Official English figures show that since the beginning of the war 773 ships have left the United States for Norway, Denmark and Sweden. Of these eight have been sent to the prize court. The number searched or held pending an investigation has not been published.

London, Liverpoel and Manchester papers repeatedly have printed the statement that Americans have shipped copper inside cotton bales, intimating that this is a general practice. No octon cargoes have reached the prize court and the American embassy has no knowledge of copper being smuggled in cotton. is absolutely no truth in the report that the cardinal was ever arrested by German authorities in Belgium, or even confined to his own palace or prevented from leaving it.

The explanation says:
"The German authorities entrusted with the most delicate and difficult task of maintaining order in Belgium and convincing the hostile population of that country of their sincere desire for their good, simply addressed to Cardinal Mercier a most deferentialprayer that he abstain from any atti-tude which might make difficult the accomplishment of their duty, or ulti-mately entail risk to the Belgian peo-

In following that course the Germans, the explanation says, had in mind the fulfillment of the Christian duty, "which must be particularly dear to a minitser of the church, of avoiding the shedding of blood.
"Any agitation or tumult arising from even an indirect cause," the Ger-man communication concludes, "will render necessary severe measures the part of the troops for the restora-tion of order."

Canadian Soldiers Arrested.

Toronto, January 8.—A provincial constable, a corporal and two privates were arrested at Fort Erie today on warrants issued at the instance of the attorney general of the province of Ontario, charging them with manslaughter in connection with the death of Walter Smith and the wounding of Charles Dorsch, American citizens, at Fort Erie on December 28 dast. Tho men were held without ball.

Smith and Dorsch were shot by Canadian millitamen while hunting ducks on the Canadian side of the Niagarariver in alleged violation of the dominion game laws. The United States sent a formal protest to Great Britain requesting the punishment of those guilty of the shooting.

The men arrested today on charges of manslaughter are Thomas W. Delaney, provincial constable; Archie Kay, corporal, and Edmund McIntosh and Leslie Kinsman, privates.

I. B. Lucas, attorney general of Ontario, who caused the issuance of the warrants, announced his department had preferred the charges on its own initiative, feeling that the matter required full investigation. No instructions had been received, he said, from either the imperial or dominion governments.

ATLANTA PRACTICALLY IS FREE FROM DISEASE

No Quarantine Against Chattanooga--Quillian Re-elected President Health Board.

There are few tears in "Bought and Paid For," showing at the Atlanta theater, but there are tense moments linged to tense moments, and yet at the climax of the tensest moments comes a laugh, irrepressible, from the audience, produced by a rich wit skill-fully linterspersed throughout the play. It is a likable play—that is, most of it. There is a scene in the second act that pictures real line somewhat strongly and frankly—where the rich society man comes home to his wife slightly "lit up," and showing the brute that tends to out in a man when his wife becomes especially oustinate on or the most virulent form of smallpox in Chattanooga, and the advisability Atlanta creating a quarantine against the Tennessee city, was dis-ussed at the meeting of the city health board Friday afternoon. whatever information he had relative to the scope of the disease. He re-plied that the only information he had lie did not believe it to be good policy to establish a quarantine in view of the fact that such a move would be costly to the city, and that the results to be hoped for would not justify drasslightly "lit up," and showing the brute that tends to out in a man when his wife becomes especially obstinate on a point. The audiences at the performances Friday atternoon and night were pleased with the play and were free to show it.

The play does not tend to be sensational. Its salient features purpose to supply a well-defined contrast to the fine principles in the woman of "ideals," who views with extreme distaste the idea that her martiage to a rich man might be a thing of buying and selling. The woman in the case forcefully discriminates between legal rights and moral rights, declaring that thing," and that she had rather be right than legal.

"Bought and Faid For" contains a moral lesson that cannot well be overlooked in married life. The lines of the play are pointed and well expressed, sometimes philosophical, but always carrying a real meaning. In fact, the play is virile and the actors are especially good, without an exception. tic action.

Acting on the suggestion of Dr. T. Dorsey, and on motion of Council-man Claude L. Ashley, the board inmunicate with the authorities of Chat-tanooga and get from them such infor-mation as relates to the number of cases, the rate of mortality and other information.

Dr. Kennedy was requested to transmit whatever information he receives to the health board as its next meet-sons, is in very little danger of infection.

Atlanta enjoys the distinction of being one of the most healthful smots in the United States. There is only one case of smallpox in the contagious disease hospital, and, according to both Dr. Kennedy, city health officer, and Dr. Claude Smith, city bacteriologist, there is very little disease of any kind in any section of the city.

The only other business of importance was the election of officers for the new year. The board re-elected Dr. W. E. Quillian, president, and Dr. J. H. Bradfield vice president.

Controversy With Clarke.

(At the Atlanta.)

Monday night will witness the return of the sensational play "To-Day" to the Atlanta. This play was given here some weeks ago and created a veritable furore, it is one of the strongest and most exciting ever written and has thrills aplenty for men and women alike. In fact, it made such a hit that hundreds asked for its return, and after much correspondence arrangements to bring back the same company and production was perfected. Those who missed it when here then will have the opportunity of seeing it given by the same fine cast, and certainly no cast was ever more perfect for such a play. GEORGIA FIRE INS. CO. RETIRES FROM THE FIELD

cany, of Cedartown, with headquarters pany, of Cedartown, with headquarters in Atlanta, which has the largest premium receipts of any stock company chartered under the laws of Georgia, has remsured its entire outstanding liability in the states of Georgia and Alabama with the Royal Insurance company, Limited, of Liverpool, through Milton Dargan, manager, and has permanently retired from business.

