicate will rely entirely on the banks taking the loan to supply the proper warehouse receipts and insurance policies; the borrowing bank liable to syndicate for ultimate payment of paper, naturally seeing that warehouse and insurance papers are in order.

5. For the convenience of borrowing banks, the syndicate will have agency

Distinct Gain Is Claimed For Anglo-French Forces Against German Advance

Invaders Will Probably Occupy Ostend, But They Will Be Desperately Resisted in Attempting to Extend Their Lines to Northern French Ports—British Troops Were Prominent in Fighting Which Resulted in Throwing Back German Right—Russians Have Pushed Back the Germans From Warsaw—Turkey and Portugal Preparing to Enter the War.

London, October 14.—The official press bureau tonight issued the following statement:

"British troops have been engaged with the enemy towards the left of the allied line (in France), with the result that the Germans have been pressed back slightly on their flank.

"The nature of the country in which the fighting has been conducted, being a mining center, makes rapid progress difficult."

Germans Foiled in Attempt To Turn Allied Left Wing

London, October 14.—While it fully is expected the Germans will reach Ostend and other ports in the northwest of Belgium, if they have not done so already, they will meet a stubborn resistance in their attempt to extend the right wing of their main army through Pas de Calais to the French northern ports. In fact they have fallen back in this region in the face of the allies' offensive.

GERMAN TAUBE HOVERS OVER HARBOR OF OSTEND

Refugees Fleeing as Fast as Ships Can Be Provided. Big Force of Germans in 20 Miles of Ostend.

Ostend, October 14.—(Via London, October 15, 12:10 a. m.)—Ostend's fate hangs in the balance. The government has left King Albert and the main military headquarters went Tuesday and 60,000 panic-stricken people await action by the Germans, who are known to have a large force within twenty miles of the city.

The inhabitants are fleeing as fast as ships can be provided to carry them to England. Hospitals were emptied today and the docks were lined with injured soldiers. Hundreds were carried on litters, while those less severely wounded hobbled on crutches and crutches supported by Red Cross nurses, doctors, nuns and priests.

The wounded were given preference on the transports provided for the beleaguered city, while those struggling and terminals attempting to find places on the refugee ships.

German Taube Causes Terror.

A German Taube flew over the harbor and struck terror to those below. Many of whom had come here from Antwerp, and who feared the aeroplane might drop bombs on the docks and the great glass sheds which cover the joint terminals of the railways and steamers.

The Belgian soldiers guarding the docks opened fire on the aeroplane and the fuselage lasted ten minutes. This created still greater consternation among the thousands of women and children, many of whom had sat

A few days ago German cavalry were fighting as far west as Hazebrouck and Cassel, but today, according to the French official communication issued late today, the front of this battle extends from La Bassée through Estaires to Bailleur on the Belgian frontier, while across the border the allies have occupied Ypres.

This is a distinct gain for the allies and shows that the German attempt to work around their left has failed, the German right being bent back toward Lille and Courtrai, both of which places the invaders hold with strong forces.

It is here the heavy blows, which both sides hope will bring about a decisive result in the long-drawn-out battle, will be struck. It is for this reason that the Germans will be able to make their way to Ostend, although even there some troops have been left to inflict what damage they can before joining the larger body further south.

The censorship has prohibited any mention of the operations to the north of Arras, which probably is responsible for the belief that the allies have prepared what one military critic declares is "a smashing blow, which will

FRENCH DENY GERMAN CLAIMS.

Of the recent fighting elsewhere, the French communication simply says that the operations are proceeding normally on the left wing as far as the Oise, that the allies' progress in the Berry-au-Bac region is confirmed and that on the right wing there is nothing new.

For the first time the French general staff takes notice of and denies some claims put forth by the Germans. It denies that two French cavalry divisions have been destroyed and it asserts, on the other hand, that aviators with French cavalry, inflicted heavy losses on the German cavalry. It is declared also that the Germans have not come into touch with the fortress of Verdun and that attempts to cross the Meuse at St. Mihiel, they were outflanked.

German reports coming through Rome say that the real struggle is just beginning and that, if necessary, 5,000,000 men can be called upon for compulsory service, while many volunteers also are available.

RUSSIANS FACE GREAT BATTLE.

