

PRISON COMMISSIONERS GO TO THEIR HOMES

Following consideration of the Leo Frank case that occupied the entire day, the three members of the state prison commission departed Friday afternoon to spend the week-end digesting the Frank data at their homes.

During the afternoon they were interviewed by Mrs. May Futrelle, a newspaper writer on The Boston Post, and wife of the famous Jacques Futrelle, novelist, who lost his life on the Titanic.

It is not expected that a verdict in the Frank appeal will be given by the commission until Monday.

Ask for Commutation.

Rochester, N. Y. June 4.—At a meeting here tonight, presided over by Mayor Edgerton, resolutions, urging that Leo M. Frank's sentence be commuted from death to life imprisonment, were adopted and copies will be sent to the prison commission and the governor of Georgia.

One of the speakers was James G. Cutler, former chairman of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"JOY RIDERS" ARRESTED WHEN THEY DRINK BEER

Policeman Bennet did not hesitate to break up a "joy ride" last night when the "joy riders" stopped their auto in front of Ponce de Leon Springs, and, according to the policeman, began to pull the corks of bottles of beer.

Two young men and two young women were taken from the auto and sent to police station in the patrol wagon. Here Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Jett decided that the charges were not sufficient to jail the entire party, so he only allowed a case of "drunk" to be docketed against J. J. McCarthy, of 447 East Georgia avenue.

The others, Paul Johnson, 32 Garnett street, and Misses Bert Brown and Kate Wilson, of 260 East Fair street, were allowed to go to their homes. They all will appear before Recorder Johnson this afternoon.