President William J. Harris, of the Georgia Fire Insurance company and director of the United States census, has made the following statement:

"The Georgia Fire Insurance company had a very large premium income on very high-class business, but on account of the heavy losses, which occurred during 1914, principally on cotton, and the increasing expense of doing business, I deemed it best to give our policyholders the addictional protection of one of the millionaire companies and, therefore, selected the Royal, which is the largest fire insurance company in the world."

The very unsettled conditions existing in Europe would seem to indicate that the business of fire insurance will not be a profitable one during 1915, and Mr. Harris has justified the confidence reposed in him by his stockholders, policyholders and agents by placing in Atlanta, which has the largest pre-them under the protection of a company, whose reputation for promptness and liberality is unsurpassed.

The Royal's management is receiving many congratulations on the successful outcome of its negotiations with the Georgla Fire.

A large majority of the former representatives of the Georgia Fire Insurance company will now become connected with the reinsuring company.

This transaction will redound to the benefit of Atlanta, in that the premiums will continue to be paid to a company having its southern department office in this city, and the premiums will be banked here and the losses will also be paid through the Atlanta office.

RECORDER DOUBTS . ABILITY OF POLICE THEATRICAL CRITIC

Judge George E. Johnson Friday afternoon told Ed Arthur, the special the-atrical critic of Chief James L. Beavers, that he was a good policeman, but not an expert in criticising the morals of theatrical shows.

The court burst into laughter when, under cross-examination by Attorney J. McSwain Wood, representing A. K. Jones, manager of the Old Mill thea-ter on Whitehall street, who was on trial, Mr. Arthur admitted that, al-though supposed to be an expert in the matter, could not tell the difference State Mutual Life Insurance company, matter, could not tell the difference between burlesque and musical comedy.

Mr. Jones several months ago had promised Judge Nash Broyles, at that time recorder, that he would discontinue burlesque shows at his theater, and stage only musical comedies. Since that date his weekly shows have been censored by Mr. Arthur, from time to time Mr. Arthur has reported to Chief Beavers the kind of shows that have been put on.

Monday night he was in doubt about the show He admitted he saw nothing immoral, or pertaining to burlesque in the show, but that he had made a case against Mr. Jones by order of Chief Beavers.

Judge Johnson ruled that as the critic could not say whether Mr Jones had staged burlesque or musical comedy, he would only impose a small fine of $10.75.

COMMUTATIONS EARNED BY MANY PRISONERS

In a story appearing in Friday's issue of The Constitution, regarding the commutation by Governor Slaton, of the sentences of some eighteen or twenty prisoners, it was not stated that this action was not at the discretion of the governor, but due to the fact that the great majority had aiready served their one year's parole with good behavior, which, under the Georgia law, entitles them to commutation.

The paroles upon which some of the commutations were granted by Gov-ernor Slaton, were granted by Gov-ernor Brown.

GOVERNOR DECIDES WHO WILL ARGUE FRANK CASE

Solicitor Hugh Dorsey and Attorney General Warren Grice held a consultation with Governor John M. Slaton Friday afternoon in regard to the plans for the state's appearance before the linited States supreme court to fight the apepal of Leo M. Frank, now under conviction for the murder of Mary Phagan. All details were not settled at this conference and it was continued until Saturday morning. An interesting point to be settled is what attorneys thall represent the state, whether it will be Solicitor Dorsey, Attorney General Grice, or both. When a case in which the state is interested is heard outside the state the governor has his discretion in the appointment of attorneys to represent the state. The precedent upon which Governor Slaton may act in this instance is the tamous Rawlings case of Valdosta, when Judge W. E. Thomas, then solicitor general of that circuit, and Judge John R. Hart, then attorney general of the state, were appointed to represent the state.

The opinion is as follows.

W. R. Walton et al. v. State Mutual Life Insurance Company.—Petition for Receiver, Etc. In Floyd Superior Court, July Term, 1914.—The plaintiffs brought suit in Floyd superior court for injunction, receiver, etc. and Hon. Moses Wright, judge of the superior court of Floyd county, being disqualified, the Hon. A. W. Fite, judge of the superior courts of the Cherokee circuit, assumed jurisdiction and appointed a receiver and granted an injunction. The defendant in the case filled objections to the assumption of jurisdiction by Judge Fite, upon the ground that he was disqualified to preside in the cause. Judge Fite overruiling the same was reversed and nullified by the supreme court upon a writ of error to that court. The defendant, the State Mutual Life Insurance company, then, by its attorneys, filed with me positions to assume jurisdiction in said cause and to make the remitter of the supreme court the judgment of Floyd superior court and to put into effect said order, and also to direct that the clerk of the superior court of Floyd county strike from the files the suit filed by the plaintiffs in the above stated case and to discharge the receiver appointed by Judge Fite.

The plaintiffs in December, 1914, filed with me a petition and to grant an injunction. In the meantime Hon. W. A Wright, insurance commissioner, by the attorney general of the state, has in consequence of Judge Moses Wright's disqualification filed with me a petition asking that in the interest of the policyholders of the State Mutual Life Insurance Company, its creditors, its stockholders and the public generally, that I pass an order directing that the issets of the company be turned over to him, the insurance commissioner of the state to be preserved and handled in the interest of all parties concerned and the public pursuant to the law in such cases, made and provided. A hearing upon this latter petition has been set before me at Valdosta, Ga., on Monday, Janugry 11, 1915. A hearing upon the petitions of the defendant company, as above stated, was had in Atlanta, Ga. on December 16, 1914, and decisions thereon continued and reserved until this time.

defendant company, as above stated, was had in Atlanta, Ga., on December 18. 1914, and decisions thereon continued and served until this time.

Fito's Orders Held Void.