Vienna makes the claim that the Russians have evacuated Fleming, while the Russians restore a similar report that they had given up the siege of Przemyel. It would not surprise military men if the Russians withdrew from Galicia to concentrate all their forces for the supreme struggle with the advance of the Austro-Hungarian armies into Poland, is now upon them along the Vistula from south of Warsaw to their southern boundary.

Nothing has come through concerning the battle on the East Prussian frontier but the activity of the German fleet in the Baltic and Gulf of Finland may presage the arrival of German reinforcements which it was reported some days ago were being embarked at German Baltic ports.

A German squadron, the flagship of which is flying the flag of Prince Henry of Prussia, has been cruising in the vicinity of the land island, and only a few days ago the Russian cruiser Pallada was torpedoed by German submarines, two of which were lost. The presence of the German ships probably would prevent the Russian warships from coming out to interfere with transports, should there be any about.

TURKEY TO FIGHT; ALSO PORTUGAL.

There was every indication today that Turkey and Portugal would be drawn into the war. Portugal was not declared war on Germany as was reported earlier in the day, but a partial mobilization of her forces was ordered tomorrow and martial law was declared in Portuguese Congo.

Portugal has an alliance with Great Britain, but this is purely a defensive one, and was negotiated for the protection of Portugal and not with the idea that Portugal ever should be called on to come to the assistance of Great Britain. However, the sympathy of that country is known to be with the allies, and the fact that some small difficulties with the Germans in Africa. A short time ago a German officer suspected that the Portuguese were instigating unrest among the German natives of East Africa, crossed into Portuguese territory and killed a Portuguese sergeant and four natives.

The former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which sought refuge in Turkish waters when the German fleet was bottled up by the British and French warships may be responsible for the incident. It is believed that these ships, which are thought to be still in the Mediterranean, are being used to instigate the residents of Ostend, and the thousands of refugees fleeing before the German invasion. Wounded soldiers were brought here by the late steamer, the Belgians charged that the German warships were firing on the hospital ships.

for three days on the cement floor of the great terminal sheds, their nerves at the breaking point.

Escape is cut off from all sides by land, and thousands were still gathered miserably on the docks when the last relief ship left late today. No steamers leave Ostend at night because of the danger from mines still in the water.

Even the refugees who managed to find space on the crowded transports were not relieved of the terrible strain under which they have been laboring.

The aeroplane did not drop bombs, but the Belgians charged that the German warships were firing on the hospital ships.

HUGO MUNSTERBERG GETS INTO TROUBLE

Cambridge, Mass. October 14.—Hugo Munsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard university, tonight said he had offered his resignation to President Lowell.

This action is the result of a letter sent by Major Clarence Wiener of London to the overseers of the college to the effect that he would change a will by which Harvard would receive $10,000,000 unless Professor Munsterberg were dismissed from the faculty.

"Unwarranted pro-German utterances" may cost Harvard $10,000,000.

The Harvard corporation is expected to take up Major Wiener's letter and Professor Munsterberg's resignation next week.

Major Wiener, a member of the class of 1900 at Harvard, is the proprietor of the Wiener News, agency Strand, London. He was born in Philadelphia in 1875. He attended Harvard one year going to Cuba in 1897. During the next year he was on the staff of General Frederick D. Grant in Philadelphia. In 1898 he went to South Africa as a war correspondent. Subsequently he saw stirring service there and organized a band of scouts. He was eight times wounded in South Africa. Major Wiener has been reputed to be immensely wealthy.

Futile Efforts by the Germans To Breach Lines of the Allies

Paris, October 15.—(12:01 a. m.)—The exact positions of the bulk of the allied armies are being kept strictly secret but it is believed that the forces in France and Belgium have joined since the fall of Antwerp.

The German cavalry around Hazebrouck, France which masked a movement of the infantry suffered a rude check from the allied forces at Hazebrouck. The Germans were unable to operate freely in masses owing to the nature of the ground. They were virtually at the mercy of the allied infantry and artillery.

Lively street fighting occurred in Hazebrouck, on which place the Germans had made a daring raid. At Arras the town hall was burned during a bombardment.

The section where encounters are never far from hand, where the Germans tried to make a breach through the allied lines, has been held, still is progressing about Roye which has been taken and retaken at least twelve times.

The official communication issued tonight by the war office.

The reports received tonight, which are in very general terms indicate no important modification in the situation.

Operations Developing Normally.

During the afternoon the following statement was issued by the war office:

In the Belgian field of operations there were some encounters during the night of October 13 and during the day of 14th in the region around Ghent. English and French troops have occupied 13res.

"First—On our left wing, as far as the Duse, the operations are developing normally.

"Second—On our right wing there is nothing new.

While it is not our custom to reply to the insinuations of the German press it seems to us proper to deny the check from the news press in certain German newspapers concerning the pretended destruction of two divisions of French cavalry. The information is absolutely erroneous.

The truth is that certain forces of French and German cavalry with supports have been successful for several days along the front at La Bassée, Estaires and Bulleuil. The Germans made a slight advance between the canal of La Bassée and the Lys, but they were obliged to withdraw.

FRENCH TROOPS HARDIER THAN GERMAN SOLDIERS

Bordeaux, October 14.—The powers of resistance of the French troops is a point which the German press is expected to be the subject of in the coming days. The German occupation of Lille, it is believed, will be of short duration. The French official communication now issued in referring to the troops around Lille, indicating that the allied army corps which has occupied Lille in part of the force released from service in Belgium.

Having failed in their attacks at Arras, Albert, Roye, Lassigny and Tracy, Lemoine, there was much speculation on the German side as to the effort of the Germans. The allies hoped not only to keep their line in the north but to make a breach in it reported they did yesterday.

GERMANS TO BESIEGE FORTRESS OF BELFORT

London, October 14.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the Central News received here the German are preparing to lay siege upon Belfort with a force as large as possible. In the Franco-Prussian war it withstood a siege for more than three months. The town has a population of 28,000.

Paris, October 14.—The left wing of the allies, where the German and British have taken the offensive at certain points, is expected to be the scene of sharp fighting in the coming days. The German occupation of Lille, it is believed, will be of short duration. The French official communication now issued in referring to the troops around Lille, indicating that the allied army corps which has occupied Lille in part of the force released from service in Belgium.

DRAMATIC AIR DUEL BETWEEN AEROPLANES

French Airship Outmaneuvers the German, and Latter Is Brought Down.

Paris, October 14.—The activity of German aeroplanes over Paris has brought up a general discussion of their value in warfare and a recital of thrilling aerial duels between French and German machines. One French corps commander is quoted as saying a single aeroplane is as valuable as a division of cavalry. Aeroplanes are of the greatest service in preventing surprises and few important movements of troops have been made which have not been promptly reported by aerial scouts before their completion.

A daring encounter took place recently between a German monoplane and a French biplane north of the river Oise. The German machine was seen sailing over the French lines before a strong detachment of troops was to start on a movement to the north. For the success of this maneuver it was vital that this sentry of the air be removed and a French biplane undertook the task.

The French machine rose from the ground and rapidly gained an altitude greater than that of the Germans. In a daring drive in which he braved a heavy fire from the French lines the German descended to a height of 1,000 yards and, skillfully avoiding the French machine, started to drive for the German lines. The Frenchman seemed to have an advantage in speed, not often the case in aeroplane encounters in this war. For a while the German kept out of reach but the biplane, continuing its flight at considerable height, finally attained an advantageous position.

Then there could be heard the quick and sharp reports of a machine gun on the German machine. The German floated for a few moments as if the pilot had lost control and then, fluttering and sharp headed on the wings, the machine started an oblique flight downward, which ended in it crashing to the earth.

French Airship Outmaneuvers the German, and Latter Is Brought Down.

Paris, October 14.—The activity of German aeroplanes over Paris has brought up a general discussion of their value in warfare and a recital of thrilling aerial duels between French and German machines. One French corps commander is quoted as saying a single aeroplane is as valuable as a division of cavalry. Aeroplanes are of the greatest service in preventing surprises and few important movements of troops have been made which have not been promptly reported by aerial scouts before their completion.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF VICE IS SOUGHT

endeavor to sweep the city clean of immoral resorts.
Will Do His Duty.
He was asked of this rumor, replying: "I can say nothing except that I shall continue to do my duty with support from the board of commissioners. I don't feel that I have any trouble in handling the situation."
Beavers had stated at the board meeting Tuesday night that he needed the co-operation of the commission in furthering his campaign, intimating that he had not received the support he expected from that body. He was asked Wednesday if he meant these words as an arraignment of the commissioners.
"I meant all that," was his reply. "I had previously told the board that I would have to have its support in making this campaign, and every member of the board is fully aware of my position in handling the matter."