Upon consideration it is held that all oxders passed by Judge Fite in the cause for injunction and receiver as prayed were in consequence of his disqualification, void. It is further held, however, that the filling of the suit, to which the order of sanction was attached, was and is valid for all purposes except for extraordinary process ordered by Judge Fite and the suit is still pending and continued for such purposes with all rights which the plaintiffs now have in that aut or which may hereafter accrue to them, and that the petition to direct the clerk to strike such suit from the files of the court is in consequence denied. With respect to the application of the plaintiffs, W. R. Walton et al., to be allowed at this time to submit testimony to establish their rights to have the judge at this time appoint a receiver and great an injunction as prayed in the original suit, it will be noted that the net of the general assembly, approved August 14, 1914, provides that before any insurance company chartered under the laws of this state, or doing business in this state upon any claim or demand not in judgment, it must first appear that the cause or complaint and the matters and grounds upon which the receivership is sought has been submitted and passed upon by a board created by law for that purpose as provided by the acts of the general assembly approved August 19, 1912, and no receiver shail be appointed for the assets of an insurance company doing business in this state upon the petition of any person other than the insurance commissioner, unless it be inade to appear to the court, that the debt upon which the claim for receivership is asked has been reduced to Judgment, or that the commissioner has falled or refused to comply and proceed with the finding of the board aforesaid

Suit Still Pending.

Suit Still Pending.

The claims of the board aforesaid

Suit Still Pending.

The claims of the plaintiffs in the above entitled cause are not in judgment and there is no pretense that the plaintiffs have in any way compiled or attempted to comply with the state act of August 14, 1914. The suit of the plaintiffs in this case against the State Mutual Life Insurance company is pending in Floyd superior court, as if no effort had been made for the appointment of a receiver and the granting of an injunction subsequent to the passage of the act of August 14, 1914. If the law thus enacted by the general assembly is sound, the fudge is without jurisdiction to appoint a receiver until the plaintiffs have shown a compliance with the act of August 14, 1914. It is possible that this may yet be done. It has not already been done. In the meantime the assets of the company are in the hands of Floyd superior court and Spruel Fouche, whom Judge Fite sought to make receiver, is the custodian of the assets for the court. It is the duty of the judge at this time to give such direction to these assets as will serve the interest of the policyholders, creditors, stockholders and the public. If upon the hearing of the application of the insurance commissioner on the lith instant, it is proper that the assets of those concerned, that will be the direction given If upon the hearing the insurance commissioner shows no right to take charge of the company and its assets, it will be necessary to remand the same back to the officers of the company, unless in the meantime the plaintiffs in the above entitled cause show a compliance with the act of August 14, 1914, in which event they would be entitled to a hearing.

It is therefore so ordered and that the present status of the case and the assets of the company be preserved until the hearing upon the petition of the insurance commissioner on the 11th inst.

SHOULD KEEP FAITH.

The city of Atlanta is plainly guilty of breach of faith in two instances The Constitution elsewhere cites today-in the matters of carrying out its contract with property owners in widening the Peachtree "bottle neck" and in failure to complete on schedule time the readjustment of the grade at the junction of Forsyth and Whitehall streets. J. Carroll Payne, in his card published on this page, speaks with regard to the indefensible neglect of the city in straightening the Peachtree "bottle neck." The Whitehall-Forsyth' Improvement committee tel's also of the manner in which the city has failed to comply with its promise in completing the Whitehall-Forsyth improvement

Among the first duties of the finance committee and council should be to redeem Atlanta's pledged word upon these two projects, and start the new year with the slate clean.

The Peachtree "bottle neck" problem is one that affects the entire community. The original proposition was to widen this thoroughfare from Ellis to Baker street, including the widening of the narrow entrance to this stretch at Ellis street. The property owners, finding that the city could not at that time appropriate the tunds necessary to the purchase of enough property to widen the "bottle neck," went down into their own pockets and advanced the city $50,000 for that purpose. In this step they were actuated not only by their own interest, but that of the entire community, since Peachtree is the main outlet to the north for the city and county, and the congestion at Ellis street increasingly expensive and dangerous. They advanced this money upon two explicitly understood conditions: (1) That the "neck" should be widened with the least delay; (2) that their money should be refunded out of the next apportionment sheet.

What is the situation? The street has been partially widened. The county has largely taken care of that proposition. But the benefits arising from this improvement are practically nullified because the "neck" has not been completed. No visible step has been taken to complete this project and there has been no visible intention to refund to the property owners the money they advanced in all good faith to the city.

Not only is the municipality's attitude wretched economic policy, but it is nothing less serious than temporary repudiation of the moral obligation of a whole city. Atlanta cannot afford this blot. The complaint of the Whitehall-Forsyth Improvement committee is equally well founded, and it is equally an indictment of a delicate sense of municipal honor. The project for readjusting the grade at the junction of Forsyth and Whitehall streets was appropriated $12,000 by the finance committee early in 1914. Only $5,000 was spent on this improvement. There is $4,000 still in the city treasury credited to the project, and another $3,000 was "diverted" to some work considered more imperative. As a result, two of the most important thoroughfares on the south side have been torn up since last April, and property owners who otherwise would invest money in improvements, thus lessening the local: depression, are holding back until the

This is a clear breach of contract one part of the city. The county, as usual, did its share promptly, and stands ready to complete now what is asked of it. But the same old game of appropriating money, then pulling it away "for some other purpose," has tied up one of the most important developments ever undertaken by the city. The course, in honor and policy, for the financematter is one that will not brook delay.

CHARTER REVISION.

In his annual message, Mayor Woodward has put up a clean-cut and fair proposition for the settlement of the agitation regarding charter revision.

He proposes the appointment of two committees, one from among the proponents of commission government and the other from among the proponents of the present charter with such modifications as may be necessary to meet the situation.