Following Mayor Woodward's charge Wednesday morning that there was graft in the police department and that more houses of immorality existed in Atlanta than in any other time the segregated district was in operation, Chief Beavers issued the following statement:
"I am anxious for Mayor Woodward to show his hand. He has made charges that the police are protecting vice, but this is a very simple thing to do if one does not have to bring proof forward."

Wants the Proof.
"I want the mayor, or anyone else who is making charges that the police are taking graft for vice protection, to bring proof. If they have none, they have deliberately misled the public and have made serious charges that will reflect on the reputation of every man on the police force."
When such accusations are made I expect them to be backed up by positive proof. If they have none, they are bare and unsupported words of the mayor and his friends. Now that the agitation is started, I want everything to come to light. If there is any graft, I don't know it, but I want to know it if anyone knows of graft it is his duty to report the matter to authorities.
I understand that many of you have proof in your hands that there were more disorderly resorts in Atlanta at the time of the operation of every man on the police force. If there is any such proof, let it come to light. It is in the following portion of the chief's statement that he threatens to make a man higher up in the present agitation.
"I can and will at any time necessary name a man in this city who has opposed my policies persistently, and who, at the time the district was closed, threatened me with the statement that within a few days he would close resorts would all be back again. He is a man of influence and closely associated with the mayor."

Woodward's Position.
Asked for a statement in reply to the sharp criticism of Chief Beavers, Mayor Woodward said:
"I don't propose to get into a controversy with Chief Beavers on the subject of vice, for it seems that one cannot speak of vice without the chief losing his head. He seems to think that whenever a complaint is made it is an attack on his work in closing up the restricted district.
I don't know what the chief means when he refers to a man higher up. As far as I am concerned there is no man higher up. I don't take any pleasure in anyone higher up or lower down, but whenever a complaint comes to me and I think it should be looked into, I am going to have something to say, regardless of what the chief or anyone else thinks, and whenever I have anything that I think should be given to the police board, I am going to give it whenever the occasion demands."
"I have said to the mayor in regard to Tuesday night's meeting and to the statement made by Chief Beavers following the meeting that I thought had too much notorious advertising in the past and I don't want to be a party to prolonging the matter. I know my duty to the people, and will act when the occasion arises."

Graft, Says the Mayor.
The chief's statement was issued following the issuance of this interview from Mayor Woodward.

"The vice situation in Atlanta has got beyond the control of Chief Beavers and his policemen. Some other instrumentality must be employed to rid the city of its houses of immorality. The decent men and women residents are complaining. They must be protected."
There must undoubtedly be graft of some kind if a police force of twelve could not be that these houses are allowed to continue in the city, where everyone knows where they are. How is it that all the residents know of the existence of these resorts, yet the police be unaware?
The houses of prostitution are so scattered that a police force of twelve the size would have difficulty in coping with conditions. As it is there seems to be but little effort to rid up even those that are now flaunting themselves in the principal streets of the city."

Urge Police to Be Diligent.
When the evening watch reported in the assembly room of the station-house at 4 o'clock the officers were addressed by Chief Beavers, who urged the agitation concerning the existence of vice in Atlanta which has been caused by the statement by the reporter made Wednesday by city officials. He expressed his sincere faith in his men and impressed upon them the fact that he expected them to hunt out the haunts of vice as diligently as when the crusade was first inaugurated.
Statements have been made in public print," Chief Beavers said, "making it appear that certain officers of the police department must be derelict in their duty of reporting the location of houses of vice. I do not believe that you have failed to do your duty, and I have reached your ears. I have implicit faith in you. However, should evidence show that such is the case I shall suspend that officer until the next meeting of the commission. It is still standing by the policy of eradicating vice from the city of Atlanta which I announced when this crusade was first commenced. The law on this subject has been explained to you. You hold civil service positions and cannot be injured by doing right."
Later in the evening Chief Beavers called the plain clothes men into his private office and went over with them again his attitude concerning disorderly houses and vicious resorts.

David Warfield.
(At the Atlanta.)
Tomorrow night Warfield will open his engagement at the Atlanta in "The Auctioneer." He will play three performances, giving a matinee Saturday. Seats are now selling for all three performances and, despite all rumors to the contrary, plenty of seats are to be had for each performance at the regular advertised price. The management considers some of the rumors regarding all seats being sold as harmful and gives assurance that seats may be had for either of the three performances, and plenty of seats at that. Those who have any doubts as to the ready way may count on getting satisfactory seats, despite the heavy sale and the indications of packed houses.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)
Joe Howard composer of popular songs, and Mabel McCane as pretty and as clever a partner as ever were a stunning gown—the words about eight—are headlining at the Forsyth this week. It is no easy undertaking to headline on a bill that includes Henry Lewis, a one-man vaudeville show in himself, and W. C. Fields the screaming good juggler—it is not easy but Joe Howard and Mabel McCane are doing it to the extent of some eight or ten encores every performance. There are performances every afternoon and every night.

33,000 CANADA TROOPS ARRIVE AT PLYMOUTH
Ottawa, Ontario, October 14.—Announcement that the fleet of thirty-two transport steamers carrying the Canadian expeditionary force of 32,000 reached England today and are disembarking the troops at Plymouth has been called to Premier Sir Robert Borden by George E. Perley, a member of the administration, now in Great Britain.
The selection of Plymouth as the place of debarkation is taken as an indication that the Canadians will be engaged in the operations of the war in the English waters on October 8 of the vanguard of the fleet carrying the Canadian contingent was reported in cable messages received here on that date.

NO GOVERNMENT HELP FOR COTTON GROWERS

Chairman Glass Tells Bankers That Congress Will Reject the Proposed Schemes.
Richmond, Va., October 14.—Chairman Glass, of the house banking and currency committee, told the convention of the American Bankers association for government valorization of cotton or the sale of government bonds to take the crop off the planters' hands would not result in action by congress if it were done, he declared, it would not be of permanent benefit to the cotton producer.
Outlining some recent legislative history, he said it often was "more important to prevent things from being done than to do things."

$250,000,000 Bond Proposition.
"Especially in this time," he declared, "with reference to some of the propositions pending, such as the suggestion to have the government go into the cotton business by valorizing this single product at the expense of all the American people. And so with the other suggestion that the government sell $250,000,000 worth of bonds and use the proceeds for the purchase of a single product—and this at the very moment that the government already is levying taxes on the American people to raise $100,000,000 to cover the deficit in the treasury occasioned by the stoppage of importations caused by the war in Europe."
Every sane and patriotic citizen, whether of Massachusetts or Mississippi, Virginia or California, deeply sympathizes with cotton planters and would go anything within the limitations of reason and sane economics to aid them in their distress, but it cannot be expected that congress will resort to measures for the relief of any single American product, the enact-

Not Due to Sex Alone
Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all back-pained dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply eat sparingly, take better care of one's self than to use Doan's Kidney Pills is bound to help bad kidney get better. There are so many thousands of women who can tell you this from experience.

Modern Sales Efficiency

In the final analysis, advertising is the salesman who makes a mental appeal through a visual agency that brings home the order. Granting that this be true, let us carry the analogy further. You will agree that the ideal salesman is one who---

1. Sees the most customers.
2. Does it at the least possible expense.
3. Has a personality so pleasing as to attract the prospective buyer.
4. States what he has to offer in a clear, forceful manner.