The charters prepared by these two committees would be submitted to the people in an election, and the popular verdict would decide as between the two.

Such an arrangement is fair to all parties. The charters thus prepared would represent the best elements in both forms of government. The test would be upon equal grounds and a final one.

The Constitution commends the mayor's suggestion to council and to the proponents of both forms of government.

LEARNING FROM RUSSIA.

That prohibition does not prohibit is a theory as old as the agitation for temperance itself, and it is fair to say that in a great many cases it has been borne out in practice. But here comes Russia, "darkest Russia," great, blundering and inscrutable Russia, and, almost overnight, smashes that centuries' old theory into unrecognizable fragments. Whether it is to stay smashed is another question. But at the present writing, Russia proves the theory, and from a nation drunk has become a nation dry almost as the proverbial bone. The war with Germany and Austria is the immediate cause. The authorities remembered that in the war with Japan mobilization had been badly handicapped by drunkenness. So it was decided upon the declaration of mobilization against Germany and her ally to declare prohibition also. The task was, in a way, simplified since the government has a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of vodka, the "poor man's" tipple, and about as disastrous an intoxicant as human ingenuity ever devised. When the word went forth, every vodka shop closed tight as a drum and is still closed. There may be "blind tigers" and "bootleggers," but if so, authentic word has not come out to that effect.

An Englishman in Moscow, writing a letter home, describes the effect as follows:

At the present moment, it is mossible for anybody in Russia, whether rich or poor, to obtain in any place whatever, anything in the form of alcohol, unless at a druggist's with a doctor's prescription. All the government vocka shops have been closed since the beginning of the war, and now all manner of wine shops are closed fiven restaurants and hotels are forbidden to self alcoholic drinks. The strange thing about it all is that nobody is grumbling and everybody is pleased. It is acclaimed on all sides—only the Russian peasant does not know what to At the present moment, it is impossi-Russian peasant does not know what to do with his money.

We have the authority of The Associated Press, also, that Russia is a nation rejuvenated, that prohibition has proven itself enforceable because of centralized machinery for that purpose and that no one wants to return to the old days.

Several days ago The Constitution commented that we could learn lessons from Japan in art, courage and life. It looks like we can likewise learn lessons from Russia in the exploding of theories heretofore accepted as orthodox.

SOME LIVES MIGHT BE SAVED.

The kaiser has forbidden his soldiers to indulge in any further fraterpization with the enemy during lulls in conflict. On Christmas day there were truces here and there, and the report runs that British and Germans actually played football together. It runs further that close association so quenched antagonism that the men agreed to suspend hostilities for two days more.

Of course, one has a right to take with a grain of salt any ex parte report that comes from either British or German sources. Neither side in this, as in other wars, has been averse to playing the game for public sentiment, using the press as a medium and playing up its enemy in as unfavorable a light as possible.

The story about fraternization, however, is plausible, and is borne out by experiences of federals and confederates during the civil war, in fact, all the wars of history, whether civil or international,

It looks like the men who make war and keep it going are afraid to trust the effect upon their plans of fraternization; are afraid to let the privates opposing each other in the ranks discover that after all they are all human, actuated by the same emotions and with the same stakes in common, when all is said. It is an ironic commentary upon the confidence of militarism in itself.

From GEORGIA The Holland Letter BY FRANK L. STANTON

Canada, on the north of the United States, and Chile, far to the south of us, are now facing emergencies created by the European war which, relatively speaking, are quite as great as those which the United States faced and overcame in the first two months of war. We are giving much needed assistance to Cariada and we are probably to give needed assistance to Chile, although of a somewhat different kind. It has been well known in the financial district that Canada has borne a strain occasioned by the war which from the point of view of population and resources is as great as that which England herself is now bearing. Canada has furnished an army and is ready to furnish another, and necessarily the business of the dominion has been, in some places at least, seriously affected by the war. In financial circles, however, the impression has been strong that from the business and economic points of view the chief emergency which Canada now faces has been occasioned by the difficulty of approaching the London money market. Until War began, England furnished from time to time fresh supplies of capital, the aggregate of which was very large and all of which has been utilized in developing the resources of the dominion. It was recently officially stated in Canada that within a year the dominion must look for a loan of as much as $100,000,000. It has recently been unofficially and privately stated in this city that if the United States is approached the money can be obtained here even though it does not take the form of a loan to a belligerent nation. Canada as a colony of the imperial government is, of course, reckoned as a belligerent.

Recently there has been marketed in the United States, principally in New York, nearly $7,000,000 of notes representing Canadian indebtedness running for three years and bearing 5 per cent interest. The notes were easily absorbed upon an income basis of 5.45. The ease with which this transaction was completed is of itself an indication that without any embarrassment to speak of to ourselves we can hereafter do a great deal in the way of taking the place of London in supplying financial assistance to Canada. In view of the magnitude of our trade with Canada and of Canada's with us, it is regarded as all the more important that we should undertake to finance as far as possible the immediate needs of the dominion Chile's Emergency.

While our men of finance were consider ing the Canadian proposition they received information about an embarrassment or emergency which Chile is now facing. The chief exports from that country until the war began were from the nitrate deposits of northern Chile. The world took an enormous amount of this nitrate every year. The trans portation of nitgute from the fields to the Chilean ports was the chief, practically the exclusive, freight carried by railroads which were built across the nitrate country. The income received for this transportation was great enough to make one of the railroads very prosperous.

The men of science of Germany and Europe who spent many years in a study of the problem of how best to get all the saccharine matter that is in the sugar beet out of the raw beet among other discoveries learned that there was no better fertilizer for sugar beets than the Chilean nitrates, if properly mixed in the soil. For that reason, probably more than one-half, some of the authorities say two-thirds, of the nitrate exports from Chile have found their markets in German; almost all of the nitrate being used for the fartilization of the beet fields. A year ago Chile exported to Germany and to Austria together a little over 500,000 tons of nitrate in one month. In the corresponding mont of the year just ended Chile exported only 68,000 tons. Apparently the export of nitrate is soon practically to cease. This condition has raised a very serious problem in Chile. The government and the business men are more concerned about it than they are about increasing trade with the United States. The industry is the largest in Chile. Nearly 50,000 men are employed in it. It furnishes as said above, the chief traffic for the rail roads which bisect the nitrate regions. Fur thermore, the Chilean government has here tofore gained nearly one-half of its revenufrom the tax which it imposes upon the export of nitrate. All of this has been as denly and as completely stopped as was the case early in August in our own financial world and in our foreign trade markets.

From one point of view, however. Chile is not embarrassed as Canada has found her self to be Some time before the war Chile established in London a credit payable in gold of about fifty millions. She also established in Germany a credit of twelve millions. As Germany was the largest pur chaser of the nitrate of Chile, it was natura that Chile should establish a heavy credit Germany. The credit in London is non available for any use the government may desire to put it to, but whether the eredit with Germany is equally available is a mat ter of some doubt.

American manufacturers who have been soiled and meets with some cuts and bruises. Neither should the man who faces life's conimporting and exporting manufactured commodities from Chile find that payments are flict. Let him play the game for all he is easily made, but when Chile has exhausted her London credit, if she does that before the war closes, she must turn elsewhere for issistance. Presumably she will turn to the United States.

Schwab has so often been found to be accurate in his estimates and An' when you think it over there's so much forecasts that there is strong disposition to believe that if he erred at all in statement that orders aggregating $300,000. 000 have been placed by belligerent nations in the United States the error was in underestimating the amount. American: Railroads—B.. & O. BÝ GEORGE FITCH. Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

The Baltimore and Ohio is the patriarch of all railroads. It was the first railroad built for the hauling of passengers and general freight, and will celebrate its one hùndredth birthday in 1930.

At that time the Baltimore and Ohio was only 14 miles long, built of wooden rails with iron straps on them and operated by mule power. Strings of cars were hauled and passengers could travel on it for a trifle less than 2 cents a mile. Since ther the railroad business has been so perfected by the use of economy, science and finance that it is no longer profitable to haul passengers for less than 21-2 cents a mile. In some ways the world, seems to advance diligently backward.

POETS EXPELLED FROM SCHOOL. (From The London Tit-Bits.)

A good deal of comment was aroused lately by the dismissal of a boy from Eton, his mother contending that it would be a standing disability to him in all his future career. But he is remarkably good com-pany, for quite a number of men who have left their mark on the world began their careers by being "sacked" from school.

Robert Southey, who became poet laure ate of England, was dismissed from West minster school by the famous Dr. Vincent The school at that time had a magazine called The Flagellant, and in this the budding poet published an article on flogging which quite failed to please the chief administrator of corporal punishment. In fact, it incensed him to such a degree that Southey was expelled. It is a most amazing fact that poets have had quite a penchant for getting "sacked," as they call it at Harrow. Byron was expelled from Harrow three times for being rebellious and defiant. Shelley was "sent down' from Oxford. Today the poet who Shelley was "sent wrote the great "Ode to a Skylark" is the chief glory of University college.

Clive, the conqueror of India, to whom we chiefly owe the British ascendancy in that vast empire, was expelled from a school at Market Drayton. In fact, he was always charging schools, and finished up at chant Taylors'. Many things contributed to his expulsion from Market Drayton. He was always in mischief. It is said that he climbed the steeple of the church, sat astride gargoyle representing a dragon, and gazed calmly down upon the gaping and horrified townsfolk, who expected every moment to have the job of picking up his mangled body in pieces.

BEDOUIN SUPERSTITIONS.

(From The Geographical Magazine.) Some of their superstitions are funciful ndeed. They believe that when a man dies of thirst that his soul goes forth in the form a green owl, which flies about above the desert a thousand years, screaming for water. If a fish leaps from the water into a boat where a woman is riding, it is a sure sign that she will soon bear a son. They live in daily dread of the evil eye; the Arah mother fears for her child, lest this curse descend and blight its life. Some say a man so possessed has merely to cast his baneful glance on a bird flying, when the creature will fall to the earth stone dead. If an Arab voman finds the threads in her "nuttou"loom-have become tangled, she blames the neddlesome evil spirits. Many their limbs and bodies tattoed in fancy de signs, as much as a charm to ward off disease as for beauty's sake.

Manna is still much eaten among Mesopotamian Arabs; the women collect and prepare it from the ground beneath certain bill rees, whence it drips. Yet the Arabs-and the Jews and Chaldeans as well-firmly be Heve that this sweet, whitish gum-like food is cast down from heaven; that it is the same manna which tradition says was cast down from heaven for the children of Israel.

THE UNIVERSAL PRAYER.

(From The Kansas City Star.) A recent picture among the war scenes published in a New York paper showed priest of the Greek church, a chaplain of a Russian regiment, his sacerdotal nobes falling to his ankies, a holy picture in his two ands, while before him a score of Russian soldiers knelt in the knee-deep snow, their rifles and caps flat beside them, their hands clasped, their heads bowed low as they What for?

We may easily guess. The same prayer uttered by the soldiers of the different naions on so many different battlefields;

"Give peace in our time, O Lord." The same thought, crossing leagues of plain and sea, of the little homeplace and he wife and bables; or maybe the vision of sweet girlish face as he last saw it, upturned and wet with the tears of the parting goodby. The same prayer for the dear ones at home.