If the above describes an ideal personal salesman, it readily follows that the bulletin board is the ideal visual salesman. Because---

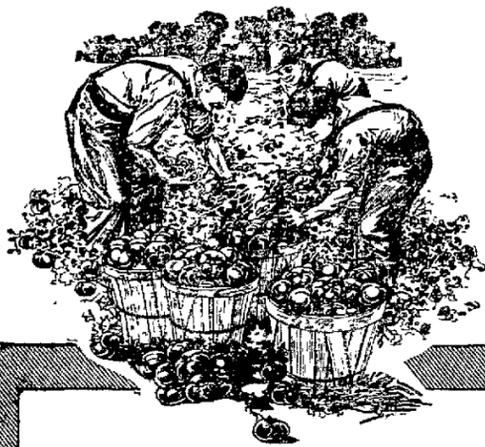

1. Having a public position, where it commands the attention of the passing throng, its media is the greatest in the advertising field.
2. It is only necessary to mention its cost of one cent per day for 612 column inches to prove conclusively its economy.
3. The illustration, and above all the psychology of color impression, makes the bulletin board a natural object of interest that the most disinterested cannot consistently refrain from reading.
4. The size of the layout, enabling the board to impress the reader both by word and illustration, makes it possible for the idea to be expressed as clearly as possible.

In short, the bulletin board answers the universal demand for efficiency. In an economical manner it makes a quicker impression, a more lasting impression, and a greater number of impressions, than any other form of salesmanship.

It is the last word in salescraft, the highest type of modern sales efficiency.

The amount, quality and results of our work are proof positive that the Massengale Bulletin System is preeminent in its line in the South. We have aided materially in the development of many prominent enterprises. May we have the opportunity to help you?

YONAH COUNCIL MEETS AT PIEDMONT TONIGHT

Yonah Council of the Royal Arcanum will tonight celebrate at the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel the twentieth anniversary of the establishment of the council. Short addresses will be made by the Hon. Thomas H. Jeffries and Joseph C. Logan. Vocal solos will be rendered by Mrs. Oscar Kutscher and Miss Sallie Bell Cooper. Mrs. L. A. Williams will also entertain the audience with one of her inimitable recitations.

At the conclusion of the short program there will be an informal reception, or get acquainted meeting, a character of meeting somewhat peculiar to this organization and always enjoyable. The public is cordially welcome and always made at home.

The history of this great fraternal organization is one of profound interest to those whom the humanitarian side of things appeals. In thirty-seven years of existence it has paid out to families of its deceased members $17,000,000, of which $5,000,000 has been paid out in Georgia, and nearly $1,000,000 in Atlanta. Its rare celebrations are always characterized by a strong fraternal feeling and an informality which makes everybody feel comfortable.

CONDUCTOR'S PLAN TO MAKE DEMAND FOR 300,000 BALES

Augusta, Ga., October 14—(Special) The Arkwright club, representing the New England cotton mills, the American Cotton Manufacturers association, representing the southern cotton mills, and the National Manufacturers' association are investigating the "Hudson plan" for increasing the demand for cotton goods in the manufacture of men's clothing.

The plan is based on the use of khaki uniforms for employees of railroads, police and fire departments in the cotton producing states. The Georgia plan is made that the adoption of the suggestion, which was made by a railroad conductor of the Georgia and Florida railroad, will mean the consumption of 300,000 bales of cotton annually.

ATLANTA HIGH SCHOOLS DECLARED A DISGRACE

That Atlanta high schools are a shame and a disgrace and that conditions are such that progress is no longer possible, is the declaration made in an editorial signed Zachary S. A. in the current issue of The Tattler, the high school organ. The article is in the nature of an appeal to the general council of Atlanta and citizens. It advocates the closing of schools or bonds to improve the schools, and makes a strong appeal for a new high school building with ample facilities for athletics.

It is pointed out that the only remedy for the conditions of the high schools is for the city to erect a new building. The editorial further points out that the crowded conditions which the city has tolerated has caused Atlanta to take a low rank in education among cities of her size, while the smaller cities are forging to the front.

AUTOIST PUTS ON SPEED AND FOILS HIGHWAYMEN

Thomasville, Ga., October 14—(Special) There have been reports of several attempts at hold ups around this city and the automobile parties are being warned by the sheriff to take special precautions in traveling tonight so as to prevent possible attacks.

There are many idle, unemployed negroes around the country thrown out of work by the closing of the cotton industries, and only a day or two ago parties leaving here in an automobile were stopped by negroes in the town. The owner of the car put on top speed and avoided the attack, and the negroes tried to jump on the car.

LAW BARRING POOLROOM IS CONSTITUTIONAL

That the general assembly may constitutionally pass a law amending the charter of a city so that such a city may prohibit the conduct of pool and billiard rooms within its limits was the decision of the state supreme court rendered down on Wednesday in the case of Trammell v. The City of Rome.