The same prayer ascending in many different tongues and dialects, and the same human nature, the same yearnings, the same

Whitehall-Forsyth Work Uncompleted, Citizens Make Protest to City

Pointing to the fact that portions of Whitehall and Forsyth Streets, near their junction, have been impassable since last April, because the city has not redeemed its promise to complete the work of readjusting the grade at the junction and approaching it, members of the Whitehall-Forsyth Improvement committee ask the finance committee of council for, an appropriation of $9,000 to complete this pledged project. Oldest Yet.

Following is the self-explanatory letter the committee has addressed to the finance committee: "The readjustment of the grade of both Forsyth and Whitehall streets at the junction of those two streets is the oldest project yet unfinished on 'the city's street improvement

"That project was awarded $12,000 by your committee in the 1914 sheet.
"Only $5,000 of this fund has been used." "Four thousand dollars is still in the city treasury, and $3,000 was transferred in De cember for some other purpose.

"The estimate just made by the superintendent of construction shows that it will require $16,000 to complete the work which has already received the sanction of both the city and county street committees, and which has already been adopted and authorized by them. "This street is in a most deplorable condition and the property owners and tenants are complaining bitterly since last April, the time that the street was torn up. "The county is right in the midst of their grading season and promise to complete this work during the next month or so.

"The Whitehall and Forsyth street committee, while asking for $16,000 from the city, are, in actual fact, only requesting $9,000, since $7,000, which was given us last year, has never been applied to the work, owing to the fact that other jobs were put ahead of it. Yours very truly, "Whitehall-Forsyth Improvement Commit-

Peachtree "Bottle Neck" Still There, and Citizens Are Still Unpaid by City

Editor Constitution: I read a letter in your paper a few days ago concerning the moral obligation on the part of the tity to repay citizens who put up their own mone for elty improvements upon their faith i the city to repay, and also your editorial upon the subject, calling upon Atlanta to live up to her obligation With some other citizens, I helped to raise a fund of $50,000 to buy enough land to widen that part of Peachtree street jus this side of Ellis street, known as the "neck of the bottle," We had a "gentleman's agreement" with the city that this money would be repaid us. Feachtree street was widened from Ellis street to Baker street by the county, and the improvement was wonderful, and at once appreciated by the thousands who use the street. The entir amount, so far, spent by the city for this improvement was almost nominal, as all the work was done by the county. We could get nothing from the city during the year 1914, either in the shape of partial repayment of the $50,000 advanced by us, or an appropriation for the widening of the street. I is only justice that the city should now appropriate enough of its own funds to se the buildings back just at the Aragon hotel and thus widen the street (we have paid for) Where its narrowness is a constant and increasing source of dalay, congestion and annoyance to the traveling public. Whenever citizens see the need of public improvement and are public spirited enough to advance their own money to make the improvement, with the promise and expectation of ultimate return by the city, is it not at least good policy on the part of the city government to repay in compliance with promise? What hope can the city have in the future that citizens will continue such temporar nized that after the nublic work is don. by them the city appears indifferent in regard to reimbursement?

I would appreciate it if you again lend your voice to swell the chorus of request on the part of citizens to have the city do wha is their plain and manifest duty, namely, to widen the congested part of Peachtres promised, and to set aside sufficient, at least partially to remburse citizens who have ad vanced their money for the general good with the confident expectation of being repaid by the city for the service rendered J CARROLL PAYNE.

DOWN AND OUT.

Misfortune punched you in the neck, and snocked you down and tramped you under; will you surve; the gloomy wreck, and stand around and weep, I wonder? Your hold upon success has slipped, and still you ought to bob up grinning, for when a man admits he's whipped, he throws away his chance of winning. I like to think of John Paul Jones, whose ship was split from truck to fender; the British asked, in blawsted tones, if he was ready to surrender. The yankee mariner replied. "Our ship is sinking at this writing, but don't begin to put on side-for we have just begun our fighting! There is a motto. luckless lad. that you should paste inside your bonnet; when this old world seems stern and sad, with nothing at some Jonahs on it, don't murmur in a futile way, about misfortune, bleak biting, but gird your well-known loins and Great Scott! I've just begun my fight ing!" The man who won't admit he's licked is bound to win a triumph shining, and al the lemons will be picked by weak-kneed fellows, fond of whining love and hopes and fears, and the same abiding faith in God, that, some day, in His.own good time, will make brothers of us all,

THOM DENIES SOUTHERN BOTTLED COAL FIELDS

He also told the committee of the work that the Southern rallway had done for the upbuilding of the industrial and agricultural interests along its lines and declared that the story of progress in evidence along every mile of the Southern rallway system is in itself enough refutation of the charge that the Southern had been party to any effort to bottle up the coal fields, since, as a matter of fact, the development of the great industrial districts in the Carolinas had produced one of the groatest coal-consuming markets in the country.

He explained that to give the coal operators a further outlet the Southern had put in an export to Charleston as low as that to Norfolk, though for a much longer haul, and is now spending half a million dollars in the construction of a terminal which is an experiment based altogether on the faith it has in the ability of the coal operators to find a market for their product and thus produce business for the terminal.

New Orleans, January 8.—On Chal-mette battle field, where the last armed conflict between English-speaking peoples was fought, there began today

a three days' celebration of the cen-tury of peace between the United States and Great Britain. The principal event of the day was the unveiling of a monument to the victorious American commander, Andrew Jackson, the memorial standing on the spot where the American standard floated at the time the British invaders were defeated.

the American standard floated at the time the British invaders were defeated.

An interesting feature incident to the unveiling ceremonies was the formal exchange of greetings between President Wilson's personal representative, Andrew J. Peters, assistant secretary of the treasury, and H. T. Carew-Hunt, British consul to New Orleans, and special envoy of King George of England. The envoys were presented gold reproductions of the medal given Andrew Jackson under authorization of congress. They commented upon the century of peace, and expressed the hope that it be lasting. The federal government gave further recognition to the celebration by sending the transports Kilpatrick and Sumner here from Galveston with regular troops, and the battleship Rhode Island from Vern. Cruz. Both soldiers and sailors participated in the ceremonies, the soldiers being under the command of Major General J Franklin Bell and the sailors under Rear Admiral McLean.

On November 30 last the Peruvian police confiscated a quantity of rifles and war stores which, it was alleged, had been collected by Dr. Durand in connection with an attempt to foment a revolution in Peru.

"A strong power has violated the law of nations there," he said, "and is suffering and will continue to suffer for it. There has been a quickening of the moral sense among nations."

Senator Lippitt contrasted statements by Shuster published several years ago opposing independence of the islands, with his recent articles taking the opposite view. Shuster replied it was true he had changed his opinions. Eight years as a government official in the island, he said, had tinged him with the thought of those with whom he worked. Since that time he had seen other people and was now convinced the Philippines could maintain a government satisfactory to themselves and give reasonable assurances of order and protection of foreigners. That a government, ideal from American standards, was to be expected, was not to be imagined.

Shuster favored the administration to be imagined.

Shuster favored the administration bill for a greater measure of self-government and urged that it include some definite promise of complete independence. dence. Representatives of the Methodist Ministerial association urged prohibition of liquor or optum traffic in the islands.

Newton W. Gilbert, formerly vice governor general of the islands, favored the bill so far as it granted additional powers but disapproved the declaration as to independence.

pines, he said, was highly improbable now or in the distant future. He believed a neutralization treaty with Japan would be sufficient, but that all nations might be asked to join in it with advantage. Events of the last six months in Europe, he said, made him believe such a treaty would be respected.

HUNT NEGRO ASSAILANT OF 11-YEAR-OLD GIRL OF NEW ORLEANS BATTLE

Portsmouth, Ohio, January 8.—
Posses sought today throughout Portsmouth and the neighboring country for an unidentified negro who had attacked Zelma Arthur, a child of 11 years, and so seriously wounded her that her recovery was doubtful. Talk of possible lynching if the negro was captured led officials to take steps for his protection. Monument to Jackson Unveil-

The child was found unconscious last night in an alley. Later she was able to describe her assailant, and early today the officials were following what they considered was a good clew.

The Latest and Best War-Map Supplement

THE LITERARY DIGEST of January 9th, 1915, (out to-day) will include a colored War-Map Supplement well worthy of preservation.

The foremost firm of map-makers in the United States has been engaged upon it for the past six weeks and no expense has been spared by us to make the Maps wonderfully complete.

These Maps show with much detail the Western theater of the war where Germany meets England, France, and Belgium, as well as the Eastern theater of the war where Russia meets Germany and Austria. The towns. railroads, canals, forts, mountains, and rivers are clearly indicated.

A special Map shows in even greater detail the region of the main military operations along the Franco-Belgian-German frontiers.

The Maps are printed on specially made bond paper.

The Consul General of one of the warring powers said after a careful examination of the Map of his country, "This Map is absolutely correct and far better than any other of its kind printed in New York that has been brought to my notice."

This number of THE LITERARY DIGEST will sell out very quickly, so that you should get your copy from your news-dealer immediately to avoid disappointment.

Subscribers who wish their friends to have these latest Maps should inform them at once, or else send us a list of their names enclosing ten cents for each name, and we will supply them with a copy of the issue by mail.

ON COTTON MARKET

New York, January 8.—(Special.)—At the opening of the market today hedge selling was again quite free, which gave the market an easy tone for a while. In the neighborhood of 8.60 for October, however, a concerted demand of good character made its appearance, which overcame the selling above referred to and advanced prices about 15 points from the lewest. General liquidation has been quite liberal during the past two days, in conjunction with southern selling, but the market has shown a good absorbing power at the lower level established. Spinning interests are buying at the decline, while purchases for outside account are also being made.

JAY, HOND & CO.

New York, January & — (Special.)—The strength of the Liverpool market was the feature of the early advices. Every one had looked for a decline abrond in answer to the weakness here, but that market was only slightly lower. Here the spot houses appeared as seliers against cotton accumulated in the south, where it can be bought on almost a delivery basis here. As the market advances it meats with some cotton held in the south for this basis. Liverpool is affected by the high freight rates from America and by rather a better demand, in Manchester for cotton goods. Here we think the market shows remarkable strength, showing the existence of an investment demand, which, so far, absorbs all of this hedge selling. Our American spinners do not appear as heavy buyers. They appear to be waiting for further trade developments. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

In response to relatively steady cables. There was some trade selling, and prices sagged 2 or 3 points right after the call, but there was no general or aggressive pressure, and the market soon improved on covering, a renewed investment demand and rebuying by old longs. Spot houses continued sellers on the advance, but appeared to be operating only in a moderate way, as offerings failed to increase and the active months sold 12 to 17 points net higher in the late trading. Wheat Makes Another Big Jump; May Over Three Cents Higher Belief That Italy Was on Verge of Hostilities Main Factor in Advance - Immense Purchases for Export-Corn and Oats Also Closed Higher.

Chicago, January 8.—War buying of wheat broadened out to such an extent today that to guard against the market running wild, brokers finally refused to take trades unless margins were doubled. In the excitement near the close, May wheat sold at 1.41% a bushel, an advance of 3½ from the summit of the day before. The market finished unsettled, 2½ to 2½ above last night. Corn gained $60.00 %. The outcome for provisions was irregular, varying from 7½ decline to an upturn of 5 cents.