The last general assembly amended the Rome charter to the above effect, and Rome proceeded against Trammell for violating an ensuing city ordinance. Trammell appealed to the police court, the superior court, lost and appealed to the supreme court, where he has again lost.

SIX JURORS SELECTED TO TRY D. C. CAMPBELL

Judge Cox continued the case over until tomorrow morning, as the other business. He drew about eighty jurors, who are summoned to appear in the morning, when the case will be resumed. Both sides are ably represented by counsel and the case will be unusually hard fought.

ATLANTA WILL HAVE ART SALON THIS YEAR

Purpose of Exhibit Is to Demonstrate What Is Being Done in Atlanta.

Under the auspices of the local Art association Atlanta this fall is to have an art salon modeled after the exhibits held annually in New York, Paris and other great art centers of the world. The paintings will be those of Atlanta artists and the purpose of the exhibit is to demonstrate what is being done here in this particular line of artistic development and to encourage further efforts.

The paintings will be selected by a competent jury, merit alone being considered. Only original work will be eligible except perhaps in the case of an exceptionally good copy of an old master.

The number of pictures to be hung will be limited to six so that to have a picture selected by the jury will be a real distinction for the artist who printed it.

LICENSE OF PHYSICIAN REVOKED BY EXAMINERS

Winder Doctor Loses Right to Practice Because of Alleged Intemperate Habits.

At the annual meeting of the state board of medical examiners held at the state capital yesterday, the license of Dr. D. D. Hill of Winder was revoked as the result of his alleged intemperate habits.

Dr. Hill was granted a license in 1894. Some months ago he was placed on probation as the result of charges that he was addicted to the excessive use of liquor.

At the meeting of the board Wednesday additional charges were read and it was decided to revoke his license. This is the first time that this action has ever been taken by the board of examiners. The board felt that, possibly, its action might have a good effect on other physicians given to intemperance.

The board elected the following officers: Dr. N. Peterson of Tifton, president; Dr. E. H. Hinson of Atlanta vice president and Dr. C. T. Nolan of Marietta was re-elected secretary. Thirty-six stood the examination. Eleven of these were colored.

For the purpose of securing homes for the delegates to the forthcoming national Woman's Christian Temperance union convention in Atlanta, a luncheon will be tendered the connection officers and presidents of the missionary societies of all the churches of the city at the Piedmont hotel Friday at 12 o'clock.

The convention will be one of the largest gatherings of women ever held in Atlanta and will rank among the really important events of the year's calendar. It will bring to the city more than 1,000 women from all over the United States and from foreign countries, many of whom are women of national and world-wide repute. They are familiar with Atlanta's high rank as a convention city and will naturally expect to find the hospitality for which the city is famous. Hence the ladies of the

A. M. BEATTY PRAISED FOR CONVENTION WORK

Atlanta Man Had Charge of Publicity for Disciples of Christ Meeting.

How the convention of the Disciples of Christ happened to have the best publicity of any convention of this body was one of the stories from behind the scenes of the convention which was brought to light at the recognition service held just before the adjournment of the convention last night.

The secret is that it was in charge of an Atlanta man for the first time in history.

It has been customary in former conventions to send a publicity man from the general offices of the church to direct the publicity for the convention. At the convention of last year, when it was decided to meet in Atlanta in 1914, the "Atlanta Spirit" was much in discussion, and the boat was made by the Atlanta delegation that Atlanta could do anything.

As a consequence, they wished the job of handling the publicity on A. M. Beatty, who is an Atlanta man, and who has done newspaper work, publicity and advertising, and told him to make good.

Now Mr. Beatty has a regular job, and he didn't propose to neglect it, nor did he propose to show up the publicity for the convention, all of which meant midnight oil. Also, he went to work just a year before the convention.

He didn't know much about Christian church conventions but he knew a lot about Atlanta, and he knew how to tell it, and he also knew how to work.

The resolutions adopted Wednesday in the general convention, thanking the Atlanta newspapers for the excellent attention given their reports of the convention, and for the publicity generally they have given, tell the story of how well he has succeeded.