Belief that Italy was on the verge of hostilities made wheat quiver with incessant demand from speculators, exporters and millers. There seemed to be no longer any bears in the market. One miller at Minneapolis was reported to have bought 1,000,000 bushels in a single transaction. At the seaboard 1,600,000 bushels was said to have been disposed of abroad. Exports from North America for the week were the largest on record, 10,865,000 bushels.

Corn and oaty could not resist the lifting power of wheat. They also felt the stimulation of large exports.

Big receipts of hogs and the bulge in grain subjected provisions to contrary impulses.

OUERIES ANSWERED

This play arose while I was playing first base for the LaGrange team in the Georgia-Alabama, league hast season. A runner was on third base. The batter hit a grounder to third The third baseman threw to first and I muffed the hall. The runner on third started home, but I recovered in time to eatch him at the plate. I get an assist, but do I get an error?

Yes, you get both an assist and an error. You get an assist for completing the play at the plate and an error for allowing the batsman to reach first safety, unless the out at the plate resulted in the third out of the inniag.

KNOXVILLE TIGERS BEATEN BY COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga.. January 8.—(Special.)
The Columbus Y. M. C. A. basketball team clipped the claw of the Knoxville Tigers tonight to the time of 75 to 13, and the game was one-sided, as the score indicates. Although stremuous efforts were made to guard Peddy—and the nimble little forward was so bunged up in one scrimmage that he had to withdraw long enough to have courtplaster applied to his face—he scored twenty-seven points. Kilcrease also did some brilliant work tonight.

Will Play Mercer Team BAN LIFTED ON RUBBER On Macon Floor Tonight

The Grant Athletic club baskethall team will make a trip to Macon, Ga., today. Tonight they will play the Mercer university five in the first of two games, the Baptists to play a return game in Atlanta at a later date. The Grant Athletic club team boasts of the strongest basketball players in the south, exclusive of the Atlanta Athletic club, and they contemplate giving the Baptists a tussle for the Washington, January 8.—Conditions giving the Baptists a tussle for the verdict Games have been arranged for with other teams throughout the south, both on the G. The Fulton Basketball league will open its 1915 season tonight with two games at the Wesley Memorial court, starting at 7:45 o'clock. Four teams compose the league tiff season, and fast schedule is promised.

The games scheduled for tought are as follows.

These awards of national golfing events were made at the annual meeting of the United States Golf association here tonight.

Election of officers confirmed the only ticket in the field, making Frank L. Woodward, of the Denver Country club, the new president. Discussion of a proposal to amend the rule defining amateurs was taken up with the prospect that the debate would continue to a late hour.

KILBANE EASY WINNER OVER FRANKIE DAILEY

Toledo, January 8.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight, outfought Frankie Dailey, of Latrobe, Pa., in a ten-round match here tonight. Both weighed under 133 pounds.

Kilbane had no trouble carrying off the honors. He was inclined to clinen at times, and he was so sneedy in the get-away that his opponent was unable to reach him. Dailey was somewhat cut about the eyes.

Under the rules of the boxing commission no decision could be given, but the popular decision at the ringside was that the champion won by a comfortable margin.

Barber Defeats Travis.

Pinchurst, N. C., January 8.—W. A. Barber, of Princeton, N. J., and Parker W. Basebail news will pick up with leaps and bounds today, with the arrival of Manager Bill Smith from his home in Springfield, Ohio, where he has been spending several weeks with the home folks.

money if the building is not done now. The saving in the cost of building material and cost of construction now has, in concrete instances, been as high as 30 and 35 per cent. Whereas, any money can be secured easily at 2 per cent above normal and much at nearly normal, state loan agents, when the rate of interest is lowered it is by no means certain that the same cheap rate of material and labor will pre-vail. The last report from New Orleans shows an increase of 10 per cent in the cost of building material.

Builders are apparently realizing too, that despite the somewhat higher rate of interest demanded for building money than in normal time, the liberal offset made possible by the cheapness of the cost of construction just now makes it highly desirable for them to build now. Eggers, also, is well known here. He has been seen in action three times, and every time he demolished his opponent with a fury that left its impression on the boxing populace.

At the Atlanta Athletic club yesterday Herman boxed three whirlwind rounds each with Joe Superfor and Battling Kelly, and after his trick was over the tough little battler remarked. They say he can box but can't punch! Well, let me say that i never stood up to a man of his weight who could punch as hard—take it from me'r Manager Billy Jacobs and his protege, Eggers, got to Atlanta late yesterday afternoon.

"Johnny is in prime condition," sald Jacobs, "and all we want is one day of hard work, and then some light ever clieb to finish him off. He trained faithfully up to the time of leaving, and the trip has been really a good for Tuesday night, never fear."

The tickets for the bout are on sale at the Rex, Chess's place and Tumlin Bros, at prices ranging from 56 cents to $2.

GARIBALDI FELL DEAD AT FEET OF BROTHER

Paris, January 8.—Constantine Garibaldi, the second of the grandsons of the Italian patriot to die in the fighting in France, was killed during an attack on a series of three German trenches. The story of how he met his death is told by his brother, Captain Ricciotti Garibaldi.

After mines had been laid and exploded, according to Captain Garibaldi's story, the regiment of Italian volunteers rushed forward, shouting "Viva Trieste!" They captured the first two trenches without difficulty but the third trench was a more difficulty proposition, being separated from the others by about 190 yards of open ground and commanded by a hill.

Notwithstanding this, the Garibaldians stormed the trench, but the Germans delivered a flerce counter-attack, and the position of the Italian volunteers became difficult.

Colonel Peppino Garibaldi, the commander, ordered the regiment to fall back, and Constantine, who commanded the reserves in the second trench, went forward to aid his comrades. Almost immediately he was struck in the neck by a bullet, which severed the carotid and he fell within a few yards of his brother Peppino.
